A Lesson in Manners.

UNCLE TREODORE HAS AN ENCOUNT-ER WITH FARMER TUMBLEDOWN. At one of the farmers' institutes, Theodore Louis, the veteran teacher of hogology, had been relating to an interested audience of farmers how he bred, fed and marketed his hogs, giving minute details of the New York Weekly Hera'd work, tending broad sows, cooking squashes, cleaning out the pens, supplying bedding and everything pretaining to the business. As he came down from the platform a farmer with unkempt hair and beard, a slouched hat, greasy frock and overalls, the latter tucked into ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

'Mr. Louis, do you pretend to say you feed your own hogs?' 'Oh, yes! When I am at home.' 'And clean out the manure?' 'Certainly,' said Mr. Louis, with for two reasons.

The first is because many patrons who have been given credit, have abused the privilege to such an extent as to make the business of publishing the paper a non-paying one, and it is necessary, in my own interest and that of those who do pay, that I should no longer continue to furnish the AD7ANCE to those non-paying subscribers.

The second reason is, that I wish to meet the competition of the city weeklies, which are made up from the type of the dailies and, therefore, cost little for production in comparison with a local paper like the ADVANCE, the type of which must be set up especially for it.

Having published the ADVANCE for sixteen years, and endeavored to make it a creditable representative of Miramichi and North Shore enterprise—a paper which may be taken into any household without fear that it has catered to sensationalism at the sacrifice of that cleanliness of matter, which is too often neglected by the press of the day—I have reason to hope the foregoing announcement will meet with general approval and be the means of largely increasing the circulation and influence of the paper.
