Thanksgiving.

The little brown house by the road,
With vines running up to the eaves,
Where the summer long there were bursts of song
Add a flutter of wings in the leaves;
Oh! the little brown house was merry
In the days that used to be,
When the boys and girls, with their sunny curls,
Were close at the mother's knee.

But the little brown house by the road
Is lonely now and still,
For Robin is dead, and Alice is wed,
And Louie must hide at the mill;
Father is gray and silent,
And the mother's foot aches,
And you hear the clock with its faint tick-tock,
As you could not long ago.

The little brown house by the road,
From the swift train flashing by,
I watch it stand in the quiet land,
Under the quiet sky;
From the time of the golden daisies
To the leaves of the falling leaves,
From the time of seed to the weaving mead,
And the flush of the ripened sheaves.

The little brown house by the road,
Had come Thanksgiving Day,
And the windy air, if they felt it there,
Had the tender warmth of May.
The father's tongue was loosened,
And the mother's laugh was clear,
For the charm of love was poured above
The home in the waning year.

The little brown house by the road—
Oh! mother, old and gray,
Honest and true they return to you,
The children, who went away,
And he, who is off in the army,
And he, who is at the sea,
Never forget the tender they were set,
At home by the mother's knee.

What Women Ought To Do.

Women ought to be kinder to each other, the pretty ones to the plain, because of what they miss, in the gift and power of beauty; the plain to the beautiful, for the certain bitter in their experience. I have known women to whom their uncomely beauty was an annoyance, almost a curse. In my school-days a girl of southern beauty, with peachy cheeks, and dark, velvety eyes, used to be so plagued by the insolent, persecuting admiration of men on the cars that she gave up going into Boston for lessons. There was no affection about it. She was a modest, well-bred girl, and the notice she attracted would have been odious to any woman. Extremely beautiful women are seldom genuinely modest and unconcerned about their looks, far more so than plainer ones, anxious to "cultivate beauty." One of the most charming women of the Philip Livingstone family once told me she never knew she was at all pretty till she went to Europe long past thirty. Of course, she said, she knew her husband thought she was good-looking, but she supposed it was his partiality! If you can't see a kind of simplicity in this, sweeter than roses and milk complexion, and jewelry eyes, I am very sorry. To women who have their own way to make in the world, good looks beyond a decent, unobtrusive comeliness, are as much weight to carry as advantage. In the first place, no matter how modest, how worthy in themselves, they run dead against some woman's jealousy, and it will go hard, but she can embitter life for them. The malignancy of women towards women is something incomprehensible, enduring and a fiendish capability. It is the insanity of female natures. They cannot endure or believe in anything, frank, generous, and free of spirit. They would have all women secretive, crafty, calculating as themselves. We are on the verge of times that will call for more than beauty in women, more than cleverness in men. We have but twenty-five years taken breath from a conflict that was but preliminary to the wider struggle against injustice, not to race only, but to all people, in all relations, in our own right hands and in our own hearts. If there is not found with women faith, truth and that kindness which is God's likeness, then and before then, the striving for place and rule, the bitterness and jealousy shall in faded and lustreless womanhood

What Women Ought To Do.

Help them, for they are our co-laborers in the gospel. It is not for position, nor for the sake of getting into a sphere belonging to somebody else. It is for Christ's sake, for souls, for home, for heaven. It is a motive as high, and pure, and holy as any which inspires human conduct in any of its departments.

Help them by showing them their mistake, if they are making one of dangerous proportions, as some appear to think. If they are out of their place say so plainly. But you must give them good reasons, for the time has come when mind is moved by reason and less by custom or authority than was formerly the case.

WOMAN'S WORK.

And I entreat thee, also, true yoke-fellow, help these women which labored with me in the Gospel.—Philippians 4:3.

I take these words of Paul for my text to-day because I wish to group under them certain impressions concerning the work done by the recent gathering of the Illinois W. C. T. U.

