NEWS BY CABLE.

Special to Evening Telegram.

QUEBEC, June 30. The Duke of Connaught has authorized a denial of the report that he will succeed Lord Aberdeen as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

WASHINGTON, June 30. Private despatches received here to-day from unofficial sources in Mexico City, stated that President Huerta had sent his son and daughter towards New Mexico, and that he was making preparations for his own departure at short notice. The information was conveyed to the State Department.

WASHINGTON, June 30. President Wilson told a deputation of more than 500 suffragists at the White House, to-day, that woman suffrage was a State issue, and not a National one. For that reason he would not use his influence for the passage of a constitutional amendment to confer the franchise on women.

LONDON, June 30. After a brief lull, the activities of the "female furies" again roused London to-day. A series of mysterious fires in South London, which did damage, estimated at $100,000, is attributed to the arson squad. Several business houses were burned, two tenement houses, and fifteen families are made homeless. According to Scotland Yard, unmistakable evidence of incendiarism was found. While the flames were burning their way through South London, two women gained entrance to the Prime Minister's official residence in Downing St. through a ruse. Pretending that they had an appointment with the Premier, they were admitted by a servant. No sooner were they inside than they demanded an immediate interview, to "secure justice for women."

When it was learned that they were suffragettes, the servants tried to eject them. A violent scene ensued, during which one woman pulled a lock and chain from her dress and attempted to lock herself to the door, but she failed to do so. The police were summoned and the women were hurried away to jail, screaming.

When Regiments Resigned.

The cavalry crisis at the Curragh recalls how, in 1783, the old 77th Regiment, commanded by Colonel Gordon, refused en bloc to go to India, and voiced their reasons in a barracks-room song:—
If it were to fight with France or Spain
With pleasure we would cross the Main
But for likebullocks to be slain
Our Highland blood abhors it.

The question of this wholesale resignation came before Parliament, and the regiment was ordered to be disbanded forthwith at Perth.

Another Scotch regiment the Black Watch, being brought to London from Scotland in 1743, on the pretext that George II., never having seen a Highland regiment before, wished to inspect them, turned about and marched home when they found His Majesty not in London to meet them. He had left the previous night for Hanover. They accordingly believed themselves the victims of a trick to reduce the number of Stuart supporters in Scotland. They were overtaken by a superior force in the Midlands and forced to capitulate. The regiment as a whole was then banished to Flanders; 200 of the men all of good family—were sent into exile and many were court-martialled, whilst three ring-leaders were shot on Tower Hill.

Another instance of a regiment's desire to be quit of service occurred in 1807, when 800 men chiefly Irishmen, of the 28th Foot, stationed at Malton, Essex, feigned madness in order to escape being sent abroad. They bluffed the doctors for a time by applying an irritating ointment to their eyes, declaring they had caught the disease from afflicted soldiers just home from Egypt. But the ruse was discovered and the ring-leaders were tried under the Mutiny Act.

His Better Sell.

To-day's Feature at the Crescent.

The holiday bill at the Crescent Picture Palace to-day is a very attractive one. His Better Sell is a frontier drama with stirring situations. "The Boots Dream Girl," a Rex special with Marguerita Fisher and Bob Leonard, two well known characters. "Plain Jane" is another one of the famous I. M. P. laugh producers featuring Jane Gail. A Joke Comedy is our old favourite Mike and Jake and the exploits in Mexico. Miss Arkandy is singing the ballad: "Hearts and Flowers." On Friday and Saturday the feature is a two reel Indian drama: "Love of Men" and next week "Robinson Crusoe," in three reels. The Crescent is always cool, clean and comfortable.

Bulls and Blunders

Like the Irishman who said that his rope had only one end because the other had been cut away, Mr. John Burns, when he spoke recently of "throwing out a lifeline" in Parliament, provided a very amusing illustration of the art of making a statement which contradicts itself. Alluding to one of the Labor members during the course of a debate, the President of the Board of Trade said, "I should like to throw the honorable member a lifeline, so that I might pluck him as a brand from the burning."

It recalls the famous "bull" made by Sir William Hart-Dyke, the Unionist ex-Minister, who caused uproarious laughter in the House of Commons one day by remarking, "The right honorable gentleman has caught his fish in his time. He has gone to the top of the tree to find them." Alluding to an item of £2,000,000 in the Army Estimates one year, a certain member described it as "a fleabite in the ocean," while another, advocating an increase in the European troops employed in India, remarked, "You may depend upon it, sir, the pale face of the British soldier is the back-bone of the Indian Army."

