Guelph Evening Mercury

THURSDAY EVENING, MARCH 13, 1873

Town and County News.

Don't forget the social and concert to be given this (Thursday) evening, in the Good Templar's Hall.

REMEMBER the concert in the Town Hall this (Thursday) evening, by the talented Fairbairn Family.

CONJUREM.—Our devil has perpetrated the following: Why is hay on the Guelph Market, just now, like a magician's egg-bag? Because there is no end to the supply.

New Spring Goods.—Mr. A. O. Buchan, of the fashionable West end dry goods store, announces the arrival of 20 cases new spring goods, which will be open for inspection on Saturday.

THE FIRST INDICATIONS OF SPRING.—Two crows picked an old Thomas Cat to death yesterday, within a stone's throw of the market house, and it didn't take them long to do it either.

We regret to announce that Mr. Wm. Hood, near Guelph, has recently lost four valuable horses. The veterinary surgeons are investigating the cause of death.

HOWE'S MUSICAL MONTHLY.—We are in receipt of this new Musical Monthly, published and sold by E. M. Howe, 103 Court Street, Boston. Each number contains 56 worth of first-class piano music, for 35 cents. Single copies sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of 35 cents. No specimen copies sent gratis.

We have to acknowledge the receipt of a large piece of wedding cake, from our fellow townsman, Mr. F. G. Lawrence. It was good to the taste, soothing to the feelings, and convincing to the senses. It hath charms, and brought to our remembrance the couplet:
"Two souls with but a single thought,
Two hearts that beat as one."

ASSIZES.—The Assizes open here tomorrow. The only case of interest on the criminal docket, likely to come up, is the Queen vs. Turner, for manslaughter. The Eden Mills rape case will likely remain over till next court, in consequence of the indisposition of Mrs. Bardwell, one of the principal witnesses.

ACCEPTED A CALL.—The Rev. Mr. Mancebo, who has for some weeks been supplying the pulpit of the Congregational Church in this town, has, we learn, accepted a unanimous call to the pastorate of the church, which had become vacant by the resignation of the Rev. N. F. Clarke. Mr. Mancebo will commence his stated labors on the second Sabbath in April.

IN CLOVER.—Several loads of hay, too late for yesterday's market, and too bulky to find stable room, remained on McDonnell street Wednesday night. The cows kept watch faithfully, but despite their carefulness a considerable quantity of the hay disappeared, and the loads looked a good deal less bulky than on the previous evening. Of course there is no accounting for the disappearance of the hay, nor for the well-rounded forms of the watchers.

TAKING A PREP.—We saw one of those small, active, rodent animals, to-day, called a ground squirrel, sitting upon a fence, and looking around with all the dignity possible. His supply of nuts evidently gave out, and he wanted to see how matters and things looked in the outside world. Surely this is a sign of spring. Crows are again making the welkin ring with their cawing, and numbers of small birds have arrived from the sunny South. Welcome, all.

GRAND TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.—On Tuesday next, the 18th inst., a county convention will be held in the Good Templar's Hall here, when temperance men from all parts of the county will be present. The subject of prohibition, pure and simple, and other kindred topics, will be fully and freely discussed, and much good is expected to result from the grand rally. Ample accommodation will be provided for delegates. Remember the date—Tuesday next, 18th inst.

THE PRICE OF HAY.—On Wednesday good hay brought $20 per ton on the market here. There were about forty loads offered. To-day (Thursday), the supply is greater than the demand, and as a consequence the best hay is only worth from $17 to $17.50 per ton. We noticed that a considerable quantity was purchased at so much for the load. A decline of $2.50 per ton is considerable, nevertheless the article is high enough yet to induce farmers to rush off their surplus stock at quotations.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.—Reports from the various committees go to show that the arrangements for the grand dinner, to be given at the Wellington Hotel on Monday evening next, are sufficiently forward to warrant us in saying that all who will have the pleasure of being present will spend a pleasant evening. The decoration committee will meet on Saturday, to make arrangement for the duties devolving upon them. We understand that there are a few tickets still to dispose of, and advise those who intend being present to secure the necessary card without further delay.

