Every Kind of Weapon of War In Use On a Part of Western Front

Twenty-Third Week of Constant Fighting Closed With Today—Germans Again Resume Attacks on British Near Ypres

Paris, Feb. 20.—For twenty three weeks, Northwestern France has rocked with the crash of battle. The mighty engagement which now extends over a line stretching from the North Sea to the Swiss frontier, began just twenty three weeks ago today, with the battle of the Aisne, when the retreating hosts of General Alexander Von Kluck made their stand on the heights north of Soissons. Since that time the battle front has been extended over the territory of two more nations Belgium and Germany, and some of the fiercest fighting that has marked the course of this gigantic conflict, has taken place in West Flanders and Alsace-Lorraine.

AGAIN ATTACK BRITISH

Official despatches from the north state that the Germans have again resumed their attacks against the British forces near Ypres. It is believed in some quarters that this is the opening of a strong offensive movement by the Germans who evidently hope to strike some hard blows while preventing, by submarine blockades, the transfer of any more British troops from the British Isles to the coast of France.

An effort of the Germans to gain a position dominating the pass of Bon Homme in the Vosges ended in failure. The Germans managed to get a foot-hold upon Hill No. 607, but were attacked by a company of French and put to flight. Although the French were outnumbered the German forces engaged in this action were reserved, unused to the terrors of battle, and they fled before the rushes of the seasoned French veterans.

An artillery duel is in progress near the Lys River, and another near Rheims. In Champagne, near Perthes, Souain and Beaussejour repeated attacks are being made by both sides. Every kind of operation known to warfare is in use there. Sapping and mining operations are followed by long bombardments and infantry charges. Snipers are engaged all the time. Aeroplane attacks are frequent. At times, under the glare of flashlight and the blinding flashes of bursting shells, fighting develops in the darkness. Big guns, mine throwers, high angle guns, and every other weapon possible to create destruction are in use.

DEFEAT AT SUEZ WAS DECISIVE

London, Feb. 20.—A Morning Post dispatch from Alexandria says:—“Seven hundred refugees brought here by the United States warship Tennessee, state that the defeat of the Turks at the Suez Canal was more serious even than thought. Djemal Pasha is said to be discouraged and has stated, it is declared, his intention to abandon the invasion of Egypt unless a new army is forthcoming. The Germans in Jaffa say that many German officers like those who were killed. The Germans first divulged the defeat in their cooperation with the Turks.”

GERMANS FORBID LENTEN PASTORAL

Havre, via Paris, Feb. 20.—The German military authorities have forbidden the reading of the Lenten pastoral letter issued by Monsignor Heylen, Bishop of Namur, according to information received here, because it enumerates instances of indignities which he accuses Germans of having inflicted upon the priests of his diocese.

BAKERS TAKE UP MATTER OF PRICE OF FLOUR

Ask The Government to Take Means to Stop Speculation

PRICES LIKELY TO GO UP

Sir George Foster Replies That it is Easier to Note Price Changes Than to Propose Remedy, But Government is Going Into Question

Toronto, Feb. 20.—Correspondence between the department of trade and commerce, Ottawa, and the Bread and Cakes Manufacturers' Association, seems to point to a general and substantial advance in the price of these necessities.

A letter to Sir George E. Foster from the association declares that since August when the convention of the association was held in Winnipeg, the price of all commodities used in the bakers' trade has advanced, in some cases one hundred per cent, but that in spite of this advance, the association, as a body, did not carry out the idea of avoiding any increase in the cost of bread to the consumer, so long as our stock of flour and other materials, purchased before the war, was on hand. The high prices prevailing today do not exist because of any shortage in supplies, but rather because of reckless speculation.

If the government could, by any feasible method, stop such speculation, the price of flour could be kept at a level consistent with the supplies on hand the world over, and such a would "enable our people to purchase a reasonable price for bread."

The letter concludes with expressing the belief that an extraordinary increase in the price of bread would be a national calamity, and hoping that beneficial legislation will be enacted.

RUSSIAN HERE HAS WORD OF BROTHER KILLED IN BATTLE

Cousin, Too, Writes Warsaw Friend—Anxious About Another Brother Fighting Czar's Battles

Sad news has come to John Ostopolich, a Russian shoemaker who keeps a little repair shop at the corner of Richmond and St. Patrick streets. He has been anxious for news from his native land ever since the outbreak of war for two brothers are on the firing line. He has now received word of the death of one of a cousin, as well as of the death of a friend. The information was received in a letter from a friend in Warsaw his native home, and he is hoping with all his heart that it is not true.

Philip Ostopolich, who was about thirty years of age, has been practically all his life a soldier in the army of the Czar. When the war broke out he was among the first to be rushed into action in the firing line and if he has been killed, his brother John thinks it was in the recent fierce fighting in Poland. Of the other brother in uniform, he has heard nothing of late, and his best hope is that he is still alive. Twice each day he watches for the visit of the mail man, eager for news from across the sea which means so much to himself and to another brother, Harry Ostopolich, of Main street, who have been in this country for some time.

GERMANS BLOCKED AT NOVOGEORGIEVSK FORTRESS

Collapse of Campaign to Reach Warsaw From Northwest Predicted—Rumor Says Kaiser Caused Change in Tactics

Petrograd, Feb. 20.—Complete collapse of the German campaign in Northern Poland against the fortress of Novogeorgievsk, which presents an attack upon Warsaw from the northwest, was predicted today by Russian military experts. It is announced at the War Office that the strength of the German attacks on the Sierpec-Plock front has perceptibly decreased. Further fighting is expected there, as the Germans, checked by the stubborn defensive and deep mud in the Augustow region, are apparently withdrawing troops from the front south of the Wislona River and concentrating them in Northern Poland.

