North Bruce.

In the by-election for the House of Commons held in North Bruce, Ontario, on Tuesday of last week, Tolmie, Liberal, was successful with a majority of about 350. The Grit papers are making quite a hullabaloo about the result, claiming it as a great Liberal victory. It is true the seat was carried in 1904 by a Conservative with a small majority; but when all the circumstances are taken into account the reversal of this at the recent by-election can scarcely be regarded in the light of a change of political sentiment in the riding. North Bruce as formerly constituted was a very close constituency. From 1872 to 1882 it returned a Liberal at every election. In 1882 McNeill, Conservative captured the riding by a majority of 83. From 1882 to 1900, McNeill held the riding, but with very small majorities; in 1900 he had a majority of only 3. McNeill died and in a by-election in 1901 Halliday, Conservative, carried the riding by a majority of 11. Observing the tenacity with which the riding held to Conservative principles, the Laurier Government determined to fix it by gerrymandering into North Bruce, the Riding of West Bruce, which was a traditional Grit constituency. In 1900 West Bruce went Liberal by 423; consequently when this Riding was incorporated into North Bruce the reconstructed constituency had a normal majority of about 400 and the Conservatives of the old riding of North Bruce were disfranchised. In the general election of 1904, Tolmie, who had been the Grit member for West Bruce wanted the nomination for the new Riding; but he was beaten in the convention by Campbell. This greatly angered Tolmie and his friends and they determined to give Campbell no assistance in the election. The result was that Bland, Conservative, was returned by a majority of 107. Bland died and Tolmie was brought out by the Grits for the by-election which he succeeded in carrying as above stated. The gerrymander effected its intended result. But the success of Mr. Tolmie was not altogether left to the gerrymander. "Machine" politics and "human devices" were very much in evidence, and we may hear more about this election. In this connection the attitude of the Patriot is quite remarkable. This daily paper that has, up to the present time, furnished no evidence that it has heard of by-elections in East Elgin and North Renfrew, immediately proclaims the result of the North Bruce contest, heading its account with display head lines in type large enough for show-posters. Then it works itself up into white heat over the matter. It insinuates that the Liberals of North Bruce were not so foolish as to pay any attention to the exposure of the London "election scandals" effected "by Magistrate Denison," and that "the sooner the Denison faction, who are engaged in exposing Liberal election frauds" are knocked out of business the better." No doubt the Patriot and its friends are very much chagrined over the exposure of Grit election scandals in London and elsewhere; but who would have thought that the sheet would be so unguarded as to blurt out to the world an expression of the keen anguish it feels over even a partial exposure of its favorite election "methods of its political friends and supporters? Wait till we hear exposed in the course the methods by which the Grits conducted the North Bruce election!

Rogues Disagreeing.

The fight between different sections of the Liberals in Quebec County during the recent election contest was the cause of some surprising revelations by some of the Government organs. Certain Government favorites, in receipt of large sums in the shape of rakes-off, gave their support to Robitaille instead of Amyot, Sir Wilfrid's nominee. This so enraged the organs in question that, with involuntary candor, they blurted out the story of several of these dishonest boodling transactions. Among the papers that so far forgot their cunning as to engage in these exposures was Le Soleil, which professes to speak especially for Sir Wilfrid. The Quebec Chronicle, referring to these exposures, thus refers to Le Soleil's participation in the public confession: "Week after week it had been drawing on the assumed mental incapacity of its readers to assure them there were no such things as rakes-off, and that all tales to the contrary were wicked Tory inventions not worth paying attention to, but, as the fight progressed, and Mr. Robitaille's prospects of success waxed greater, whilst those of Mr. Amyot diminished in proportion. It grew spiteful, and more than hinted at its knowledge of a rake-off which had apparently been going on for years. It boasted that the Government departments are in the habit of buying every year some six hundred thousand gallons of methylated spirits from two firms of distillers and a certain Quebec politician, getting a judicious hint, informed these firms that the Government intended to buy a quarter of that amount or a hundred and fifty thousand gallons from him. Thereupon the firms interested proceeded to buy him off, and engaged to pay him the modest sum of sixteen thousand dollars per annum, if he would only efface himself. The arrangement must have been in force for six years at least, for Le Soleil calculated that the Quebec politician has already received ninety-six thousand dollars for the not very difficult task of doing nothing. Now Le Soleil is not only a Government organ, but it is supposed to be very closely indeed in touch with the chiefs, and it is highly improbable that this rake-off should have been going on for six years without its being aware of this fact; yet it is only when the rakeroff has incurred its displeasure that it takes the public into its confidence." In view of this statement by the principal Government organ in Quebec, the question will naturally arise; what kind of profits are these firms making out of their deal with the Government that they can afford to pay such a large sum to retain it? What manner of Government has the country got that such transactions are possible under it? This is only an isolated case; there are hundreds of others. Some of them were exposed by the opposition last session; and next session we may expect a continuance of these exposures, if the Government will not too successfully block the way. Is that the kind of a Government the people of Canada want?