First, I wish to say that it was one of the most skillfully managed assemblies it has ever been my fortune to attend. The aim is high, the plans are admirable, giving rise only to such mistakes as usually come from the largeness of plan and abundance of material ready for use. The W. C. T. U. is a great army with its agencies reaching out to every city and town and home. Its machinery is exact, yet elastic and pliant. It stands at the head of modern reformatory organizations. It shows the work of a master mind, and reveals that somebody has stood upon a mountain top of vision saying, We must conquer the world for Right.

It is a permanent organization. It meets once a year not to hear speeches, but to plan for work. It lives when the convention is dead. Its anniversary is only an accident, not the end of its career.

I fail to see in the conduct of this company of women any disposition to usurp or occupy any position which, by a right construction of Divine law, belongs to men. True, they speak, they pray, they sing, they vote. They think, and they express their thoughts; they study, and they declare the result of their studies.

But they do this because they see a danger, and the voices of men are, to a large degree, mute or muffled. They see a desperate need, and the hands larger than theirs are prone by the side because the heart is saying, "We can't help it." They are pushed by their own convictions of responsibility. If men have given it up, then let the women save the hope, they say. If the father will not speak strong words, then let the children cry in his ear. If men are judging merely by policies and parties, then let us go straight to God and learn from His law.

They seem to think that the poisoning of a child in Kansas by alcohol is actually as bad as the feeding of a giraffe with tobacco in New York.

It may be in some cases these women love the nobility involved. It would not be strange, for their brothers love and seek it. It may be their vision is somewhat obscured. They find plenty of such obscurity in those who are with them in the home, and it would not be remarkable if the example of the husband and father would have some influence.

But as I read their conduct, it is born out of a conviction that work which men ought to do is not being done, and in the evident lack, they will do what they can to supply the need.

I find in the movement also a clear conscience and direct approach to God, which in this time of fear and doubt and policy making, is exceedingly refreshing. These women inquire of God rather than men.

Their first question is, Is it right? and the right being found, action is a necessary consequence. God never wrote a law but He knew somebody would break it. But he wrote the law, and never wrote an amendment saying, You may, for a fair consideration, break it. God bless them, we say, for lifting our policies into the clear light of His countenance, and God keep them from acting in any other way.

And now I say, "Help these women." Help them, for they are our co-laborers in the gospel. It is not for position, nor for the sake of getting into a sphere belonging to somebody else. It is for Christ's sake, for souls, for home, for heaven. It is a motive as high, and pure, and holy as any which inspires human conduct in any of its departments.

that women are saying, If you will not speak, then we will speak. It is because men are confessing weakness and daily saying, We can't put down this demon, that women are saying, Then let us try. You stay at home and get our dinners ready; we will go out and fight.

If woman has our place it is because she is showing herself entitled to it. "They have gotten our place." Yes, I am inclined to think they have. We ought to have that splendid organization. We ought to map and district this state till we can reach every home and touch every man. We ought to do this work and let these women stay at home. They are in our place fighting in the field right before the cannon's month, and we are organizing home guards and telling these heroes how to fight and urging them above all things not to aim at the crowd around the ballot-box lest they hurt some of our friends! They are in our place and we should be ashamed of it and go and take it, saying to them, "Go back; we will fight this battle and die, if need be, fighting for the home."

"Help these women," by doing the rough work ourselves, by our prayers, our earnestness and faith. Help them. Don't make them feel they have committed an unpardonable sin if their policy is bold and pure, or if for conscience sake they chafe to say that opposition to the wrong should be expressed at the ballot box as well as in prayer meeting and convention.

The time is coming when the pure things shall live and the base shall die, when the side which God takes shall prevail. Let woman go as fast as she can after the truth, let her gain all she can for the truth. If man is too weak or too confused to lead, then let him thankfully follow where the way is made plain.

Stabbed in the Dark.

