Chapel Bells

BY

LILIAN LEVERIDGE

In "The Church Chronicle"

Lyrical and lovely, hear the chapel bells:
All the magic of the morning in their music dwells:
Winds that pipe and whistle, songbirds' ecstasy,
Fairy chimes of flowerland, waters flowing free.

Hear them beat, wild and sweet
Bells of mellow tongue;
Far and near, silver-clear
Melodies out-flung!

Lonely is the chapel, many leagues away;
Yet on airy waves the cadence comes to us today.
Thousands as they listen feel a Presence near
Whisper in the heart's still cloister: Surely God is here!

Ring again, happy strain!
Bring us from above
Angel psalm, breathing balm,
Singing: God is Love!

Can it be that music more divine than this
Ushers weary pilgrim spirits home to fields of bliss?
Welcome be the summons!—Who that would not say?—
On the mounting wings of rapture thus to float away!

Here, above, God is love,
Every echo tells.
Ring again that refrain,
Chiming chapel bells.

ASK CLOSURE RULE STAND ON BILL

NEW YORK.—A questionnaire asking candidates for Congress to state their attitude on a new federal anti-lynching bill is being sent out by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The N.A.A.C.P. board of directors at its meeting September 12 formally decided to sponsor the re-introduction of an anti-lynching bill in both houses of Congress next January, and the questionnaire followed swiftly upon the heels of the board's action.

Candidates for the Senate are being asked by the N.A.A.C.P. if they will vote for limitation of debate on the bill if the sponsors in the Senate should present a petition for cloture.

In the last Congress the anti-lynching bill was filibustered to death in the Senate because, although more than 70 senators had pledged to vote for it, when it came to a vote, many of these solons did not consider their pledge binding upon a cloture vote.

As long as there are at least a dozen senators opposed to the bill and willing to speak against it, the only method by which a filibuster can be broken is through the adoption of the cloture rule, hence the importance of the N.A.A.C.P. question to candidates.

LONDON ALPHA PHI ALPHA FORMED

LONDON, Eng.—By William Harrison for ANP)—A chapter of the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity has been formed by colored students and graduates of Oxford, Cambridge and London Universities resident here through the efforts of His Highness Prince Nyabongo of the Toro, Uganda East Africa, a graduate of Yale and Oxford. Professor William L. Hansberry of Howard University, who has been studying for his Ph.D., assisted.

It is said that this is the first time that an American college fraternity, white or black, ever established a chapter in Europe.

Maybe we did "come down" from monkeys—or maybe "up." To watch them, gives us a fellow feeling.