OBITUARY.—In our obituary to-day we record the death of Mr. John Gowfather of Mr. P. Gow, M.P.P., and an old and respected resident of Guelph. He was seized with a paralytic stroke on Monday forenoon, and gradually sank till he expired this (Thursday) morning at the ripe age of 81 years. The deceased belonged to Johnstone, Ayrshire, Scotland, and came to Canada some twenty-three years ago. During that time he resided in Guelph, and though never in any sense a public man, he had through all these years the respect and esteem of all his friends and acquaintances.

Y. M. C. A.—We would remind our friends of the weekly literary meeting of the Association this evening. Mr. Hall will read an essay. Subject: "Christianity and Infidelity," which no doubt will be interesting and instructive. Mr. W. H. Maroon also will read a piece entitled "Execution of Montrose." Meeting to commence at 8 o'clock. We would also intimate to the public, that the Association intend holding an after-noon Social next Monday evening in the Congregational Church. From the growing interest which is being taken in the Y. M. C. A. we expect there will be a full house, and a successful meeting. The ladies from the different Churches have kindly offered to provide refreshments for the occasion.

Local and Other Items.

ONTOUR.—It is reported that the Government troops in Spain have suffered a severe defeat before the Carlists.

THE ST. CATHERINES NEWS.—The Chief of Police has returned from his search after Bowden, having been in Buffalo and Cleveland. He is very close about his prospects, but we believe there is a chance of capturing Bowden.

POISONED.—A laborer in Toronto, yesterday, named Wm. Mead, died from the effects of a poisonous draught—a solution of cyanide of potassium—which so closely resembled water in appearance that he supposed it to be such. He leaves a wife and five children to mourn his sudden and melancholy end.

NEW ONTARIO LODGE.—The Galt Reformer says that on Monday evening last a new Lodge of the I. O. of O. F., was organized in Galt, by John Murray, Grand Master, Clifton, assisted by Brethren from Guelph, Paris, St. Catharines, Chicago and Brantford. The new Lodge is called "Waterloo, No. 107." The following officers were elected:—N. G. A. McAnislan; V. G. H. Nellis; Rec. Sec., T. Todd; A. Sec., Dr. Cowan; Treasurer, R. McGregor; W. J. Michelborough; J. B. Cook; O. G. A. Teskey; I. G. R. McMillan; B. S. N. G., R. Wilkinson; L. S. N. G., H. J. Jaffray; R. S. V. G., Wm. Parks; L. S. V. G., Wm. Barracough; R. S. S., T. Hunter; L. S. S., T. Little. Their Lodge room is fitted up in a magnificent style. The floor is heavily carpeted and the room presents a beautiful appearance. We understand the organization has been started under very favorable circumstances and will no doubt be highly successful. It is the intention of the Lodge to meet every Monday evening.

PRODUCTIONS OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.—The climate does not seem well adapted to the growth of wheat, if we may judge by the fact that the island yearly imports large quantities of flour from Canada and the United States; the amount in 1871 being 64,515 lbs.; while in 1870, it exported of oats 1,893,431; of barley 53,719; of potatoes 592,484; of turnips 30,011 bushels; of pork 13,306 lbs. and of eggs 9,841. The value of the exports in the same year was $385,732, and of the imports $427,931; while the ships built had an aggregate tonnage of 12,475 tons, being less by nearly one-third than in some previous years. The population increased from 62,678, in 1848, to 94,021, in 1871. 697,598 acres were held in fee simple against 279,601 by lease, 20,031 by verbal agreement and 39,310 by squatters. It is a striking feature of the island that the number of leaseholders is decreasing and that of freeholders increasing.

