
Media Advisory

May 30, 2006
No. A/21

MINISTER MACKAY TO LAUNCH BON VOYAGE, BUT...

Foreign Affairs Minister and Minister of the Atlantic Canada Opportunities Agency Peter MacKay will officially launch the new edition of Bon Voyage, But... at a light luncheon for media on Thursday, June 1, 2006. Bon Voyage, But... is an official publication of Foreign Affairs Canada. It provides important advice for Canadian travellers on preventing problems while abroad and on obtaining consular assistance should difficulties arise. The publication is also available at <http://www.voyage.gc.ca>.

This official launch is also an occasion to invite the media to work with the department to communicate its message on safe travel to Canadians who go abroad and to alert them to the upcoming hurricane season.

The launch will be followed by a technical briefing with Canadian consular officials and a tour of the Emergency Operations Centre.

Media representatives are asked to confirm their attendance with the Media Relations Office at (613) 995-1874. Media representatives may also participate via teleconference (North American dial-in number: 1 888 265-0464; international dial-in number: (613) 954-4096) and will need to confirm their participation with the Media Relations Office to receive a conference ID number to be admitted to the call.

Event: Remarks by Minister MacKay (open coverage)
Date: Thursday, June 1, 2006
Time: 11:15 a.m.
Location: Cadieux Auditorium, main floor
Lester B. Pearson Building
125 Sussex Drive, Ottawa

Event: Technical briefing
Date: Thursday, June 1, 2006
Time: 11:30 a.m.
Location: Cadieux Auditorium, main floor
Lester B. Pearson Building

