

The Untiring Energy

of the Wolf is proverbial. Practically no energy is required where SUNLIGHT SOAP is employed. SUNLIGHT SOAP is energy itself. The Wolf is the enemy of mankind; is the enemy of all dirt. It is the friend of the housewife, and is made for her profit. To the housewife it means less labour, less dirt, more leisure, and time and money saved.

Sunlight Soap

SUNLIGHT SOAP does away with needless rubbing and scrubbing, and so preserves the clothes.

GIVE IT A TRIAL.

Hr. Grace Notes. Back From the West.

The heavy downpour of rain for the past couple of days has caused an immense lot of water to flow over the inclines. But up to the present no damage has been done. It would be well for the Road Board to see that the gratings in different parts of the town are cleared of any sand, etc. lodged there, so as to allow them to do their work properly.

Miss Carrie Parsons who had been on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Parsons and family of St. John's, returned home on Wednesday night, having spent a very pleasant visit.

The S. S. Sagona, en route to Labrador, arrived last evening, but owing to the storm the captain wisely decided to remain in port until this daylight, when he proceeded on his way to the now bleak coast of Labrador.

Miss Polly Kelly, the efficient housekeeper for Mr. Metcalfe, at his Grady fishing station, arrived from the coast last week, and is staying at Cochrane House.

The admirers of Prohibition in this district are still hopeful of victory when all the counts are in. If the victory is not gained, it will, as one man said, be so near that there will be no fun in it.

Sergeant A. Dwyer arrived from Labrador on Monday night by train. He had been at Labrador doing police duty for the summer months. His friends are pleased to see him home again and in such good health.

Mr. Archibald Taylor arrived from Sydney last week to accompany his mother, Mrs. Samuel Taylor, to his home there for the winter. They left by Tuesday's train taking with them the best wishes of their many friends.

"What expenses at a wedding are borne by the groom?" asked George, soon to wed.

"It is customary for the groom to pay for the marriage license, the clergyman and for the incidental services of the sexton. He should also pay for the carriages for the ushers and the one for himself and the best man. Also the carriage that takes himself and bride away. He must provide the wedding ring, the bouquets for the bride and bridesmaids, and, if he desires, he may give the gloves and neckties to the best man and ushers," said his brother.

The Episcopal Party

His Grace The Most Rev. E. P. Roche, D. D., Officially Visits Flatrock and Pouch Cove to Confer the Sacrament of Confirmation.

On Sunday, the 7th inst., His Grace accompanied by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor St. John and the Rev. J. J. McDermott visited that section of the Torbay parish known as Flatrock and Pouch Cove. The Episcopal party arrived at 11 o'clock a.m., and were heartily welcomed by priest and people.

The address read at Flatrock by Joseph Maher conveyed to His Grace the submission and love of his children. In reply His Grace who was deeply impressed by the devotion of the community to the Church and to his humble person commended them for their deep seated Catholic Faith which found expression in the decorations and in their enthusiastic welcome given in his honour. "It was usual," he said in times of official visitation for the Bishop to inquire into the moral tone of his people. On this as on all other occasions in which he visited various parts of the Archdiocese he was glad to have had a satisfactory account of their morals from their pastor. His Grace warned his people especially against the evils of intemperance. The intemperate man was a useless member of Society and a menace to the State. The drunkard ruined his home, his children and upset those laws that were framed for the well being of the people. The striking and eloquent discourse went home to the hearts of the inhabitants. With a short resume on the Sacraments in general and an instruction especially on the Sacrament of Confirmation, which he was about to confer, His Grace confirmed 50 children, imparted his blessing and proceeded to Pouch Cove.

Along the road lying between the settlements there were erected several neatly decorated arches which bore mottoes of welcome and love. Many men with firearms were posted along the stretch of six miles and greeted the Episcopal Party with repeated volleys of musketry.

At Pouch Cove His Grace admired the long lines of decorated spruce trees which were fastened on each side of the road between the arches. His Grace having assumed his Episcopal robes in the Sanctuary at Pouch Cove Church took his place in the Sanctuary. The address delivered by James Bolger, read:—

Your Grace,—
Hail, illustrious one! welcome Prince of God,
Exalted and by merit, raised to such a dignity
Thy children salute you on this auspicious day
And on bended knee they respects they pay.

The tidings on winged feet they came and happily did we Look forward on bended knee to kiss thy ring;
Of your selection, the happy news scarce old
Was borne to this small fraction of your foid.

Prince of the Church! what mortal to acquire
That blends such dignity with virtue,
Thy people's love so oft expressed surely will spread
A thornless path for its Prince to tread.

