THE CITY OF HAMILTON.

Hamilton is beautifully situated on the south shore of Burlington Bay. It covers a space about two miles in length of the level which reaches from the lake shore to the mountain, and is about a mile and a-half in width. The surrounding neighborhood is celebrated for its fertility.

The mountain is an escarpment to the broad plateau of Western Ontario, worn down by the ceaseless dash of the waters of the ancient lake. It stretches away to the east, forming the precipices over which leap Niagara and the Genesee.

North-west of the city are Burlington Heights, a wall of concrete built up and cemented together by the action of the water, in the same way that Burlington Beach, which separates the bay from the lake, is now being compacted.

The site of the city was originally covered with a dense growth of tall coarse serrated Indian grass, low and almost impenetrable shrubbery, with here and there a tall water elm. The land between the mountain and the bay consisted chiefly of deep ravines and patches of swamps, affording a favorite haunt for rattlesnakes, frogs and quail. On the plot now occupied as the market square, there was a particularly dense growth of this thicket, which was the rendezvous of wolves innumerable. A deer path passed over the mountain where the reservoir now stands, and an Indian trail connected the Grand River country with Burlington Bay, at the foot of what is now Emerald Street, near which the Indians had a burial ground.

In the year 1678 La Salle visited the site of the city and ascended the mountain. The first settler in the vicinity of Hamilton was Robert Land, who was born on the banks of the Delaware, and served on the side of the British during the revolutionary war. In 1778 he took up 300 acres, occupying the greater part of the east end of the city between the mountain and the bay.

Between 1796 and 1812 several settlers arrived. In the latter year the site of the city was occupied by Robert, Abel and Ephraim Land, John Aikman, Col. Richard Beasley, Peter Ferguson, James Mills, Peter Hess, Nathaniel Hughson, Daniel Kirkendall, and Capt. Jas. Durand. A man named Barnum kept a tavern on the north-west corner of King and James streets, and owned the land from King to Merrick.

In 1814, William Sheldon, opened the first store, a frame building on the south-east corner of King and John. "Black," Carpenter, Knight and Shute, were the names of the first cabinet makers. John Aikman was the first wagon maker, and Edward Jackson the first tinsmith. McQuesten & Co., owned the first foundry, a stone building which occupied the site of the present Royal Hotel. Thomas Reynolds was the first blacksmith, his shop stood on the south-east corner of King and Ferguson avenue. John Law kept the first district school. Andrew Miller commonly known as "Yankee Miller" succeeded Barnum, and kept the tavern till it was destroyed by fire. In 1813 a portion of the site of the city was laid out in town lots by Geo. Hamilton, at that time and for many years afterwards member of Parliament for Gore district. Between 1823-6 charters were granted for the construction of the Burlington Bay and Desjardins Canals. These works gave a great impetus to the prosperity of the village. At this time King and Main streets were the chief thoroughfares. In 1833 the town of Hamilton was incorporated, three years later the population was 2,846, and the assessed value amounted to £44,020. In 1838 the population was 3,358, and the assessed value £52,130. The CITY OF HAMILTON was incorporated in 1846, the population having increased to 6,832, and the assessed value to £113,720. In the following year the first council was elected, and was composed of Messrs. Colin C. Ferrie, mayor; Alex. Carpenter, Chas. O. Counsell, N. Ford, L. B. Freeman, D. C. Gunn, David Kelly, Andrew Miller, Saml. Mills, H. R. O'Reilly, and H. B. Wilson. In 1846 a police court was established, Capt. Geo. A. Armstrong, magistrate. On the 17th March, 1863, the present police magistrate Mr. James Cahill was appointed. In 1854 Mr. Thos. Beasley was appointed city clerk, and still retains the office.*

Hamilton has several fine buildings, public and private—and many magnificent residences, surrounded by beautiful grounds in the outskirts of the city, have more than a local celebrity. The churches, banks, and many of the stores, chiefly built of stone and brick, are handsome structures. The new court house erected in 1878, is one of the finest edifices of the kind in the Dominion. It fronts on Prince's Square and is 168 feet in length, the breadth of the main building is 74 feet, and that of each of the two wings 64 feet.