Comment on Mr. Fielding's Election.

In his comment on the result of the election in Shelburne and Queen's, the Mail and Empire, among other things say: "Finance Minister Fielding has been re-elected for Queens and Shelburne by a majority of nearly 900. This circumstance is calculated to set people thinking. In November, 1904, Mr. Fielding carried the constituency by a majority of 385. The election was corrupt. The agents of Mr. Fielding purchased so many votes that the courts unanimously vacated the seat. Had there been but a few purchases Mr. Fielding could have held the constituency. But seeing that the bribery was committed on so large a scale as to make it apparent that if there had been a clean election Mr. Fielding would not have been returned the court had to declare that the Minister was not really elected. Since the election of Mr. Fielding by the purchase of a sufficiently large number of votes to give him a majority of 385 the public has learned a good deal with reference to the operation at Ottawa. It has been discovered that dishonesty pervades the departments. Politicians enjoy "rakes-off" on public business. Land required for the Government is bought by middlemen and is resold to the Government at three times the market price. Land for sale by the Government is passed to other middlemen, who get it for a song and sell it at an enormous advance. It has also been learned that the Government has in operation a system by which it either buys votes or robs the people of their franchises through the manipulation of the voters' lists or the ballot boxes. The revelations have been such as to startle the civilized world. They are matters of comment wherever the English language is spoken. The London press has just voiced the horror with which respectable people view the awful operations of the Laurier Government. "Can anybody believe that the people of Queens and Shelburne have been so delighted by the revelations recently made that they have changed the bought majority of 385 in 1904 to a clean and voluntary majority of nearly 900 in 1906? Will it be assumed that the electors having knowledge of the rogery which takes place at Ottawa have rushed to the polls to endorse it? The verdict of Queens and Shelburne is suggestive of the victories of the Ross Government in its last days. As the big majority at the Sault served to emphasize the villainy of the machine, so the unnatural Fielding majority in Queens and Shelburne is calculated to intensify the growing feeling against the Ottawa politicians."

An Attempted Defence Founded on Falsehood.

A few days ago we laid before our readers the main facts of one of the latest scandalous transactions of the Government, to be known as the Alberta Land Deal. In this transaction, carried on in the face of the exposure of the Saskatchewan Land Deal, the Government hands over more than 380,000 acres of land, at virtually $1 an acre, to speculators who are confident of being able to sell these lands to settlers at from $5 to $25 an acre. The defence attempted to be set up by the Interior Department is that these were "arid lands" and unfit for settlement until such time as they are irrigated. Upon this attempted defence the Toronto Mail comments as follows:

