GIVE ME THE IGNORANT ONES

Leroy Johnson, ace dry cleaner of Beckley, who pyramided a laundry bag and a bar of soap into one of the best dry-cleaning plants in the country, says "Give me the ignorant ones." He was putting in a plug for the masses. He was paying tribute to the salt of the earth. He deplored the condition in which we so often find the trained and privileged people failing to give their support to the needs of the community.

Philosopher Robinson, observing a political race, noted how the smart people are prone to stone "the woman caught in adultery." He watched how the so-called leaders were tearing down on ex-Ku Klux Klansman who long ago shed his robes and became a state senator and served his Country as a Christian gentleman. Citizen Robinson says, "I do not condone Ku Kluxism nor do I believe in shooting a man down who has recognized his error and has changed his ways—neither do the masses. The smart, ones, however, gather up to throw their big stones, so I say, 'Give me the ignorant ones.' They rent the houses; they till the fields and they do the world's work.

"The educated people talk too much. They are those who always oppose you. They are the 'tearers-uppers.' The ignorant ones are those who buy the life insurance before the company gets strong. They are the guinea pigs who take the medicine and test it out until it is proved safe enough to give the smart ones.

"They stand behind you when the trained ones shy away when you are in hot water, lest they be scalded or be seen helping you when you need it and while you are unpopular. They protect you and fight for you when the race riots start and the wars come. They pay the bills. They do not pay their taxes on to you to pay. They are the ones who come to your small store when you need a customer, while the big shots hold back and spend their money down at the big shops. The little fellows and the untrained ones support one-man garages. They support your business when it's only a hole in the wall. And they are not ashamed to do so. They feed you when you are hungry. They clothe you when you are naked. They support you while the big fellows chew you down. Ces, give me the ignorant ones."

TEN MILLION PEOPLE STARVE

There are ten million people in various stages of starvation in the Madras section of India. What hope do they have? This year, absolutely none. Next year? Well, it depends on the rains in October. Already the wholesale misery in the famine areas has gone far beyond the ability of the Indian Government to provide relief. You can help our Commonwealth neighbors in India with $10.00 CARE food packages. You will have the satisfaction of knowing that, through CARE, you have shown that Canadians, as individuals, are ready to help. Send your contribution to CARE, 73 Albert Street, Ottawa.
