"The Canadians in Flanders were always in tight places, but they always held their ground." This was the urbute of the fighting King of the Belgiums to Canada's overseas army, as expressed in conversation with the Hon. N. W. Rowell, who received King Albert and his party on behalf of the Governor-General and Government of Canada, when they made a flying visit to the Canadian side at Niagara Falls yesterday.

London, Oct. 7—An important sequel to the railway strike will be the elimination of the congestion of British docks and railways, which ever since the war, has been the subject of serious public complaint, and has been held largely responsible for the failure of proper distribution of foodstuffs to dealers. The London newspapers have pointed out that the war organization which so successfully maintained supplies during the strike could speedily remove the congestion, and the government has acted promptly on this suggestion and last night announced the retention of the lor-ry service for this purpose.
