RUGBY WORLD.

London, Dec. 21.-A new cloud is looming on the rugby horizon as a result of the refusal of the Scottish Union to arrange any fixtures with the New Zealand All Blacks during the latter's tour, beginning next September. The English sub-committee sent invitations to all home unions last July, but without giving Morris in goal. By feinting twice afplied that it did not intend to seek fixtures with the New Zealanders . It is believed that the Scottish grievance originated as far back as 1905, when the All Blacks last visit-
