
TO MY SISTER.

To one who, loving, serveth much,
From one who loveth, serving not,
Yet reaching forth a hand to touch
Yon Love whence Service is begot.

Not always ought she what she would,
Yet ever sought she what she should,
And daily thought she what she could be doing