"The defence is punctured with untruth, either direct or implied. In the first place, the lands are not arid lands. Mr. Saunders, the former assistant Government engineer of irrigation, has reported upon them, and he says 'the soil throughout the entire block is first class,' and the whole block—in its uncultivated state—produces 'a most luxuriant growth of nutritious grasses.' Another report says the soil and climate of the district permit of the production of practically all cereals, including both summer and winter wheat, and of fodder crops, vegetables, and small fruits. A strange country this, if it is 'arid.' The land which is turned over to a syndicate is not turned over as the defence states, that it may be irrigated. Three-fourths of it does not require irrigation and the syndicate has to irrigate but one-fourth of the entire area. The works to be constructed, namely, ditches, are not 'costly' to the syndicate. The terms are such that the country pays for these irrigation ditches and the company owns them. The scheme for making the country pay is operated through the arrangement under which the scale is made to the syndicate. Three dollars per acre is the price the syndicate has to give for the land. But if the syndicate provides the irrigation works to irrigate one-fourth of the block, then the price is reduced to $1 an acre. In a word, we knock off $3 an acre, or on the 380,000 acres no less a sum than $760,000, to pay for the irrigation works."—Halifax Herald.

A Terrific Storm.

The terrific rain and wind storm that commenced on Wednesday last and continued almost unabated from that time up to today was one of the very worst that has ever visited this Province. Sunday it did not rain, but the wind blew at a terrific rate, forty miles an hour a considerable part of the time. On Monday the rain set in again and the weather was about as disagreeable as could reasonably be had at the same temperature.

Extraordinarily high tides constituted a feature of the storm. In addition to the Turret Bell, elsewhere referred to, a report comes from Priest Pond of another wrecked vessel. She was a large vessel loaded with dried fish, and she went to pieces. The crew were saved. No other marine accident of serious moment has been learned of along the Island coast; but many boats have been sunk and broken up at Tracadie, Bastico, Charlottetown and other places. In Charlottetown the eastern end of the new addition to the Prince of Wales College was blown down; many chimneys were blown down, including the high chimney of the Hotel Victoria, which crashed through the roof above the dining room Sunday morning. Innumerable trees were blown down and uprooted, and buildings of one kind and another throughout the country have been demolished out of the face. It has been such a storm in force and continuance as the "old inhabitant" has not experienced. The probabilities are that we have not by any means learned the extent of the damage done. Telegraph wires are down in all directions and no news comes from the mainland. The storm prevented the Empress from returning from Point du Chene Friday and prevented her from leaving Summerside Monday. The Northumberland crossed between here and Pictou both days.

Big Steamer Ashore.

On Thursday night last, in the middle of the terrific storm and rain, the steamer Turret Bell, owned by McKenzie & Mann, and chartered by the Inverness Railway and Coal Company, to carry coal from Port Hastings to Montreal, was driven ashore head on at Cable Head, about six miles from Head St. Peter's Bay. She was on her way from Montreal to Port Hastings, empty. She went aground on a ledge of rocks, about two hundred yards from the shore, between Lewis's and McEwen's lobster factories. She lies on an even keel and appears to be in good condition. The tide was very high when she went aground, and when it receded there was not more than five feet of water at her bow. The waves break about three hundred yards outside of her and roll past her to the shore. On Saturday F. W. Hyndman, Esq., Lloyd's agent, visited the scene, and the captain sent a message ashore in a bottle, asking for assistance and desiring to have the owners notified. The sea was so high that no boats could live in it. The crew appeared to be all right on board. The fury of the storm and the tremendous force of wind on Sunday, blowing directly on shore drove the steamer further on to her rocky bed. Mr. Hyndman sent word to the owners and underwriters, and powerful tugs and other apparatus have been ordered to the scene. It seems extremely doubtful if the steamer can ever be got off. She is valued at $100,000, and is insured for about three-fourths of her value.

Monday's intelligence from the steamer was to the effect that the gale of Sunday, had driven her within twenty yards of the shore and turned her round almost broadside on. The waves were dashing over her; but she was quite firmly planted on her rocky bed. The captain came ashore and reported the crew all right. The steamer was leaking a little, but not much anxiety was felt, as now the crew could be got off if necessary. The tug Douglas Thomas left Sydney Saturday night to come to the assistance of the steamer.