The County Jail on Barton Street, was completed in 1875, at a cost of about $40,000, and John Henery, formerly chief of police was appointed governor.

The Asylum for the insane, Hamilton, is the finest structure of its kind in the Dominion. It is healthfully situated on mountain top, in Barton Township, overlooks the entire city, and has by far the most charming views of any public edifice in Canada. It first received patients on St. Patrick's Day 1876, and in 1879 its population is 320. One hundred acres are attached and fenced with picket. An orchard and avenue are planted. A coal shed and mortuary are built; fine airing courts; a carpenter shop, out buildings, and excellent stables; and a house for superintendent, bursar, engineer, and farmer. The pumping house is on Queen St., in the city. The officers are: J. M. Wallace, M. D., medical superintendent; Theo. S. Covernton, M. D., assistant superintendent; Bidwell Way, bursar; John Shaw, storekeeper and steward; Mrs. Fitzgerald, matron; John Martin, engineer; Canby Reece, carpenter; A. Goodall, farmer and gardener.

* We shall be obliged to any of our friends who will favor us with further details similar to those contained in the above brief sketch, as we intend inserting a more extended account of the early history of Hamilton in our seventh issue of the City Directory for the year 1880.

The situation of Hamilton as a trade centre, is equal to that of any other city in the Dominion. Not only is she at the head of lake navigation, but she is connected with the whole system of Canadian and American Railways by the Great Western and Hamilton and North-Western lines which centre here.

An amalgamation of the Northern and the Hamilton & North Western Lines of Railway took place on the 10th June, 1879. This union will open up the resources of a vast territory lying to the north, and including the shores of the Georgian Bay and Lake Superior, and will, doubtless, greatly add to the prosperity of the city.

The city is the seat of extensive manufactories. There are several iron foundries, some of them among the largest in the Dominion, a rolling mill, three sewing machine factories, two large glass works and many other branches of productive industry, giving constant employment to large numbers of operatives.

The present population of the city may be estimated at 34,268, real estate $12,786,030, assessable income $535,490, personal property $2,100,060. The city possesses an excellent system of drainage and magnificent water works. The supply to the reservoir, the capacity of which is 9,000,000 imperial gallons is brought from Lake Ontario, a distance of three and a-half miles.

CITY OFFICIALS, 1879—J. E. O'Reilly, mayor; James Cahill, police magistrate; Thomas Beasley, clerk; J. H. Hills, assistant clerk; Alexander Stuart, treasurer; Geo. HISTORICAL SKETCH.

WESTERN CANADA.

As the western part of Canada was chiefly settled by United Empire Loyalists, to whom the British Government had liberally granted land and subsistence for two years ; it was deemed advisable to confer upon these settlers a form of Government similar to that which they had formerly enjoyed. In the east the seigniorial or feudal tenure had prevailed since 1627, but in the west, that of free and common socage was established. In 1788, Lord Dorchester divided what afterwards became Upper Canada into four districts, namely : Lunenburg, Mecklenburg, Nassaug and Hesse. The Colony was divided into Upper and Lower Canada. In 1792 the Upper Canada Legislature changed the above names of the districts into Eastern, Midland, Home and Western. These districts were afterwards divided and their number increased, but they were abolished in 1849. In 1841 Upper and Lower Canada were united, and in 1850 the districts were formed into Counties, and on the 1st July, 1867, the Provinces of British America were united and the Dominion of Canada established. By this act each province has control of its own affairs, while to the general government is left matters common to all.

UNITED EMPIRE LOYALISTS.—As the object of the American Revolutionists was to destroy the unity of the British Empire so the object of the American Loyalists was to prevent it. The adherents to the Royal cause, actuated by the noblest terms and feeling that loyalty to their Sovereign was an imperative duty, took up arms to maintain them, and never laid them down until they were vanquished. At the conclusion of the war these patriots abandoned their possessions, homes and friends, that they might still enjoy as exiles protection under the British flag.