HOW WOULD THIS DO IN CANADA.—A London exchange says: A correspondent sends the following:—"Not long since, in travelling from Basel (Switzerland) to Paris, we became angry. As if driving our country, the guard put his head in at the window of the train, and politely asked, 'Shall I order dinner for you at the next station?' But we do not stop long enough for it," was our reply. "True, it will be served in the train for three francs, and the dishes removed at the next stopping place." "By all means order it." The telegraph carried the order ten miles ahead in a moment, and when the train drew up at the next station, the door was opened, and a circular basket, 3ft. high and 1ft. in diameter, was put in our compartment. Upon the top was a knife of water, and a flask of wine, and a glass, a little salt and pepper, and a large roll. Opening a door in the side of the basket, we saw four shelves, on each side a dish. The first was a hot soup, the second a slice of a la mode beef the third vegetables, and the fourth half a chicken and salad. A bunch of delicious grapes was found on one of the shelves. We ate our dinner quietly and comfortably, while the train rushed along at thirty miles an hour, and then restored the dishes to their places. Warmth, a perfect removal of the basket and received the pay. We see no reason why such an excellent plan as this should not at once be tried and improved upon in this our country, where lightning expresses and parcel cars are the rule, and not the exception, on all first class railways.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES

Intense Excitement in the British House of Commons.

The Ministry Defeated.
Gladstone Tenders his Resignation.

D'Israeli to form a New Ministry.
Gladstone Burned in Effigy.

Latest American News.

London, March 12.—The scene in the House of Commons last night, when the defeat of the Ministry on the Irish University Bill was announced, was indescribable. The excitement in the gallery and on the floor was intense, while the opponents of the measure indulged in tumultuous cheers over its rejection. Among the distinguished personages in the stranger's gallery, which was crowded during the debate, were the Prince of Wales, Princess Louise and Prince Christian. The Scotch and Welsh members supported the Bill. The Catholics were unanimous in their opposition to it.

After the announcement of the result Mr. Gladstone rose and said: "The vote just given is certainly a grave character. As the House never wishes to continue its deliberations on the existence of the Government is in doubt, I move an adjournment until Thursday." The motion was carried.

The Advertiser and Standard are jubilant over the rejection of the Bill. The Advertiser says it cannot imagine that even Mr. Gladstone will stoop to endeavor to remain in office after such a defeat.

The Telegraph considers the resignation of the Ministry as an exceedingly probable event; while the Times doubts that the Cabinet will take such a course.

The Bill did not receive the vote of a single Conservative member; 47 Liberals, of whom 37 were Irishmen, voted against it; 15 Irish members voted for it; 17 members, including Dr. Isaac Butt, member for Limerick were absent. Forty members participated in the debate. John Bright, Jacob Bright, his brother, and the Marquis of Lorne, supported the Government.

Mr. Gladstone waited on Queen Victoria at Buckingham Palace, at noon to-day to tender his resignation.

It is probable that Mr. D'Israeli will be summoned to form a new Ministry.

Information obtained to us late an hour as 10 o'clock to-night from members of the Government show that no definite course has yet been decided upon. It is reported that Messrs D'Israeli and Gathorne-Hardy strongly object to take office at the present juncture; but the rank and file of the Conservative party are ambitious of power and the leaders will probably yield to their desire, and taking office will be decided upon.

It is reported that the Cabinet sat three hours to-day without arriving at a decision. Mr. Gladstone is anxious to resign and retire wholly from politics. His colleagues are endeavoring to induce him to remain upon condition of receiving a vote of confidence. If he insists on retiring Lord Granville will endeavor to form a scratch Cabinet, excluding Messrs Fortescue and Hartington, and conduct the Government through the present session. Mr. Gladstone saw the Queen to-day, who is favorable to Mr. D'Israeli. She encouraged Mr. Gladstone to retire. Mr. D'Israeli is ready to accept office, but a portion of his colleagues object. Lord Cairns is at Nice, and Lord Salisbury at Rome. Their absence increases the embarrassment. It is certain that Mr. Gladstone will retire, but it is uncertain whether a dissolution of Parliament, a scratch Liberal Cabinet, or a Tory Administration will follow. If the latter, Mr. D'Israeli will try to pass Mr. Fawcett's University Bill, and then dissolve, hoping to return a large Conservative majority.

Chicago, March 12.—At Charlotte, Iowa, yesterday, a man attempted to cross a creek with a team and wagon, containing five persons. They were swept away by the current, and all but one man drowned.

