Among those present were F. Starkey, president, S. M. Brydges, secretary, G. Buchanan, I. G. Nelson, T. M. Sturgess, T. G. Procter, T. Morley, F. Phillips, R. M. Hood, J. L. Buchan, J. M. Lay, H. Goodeve, H. Byers, J. J. Campbell, E. E. McDernid, F. M. Black, A. Lane and E. H. Applewhaite.

J. M. Lay suggested that no secretary be employed but some additional pamphlets be employed but some additional pamphilets be printed.

F. W. Pettit suggested the advisability of advertising through a special edition of the Vancouver World.

T. G. Procter urged that advertising was necessary and that everybody should pull together to do so. As for the method, it should be local and if to be done through the newspapers then through the local newspapers.

A. Lane thought that all money should not be dumped into one scheme. A stenographer and desk room for a secretary's office could be had at a cost of $30 a month. office could be had at a cost of $30 a month. A committee of five, meeting once a week, could do the secretary's work.

T. G. Procter said that there was aiready a bureau of information. He had answered half a dozen letters that day.

J. J. Campbell thought possibly a secretary's office might be supplied at the city office.

G. O. Buchanan confirmed Mr. Procter's remarks and said that the matter should also be taken up with the Great Northern railway. Furthermore Mr. Buchanan said that the provincial government should acip and that the Bush Fires act should be strictly enforced.

The resolution as to the duty on pig lead as amended at Cranbrook, was then put to the board and approved.

The resolution above recited, referring to the power situation in the Boundary was then read.

J. M. Lay thought the board oughts to have further information before approving of such a resolution. He understood that the Boundary company could supply the power wanted.

E. H. Applewhaite concurred. He deprecated the driving away of capital from the country.

precated the driving away of capital from the country.

J. J. Campbell said the amended resolution mentioned no names.

J. M. Lay declared that it was undertood what was meant just the same.

J. J. Campbell said the resolution must be dealt with as it stood. The Cascade Power company had the opportunity of showing that they could supply the power wanted before the private bills committee. The resolution as amended and passed could not well be objected to by the Nelson delegates.

could not well be objected to by the Neison delegates.

G. O. Buchanan explained that Trail, Rossland and Greenwood boards of traide asked for the resolution, that Grand Forks had written asking for its support, that he had personally wired to the officials of the Cascade Power company warning them of the resolution and that the amendment struck out all reference to the names of those concerned. The associated boards could not well oppose the desire of the Boundary for more power.

T. G. Procter said that he had voted against the resolution He thought the people who had invested their money in the Cascade power plant ought to be protected, though of course, the Granby smelter could not well be allowed to close down.

Among those present were F. Starkey; president, S. M. Brydges, secretary, G. O. Buchanan, I. G. Nelson, T. M. Sturgess, T. G. Procter, T. Morley, F. Phillips, R. M. Hood, J. L. Buchan, J. M. Lay, H. Goodeve, H. Byers, J. J. Campbell, E. B. McDermid, F. M. Black, A. Lane and E. H. Applewhaite.

The following were elected members of the board: Ewert Bros., R. Andrew and company, Emory & Walley, Hood & Teetzel, Bell Trading Co., Yale-Kootenay ice Co., J. A. Irying, Sharp & Iryine and J. F. Hume.

J. M. Lay reported that the special committee appointed to interview the city council upon the advertising of the city had seen the members individually and the general answer obtained was that in view of the power plant being still unfinished it would not be possible to put through a money bylaw to aid such a scheme. Mr. Lay thought a scheme of some sort or another ought to be adopted.

B. B. McDermid thought there were enough public spirited men in the city to raise $6000 or the half, and have a permanent advertising office in the city.

A committee of seven was then appointed to look into the advertising scheme consisting of F. M. Black, J. M. Lay, T. G. Procter, I. G. Nelson, T. Moriey, H. Goodeve and J. L. Buchan.

J. J. Campbell reported the proceedings of the associated boards of trade at Cranbrook, to which he was a delegate. TROUT LAKE FIRE

Queen's Hotel and Contents is Completely Destroyed Queen's Hotel and Contents is Completely Destroyed

(Special to The Daily News)

Trout Lake, Feb. 6—Delayed in transmission—This morning at 2:50 the Queen's hotel here, owned by Abrahamson Bros., was completely destroyed by fire. Heroic efforts—were made to save the buildings of Masterson & Griffiths, general merchants, which adjoin the hotel, and after a long and desperate battle with the fire fiend was confined to the hotel building and brought under control. The entire block had a narrow escape from destruction. The loss will exceed $40,000. The hotel building was partly insured for $6000.

