Dorando's Game But Delirious Finish Sets Sentiment Against Long-distance Running, and There May Be No More of It.

ITALIAN, LOSER BUT HERO, TO RECEIVE QUEEN'S CUP

(By U. S. Associated Press.)
LONDON, July 24.—It would be no exaggeration in the minds of any of the 100,000 spectators who witnessed the finish of the Marathon race today to say that it was the most thrilling athletic event that has occurred since that Marathon race in ancient Greece, where the victor fell at the goal and, with a wave of triumph, died.

Indeed, it was reported to-night that Dorando, the Italian, who collapsed when but a few yards were between him and victory, had died as a result of the nervous strain, but this was denied in an official bulletin.

It is a question whether public opinion will ever support another Marathon race here. Dorando's condition when he finished and the condition of many of the contestants in to-day's event lead people to think it is worse than prize fighting or bull fighting.

At the government's banquet to the foreign representatives and the council of the Olympic, held to-night at the Grafton Galleries, it was announced by Lord Desborough, chairman of the council, that Queen Alexandra had expressed a desire to present a cup to Dorando as a mark of her appreciation of his splendid performance.

The race itself, with 57 of the best men winnowed from the runners of four continents competing; the enormous cosmopolitan assemblage, including the Queen of England, and the dramatic incident at the end, combined to make an historic day.

Just before the end of the race all eyes were focused on the stadium gate, where the contestants were to enter. Finally a runner, who turned out to be Dorando, staggered down the incline leading to the track.

He stood for a moment as the dazed and then turned to the left, although a red cord had been drawn about his neck in the opposite direction for the runners to follow. It was evident that the man was practically delirious. A squad of officials ran out and expostulated with him, but apparently he was afraid that they were trying to deceive him and fought to go to the left.

At length he turned about and started on the right path. Then followed an exhibition never to be forgotten. Dorando staggered along like a man in a dream, with arms shaking and legs tottering. People had lost thought of his nationality and partisanship was forgotten. They knew nothing of him, as he had not been mentioned among the probable winners, but they realized that his struggle must have been a terrific one to bring him thus right to the threshold of victory.

Dorando staggered on toward the turn and dropped to the ground exhausted.

Needed Assistance.
According to the rules of the race, physicians should have taken him away, but sympathetic track officials lifted him to his feet and gave him support.

Four times Dorando fell in the three hundred yards that separated him from the finish, and three times after the doctors had poured stimulants down his throat he was dragged to his feet and finally was pushed across the line with one man at his back and another holding him by the arm.

His part in the race for all practical purposes was ended when he entered the stadium, for unless he received assistance he could not have finished. Hayes entered the stadium less than a minute behind Dorando and finished fresh. In the excitement he failed to notice that the crowd of countrymen the reception he deserved.

It will not scratch any laurels from the brow of Dorando who won a good race, to say that the hero of the day was the Italian Dorando. The admiration and sympathy of every person in the stadium went out to the gallant Italian who, although he did not win, deserved to win and did more within the limit of his powers than any other man who ran.

The American athletes are sending to Italy their congratulations on Dorando's magnificent fight for victory. The Italian Dorando should have been out of the race three miles from home. He ran well for twenty miles, but had come to a halt and had to be assisted even before he reached the stadium, but not to the same extent, says Forshaw, who finished third.

ROOSEVELT LAUNCHES AT ATTACK ON JUDGES

Hints That Their Upset of Standard Oil Decision Wasn't Good Law.

OYSTER BAY, L.I., July 24.—In one of the most remarkable statements ever issued by the nation's head, President Roosevelt has vigorously attacked the ruling of the three judges of the United States court of appeals in reversing the $29,240,000 fine imposed by Judge Landis on the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, and has ordered an immediate retrial of the case by Attorney-General Bonaparte and Frank B. Kellogg of Minnesota.

By inference the president severely arraigns the three judges of the higher court. He expresses astonishment that they could find as they did. He declares in his characteristic way that despite the new ruling there is absolutely no doubt of the guilt of the convicted corporation, and asserts that he would regard it as a gross miscarriage of justice if the fine imposed by Judge Landis of Chicago were not held justifiable and valid. He declares he will do everything in his power to bring about the proper punishment of the defendants.

"Human Heart" Incident of Inspection of Boston Soldiers—Jack Tars at Play.

QUEBEC, July 24.—(Special.)—An incident which attests the prince's quickness of observation and kindness of impulse occurred during the ceremony of decoration of Wolfe's monument after the grand review.

The British Veterans' Association of Boston, 200 strong, were there and in their ranks stood respectfully at attention a brawny weather worn old soldier who retained his upright military carriage despite his advanced years. On his breast there shone a Crimean medal. The prince noted the fact and stepped up to him, asked his name and in what regiment he had served. The veteran with kindling eyes gave the information. The prince then invited the old soldier to ride down town with him in his auto.

"Thank you, your highness, but I'm good for many a march yet," responded the veteran, his voice trembling with grateful emotion.

The prince showed his tenacity of memory by asking whether the flag borne by the contingent was not the one presented by himself on his visit in 1901. The reply was in the affirmative.