San Francisco, March 12.—Mr. Steele, from the front, says the Modocs would have come out had they not been frightened by stories told them by persons who desire to have them remain in the country. Gen. Gillem is in favor of closing the Indians, and expresses his belief that the whole band may be captured without great loss.

Columbia, March 13.—The river is still rising, and is about five feet above the low water mark. The ice is moving rapidly at Barnbridge, ten miles above, but is still jammed here.

St. Louis, March 12.—The Legislative Committee which has been investigating the affairs of the State penitentiary for some time past, made report to the House to-day. The Committee find punishments have been frequent and unusual. The prisoners, on some occasions, for inadequate reason, have been flogged unmercifully, until their flesh was raw. The Committee enumerate many other outrages perpetrated on the prisoners and recommend the abolishment of these modes of punishment, and that convict labor be let to individuals. They also find many irregularities that have been committed by the officers of the prison, and reflect pretty severely on Gov. Brown for his connection with the use of convict labor in the building of some houses in Jefferson city, in which he was personally interested.

Toronto Correspondence.

Winter, in this quarter, is evidently in the throes of dissolution, and the streets are in a very slushy condition in consequence, but the excellent state of the sidewalks largely compensate to pedestrians for the otherwise disagreeable inconveniences of the break up of the season.

Professor Pepper returned to Toronto last week to complete his engagement with the Mechanics' Institute Committee, and large and enthusiastic audiences have greeted his second appearance as a scientist. It is much to be regretted that his Toronto visit should have been marked by a very disagreeable incident, reflecting much odium on the party-concerned. It appears that the Professor, anxious to reciprocate the courtesies everywhere extended him, explained and showed to several of his scientific brethren in the city, the apparatus by which the "Ghost" illusion is produced, amongst others to Dr. May, of the Normal School. This gentleman has thought it consistent with the propriety of the courtesy thus extended him to announce himself as a competitor of the Professor's for public favour, and with the boast, too, that he can produce a much superior "Ghost" to that of Pepper's. We may remark en passant that the Professor has patented his "Ghost," so that Dr. May uses the same apparatus for the production of his, it will clearly be an infringement of the patent, as well as of good taste and feeling, and it is to be hoped that the public will manifest their decided disapproval of the same.

Another Professor—Yanck—has been entertaining the ladies not only with some really clever and wondrous tricks and sleights of hand, but has actually succeeded in producing an illusion that must be considered as fairly eclipsing the very remarkable "Ghost" of Pepper. I allude to the startling fact of decapitating a man, in the presence of the audience, and immediately thereafter handing the head round amidst the assembly for examination. The deception is so complete that one actually realizes that a murder has been committed before your very eyes, and you feel as if it were that you are necessary to the fact, so that you understand the matter later, perhaps, I may just say, that the victim is first carefully blindfolded, laid on a table with his face downwards, the Professor, who is clothed in a short cloak, meanwhile makes some cabalistic passes, in the course of which I fancy the real person's head to a portion and a head, an exact resemblance of the victim's, skilfully appears to take its place, which done, the operator, with one unerring stroke, severs the false head from the trunk, and to make the illusion more complete, he draws out of the neck a body cloth as if belonging to a portion of the real person's clothing. One could scarcely refrain from uttering a shriek of horror at the moment of decapitation, or to send forth a shout of joy when, after the replacement of the severed head, the victim rises from the table most pleasantly, and with a profound bow, artfully walks off the stage and is seen decapitated was the highest ambition of his life.

Toronto has just been denied a great musical treat, in consequence of the Patti Company being unable to secure Hall accommodation, so they have wandered their way eastwards to charm the Montrealers.

The bazaar, in aid of the Young Men's Christian Association, was a most splendid success, both financially and numerically. The ladies undertook to raise $8,000, and it is said that they will double their undertaking with a portion spare. Such a success attended in the evenings that policemen were stationed at the doors, with a view of regulating the immense crush. I heard, upon good authority, that the palm of superiority for the choicest work goes to Knox Church, Dr. Topps, and the ladies of that congregation will well feel proud that their acknowledged pre-eminence amidst the many rich and valuable contributions of this prosperous city.