The telephone line between Trout Lake and Arrowhead is down and the service is Irregular, so that this despatch will probably be delayed.

OPPOSE UNIVERSITY BILL

Toronto Alumni of Nelson Address Memorial to Government

Nelson has a special interest in bills 23 and 24, which are now in the committee stage in the provincial legislature. They represent the government's response to an agitation begun by the university club of Nelson in November, 1903, and echoed by university graduates in all parts of the province, calling upon the government to make an early provision, by setting apar public lands, for the establishment of a provincial university at some future date.
The club has had some correspondence on the subject with premier McBride, expressing his sympathy with its aims and promising attention as soon as possible.
The proposed bills are certain to be the subject of discussion at the regular meeting of the club tomorrow night, and resoliutions may be presented. The local branch of the Toronto university alumni association has already forwarded a strongly worded resolution to the government, asking that at least equal rights be given to other Canadian universities besides Mctolil and that any college or group of colleges established under the provisions of the bills shall not be styled the "university college of British Columbia," while they are controlled by the authorities of McGill university.

ACCIDENT AT SALMO

Miner Hurt by Falling Rock — Nearly Drowned While Skating (Special to The Daily News)

Ymir, Feb. 8-Alex. McKesson, who is well known throughout this district, and who has been employed for the past week at the Queen mine, Salmo, is lying at the point of death at the Ymir general hospital with a fractured skull, caused by a rock falling on his head while working at the mine. The accident occurred yesterday mortaing about 10 oblock The injured man's wounds were dressed and he was brought to Salmo by William Etter, and later taken on the train to Ymir. Dr. Elliott reports that his patient has a fair chance of recovery and he is receiving every care and attention.

What threatened to be a sad termination of a skating party on the Salmon river at Salmo, was happily prevented by Messrs. Benson of the firm of Benson and Ross, Robert Bell and L. Etter, all of Salmo,

GRANBY COMPANY TO OPEN UP THE

RAILWAY BUILDING CAUSING MANY

(Special to The Daily News)
Grand Forks, Feb. 5-Today a deal of great importance to Grand Forks and the north fork district, was closed whereby the Granby company has acquired the well known Pathfinder mine. The nature of the deal is a bond for $110,000 the life of the bond to be 18 months. The first payment of 15,000 will be made on Oct. 1 and the balance will be paid in monthly instalments of $15,000 until the amount is paid. By the terms of the agreement the new owners will start opening up the property in the early spring and work continuously on the property-during the life of the bond.

The Pathfinder is a gold-copper proposition on Pathfinder mountain, some 12 miles from Grand Forks.

It is intimated today that this is the first of a number of deals that will take place in the near future as a result of the immediate prospects for railway building up the north fork.

to subscribe for it in a radius of some 700 miles, the expense is almost prohibitive. For instance, where Toronto papers seure the full service of 25,000 words for $5 per day, it costs the papers of the prairie provinces, double that amount for a very limited quantity, say 6000 words daily. Of course, it is the physical candition and not the telegraph company—the breadth and width of our magnificent country—which renders these conditions so hard. However, after we of the far west procure the Associated Press report it is not what we want.

BETTER NEWS SERVICE

CANADIAN PRESS ASSOCIATION TAKES ACTION.

GOVERNMENT AID TO BE ASKED THIS SESSION.

The formation of a Canadian Associated Press was a subject earnestly discussed by the Canadian Press Association at the recent annual meeting held in Toronto. The proposition was generally favored, the judgment of a number of speakers being that there was vast room for improvement in the domestic service new supplied daily papers of Canada.

The service was a 200 word item describing how a Buffalo man fell from his bicycle and broke his arm.

"It is on this account that I urge the Canadian Manufacturers' Association to sit up and contemplate a situation they are apparently indifferent to at present. This is the reason I assert that the manufacturers of the east are naturally interested in an exchange news service between the east and west discussion.