Well informed Russian observers assert that the German drive against the Sierpec-Plock front, and their attempts to reach Lomza and Ostrowiec constitute the supreme effort of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg to capture Warsaw, the efforts to reach the Polish capital from the west, having entirely failed.

German prisoners taken west of Warsaw are said to be in great numbers. They assert that Emperor William himself forbade the sacrifice of any more troops in what he believed to be a hopeless attempt to smash through the Russian lines on the Bzura-Rawa front and force Von Hindenburg to change his tactics.

SIX MORE TODAY LEAVING NEW YORK

Fifty Cargo Carriers on Way to German "War Zone"—Insurance Rates But Little Higher

New York, Feb. 20.—Marine insurance has been raised but slightly here as a result of Germany's war zone decrees. The reported sinking of several days ago quoted at one per cent, has been advanced only to 1 1/2 per cent. Insurance to Rotterdam is quoted at 1 1/2 per cent, and a similar quotation prevails to French ports. There are only a shade higher than before the decrees was issued.

There has been a rather heavy advance in the rates to the river Plate, because of the reported sinking of five vessels by the Kron Prinz Wilhelm. The rates have gone up from 1 1/2 to 2 per cent.

Six liners with many passengers and large cargoes are leaving port today for Europe, and their course will bring them within the zone of German submarines. They are the Niess Amsterdam, St. Louis, Tuscanian, Minchaba, Vandyke and Rochambeau. Shipping records show that more than fifty cargo carriers from this port are now on their way to the danger zone.

WASHINGTON FOR TEXT

Washington, Feb. 20.—The official text of Germany's reply to the American protest against the sinking of the Lusitania, the British answer to the American notes on the use of neutral flags and the capture of the American steamer Wilhelmina still were being awaited today by administration officials.

LUSITANIA HAD NO TROUBLE IN CROSSING

New York, Feb. 20.—The liner Lusitania reached New York today from Liverpool, having made the trip without finding it necessary to hoist the United States flag. On the outward voyage the liner sailed under the Stars and Stripes, while in the Irish Sea. Fear of German submarines kept the big vessel at anchor in the Mersey for nearly five hours after she left her dock, until an hour or more after midnight.

TWO WOMEN ARE SUFFOCATED IN MANCHESTER FIRE

Manchester, N. H., Feb. 20.—Two women were suffocated in a fire which poured out a three-story wooden building containing stores and tenements in Spruce street, early today. The dead were Mrs. Frosina Legdas, sixty years old, Miss Oramin Legdas, her granddaughter. They were found in their rooms on the third floor.

George Taylor and Leo French, firemen, were thrown to the ground when a ladder fell. Two lodgers were hurt by jumping from windows.

Local Questions Which Are Arising Over War Stamp Tax

Demand for Stamps Greater Than Supply to Date—Some Interesting Problems

The demand for war revenue stamps in St. John so far has been greater than the supply. Stocks received by the local office of the inland revenue department have been sold as rapidly as they have arrived and the consumers have been clamoring for more. Owing to the tremendous number required all over Canada the Ottawa office has had difficulty in arranging an adequate supply but the first rush is over and the stamps are now beginning to come in regularly. The sale so far totals about $600.

Some interesting questions have arisen in connection with affixing the stamps. One of these has arisen in connection with bottles of wine which arrive in sealed wrappers or cartons. The dealers did not wish to break the seals and proposed to affix the stamps on the outside wrapper. This was against the rules as the stamp must be affixed to the actual container.

Another matter which has come up is the method of cancellation. When the stamps are placed on a package they must be cancelled with the initials of the person affixing them. It has been necessary also to insist on the date being marked as well as the initials as otherwise the stamps might be used more than once. Inspectors from the department are on hand when the stamps are affixed to make sure that everything is according to law.

So soon as the officers are assured that the knowledge of the requirements is sufficiently widespread to make ignorance no cause a vigilant watch will be kept for violations and the penalty of $500 for each infraction will be insisted upon. The only section of the new act to go into force yet is that imposing the tax on native and imported wines but already many questions are being asked regarding the way in which the other sections will be interpreted when they become operative.

The additional duty will cover the entire tariff and importers are asking whether it will be imposed on the original price or upon that price with the duty added. The Ottawa office has received a communication from liquor importers on this subject as it will mean a big difference to them. The price of a bottle of whisky might be $1 while in Great Britain but its value after the duty is paid here might be $8, thus tripling the value on which the war tax would be levied. No decision has been given but it has been intimated that the war tax will be collected on the duty paid price.

A ruling has been asked for in the case of proprietary articles and patent medicines which are listed by the manufacturers at a fixed selling price but which are sold by some stores at cut rates. A $1 bottle of medicine may be sold in some stores for, say, seventy cents and the dealers want to know if the cut price store will be required to pay the full tax on the marked or actual price.

RAISED THE $500 NEEDED IN WEEK

Fine Results of Fairville Baptist Church Workers' Efforts

Last evening a very successful congregational reunion and roll call was held in the Fairville Baptist Church. Speeches were delivered by Rev. H. R. Boyer and Rev. Wellington Camp, former pastors. Mr. Boyer spoke on Stewardship and Mr. Camp emphasized New Testament Giving. The principal item was a report by Rev. P. R. Hayward, acting for a committee of a dozen zealous workers who at the first of the week had adopted the slogan "Five Hundred in a Week" with the object of raising that amount to square all debts due at the present time.

A roll was called by J. W. Stevens, clerk, and afterwards the two courts of Queens of Avalon served refreshments in the schoolroom. The excellent financial response came as a surprise to even the most sanguine of the church officials, as a canvass made at this time of the year with so many pressing calls was hardly expected to bring such results.