"Martha," asked a wild-eyed man, emerging from a dark and lowly closet with a hurried tread and an ill-dissimulated air of composure, and in a general state of chaotic anxiety. "Martha, what is in that high-sounding, square black bottle with a short neck, on the third shelf?" "Kerosene liniment for grandpa's rheumatism," replied the good wife; "why?" "Oh, nothing!" he answered, carelessly, as one who had just swallowed an earth-

They said no more, but in a down-town drug store a man of sorrowful countenance sat a long time that night eating raw quinine out of a saucer with a spoon, trying to get a strange, foreign-looking taste out of his mouth, which, he said, had crept in there unawares.—Barclay.

A Common Cold

Is often the beginning of serious affections of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and Lungs. Therefore, the importance of early and effective treatment cannot be overestimated. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral may always be relied upon for the speedy cure of a Cold or Cough.

Last January I was attacked with a severe Cold, which, by neglect and frequent exposure, became worse, finally settling on my lungs. A terrible cough soon followed, accompanied by pains in the chest, from which I suffered intensely. After trying various remedies, without obtaining relief, I commenced taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was Speedily Cured.

I am satisfied that this remedy saved my life.—Jno. Webster, Farrington, R. I.

I contracted a severe cold, which steadily developed into pneumonia, presenting dangerous and obstinate symptoms. My physician at once ordered the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. His instructions were followed, and the result was a rapid and permanent cure.—H. E. Simpson, Rogers Prairie, Texas.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Cold which settled on my Lungs. I consulted various physicians, and took the medicines they prescribed, but received only temporary relief. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking two bottles of this medicine I was cured. Since then I have given the Pectoral to my children, and consider it for Colds, Coughs, and All Throat and Lung Diseases, ever used in my family.—Robert Vandervoort, Mendocino, Pa.

Some time ago I took a slight Cold, which, being neglected, grew worse, and settled on my lungs. I had a hacking cough, and was very weak. Those who knew me best considered my life to be in great danger. I continued to suffer until I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle of this valuable medicine cured me, and I feel that I owe the preservation of my life to its curative powers.—Mrs. Anna Lockwood, Akron, New York.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is considered, here, the one great remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, and is more in demand than any other medicine of its class.—J. F. Roberts, Magnolia, Ark.

Apple Shipments.

The S. S. Belair sailed from Kingsport Tuesday evening for London, G. B., direct, taking about 9,000 barrels of apples.

Much credit is due Mr. Collings, of London, and Mr. Whitman, his agent here, for having demonstrated beyond cavil the fact that ocean steamers can be loaded with apples right here among the orchards.

With these improvements, a very large portion of the apple shipments, previous to the new year, can be made by steamships sailing from these ports, and the quantity there is likely to be produced in this valley in a few years, will enable our shippers to dispatch weekly boats for the supply of new markets which are now almost entirely supplied by apples from the United States.

Our Offer.

We have just made arrangements with the great agricultural weekly, Farm and Fireside, by which we have secured a real bargain for our readers, and we want every person in the county to have the benefit of it.

Our readers must not confound this offer with those sometimes made of cheap American premium papers which sometimes scum over after a few months' publication.

In another column we begin the report of the Directors of the King's Co. Agricultural Society for the past year. It will be found very interesting and we would advise all interested in agriculture to give it careful perusal.

The Presidential election in the United States is over, the agony is past; and we can now only wait to see the result of a change of administration.

King's Co. Agricultural Society.

REPORT OF DIRECTORS FOR THE YEAR.

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN.—The Directors of the King's County Agricultural Society beg to present a report of proceedings during the past year. At the annual meeting in November last, the Society resolved to hold the next annual meeting in the evening to encourage a larger attendance.

The Society is in a prosperous state; our membership is increasing, and the Treasurer has a balance on the right side. Instead of granting the ten-dollar subsidy to Avonport, the bull "Marquis" was purchased and placed in Mr. Charles Reid's keeping according to the agreement in the hands of the Secretary.

The Provincial Exhibition was held in Truro, and our county was fairly well represented. Hants carried off the first prize for the best collection of apples, but the whole exhibit from King's was superior.

The Holstein cow's great flow of milk of a good quality, places her ahead of all others for cheese-making. There is no doubt in my mind that a cheese factory properly conducted would pay in this locality, and the Holstein cow in connection with that industry would be most profitable.