Governor Howland has been in Ottawa during the past week, no doubt partaking of the general hospitality of the Government, in connection with the opening of the Legislature.

The Liberals here are very jubilant over the political situation at Ottawa, and seem quite confident that the downfall of John A. is nigh at hand.

Our local Legislature now sit for several hours on Saturday, in order to expedite business. The Government scheme in regard to the Municipal Loan Fund question is viewed with great satisfaction in this quarter, and much curiosity is felt to know what side the Opposition can pick therein. The Orange Lodge incorporation question was devoted to the debate on the matter, and even some show of feeling outside the Chamber. The meeting of Orangemen, to condemn Mr. Crooks' conduct in the matter, did not amount to much on Saturday evening, but it remains to be seen what will be the result at the adjourned meeting for the same purpose.

County of Waterloo Sabbath School Convention.

We learn from the Reformer that the Fourth Meeting of the County of Waterloo Sabbath School Convention was held in the M. N. C. Church, Galt, commencing on Thursday the 5th March, 1873. The following officers for the ensuing year were elected:—Rev. D. Smyth, President; Rev. Goodwillie, 1st V. P.; Rev. J. Brock, 2nd V. P.; Rev. Dickie, 3rd V. P.; Rev. W. Williams, Secretary and Treasurer; Rev. E. Clement, Secretary pro tem.

An afternoon session was held, when various subjects relative to Sabbath Schools were discussed. The evening session was quite a success. A mass meeting of the children was held in Knox Church. Music singing and recitation was the order of the evening. The sessions of the second day were devoted to the discussion of "Sabbath School Fines." "Band of Hope in connection with Sabbath Schools." Best method of interesting children in the work of the Sabbath School." At the evening session Mr. Marshall of Ayr, brought forward a box containing cards and pictures. He showed that it might be very useful in teaching the infant class.

It is expected that the next Convention will be held at Hespeler.

The Agricultural Farm.
While the question of changing the site of the Agricultural Farm and College from Mimico to Guelph remained undecided, we refrained from saying anything on the subject, not from any want of interest in it—far otherwise—but because we felt that any remarks we might make in favour of Guelph would be set down to a selfish desire on our part to secure the farm for this section. We preferred to leave the matter in the hands of the Government, and allow them to come to a decision with regard to the site without any representation on our part, or any attempt whatever to influence them in the performance of their duty. Now that the question is settled, we feel at liberty to advert to one or two points in connection with the subject.

Any unprejudiced person who carefully reads the Hon. Mr. McKellar's speech, in support of the removal to Guelph, cannot fail to be convinced that in this matter the Commissioner of Agriculture employed every means in his power to ascertain the best site for the farm, and that throughout the investigation he was actuated by a sincere desire, not to benefit or favour any particular locality, but to select a place which would in every respect be most advantageous for the carrying out of the great end in view. The evidence he adduced against the Mimico farm was so overwhelming, that not a single member of the opposition had the hardihood to impugn it, nor did any of them attempt to bring forward the slightest title of evidence to destroy that adduced by Mr. McKellar. The many advantages of the Stone farm were also dwelt upon, both by the Commissioner of Agriculture and by Mr. Gow, and such a comparison was drawn between the two places as could not fail to convince every candid mind of the great superiority of the one farm over the other. We are satisfied that the wise and judicious selection made by the Government will meet with the approval of the people of this Province, and that in after years, when the work in connection with this institution begins to bear fruit, the action of the Commissioner of Agriculture and his colleagues will be commended by the very men who now fought so strenuously to have the farm retained at Mimico.

