YACHT CRUISE ENDS WITH ANNUAL YACHT SERVICE

Rev. G. M. Campbell, D. D., Fleet Chaplain, Preached Eloquent and Forceful Sermon to Yachtsmen, at Belyea's Point, Yesterday Morning.

The R. K. Y. C. yachts completed the last leg of the annual cruise last Saturday afternoon about sunset when they dropped anchor at Belyea's Point. The evening was devoted to a general brushing up in preparation for the service which was held yesterday morning.

Although nothing out of the ordinary happened during the cruise, it was the general opinion that it had been one of the most successful for some years, and many of the boys would like another week on the river. Yesterday morning the annual service was held on the pavilion at the point, being attended by about 350 people, the majority of whom came from far and near in motor boats, teams and automobiles. Aside from the service itself, one of the most interesting features of the day was the vast fleet of yachts, motor boats, yavls and dinghies which were anchored in the cove, every boat in the fleet being trimmed with flags and bunting in a manner that showed all present had entered into the spirit of the occasion. These boats with the exception of the cruising fleet, had each brought a large number of people to the point, while the St. John Power Boat Club also brought to the scene a goodly number of city people.

The large tug, G. K. King, which happened to be at Grand Bay yesterday morning, was chartered by about 50 of the residents of that place, all of whom climbed on board and after a pleasant sail, reached the point in time for the service. The large motor boat Geneva owned by Colwell Bros. was also chartered by a considerable number of city people, who added their quota to the concourse at the point. All the automobiles in the surrounding country came with a capacity passenger list, were also present and materially added to the animation of the scene.

One Yacht Ran Ashore.

Of all the yachts present only one had the misfortune to run ashore, this being the new yacht Jeanette owned by J. A. Likely. The incident occurred when Mr. Likely was rounding the bar at Belyea's Point when a sudden puff of wind caused the yacht to ground. Seeing the Jeanette in distress the large motor boat Pax owned by George Hilyard came to her assistance and speedily hauled her on.

At 11 o'clock the crowd gathered about the pavilion and all not lucky enough to obtain seats on the floor sat on the sand. On the pavilion were Commodore Robert Thomson, Vice Commodore Howard Holder, Honorary Fleet Chaplain Rev. G. M. Campbell, D. D., Rev. David Lang, D. D., Rev. Fox, Rev. Horace Cole, James Griffiths, Fred McNeill, Kenneth and Edward Bonnell, Fleet Surgeon E. R. W. Ingham and many others. After the usual church of England service, Rev. G. M. Campbell, D. D., of Sackville preached the annual sermon, delivering an interesting and forcible address. In his sermon Rev. Dr. Campbell said in part: "Never in the history of the world was there a man so unfitted for fame as Jesus and never was there such an unpromising race as the Jews to oppose Christianity. The Jews, said the speaker, had believed in their religion for thousands of years and as a result were naturally blighted toward a gospel of mercy and love."

Continuing, Rev. Dr. Campbell said the name of a national hero does not command respect outside the frontiers of his own nation, but the name of our Saviour is revered, loved and respected by many nations, thus showing that He alone was capable of winning universal respect.

The God of the ancient Jews was something to be feared, but Jesus, helpful and tender to children and all who are in trouble, did away with this religion, bringing in its place a gospel of mercy and love. In conclusion Rev. Dr. Campbell said so beautiful and appealing was the message that men understood that if they sinned, God would forgive them, but later recognizing the depth of His great mercy determined not to sin. After the sermon a sacred quartette was sung by Messrs. Horace Cole, James Griffiths, Fred McNeill and Kenneth and Edward Bonnell.

At the close of the service Commodore Robert Thomson made a short address, wishing the boys many happy days. Shortly after this the gathering broke up, many yachts returning at once to the city.

MRS. GOLDING'S FUNERAL
VERY LARGELY ATTENDED

Impressive Service in Brussels St. Church at which Pastor Made Feeling Reference to Deceased's Christian Life.