Weather.—One word will describe the summer of 1888—wet; while the winter was intensely cold, with very little snow and a number of thaws. My notes begin a year ago, after our annual meeting.

What's the Matter With This? To the Editors of the ACADIAN: DEAR SIRS,—In the Windsor Tribune of the 10th, I notice "Canada's downfall; our plan of defence," which is all very well as far as it goes.

was a week of fine weather the last of August, but with this exception there have been not more than two fine days in succession during the whole season. This is altogether unprecedented in our history.

The Strike at Londonderry. For the past ten days the strike at the West Mines has been the chief topic of conversation here. Strikes are very rare in this quarter and do not, as a rule, take a very serious turn.

I have been sick with Liver and Kidney Complaint and night sweat, for over two years, most of the time confined to my bed. A doctor attended me who failed to cure me; and after trying many patent medicines that were recommended for the above complaints, which failed also, I was advised to try Doctor Norton's Dock Blood Purifier.

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., NOV. 16, 1888

Local and Provincial.

Snow.—The first snow of the season fell on Friday last. It soon disappeared.

CLERICAL.—The pulpit of the Baptist church was occupied on Sunday evening last by Rev. I. J. Skinner.

A GOOD PIG.—Mr Charles E. Bishop, of Greenwich Ridge, killed a spring pig last week which dressed 285 lbs.

FRATERNAL VISIT.—Wolfville Division, S. of T., has been invited to pay Lily of the Valley Division, of Port Williams, a fraternal visit this evening.

BLINKBONNIE.—Mr J. S. Dodd's orchard produced this year 700 barrels of marketable apples, beside a large quantity of pears and plums. Last year it produced 600 barrels.

THE MOSSELL.—The schooner Moscell from Sydney for Wolfville with cargo of coal is reported in harbor and will be here probably in a few days. The report circulated this week that she was lost is incorrect.

BUILDING.—Messrs F. W. Woodworth and Martin Pick are getting ready to build residences on Chapel St. just south of the Methodist church. The cellars have been excavated and the foundations are now being laid.

PLATE GLASS.—We understand Mr O. D. Harris intends having a plate glass front in his new store. This will be the first in Wolfville and the second in the county, Mr A. E. Calkin's new store, in Kentville, being the first.

BIG TURNIP.—Mr Robert E. Bishop has succeeded in growing a turnip on his farm, in the Halfway River valley, which measures 35 inches and weighs 21 1/2 lbs. The variety is the 'Sweetish Pink-top.' Can it be beaten?

THANKSGIVING DAY.—Thanksgiving day passed off quietly and was quietly observed as a holiday. Services were held in the various churches and in College Hall. In the latter place a sermon was preached at 11 o'clock a. m. by Rev. S. McBlack, of Kentville.

MORE LIGHT.—We notice that a street lamp has been placed on the corner of College Avenue and Schoolhouse Street. We are told the citizens of the street pay for its erection and maintenance. This is a move onward and we trust soon to see our town thoroughly lighted. Those who live in the vicinity of College Avenue cannot fail being impressed with the great advantage of having proper light on a dark night.

Oats and Feed; Lime, $1 50 per cask at Prat's.

PAPERS.—Some unknown friend, we presume Captain Clarence Eagles, sends us a bundle of Buenos Ayres papers.—A former resident of Wolfville, Mr Dennis O'Brien, has our thanks for California papers. Mr O'Brien is now at Riverside, Cal.—Mr Jas T. Davison sends us late Oregon papers.—Mr A. K. Bars keeps us well supplied with St. Louis, Mo., papers. These and others will please accept thanks.

THE RECITAL.—Those who did not attend the recital given last Friday evening in College Hall by Misses Brown and Wallace, missed a treat such as the people of Wolfville not often have the privilege of enjoying. An excellent programme was provided in which the ability of Miss Brown as a sweet singer, Miss Wallace as a talented reader, and Miss Williams as a skilled performer on the piano, was fully shown. The ladies will repeat the recital in Lovitt Hall, Kentville, on Monday evening, when we can assure the people of our sister town a musical and literary feast.