Some of the Tory papers for months past, have, with characteristic meanness, been insinuating that the Government were locating the farm near Guelph in order to please Mr. Gow, and reconcile him in his retirement from the Ministry. Mr. Gow's own statement, backed as it was by that of Mr. McKellar, showed how utterly without foundation such insinuations had been made. Mr. McKellar stated that in the month of February, more than a year ago, the Government began to look about for a more favourable site for the farm. Mr. Gow at that time was only a few weeks in the Cabinet, and it was not till months after that he left it, of his own choice, on the reconstruction of the Government. Moreover, his own distinct statement, that the selection of the site and his retirement from the Government had no connection whatever, ought to be accepted as a distinct and emphatic contradiction to all such stories, which only had their origin in the disordered imaginations of a few corrupt Oppositionists. The cause of Mr. Gow's retirement, as we stated long ago, was a purely personal matter, and it can in no shape or form be connected with the selection of the site of the farm. We do not notice that some of the Tory papers are quite jubilant over the fact that the majority on the motion of the Commissioner of Agriculture was smaller than on previous divisions. That is true, but they forget to explain at the same time that on questions of this kind, where there are so many local interests and considerations involved, the Government does not expect, nor ask its supporters, to vote as a unit, and while they feel bound to support their own party, when questions like this arise, they will be found giving a no less general and hearty support to the Government on all other questions, of a Provincial character. The Opposition therefore have no good reason for feeling jubilant, after the division took place, between retaining the farm at Mimico or at Guelph. The Government has no objection to the latter, and on all the other divisions quite late enough to justify them in the course they had recommended.

We are glad that this question has been settled, and we would not disguise our satisfaction that the farm has been located in this section. At the same time, the Government in selecting this locality have been actuated by no spirit of favoritism. They have selected a farm which, in every respect, will answer the purpose for which it is intended, and which will, we are sure, more than realize the expectations formed of it. The establishment of such an institution in this section is also a graceful recognition of the high position this County has attained in the agricultural art, and while it presents to the eye a more inviting prospect, it will stimulate our farmers to greater exertions in the future, their example and improved system of culture will be no less beneficial in presenting a constant stimulus to those who are entrusted with the management and working of the Provincial Model Farm.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.
Ottawa, March 12.
A petition asking for an investigation into the trade in the South Redwood with the votes, as he intended to bring up the matter as a question of privilege. Mr. Young asked whether the Government proposed to introduce a measure relating to Insolvency during the present session.

Sir John A. Macdonald said the only answer he could give now was that the Government proposed to call the attention of the House to the Insolvency question during the present session. Mr. Young asked whether the Government proposed to introduce a measure during the present session to provide for the proper inspection of fire and life insurance companies, and for the appointment of an inspector thereof.

Hon. Mr. Tilley said it was the intention of the Government to introduce such a measure.

Ontario Legislature.
March 12.
Hon. Mr. Crooks moved that the Bill respecting the position of the Whitty and Port Perry Railway Company, under the Acts in aid of Railways, be read a third time.

Mr. Rykert moved in amendment that the Bill be read this day three months. Mr. Wood (Victoria) moved in amendment to the amendment, that whereas no portion of the said Port Whitty and Port Perry Railway Company has received any aid from the Railway Fund; and whereas there are special and exceptional circumstances which justify the bringing of the said railway under the provisions of the Act in aid of railways, it is right that the said Bill should be now read a third time.

The Speaker ruled this amendment out of order. These amendments were lost, and the Bill was read a third time and passed.

Cerebro-Spinal Meningitis.
Speaking of the ravages of this new disease in Romoka, a correspondent of the London Advertiser says:—Its first appearance was in the family of Mr Benjamin Smith, attacking a boy of 12 years. In this case the disease seemed to be altogether confined to the spinal cord, and, though the muscles of the neck were very much contracted and the head drawn back, the case resulted in a rapid recovery. The next attack was a son of Mr. Alex. McIntyre, aged eight years, on Tuesday. In this case the brain and spinal cord were both affected, and the disease completely paralysed all the muscular skill that could be applied, and the patient sank rapidly and died on Saturday morning. On the same day, Maggie, eldest daughter of Mr. Archibald Dewar, aged twelve years, was taken ill; the disease in her case was very like the former, and resulted in her death, which occurred on Sabbath morning. On Wednesday, Thomas, the eldest son of Mr. Robert Hume, aged 15 years, was attacked; he became unconscious about noon, and Dr. McLaren being called, found that the disease had already made alarming progress, and the patient was already sinking rapidly under its deadly effects. He appeared to revive a little under the treatment, and slight hopes were entertained of his recovery; but the disorder again gained the ascendancy, and death terminated his sufferings on Saturday morning.