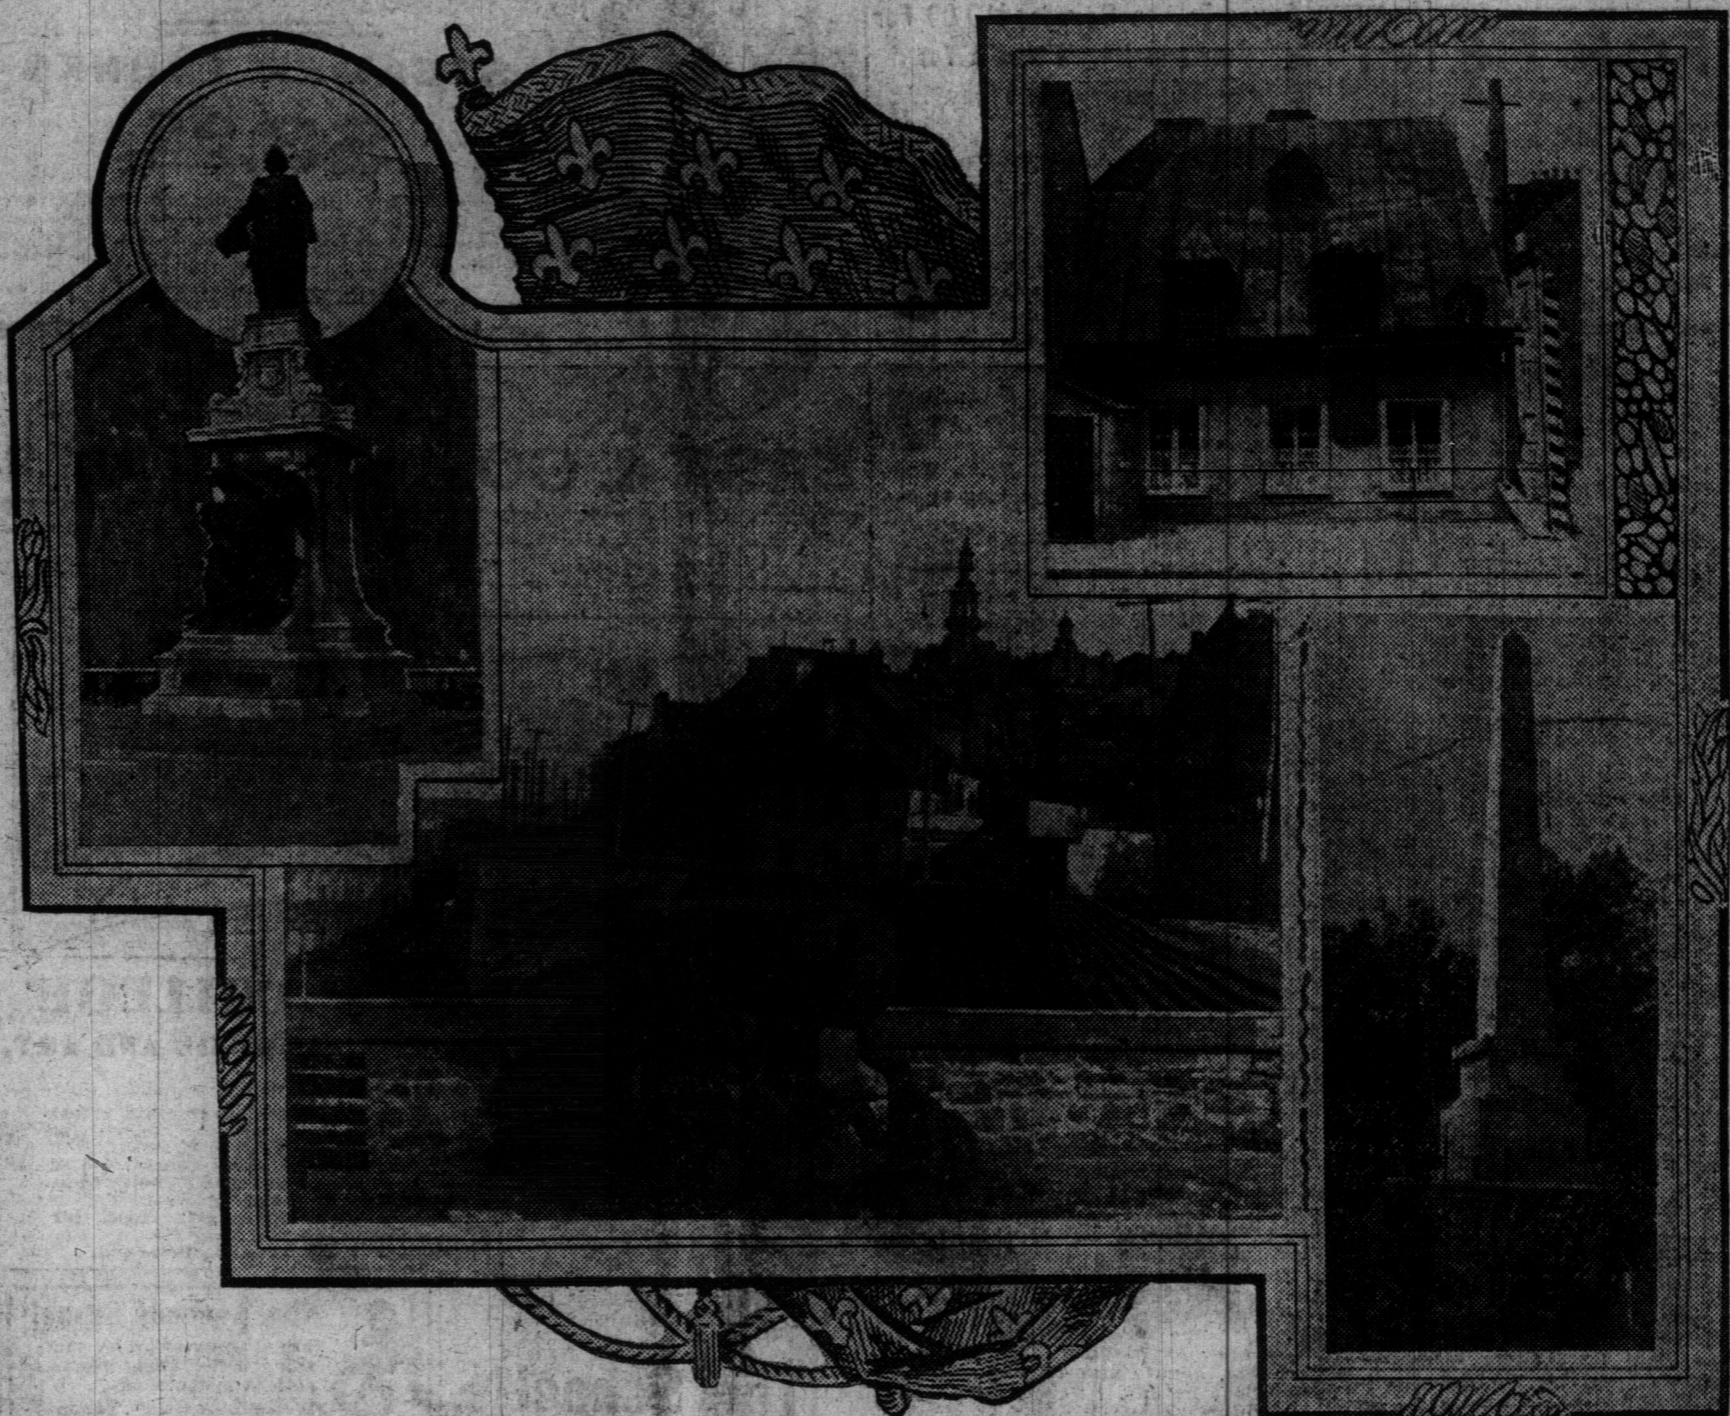

They're All Good Fellows.
The perfect cordiality and spirit of genial fraternalism which has been marked at all times in the relations of the crews of the battleships of the three nations was emphasized in the sailors' games at the Selabery Park. The speed shown by the Blue Jacks in the sprints showed that they would compare very well with land lubbers in agility.

