—The world is divided into two classes—genuine people with hearts, and made up, artificial people without, the latter largely predominating, there are certain emotional, excitable, shallow natures that tend inevitably to gossip and a certain sort of piety. To tell them to "stay at home in their own minds, not to recite other people's opinions, or meddle with other people's affairs," would be simply to tell them not to exist.—Mrs. Benjamin.

—It is claimed now that the telephone was invented in 1835. It did not come into general use, however, because the word "hello" was not invented until some years after. If you will just try it a few times, you will understand why it was utterly impossible to run the telephone by saying "Prithee, friend," or "Odds boddikins, man," or "Give thee good morrow, sirrah." No wonder the telephone was a failure.—Exchange.
