

*Humours of '37

GRAVE, GAY AND GRIM . . .

REBELLION TIMES IN THE CANADAS

—By Robina and Kathleen M. Lizars

PRICE. $1.25

Postpaid

CONTENTS :

Beneful Domination—More Beneful Domination—The Canadas at Westminster—A Call to Umbrellas—Le Grand Beule—Gallows Hill
—Autocrats All—Huron's Age Heroic—Deborahs of '37.

PRESS COMMENTS.

"A volume of great literary and historical value, and one of deep national interest."—St. Thomas Times.

"This book is capital reading, and throws some unexpected lights on a comedy that had its tragic features."—Montreal Gazette.

"The book gives us a better idea of the condition of Canadian society when the Queen came to the throne than perhaps any history of the time does."—REV. PRINCIPAL GRANT, in Toronto Globe.

"The reader finds many amusing pages illustrative of the primitive ideas of the people, nor are tales of cruelty and outrage wanting to make up the grimmer side of the picture."—Detroit Free Press.

"The authors are of French extraction, and come honestly by the epigrammatic style, which their former work familiarized us with, and which renders the opening chapter of this volume brilliant."—Montreal Witness.

"The authors know their subject—their style of writing is conspicuously sprightly, full of wit, which is at times truly caustic. It is an admirable supplement to existing histories and journals and memoirs on the subject."—Buffalo Illustrated Express.

"An intensely interesting book, a true and vivid picture of that confused period. If the overabundance of material has been a drawback, on the other hand it has given a style, a nervous energy and strength, and a dash that are refreshing."—Mail and Empire.

"The principal value of the book to most readers will be in the power which these pages possess of bringing the student face to face with the incidents of the epoch to which they refer, and its interest is enhanced by the manner in which the story is told, different in various respects from that of the ordinary scribe—the style of well-bred and accomplished women, entirely free from affectation and effort."—PROF. WM. CLARE, in Montreal Star.

WILLIAM BRIGGS, Publisher

Wesley Buildings

TORONTO