An Irish member, speaking of suicide, said, "The only way to stop it is to make it a capital offence, punishable with death." It was the same member who assured the House that "As long as Ireland was silent under her wrongs, England was deaf to her cries," while it was during a debate on the scandal of packed juries during the Irish troubles that a member in support of the Government exclaimed, "By trial by jury have I lived, and, by the blessing of God, with trial by jury I will die."

There was a wild howl of delight, too, when some proxy member was careless enough to remark, "The time has come and is rapidly arriving," which is equal to the cry of the member who wished a motion was "at the bottom of the bottomless pit."

When it was stated on a money grant that it was unjust to saddle posterity with a debt incurred to benefit the present, one member asked, "Why should we beggar ourselves to better posterity? What has posterity done for us?" The laugh following rather surprised him, as he was unconscious of his blunder, and he promptly made matters worse by saying, "Sir, by posterity I do not mean our ancestors, but those who come immediately after them."

Wasted Wit.

Miss Madge Lessing, who is now appearing in The Blue Mouse at the Criterion, has been playing in Berlin for some time.

She was telling us the other day that soon after she went to Germany she was interviewed by the representative of a Berlin newspaper.

The interviewer complimented her on being able to speak her lines in the place without a trace of a foreign accent.

"Oh," replied Miss Lessing frivolously, "I play in five languages—German, French, American, English, and Irish."

Poor Miss Lessing expected at least a smile at her little joke, but the interviewer wrote it down quite seriously, and in due course the statement appeared in print.

Almost immediately another newspaper chided her, solemnly informing her that American, English and Irish were practically one and the same language. "Miss Lessing," it pointed out, "should know better than make a mistake like this!"

The wise woman wears gloves while she turns the wringer and saves her hands.

King Breaks Precedent.

For First Time England's Royal Pair Recognizes Archbishop's Wife.

When the King and Queen recently dined at Lambeth Place with the Archbishop of Canterbury and Mrs. Randall Davidson, his wife, they defied a precedent in the Church of England which could almost be compared to Henry the Eighth's famous defiance of the dictates of Rome.

For never before has an English sovereign acknowledged, by the acceptance of hospitality at the hands of the wife of the Archbishop of Canterbury, that this venerable dignity possessed a wife. In the eyes of royalty he has hitherto been officially a bachelor.

It started way back in the days of Queen Elizabeth, who became furious that her Archbishop of Canterbury took unto himself a wife without her consent. He announced it to her personally and upon his bended knees, but she pretended not to know what he was talking about and ever afterwards kept up this farce of treating him as a bachelor.

From that day to this the British sovereigns have declined to know officially in the etiquette of the court that the Archbishop of Canterbury was married. It was too ludicrous to be anything but an antiquated curiosity in custom, but it has caused heartache to many pious and estimable ladies throughout the centuries.

The Archbishop of Canterbury is the most important personage in the kingdom after the sovereign and he sits at the top of the dinner table even at the royal dinner parties at Windsor Castle and Buckingham Palace.

But the tradition of "Good Queen Bess" have been faithfully observed by placing the Archbishop's wife at the very bottom of the table, indignant but quite helpless as a person utterly devoid of any rank whatever, and doing in the nobodies at the very tail of the line.

Mrs. Randall Davidson, the wife of the Archbishop of Canterbury, is of distinguished family, the daughter of Archbishop Benson.

Dear Sir,—I have analyzed a sample of Sulphate of Ammonia made at your Works and I found 20.5 per cent of NITROGEN, Sulphate of Ammonia and Nitrate of Soda are the two principal Nitrogen masses.

Sulphate of Ammonia is less soluble than Nitrate of Soda, consequently it is a safer manure to use during a wet season.

Disaster Fund 1912.

The Marine Disasters' Fund Committee met at the Board of Trade Rooms yesterday to discuss various matters in connection with their work which was begun two years ago, and has had such satisfactory results. During the past two years the dependents of the men who were lost on the Erna, Aureola, Beatrice, Dorothy Louise, Arkansas, Reliance and Grace have been materially assisted. Mr. W. J. Ellis occupied the chair, and the Secretary, Mr. G. C. Pearn, and the Treasurer, Hon. John Harris, submitted their reports. The accounts will be audited and published shortly.