A survey was held on the stranded steamer Turret Bell, yesterday, at Cable Head, by Lloyds surveyor, Pope Welsh, and Captain Brown of the Stanley, and T. G. Taylor of the Gulaars. They condemned the steamer, which will be abandoned by the owners to the underwriters who will pay the insurance, and dispose of the vessel as they deem fit. There was five feet of water in the steamer's hold. The captain and crew were expected to land last night and come to Charlottetown, whence they leave for their homes. The captain's wife was brought off the steamer in a boatman's chair, attached to a cable extending from the ship to the shore. On Saturday night the crew made an attempt to leave, but the heavy sea prevented them. The steamer is about 20 feet from the bank and will be high and dry at low tide. The stranding of the steamer is attributed to the strong current which carried her far out of the course.

The Montreal Star says bluntly that "to expect that any Canadian constituency would reject the Finance Minister of Government sure of power for two or three years, and the heir-apparent to the throne," would have been to expect a miracle.

A despatch received here from Moscow of the News agency says a band of masked robbers raided Lookinoff monastery, last Sunday night. They killed the Abbot General, the Prior and a Monk. They despoiled the chapel of its sacred objects and got away with a large sum of money.

At a meeting of the Provincial Government held on Wednesday last, Mr. Mathew Smith, M. L. A., was appointed a member of the Executive, without portfolio, as successor to the late Hon. George Simpson, his former colleague, and Mr. Henry Smith was appointed a member of the School Board in place of Dr Taylor, deceased.

In the death of Mr. John Bolger, proprietor of the Railway House, a respected and well known citizen, has departed. He had only been ill a short time when he succumbed. The late Mr. Bolger was born in Ireland and for many years conducted a hotel in Charlottetown. He was a brother of Mr. Simon Bolger, proprietor of the Ocean House here. Four daughters are left to mourn their loss.

Referring to the resolve of the Newfoundland Government to test the validity of the Modus Vivendi, the London Daily Graphic says it has placed the Imperial Government in an awkward predicament. The incident's significant illustration of the laxity and the carelessness with which the Modus Vivendi was negotiated. It is difficult to see what the Home Government can do by way of fulfilling its pledges to the United States, if Newfoundland stands firm.

The schooner Omega coal laden for Charlottetown, was ashore at Fox Point, N. S., Sunday night and is a total wreck. The crew were rescued in an exhausted condition. The Omega had a cargo of coal for the Rogers Hardware Co., St. Peter's Canal, and commanded by Capt. McLean of Charlottetown. The cargo was insured.

Danie Fraser, a young man eighteen years of age, son of David Fraser, carpenter, McLean's Brook, was killed at the works of the Standard Drain Pipe Co., New Glasgow, N. S., last Wednesday morning. He was employed on the tramway used for bringing clay into the plant and in some way got under the wheels of the car. He lived three hours but succumbed to internal injuries. This is the first fatal accident at the Drain Pipe Works.

On Thursday last, Feast of All Saints, the high Mass in the Cathedral was sung by Rev. Joseph Gallant, and the sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. McLellan. His Lordship the Bishop was present in the Sanctuary. On Friday, Feast of All Saints, Solemn Pontifical Mass of Requiem was celebrated by his Lordship the Bishop, with Rev. Dr. McLellan as sub-deacon, and Rev. Father Gaudet as sub-deacon, and Very Rev. Dr. Morrison as Master of Ceremonies. After Mass the Liber was sung and the absolution, at the catafalque, was sung by his Lordship.

An express train from Boston to New York, over the Boston and Albany railroad was stalled on the tracks of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railway at 16th street and Park Avenue, New York on Thursday night. While in this position the train was run into from the rear by a local train following. The two hundred passengers on the express were badly shaken up; but with the exception of the brakeman of the express and one woman passenger no one was hurt. The brakeman was injured and sent to a hospital and the woman had her nose broken.