The Britishers outclassed their rivals in most of the events the most absolute good nature ruled.

The northwest mounted police were to have executed a musical ride, but owing to a sudden call to attend the prince, the splendid feature was missed.

The Boston veterans presented their commander, Col. McNamara, with an infantry sword to-night. Earl Roberts, who was to have made the presentation, was unable to attend, and the office devolved upon Brig.-Gen. Goodall, U.S.A. President Fletcher of the Royal Society of Canada spoke.

BRILLIANT MILITARY PAGEANT ON HISTORIC PLAIN MARKS DEDICATION OF BATTLEFIELD TO PEACE

Prince of Wales Formally Entrusts to Earl Grey $450,000, Contributed For Purchase of "Permanent Shrine of Union of Peace"—Then 16,000 Horse, Foot and Artillery March Past in Review Order, Winning Sincere Praise.

QUEBEC, July 24.—(Staff Special.)—The Prince of Wales today consummated the work of the national battlefields commission, whose labors for many arduous months have now attained the satisfaction of success. The Prince, addressing the Right Hon. Earl Grey, said:

"It affords me the greatest pleasure to hand over to your excellency, the representative of the crown in this province, the sum of $450,000, which, thru the patriotism of British citizens in all parts of Canada and of the empire, and the generosity of French and American sympathizers, has been entrusted to me in order that the historic battlefields of Quebec, on which the two contending races won equal and imperishable glory, may be acquired for the people of the Dominion and preserved under the special supervision of the sovereign as a permanent shrine of union and peace.

"I place in your hands as representative of the sovereign, the charge of this sacred ground, which it is my pleasure to be able to present to you on the three hundredth birthday of Quebec, as a gift to the people of Canada and the Crown." To which Earl Grey replied:

"As Governor-General of Canada and in the names of the government and of the people of the Dominion I accept this sacred trust which Your Royal Highness, the heir to the throne, has graciously placed in my hands."

In this simple fashion the historic Plains of Abraham, the scene of one of the most momentous struggles in the history of nations, was virtually dedicated to the cause of peace and the well-being and peace of this and future generations.

Imposing Military Pageant.
Simple as the act was, however, the occasion was made the opportunity for a display of military splendor and power which has not before been approached in Canada. Probably the review next in importance was held at Toronto when the Prince of Wales made his visit in 1901.

At least half as many more troops were present to-day than seven years ago, and they included the pick of Canadian forces, while the addition of the naval forces, including the contingent from the French and American warships, was unprecedented.

At the conclusion of the parade the prince called Gen. W. J. MacDonald, who was on the prince's staff, to the front and congratulated him on his work of mobilizing so large a force.

Gen. MacDonald was responsible for the transport, commissariat and camp equipment, and the prince said he was perfectly aware of the difficulty of such a mobilization and begged to congratulate the quartermaster-general on the satisfactory result.

The general professional military opinion appears to regard the parade as highly creditable, and the prince's words were not a mere compliment, but a careful expression of well-considered appreciation. The parade, estimated to have cost $1,321,000, and the land forces, and 2400 of the naval troops, a total of over 16,000 men.

The Prince of Wales gave official expression to his satisfaction in the following letter to the minister of militia:

"Dear Sir Frederick Borden, — The march-past was extremely well carried out, and your expression of his high appreciation of the very successful review of Canadian militia which his royal highness had the great pleasure of holding this morning.

"He is well aware that the work of conveying so large a body of men and horses to Quebec must have entailed considerable labor and careful organization, also that many of the troops could only have been present at considerable individual sacrifice, and that the Prince of Wales gratefully acknowledges the happy result of your efforts. The march-past was extremely well carried out, and your expression of his high appreciation of the very successful review of Canadian militia which his royal highness had the great pleasure of holding this morning.

As a popular spectacle the review was an entire success from the line-up till the last wild furious charge of the two batteries of field guns across the parade grounds, an evolution thrilling in its spirited action and eliciting a storm of cheers.

All morning the troops were assembled, those from the distant camp of St. Joseph de Levis having a heavy and early march. At 8.30 the sailors and marines of the United States and French warships marched up Mountain-street, en route for the plains, and thereafter the street car service was blocked for hours. Calashes were offered at ten dollars a day, but the people marched like the militia. The grandstand, for which tickets had been sold at three dollars each, and for which the press was laid under heavy compliment, was unguarded till near ten, when it was well filled by the common herd. A few rows were evicted to accommodate some very special guests, but for the most part the ordinary citizen got more than his rights.

At 10.25 the whole force was drawn up in review order and called to attention. His Royal Highness then being accompanied to enter the review grounds. In a few minutes with a brilliant staff he appeared in major-general's uniform riding a black charger. "Bobs" was a prominent figure with his field marshal's baton, and was repeatedly cheered as he led the Royal Canadian Artillery, of which he is honorary colonel, and the Queen's Own of Toronto, to which he bears a similar relation.

As the beat passed along the line a medley of the national anthem sounded, the quartermaster-general on the QUEBEC, July 24.—(Special.)—The program for the visit of Lord Roberts to Toronto was abandoned to-night.

The hero of Kandahar will arrive in Toronto from Ottawa by C.P.R. train at 6.30 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 5, and will drive to the King Edward Hotel over a route to be announced later.

He will stay at the hotel as guest of the city.

Troops of the garrison will line the route.

On Thursday a civic lunch will be given him at the King Edward at 1 p.m., and at 3 p.m. there will be a reception and presentation of formal addresses of welcome at the city hall, followed by a drive around the streets.

He will be the guest of Col. G. T. Denison at dinner that evening.

On Friday he will be the guest of the Canadian Club at luncheon at 1 p.m.

In the evening he will be guest of the Toronto Garrison officers at dinner.

The idea of a parade and reception at the exhibition grounds has been abandoned.

HITCH IN "BOBS" PLANS.
Exhibition Grand Stand Not Available, So Manager Orr Says.

Major Collins, president of the Army and Navy Veterans, returned last evening from Quebec, where he presented the address of the veterans to the prince.

Major Collins also conferred with Mayor Oliver and Dr. Orr as to details of the Roberts reception. He says that being done to the exhibition grand stand will prevent that structure being available for use by the city, as has all along been planned. It may be that the major's suggestion, that Earl Roberts, on arrival, be escorted by the Queen's Own to the King Edward Hotel, and that on the following afternoon betting ceremonies be held in Queen's Park, will be carried out.

FALLING OFF IN REVENUE

Financial Statement for Three Months Ending June is Issued.