Their heroic fortitude under the unparalleled sufferings and privations which they and their families endured in leaving their comfortable homes for a life in the distant wilderness has left their memory dear to all British Americans, while the unrelenting severity of the acts for their perpetual banishment and confiscation of their property, which were passed by the several states which they had left, inflicted deep and unmerited wrongs upon young and old alike, and doomed them to years of privation and hardships in a new and unsettled country. Of the 25,000 American Colonists, who at the close of the war remained faithful to the British cause, 10,000 came to Canada, about the same number went to Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and other Colonies, and the remainder to England.

As compensation for part of their losses the British Government distributed among them about £3,300,000 stg. and in addition each one received as a free gift from the Crown from 200 to 5,500 acres of land in Canada and other Colonies according to their military rank and service. Some of the more prominent amongst them were appointed to offices of emolument. By their labor and exemplary thrift and industry they have largely contributed to the prosperity and stability of the British American Colonies.

THE WAR OF 1812-14.

For several years before the declaration of hostilities, affairs between the United States and England had been in a very unsatisfactory condition, owing chiefly to the persistent claim of the British Government to the "Right of Search" for British naval deserters in American vessels, and the prohibition by Great Britain of neutral vessels to trade with France, which England passed in retaliation for the Milan and Berlin Decrees of Napoleon. The immediate cause of the war, however, was the publication of a number of letters written by a Captain Henry, merely as a private speculation, to Governor Craig's Secretary, in which an inclination on the part of the New England States to ally themselves with Great Britain was alleged. These letters, for which President Madison paid the enterprising writer $500,000, were accepted as the evidence of the secret machinations of the latter country. They produced the desired result, and war was declared on the 18th

June. This is a critical period in the history of Canada, particularly of the Upper Province, which at this time contained a population of only 80,000—that of Lower Canada being 200,000. Almost the whole disposable force of Britain was engaged against Napoleon, and an easy conquest and subsequent annexation of Canada was anticipated by the Americans. Dr. Eustis, Secretary of War, said in Congress: "We can take the Canadas without soldiers. We have only to send officers into the Provinces and the people disaffected toward their own Government will rally around our Standard;" and Mr. Clay added, "It is absurd to suppose we shall not succeed in our enterprise against the enemy's Provinces. We have the Canadas as much under our command as Great Britain has the Ocean; we must take the Continent from them; I wish never to see a peace till we do."

The entire British force in the Colony itself consisted of 4,500, of whom not more than 1,450 men were in the Upper Province. The first movement of any importance was the invasion of Canada by General Hull who, at the head of 2,500 troops, on the 12th July, 1812, crossed the Detroit River and took possession of Sandwich. Here he remained till the 12th August when General Brock, having mustered a force of 320 regulars, 400 militia and 600 Indians, arrived at Amherstburg. Hull, whose force now much weakened by sickness, did not exceed 800 effective men, retreated across the river to Detroit; Brock pursued and made preparations for investing the town. On the 16th Hull capitulated without firing a shot. Thirty-three pieces of cannon and 2,500 men fell into the hands of the British.

Early in October another American army under General Van Renselaer crossed the Niagara River at Queenston and gained possession of the Heights. They were attacked by the British, who were repulsed and the gallant General Brock killed. Meanwhile General Sheaffe having brought up the main force of the British from Fort George, and being joined by a body of Indians with a detachment from Chippewa, attacked the Americans and, after a short but severe conflict, compelled them to surrender.

On the 27th November, General Smyth who commanded a force of 4,500 men at Black Rock, sent two detachments across the Niagara River above the Falls. These were driven back with great loss. In January, 1813, Col. Proctor defeated the Americans at Brownstown. General Dearborn was appointed to the chief command of the American forces early in 1813. The plan of his campaign was limited to the conquest of Upper Canada, the achievement of which, as the number of troops by which that country was defended was only 2,100, was looked upon as a certainty. On the 27th of April, York the Capital of the Province was captured by the Americans. The British gained important advantages at Ogdensburgh, and Fort George the chief military station in the province was taken by the Americans.

