Means protection to the furnace parts against evil effects of gas. What does 'Sunshine' Gas Damper mean to 'Sunshine' householder? Means furnace can be operated without fear as to 'puffing' gas furnace can be left without doubt as to whereabouts of gas. What does 'Sunshine' Gas Damper mean to 'Sunshine' coal account? It means, instead of owner with 'ordinary furnace' fear having to keep check-draft indefinitely closed to 'let off' gas—when there's two-thirds parts of heat-energy to one part of gas passing up chimney—draft can with all safety be opened, and coal saved for another day's duty. Stamps Worth Preserving

If you go to any post office in Canada today and ask for a postage stamp you will probably find that the familiar unit which you have been accustomed to attach to your letters has been replaced by some thing which, if you only knew it, would be of great value to your children in years to come.

The series of stamps on sale today in every post office in Canada is undoubtedly the best collection of specimens of the engraver's art yet offered to any country for the mere service of postage. They are indeed well worth preserving, instead of by every family to be separated by force of circumstances, owing to the summer holidays on the one side and the pressure of business on the other.

But these stamps have more than the attraction which attaches to an ordinary issue of stamps. They mark an epoch in the history of Canada, and as such ought to be preserved to you and to your correspondents by force of circumstances, owing to the summer holidays on the one side and the pressure of business on the other.

Just as the historic fets in Quebec this week and the following week will illustrate to the world that Canada is the country of the Twentieth Century, in which all old-time fets can be forgotten, so the postage stamps which you will buy today or for days to come will prove to you and to your correspondents that this year our country is celebrating its 30th birthday—Ottawa Free Press.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY WOULD HAVE SAVED HIM $100.00.

"In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar, of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907, I had a similar attack and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 I believe I would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill." Sold by W. A. WARREN, BRIDGETOWN, W. HEROIC MINISTER HAS PASSED AWAY.

The death occurred yesterday afternoon of Rev. William J. Ancient, diocesan secretary. Although Mr. Ancient has not been in the best of health recently, his early demise was not expected. Readers of the Herald are familiar with the career of Rev. Mr. Ancient, sketches of whose life have more than once appeared in that paper. He was an Englishman and as a young man was present with the British fleet in Crimean waters during the war. His greatest fame, however, was achieved when the ill-fated steamship went to pieces on April 1st, 1873, he was able, by his heroic work, to save many lives. He came to Halifax shortly afterwards and became rector of Trinity church. Then he went to Londonterry and was rector there up to the date of his appointment as diocesan secretary, which position he held with the greatest satisfaction up to the time of his death—Herald.

Patriotism.

The following address was presented by Miss Eva Darling, parents and children of Clarence Centre on the occasion of the Flag-Raising, July 1st, and is published by special request—

I wonder if many of us realize what this word means. It certainly means a great deal, namely, the love of one's country, and willingness to serve, and even give one's life if need be, for one's country. Are the true patriots of today few or many? Among those of by-gone days we might mention "The Noble Six Hundred," of which Tennyson tells us in his "Charge of the Light Brigade," who went into the jaws of death although they knew some one had blundered in regard to the order given. Not only do we have these heroes of our British nation, but every nation can boast of their heroes. Let us look back to the Horatius of old who guarded the bridge, risking his own arms to save the city of Rome. Not only have men been brave, but also the women. For instance, Joan of Arc. She did not look forward to think of what the result of her fighting would mean to herself, but only of crowning Charles, her king, and the result of her work was that she perished in the flames at the stake. We cannot all do these brave heroics, and heroines have done. We cannot be Joan of Arc, but we can love our King, our country, and our flag. We may ask the question, when and where should patriotism begin? Could there be any better place than the schools of our Dominion? If we do not inspire the minds of the young with these ideas, they will probably not think this subject so important after school days are over. The question has been asked, "Why do our boys and girls leave our Dominion and go across the border and spend most of their lives?" Many, on returning, are more loyal to the "Stars and Stripes" than the "Union Jack." Let us take a lesson from the American and endeavor to have the children of Canada love the flag, our flag, the flag of Canada.

Not only should our boys be patriotic, but also our girls. Let us take a lesson from the illustrious Florence Nightingale, the kindest and bravest of women, who at the time of the Crimean War organized a band of trained nurses and went to Russia to care for the wounded and sick soldiers. At the advanced age of eighty-seven years, she is still doing acts of kindness. We must also mention Laura Secord, who has written her name across a shining page of her country's history by her brave deed, that as long as Canada lasts it will never be forgotten.

In our schools the pupils should be taught to be loyal to King, country and flag. A flag should wave in every school yard. Teachers and scholars by a few efforts can obtain the flag, and we have obtained ours, of which we may justly be proud. Little did I think, when I suggested getting a flag to the parents, on Empire Day, May 22nd, that on July 1st such a beautiful one should float over our ground. Well may we thank Mr. Doring for what he has done for us, for the small amount in proportion to the real value. I wish to thank the people, one and all, who willingly came and added us to the social, and those who have contributed to make up the amount, both those who were at the social and those who were not. It surely manifests the patriotic spirit.