OTTAWA, July 24.—(Special.)—The financial statement for the month of June, just issued, shows a falling off in revenue of nearly $1,200,000, as compared with June, 1907.

For the first three months of the fiscal year the falling off has been $4,394,459.

A shrinking in customs revenue more than accounts for the decrease in the collection, showing a shortage of $1,436,000.

Final figures for the last fiscal year show a normal surplus of $14,413,054, but against this must be charged an increase in the debt of $14,258,969.

MANY CASUALTIES IN INDIAN RIOTS

BOMBAY, India, July 24.—Serious rioting has followed the strike declared yesterday by 20,000 mill hands as a protest against the sentence of imprisonment of the Nationalist leader for seditious utterances.

This afternoon the mobs spread over the mill district and held up the Poona mail train. They finally had to be driven off by volleys from the military.

Europeans are jeered and stoned whenever they appear on the streets and when the police and troops make arrests they are frequently obliged to use their revolvers.

There have been heavy casualties as a result of the firing.

All the available military, including the volunteer rifles and the light horse, have been called out.

In the course of the evening a defiant and fanatical mob bombarded the office of a police magistrate with heavy paving stones. The volunteer rifles were called to the rescue and fired on the natives.

Five men are known to have been killed and 40 wounded have been taken to hospitals.

LONG LIST OF BURGLARIES LAID TO ONE PRISONER

Harry Williams Arrested in Second-Hand Shop, Confesses to Some House-Breaking.

Known to have committed one housebreaking and believed to be the perpetrator, and he almost admits it, of several burglaries, Harry Williams, alias Arthur Cavanagh, 22 years, who says he was a clerk in Chicago, was arrested by P. C. Robinson at 6.15 last night.

He was taken in the second hand shop of Jacob Livingstone, 715 East King-street, where he went to buy a shirt.

Detective Oxlund unseathed two watches at the Livingstone store, which were later identified as those stolen from the house of Thomas West, 113 Wellesley-street, during Thursday, P. C. Robinson was set to watch the man and a list of about a dozen watches and chains and cutlery were added to point out the right man.

While driving with the prisoner in the patrol wagon, P. C. Wallace (70) noticed the theft of a pocketbook containing $12.75 and a couple of pearl handled knives with a pearl handled pair of manicure scissors and a combination pen and pencil, nickel-plated.

In addition Detective Oxlund recovered two club bags full of silverware and cutlery supposed to be stolen from a list of about a dozen houses entered within the last two weeks.

To Detectives Oxlund, Newton and Twigg the man admitted that he had engaged in stealing.

"I did the job alone," said he. "Then in a burst of conscience which he later reconsidered he said, 'I may as well tell you all about it,' but he guessed he'd wait till morning.

A partial list of the house entries in which he is supposed to be implicated is:

Thomas West, 113 Wellesley-street, between 12 and 2 p.m. July 23 by side window, in absence of family; two watches and chains and cutlery taken; cutlery found identified.

Mrs. Lonsdale, 157 Berkeley-street, July 22, by shed door in rear; watch and brooch taken.

Mrs. Scott, 90 Carlton-street, July 22, by woodshed window, ransacked; extent of theft not known.

Thomas Long, Wellesley and Victoria, July 24, by kitchen window. The Massey residence, Jarvis and Wellesley, July 23; extent of robbery unknown.

Mrs. Brawley, 745 Bathurst-street, July 20, between 1 and 3 p.m., by shed window in rear; $8.19 taken.

Mrs. Mary Eadlantyne, 201 DeGrass-street, July 20, rear window, evening; $20 taken.

Mrs. Catherine Virgin, 46 Massey-street, July 18, between 8 and 10 p.m., by open window; $10.75 taken.

NOT THE RIGHT MEN.

Detectives Wallace and Kennedy, with four jail guards, took a wild ride in two autos, sixteen miles out to Clarkson's, last evening, in anticipation of rounding up most of the seven men who escaped from Toronto Jail last week.

The worst they found was five burly young tramps, who had "nested" in a sequestered part of Thomas Aldwell's bush.

The expedition, which cost the authorities some $30, was due to a telegram from a farmer. The quintet were ordered to yamoose, and they did.

Prosperous Moulton.

There is no institution in which Canadians should take more interest than the country's schools and colleges for girls, especially those which are affiliated with universities. Among these is Moulton College, which had a prosperous year in 1907-8, the attendance for the session being 230 students. The catalogue for 1908-9 is now published, and a perusal of its contents readily proves the high standing of Moulton College amongst educational institutions in Canada. Moulton College is affiliated as an academic department of McMaster University, and is one of the best appointed schools in Toronto, with spacious drawing-rooms, classrooms, bedrooms and dining-room. All the bedrooms have been recently painted and papered. The beautiful building is an education in itself. There are also facilities for outdoor recreations, with lawns for croquet, tennis and basketball.

Woman and the Hatpin.

Glance at the well-dressed woman's headgear and you will see that it is now fixed to her coiffure in some mysterious way, apparently without the aid of pins, or by the help of one or at most two unassuming specimens. The fact of the matter is, she hides her pins or clips, usually along the crown of the head, in a pocket or half a dozen. There is ample opportunity now for the return of the hat elastic, which is hidden under the curls and curls that ripple over the head from the crown almost to the nape of the neck, especially when covered by a silk woolfibre band. Over-popularity certainly does kill a fashion. Not only has the hat pin of ornamental pattern suffered under the ordeal, but the motor-cap has gone from its proper sphere, and now the motor-veil seems disposed to follow suit. No one regrets the motor-cap with its disagreeable brim, usually so restive in a wind as to make that type of headgear the most unseemly instead of the most appropriate.

Water for the Baby.

It needs it. Spring water should be afforded. A healthy infant of a few months should have a full glass in the 24 hours. The amount may vary somewhat in accordance with the weather. In case of conditions accompanied by elevations of temperature the amount should be increased. Not only directly does it act upon certain functions, but it vitalizes the entire system, so to speak.

STORY OF SEBASTOPOL SPECTACULARLY RELATED

"The Siege of Sebastopol," which was the culminating point of the Crimean War, will ever rank as one of the most memorable sieges in history. One of the remarkable features of this great struggle is the fact that here the English and French—hereditary enemies since the Norman conquest—fought side by side in the same cause.