WHEAT LOWER

Chicago, Feb. 20.—European approaches to virtual outlawing of food-stuff shipments for either Germany or Great Britain, tended decidedly today to depress the wheat market here. THE NEUTRAL SHIPS

One of the first victims of the new German policy at sea was a neutral vessel belonging to Norway. It was struck by a torpedo from a German submarine without the formality of arrest and search. The fact will doubtless form the subject of discussion at a meeting of representatives of the Danish, Swedish and Norwegian governments to be held today to discuss the general situation.

The Standard will observe that the criticism does not all come from "Grit newspapers." There are others which do not regard with unmitigated favor the policy of hampering the mother country and at the same time burdening the Canadian consumer for the benefit of the Borden government's friends the manufacturers.

SAYS AIRSHIPS WOULD FIND STEFANSSON

New York, Feb. 20.—Burt M. McConnell, secretary to Vilhjalmur Stefansson, explorer, who, with two companions, has been missing in the ice-fields of the Arctic ocean for months, is making another effort to obtain funds here to fit out a relief expedition. He says he is convinced that the men are alive, and he also holds out hope that the same expedition could find the eight members of the crew of the Karluk, who have been missing in the frozen regions since the ill-fated steamship was sunk. Mr. McConnell wishes to build a power schooner and to carry two hydroplanes. With these machines he believes it would be possible to make a thorough search of the regions where he is convinced Stefansson and the others reported missing are still fighting for existence. "Such an expedition," he said, "not only could undoubtedly find these men but could complete the important work they set out to perform. A liberal estimate shows that this might be accomplished through the expenditure of $110,000."

AMUSEMENTS TWO STRONG BILLS AND NEW VAUDEVILLE AT THE OPERA HOUSE NEXT WEEK

H. Wilcox Young in the role of "Capt. Radloff" in the Russian military play, "Under the Bear's Paw," at the Opera House next week.

The Young-Adams Company will give their final performance of "East Lynne" at the Opera House tonight, also Russell and Moore, that gingery, live wire vaudeville act will be seen here for the last time. This act alone is a whole show in itself.

For the coming week Manager Young has selected two plays that he considers to be about the best in the company's list. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights and Wednesday matinee, the Russian military play, "Under the Bear's Paw," will be presented, with full attention to correctness of detail and with some of the most beautiful and elaborate costumes obtainable for stage use, made especially for this production. In other cities where the company has played, this drama has been one of the most successful given during the engagement. It should be so here.

An entire change in the vaudeville features between acts will also be made and as a special feature, Manager Young has engaged those two clever Scotch boys, McNaughton Brothers, fresh from the land of the heather, with phenomenal singing voices and a unique line of witty sayings and comedies.

The usual chocolate souvenirs will be given to the ladies at the Wednesday matinee. For the last half of the week "A Fatal Wedding" will be offered, with Little Marguerite in the role of the "Little Mother."

WAR IS? Great Four-Reel Feature, With Pathe News Weekly, at Gem Mon. and Tues.; "The Perils of Pauline," Chapter 4

The programme for next week at the Gem Theatre promises well for the entertainment of the patrons. The opening on Monday will consist of five reels of film, every one of interest. The feature is a four reel romantic drama of love and war, entitled "War Is—?" Everyone is familiar with the expression of General Sherman, or at least generally accredited to him, in regard to war, and the blank may be easily filled in the title. The story is of especial appeal at the present time. In addition to this, the Pathe News Weekly will contain many scenes of interest to Canadians, showing views from the vicinity of the firing line in France, and surrounding the work of Britain and her Allies in the conflict. The Wednesday and Thursday feature has not been definitely announced as yet, but it is expected to be a leader, while the week-end show will be headed as usual by "The Perils of Pauline," the fourth chapter shows Crane Wilbur as "TIZ" a JOY TO SORE, TIRED FEET

"TIZ" for Aching, Burning, Puffed-up Feet and Corns or Callouses. "How 'TIZ' does help sore feet."

Good-bye sore feet, burning feet, swollen feet, smelling feet, tired feet. Good-bye corns, callouses, bunions and raw spots. No more shoe tightness, no more limping with pain or drawing up your feet in agony. "TIZ" is magical, acts right off. "TIZ" draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. Use "TIZ" and wear smaller shoes. Use "TIZ" and forget your foot misery. Ah! how comfortable your feet feel.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" now at any drugstore or department store. Don't suffer. Have good feet, glad feet, feet that never swell, never hurt, never get tired. A year's foot comfort guaranteed or money refunded.

Miss B. Strouja, of East Hantsford, N.S., writes: "My hands were so badly chapped I was unable to put them in water. All remedies failed to heal until I tried Zam-Buk. Perseverance with this balm completely healed the sores."

ZAMBUK GIVES QUICK RELIEF

Harry Marvin, in disguise aboard ship bound for "Treasure Island," saving Pauline from villainous scheming. Their enemies plant a bomb on the yacht, an explosion follows and—well the rest should be seen to be enjoyed. The dramatic interest is well sustained, and a vein of comedy that is delightful.

UNIQUE PRESENTS STERLING BILL OF FARE FOR WEEK-END.

The combination of the efforts of three different producing companies, Theatrons, American and Koubat, at the Unique Theatre, result in a fine programme for week-end amusement seekers. The Thalhouser Co. offer a rather novel idea in the Frobenius comedy drama, Harry's Waterloo, wherein the juvenile leading man, Harry Benjamin, is featured and in which he plays eight different characters. He alone appears throughout the entire picture. Then the American Co. are presenting a society story, "The Stolen Masterpiece," which has to do with the mysterious theft of a celebrated painting, and its recovery by a young man who is a member of the town. The comic players are seen to advantage in the Broadway farce, Ethel's Proof Party, which serves to introduce the different comedienne, Miss Fay Tischer in the name part. Most of the sketches in this subject take place on a roof garden and the fun wages fast and warm at times. Next Monday the unique will show the solution of the serial, The Million Dollar Mystery.