New York, Nov. 6.—Though both sides are still claiming victory, independent estimates of the returns so far indicate that Hughes will be elected by between thirty and forty thousand majority. Hearst carried New York City by about sixty thousand and up state returns at midnight gave Hughes about the same majority outside the city with enough pluck to beat from to make his election sure. With the exception of Hearst practically the whole Democratic state ticket was elected and probably a majority of Democratic Congressmen. In Massachusetts, the Republicans are victorious, carrying the whole state ticket and all but one Congressional district. Moran, former District Attorney, who was Hearst's candidate for Governor, carried Boston by twelve thousand but was snuffed under by the state. Guild, has a majority of about forty thousand. The general returns from other states show few surprises. The Democrats have made considerable gains, but next Congress will be about almost as strongly Republican as the last.

As there were no mails from Point du Chene Monday we have not received our Ottawa Weekly letter in time for this issue.

St. John, Nov 5.—A fire which was undoubtedly of incendiary origin at St. John, N. B., on Saturday night caused the death of James W. King, a well known commercial man, Maritime traveller for W. H. Horne, and destroyed property to the value of about $25,000. Mr. King lost his life in an effort to save the books from the office of his brother's brush factory which was badly gutted. He was overcome by smoke, and before he could be rescued was burned beyond recognition. The fire broke out almost simultaneously in the rear of W. F. and J. W. McEwen's machine shop, and under the floor of William King's brush factory, both on Waterloo street, in the middle of a wooden block through which the flames made great headway. Those two places and Ugg's Laundry, together with several small buildings were destroyed before the blaze was under control.

The Halifax Caught in the Storm.

With her flag flying at half mast, her deck houses battered and broken, the crew of a shipwrecked fisherman on board, and every one of her own sixty-two passengers thankful to reach dry land once more, the Plant line steamer Halifax came into Boston Saturday morning, twenty-four hours overdue. From stem to stern the big ship gave eloquent testimony of a fearful North Atlantic hurricane, and the signal of death at the masthead denoted that one of the crew, John McLean, the ship's carpenter, had paid a fearful tribute to the fury of the wind and sea. Thursday last the full force of the storm overtook the Halifax, and for twenty-four hours terrific seas washed the decks continuously, battering down the doors, flooding the saloon and stripping off the woodwork as though it had been paper. While panic reigned in the cabin, and the women passengers were plunged in despair, Captain Ellis and his men stuck manfully at their posts, and to their heroic efforts the salvation of the ship and its terrified passengers is due. Mr. McLean was washed overboard and lost in the darkness before there was time to give the alarm or to throw him a line.

The Message of Our Martyrs.

(By Rev. J. J. Holzkoeh, O. S. F.) On a lonely grave in Dauphine Island, In the old State, Alabama, Bright moonlight is beaming; It is the grave of America's first martyr, Of a humble Franciscan, Father Asturiano. Around it trees and shrubs are growing, Telling of past sufferings of the noble martyr; Strong breezes, too, from the sea are moaning For the forgotten Saint in the solitude. Hark! through the tree tops a voice is speaking; Tell it, the message a forgotten priest brings To the nation most noble, brave, true; Greatest of people, a fate hangs over thee! But in my bosom hope's memories dwell, For thy martyr's intercession can save thee, Why sleeps the nation whose martyrs gave it life? Why sleep the birds and hush the notes of praise? Glory be to God in the highest and to his martyrs on earth. Yes, this is the message, from sleep awaking, Our first martyr to the breezes telleth, Then they carry the message to Oedar Key's Isle, Where is the grave of the first Dominican martyr, Of saintly Father Didaco de Penalos; Thence it fieth to the St. John's river, To a lonely grave on Cumberland Isle, Of the first Jesuit martyr, Father Peter Martinez. Again it seeks the Potomac, near Washington itself, Nearby on Virginia's shore rests Father Louis Quiros With his martyred brothers, Solis and Mendes, The valiant sons of Christ's champion—St. Ignace. Farther fieth the message, onward to northern isles, Wherever be a martyr's unknown grave; But on its way it rests 'neath the foot of the Cross, Near the site of Maryland's first altar, On the shore of Blackstone's Island; Here to Mary, Queen of Martyrs, the breezes sigh; Mother! bless the nation thine, our tears have cherished.