I wish to thank all those who have spent their time placing the flagstaff in this yard, coming day after day to have it completed for this date. I thank the speakers, also the people who have gathered here and have made the morning very pleasant, and one not soon to be forgotten. In closing, I thank the children for their kindness and help through the two years—and the trustees and parents for their help and kindness to me. Last year when compelled to give up my school duties for a time, I received kindness and sympathy from all. The school has my best wishes for success. Let us keep the school-room and yard attractive for the pupils, who spend the most of their youth there. We make our homes attractive. Let us think of the school-room, the "day home" of the children. Though we charge to-day with debt, For we soon must say "good-bye." There'll be a melancholy sweetness, In thinking of the days gone by.

A SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

Arrival of Prince of Wales

Quebec, July 25—Amid the most gorgeous state ceremonial the Prince of Wales arrived at Quebec this afternoon, and at last the tercentenary has reached its zenith, the reception of the Prince being one of the most interesting events that has happened in Canada. There were representatives of many nations, all in full state array—generals, admirals, dukes and hundreds of the most distinguished citizens of Canada and the United States, as well as of Britain and France, to add eclat to the scene.

The arrangements for the reception of the prince on the King's wharf were almost perfect, and the ceremony passed off without a hitch, the whole reception being concluded within an hour from the time that the first guns were fired from the waiting fleets as the launch bearing the royal standard of Great Britain left the Indomitable and the air fairly shook with terrific concussion from the big cannon as the prince and his entourage approached the landing. No sooner had his royal highness landed than the guns of the citadel boomed out a welcome which echoed for miles down the river, while massed bands played the national anthem and massed thousands cheered the representative of the might of Great Britain.

IT TAKES CASH!

The Orangeville, Ont., Sun believes in living up to its advertising rates and turns down all false or impudent propositions. In a late issue that paper pertinently observed: "For gall and nerve refer us to the press agent of amusement concerns. Monday morning's mail brought us a nice big fat letter from the press agent of a Toronto amusement enterprise and requested us to publish a reader setting out the benefits of this money-making resort as a place for any and all citizens to quietly separate themselves from their coin. And for all this the benevolent press agent would 'greatly appreciate the courtesy.'" This amusement resort makes big money every summer and no person ever gets a look-in free of charge, and we believe the millionaires behind the enterprise are well able to pay for their advertising. The fools who used to run country newspapers are nearly all dead and their successors demand cash in exchange for advertising space. In country weeklies the cardwood and ticket stage has been passed and the boys who run up-to-date papers now want the cash, the whole cash and nothing but the cash. It takes cash to keep typesetting machines running, to liquidate with the hands on Saturday night, to pay taxes and paper bills and square the many other incidentals that enter into the production of a twentieth century newspaper. Therefore, we pass all the free advertising stuff to the waste basket, and we trust, may, we do more, we pray that all our brethren of the rural press will join with us in glorious and sensible procession.

THE RESULT OF A DRUNKEN QUARREL.

While a drunken quarrel was in progress at the colored settlement near Weymouth on Saturday evening a negro named Langford, who was stabbed in the neck by another negro named Jarvis, who was armed with a knife of murderous proportions. The two men had been drinking together and became involved in a dispute which soon led to blows.

Sudden Death of

St. John Woman

(St. John Sun.) While hanging clothes on a line from the window of a shed in the rear of her home, 54 Durban street, yesterday afternoon Mrs. William Powers fell to the ground below, a distance of about twelve feet, sustaining injuries which later caused her death. Mrs. Powers had hold of the clothes line, which was on a pulley attached to the window, when the rope suddenly broke. The weight of the clothes on the line pulled her through the window and she fell to the ground below. No one saw her fall, but it is believed that she landed on her head, for when assistance came from the house she was lying unconscious and a bad bruise was discovered near her eye. Dr. McIntyre was summoned at once, but the woman did not recover her senses and died, about fifteen minutes after receiving the injury. Dr. McIntyre states that the cause of death was concussion of the brain resulting from the wound received on her head.

HELP FOR THOSE WHO HAVE STOMACH TROUBLE.

After doctoring for about twelve years for a bad stomach trouble, and spending nearly five hundred dollars for medicine and doctor's fees, I purchased my wife one box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which did her so much good that she continued to use them and they have done her more good than all of the medicine I bought before. —SAMUEL BOYER, Pilscom, Iowa. CLERGYMAN CHARGED WITH PERJURY.

Halifax, July 22—Rev. H. H. Grant, secretary of the Nova Scotia Temperance Alliance, was arrested at Guysboro yesterday on a warrant charging him with perjury, the charge being laid by E. E. Atkins, liquor dealer, of Milgrave, from whom Mr. Grant lately seized a large quantity of liquor, estimated to be worth around one thousand five hundred dollars. It was at the trial following the above seizure that perjury is alleged to have been committed. Mr. Grant arrived in Guysboro early in the morning and raided the wet goods shop of Alex. Bruce. It was while he was still engaged in disposing of the seized liquor that he was served with the warrant for the offense stated. He found no difficulty in obtaining bail and was soon off again on his flight of terror.
