The Larmer's Corner. Raising Calves.

Like everything else pertaining to a farm, raising calves requires good judgment and experience. best always to leave the calf with the cow several days, until the fever is out of the bag and the milk good for family use, and with proper man- AUCTIONEER agement the calf can be easily taught to drink milk at four or five days RESTIGOUCHE & BONAVENTURE WHITE BLANKETS, old. It is important that the calf should take its first sustenance from the cow, to enable it to discharge the attention. It has been'shown by abundant tests Dry Goods, Groceries, Hardware, Patent Medicines that calves will thrive as well on the poorest butter-producing milk as on the best: consequently, if a farmer has any cows which give poor milk that should be fed to calves because it is not the cream that nourishes them so much as other properties of NEWCASTLE DRUG STORE the milk. When four or five weeks old they may be fed on buttermilk. It is good management to feed calves in connection with their milk, when about ten days old, a little cooked meal. At first, take a tablespoonful of Indian, oat, or barley meal, and cook it in a little water; then mix it with the milk, and increase the quantity of meal as the calves grow older. Flaxseed boiled to a jelly and mixed with milk, when the calves are to calves and milk, when the calves are to calves and milk, when the calves are to calves the calves are ten days old, is good for them. It is poor policy to stint calves which are worth raising, as their future development as good ringreat variety. Few farmers realize the care needed in the proper preservation of leather, and the lack of knowledge of its requirements causes the loss of many dollars to the owners of horses. The practice of washing harness in warm water and with soap is very damaging, unless a coat of oil is applied immediately after wash- apply to ing. No harness is ever so soiled that a damp sponge will remove the dirt; yet, even when the sponge is applied, it is important to apply a slight coat of oil by the use of a second sponge. All varnishes and blacking that contain the properties of varnish should be avoided. When a harness loses its lustre and turns FIRST CLASS PIANOFORTE brown, as almost any leather will do after long exposure to the air, the harness should be given a new coat of grain-black—first washing the instrument at less than the invoice price, by casks Ward's Edge Tools; 2 casks Shovel Blades; 1 case Scissors; 1 cask Electro-Plated water, to kill the grease, and after the grain-black, applying oil and tallow to the surface. be applied to the leather than it will judges, absorb, as many harnesses are injured by applying too much oil. A superabundance so applied works out to the surface in hot weather, absorbing dust and dirt and soon looking very slovenly.

An excellent harness polish may be made by breaking in small pieces in a basin about a pint of vinegar, and letting it stand until it becomes soft. Take two ounces of gum in another vessel and pour in half a pint of black ink, letting it stand LEAVE NEWCASTLE. until it is dissolved. For the last four years, and are now offering to the farming community this, the BEST MOWER, combining a greater excellence of mechani ind entire reliability for all the requirements of the field, than any other Mower extant.—
In construction they are similar to the celebrated Walter A. Wood's Iron Frame Mow-, and the Richardson Buckeye, both Ameri-n machines. Of the former there are over 0,000 in use, and the extraordinary number of 20,000 were manufactured and sold last season, by the Wood Company of United States. We have over 500 of our manufacstates. We have over 500 of our manufac-ture now in use, every one of which (no ex-ceptions) stands as a monument of the grand and unprecedented success of home manufac-ture and our enterprise. A list of our Agents in this section of the Province will be found appended, and farmers are requested to ask information of them relative to our Mowers in their respective localities, which in use in their respective localities, which will establish beyond doubt their unques-tionable superiority over any other mower to be had in our market. The facility of procuring all parts or pieces within a nominal length of time must show beyond the shadow of a doubt the claims beyond the shadow of a doubt the claims such an enterprise has upon the farmers of the Maritime Provinces.

For the coming Harvest of 1877 we will manufacture LARGELY in excess of our numbers of last Season and such as the state of the sta our numbers of last Season, and trust that our growing enterprise may find such indecements held out to it as will be com-mensurate with its merits.
