THE DAWN OF TOMORROW

Ga. Frees Cleric Jailed 108 Days

ATLANTA — A 67-year-old white minister, held in jail here since August 28, 1963, was released Tuesday, March 3 on a $5,000 property bond.

The minister, the Rev. Ashton Jones of San Gabriel, Calif., was arrested here July 1 when he and two colored persons sought to worship at all-white First Baptist Church.

Jones was sentenced August 28, to 12 months in the common jail, six months at hard labor and a $1,000 fine and had been in jail since then.

His bail was originally set at $20,000 but Georgia's Supreme Court ordered it lowered. The time Rev. Jones spent behind bars since August—188 days—is "dead time" and does not count against his sentence.

Rev. Jones is one of three white people given maximum terms in racial cases by Fulton County Superior Court Judge Durwood T. Pue. Another is 18-year-old Connecticut College coed, Mardon Walker of East Greenwich, Rhode Island.

She was released from jail only last week under a $15,000 property bond Judge Pue imposed on her after she was found guilty in a lunch counter sit-in case.

Judge Pue was appointed to the bench in 1955 by ex-Governor Marvin Griffin. Shortly after his appointment, he imposed a $25,000 fine on the Atlanta NAACP, because of the group's refusal to comply with a request for its financial records from the Georgia Revenue Department.

In July, 1963, he instructed a Fulton County grand jury that the state's anti-trespass law—used to arrest sit-in demonstrators—had been "flouted, defied and violated."

He ordered, and obtained, indictments against 101 persons arrested in racial demonstrations dating back to 1961.

During the summer, he tried two cases, both involving white persons. One was Rev. Mr. Jones. The other, Thomas Taylor Tolg, a youth who worked for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) was also found guilty and is free on an appeal bond.

Judge Pue had refused to accept $5,000 cash offered to free Rev. Jones.

Womens Units Set Meet On Rights Plan

WASHINGTON — Five national groups of women will join the National Council of Negro Women, Inc., for a meeting in Atlanta, March 15-16, to plan ways of helping women and children who have been subjected to indignities and abuses as a result of their participation in civil rights demonstrations.

Other groups sending representatives to the meeting include:

The National Council of Catholic Women, United Church Women, National Board, Young Women's Christian Association and the National Council of Jewish Women.

Each group has agreed to send representative women from communities where there has been and is likely to be further tension, so that women who are aware and concerned, will be in a position to effect a united plan in behalf of any victims of police brutality.

The women said "such an exchange of information will help us determine how the National Council of Negro Women and other organizations can give support and help in these critical days."

The Committee on Welfare, Education and Legal Defense will assist with travel and hotel expenses if necessary, according to Mrs. Dorothy I. Height, national president of the Council of Negro Women.

NIGERIAN CENSUS
WASHINGTON (NNPA) — The Embassy of Nigeria has reported that the official 1963 Census conducted in Nigeria gave the total population as 55,653,821.

The breakdown was as follows: North, 29,777,986; East, 12,388,646; West, 10,278,500; Lagos, 675,352; and Mid-West, 2,533,337.
