There would be no mis-understanding between himself and Mr. him. (Laughter.) There would be no mir-understanding between himself and Mr. O'Connell and his co-religionists. He re-gretted the public highways of the province were in such a wretched condition and gave an example of political wile in this respect. The government should not have vested the office of revisor of lists in the sheriff. It was also desirable to have a sheriff. It was also desirable to have a different system of audit.

THOSE SCOTT ACT FINES.

An Attempt to Deceive the People of Charlotte County Exposed.

The Courier is fond of preaching lofty ideals but it is not given to practising them to any extent. To copy a favorite expression of our contemporary, when the Courier and an ideal happen together it is a cold day for the ideal. To prove our the St. Stephen town council was guilty of violation of law in applying Scott Act funds to any other purpose than the en-forcement of the act. He knew. too, that the legislation which required Scott Act ines to be paid into the hands of the re ceiver-general of the province came from the dominion parliament. It was not an act of the provincial administration. In-deed it is very doubtful whether the heads of any of the provincial governments in the dominion knew that the legislation was under consideration, and it is a matter of doubt, too, whether they were particularly eager to assume the obligations which the amended criminal code thrust upon then The New Brunswick government's failure is a cold day for the ideal. To prove our statement we would refer to the course of the Courier with regard to the disposi-tion of Scott Act funds. As a lawyer, the editor of the Courier knew full well that the St. Stephen town coupeil was guilty provincial administration is as much de sented certain arguments offsetting lega claims made by Councillor Fowler.