By the capture of this fort they for the first time gained a lodgment in Canada, and General Vincent after calling in the garrison of Chippewa and Fort Erie, was obliged to retreat to Burlington Heights. Dearborn immediately despatched General Chandler and Winder with 4,000 men in pursuit. Had they succeeded in destroying this small force, the conquest of all the Western Province would have been the result. On the 5th June they took post at Stoney Creek, to prepare for operations on the following day. In this critical situation Lieutenant Colonel Harvey suggested a night attack to which General Vincent assented, and 700 picked troops attacked the invaders, a short but sanguinary conflict followed. At daylight the British force withdrew. Though the loss of the Americans had not been severe, yet, such was the panic inspired by the events of the night, that they abandoned their camp and retreated to Forty Mile Creek, eleven miles distant. Here they received a reinforcement, but being threatened by Sir James Yeo, who had come with a squadron and a small body of troops to support General Vincent, they resolved on a retreat to Niagara. Intelligence being received that the English had a small advance post at Beaver Dam, Lieut-Col. Boerstler, with about 700 men, was sent to attack it, but this force was captured. With the exception of Fort George, the Americans now held nothing on the right bank of the River. The subsequent events may be summed up briefly. By Perry's victory on Lake Erie the British squadron of nine vessels, mounting 56 guns, fell into the hands of the Americans; General Proctor was defeated at Moravian Town, on the Thames, by the Americans under General Harrison. In this engagement, Tecumseth was killed. Fort George, however, was recaptured by General Vincent, and Fort Niagara, opposite to it, was worsted from the Americans by Colonel Murray. In 1814, Oswego was captured by the British, who were, however, unsuccessful in an attack on Sackett's Harbor. Fort Erie was also lost. On the 5th July, at Chippewa, General Riall with 2,400 troops gave battle to 4,000 Americans under General Brown, but was compelled to retreat to the Twenty Mile Creek on his way to Burlington Heights near Hamilton, from whence he sent a detachment of 900 men to Lunday's Lane, near Niagara Falls. Here, on the 25th July, this detachment was attacked and was about retreating, when General Drummond opportunely arrived from York. The battle commenced at 5 p.m. and continued until half-past 11. At midnight the Americans retired to Chippewa, leaving the British in possession of the field. The American loss was 1,200 killed, wounded and prisoners; the British 900. This was the hardest fought battle of the whole campaign.

On the 5th November, 1814, Fort Erie was abandoned and destroyed by the Americans. The destruction of this Fort was the last act in the drama. On the 24th December, 1814, peace was signed at Ghent.

COUNTY OF WENTWORTH.

The County of Wentworth is bounded on the north by Halton and Wellington, on the south by Haldimand, on the east by Lincoln and Lake Ontario, and on the west by Brant and Waterloo. It consists of the Townships of Ancaster, Barton, Beverley, Binbrook, Flamboro' East, Flamboro' West, Glanford and Saltfleet; the Town of Dundas and the incorporated village of Waterdown. The County contains 288,143 acres, and its population may be estimated (1879) at 36,000. The soil of this county is very fertile, is well watered by numerous streams and every variety of landscape, hill, valley, plain and meadow is to be met with. The scenery in many places is remarkable for its extreme beauty.

The early history of one county must necessarily be very similar to that of another. To give a detailed account of the hardships and vicissitudes encountered by the early settlers, would be at once useless and superfluous. In other parts of this work we have given the names of many of the pioneer settlers of each township.

TOWNSHIP OF BARTON.

