

A TAHITIAN PREACHER.

The above is a picture of Arato, a native of Polynesia, who was baptized by the name of John Cuff, and became a Preacher to his countrymen. His father was a missionary before him,—his name was Puna. Missions in Tahiti have been very successful. May the time speedily come when all in all nations shall have heard the glad tidings and shall know the Lord.

THE CHILD'S PRAYER.

A little child sat on a stone
Beside the low sea-beach,
And looked across the flaming wave
Far as her eye could reach.

It was her father's little bark
She sought with wistful eye,
But nothing saw in all the waste
Except the sea and sky.