NOVA SCOTIA'S GIFT

$600,000 in Goods or Cash For Belgium

Relief Sent by Steamers From Halifax Reaches a Total of $1,730,000

In its report to Premier Murray the Belgian Relief Committee of Halifax says that the steamer Calcutta on December 19 was almost altogether supplied by the Belgian Relief Committee in Montreal from its collections, but of the cargo by the steamer Tremegoy, which sailed on the 28th of January, fully one-third was supplied by the committee in this province.

We estimate that the total value of these four cargoes was $1,730,000, and that of this Nova Scotia contributed $600,000. New Brunswick $150,000 and Prince Edward Island $40,000. These are conservative figures, because on the very large quantities of excellent clothing sent forward we placed a very low valuation.

Up to the present time the treasurer of the committee has received in cash $71,850.47, of which $68,648.99 has been disbursed. A few days we will have about $18,000 in hand, and when the accounts are finally made up, we hope to be able to report that every dollar of the cash contributions went into food stuffs, as we expect the International Relief Committee in London will reimburse our committee for all incidental outlays and expenses in Halifax.

The committee also has now on hand a quantity of supplies for another shipment, and in a few days we expect that we will have in cash and goods, joining forces with the Montreal committee, sufficient to enable us to commence loading the fifth ship.

We append a memorandum of the supplies received to date from each of the maritime provinces. Ours very truly, D. MACGILLIVRAY, Chairman.

ARTHUR S. BARNSTEAD, Secretary. The Hon. G. H. Murray, Halifax, N. S. From Nova Scotia. Contents and weight. Potatoes, 1,069,300 lbs. Flour, 1,182,350 lbs. Apples, raw and evaporated 114,650 lbs. Macaulay Bros. call attention to their advertisement of this issue to a great sale of real palmetto silks, to commence on Monday next. These fabrics were purchased by Mr. Macaulay, who is still in Europe, at the price which prevailed before the war, and that low figure, combined with satisfaction of getting them delivered before the extra 7 1/2 per cent duty came into force, enables this firm to offer them at the wonderfully low price published. TO CURE CATARRHAL DEAFNE AND HEAD NOISES Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected a complete cure after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear a watch tick tell how they have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear.

Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Peppermint (Double Strength), about 75c. worth. Take this home and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Peppermint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this recipe a trial and free themselves from this destructive disease.

ABSORBING LETTER COMES FROM SIGNALLER IRVING APPELBY

The Men of the First Contingent a Changed Body From What They Were at Valcartier—The Effect of Discipline—The Salisbury Plain Conditions

A member of the Times staff has received a long and interesting letter from Divisional Signaller Irving Appelby, dated Butard Camp, Salisbury Plain, January 28. Much has happened since this letter was written and it is assumed that Signaller Appelby is now in France, but the letter will nevertheless be read with deep interest. It is as follows:—

There are many men writing to their home papers and as the accounts and various versions of our work and daily life are published and returned to us in the batches of Canadian papers, one can only smile at the distorted exaggeration and conflicting statements which come to light.

Some go to one extreme, others to the opposite; our life is colored too vividly by some who suffer from an overabundance of optimism, imagination or emotion for I must admit that I have never seen groups of soldiers, clustered around a Union Jack with heads bared singing "God Save the King" and other patriotic songs, nor can anyone correctly describe our camps as "overbearing with one continuous burst of military song" in the evening. All of this cheap sentimentality quickly brands itself as false when looked into by men who know the actual inner life of the volunteer on active service.

Before I go further into this strain, let me mention the other extreme. The English papers lend a rather half-hearted support to a shameful periodical here under the very misleading name of "The John Bull" magazine.

The chief delight of this paper seems to be to encourage kicking and growling and even slandering by Canadian soldiers. They run a few pages entirely devoted to this purpose and it is disgusting to see the columns and columns of unfair, diabolical assertions by the rank and file against their officers and their treatment by them.

It is my chief intention in writing today, to correct false impressions and give to the readers of the Times the truth so far as I know it, regarding every detail of our present life and work that I think they would be most interested in.

Let me impress upon you first of all that there is no living creature that goes through so many startling changes as a volunteer on active service. How well I remember the days and nights in Valcartier (they seem years ago) when the whole contingent seemed to have gone back to the days of their childhood. About all a man could think of then was childish pranks of divers sorts such as letting some one else's tent down as he lay asleep beneath it, sending comrades on fool's errands or wild goose chases, etc.

True enough, the camp reverberated with songs and music those days and the spirit of practically all was that of jolly abandon not unmingled with recklessness in many things. They resented the authority of their officers, fared up quickly and flew into rage at being reprimanded by an officer and then spent a few hours in snails and foolish thoughts of revenge later on.

The old imperial sergeants who acted as drill-masters were hated and feared, those days and how often we heard the words: "If I had ever dreamed of such tyranny or abuse as this, they couldn't have dragged me from home with a chain."

This roughly represents the life of a volunteer on active service during his first month or two. He is a model of ebullience, carelessness, uncleanliness, untidiness and his heart only knows two principal emotions—that of hilarity and exultation when things are going rightly and of dark anger and resentment when the fulfilment of the hand of British military law ever so slightly upon him.

Now let us consider the soldier of January in the ranks of the Canadian contingent. It is morning and the bugle calls forth sweetly into the clear cold air the sharp notes of the Reveille. A little chorus of groans from each tent is the answer. This is a splendid beginning (I am not indulging in sarcasm) for the trained soldier who does not do his regular little bit of growling or "grousing" will be regarded with wonderment.

