

GRAND OPERA HOUSE

O. B. SHEPPARD MANAGER.

TONIGHT. TONIGHT.

ONE NIGHT ONLY, Saturday Evening, APRIL 16, First appearance in this city of that world-famous Indescribable Phenomenon.

MISS ANNA EVA FAY AND HER COMPANY OF EMINENT ENGLISH MEDIUMS, IN SPIRITUALISM!

MISS FAY has just returned from an extended tour of Europe, and will on this occasion present an entire new line of manifestations never before seen in Toronto, and in the FULL GASP LIGHT MISS FAY is positively the only lady in the world who has the indubitable every conceivable way that ingenuity could suggest, and at the first of her investigation presenting her with a parchment certificate to the effect that the illustrations given in their presence were beyond human aid. Such scientists as Prof. Crooks, Huxley, Varley, Tyndall, Sargent, Cos. and the Duke of Edinburgh endorse her. Some claimed to be psychic, some clairvoyant, and still others supernatural powers. MISS FAY calls it Spiritualism; you may call it what you may. - Forts, hands and faces will be seen so plainly as to be recognized by persons in the audience.

The Spirit Carpenter! The Self-Acting Knife! Tables Will Float in Mid-Air! The Spirit Hand Will Answer Every Question. Twenty to thirty communications will be received for the people in the audience. Beautiful flowers will be received for the ladies, and many other tests of remarkable power never before witnessed in any séance in America.

MIND READING EXTRAORDINARY!

"Electricity of odic force." - LONDON STANDARD. "One of the most sensational séances ever given in New York." - N. Y. HERALD, Dec. 6. "It is fortunate that Miss Fay did not live in Cotton Mather's time, for if she had she would have been condemned and branded as a witch." - N. Y. SUN, Dec. 6. "Incomprehensible." - LONDON (Eve.) TIMES. "We do not believe in Spiritualism, but when hands made things move in full daylight it is not surprising." - NASHVILLE AMERICAN. "Miss Fay's séance last night was the best we ever saw on any public stage." - PITTSBURGH DISPATCH. "The best exhibition of occult force or power we ever saw in public." - N. Y. TIMES. "Miss Fay is the only lady who has ever visited Detroit and given perfect satisfaction. She gives her séances in the most thorough scientific test. She defies science and art and everything else but God's own truth. Spiritualism is her religion. It has made her lovely in character and person, and she herself is a sublime example of its sweet influence." - BOSTON HERALD. "In spite of any precaution taken by the society, Miss Fay comes out of the most severe and thorough test triumphant." - ATLANTA POST-APPEAL.
