ENDED LIFE LIKE THOSE SHE AIDED

New York, Feb. 13—A life devoted to charity has ended with the death, as a pauper, in the city hospital on Blackwell's Island, of Dr. Mary Baldwin, 76 years old. As a physician for years, she devoted all her practice, to the poorest of the poor, without charge. Broken with age and starving, she was found in a miserable little room in a Bowery house a few days ago.

Clifford Belyea fell from a sleigh near the suspension bridge last night and was taken home in a cab. There he was found later by the crew of a street car, unconscious. He was taken to the Fairville Drug Company's store and Dr. M. L. Macfarland was called to attend him. He had ugly gashes in his chin and cheek and was nearly frozen.

The interest in the sale of smallwares at F. W. Daniel & Co's. corner King street, does not seem to abate. Hundreds are taking advantage of this sale to replenish their household stock of all the necessary little things. Tomorrow will have an additional sale of three thousand yards of val. laces at a ridiculously low price. Come and see what nice patterns are in the lot. Refer to advertisement, page 5.

DID YOU SAVE 50 PER CENT ON YOUR OVERCOAT?

Have you bought your overcoat yet? Have you seen the overcoats Gilmour's selling at 50 per cent discount? Is it not wise to look and see whether the overcoat you want is among these heavily discounted lines? We sell nothing we cannot guarantee in fabric and workmanship. If you buy it here, it is right—and if you buy it now it is a most exceptional bargain.—Gilmour's, 68 King street.

The cost of the production of the three reels of "Cinderella" in which Mabel Taliaferro and T. J. Carrigan are to be seen at the Gem Theatre tomorrow and Thursday, with a special children's matinee on Saturday, is given as $21,310. This includes Miss Taliaferro's salary for the eight weeks which were required to produce this masterpiece. Three hundred people were employed in the ninety-nine scenes shown in exact detail in the stupendous production. Miss Taliaferro is a famous American star, while Mr. Carrigan is known in St. John through his playing leads with Harkins here.

Wall Street Notes.

New York, Feb. 13—Americans in London quiet and irregular; small changes.

Actual reserve of banks is now $37,010,650.

President Taft says opponents are not progressives but extremists.

J. J. Hill before Stanley Committee, says 30,000 acres not worked by the steel company contain 500,000,000 tons of ore worth $8750,000,000. He says the steel company got scared.

The republican insurgents in the senate want a joint committee to investigate the money trust. The sugar investigating committee has agreed upon a report which will be submitted to the house latter part of this week. It will make no recommendation as to tariff duties.

People's Gas, Chicago, shows 8.92 p. c. earned against 9.01 p. c. the previous year. The rank and file of traders are very bearish on the stock and of course the short interest is correspondingly large.

Liquidation to a small extent has been started. How far that will run is a question but the news is not of a reassuring kind this morning and the market looks lower.

SHEARSON HAMMILL & CO.

Dividend Declared.

Montreal, Feb. 13—Can. Car declared 1¾ p. c. payable April 25, of stock on record May 30. Books do not close.

CHURCHES NOW PLAY HOUSES

Paris Gives up Confiscated Buildings to all Kinds of Shows

BANK IN ONE CHAPEL

Convent Used By Troupe of Women Depicting Life in Moroccan Village—Desecration of Many Places That Were Built for Divine Worship

(Times Special Correspondence.)

Paris, Feb. 2—Many of the churches of Paris have fallen upon evil days. Since the separation of church and state and the confiscation of the buildings by the latter, the Catholic churches, convents and chapels have been put to many strange and incongruous uses and Turkish harems, cinematograph shows, savings banks and dance halls now occupy the places formerly given over to divine worship.

One of the erstwhile churches has been rented by Edouard de Max, an actor, and converted by him into a residence. Adjoining it is the Hotel Miron, formerly the Convent of the Sacred Heart. For a time Rodin, a sculptor, had an atelier there, but now he and the other tenants have been turned out by the state, which wants the building for other uses.

In the majority of the cases no attempt has been made to re-construct the churches for the new purposes for which they are being used. The typewriters, adding machines, desks, counters and other accessories of a modern bank, have invaded one large chapel and amid stately pillars, stained glass windows and painted Madonnas, the business is carried on.

But it is in that part of Montmartre given over to music halls, cafes and cabarets and famous the world over as "the Round of the Grand Dukes," that the most startling change has taken place. Hardly had the nuns departed from the convent adjoining the Church of the Redemption when the beautiful gardens and buildings were invaded by the members of a show depicting life in a Moroccan village. The convent itself became a harem where the alleged beauties of a great deposed ruler could be gazed upon for a few sous. The church became the dormitory of the tribe of Arabs that daily amused the crowds of pleasure seeking Parisians and foreigners who patronized the show.

On a little street off the Place Clichy is the Church of St. Anthony of Padua. When it served the purpose for which it was intended there lived in an adjoining building a community of monks. Now a cinematograph show occupies the ground floor of the church and a roller skating rink the crypt beneath. The monastery has become a public hall which can be rented for any purpose, but which has become the favorite meeting place of secret societies. The tower of the little church, from which the old bell used to toll the swiftly passing hours, has been utilized by the proprietors of the moving picture show and the rink and great letters, traced in electric bulbs, announce the fallen glory of the Church of St. Anthony of Padua of Paris.

DEATH OF MRS. JOHN O'NEIL

There will be general regret today among a wide circle of friends at the announcement of the death of Mrs. Catherine O'Neil, wife of John O'Neil of the City Market, which occurred this afternoon at her home 109 Elliott row. Mrs. O'Neil had not been in good health for the last month or more, and within the last two days her condition had been serious. She passed away this afternoon, leaving, besides her husband, six sons and three daughters. She had many friends and there will be widespread sorrow because of her death and deep sympathy for the bereaved family.

The sons are: Harry J., Arthur P., Frank, Herbert, Gerald and Ernest, while Misses Florence, Kathleen and Gertrude are the daughters. There are also three brothers—Rev. H. J. McGill, of Orono, Me.; L. V. McGill, of Rochester, N. H.; and R. N. J. McGill, of Ottawa, with two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Lundrigan, of Bath, Me., and Mrs. T. M. Burns, of this city.

NOT HERE YET.

Wing Hem, who is anxiously awaiting the arrival of his wife who was due here yesterday from Vancouver was again disappointed today when the train came in without Mrs. Hem on board.

THE LATEST ABOUT PETER.

Peter, Peter, pumpkin eater,
Had a wife and tried to beat her;
But his wife was a suffragette
And Peter's in the hospital yet.
—Judge.

On Dec 15 last during a thaw Mrs. T. H. Kennedy of Moose River, Me., dug a root of rhubarb from her garden and planted it in a tub of earth in her cellar near the furnace. The root has produced a plant with leaf stalks two feet long, and last week Mrs. Kennedy cut enough to make a large pie.

HE EXPLAINS.

Mrs. Henpecke—John, why are you reading the marriage notices?

Mr. Henpecke—I just want to see if there isn't somebody married I don't like. —Puck.

SURE TO MAKE HIT THEN.

Friend—Do you think your play has a scene that will catch the women?

Playwright—Positive of it. It shows a new family moving in, and all the women in the audience will be pop-eyed watching the furniture arrive.—Boston Transcript.
