AVERY BENTLEY A PRISONER OF WAR

After four months of suspense, having, Mrs. Avery Bentley, Canning, has up dishes to the best of his culinary art to Fritz. One letter was dated June

NEWS FROM OUR WOUNDED HEROES

The following was received by Miss Florence Steele, Scotts Bay from her brother:
From Gr. A. L. Steele,
Brown House, H. P.,
West Horsley, Surrey, Eng.,

Dear Florence:
Received your letter this morning, and am so glad you can help father too; suppose you will help him hay when the times comes. There are thousands of girls working on the farms over here—not only the peasants but there are lots of them who are rich are doing their bit by working in the fields, it is just the same as fighting and better.

My wounds are healing nicely now.
I went out the other day and tried to help an old farmer, cock up some hay, but I could not do it, I am no good for anything; some way, I am so sore and weak. I was at church this morning, there were about thirty there.

How do the crops look?
The boy who is sitting beside me, just got word his brother had been killed in action, poor kid! I wish I could say something to comfort him.

I received your parcel; there are six of us in the ward, so of course the fudge did not last long.

I have a pile of letters to answer so will say 'so long.'

Lots of love,
Your brother, AVERY.

DORIS KENYON AT THE NICKLET THEATRE

The Latest Film Star who appeared in "The Travelling Salesman" a few days ago to be again seen in "The Emperor" on Wednesday and Thursday this week.

There are few film stars who have made such a remarkable record of successes during the past year as Doris Kenyon, co-starred with Holbrook Blinn in the Pathe production "The Emperor," to be shown at the Nicklet Theatre.
Miss Kenyon is only 19, yet she has taken her place in the front rank of the nation's film stars.

Miss Kenyon never found it necessary to start as an "extra," but became a full ledged star almost overnight, solely on her ability and remarkable screen personality. Beautiful to a degree, and able to portray every mood, she found the road to success on the screen wide and smooth before her. She had the advantage of a liberal education, is a graduate of Syracuse University, speaks French, German and Italian, and has had the best of instructors in the arts.
All this has helped her in here seen work.

Miss Kenyon is delightful on the screen, and in spite of the fact that she has been before the public but a short time, she has thousands of friends and admirers in all parts of the country.
She is a typical American girl, a lover of the great outdoors, an enthusiastic motorist and a lover of all forms of sport. Her radiant beauty, her charming personality and extraordinary ability, have made her one of America's most popular screen stars in a remarkably short space of time.