The "Black Pope."

The Journalists of Europe have been busy occupied for the last weeks in exaggerating an event which but for prepossessions and prejudices would be regarded as an ordinary one. The Jesuits have had to elect a new General, and because they have elected Father Werz, a German canonist of repute, all manner of far-reaching deductions have been drawn. The German Emperor has, it is alleged, been using his influence in the election in the hope of saluting the weight of the Roman Catholic Church on the side of his standing controversy with France. The Jesuit, it is asserted, have elected a German because he will be sure to punish France for dissolving the Concordat with the Pope; and the ambition of Berlin is to be gratified all through the world, and especially in German Austria and Spanish America, by the steady aid of the Church. Surely all this is a little absurd, and betrays something of prejudice as well as something of unreasoning fear. The Jesuits have a certain influence within the Roman Church, which is used in what Protestants must consider an unwise way; and being the ablest as well as the most cultivated of the priesthood,

Pains in the Back

Are symptoms of a weak, torpid or sluggish condition of the kidneys or liver, and are a warning that a healthy action of these organs is necessary to avert a serious and permanent disease.

They are commonly attended by loss of energy, lack of courage, and sometimes by gloomy melancholy and despondency.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cures kidney and liver troubles, relieves the blood, and builds up the whole system.

they have considerable weight with important individuals, especially with Roman Catholic Sovereigns, who have often reason to be suspicious about their souls, and with the eminent politicians who direct their action.

Sprained Arm. Mary Ovington, Jasper, Ont. writes: "My mother had a badly sprained arm. Nothing we used did her any good. Then father got Hayward's Yellow Oil and it cured mother's arm in a few days." Price 25c.

There goes a man who has done much to arouse the people. "Great labor agitator, eh?" "No. Manufacturer of alarm clocks."

My little girl would cough so at night that neither she nor I could get any rest. I gave her Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and am thankful to say it cured her cough quickly.

I hear your firm discharged you. "Yes; but I wouldn't mind that so much if they hadn't added insult to injury." "How?" "They advertised for a boy to fill my place."

Suffered Terrible Agony FROM PAIN ACROSS HIS KIDNEYS, DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED HIM. Read the words of praise, Mr. M. A. McNamee, Marton Bridge, N.S., has for Doan's Kidney Pills: "For the past three years I have suffered terrible agony from pain across my kidneys. I was so bad I could not sleep on my back. I consulted and had several doctors treat me, but could get no relief. On the advice of a friend, I procured a box of your valuable, life-saving remedy (Doan's Kidney Pills), and to my surprise and delight, I immediately got better. In my opinion Doan's Kidney Pills have no equal for any form of kidney trouble." Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25. Can be procured at all dealers or will be mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont. Do not accept a spurious substitute but get the "Doan's."

Most people know that if they have been sick they need Scott's Emulsion to bring back health and strength. But the strongest point about Scott's Emulsion is that you don't have to be sick to get results from it. It keeps up the athlete's strength, puts fat on thin people, makes a fretful baby happy, brings color to a pale girl's cheeks, and prevents coughs, colds and consumption. Food in concentrated form for sick and well, young and old, rich and poor. And it contains no drugs and no alcohol.

A Warning to those who Miss Sunday Mass.

The Editor of the English Messenger does not hesitate to trace the beginning of the ruin of many souls to the habit of neglecting Sunday Mass. A persistent neglect of Sunday Mass, says Father Bagnas, is a certain cause of apostasy. When a Catholic's Sunday becomes a mere bank holiday we have reason to fear the worst. Heart-breaking are the too true stories that many a parish priest can tell of the direct consequences of a neglect of Sunday Mass. In the case of many a promising young man or young woman the breaking of the Sunday precept has led to almost irretrievable ruin. With bitter tears many a mother will tell you that all was well with her son until he turned his back upon the altar of God. Jail obap