WANTED.—1000 Doz. Eggs per week, highest prices paid cash or trade at C. E. BISHOP'S.

SEA AND CARGO DAMAGED.—The new schooner Mildred J. McLean, Munson master, of Yarmouth, arrived at Port Williams on Friday last, there being no water with a general cargo. There being no water for her at the wharves she was placed for her at the wharves. Saturday she grounded on the south bank of the river and when the tide went down she was stuck. When she was righted next tide it was found that six feet of water was in her hold. Her false keel or shoe is entirely off; the after section is started. Her cargo of flour and meal was badly damaged. She was towed to Hantsport yesterday where she will be repaired.

Two hundred stiff and soft hats for 25 cents, 50 cents, 75 cents, and $1.00.

They are the best value ever offered.

C. H. BORDEN. Wolfville.

Local and Provincial.

ANOTHER RAFT.—A six hundred feet raft, containing about 20,000 sticks, is to be built at Joggins this winter, for R. H. Robertson.

RUSHES AND NETTLES.—Rev. Mr Friggens lectured recently in New Glasgow on "Rushes and Nettles." The lecture was highly spoken of by the local papers. We hope the Rev. gentleman may be induced to pay his old friends in Wolfville a visit and give us another lecture.

See the Yankee Lantern for 75c at B. G. Bishop's.

A GOOD YIELD.—Mr Henry Marshall, of Williamstown, raised this season 10 bushels of oats from a half bushel of seed. They weighed 40 lbs. to the bushel. The oats were one of the varieties given out on the Canadian Pacific Exhibition car on its first visit here.—Bridgetown Monitor.

MAY FLOWERS.—It seems strange to have mayflowers in November, yet such is the fact. A little girl—Anna Fraser Curry, daughter of Mr Thos Curry (corner) brought to the Journal sanctum today, a bunch of these flowers picked on the Baxter farm, Back Road. Out of season, surely.—Hants Journal.

Choice Labrador herring in 1/2 barrels at Prat's.

RAPID WRITING.—Mr S. G. Snell, whose card appears in our columns, seems inclined to do the "right thing" by his students, as the following from the Windsor Tribune proves:

The gold prize for fastest writing, (85 words a minute) is awarded to Mr W. J. Smith, collegiate school. That is certainly rapid writing for students on "exam's," taking notes, or general business writing. Another gold prize is offered for the best specimen of rapid writing open to every student taking lessons of Prof. Snell.

Lots of Stove pipe, elbows, coal beds &c., cheap and good, at B. G. Bishop's.

COUNCILLORS.—Elections for councillors take place on Tuesday next in Wards 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 13, and 14. In the other wards the retiring councillors are elected without opposition, except in Ward 6, where G. A. Bishop takes the place of B. Webster; Ward 10, where the place is claimed for H. Ewing; and Ward 12, which returns W. R. L. Foster. In the wards mentioned the candidates are as follows: Ward 3, Joshua Chase and W. E. Roscoe; 4, Dr J. N. Fitch and W. J. Burgess; 5, David Barbeau and Thos H. Morse; 7, F. J. Fielden and W. Anderson; 8, Dr Bars and J. W. Hamilton; 13, N. J. Lyons and Rupert Caldwell; 14, Jas Northup and C. O. Cook.

Just In.—Roofing Paint, Carriage Paints, leads, glass, &c. &c., for sale low at B. G. Bishop's.

The Grand Division. The Grand Division convened in forty-fifth annual session in Halifax on Wednesday last week. The session proved of a very interesting nature and was largely attended by visitors and friends. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows:

G W A.—T W Offen, Halifax. G Scribe—Rev. R A Temple, Halifax. G Treas.—H A Taylor, Halifax. G Chap.—J R Skinner, Wittenburg, Colchester. G Con.—I L Barnhill, Shubenacadie. G Sent.—R Southerland, River Phillip. The subject of District Divisions in connection with the adoption of the report of the agency committee was debated on by the session with considerable warmth. Some doubted their usefulness, but the general feeling was that such an organization was of great necessity and destined to do a great work in the future. Before the debate was concluded the feeling was unanimous in their favor.