A few moments later the bugle blows a long commanding call, unmistakable to all ears; it is the "dress for parade" call. It elicits quick obedience from all for only fifteen minutes more elapse before the sharp little call to "fall in," rings out, penetrating successfully to every nook and corner of the camp and you find no lagging now for the Canadian "Tommy," if we may call them such, know what a command means.

How neatly they trot into place in a true line all properly spaced and "stand at ease" until the word "shun" is snapped out! Then there is a click as all heads are brought sharply together, the rifles are brought smartly in to the side and there is strict silence and immobility.

Your strictest surveillance now could but show you the awful state of their feet and ankles with mud and filth; beyond that, you would find them cleanly shaved, washed, hair combed and not one shining button or badge missing, and if you cared to follow the stern keen-eyed sergeant after his command "for inspection, port arms," you would find bright gleaming rifles and bayonets, showing no trace of the great shan fight in the rain all day yesterday.

If by any chance the sergeant would discover an evidence of neglect about the rifle or uniform or person of one in that rank and demand an explanation, he would simply get "Nothing to say, sir" from a very cheerful looking pair of lips, belonging to a man who is apparently very cheerful and unconcerned. Then perhaps he is ordered to appear before his section or company commander for the offence but the cheerful answer comes back "very good, sir" for the Canadian soldier has learned the real beauty of discipline and cheerful demeanor.

No longer do we hear dire threats against the "tyrant sergeants" but on each man's lips he is "Good old Bill" or "Good old Jack" or whatever particular name or nickname he may bear among the rank and file.

We can easily recognize them now as our closest friends and feel more like blessing them for the feeling they gave us in Valcartier. It is to these very men, imperial army sergeant-instructors, that the nation must turn in her time of desperate need and say, "Here are our men; we commit them to your hands to learn the work of war." And yet in time of peace the old regulars are mocked and sneered at by a certain class who think the army merely the abode of men who are too lazy and useless to follow any other calling.

Midnight Stambait

As to the present work of the men, you will best understand just what they are doing when I quote you my experience of last Wednesday night. At 11:30 we were ordered to march to the front, "down" or "praries on my way from Enford Village to my camp at Butard. It is nearly six miles with absolutely no guide but the wind, stars or instinct. The night it was pouring and a raw wind drove out the south-west and I stumbled along with eyes half closed.

Suddenly I was seized from both sides and found myself a prisoner; I was given my liberty after assuring them that I was a headquarters signaller of the First Brigade, and just in the rear of this outpost gun I came upon hundreds of men digging battle trenches with feverish haste.

They laughed and joked in low tones and seemed entirely unconcerned, regarding the cold, rain and darkness. Moreover they were very hungry. I don't know how long they stayed out there but at 12 mid-night tremendous rifle fire followed a burst of cheering, and I saw the flash of a great bayonet charge which turned the trick.

They are getting their training all right and they are the men who can stand it, provided they have any kind of a show to take care of themselves after the big day's manoeuvres are over.

But right there is the question and there is much to be said regarding it. Men at the front fight human enemies and show lists of dead and wounded as a result. The Canadian Contingent has found in the elements a "foeman worthy of their steel," and we can also show a list of dead, starting in size and a list of sick and diseased that would scarcely be believed if published.

Every man who has written home for the last three months has doubtless started his letter with the remarks "It is raining hard today at the whole country is in a sea of mud."

This little sentence is sufficient to tell you what the weather of England has become almost every day, almost every hour, since the Canadian Contingent arrived here and it gradually reaped its harvest from our ranks.

We have lived in mud, drilled in mud, marched in mud, have done everything but eat mud, and it is impossible for any man to be dry or warm in it. Some have worn rubber boots, when permitted.

There is some diphtheria going too, but it seems to be handled very successfully by the medical authorities.

All of this trouble can be traced directly to the miles of mud in which we live, for it reeks with bad odors and germs of disease.

I seriously doubt whether the first contingent will cross the Channel in any greater strength than 65 per cent of the number which sailed so proudly into Plymouth last October, and if we remain here much longer, the number will be less than that.

A Soldierly View.

And now let us take up the question of the fault-finding. Are our officers to be blamed for this? A great many seem to think so and write volumes of slander to "The John Bull" and even to their home papers regarding it.

Is Gen. Sam Hughes to blame? Is our grand old Lord Kitchener to blame? I say "no," and I would explain it in this way: We are at war and must endure with patience whatever hardship or suffering comes to us. There are millions of soldiers here in England and thousands of wounded and sick in hospitals and then we must include the army of the bereaved who must be looked after financially.

To me it is marvellous how the great brain of Kitchener can direct the whole enormous business so splendidly; where he ever went without his three meals a day and a place to sleep at night?

We are probably the highest paid of any branch of the allied forces, the best dressed and probably the best fed. Moreover we have the joy of knowing that our wives and mothers at home are drawing almost a dollar a day from a true-blue government.

All in all, no Canadian soldier has any serious complaint to make against his officers; our only drawback has been the terrible weather of England and the military authorities could never be blamed for this.

True discipline teaches men to be patient under all adversities and to do their whole duty simply and faithfully. It also teaches men to loyally uphold their officers and to learn to have confidence in them at all times and what can be lower than for men to publicly ridicule their leaders in the press, as many have done in this oft mentioned "John Bull" edition.

Now if patience is such a virtue to the man in the ranks, it should also prove a virtue to those who must stay behind and watch and wait.

UNSTRUNG, UNSTEADY SHAKY NERVES MAY BE TONED UP BY USING MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS.