The history of the early settlement of this Township is the same as that of the City of Hamilton which, previous to its incorporation formed part of it. Among the early settlers above the Mountain were Jacob and William Rymal, William Terryberry, Cornelius and Samuel Ryckman, Lewis and Peter Horning and families named Markle, Hess, Burkholder, Taylor, Neff, and others. Below the mountain were families named Jones, Needham, Lottridge, Gage, Stewart, Bennett, Case, Crosthwaite, Cline, Horning, Aikman, Reynolds, Shearman, Land, Hughson, Springer, Lockwood, Wedge and Dexter. In the year 1815, William Rymal was assessed for 160 acres of cleared land, and Jacob Rymal for 80; William Terryberry 168 acres of arable land; Samuel Ryckman had 26 acres, and Cornelius Ryckman 45 acres of cleared land; and Richard Beasley, in the same year, was assessed for 13,350, (150 acres of which were cleared), and George Hamilton, after whom the City is called, for 1,416—141 being cleared. At this time there were only 102 ratepayers in the Township; 72 of square logs and 25 frame buildings. The live stock comprised 150 horses, 64 oxen, 316 milch cows and 74 horned cattle. The names of 65 ratepayers appear on the assessment list of 1822 as living below the Mountain, the total assessment amounting to £8,400 14s.; improved lands 1,013 acres; uncultivated land, 3,533; horses, 80; oxen, 46, and milch cows, 168. In 1823, the total assessment amounted to £17,014 5s. There were only 15 vehicles kept for pleasure. There were also three saw mills and one grist mill, the latter belonging to a man named Rymal. In this year there were 4,978 acres of improved land in the Township. Acres assessed (1879) 14,088; population, 2,820.

TOWNSHIP OF BEVERLEY.

The Southern portion of this Township was surveyed by a man named Jones in 1794, and three years later Deputy Surveyor John Stegman plotted and surveyed the remainder of the township. The settlement followed immediately afterwards. The first residents were Jacob Cope and George Jones. Adam and William Misener followed soon after, the former of whom erected the first saw-mill. In 1810 Joshua Wedge built a tavern near Romulus. In 1817 a man named Babcock kept a tavern near the intersection of the 8th Concession with the Dundas and Waterloo Road; and another tavern was kept by a mulatto named Pompey Murdoch, on the site of Sheffield. In 1819 Henry Lamb, (a man of great enterprise,) took up Lot 11 on the 6th Concession, and afterwards purchased extensively in the neighborhood. He built a grist-mill, laid out village lots, offered inducements to settlers, and did much towards promoting the prosperity of the township. Among the settlers at this time appear the names of Smith, Surarus, Cornell, Hugh and Harding. In 1820 a log school-house was built, shingles and pieces of coal supplying the want of slates, pens, ink and paper. Shortly after this the first post office was established by John A. Cornell, to which he gave the name of Sheffield. Warner Churchill succeeded Cornell, and united a store with the post office. In 1820 there were but 81 ratepayers in the township, who possessed 9,953 acres, of which 1,883 were cultivated. The assessment this year was £5,469 16s. There were 69 horses, 51 oxen, and 180 milch cows, but in consequence of the numerous packs of wolves which over-ran the country, pigs and sheep could not be kept. In 1824 the population was only 617. In 1830 the number had increased to 858, and in 1839 it was 2,382.

In 1832 John and William McKnight made the first settlements in the Northern parts of the township. They were followed shortly after by John Valens, the Pentland and the Macdonald families and others. A few years after this Mahon and Cook built a lumber and Grist Mill near Westover's Corner, and in 1849 John Ironsides built another in the same neighborhood. In 1837, the McQueens, Menzies, Bickells and Martins arrived from Scotland, who, liking the country, sent back to their native land for their families, and before long the north half of Beverley was peopled by a hardy and intelligent race of Scotch. In 1850 there was little, if any, unclaimed land in Beverley. At the present time (1879) the number of acres assessed is 70,053, and the population may be estimated at 5,000.

TOWNSHIP OF BINBROOK.

The first settlers in the northern part of this township were Brian Condon, who took up 800 acres of land south of the first block; and the Swayzie family who resided about 4 miles north of Hall's Corners. Those in the south part were John McCarley, who built the first house and barns in the township, and Morris Derrick. Henry Cline was the first blacksmith. John McMicken erected the first grist and saw mills, and George Dennis in 1835 opened the first tavern. An English Church was built in 1835, the Rev. Mr. O'Flanigan, pastor. In 1828 a Mr. Duff settled here, and occupied the position of township clerk for 26 years. He made the assessment and collected the rates at an early date for 75 cents. In 1834 the total population by census was 188, at the present time (1879) the number of acres assessed is 26,342, and the population may be estimated at 1,600.

