General W. T. Sherman BY H. L. RANN.

This is birthday anniversary of General W. T. Sherman, born at Lancaster, Ohio in 1820. General Sherman was the son of a judge of the Supreme Court of Ohio, w h o died leaving an honoured name and a corpulent collection of debts. At the age of

Point, where he was received with great cordiality by the upper classmen, who thought they recognized a soft mark. But the first attempt to haze William Tecumseh resulteed in crippling a large majority of the senior class and causing them to appear on dress parade in plaster of paris casts, the industry was soon abandoned. General Sherman's first warfare was against the Seminole Indians in Florida, where he found it necessary to decease several obstreperous red John's north. They partook of dinner brethren in order to get any sleep. Ouestions for Russell

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,-With your permission should like to suggest a few questions for the consideration of the self-styled moralist who is editor of he 'Guardian,' but whose efforts are little credit to a community which boasts of the advantages of High Schools, Academies and Higher Education. I cannot go on without giving expression to the thought that much of the good effect of the efforts of our excellent school-teachers is allowed to read and naturally accept as good English, the senseless, ingrammatical stuff that the 'Guardian' man hashes up for their perusal spoken quite proudly of the increase in the Educational Grant, but I would suggest that a special vote be made to provide the editor with a

Editor Russell has sarcastically referred to two of the men who accompanied Mr. Coaker to the Railmemorable victory, here, as "heroes." Is he aware that one of these men almost as long as Russell has been living being master of a steamer and having an excellent recommendation covering a service of eight years?

which has made the editor scratch his head sore!

Being so much adverse to the use of intoxicants, he, perhaps, would be very pleased to know where the liguor was stored and distributed at that time.

Does Russell know whether or no Albert Morgan, who accepted a job in the Marconi Station at Labrador lilms have been especially selected by hid made a certain advance to a candidate for election? Is he aware of rtain complaints Morgan was ard to express after the election? how was this same man paid for week's carriage driving on that campaign? Mr. Editor, there are many more juestions I might ask, but, knowing Russell's limited mental capacity, I fear I have already given him at overdose.

In conclusion, I must inform him that I am quite prepared to supply and substantiate the replies to all hese questions and more, and mear to do so in the near future. In the meantime I must thank you for so much of your valuable space. Yours truly,

PROVIDER. Bay Roberts, Feb. 6th. 1913.
