THAW WAS PRINCE

Made Paris Gasp at Brilliant and Costly Banquet to Actresses.

White Was One of the First to Help Evelyn Nesbit Earn a Living.

EW YORK, July 4.—Harry Thaw, slayer of Stanford White in New York recently, has a record as a spendthrift that few young sen, or older men, for that matter, Harry Thaw's family is among the most wealthy people of Pittsburg. His father was, at the time of his death, a multimillionaire, who had made his miland around Pittsburg belong to the Thaw family, says the Chicago Tribune.

The Thaws are of Quaker origin, and most of the members of the family adhere to the traditional religion of youth, the black sheep of the family. Vhen the elder Thaw came to dispose when the elder Thaw came to dispose of his millions previous to his death he cut Harry off with $2,500 a year because of his waywardness. Mrs. Thaw later remedied the discrepancy in the young man's financial expectations by making him an equal sharer with the other heirs in the estate, thus insuring him an annual income of $80,000.

Thaw World Renowned Spender

Thaw World Renowned Spender
After he came into his patrimony through his mother's generosity Harry Thaw cut a wide swath in certain society circles of Pittsburg, New York, London and Paris. He was known as a spender before he left Pittsburg for New York when he arrived at New York when he arrived at New York he set himself the task of maintaining his reputation and succeeded beyond even his expectations. Here are a few things he is accredited with doing after his arrival in New York. He ractd a cab down Broadway in the middle of the day when Broadway was crowded from curb to curb. He threw a theatrical performance into a panic by throwing bottles at a soubsette who didn't sing to please him. He caused the proprietor to close up a famous night restaurant an hour earlier because he stood on a table and threw $5 bills to all the waiters.

He went to the Waldorf one night, sat by himself at a magnificent table, and ordered a $50 dinner. When it was finished he sent for the chef and gave him $25.

One night after the theatre, when he

Otero, the dancer, wore the most sensational costume, which also became famous throughout Europe in 24 hours.

She wore a cloth of gold gown without a wrinkle, and the sharply pointed tight fitting bodice was made of diamonds and rubies on gold wire.

She wors het double ropes of pearls around her waist, knotted over her hips, and her double ropes of emeralds around her neck.

This $50,000 beauty dinner made Harry Thaw famous in Paris. He had already become famous in London, where Mrs. Arthur Paget was his sponsor, and he spent money as freely as he poured champagne on all that money loving set of Edward VII.

He had already given one dinner of 25 covers for $3,000, but he called that "experimental."

As a Social Lion

As a Social Lion

From the continent Harry Thaw flitted to Washington, where his mother was entertaining upon an elaborate scale. Here he met the first rebuif in his career—the exclusive Metropolitan club requested his sponsors to withdraw his name for membership. But this didn't keep Harry Thaw from giving round after round of the most costly dinners, chiefest among them a notable function for the British ambassador and Lady Herbert.

New York was next on this remarkable young man's list. The doors of the rich opened wide for him, and in two months he had the entree everywhere. When he started for Paris again he gave a farewell dinner to the 46 persons who had been most hospitable to him during his stay. The guests included the Fishes, Oelrichs, Vanderbilts, Astors, Belmonts and others of the socially regnant families.

Gay Time in Tokic As a Social Lion

Gay Time in Tokio Is was a far cry to Tokio, but what is such a trip to a gay young millionaire but a chance to spend more money; There Prince Komatsu got square for that Paris whirl and Harry Thaw had the time of his life. A grisha girl dinner under the cherry trees, where tea that cost $100 a pound was served, was his coup there. The fairest of the beauties of all Japan came to do him honor and to entertain the guests.

Back to Paris again, and there he was until the cable told the story of his marriage to Evelyn Nesbit.

Evelyn Nesbit Appears

Evelyn Nesbit Appears Then Evelyn Nesbit appeared on the scene. Aler career already had been "made" before she met Thaw.

Beginning to work for her living when she was 14 in the photographic studios of Philadelphia, she sat one day for a photograph. It was sent to a photographic exhibition and made a "bht."

girl students until it became known that she was ostracized and practically driven from the school.

In 1903 she resumed her work as that she was ostracted and plant cally driven from the school.

In 1908 she resumed her work as a model. It may be stated here that she posed only for the face and head—never in the nude or even semi-nude.

Again she entered stageland and for a second time played in "The Wild Rose" company. After this she went to Europe with her mother and apparently Harry Thaw was on the other side at the same time. While abroad she and ler mother quarreled. Mrs. Nesbit said that at last her daughter was accepting the attentions of "that dolone with her forever. Mrs. Nesbit returned to Pittsburg and married again and her daughter remained abroad, traveling with Harry K. Thaw, and, she alleges, a woman companion.

Says She Was Afraid

A year later Evelyn Nesbit returned to New York alone.

"Harry Thaw has all my jewels," she said to an intimate friend. "He took them from me because he was afraid I was going to leave him. I left him because I was afraid of him. Certain women came to me in Paris and told me of his cruelty. They said he beat them with whips. One day he said to me: "Have you ever been whipped?" I told him I had not. He said: 'You ought to be whipped,' and I was frightened and came home."

Friends secured an engagement for her with "The Girl from Dixie," but she remained only a few weeks with the company. Thaw had followed her to this country and persuaded her to return to Europe with him.

Thaw today treated his fellow male prisoners at the Tombs to fee cream and cake, buying 46 quarts of ice nier in command will sail for Hudson's bay and the far north on Saturday. The Arctic will visit Churchill and Fullerton on Hudson's bay and will afterwards proceed through Hudson's and Davidson's straits to Lancaster sound, and will call at Ponds inlet, the headquarters of whaling expeditions. Capt. Bernier will collect customs duties and see that the foreign whalers have licenses. The idea is to assert Canadian authority in these distant waters. Major Moody will go north with a supply boat later on and will visit the police ports on Hudson's bay. The government has deemed it wise to separate these two officials.

PROMISING PROPERTY.

A recent issue of the Vernon News says: "Price Ellison, M. P. P., and J. C. Campbell, returned on Saturday afternoon from a visit to their mineral property in the Aspen Grove Camp, Nicola. It is understood that negotiations are now going on for the transfer of the valuable Copper Standard group, owned entirely by Vernon citizens to New York people. The consideration mentioned is $144,000. The Montreal people who have bonded the Sovereign for $245,000 have just made another payment on the property. The C. P. R. have already surveyed one line through the camp, (a continuation of their road to Spence's Bridge) and they are now engaged in surveying another. Consulting Engineer Cambie, accompanied by Hon. R. G. Tatlow, visited the district officially during the past week. Messrs. Ellison and Campbell drove back by way of Hedley and Princeton. They found the latter a very busy place great improvements on all sides, land sales taking place, etc. Hedley was very quiet."
