Seare in the House of Commons.

London, July 20.—The House of Commons, this evening, was the scene of a sensational occurrence. In the midst of legislative proceedings, a man who had been sitting in the stranger's gallery, suddenly sprang to his feet with a yell. Great excitement arose when the excited individual was seen wildly flourishing a package of some kind which he held in his hands. The man violently dashed the bundle upon the floor of the House. Constables immediately hurried into the gallery, and after ejecting the disturber took him into custody. When the bundle was carefully picked up and cautiously examined it was found to contain nothing more deadly than a lot of papers referring to some grievances, real or fancied.

liffe Owen welcomed them and promised them the assistance of the Chamber. Messrs. Washington, D.C., July 20.—The A to a report that the Southern Pacific rall-road is about to stop the everflow of the Colorado river, the property of the com-pany being placed in jeopardy, and request-ing the Interior Department to intervene on behalf of the people of Southern California, whom, it is presumed, the new body of water will greatly benefit. The Acting Secretary, in his reply to Mr. McKnight, says that the matter does not come within the jurisdiction of the Interior Department, and the remedy of the people against an-ticipated injury from the operations of the railway company in protecting its property, lies in the courts.

in the match of had been age's gallery, enclosely in the case of individual control of the control of the case of trict of the state. Governor Buchanan was immediately notified and responded by ordering two companies from Chattanooga and one from Knoxville to the scene. Of the 50 convicts taken from the guards at Briceville, two escaped and the others were brought to this city. When the militia arrived they took the convicts back with them, and warned the mob that they would protect them at all hazards. Governor Buchanan at once proceeded to the seat of the trouble, and in a neat speech explained his position to the rebellous miners. He told them that it was his sworn duty to uphold the law, and if the convict lease system was wrong he was not to blame, and the only recourse of the men was through the legislature. The miners announced that their families were starving, and that they were compelled to drive out the convicts if it cost the fife of every man in the valley. They made all sorts of fun of the handful of beardless youths, but declared that they would not harm the "spider-legged, cigarette dudes," as they characterized the militia, but as soon as the militia were withdrawn they would release every convict in the region. Becoming impatient, however, at the delay in recalling the troops, they decided to try to overcome the troops by force of numbers, and succeeded only too well.