McMurdo's Store News.

WEDNESDAY, July 1, 1914. Infamed throat and tonsillitis appears to be prevalent just now, owing possibly to the changeable weather of late. Many people have found Nyrals' Sore Throat Cure give excellent service in controlling the inflammation and relieving the distress. We know of no gargle which will give better results in that way. Price 25 cents a bottle.

As a pleasant and refreshing toilet perfume there is probably nothing better than McMurdo's Lavender Water. It is prepared from the true Nutcham Oil of Lavender, esteemed throughout the world, and is left for many weeks to mature before bottling. It is equal to any imported Lavender Water, and better than any but the most expensive. Price 65 cts. a bottle.

MINDARD'S LINDNET CURES DIPHTHERIA.

Conference Notes.

At a recent meeting of the newly elected Board of Governors of the Methodist College, the following Executive Committee was elected: Hon. R. K. Bishop (Chairman); Rev. H. P. Cowperthwaite, M.A., D.D., Rev. C. A. Whittemore, M.A., B.D., Rev. N. M. Gray, M.A., Hon. H. J. B. Woods, Hon. J. B. Ayre, C. P. Ayre, Esq., A. Mews, Esq., John Leamon, Esq., C. H. Hutchings, K.C., Joseph Peters, Esq.

Reference was made to the loss which Methodism has sustained in the death of the late Hon. J. S. Pitts in the following paragraph: "The event which touches us most heavily is the death of the late Hon. J. S. Pitts, Chairman of the Board for 24 years. The Methodism of the Island has been called to mourn the loss of a staunch supporter to whom an appeal for help was never made in vain. We miss him in our Councils, but the good that he has done will live after him, and the provision he has made for the welfare of the College in the future will perpetuate his memory as its greatest benefactor."

During the morning session, the conference took an opportunity to place on record its high appreciation of the valuable services rendered by Rev. J. W. Bartlett, who is about to become Pastor of the Jubilee Church, Sydney, Nova Scotia Conference. "Whereas, Bro. John W. Bartlett has been transferred from this Conference to Jubilee Church, Sydney, in the Nova Scotia Conference, we cannot let him depart without assuring him of our sincere regret at the severance of our conference relationship. He will still hold a place in our thought and affection, and our prayers will ascend for him and his family, that Divine guidance and blessing may be vouchsafed there also, that success may attend his future ministry and be the means of bringing to multitudes the year of Jubilee, and when his heart turns towards us again and he desires to come home, a right royal welcome will be given."

Bro. Bartlett, in reply, thanked the conference for its appreciation, and assured us that new scenes and new relationships could never obliterate the sacred memories associated with his work in his native land.

The following Executive Committee were elected: Revs. Canon White, Canon Colley, G. H. Field, G. R. Godden, T. G. Netten, J. Brinton, Sir W. H. Horwood, Sir Joseph Outerbridge, Hon. Geo. Canon Colley presented the report of the select committee appointed to consider the continuance of the S. P. G. Depot. The Report was received.

The adjourned debate in connection with the H. and F. M. Fund was continued. This debate had been taken up during four sessions of the House and had been debated with keen interest, thus testifying to the position of importance the subject of missionary work has occupied in the Synod.

Mr. J. W. Withers moved for the adoption of the Report of the select committee appointed to consider clerical stipends and the Diocesan Mission Fund.

At 9 o'clock a deputation from the Lord's Day Alliance consisting of the Rev. J. S. Sutherland, M.A., and the Rev. C. Abner Whittemore, M.A., B.D., was received by the Synod standing. Mr. Sutherland was spokesman of the deputation and in an eloquent, concise and well delivered speech laid before the Synod the aim and object of the Lord's Day Alliance. The Right Rev. President replying on behalf of the Synod thanked the deputation for their visit and for the expression of their views with which the Synod had been so kindly favoured. The deputation then withdrew.

The debate on the Report before the House was resumed, and the Report adopted.

The following Executive Committee were elected: Revs. Canon White, Canon Colley, G. H. Field, G. R. Godden, T. G. Netten, J. Brinton, Sir W. H. Horwood, Sir Joseph Outerbridge, Hon. Geo. The House rose at 10 o'clock, the Bishop pronouncing the Benediction.
