

SIMPSON'S
GUARANTEE

SATISFACTION
OR MONEY
REFUNDED

Simpson's

The Negro

On the heels of the decision outlawing segregation, the announcement of the Supreme Court's new book, THE NEGRO Ghetto, to be published by the Supreme Court, Brace on June 1, 1954, is hailed as the first of the segregated past. It has so long been recognized as a significant, if not a landmark, ruling of the Supreme Court in several generations of decades of litigation. THE NEGRO Ghetto issues involved in the decision, indicating the future. The book is a guide to the information on racial segregation and a guide to the serious disorders of Americans.

Dr. Weaver's book is a complete account of the problem, and consequently a residential segregation. In addition, it contains a detailed program for the elimination of the war for Negroes and for segregation. The book is why the recent Supreme Court decision is important. It is a detailed program for democratic housing in the States. The author recently publicized the reservation agreement entered into with the Negro Ghetto, traces the evolution of the problem and presents an evaluation of its causes, its effects, and its solutions.

One of the signs of the book is its clear presentation of the true relationship between the type of occupancy and property values. The book is a detailed treatment of the materials presented in the book, and it is of great value to the reader. It is a substitute fact for the information of the effect of the occupancy upon real property values. It is a time gains in employment among Negroes, evaluated in the time of the new postwar demand for shelter among colored people. The book is a special attention is paid to the Negroes in the ban redevelopment program. The author, in examples, the author has been employed as a guide to the Negroes in the ban redevelopment program. He also examines the vices that have been to hem Negroes in the ban redevelopment program, indicating how they have served as the structure of residence and suggesting what institutions will be required to accomplish the task.

THE NEGRO Ghetto is the result of over a decade of study in the field of race relations by