TOWNSHIP OF EAST LAMBORO'.

The settlement of this township dates as far back as 1797, when John Green arrived and soon after built a grist mill. The Markle family followed shortly after. About the same period the Morden's a U. E. family settled in the vicinity of Dundas and along Crooks' Hollow. Among the other early settlers we find the following names: Chisholm, Fonger, the Applegarth, Hopkins, Brown, Davies, Lane, and Brant. In 1817 the township contained one grist mill, six saw mills and one fulling mill. At the present time (1879) the assessed acreage is 34,277, population 2,921.

TOWNSHIP OF SALTFLEET.

This Township was settled between the years 1786 and 1790. Among the first settlers were Levi Lewis, John Pettit, Gershom Carpenter, Augustus Jones, John Biggar, John Wilson, and Samuel Dean, who took up land west of the 50 Mile Creek. There were other families named Biggar, Smith, Cline, Chambers, Davis, Springstead, Mulholland, Lees, Green, Potruff, and Althouse, scattered through the county. The township derives its name from several saline springs which formerly existed in the bed of the Big Creek, these produced an excellent quality of salt manufactured by Allan McDougall and Wm Kent. The value of this commodity to the early settlers may be estimated from the fact that it sold readily at $10 a bushel.

In 1815 the first assessment of Saltfleet was made, when there were 102 householders in the township. The total value of property was estimated at £10,151. There were 33 log houses, 20 one storey frame houses, a two storey log and a two storey frame. In 1850 the first municipal council was organized when John Williamson was elected Reeve, his son David clerk, and Samuel Green, Treasurer. This township is remarkable for the excellence of its land, and is one of the best fruit producing sections in the province. Large quantities of apples, pears, peaches, and grapes are annually exported, the portion of the township in the vicinity of the mountain being naturally adapted to this industry. The assessed acreage at the present time (1879) is 27,926, population 2,750.

DUNDAS,

The "Valley City," a station of the G. W. R., is situated in the Township of West Flamboro, at the head of the Desjardins Canal, in the midst of a rich agricultural region.

The scenery of Dundas is unsurpassed for rural beauty, and the facilities afforded for manufacturers are scarcely equalled in the province. It has water power to an almost unlimited extent. It possesses many elegant buildings, both public and private. The extent and richness of the land, the dry and healthy climate, and the inexhaustible supply of pure water, renders this town a most desirable residence.

The original name of Dundas was Coote's Paradise, so called from a hunter or the bird of that name. The original plot containing 60 acres was surveyed and laid out by John Stegman in 1801, and consisted of lot 53 in the first concession of Ancaster, and lot 17, first concession of Flamboro'.

Capt. John Hatt was the first permanent settler on the site of Dundas, he erected a flour mill on the spot now occupied by the Dundas Cotton Mills; upon the hill above the village stood a log jail and court house on the site now occupied by the residences of Messrs. B. B. Osler and Hugh Moore. These buildings were in use previous to the year 1812. Coote's Paradise owed its early prosperity to its being a milling centre at the head of batteaux navigation as well as being the converging point of the Dundas and Waterloo, and the Dundas and Guelph Roads—the two principal highways of Upper Canada. An immense traffic of flour and other agricultural products centered here, and the village rapidly increased in wealth and population. In 1847, however, the Great Western Railway intercepted this traffic and Hamilton with its superior advantages as a lake port completely overshadowed its former rival.

The Desjardins Canal which for several years contributed in a very considerable degree to the prosperity of the village, was by the construction of the Railway rendered almost useless as a highway.

The town of Dundas was incorporated on the 18th July, 1847, and the first council was held on the 28th April in the ensuing year, when the town was represented by Messrs. John Patterson, president; James Coleman, Robert Holt, Hugh McMahan and Robert Spence, councillors. The other town officials were John L. Smith, clerk; James Smith, assessor; Duncan Calder, collector and M. McDonald, bailiff.