The funeral of Mrs. John N. Golding, Sr., took place yesterday afternoon. A brief service was held at her home, residence, Waterloo street, conducted by Rev. M. F. McCutcheon of the Brussels street Baptist church and assisted by Ven. Archdeacon Raymond of St. Mary's church. A procession was formed and the funeral cortege of citizens accompanied the body to the Brussels street church where Rev. Mr. McCutcheon conducted another service and delivered an address in which he paid a high tribute to the memory of the deceased.

He spoke of the appropriateness of conducting the service in the church which had occupied so prominent a place in her life, saying she had been connected with activities centering in the Brussels street church for over 60 years. He referred to the loss sustained by the family and gave feeling expression to his own sense of personal loss in the death of a willing co-worker and went on to dwell on the loss to the church, to all of whose members the deceased was well known and highly respected.

He also spoke of her interest and sympathy not only with the work of the church but with all forms of missionary and charitable activity. He referred to her active connections for philanthropic and Christian work. He spoke of her interest in the Chinese mission of the church, 27 years ago and acted as superintendent of the mission for many years. The esteem in which the deceased was held was shown by the large attendance at the church and the great number of floral tributes.

Six young men of the Brussels St. congregation acted as pall-bearers. They were K. Christie, J. S. Alwood, B. Stillwell, W. A. Stillwell, Cecil Harding and Sidney Young. A special service was rendered at the church, a quartette composed of Messrs. McCutcheon, Mr. Geo. Bell and Mrs. C. Vail assisting. After the service in the church the remains were borne to the Fernhill cemetery.

An interesting feature of the funeral was the fact that a large number of the Chinese who attend the mission of which Mrs. Golding was superintendent, attended the service in the church as a mark of respect and at the cemetery six of them removed the body from the hearse and bore it to its last resting place.

The floral tributes which were many and beautiful, bore silent tribute to the esteem in which the deceased was held. Among the tributes were: Crescent, The Standard Publishing Co.; wreath, Brussels street church and Sunday school; star and pedestal, Chinese scholars; crescent, teachers and officers Chinese class; wreath, J. and A. McMillan; wreath, Pythian friends; wreath, N. B. Lodge K. of P.; wreath, Nickel staff; crescent, Women's Aid Society of Brussels street church. In addition to these a number of set pieces, bouquets, sprays and baskets were received from private friends.

REV. G. D. GATES IN
MAIN ST. CHURCH

Former Pastor of Germain St. Baptist Church Delighted Large Congregations with Eloquent Sermons.

Rev. G. D. Gates, formerly pastor of the Germain street Baptist church, occupied the pulpit of the Main street Baptist church at both services yesterday, and preached to large congregations.

In this morning he spoke of Christ as an intercessor, referring to the dramatic manner in which while hanging on the cross He justified His preaching of the doctrine of forgiveness, and pointing out that after such an ordeal it was certain he would intercede for us at the right hand of the Father.

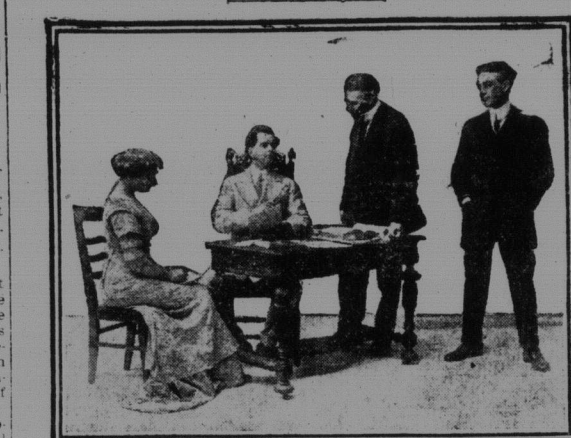

In the evening he preached an eloquent sermon based on the gospel story of the rich man turning away from Christ. He said that the tragedy of the story was that the rich man turned away with sadness and regret, not with the hope of heaven. He said that the rich man might have much religious earnestness and lovely sincerity without possessing true Christianity. He said that to become a thorough Christian did not require new precepts, but a new spirit. You cannot develop a complete Christian character without complete submission to Christ. To turn away from Christ with sadness and regret was to forfeit the hope of heaven. No one enters the Kingdom without trying, and no one who wishes to enter need fail. He closed with an appeal to his hearers to search their hearts and ask themselves if they had entered into the eternal life.