On Wednesday a daughter of Mr. J. A. Barber, aged 8 years, was also taken ill. Her case was milder, and she is now convalescent. On Thursday afternoon the disease found another victim in Maggie, second daughter of Mr. William Martin, aged 11 years. Her system received so great a shock from the intensity of the fever that she died the following day before the arrival of the doctor. On Friday afternoon the youngest son of the same family, aged 6 years, was smitten with the same disease. He was placed under the care of Dr. Hanson, and for a few hours gave hopes of recovery, but about noon on Saturday he began to grow worse, and died at four o'clock the same day.

At present there is only one case requiring medical treatment, an infant son of Mr. Hume. His symptoms are favourable. There have been no more cases reported since Friday, and it is confidently hoped that the violence of the plague is now past.

ANNABEL

THE TEMPTATION.

CHAPTER IX.

The stately appearance of the speaker did not quite respond to Annabel's notion of the import of her manner and words, which were all kindness and solicitude, but she would not allow the impression to influence her, and was glad to find the offered refuge for her strained feelings.

"Oh," she murmured, looking shyly up at the dark eyes which were bent upon her, "I am so confused and bewildered. It is all so strange, so agitating."

"Yes, dear, you must feel it so. Not to know till now that he was your uncle, and to be taken to him just when he was dying, must have put you very much about. But a night's sleep will do you good, and you will be calmer to-morrow. Perhaps you would wish to retire now?"

"I would indeed," answered poor Annabel, who was in truth so nervous and worn out with the exciting events of the day as to be in no fit state for further conversation. She therefore bid good night to Mr. Langton and Philip, and was taken by Mrs. Langton to a nice cheerful room which had been prepared for her, and where, being left alone, she had no sooner retired to rest than rest came to her in the form of sound and dreamless slumber, by which her weariness was overcome, and the excitement of her mind lost amid perfect repose.

A little later Philip Weston was also in his room and alone; but he showed no sign of retiring to rest. On the contrary he was pacing to and fro in the chamber, with a troubled look upon his face—a look very different from the cheerful buoyant expression which he usually wore.

The cause of the trouble may be gathered from the words which once or twice he muttered as he walked to and fro.

"She will be rich," he said; "the owner of this estate and of all her uncle's wealth."

In a conversation with Mr. Langton, the latter had acquainted him with the provisions of Mr. Seymour's will, which had been made known to the merchant by the dying man himself, and as these placed Annabel in a social position immensely above him, his heart endured a cold chill of fear and despondency. The tremendous change in her circumstances seemed to remove Annabel beyond his reach. How could he, a poor merchant's clerk, aspire to the hand of one so wealthy. They were equal before, but they were equal no longer. Not that Philip thought Annabel capable of forgetting him, or of changing in her love, because she had succeeded to a splendid inheritance; but how could he in honor suffer himself to be lifted from his humble and obscure place to become her husband? Every calculation of propriety seemed to forbid it. Were it to be so he would be scorned for meanness, of taking advantage of her inexperience to grasp for himself the wealth and the station to which she had risen. No, this could not be.

And yet to give her up—to sacrifice his love, to see her become another—that prospect was agony. Existence must henceforth be to him dreary and hopeless. The bright joyous prospect he had been cherishing would merge in black and hopeless gloom, and he would no longer have for him a value or an aim.

So thought, so felt Philip, as he paced his chamber for hours after midnight, and as his reflections were protracted, his wretchedness was only the more increased. At length, undressing only partially, he threw himself on his bed, and a feverish slumber came to him, which was even more torturing than the waking thoughts by which he had been so greatly disturbed. He thought he saw Annabel standing at the altar in splendid attire and about to be wed to a youth rich as herself, while he stood afar off unnoticed and despised. The ceremony went on, and the officiating minister was about to utter the final words which would make Annabel the rich youth's wife, when his voice Philip cried aloud to him to forbear, and springing up in the agony of his excitement, he awoke just in time to save himself from falling on the floor.