The time chosen for the exhibition spectacle is shortly previous to the grand final assault. The scene shows a frowning hill rising from the foreground. Upon the top of the hill is the deadly Malakoff. A little to the left is another hill surmounted by the Redan, whilst to the right is the Town of Sebastopol, and the harbor with British ships guarding the entrance. When the lights go up the spectacle represented will be "Daybreak in the Trenches." There has been hot fighting in the night. The Russians under cover of the darkness recaptured the Redan, whilst the English oppose the advance of the trench-diggers. Lying where they have fallen are many dead and wounded. In the center is an English group who have surrounded a high officer who has fallen in the night. His head rests on the knees of one of the nurses, but human aid cannot save him. The surgeon announces that he is dead. The stretcher-bearers carry him away towards the officers' tent. At this point a trumpet is sounded by the Russians at Malakoff and an officer accompanied by a flag of truce descends the hill. He asks a truce to bury the dead. The truce is granted and the camp relaxes. A conference of staff officers, and assembly of the regimental bands follows. Then comes the grand tattoo, in which ten bands will take part. After the tattoo the Russians retire into their fortresses.

PASTOR RISSE'S SERMON

DALLAS, TEXAS, July 24.—C. T. Russell of Pittsburg, Pa., addressed the Bible Students' Convention, in session here, this afternoon at the Maccabee Temple. He took for his text, "Where, O death, is thy sting?" (Cor. xv. 55). The speaker said:

Our text is usually read out of its connection and hence to the majority is meaningless or worse. To those who have parted from loved ones by death, by the grave, it sounds ironical indeed, to say, "O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?" The grave is surely gaining a great victory over humanity at the present time, since it sweeps up an average of 30,000 human beings each day. And that there is a sting to death, need not be told, for it has touched every member of our race. We wish it, therefore, to be distinctly understood that the apostle is not responsible for such a misconception of his words as is usually drawn from them to the shame of the resurrection. He meant to say that the resurrection is the victory which throuth the world are ostensibly devoting their time to expounding the word of God to 400,000,000 of men, Christendom is now being proceeded with his argument further the apostle shows that as the death of Christ was necessary for the redemption of man from the power of sin and death, so His resurrection was necessary before He could be the King, the great Deliverer and Life-Giver. He proceeds to show that the Church now being selected by faith is a first-fruit to God, and that following the gathering of the church to Himself will come His glorification in the resurrection of the dead. He then says as follows: "It is now in corruption, it is raised in incorruption; it is sown in dishonor, it is raised in glory; it is sown in weakness, it is raised in power; it is sown an animal body, it is raised a spiritual body" (v. xliii: 44). The apostle points out that this glorification is not to be complete until Christ His millennial kingdom. His glory and His power for the blessing of the world, must be gathered first to the resurrection of the dead. He then, in harmony with the petition of His prayer, "Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven," He will be glorified, His glorified church, His bride, during the millennium, He assures us, will accomplish great things. For He must first be glorified, and then He will be glorified under His feet; the last enemy that shall be destroyed is death. Then He shall deliver up the Kingdom to God, the Father, and those authority and in whose power the millennium reign will be inaugurated and brought to a successful issue. Vs. 24-28.

The apostle presupposes some general information amongst His readers respecting what blessing is coming to the world at the second coming of Christ and the glorification of the church, the elect. Elsewhere in his writings this is made very prominent; that the church constitutes the spiritual seed of Abraham and that its members are to be glorified and glorified, in order to fulfill the divine promise made to Abraham (1 Cor. xv: 22, 23). "In thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed," is the promise which the world needs and which God has promised is the removal of the curse, which for six thousand years has rested upon Adam and his race. This is not, as many suppose, a curse or sentence of eternal torment, but the curse or sentence of death. The removal of the curse would mean the release of humanity from the death sentence; the bringing of mankind out of the sin and death conditions which have been inherited from the original sin, to our first parents, thru Christ, who brought themselves and us as convicts under the calamity of death and its attendant sufferings, pain, trouble and sorrow, and who, by His sacrifice of Himself, has secured for us a release from death-dealing conditions, storms, cyclones, earthquakes, floods, famines, and the elements of the reign of sin and death.

"Then Shall Be Brought to Pass." Those who have followed our argument to bear it in hopeless silence, have seen the words of our text, "Where, O death, is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?" Then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, "Death is swallowed up in victory. O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?" As yet, death has the victory—and sin dominates the world, and the Lord's faithful fall with the rest of mankind under the power of hades, the tomb. But then, at the close of the millennial age, everything will be very different; the victorious Messiah shall have swallowed up death in victory; death shall no longer reign over the race, but instead of it life. None will longer need to die; none will die except as a sinner for willful deliberate refusal to accept the gracious provisions of that time. How grand that consummation of God's plan, compared with the one which so many of us have received from childhood, and which is taught by all creeds of Christendom! And, by the way, it should be noted that our text is supposed to be a quotation from Hosea, which reads, "I will ransom them from the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death; O death, I will be thy plagues; O grave, (sheol), I will be thy destruction! Repentance shall be hid from mine eyes." Hosea, 13: 14.

We remind you, dear friends, that the word here rendered grave is in Hebrew, sheol, the only word rendered hell thru the Old Testament. Grave or tomb is its proper rendering, for the majority are kept in ignorance of the fact, which is known to all educated ministers thruout the world. The Lord, thru the prophet, distinctly tells us then that sheol is to be destroyed, and that it shall be a place of eternal torment and assurance also, according to its true signification, that the tomb, the state of death, is not to be perpetual, that ultimately it shall be destroyed by the taking out of it every member of our race; by the waning of all from the sleep of death. This is the same thought that the apostle sets before us in our text when he assures that Christ's victory, by the close of the millennium, will be so complete that the sting of death will be no more felt; even sickness, pain and sorrow shall be fled away and hades (the same word rendered hell in the New Testament—the grave, the tomb) will no longer have the victory, but will be destroyed. By the time that all mankind shall have been raised from the power of death and the tomb, this victory will be complete; and the testimony of the apostle again repeats, "Messiah must reign until He shall have put all enemies under His feet; the last enemy that shall be destroyed is death." Vs. 25, 26.

