The Cholera.—According to the Cork Examiner of Wednesday, there is no longer the slightest doubt of the fearful pestilence having visited that city.

A recent balloting for recruits at Berlin disclosed the fact that the male population is physically degenerating in height, and conformation.

It is asserted in the London Advertiser and the Morning Herald, that the Home Secretary, Lord Palmerston, has refused the usual Queen's letter, ordering collections to be made for the Society for Propagating the Gospel in Foreign Parts.

At the recent Hitchen poultry show a game cock and hen (from a Rajah in India) were valued at £1,000; and a hen of a new species called Partrimgan, or grouse-footed Poland.

SPIRIT RAFFINGS.—The Paris correspondent of the Literary Gazette writes: "Such is the terrible effect that it has created, that it has altogether weaned some persons from their ordinary avocations.

The screw steam-ship Marshall, 300 tons, has been lost, and all on board. She left the Elbe on Sunday, having on board a valuable cargo, and 150 emigrants.

The annual consumption of ivory in Sheffield is about £30,000 in value, and about five hundred persons are employed in working it up for trade.

The Rev. G. Fletcher, who has just completed his 106th year, preached last Sunday in Hope Chapel, St. Luke's, London.

One of the large perfume manufacturers of Grasse, South of France, uses annually 80,000 pounds of orange blossoms.

At the Privy Council, held on the 25th, Parliament was ordered to be further prorogued from the 29th ult.

We learn that Mr. S. Wilkes, a miner, subscribed a guinea a day towards the Wesleyan Missionary Society for the year 1852; for the year 1853 Mr. Wilkes is subscribing seven guineas a day.

A LITERARY CENSUS.—It is estimated that Charles Dickens realized £15,000 by the advertisements in which the numbers of Bleek-house were enshrined.

New Orleans, Dec. 15.—Santa Anna proclaimed Dictator.—A private letter, dated Vera Cruz, 8th, states that Gen. Santa Anna was proclaimed Dictator for ten years.

It was reported that the American minister, Mr. Gadsden, had demanded of Mexico the immediate confirmation of the Garay grant, or the United States would take possession of the Mesilla Valley.

The Harpers.—Yesterday, Professor Charles Anthon, of Columbia College, was informed that several copies of a book had been issued from the press of the Harpers.

It is a mistake to imagine that the natives of the Turkish empire are wholly excluded from any friendly intercourse with the women of those countries.

CIVIL WAR IN PERU.—By way of Panama we are informed that Don Diego Elias has succeeded in his insurrection in the north of Peru.

The government consider his movements as dangerous, that Gen. Turcios, the minister of War, has gone with three hundred troops to the north to put down the insurrection at once.

The Bolivian army in the south has passed the frontiers of Peru, headed by General Belzu himself.

The position of the government may therefore be regarded as somewhat critical; in the North, civil war is dreaded, from discontent, with Elias as its mover.

It appears that Belzu, on the 30th of October, crossed the Desaguadero in the vessel of Zeplir on raft, with two battalions of foot and one squadron of cavalry.

From Oregon.—The overland arrivals continued to be large. Many parties had suffered severely on the road.

Dr. Evans, of Governor Stevens, surveying expedition, arrived at Portland on the 25th. He reports favorably on the feasibility of some route of the Mississippi to Puget Sound.

We sincerely trust our island is rapidly returning to that healthy and salubrious state for which it has long been famous.

We had a heavy gale from the South East, on the night of Wednesday last, which nearly completed the destruction of the fruit still remaining on the trees after the long N. E. storm.

It is stated in the Canada papers that Lord Elgin will return to Canada in time to open the coming session of the Provincial Parliament.

A correspondent of the Miramichi Gleaser says that an old man, a native of England, named John D. S. Shotton, aged 88; was burned to death at Cocagne, while in a state of intoxication.

HAZARD'S GAZETTE.

Tuesday, January 10, 1855.

We have been reminded by the letter of N. L., in our last, of one of the many subjects which it has long been our intention to bring before the notice of the public.

We shall not forget the establishment of a Public Library; but will, in the course of the winter, and while the Legislature is in session, commence our ideas on this important topic.

The Town Clock, however, we should be disposed to wonder why there had not been one year since, did we not know from experience how hard it is to get that capricious monster the Public to think and act seriously and consistently on any subject.

The advantages of improvements of a municipal character are suggested; that we pointed out the necessity of the town being incorporated.

There were a body of other such anomalies—as N. L., and very many others are—to have a Town Clock, and willing to contribute to the expense of getting it, could apply, the thing might be done without difficulty.

All that would have to be done would be to prove to the satisfaction of the Corporation that there was a certain number of the community willing to subscribe the sum of £50, or whatever might be necessary for that purpose.

As matters stand, however, we would advise N. L. to appoint one or two with him, open a subscription list and go round with it; and when subscribers had been offered to the desired amount, the would recommend the calling a public meeting of the subscribers, and then determining as to how the clock was to be procured, and where set up, which being settled, a committee to carry the views of the meeting into effect would follow, as a matter of course.

There could not be a more eligible place, at present, than the tower of the Catholic chapel, which has been built with the ultimate view of being furnished with a time-piece.

We have said, at present, because we think that the Marble House, which no doubt will be shortly erected, will when finished be not complete without being ornamented by a Clock.

But some years must necessarily elapse before a Public Market House, if built as it ought to be, on a sufficiently extensive scale, to meet not only the demands of the present generation, but the increasing demands of posterity, will in that state of finish to allow of this necessary, we may almost say, indispensable appendage.

We are not aware of what the cost of such an article would be, or rather of what would be a sufficient sum to procure one which would answer the purpose—for they can be a matter of cost to be had at almost any price varying according to size, finish, &c. This however might be easily ascertained by writing to London or Liverpool, New York or Boston.

With a little spirit and energy on the part of those, who carry the subscription list around, we doubt not, that a sufficient fund would soon be obtained for this highly important and equally necessary improvement.

A person calling himself "An Insurer in the Company," asks, through the medium of the Weekly Advertiser, for information which, if he were really what he terms himself, he ought to be competent to afford rather than ask for.

At all events, the Secretary of the Charitable Mutual Insurance Company would have furnished him with the same answer which he has politely forwarded to us. It would seem that the Company have made it a rule, that they will patronize no paper that does not comply with the following Resolution, passed Wednesday 11th Feb. 1855—

Ordered, That the Secretary be empowered to treat with the other publishers of Newspapers on the same terms provided they insure in this Company."

Had Mr. Pippy and Mr. Whelan insured in the company, they would have had the benefit of the above determination of the Company.

The Company may not think perhaps that they lose so much, as the proprietor of the Advertiser thinks they do, by not making use of the columns of his journal. Mr. Pippy, in evidence at St. Eleanor's in the case of Conroy vs Pippy stated that the circulation of his paper was about 400, now that of Hazard's Gazette is considerably more than double that number, and on the increase.

The number of copies of the Standard issued by Mr. Pippy is upwards of 600, so that between the two, the Mutual Insurance Company stand a chance of having the benefit it aims to confer pretty extensively known, without the aid of either the Royal Gazette or Weekly Advertiser.
