REPORT NEGROES TORTURED IN DUNGEON CELLS IN TENN.

Chattanooga, Tenn., — (ANP)—The spotlight of the nation has been turned on two county workhouses, White Oak and Silverdale, following publication of penal practices there and of the use of "torture chambers," big "stand-up" dungeon cells, in which the prisoner must stand, in absolute darkness, his only food bread and water.

The torture cell is 10 feet high and only four feet wide, has no chair or stool, and his "food" is pushed in to him at the bottom of the cell.

CHARACTER

There is a difference between character and reputation. Reputation is what people think you are; character is what you really are. Man has no greater asset than sound and upright character.

Always act in the right way. Act repeated makes a habit. Habits are sometimes called automatic acts. The formation of the right habit is of great value in character building. Character is a bundle of habits. If you have formed a bad habit the only way to break it is to form a good one in its place.

It is vital to know the value of a dollar, but can you look out on the world and see anything except dollars and cents? If this civilization is to continue, the test must be not what a man is worth in money, but what he is worth in character.

ETHIOPIA AND THE LEAGUE (Courtesy Voice of Ethiopia)

What the League did or failed to do in the case of Ethiopia is well-known. Emilio de Bono has admitted that if the League had acted by imposing oil sanctions or closing the Suez Canal, Italy could not have gone on. Today the League of Nations has lost what influence it had. The failure to do justice has brought about this condition. We will wait and see whether it can recover its standing.

In this same case England lost prestige as she never has before. Justice pointed out one course of action—adequate and prompt assistance to the Ethiopian people.

LIGHT

By Percy Ernest Johnson '28
—Atlanta University

All things must change—
For better or for worse—
A Universal law
Of certain trend.
Yet, some regard it
As a demon's curse
While others look upon it
As a Friend.

So strange that mortals,
Looking for the light,
Should bind their eyes
When what they seek is found,
And hope to reach
An ever greater height
Than what they reached
Before their eyes were bound.

Much better would it be
To use that light
To lead us kindly
To the things we crave,
Than feebly grope in darkness
without sight—
Afraid to look at facts,
And still to pray.

REVEAL IRON-FISTED RULE OF IL DUCE IN PLUNDERING ETHIOPIA

By Robert L. Matthews
Madrid, —New confirmation came today of the importance of Italian aid on the Rebel side in the Spanish civil war. Two Italian captives, Maj. Luciano Antonio d'Inino and Lieut. Achille Saachi, made such revealing and apparently well-founded statements that they have been rushed to Valencia for questioning by high government officials.

The lieutenant, a 22-year-old Sicilian in the regular army, knew a fortnight before he sailed where he was going and why. The men, however, said they had volunteered to go to Ethiopia and not to Spain.