The sting of death. The apostle incidentally calls attention to the fact that "the sting of death is sin" (v. 25). It was the poison of disobedience that entered our race thru our first parents and has developed in us—as poison passes thru the system of the serpent's bite. This is, indeed, the picture God gave us thru Israel's experience in the wilderness when He permitted the fiery serpent to bite them, to poison them and then provided for them a way of escape thru the exercise of faith in Jesus Christ, who took our place as the sinner, who died the just for the unjust, so that all looking to Him as their Redeemer for pardon, shall be saved. He has promised to deliver, if they will, from the power of the sting of sin. Our Redeemer declared, "I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto me." He has indeed been lifted up on the cross, but only a few as yet have had the eyes to see and to appreciate the meaning of His sacrifice in glory as the king of kings and lord of lords during the millennium, and then the message will go forth: "Lift up your hearts, ye saints, and give ye ends of the earth." (Isa. 45: 22). The glorified One will draw all men by the influence of truth and righteousness, and will be saved, and only those who resist and refuse the drawing of righteousness shall ultimately die the second death. The drawing of the church into the net, in the present time, be it noticed, instead of being the drawing of the glorified Lord Jesus, the Redeemer, is the drawing of the Father, who says, "No man cometh unto me, except the Father who sent me draw him." (John 6: 44). This is the rule in respect to the elect who have been gathered, a little flock, every people, kindred, nation and tongue, that those found worthy may his kingdom and work of blessing the world.

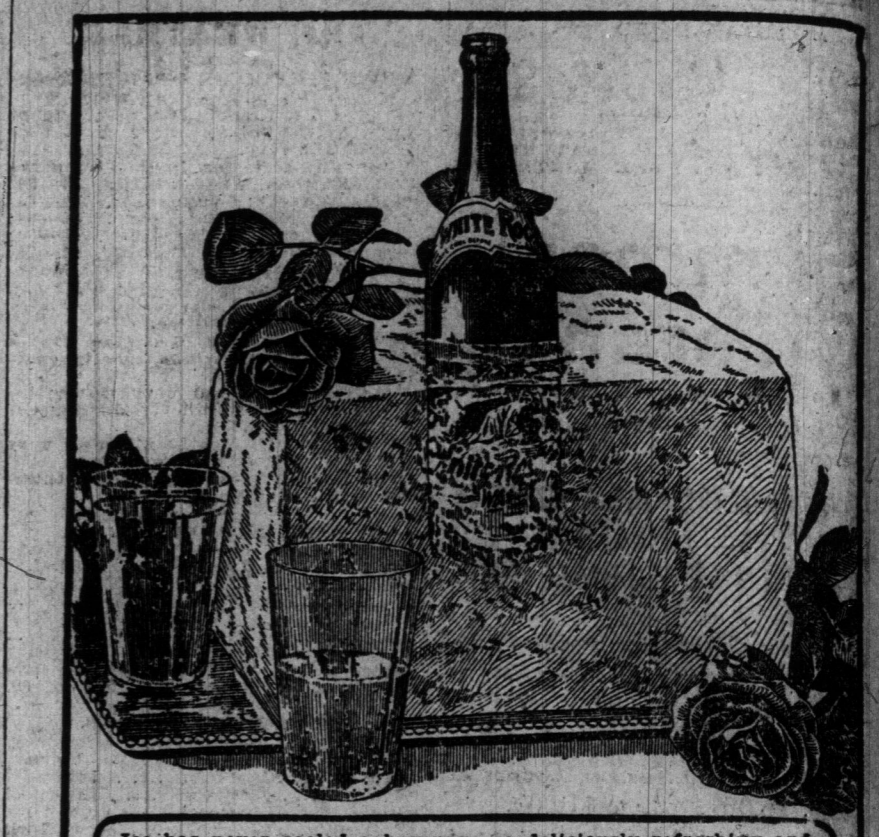

THE TORTURES WOMEN SUFFER

A woman needs a blood building medicine regularly just because she is a woman. From maturity to middle life, the health and happiness of every woman depends upon her blood, its richness and its regularity. If her blood is poor and watery she is weak, listless, pale and nervous. If her blood supply is irregular she suffers headache, dizziness, and the other unspeakable distress which only women know. Some women have grown to expect this suffering at regular intervals and have learned to bear it with ultimate resignation. But women would escape much of this misery if they took a box or two of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to help them over each critical period. These Pills actually make new blood. They help a woman just when nature makes the greatest demand upon her blood supply. They have done this for thousands of women throughout Canada, why not for you?

Mrs. Joseph Kinsey, Gilbert's Cove, always has been suffering from nervousness and those troubles that make the lives of so many women one of almost constant misery. At times I would be confined to my bed for weeks. I spent sleepless nights and seemed to lose all courage. I tried several doctors, but they failed to give me any relief. The last doctor I consulted told me frankly that he could not undertake my case unless I would undergo an examination. He then decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. After taking six boxes I was improved in health, but I continued to take the Pills for a couple of months more, when I felt like a new woman, and was enjoying such health as I have had for ten years before. I have had no return of my trouble since, but I have used the Pills since that time for the after effects of my examination. I have never felt that I cannot too strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to the many women who suffer as I did.

You can get these Pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brookville, Ont.

CAN'T CONTROL SIGNS.

But Fire and Light Committee Consider Applications Just the Same. Victor Giannelli asked the fire and light committee yesterday for $100 for damages to his auto by water during recent test of the high pressure system.

Thomas Macey, on behalf of the Connor Ruddy Sign Co., Limited, applied for permission to erect a sign 100 feet in length, on the southwest corner of Queen and Howard-streets; one on Teraraul 50 feet long; another on the north side of a vacant lot on the east side of Yonge-street, south of Wellesley, and another on the east side of Ossington-avenue. Acting Fire Chief Noble and Architect McCallum had nothing to say against these signs being built, but Solicitor Chisholm said he could be put down as voting against it.

Chairman McBride said that, as the city had not secured the control of signs by legislation as yet, the committee could do nothing in the matter. "Well, then, why does it come up here?" asked Mr. Chisholm. "Oh, just to keep tabs on them," returned the chairman.

NEW MARKET. Official Count Swells Attendance—Political Notes of the Riddim.

NEW MARKET, July 24.—(Special.)—It now transpires that the attendance from all sources at Herb. Lennox's political meeting on Tuesday night was anything else. The Metropolitan carried 4000, the G. T. R. 2000, the boys were reported to have been while no less than 2000 farmers' rigs were scattered around, which at a conservative estimate would account for an average of three in each, a total from this source alone of 6000.

Among local Conservatives no importance is attached to the reported victory of E. R. G. G. G. into the federal contest. J. D. McKay is editor of the paper, and is also editor of the paper, and is also editor of the paper.

HORSE THIEVES ARE BUSY. Bold Robbers Find York County Good Recruiting Grounds.

NORTH TORONTO. NORTH TORONTO, July 24.—About three o'clock yesterday afternoon a heavy car load of stone was standing on the switch at the north end of the town, when another car came along and gave it a bump which started it going at a rapid rate towards Glen-grove on top of the hill. It reversed its action and went down the hill again to Bedford Park postoffice, driving there and losing its force climbing the hill unaided it went south again to Glen-grove, where the car was finally caught and brought to a standstill.

