A very successful opening entertainment was held last night at the Home for Incurables. Mr. Merchant, principal of the Normal School, was in the chair. A number of musical selections were played by the Musical Society Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. F. L. Evans, to the delight of a goodly assemblage of visitors, who afterwards inspected the new wing, and many were the expressions of surprise at the pleasant appearance of everything. Mr. Complin gave a short review of the work of the home. Some years ago the ladies of the W. C. T. U. became aware that a number of incurable patients were being discharged from the City Hospitais, and were being cared for by people in their private homes. As there seemed a great need to help these unfortunate sufferers the ladies, in June. 1894, started a home in a rented house, began with one patient. Within the first year this was increased to fourteen. Seeing that the need was growing and that the public were recognizing the good work, the ladies interested decided to purchase the present property and continue the good work. The patients, at the beginning of the present year increased to 24, and It was seen at once that the building must be enlarged, if the work was to be extended. It was then decided to build the new wing, which has just sold by druggists everywhere in the been opened, enabling the home to now United States, Canada and Great Britprovide for 40 inmates.

Hvery Man Must Be That to Retain Hi Health and Digestion.

There are thousands of people in this world who eat no meat from one year's end to another, and certain savage tribes in Africa and Polynesia are almost exclusively meat eaters; but while there are thousands of these, there are millions who live upon a mixed diet of meat, vegetables and grains, and if numbers is a criterion, it would seem that a mixed diet is the

The fact that you will find many vegetarians who appear healthy and vigorous and meat eaters equally so, and any number of robust specimens who eat both meat and vegetables and anything else that comes in their way goes to show that the old saw is the true one, that every man must be a law to himself as to what he shall

First-To give tailor-made clothing at ready-made cost. Second-To give tailor-made style and fit without tailormade delay.

Third-To do away with tailor-made guess work as to how a piece of cloth will look when made up.

Fit-Reform is not merely a name. Its name is useful only to distinguish it from make-shift clothing.

Fit-Reform led the way to good clothing ready made. It still leads where other branded clothing is unsettled and uncertain, following an idea without the experience to carry it out. Fit-Reform has passed through the primary grades and stands at the head of the ranks of the best.