On the 23rd May, 1879, the Dundas Street Railway connecting the town with Hamilton was inaugurated.

CHURCHES.—Church of England, Roman Catholic, Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist.

NEWSPAPERS.—“Dundas True Banner and Wentworth County Chronicle,” and the “Dundas Standard.”

DISTANCES.—Hamilton, 5 miles; Ancaster, 3; Guelph, 25; Lynden, 10; Harrisburg, 21; Suspension Bridge, 48; Paris, 29; London, 79; Toronto, 44.

ANCASTER,—A village pleasantly situated in the township of the same name, on the side and summit of Burlington Heights. The surrounding country is remarkable for the variety and picturesqueness of its scenery.

In 1790 J. Batiste Rousseaux and James Wilson, emigrants from Lower Canada, settled in the Township of Ancaster, and shortly after their arrival built a corn mill on the Grand River, near Brantford, for the Indians in that vicinity. Having completed which, Rousseaux returned to Ancaster. Seven years later, Thomas Hamilton, then but ten years of age, came with his father from Grimsby and settled close beside the main road in the neighborhood. Toronto was at this time an insignificant village, and the site of Hamilton a wilderness.

In 1812 Ancaster was a thriving village, and in that year a company commanded by Capt. Samuel Hatt, and another under Capt. James Durand from Barton, took an active and honorable part in the American War, particularly distinguishing themselves in the actions of Queenston Heights and Lundy's lane. A flour mill on what is now the site of Egleston's grist mill, was at that time used as a prison, in which several spies and traitors were confined. These unfortunates were removed to the military station on Burlington Heights, and were afterwards executed on the spot where Dundurn Castle now stands. At the termination of the war, great numbers of immigrants settled in the village and township, and Ancaster became one of the first villages in Western Canada; but in course of time Dundas and Hamilton, from their more advantageous situations, gradually surpassed it in importance.

Distant from Hamilton, 7 miles; Dundas, 3 miles. Stages twice daily to and from Hamilton. Population about 500.

STONEY CREEK.—A village in the Township of Saltfleet, 7 miles from Hamilton, and 2 from the shore of Lake Ontario. The scenery around is justly celebrated for its picturesque beauty. The chief incidents connected with the early history of this county was the battle which took place at Stoney Creek in the early part of June, 1813. In the immediate vicinity of the battle ground Edward Brady and Stephen Jones kept small log taverns; the other residents were Adam Green, James Gage, and a man named Lappin. On the banks of the Creek stood an old sawmill, and in the centre of the plot, now used as a graveyard, stood a Methodist meeting house, which with the exception of the Grand River stone chapel, was the oldest Protestant church in Western Ontario. This venerable edifice was torn down in 1871. These buildings constituted the hamlet of Stoney Creek.

The losses in the engagement at this place have been variously estimated. The Americans state their loss at 17 killed, 38 wounded, and 99 missing, and that of the British at 23 killed, 100 wounded and 55 missing. The British account gives 23 killed, 136 wounded, and 55 missing. John Lee, who assisted in burying the dead, states that the whole number by actual count was 61 interred on the field. (See War of 1812-14 page 18.)

Mr. William Gage was a soldier in the British service and took part in the battle. He is a hale and hearty veteran, now in his 83rd year, and resides on the road between Hamilton and Burlington Beach, and is probably the only survivor of the battle in the country.

CITY OF HAMILTON DIRECTORY,

The Seventh Annual Edition of our Hamilton Directory will be issued in January, 1880, and will, in addition to the usual contents, contain a history of the City to the present time. We respectfully ask the co-operation of our fellow citizens to make this essentially local work as thorough and complete in all its details as it is possible for a work of this nature to be. Any errors, and especially in the orthography of proper names, which may have been discovered in former editions, will be noticed if sent per postal card to our address. We pledge ourselves to use every exertion in our power to make the work conducive to the interests of the City, and as we are ratepayers and permanent residents here, we have a personal interest, as well as a pecuniary one, in perfecting the work as much as possible. We return our thanks to our patrons, and respectfully solicit a continuance of their support.