For about nine months the house physicians at the hospital have been keeping a special record of the scarlet fever cases, and conducting statistics to show what effect the new treatment has had, and the returns show that the disease has been kept in check longer and its progress may take years to perfect the vaccine.

HOMELESS AND UNTRAINED BOYS. New York appears to be a deplorable state for homeless and untrained boys.

The blinders of the boy that is rampant in the more or less rigid enforcement, according to section, of the act, as applied to homeless boys. It comes as a shock to the mind to learn that the state punishes homelessness with imprisonment. In New York the penalty is quite rigidly enforced.

The boy who is committed to the workhouse or jail for the first time in his life, and who is thrown into intimate contact with hardened offenders, many of them criminals, and he learns from them abominable habits and crime he otherwise might never have known.

Society pities, indulges, or scorns the boy tramp, without ever by any means understanding him.

The average citizen will tell you he has never had a chance. That he did not see his chance, and in that event, it is blindness in the boy that is responsible for his misfortune. He realizes his unfitness to hold his own in the world, and embittered by hardship, and misunderstanding, he is discouraged by the ineffectual, if well meant, efforts to help him, and turns his back on the world.

There is no place in New York State, outside of a penal institution, where illiterate and industrially unfit boys, who are in the habit of being admitted for one year's residence, where they can obtain free schooling and learn a trade. Public night schools and night industrial classes, which are private philanthropies are positively available for large numbers of these boys, who are debarr'd by long working hours and the drudgery incidental to obtaining a bare existence.

"Not until boys of this sort, who have passed the sixteenth year, or juvenile period, commit a felony, will they be eligible to an institution that will fit them to become self-supporting."

Clergyman Hurt. BELLEVILLE, July 24.—Rev. J. C. Ash of this city was painfully injured by falling from his buggy and striking his head on the road. He was unconscious for some time, but will recover.

Cobalt Production Expected to Reach 15,000,000 Ozs for Year—True Story of Nip Vein.

COBALT, July 23.—(From the Man on the Spot).—Last year Cobalt produced 10,000,000 ounces of silver and 15,000,000 is a conservative estimate for 1908.

Cobalt has an area of about three miles square, and this dot on the earth's surface produced in 1907 five ounces out of every 100 produced in the entire world.

Nipissing has produced to date, 6,845,000 ounces; Nipissing smelter returns to date amount to $3,529,000; $400,000 additional was distributed among original owners; Nipissing has paid to date in dividends $1,860,000; La Rose has produced to June 1, 1908, 2,675,161 ounces silver.

WALL ST REACTIONARY AND WITHOUT RALLIES

World Office, Friday Evening, July 24. Dealings at the Toronto Exchange to-day would indicate quite an outside interest, but a canvass of the situation would scarcely support the belief and rather belies the supposition.

Wall Street Posters. Steel men believe good times are near. J. J. Hill predicts bumper crops. Japan ratifies arbitration treaty with the United States.

Chairman Knapp of interstate commerce commission says that in the future there will be less speculation in stocks and a general demand for government control of railroads.

New York: William Guggenheim, who has just returned from abroad, says: "Speaking of financial conditions, the essential of the private property has already restored confidence in financial circles."

President Corey of the U. S. Steel Corporation made the following statement after the adjournment of the conference: "The presidents of the subsidiary companies yesterday afternoon: 'The presidents in their reports were uniformly favorable, showing a gradual increase in business of practically all lines. About 50 per cent of the finishing capacity is now in operation. Additional capacity will be put in operation as conditions warrant.'"

J. J. Hill says there will be from 5 to 10 per cent more grain of all kinds than last year. The known movements of money for the week end with the close of business Thursday indicate a gain in cash by the local banks of approximately $9,000,000.

At the metal exchange to-day a further advance of 1-8 cent was made in all grades of copper. Lake was up 1-8 in the asking price. Electrolytic, 12 3/4 to 13 1/8; Castings, 12 1/2 to 13 3/4.

Denver: The new Denver and Rio Grande Railway Co. is to consolidate the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad Co., the Rio Grande Western Railroad Co., and other companies, with the result of incorporating and issue $150,000,000 in bonds and $88,000,000 in stock, authorized the shareholders of the merged roads at their meeting here to-day.

Joseph says: Strong interests will endeavor to give the market some tentative support to-day, but profit-taking on recent ventures may fairly be counted upon. On dips buy the Pacific conservatively, but do not load up. The president still kicks at capital. Keep within safe market distance.

Irregularity, with specially bullish operations, appears likely in the stock market to-day. On reactions of moderate extent in issues that have advanced aggressively, buying opportunities will be presented. Stocks that have been comparatively dormant may be taken up at any time and advanced. The general trend is upward. Trends are always interrupted by general and specific falls or recessions. We do not believe in climbing for stocks, but we expect higher levels.

We look for an irregular opening in which the bears will try to make some profit. The dealings have been a little over-enthusiastic and most of them have had all the advance they deserve. At the same time, Westinghouse, Smelters and Coppers should be better, the as far as the latter are concerned we do not have much faith that any material advance will hold.

Reactionary tendencies prevailed in Canada's stock market, selling on accounts resulting in declines of from one to four points from yesterday's high levels. The dealings were in different volume compared with recent averages, but the pressure was persistent, and, although the selling was readily absorbed, it was taken on a scale down without any display of aggressiveness.

Notice is hereby given that a dividend of one and one-quarter per cent (1 1/4 per cent) for the quarter ending 31st July, 1908, (being at the rate of five per cent (5 per cent) per annum) on the paid up capital of this bank, has been declared, and that the same will be payable at the head office of the bank on and after the 15th day of August next.

The remainder of the year, and the fact that some business reversals in the basic metal markets. The trading in Union Pacific is regarded to have been based on the convertible bond valuation, and a large increase in supply of the stock through this source. Other news items were not numerous or important, and the market is regarded as simply having a natural reaction, somewhat overdue.

The market to-day has observed a downward tendency almost constantly from the opening, due to heavy selling for both accounts, influenced largely by the president's statement regarding the Standard Oil case. The break in the market 1/8 cent served to eliminate a portion of the short-waited bid following, and also to build up a great short interest, that there has been for some time. On the reactions we think it worth while for traders to buy for turns such stocks as the Harriman and Hill issues, St. Paul and Reading, while the Steel stocks, as well as Copper and Smelters, will also enjoy pretty good recoveries. We look for better prices in the market before the close of business to-morrow.

NEW FIRE HEADQUARTERS.

Contractors Will Be Thru About August 15.