Mrs. John Harper, Toronto, Ont., writes: "I have used Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for the heart and nervous system. I was confined to a grocery store for twelve years, and had to give up business, as I became terribly run down and nervous, and had heart trouble, and I am sure I am gaining very fast now. I feel that nothing did me any good until I tried your Heart and Nerve Pills, and I am positive they will cure me. The nerves of one hand would tremble and then seem to go numb so that I could not write or sew. Now my hand is quite steady, as you can see by my handwriting. This is a big change which delights me so much. I thought all was done that could be done. I was about to give up in despair when I tried them last remedy, and even after I had only taken half a box the change started to come."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will re-tone the enervated, exhausted, overworked system to full constitutional power. Price, 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

to look at ordinary indications rather than lend a willing ear to every imaginative person who gallops in with a new "cure-head."

You know the condition of the roads toward the front of battle, you would not wonder why we walk. A reliable person informs me that he could not nearly 200 motor lorries helpless and abandoned in the frozen mud of a single morning of the war.

An army of necessity travels "on its stomach" so to speak, and what use is it to expect great advances by new millions of allied troops, great victories by our men, and swift progress toward the coveted goal, when it is almost impossible to haul food, ammunition or supplies to the men at present engaged?

I doubt if any of the anxious wives and mothers whom we have left behind us have anything to worry seriously about before May; this may sound unbelievable, but time will tell and I will willingly acknowledge myself in the wrong, when I am proven to be wrong.

I know that the military authorities here are well satisfied with simply holding the Germans at bay until the roads permit them to start the real attack, and the people who are always asking "Why don't they let our boys get at them?" must wait quietly and remember that if the Canadians were there now fighting, they would have a hundred-fold more hardships to endure than they will three or four months from now.

Today we are reading joyfully the story of the sinking of the "Blucher" and damming of two other German cruisers by our splendid blue-jackets. Every loyal heart at home will beat with renewed interest when they are told that the "Princess Royal," which bore a noble part in this thrilling sea-fight, was one of our protocols during the dangerous voyage of the 1st Contingent.

With Cyril MacDonald A glorious big fighting-machine, she glided up on our port side and sent a message to the admiral aboard the Charlybis, which lay a little to starboard, and a little ahead of us. Cyril MacDonald, my partner on signal duty aboard the Caribbean, was on the bridge with me when she dove in, and we eagerly expected her announcement to the admiral that she would protect our left side from attack during the voyage.

How well I remember, word for word, the admiral's answer, by bell signal, "Very good, Capt.," delighted to have the "Princess Royal" under my command, greetings to—"and then our "Princess" manoeuvred off gracefully to her position, while the day after day we looked with pride upon her might and actually longed for a German attack so that we could see our big "lady" in action.

I personally received messages from her also from the "Good Hope" which was since lost, and many of us were about the fast battleship "Tiger" at—port, England, and therefore this battle and victory has stirred up No. 2 section of the Div. Signal Company to a great extent.

I must in justice give great praise to the Y. M. C. A. for the labor of love that they have carried on among the men of our contingent since the first mobilization at Valcartier. They are still with us and are doing all they possibly can to cheer up the men and to help them spiritually and in many other ways. They are giving their best to us, without asking any expecting reward or even appreciation and I firmly believe that they are obtaining splendid results of their activities.

Their leader has been granted an honorary commission as lieutenant to assist him in the specific carrying out of his plans and he will accompany us to the front and I would not be greatly surprised if I see him some day doing a man's work in the trenches.

We often wonder, these days, how the folks at home feel regarding their mighty neighbors to the south. We are greatly concerned here over the questionable attitude of the American nation at present, and have all eyes here to keep the civilians of the little villages from believing that the United States are actually preparing to strike a treacherous blow at Britain, in the near future.

Little credence is given such rumors as these among our troops, and for good reason of surprise and disappointment unmingled with disgust for their part in the "Hague" treaty seems to have been forgotten by them as easily as Germany's part was by the Kaiser's government.

The men who fight beneath the British flag are merely answering that call—the call to duty, and it matters but little what that call may yet involve; Britain will stand for the right until she triumphs or falls, if it takes the last man, the last dollar and the last acre of her kingdom.

There is some diphtheria going too, but it seems to be handled very successfully by the medical authorities.

All of this trouble can be traced directly to the miles of mud in which we live, for it reeks with bad odors and germs of disease.

I seriously doubt whether the first contingent will cross the Channel in any greater strength than 65 per cent of the number which sailed so proudly into Plymouth last October, and if we remain here much longer, the number will be less than that.

A Soldierly View. And now let us take up the question of the fault-finding. Are our officers to be blamed for this? A great many seem to think so and write volumes of slander to "The John Bull" and even to their home papers regarding it.

Is Gen. Sam Hughes to blame? Is our grand old Lord Kitchener to blame? I say "no," and I would explain it in this way: We are at war and must endure with patience whatever hardship or suffering comes to us. There are millions of soldiers here in England and thousands of wounded and sick in hospitals and then we must include the army of the bereaved who must be looked after financially.

To me it is marvellous how the great brain of Kitchener can direct the whole enormous business so splendidly; where he ever went without his three meals a day and a place to sleep at night?

We are probably the highest paid of any branch of the allied forces, the best dressed and probably the best fed. Moreover we have the joy of knowing that our wives and mothers at home are drawing almost a dollar a day from a true-blue government.

All in all, no Canadian soldier has any serious complaint to make against his officers; our only drawback has been the terrible weather of England and the military authorities could never be blamed for this.

True discipline teaches men to be patient under all adversities and to do their whole duty simply and faithfully. It also teaches men to loyally uphold their officers and to learn to have confidence in them at all times and what can be lower than for men to publicly ridicule their leaders in the press, as many have done in this oft mentioned "John Bull" edition.

Now if patience is such a virtue to the man in the ranks, it should also prove a virtue to those who must stay behind and watch and wait.

