

YOUTH'S DEPARTMENT.

PUZZLING WORDS.

A pretty deer is dear to me. A hare with downy hair; I love a hart with all my heart, But barely bear a bear.

The plain that no one takes a plain To share a pair of pears; A rake, though, often takes a rake To tear away the tares.

All rays raise thy me, time raises all; And through the whole, hole weans, A writ in writing "right" may write It "wright" and still be wrong—

For "wright" and "rite" are neither "right," And don't to write belong.

Beer often brings a beer to man, Coughing a coffin brings, And too much ale will make us all, As well as other things.

The person lies who says he lies, When his best roosting, And when consumptive folks decline, They all decline declining.

A quail don't quail before a storm, A bough won't rain before it; We cannot rain the rain at all, Tho' earthly powers retain our it.

The dyes are white, then dies, To dye he's always trying, Until upon his dying bed, He thinks no more of dyeing.

A son of Mars mars many a son; All days must have their days, And every knight must pray each night To Him who weighs his ways.

'Tis meet that man should mete out meat To feed his fortune's son; The fair should fare on love alone, Else one cannot be won.

A lass, alas! is something false, Of faults a maid is made, Her waist is but a barren waste, Though stayed she is not staid.

The springs spring forth in spring, and shoots Shout forward on all, Though summer kills the flowers, it leaves The leaves to fall in fall.

I would a story here commence, But you might find it stale, So let's suppose that we have reached The tail end of our tale.

Photographing a Bear.

Henry H. Ragan, the show lecturer, in his travels is alert to all opportunities to catch striking photographs for use in his lectures. Last summer, in Yellowstone Park, he undertook the risky business of photographing a wild bear.

A Terrible Moment.

When Ismail Pasha, the late Khedive of Egypt, reigned over that historical land, he had in his garden, a contemporary tells us, a large cage of African lions.

the form of little floating berries, which seemed to sustain the plant upon the surface of the water. He compared these berries to the fruit of the pistacia, and upon careful examination of the weed he discovered a new species of crab, of which he took home a specimen.

TRACK WALKERS IN THE WILDERNESSES.

Lonely Lives of Many Men who Guard the Tracks of Continental Highways.

After nightfall along the 3,000 miles of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, no matter how bare the prairie, nor how wild or desolate the mountain or lake shore, any one standing on the rear platform can see every few miles a lantern in the hands of a track walker, who, after the train passes, to-times his duty along the track.

Arabs in their Bays.

The gray, woolly beards of the Arabs are brushed with a soap, when a month's work, which is pulled over the head during the night, and shaved, and covered with the many beads of the Arabian, which latter is wound around with and again with a brown-colored woolen cord.

Rome's Famous "Corso."

Of all the historic streets, the great cities of the world possess, none can surpass, it, in its own way, the "Corso" of Rome. It is now of its age, and it is now of its glory, it is haunted by the memories which consecrate it forever and ever.

shops, with larger windows, flaunt their goods and invite the world of purchasers. Trams-ways have there been laid down, and the sound of the trumpet from the tramway omnibuses warns the carriage and foot-passengers to clear the road.

Kindergarten Work.

The bright and healthy child works hard at his play, and lacking something to do becomes cross and discontented, in view the great value of the kindergarten gifts in giving employment to active little brains and hands.

WHICH SHALL IT BE?

Which shall it be? Which shall it be? I looked at John, John looked at me, And when I found that I must speak, My voice seemed strangely low and weak: Tell me again what Tolbert said, And then I listening bent my head.

A house and land who shall I live, If, in return, from out your seven, One child to me for aye is given. I looked at John's old garments worn; I thought of all that he had borne of poverty and work, and care.

Power that had fled! my wayward son, I thought of all that he had borne of poverty and work, and care. I looked at John's old garments worn; I thought of all that he had borne of poverty and work, and care.
