Camp Conditions

Never in -he history of Alberta milit tary encampments has the health of the officers and men been so perfect as at the present mobilization of the troops of the 13th military district. So far not a single of se of filness among the men can be even indirectly trae-able to the sanitary arrangements of the camp.

able to the sahitary arrangements of the camp.

The provision against the accumulation of garbage has in a great measure been responsible for the excellent health of the men. All garbage is taken from the camp and burned, and strict orders have been issued through the medical officers by Colonel Cruickshank: camp commandant, against the throwing of garbage or rubbish in the camp streets or around the tents.

This fact is given credit for the scarcity of flies around the camp. Every millitary encampment in history has had the fly pest, but the present encampment has been wonderfully free from the little carriers of disease, and as a result, 2,000 and more men have been able to devote their time to military work instead of answering the sick call.

Private G. Robinson, of the 15th Alberta Light Horse, of Calgary, was sent to the General hospital early in the forenoon with the measles. He is in no danger, but inasmuch as the disease is contagious, he was hustled away from the camp grounds in an ambulance.

(Despite the fact that the soldiers at the encampment are amply supplied with blankets, many of them are complaining of the cold nights. The high prices of pie and other delicacies advertised at "city prices" also forms a matter of complaint. Your scribe tells the story.)

THE SOLDIER OF THE 15TH LIGHT HORSE.

A soldier of the 15th Horse lay dying on the ice; He didn't have a woman nurse, for he didn't have the price. But a comrade bent beside him, as the sun sank in repose, To listen to his dying words and watch him as he froze.

The dying man propped up his head above his blanket pile, And said: "I aimed for glory, but missed it by a mile. Take this piece of army bacon that I swiped from Jason Dills, To my home down there in Calgary, in Calgary in the Hills.

"I thought to beat this army game was forty kinds of cinch, But the price of custard pie out here is eighty cents an inch. In the day's bright sun I'm happy, at night I'm stiff with cold. War's medals now may go to him who glories in the bold."

The comrade knelt down closer as Ms old pal passed away. His lips so blue, his eyes so dull, his map so cold and grey. He then procured a Q. M. box and C.O.D.'d the bills, And shipped the soldier home that night to Calgary in the Winnipeg, June 23.—General Sir Ian Hamilton arrived here at 11 o'clock this morning, accompanied by Col. Sam Hughes and staff. This evening Gen. On his return from the coast a visit will be made to Battleford and a trip to Sewell camp, which the General will inspect.

SOLDIERS SEND 1,000 LETTERS DAILY THROUGH CAMP POST OFFICE

Lieut. W. T. Toye and Detachment of Canadian Postal Corps, Kept Busy

That the soldiers at camp are taking advantage of the post office arrangements made for their convenience is evidenced by the huge volume of mail which pours out of the camp and also into it twice a day. According to Lieut. W. F. Toye, in charge of the 8th detachment of the Canadian Postal Corps, not less than 1,000 letters and packages daily are sent from the camp, and an equal number received.

The camp post office is arranged with all the care of the post office in a big city. Sergeant Guffy and Private Batman are the members of the corps detailed to assist Lieut. Toye in handling the soldiers mail, and a complete set of records are kept, similar to those in force at the Calgary post office.

Special cancelling stamps have been made, and the stamp, instead of reading "Calgary" reads "Camp, 13th Military District. Calgary." The soldiers, all sanxious for souvenirs, have learned this fact, and one man who took a letter to Calgary to mail it a few nights ago, on finding out that the military post office had its own special postal stamp, brought the letter back to camp and mailed it at the camp office.

The mail is delivered twice daily, and and is taken around to the different company tents by the letter carriers in military uniform. Special mail boxes have been placed in position in front of the post office tent, the mail is collected and then taken to Calgary every morning and every evening. A full supply of stamps of all denomination is kept on sale at the tent.

Pumpman is Asphyxiated.
Edmonton, Alta., June 22.—Louis Baker was found dead in a sewer at Nelson Avenue and 13th Street this morning. He was employed on a pump there to keep the sewer from flooding. It is supposed that the gasoline engine got out of order and he went down to investigate when he was suffocated by the fumes. He was missed by his room-mate last night and when he did not show up this morning the latter and other workmen went into the sewer. The body was in 10 feet of water. Baker was 40 years old and has a brother in Vancouver.