Col. G. C. Porter, editor of the Daily quaintance with the Associated Press in the states and his newspaper work in eastern and western Canada. He talked at much length on the subject, and answered numerous questions of different delegates. He made it clear that he was not criticizing the companies engaged in distributing news in Canada, but merely wanted to promote a friendly interest and improvement for the mutual benefit of both publisher and telegraph companies. The substance of the discussion was that it was perhaps undesirable from every point of view the discussion was that it was perhaps undesirable from every point of view to have so many small news distributing associations spring up in Canada, in none of which the publishers had any administration or anything to say.

Mr. Atkinson was sure the C. P. R. was anxious and willing to receive suggestions for an improvement. It was pointed out by other speakers that the C. P. R. the G. T. R., the G. T. P., the Canadian Northern railways, and the Creat Northwestern Telegraph company are now in the business, each supplying, collecting and distributing a polynomial of the company with reference to the winding up of the company.

A committee will meet, composed of Mr. Robertson, Rev. J. A. Macdonald, Mr Atkinson and colonel Porter to go into the subject and recommend a workable scheme to the association.

convention more strongly with my appreciation of the invitation extended me than to remind the delegates that I have travelled some 2000 miles to be present. While I do not attempt to maintain that the newspaper makers of the west are enduring the hardships maintain that the newspaper makers of the west are enduring the hardships incident to their pioneer work through philanthropic impluse, I do insist that there are many reasons, not based upon selfish interest, that may be urged in favor of an earnest effort being made by the newspaper men of the east to assist those of the northwest in solving this difficult news service problem.

"In fact I believe our Canadian manu-facturers of the east have greater direct facturers of the east have greater direct financial interest in a more diversified and closer news relation between eastern and western Canada than have the publishers. . "For fear I may be misunderstood, I want to make clear that it is not my in-tention to blame with this condition the telgraph companies which operate in the east. On the contrary, I believe their managements take a broad view of the subject and are friendly to any move that will promise adequate improve-ment. As you know, the Associated Press is purchased outright by a Canadian company when it is brought across the border and is distributed to different newspapers in Canada by a private arrangement, which I have reason to believe is unprofitable to the Canadian company. In the states, of course, it is company. In the states, of course, it is controlled and administered wholly by the newspapers, and highly trained newspaper men. In the older provinces where the populous centres are num-erous the cost of the service is reasonable, but when it has been transmitted 2000 miles and reaches a territory where but one or two papers can afford to subscribe for it in a radius of some

"It is a record of the world's news, but it is primarily a United States service and undue prominence is given to news of purely American importance. The C. P. R. has remedied this as far as the toll exacted will permit, by interest the control of the c jecting into the report as received from the states a limited amount of Cana-dian news, especially for the benefit of the far west. And I want to add right here that we of the west appreciate this concession, too. But we also realize the vast room for improvement. Of course you of the east have an elaborate system of special service, which supplements your domestic news service but this is prohibited in the west by the physical conditions to which I have alluded. However, the eastern publishers cannot afford to purchase at commercial rates much news of the far west, and for the same reason the east ern Canadian news is practically den ied the west, in the volume desired: "You may understand perhaps better the problem presented to us when I say to you that last year, when the two great political parties were noting their important convention in Toronto, the western papers received less than 100 words in description of the result, while in the same report was a 300 word toll the same report was a 300 word. news service between the east and west news service between the east and west. They cannot under present conditions keep in touch with western conditions, nor can their western customers upon whom they rely for the consumption of their surplus products and the increased field of action in future, have that intimate and adequate knowledge of eastern affairs which is conducive to the best twelvess relations.

Herald of Calgary, was present, having been invited especially to give the western view of the exchange press news service, and because of his former acceptance of the exchange press news service, and because of his former acceptance. a system of news exchange between the east and the west. To my mind the remedy suggested—government aid—is not only reasonable, but I urge, with a knowledge of news-gathering in eastern and western Canada, as well as in the United States, that it is the only practical solution of the problem.

Upon a motion for the adoption of a report on bill 23, the famous bill fit the establishment of the Royal Institution for the Advancement of Learning in British Columbia, the point order was taken by Mr. Henders (Yale) that this bill was an interferen (Yale) that this bill was an interferent with revenue and as such might only I introduced by a message and a report of the committee of the whole hous. The point was held by Mr Speaker be not well taken. The act itself, said Mr Speaker, did not provide for the taxation of any one; it merely provided for the incorporation of an institution by an act of parliament. The report was then adopted, and the thir. tion by an act of parliament. The report was then adopted, and the thin reading of the bill was set for Monda.