Thy Newfoundland Bride of pride feels aglow,
And her brow is so chaste and fair,
Her glorious record your reign display
And life for you be bright as day.

O Father of us your children ever true,
Blessed are we, yea, doubly blessed are they
With oil confirmed, soldiers of Christ,
to do and dare for Him
Who died upon the Cross to conquer sin.

Hail! beloved Archbishop may thy years
By Heaven protected and preserved be,
And may thy fervency, beginning one and kind,
Shine for aye with glory in the unfathomable mind.

This expressed the happiness of His Grace's subjects to have him amongst them. Their address reminded the ruler of their Church in Newfoundland that any words could not fully express the sentiments of devotion they wished to convey. They remembered his visit when he accompanied the Most Rev. Dr. Howley at the time deceased was last amongst them and nothing had given them greater consolation amidst their sorrow than the happy news of such a unanimously approved selection to fill the void that was created by the late Prelate's death.

His Grace in reply thanked his people. He had given them, he said, a priest who had proved his zeal by the amount of church work he had done in such a short time. But a priest without the co-operation of his people is powerless and for this reason he advised the people to give in free labor and in pecuniary assistance their whole-hearted support to their Pastor.

He again thanked his flock for their sentiments and hoped that they would live so as to be an honour to the Church of which they were members, and to live so as to be a good example. His Grace hoped that good fellowship existed between the different denominations for it was fitting that Christians should live in harmony.

His Grace spoke eloquently and his simple and winning manner won him the hearts of his hearers. After a short instruction on the Sacraments there were 40 children confirmed. His Grace assisted by Rt. Rev. Mons. St. John and Fr. Conway imparted Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. The choir which had been recently trained sang the Benediction service admirably. The bell in its steel belfry erected on the cliff will be a lasting monument. The Episcopal Party dined at Mrs. Molloy's, Pouch Cove, and on their return were again greeted by the inhabitants of the three settlements.

Torbay had built one arch on the north side and was flying many flags. His Grace spent the afternoon at the Presbytery where he was met by Fr. Sheehan and Fr. Nangle.

At 6 o'clock the Episcopal Party motored to St. John's.

ADDRESS FROM THE PEOPLE OF FLATROCK.

May it please Your Grace,—
We, the people of Flatrock, are glad to avail of this, the first opportunity of expressing our loyalty and devotion to your Archiepiscopate. Your early visit amongst us will be fully appreciated and lovingly remembered by a devoted people. That you have found time to visit us within so short a period since your consecration and amidst the many pressing needs of your exalted office is all the greater proof of your Grace's love for us. We heartily congratulate you on your exaltation to so dignified an office as an Apostle of Christ and Archbishop of our Holy Church. Your Grace's consecration it has been our fervent wish to have amongst us one so universally loved and honored. Mere words are inadequate to clothe those sentiments of love that well up within us for our loving Father. If it will be a consolation for you to know that this little portion of your vast Spiritual Family will ever show its love and obedience to your Archiepiscopate, this shall be for us an unmeasured consolation. We know that the devotion of Your Grace's children will sweeten the yoke that Christ, our Eternal Pastor, has been pleased to lay upon you. Your talents which have shone so brightly in unwavering devotion since your ordination to the Priesthood have now won for you the recognition of our Holy Father, the Vicar of Christ.

We hope to prove to Your Grace as years roll on that deeds and not words will verify our love.

May God in His goodness visit Your Grace with health and happiness and may your years be many and most fruitful. May you live long to heap up that hundred-fold in answering the duties of your exalted office most bring. We can ask no greater favour of Your Grace to-day than your blessing.

Signed on behalf of Flatrock,—

Obituary.

MRS. G. J. BROCKLEHURST.
With regret we chronicle the passing of Mrs. Brocklehurst, beloved wife of Mr. George J. Brocklehurst, chemist and druggist of Carbonara, whose death occurred at that place yesterday afternoon. The deceased lady had been ailing for a considerable time past and death was not altogether unexpected. Mrs. Brocklehurst was a sister of the late Mr. Edward St. George, a writer of much merit, who was better known by the nom de plume "Eros Wayback." She was particularly noted for her charity, and many persons in Carbonara are to-day mourning the loss of one who brought much comfort to them in their sorrows and sufferings. To the bereaved husband, son and daughters the Telegram extends sincere sympathy.

BACK FROM BAHIA.—The barqt. E. S. Hocken, 46 days from Bahia, returned here yesterday from Bahia. The passage was made in 46 days. The vessel was detained by fog and contrary winds on this coast. The vessel came in ballast to A. S. Rendell & Co.