Last Night's Band Concert.

The King square and the vicinity was crowded with delighted people last night who listened to a first-class sacred concert rendered by the City Cornet Band under the direction of Bandmaster Vaddington. The programme was a selected one and the manner in which the band rendered the different numbers showed that the musicians have been most attentive to rehearsal. The selections were given in a masterly manner. Features of the concert were two solos by D. J. Gallagher, one of the leading cornetists in the eastern provinces, also an euphonium solo by James Connolly. These two musicians are among the oldest members of this popular musical organization and the general opinion is that they are better than ever.

Slight Fire in West End.
About 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon a fire broke out in a building on King street. A fire had caught in the curtains, destroyed them, also the window sill and part of the parlor carpet. It could not be learned just what caused the fire and the damage done is covered by insurance.

PAUL GILMORE AT HIS BEST IN "THE HAVOC"

"If Hesser happens to change his mind, McDowell will immediately place him under arrest."

Mr. Paul Gilmore in "The Havoc" happiness thus created there emerges a central figure of the strongest strength, the husband of the story's faithless wife, and the darling novelty of an old theme's new handling is found in this husband's action which he discovers that his wife has a lover and instantly adopts a means of punishment far more effective than an appeal to "the unwritten law." Mr. Paul Gilmore gives a powerful portrayal of this role of Richard Craig, the wronged husband, and is supported by players specially chosen for high artistic quality.

and was also in the business of manufacturing confectionery for many years. Later he entered into partnership with E. S. Stephenson for the purpose of conducting a machinery business. He retired from active business about three years ago.

Mr. Woodburn was an alderman of the city at one time and took an active interest in public affairs generally. In politics he was a Conservative. He was one of the leading workers in the temperance movement of the city, and at various times occupied all the offices in the society of the Sons of Temperance. He was a member of Queen Square Methodist church and took a very active interest in religious work. He was a trustee of the church, and for years was superintendent of the Sunday school.

Before retiring from business he was a member of the board of trade, and as president of the old photographers' association, did much to advertise the city. He had a large circle of friends and business acquaintances who will be grieved to learn of his death. He was in the 75th year of his age.

The funeral will take place from his late residence, 107 Orange street, at 2:15 on Tuesday afternoon. Service will be held at the Queen Square graphers establishment for some time church at 2:30.

REV. J. L. DAWSON IN CENTENARY PULPIT

New Pastor Opened Pastorate by Preaching at Both Services Yesterday—Made Fine Impression on Congregation

Rev. J. L. Dawson preached an interesting sermon at the Centenary church last evening.

The Gospel, he said, had to do with the affairs of men in this life, though our forefathers did not realize its bearing upon the problem of life as well as the present generation. It had to do with our life here in two ways: it touched us in our capacity as worshippers, and in our capacity as citizens with a multitude of duties.

Men were only beginning to realize the mission of the Gospel in relation to worldly affairs, and perceive the possibilities of transforming powers upon the conditions of life. To apply Christian principles to the duties of citizenship was one of the greatest responsibilities laid upon the church and its members today.

Rev. Mr. Dawson made a fine impression on his congregation in the morning as well as the evening service.

A Bad Heart,
Its Cause and Cure

Many Firmly Convinced They Are Dying of Heart Trouble, Have Often the Strongest Hearts.

Sometimes you wake up at night, heart throbbing like a steam engine, your breathing is short and irregular; pains shoot through the chest and abdomen, and cause horrible anxiety.

Your trouble isn't with the heart at all. These sensations are the outcome of indigestion, which has caused gas to form on the stomach and press against the heart.

Just read what happened to Isaac Maloux, of Belle River, Ont.:

"Three months ago I was a weak, sickly man. My appetite was poor, food fermented in my stomach, I had sour risings and indigestion. At night I would often awaken with gas in the stomach and heart palpitation. I consulted my doctor and used remedies that my friends advised. Nothing helped."

"One day I received a sample of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and my cure commenced. Today I have a vigorous appetite, strong heart action, and no sign of indigestion. I feel younger and healthier than ever before."

Your druggist or storekeeper sells Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from The Catarthouse Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Canada.