The knowledge that it was only a dream gave him infinite relief, but soon he reflected that it was probably the forerunner of what was to come to pass, and his heart became heavy and downcast. Gazing towards the window he saw that the sun had risen, and on pulling aside the blind he found that the radiance of early morning was streaming over a spacious wooded park. To relieve his painful feelings he washed himself, and throwing on the few clothes he had laid aside, he quitted his room to take a stroll in the open air.

The sight of the magnificent park over which he was now wandering, and of the lordly mansion which met his gaze, when he looked back, only increased his feelings of bitter hopelessness, for they only showed him more tangibly how far Annabel had in a worldly point of view become separated from him. Here was now the imposing building and the extensive domain which surrounded it, placed on the high eminence to which these possessions raised her, she was forever beyond his humble reach.

Thus miserable as ever, he wandered on until he had traversed the park and was returning by the other side, when, on turning the corner of a clump of trees he beheld Annabel also out for a morning walk. She seemed fresh a glowing with the pure morning air, and on seeing Philip an subdued light shone into her face as she came quickly towards him.

"Dear Philip, I am so glad to find you here. I could not get speaking to you last night about the revelation of the mystery. How different it is from anything we imagined."

"Very different, indeed, dear Annabel," he replied.

She had in her gladness at meeting him put her arm fondly within his, when the tone of his voice caused her to look into his face, when she saw how clouded and troubled it was.

"Oh, Philip, what is the matter—are you ill?" she anxiously asked.

"Why do you suppose so?" she asked, with a wan smile.

"Because you look as I never saw you look before. Oh, something has grieved you; tell me what it is."

"I have not slept well—in fact, almost none."

"Oh, dear! how sorry I am to know that. I slept like a stone, so fatigued was I by the event of yesterday. But why could you not sleep? Was it because of the strange house, or did anything disturb you?"

"Yes, something did disturb me—is disturbing me now," he gently answered. She gazed at him in much alarm, and in tones of the greatest concern entreated to know the cause of his disquiet.

He drew her arm further within his own, and led her further from the house.

BRANFLET—Epps's Cocoa—GRAPEFUL AND COMFORTABLE.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the true principle of assimilated food, Mr. Epps's Cocoa has been prepared which is a delicate, palatable beverage which may save many heavy doctors' bills.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with Boiling Water or Milk. Each packet is labelled—JAMES EPPS & Co., Homoeopathic Chemist, London.

MANUFACTURE OF COCOA.—We will now give an account of the process adopted by Messrs. James Epps & Co., manufacturers of dietetic articles, at their works in the Easton Road, London.—See article in Cassell's Household Guide, 1206mdw

James H. Johnston, Esq., Montreal, wrote in August, 1871, as follows: It affords me great pleasure to bear testimony to the benefit received from using Epps's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. I found it a nervous tonic of great power and efficacy, curing me in a short time from GENERAL DEBILITY and NERVOUSNESS, and I became robust and vigorous under its influence, and gained considerably in weight withal.

Life has few charms for the dyspeptic, which is not to be wondered at when we take into account the amount of bodily and mental suffering that this distressing malady generates. The Peruvian Syrup (protoside of iron) has cured thousands who were suffering from this disease.

COMMERCIAL.
GUELPH MARKETS.
MERCURY OFFICE, Wednesday, March 13, 1873.

During the past week the market has been about as usual. Hay has been the leading article offered, and although the quantity has been unusually large, the demand keeps pace with it, consequently former quotations have been sustained. Hay, hay, and nothing but hay some days. One wonders where it all goes to. The demand is still equal to the supply, and so long as this is the case a ton of good hay will fetch $20, while inferior will be unloaded at $17. Since our last issue fall wheat is 5c. lower per bushel; spring wheat 10c. lower, while oats and peas are 2c. higher. Hides have advanced 25c. per 100. We quote:—
