of the session.

Members were there in force, and during the proceeding the House witnessed the curious scene of the leader of the Opposition and the leader of the Progressives both opposing the increase so far as the present Parliament is concerned, and the majority of their concerned, and the most followers voting for it.

It was not till committee stage was that the House had its first that the House had its first than the House ha Lanctot Motion Lost.

Amid enthusiasm, Mr. Lanctot's motion was defeated by 107 to 11. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and Hon. T. A. Crerar both supported the Lanctot motion. The other supporters of it were: Liberals—Messrs. Lanctot, Proulx, Sinclair (Antigonish and Guysboro). Sinclair (Oueen P. E. L.)

Proulx, Sinclair (Antigonish and Guysboro). Sinclair (Queen, P. E. I.), D'Anjou (Rimouski), Hon, W. S. Fielding, Dechene (Montmagny), McMaster (Brome). Progressive—Kennedy (Glengarry).

During discussion Sir Robert Borden expressed the view that the number of cabinet portfolios could be increased. Increase to cabinet ministers' salaries would operate from the time the bill became law. Increases in members' indemnities would apply to the present session, but only in the case of members where we had been interested as the contract the contract the case of the case session, but only in the case of members who had been in attendance threequarters of the days of the House was sitting.

To Reject Measure on third reading, Mr. Proulx moved that the whole measure be rejected except the section providing increased remuneration for the assistant cierk of the House. But Mr. Proulx's motion received the support only of Mr. Lanctot, and the bill passed its last stage in the House—unless it comes back with Senate amendments. Mr. Proulx, seconded by Mr. Lanctot, in the afternoon, moved the sixmonths' hoist of the bill to increase judges' salaries. But the motion was declared lost on division, and the bill passed all stages in the House.

The Senate was in session both aftermoon and evening yesterday, wiping out the legislative slate in preparation for prorogation. Among the measures passed were the aid to shipbuilding bill, the income war tax act, the special war revenue act, the wheat board bill and the franchise act.

On the second reading of the shipbuilding bill, Senators Bostock and Dandurand protested against the leak-

On the second reading of the ship-building bill, Senators Bostock and Dandurand protested against the lack of information supplied by the Government, and also urged that contracts mude under this legislation be confined to existing shippards.

The shipbuilding industry was an important one. It represented a great investment.

Senator Turriff said in his opinion the bill before the House was not to help labor, but to help a few shipbuilders. It was along the line of much present-day legislation for the big interests at the expense of the country.

Bills Amended.

Minor bills including one to amend the Canada grain act, and another to amend the boards of trade act were given third reading. The House then spent much time considering the bill to amend the civil service act by providing for the retixement of certain employees. This, it was said, does not affect the superannuation act, and is intended to cover old employees not covered under that act. With the addition of a clause to provide against any civil servants being superannuated under this act after July 21, 1921, the bill was reported, given third reading and passed the House.

OTTAWA. June 29.—Further supplementary estimates for $53,000 were tabled in the House this afternoon. There is a vote of $7,000 to increase the remuneration for members' stenographers to $4 per diem, the increase to date from the beginning of the present session. There is also a further vote of $50,000 to provide payment to the full sessional indemnity of members of the House—days lost through absence caused by illness, public business, being engaged in necessary farming operations, et cetera.

There is no mention in the supplementaries of the increased indemnities to members of the Senate and the House. They are provided for in a separate resolution.

be concentrated on the development of mmercial aviation in Canada, Col. W. Barker, V.C., told the members of more aerodromes throughout the country, and quoted facts and figures to show that flying was being done throughout the world, and particularly dollars' worth of aeroplanes and equipments. The aeroplanes and equipment are being sent here for sale by the Aircraft Disposal Syndicate of Great Britain nsist of 25 aeroplanes valued at $125,

This influx of equipment will prove a boon to Canadian aviation, he stated, the machines are all nearly new, many of them unused, and will be sold at the Manitoba Aero Club, during an address here. Great results were predicted by him as the result of the awakening activity in air matters in the Dominion. He pointed out that the lessons learned during the war were proving of inestimable value to the development of pages time aviation. velopment of peace time aviation. He urged that steps be taken to establish in Great Britain, with less danger and loss of life than travel by train.

Col. Barker also announced that Winnipeg will be the western distributing point for hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of control of the second control of the sec of leftover war equipment. The first shipment will arrive in Winnipeg in the course of the next few weeks, and will

NO CONSTRUCTION TILL PRICES LOWER

Money Will Be Raised for the Cronyn Memorial Parish and Community House.

While efforts to raise money for building a new parish and community house in connection with the Cronyn Memorial Anglican Church will continue, the in connection with the Cronyn Memorial Anglican Church will continue, the actual construction will not be commenced until the price of building supplies has returned to a lower level. This is the gist of a letter forwarded to all members of the congregation by the select vestry.

The best advice available has been sought. A survey of the church property has been made, and tentative plans and specifications have been considered. The vestry thinks that adequate equipment for the church work should be provided at the earliest possible moment consistent with sound judgment, but that the cost of building materials, heating plant and equipment of all kinds being abnormally high—probably at a maximum—that it is decidedly unwise to enter into any contracts involving expenditure of money at the present time.

They point out that an organization with funds on hand will be in a position to secure the best terms when materials become accommender of because the contracts in the contracts in the contracts in a position to secure the best terms when materials become accommender of the contracts in the contract in the contract in the contracts in the contract in the contract in the contract in

They point out that an organization with funds on hand will be in a position to secure the best terms when materials become more reasonable in price and urge that in order to take full advantage of any reduction in the cost of building that every possible effort be put forth now to increase the building fund. The present equipment, while not of the best and by no means fitted for their needs, is a great deal better than that of many churches doing good work, they state.

The building, when it is commenced, may also be a memorial to a number of members of the parish. The various parts of the building may be named by those giving generously to the construction of the whole. The auditorium, the gymnasium and the various club rooms might each bear the name of some family of the church as a memorial. The whole building would then be a real community memorial house.