The session closed by a grand soiree in the evening by the visiting members of the Grand Division and the city Divisions. A most enjoyable time was spent. An extensive programme was presented and greatly appreciated by all.

The grand old order of the Sons of Temperance has done a vast work in the past and its present standing shows that the work is not deminishing. The Grand Scribe's report places the number of Divisions at 303, with a membership of 15,867. The receipts of subordinate Divisions amounted to $2,143.88, and the amount of cash on hand at present and invested is placed at $13,758.31. This is a creditable showing and shows somewhat of the magnitude of the work done by this great temperance body. May its future be one of great success.

—Mr Parker has a fine show of furniture in his new warehouses. He represents this paper in Berwick and takes subscriptions for it and orders for advertisements and job printing.

—Miss Effie, daughter of C. P. Illey, Esq., late graduate of the Boston Training school in the Mass. General Hospital, has accepted a position as nurse in Mr Moody's school, Northfield, Mass.

—We are pleased to welcome Mrs Ambrose Vaughan and family of Gasperau to Berwick, who have this week taken possession of French Villa vacated by Capt. A. Burns. Mrs Vaughan contemplates keeping open house for both local and transient borders. We doubt not she will prove a worthy successor of the late very popular Clifton house. This house is centrally located with the P. O. across the street and only five minutes walk from the railway station.

—Berwick has ample room for expansion. Several years since in anticipation of future growth it was laid out in squares, and streets opened, affording room for building purposes. On the north side of the railroad there are four streets within less than one mile running parallel east and west and these are intersected by three streets running north and south all within the limits of half a mile. On the north of the railroad alone there are probably not less than twelve miles of building lots yet available within one mile of the station or half a mile of the post office. The gossip that all building lots are taken up is absurd. Of course all cannot live next door to the post office.

—The example set on Commercial St. is worthy of imitation in two respects. First the buildings are not crowded up to the street but placed at a respectable distance from it, and in the second place the building lots are sufficiently large to isolate the buildings in case of fire. In building up the new streets both these features should be kept prominently in view. One house crowded into the street injures the adjacent property and disfigures the whole neighborhood. And yet we sometimes meet with men so penurious and void of all good taste as to do this very thing. We suggest to those who have the building lots for sale that one condition of the purchase shall be that no building be located less than thirty feet from the highway. A little attention to these matters now will be a boon to our village in future years. As residents of Berwick we should all pride ourselves in having the neatest, cleanest, and best laid-out village in the province.

The Grand Division. The Grand Division convened in forty-fifth annual session in Halifax on Wednesday last week. The session proved of a very interesting nature and was largely attended by visitors and friends. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows:

AN ORB.—Last week's issue of the Hants Journal has this: "Our neighbor over the way gets credit from the Star for 'common sense' because it takes a stand on the job printing question different from that of the Journal. It is well to get such credit occasionally, certainly, and we do not by any means envy our contemporary the distinguished honor he has gained at the hands of so brilliant a journalistic orb."

PROPOSED EXHIBITION.—At a meeting of the Dartmouth Agricultural society held on the 6th inst, the circular from the Windsor Agricultural society was read, suggesting that this county (Halifax) unite with Kings and Hants to hold an Exhibition next autumn in Windsor. There was a strong desire expressed that those counties should join with this society to hold an exhibition in Dartmouth. The matter was left in the hands of the society to negotiate.—Western Chronicle.

CATARRH, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS, HAY FEVER.

A NEW HOME TREATMENT. Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks. N. B.—For catarrhal discharges peculiar to females a special remedy is a specific. A. H. DIXON & SON, 303 West King St., Toronto, Canada.—Scientific American.

Sufferers from catarrhal troubles should carefully read the above.
