As the site of the present drill shed is out of the way some of the military men think that the point which the bowlers now occupy would be the proper place. On the other hand, the bowlers say the corner where the cricketers play would be the most conspicuous.

McCLURE'S MAGAZINE FOR DECEMBER.

The curious charm of the East holds every imaginative mind that from afar dreams of its mysteries. The little charm interpreted in part by experience, yet only the more subtly persuaded, dominates those that have dwelt long in the Orient. In this treasure field the richest gems, as well of realization as of romance, are ready for the author who has the art of their setting. Rudyard Kipling won his first fame by short stories of life in India, stories at times tragically prosaic, at times marvelous and mystical, always pregnant with force. And now again Kipling has chosen India as the theme of his maturest work. In McClure's Magazine for December appears the first in a series of "Kim," the latest and the most important novel of Kipling's pen. From the beginning it reveals itself as a masterpiece, worthy alike of its theme and of its author.

THOSE TEXT BOOKS.

Parent Does Not Think the Principal of the C. C. I. Has Answered His Complaint.

Chatham, Nov. 29, 1900.

To The Planet.—Apparently my letter of a few days ago has awakened the ire of the respected principal of the C. C. I. and in a very weak letter he attempts a reply. I use the word attempts advisedly for certainly no sane person would imagine the screed signed "Principal C. I." had in any degree answered my letter and I am more than surprised that a man holding the position he does would father such a puny effort. Not one word does he utter about the Wilson Taylor arithmetic or the money that was thrown away on the purchase of that book. Did I touch on too tender a spot or what is wrong? If the introduction of that arithmetic was justifiable why not continue its use? Surely our C. C. I. needs the best text books that can be produced and if this book was the best, why was it not authorized and used?

And now as to the Grammar. If the old one answered the purpose why was the "must get one" mandate issued? Was it simply because it was found necessary to make some change or pretence to be doing something that the new grammar was ordered to be purchased? Yes, Mr. Principal, this is a democratic country but I was not aware until the appearance of your letter that the views or wishes of a majority of pupils governed the text books that are used in our C. C. I. Surely the principal must be joking when he makes this statement. I have in my possession an old Kirkham grammar used when I was a boy. A number of other parents have probably the same book. We give these to our children and it is found that a majority in a certain room have Kirkham's grammar. Presto! Change; the whole room, must get Kirkham. Majority must rule you know.

Again, why was not a half holiday given on Pte. Gorrin's return home? Had a vote been taken nine-tenths of the pupils would have voted for such a reward. As the majority must rule according to the standard laid down, why was not this vote taken and the holiday given. Majority rules, you know. Seriously, if this idea of the mandate (December) Number, increased in size and extra illustrations, (including a colored frontispiece), gives large space to big games, sports and subjects welded into our country in America, by George Bird Grinnell, is the article of a student of the situation, strikingly illustrated by E. W. Deming. The very title, "Bob White—the story of a wild turkey," by Edwyn Nandys, and "The old-time prairie chicken hunt," by Emerson Hough, are sufficient to indicate their specialties.

Of the Stolen Dominion Bank Bills Have Been Recovered.

Toronto, Nov. 29.—The Dominion Bank bills found in possession of the prisoners at Detroit, and which have been identified as part of the $10,000 Dominion $10 notes stolen at the time of the Napue bank robbery, are not the only notes recovered since the robbery, as seems to be believed at Windsor, where Simpson and Mathis are held for examination. T. G. Brough, general manager of the Dominion Bank, said this afternoon that of the unsigned notes $7,000 worth have been recovered at various times, and that only $3,000 worth are unaccounted for, including thirty bills found at Detroit. The bank pays 20 per cent of the face value of these bills, when recovered, as a reward so that the Detroit officers who made the arrest, instead of getting $2,000, which was the full reward for the recovery of the $10,000 of unsigned bills taken, will get $600. An officer from the Dominion Bank will attend the proceedings at Windsor, on Tuesday next and identify the bills.

MORE MONEY FOUND.

Windsor, Nov. 29.—The people who have been defrauded by Simpson and Mathis passing forged $10 Dominion Bank bills on them, will get their money back. Magistrate Bartlett holds that this is one of the cases provided for by statute whereby the money found on a prisoner may be used to make good his frauds. If the $425 found on them by the Detroit police were not enough, there is still left $210 found on Simpson by Jailer Sparks when the prisoners were handed over to his care to await their preliminary examination before Magistrate Bartlett on December 4.

Vienna, Nov. 29.—The morning papers publish nothing in corroboration of the report that a council of the Ottoman ministers had been held in Constantinople for the purpose of considering a declaration of war against the United States in view of the presence of the U. S. battleship Kentucky at Smyrna. On the contrary, the report receives no credence whatever.