Terrible Roads at Front

You at home, must not be swept off your feet by every foolish rumor that comes in regarding the Canadians going to France. Rumors are always rife in our lines and we are gradually learning

Send Today for Free 50c Box

Lean, lank, skinny, scrawny men and women should take advantage of this ten-day Free offer before it expires. Nothing is more embarrassing than extreme thinness. It is the plump well-developed man who 'cuts the melons' and has the fun socially. Scrawny, skinny women are seldom popular. We all admire fine figures. No dressmaker can hide a bony, skinny form. Here is a chance to test free one guaranteed reliable treatment which has 'made good' for years in this country. It has taken England by storm and which has just been awarded a gold medal and diploma of honor at Brussels, Belgium. Nothing in history has ever approached the marvelous success of this new treatment, which has made more thin folks plump than all the 'tonics' and ineffective medicines for fifty years. There is a reason. Plump well-formed men and women assimilate what they eat. Thin, scrawny ones do not. This new discovery supplies the one thing which thin folks lack; that is the power to assimilate food. It renews the vigor, re-establishes the normal, all in nature's own way. It is not a lark to jaded nerves, but a generous upbuilder. This new discovery puts on firm, solid flesh at the rate of ten to thirty pounds a month in many cases. Best of all—the flesh 'stays put.' The treatment is furnished in convenient tablet form. A week's supply can be carried in the vest pocket. No one need know you are doing until your gain in weight causes complimentary comment. Here the special offer for the purpose of convincing thin people in this community that these tablets will do just exactly what is claimed for them. T. D. FRAWLEY MARRIED?

Daughter of Mantell on Stage; Charlotte Walker in "Two-day." Local Players: Pictures and Their Players; General Stage News

Those who recall him and his playing in St. John will be interested to learn from Los Angeles papers the story that T. Daniel Frawley, stage director for Oliver Morosco, and Peggy O'Neil, playing in "Peg o' My Heart," were secretly wed. Both deny the report. Theatrical friends say they are married.

Frawley is credited with having made a star out of Miss O'Neil. He went to Los Angeles ostensibly to witness the performance of "The Lady We Love," by Frank Mandell, with a view of taking it east, but is also paying Miss O'Neil a visit, the latter now playing San Francisco.

Miss Billie Burke, actress, was operated upon this week in New York. Miss Burke, who in private life is Mrs. Florence Ziegfeld, Jr., was stricken with stomach trouble in Boston on Tuesday night during a performance of "Jerry" at the Hollis Street Theatre.

Ethel Mantell, nineteen-year-old daughter of Robert Mantell, is making her first appearance on the New York stage at the Forty-fourth Street Theatre as a member of her father's supporting company. Miss Mantell is the daughter of the late Charlotte Heberts. "The Seawolf," a dramatization of Jack London's novel, by Guy Bolton and Joseph Noel will soon be produced. It is said that Holbrook Blinn is considering an offer to play the leading role. Mr. Bolton is the author of "The Fallen Idol" and "90 in the Shade," now at the Knickerbocker, while Mr. Noel is remembered as the author of "The Marriage-Not," which was produced at Maxine Elliott's Theatre two years ago.

Clever Child. Little Miss Marguerite who is with the Young-Adams Co. at the Opera House this week in "East Lynne," is a particularly clever child actress, and her appearance has added to the popularity light opera, "The Peasant Girl," which will bring Clifton Crawford back to the metropolitan stage. Under the name of "Polenblut," the opera was the rage of Berlin and Vienna just before the war. The book is by Leo Stein, author of the Merry Widow, and has been adapted by Edgar Smith, with lyrics by Herbert Reynolds and H. A. Altridge. The music is by Oscar Neubal.

The Broadway Theatre, New York, the home of many dramatic and musical comedy successes and recently devoted to vaudeville and pictures, has been taken over by a syndicate controlled by Adolph Zukor, president of the Famous Players Film Company, and Stanley Kastbaum, who controls theatres in Philadelphia and New York. The new lessees who are incorporated as the Waybread Company, plan a radical change of policy, the new order to be inaugurated today.

Musical Events. The engagement of the Boston Symphony orchestra to give a dozen concerts at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco during the latter half of the season has been announced. It has been attempted by an orchestra of the United States. The contract provides that the entire orchestra, with Dr. Karl Muck, its conductor, be taken direct to San Francisco and return direct to Boston, giving no concerts on the way out or on the way back. It is planned that the orchestra will leave Boston on May 9. Madame Melba is planning an extensive tour of the United States with her concert company for next season under the direction of C. A. Ellis of Boston. She will begin at the Maine Festival at the end of September and now purposes giving between thirty and forty concerts.

Geraldine Farrar has put herself for next year exclusively under the management of Charles A. Ellis of Boston who is to give her a most extensive concert tour to begin in October and continue until the end of the season, covering the larger cities of the United States. "It's a Long Long Way to Texas," writes Eleanor Woodruff, who has just arrived in the Lone Star State with the Vitagraph Company that is to produce several features there during the coming months. "The bright lights of Broadway seem but a dream, and one wonders why on earth we ever wanted to stay out of bed after ten o'clock at night. We are quartered at Fort Clarke, and the nearest city is San Antonio, fourteen miles away. The officers here are; in fact, they make me feel like a regular army man, not a volunteer. I will have to do some reckless horseback riding in some of the pictures we put on, and the commander of the fort has given me my pick of the horses, while all the handsome officers have offered to teach me. No, you needn't look suspicious. I am not performing the old swimming trick of pretending that I have to be taught. Besides you really can't resist these officers." Harold Howard is the latest legitimate actor to permanently bid the stage farewell. After appearing with success in the Kleine features "Officer 6667" and "Ship Thief," staged by George Fitzmaurice, Mr. Howard has now signed for the Selig Stock.

