splendid, the streets are thronged with people in holiday attire, and all the accommodation, hotels, cafes, boarding houses and private houses, thrown open for the occasion, has been secured by the thousands of visitors anxious to be present at the royal wedding. The royal standard of Great Britain is floating over the ducal palace and on all sides are to be seen flags, flowers, bunting, triumphal arches, Venetian masts and pictures of the bride and bridegroom, the Grand Duke of Hesse and the Princess Victoria of Coburg. During the morning the band of the First Dragoon Regiment played under the windows of the apartmen which Queen Victoria occupies. The morning was mainly devoted to a continuous exchange of visits between the many royal personages assembled in this

The Queen and Czarewitch Guarded.

The greatest precautions have been taken in order to prevent a possible attempt upon the life of some members of the royal families. Consequently the town is full of detectives of all nations, and every person falling in any degree under suspicion is carefully watched and will be under surveillance until all danger of an attempt at assassination is passed. All hotelkeepers and others furnishing board and lodge to visitors are required to furnish the names and descriptions of their guests to the local authorities, and, in addition, the police are making regular rounds of all such places in order to satisfy themselves that the town is free from Anarchists. Special attention is being paid to the safety of the Czarewitch, who is considered to be in more danger than other important personages now present at Coburg. In addition to his body guard of Russian police, the Czarewitch has attached to his person some of the most experienced police agents in Germany. The Queen of England, in addition to the special English policemen who have been guarding her during her sojourn at Florence, Italy, has also been given a guard of German detectives, although Her Majesty expressed herself as being perfectly satisfied with the police escort which she has been accustomed to.

Emperor William's Safety Watched. The Queen and Czarewitch Guarded,

Emperor William's Safety Watched, The ducal schloss and all the other build ings in which members of royal or imperial families are quartered are guarded hight and day by uniformed police, troops and detectives, making it almost impossible for detectives, making it almost impossible for an Anarchist to approach dangerously near the temporary habitations of the distin-guished visitors. Particular attention is also being paid to the safety of Emperor William of Germany. The body guard of detectives who accompanied him to bazia, Venice, etc., will follow him to this city and keep constant guard over his Imcity and keep constant guard over his Im-

Albert Edward Has No Fear. The Prince of Wales has two British de-ctives attached to his person, and he claims that even this protection is unnecessary. But in spite of the Prince's uncessary. cessary. But in spite of the Prince's unconcern a detail of German police will watch over his safety while the heir-apparent of the throne of Great Britain is in this city. Inquiries made in police circles show that there is apparently some ground to believe that these elaborate police precautions are necessary, for it is stated upon high authority that the police of Coburg and Berlin were warned some time ago that an Anarchist plot was in existence and that an attempt would probably be made upon the life of Emperor William of Germany. The Allgemeine Zeitung seems to confirm the statement made by the police official, as it states, upon the authority of a prominent diplomat, that an attempt was to have been made to kill Emperor William during the latter's stay at Venice.

brought Mr. John Mills of 300 Ontariostreet down town during the forenoon. He called in person to The World office to deny the truth of the assertion. He exhibited his arm, bandaged in a sling, as proof of the recklessness of the wheelmen. Two weeks ago he was knocked over in Yongestreet near the Arcade in the middle of the day. His shoulder was dislocated and it will be two weeks or three before he can attend to his usual avocation. Mr. Mills has no use for the nimble wheel. He thinks all riders ought to carry street car gongs or fog horns.

MONEY LOANED ON MORTGAGES

don this morning reported that market was duland weak, with confidence in American railroad shares sowewhat disturbed as a result of the poor showing made by St. Paul for the second week of April. Later in the day the tone of the market abroad was firmer. In New York the market has been made by the industrials. Buving orders of considerable volume sharply advanced C. Gas, Sugar and Distillers, while Lead and G.E. responded in a less pronounced manner. In the railroad shares the shorts who sold freely yesterday on the probability of a determined war of rates covered this morning, causing a rally. The talk on Distillers is builish. The annual meeting of the company is beingfheld to day and the annual report is expected to show a highly satisfactory record of earnings. During lunch hour G. E. began to decline on news that the competition of the "Westinghouse Company" was becoming very aggresive and that the latter was making prices so low as to drive G.E. out of the field.

Chicaso, Ill., April 18.—Wheat was up nearly one-half cent on the late curb yesterday, but the general rains and favorable weekly weather builletins from most ot the winter wheat states changed speculative sentiment that it opened weak and remained so the first half of the session. The strength in outside markets turned the tide. Minneapolis was particularly strong. St. Louis was quoted 34 cents higher for cash wheat and *San Francisco was reported three cents per cental higher than it closed yesterday owing to continued drought. Exports more liberal. Duluth reported 250,000 has taken there to-day for export and bids for more at same price refused. While the news was been emphatically bullish speculation has been light and prices responded slowly to the better influences.