Ald. Sam McBride, chairman of the fire and light committee, stated yesterday that the new fire department headquarters on Adelaide, between York and Simcoe, will be handed over by the contractor about the middle of August.

There are a few small jobs to be completed, one of these being the laying of the pavement in front of the building, but none of these will take long, as soon as the men on the job get to work. One trade seems to be knocking into the other. The new building is a fine structure, the fittings being of heavy quarter-cut oak throughout, and the effect is one of great solidity and harmony.

BIG MENAGERIE HERE.

Ferret's Wild Animals Are Now at Hanlan's Point.

Hundreds of people were yesterday much interested in the loading of Ferret's big menagerie, which will be the attraction at Hanlan's Point next week. When the outfit arrived on two special trains in the morning it was readily recognized that the ferry boats will give way with a crash, and a torrent of water and mud rushed into the tunnel and filled it. All of the workmen, who were Italians, were drowned.

STALEY MEMORIAL SERVICE.

LONDON, July 24.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—A stately memorial service was held in St. Alfige's, Greenwich, Wolfe's burial place. Sir George White represented the King, and a number of other dignitaries were present, also a detachment of Wolfe's regiment. The Archbishop of Toronto delivered an address.

A Literary Nightmare.

That literary men and women of even the most serious mind enjoy that most doubtful form of humor, the pun, is proved by the following: When does Mary Mapes Dodge? When Thomas W. Knox? What did Charles Reade? Whatever he saw Mabel Osgood Wright. When is it that John Burroughs? When he hears Edward Everett Hale. Why did they Hall Calne? To make Frances Hodgson Burnett. Who gave Thomas Paine? Hamilton Wright Mable. What made Winston Church-hill? Eating what he saw John Esten Cooke. What will make Walter A. Wyckoff? I. Zanz-will. Why did Charles Darwin? Because he never turned his back to De-foe. Where did Captain Frederick Marry-at? At the Ellen Olney Kirk. What made Colonel Richard D. Savage? Hearing Charles Carlton Coffin. Why was Wagner Haydn away Bach? Because De Koven had him on his little Liest. When kept Charlotte M. Yonge? Helping Elizabeth Phelps Train. Why do we not laugh at R. D. Blackmore? Because we find James Greenleaf Whittier.

BOYS' SUMMER ASYLUM.

Lucky is the boy who spends his days gardening, playing ball, and getting brown and fat on the hill-sides of Chauncy, in Westchester County, N.Y. He, a very young boy, yet has all the comforts and advantages of the luckiest kind of a boy in the city.

All the boys at Chauncy (where the New York Juvenile Asylum has its school, shops, playgrounds, and farm) are sent to the village from the courts. Some are truant from school where there is not room in the urban school in the city, others have been guilty of various misdemeanors, and many others are boys whose only fault is that they have no homes or proper guardians. The village life is almost ideal from the point of view of a boy, with the exception that every boy has to go to school. The 300 acres of undulating land are partly cleared and planted, while there are also beautiful patches of woods and spacious lawns on which the boys play ball. There is a little lake, and a sheep pond, and a flock of sheep, and many woolly little lambs kept to ornament the landscape fulfil their purpose to perfection. A large family of pigs provides sausages for the boys to eat in the winter.

All the cottages are delights to the eyes and would enhance the beauty of any summer resort, with their soft colored walls of brick and concrete, their brown or black beams, latticed windows, and quaint roofs, porches, and gables. No two cottages are alike, and all look as if they had fallen out of a Kate Greenaway book. Each is the home of twenty boys, and is presided over by a house mother and a village official. Also the houses are as neat as polished wood and perfect cleanliness can make them, they have none of the bare institutional air about them. Some have twenty separate rooms for the boys; in others the youngsters sleep in dormitories, but in both cases the little chaps are allowed to decorate their particular nooks after their own fancy. They can pin or paste anything they like on the walls, and these adornments are full of character and individuality.

STREET CAR CASES.

Two Men in Court Because of Transfer Troubles.

When the hearing of the case against John R. Scott, 363 Parliament-street, was in progress in the police court yesterday afternoon for non-payment of fare on a Parliament car on July 15, Mr. Nix said that these cases were brought into court by the company for the purpose of minimizing the abusing of the transfer system. The company didn't make anything out of the cases, but it was one way of educating people that they cannot do half an hour's shopping on a transfer and then expect to be carried to their destination on it. If the time was punched wrong by the conductor, the passenger is obliged to notice it, or suffer.

Mr. Scott had got on a belt line car at Market-street. He got a transfer to a Parliament car, but when he boarded it at Sherbourne and Queen the transfer was an hour late. The same thing had happened to him a couple of days before and he had paid the extra fare demanded, but this time he refused. Magistrate Patterson, while warning him that he had better pay the extra fare in future, as it was cheaper, said he believed that he was not trying to be punished wrong by the conductor, the passenger is obliged to notice it, or suffer. Morris Nolan, 1142 Dufferin-street, was up in police court yesterday for non-payment of fare on a Dovercourt car. The trouble was all over a red ticket offered by Mr. Nolan shortly after 8 o'clock in the morning, which the conductor refused to accept. Nolan protested that the service was moralized on Bloor-street and the fact that the conductor on the stub car had not accepted his ticket when it would have been inside the ticket period, justified the conductor on the Dovercourt car taking the ticket. The case was marked adjourned till called on.

NOBEL PRIZE WINNER DEAD.

Sir William Randal Cremer Passes From Scene.

LONDON, July 24.—One of the earliest advocates of peace among nations, Sir William Randal Cremer, member of parliament from Haggerston since 1885 and for 37 years secretary of the International Arbitration League, is dead.

Sir William Cremer was a Quaker and the founder of the inter-parliamentary conferences, which have met since 1888 at Rome, Paris, London, Bern, The Hague, Budapest, Brussels, Christiania, Vienna and Stockholm. The Nobel Peace Prize, amounting to $40,000, which he received in 1903, he handed over to the International Arbitration League as an endowment. Last year he was knighted. At the ceremony of investiture before the King on July 15, Mr. Cremer created something of a sensation by refusing to wear court dress. As the court costume included a small court sword he would not do it. He pleaded that his conscience would not allow him to wear a weapon of any sort. The King therefore granted him permission to be knighted in a frock coat.

FATAL COLLISION AT SEA.

CHRISTIANIA, July 24.—The steamer Bakkeleg, engaged in the local passenger trade, was in collision with the steamer Selsboe. She was on a head-on collision and sank in a few moments. From ten to twenty of the Bakkeleg's passengers are believed to have been drowned. Twenty-three were rescued.