Beatriz Michelena, the beautiful star of the California Motion Picture Corporation, recently performed the feat of swimming the Russian River in Sonoma County at a time when the stream was flooded with a torrential winter rain. The company was engaged in filming "The Lily of Poverty Flat." The hero in the story swims "the North Fork" in order to dance with his sweetheart. It was no trifling job for Frederick Lewis, leading man for Miss Michelena. After he had safely negotiated the flood, Miss Michelena, on a dare, plunged into the river and made the trip like an Annette Kellerman.

JACK JOHNSON TO HAVE BODY GUARD

Ten Picked Men Will Look After the Negro Champion

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 19.—Jack Johnson will arrive in Juarez on next Monday. "Both Johnson and Willard will step into the ring on March 6," says Jack Curley, promoter.

In a statement made to Curley, a brother of Villa said that he had arranged for a personal guard of ten picked men, who will constantly be with the big negro. A large house in Juarez next to the one in which Villa lives when he is in Juarez, has been reserved for the champion. Extra precautions are being taken, according to the Juarez military authorities, to prevent Johnson's being kidnapped. Under no circumstances will the big fighter be turned over to U. S. authorities. The statement is made on the authority of Curley. General Villa's brother and the military and municipal authorities of Juarez.

The announcement from Chicago that Jack Johnson will be extradited if he goes to Mexico has aroused Billy Gibson to action and he is ready to send Jim Coffey to Juarez to battle Jess Willard in case Johnson has to pull out of the match.

CHARGE COOMBS WITH VIOLATION OF GAME LAW

Portland, Me., Feb. 19.—John W. Coombs, pitcher for Connie Mack for years and now signed by the Brooklyn Nationals, is accused by Game Commissioner Harry Austin of violating the Maine hunting laws and is notified to appear at an investigation and explain why deer were hung up for camp use while he was conducting a party of baseball players through the woods last November.

The fine is $40 and costs for each deer in excess of two shot by any hunter, and it is said two were used for food and that each of the five men, Coombs, Shawkey, Penock, Lapp and Dan Murphy, shipped home two each. Coombs is in Palestine, Tex., and he has requested a postponement of the complaint and hearing until after he finishes his training season and preliminary trip and returns north when the regular season opens.

These five men, with three guides, journeyed from Greenville in the Moosehead region directly through the Allegash country to Fort Kent on the Canadian line last November and there is no denial that each shipped out two deer. Coombs insists that he has never violated any hunting law in the state where he has been accustomed to shoot since he was old enough to go into the woods. It seems that another hunter visited their camp one day and saw the haunch of venison hung in a tree and he learned later that each man brought out two complete carcasses, hence the complaint to a warden that they had shot more than the law allows, and Chairman Austin was obliged to take notice of the complaint. It is said that the custom prevails in the woods of having venison while in camp and also bringing home the full limit, but Mr. Coombs says this is not true of his party. He has been in Texas two months and did not wish to make the long journey north especially to be heard now.

Why Baker Retired. "Home Run" Baker has made the following explanation of his determination to quit the Philadelphia Athletics: "I have decided to quit the Athletics for the sole reason that I am sick and tired of traveling around the country. This winter I made my mind up to give up baseball, but I have not been able to do so. I have had enough, so I notified Connie that I would not play again. I want it understood by my friends that I have absolutely no other reason and that my absolute trust in Connie Mack's hands has been more than fair. The Federals have nothing to do with my decision and I have the slightest idea of going with them. I love baseball, and probably will play just as long as I can wear a uniform, even if it is around the country down here, but no more world-wide touring."

The Giants have sent Marquard an order to report for spring practice at Marlin, Texas, on March 1, and as that date drawing close Rube is getting worried.

CARLETON STREET WORK
Present Work and Plans For Spring—New Method of Handling Asphalt

The double purpose of cutting a new street and at the same time providing broken stone for street work is proceeding rapidly and satisfactorily in West St. John. The crusher was established at the head of Rodney street some time ago and the rock is being cut away to clear a new street on a section of Lancaster street, between Rodney and Winslow, which at present is impassable. Some of the rough material is being used to build up a hollow at the foot of the hill and the balance is being crushed for street work. In the spring the street repairs will be commenced.

Water bound McAdam pavements will be laid in Rodney street, commencing at the lower end as far as the Market Square, then around the square and then, if the material and money are still available, on the upper end of Rodney street. Commissioner Fotts is of the opinion that water bound McAdam has not been given a satisfactory test around the city and that the new pavement would prove as satisfactory as the tar McAdam, having the advantage of not being affected by leaks from the gas mains.

ST. JOHN ROTARY CLUB
MEN GOING TO HALIFAX

The St. John Rotary Club will pay a return visit to the members of the Halifax Rotary club next week. Several weeks ago the Halifax Rotarians came to St. John and made themselves so popular that the St. John men have decided that they ought to see more of them.

Y. M. C. A. WORK IN WAR

A letter from Victoria, Princess of Schleswig-Holstein, to the London Morning Post, asking the public for funds for the extension of the social work connected with the base camps of the Y. M. C. A. in France, recalls that this association has carried its activities to the other side of the channel in an endeavor, which has proved very successful, to bring comforts and recreation to the British forces at the front.

The Man In The Street

Have you helped "The Widow's Mite" to grow?
Even though it is like spring, February's not yet over; so better not take off the heavy ones just yet.

Some of those omniscient persons telling when the soldiers of the second contingent would be leaving here, must now feel not unlike the prophets who said the war would end in last November.

Souls and No-Souls
Standard Headline, Feb. 16, "Boots for First Canadian Contingent Well Made and of Good Quality."
Toronto Globe, Feb. 18: "Divisional orders issued today by General Alderson contained an order that no one wearing Canadian boots would be allowed to land in France with first contingent."

Belief is merely a question of choice—but who should know better?

Those who cannot go to the front to lick the Germans can do their share by licking the war revenue stamps.

After reading that report on the military boots it is hard to believe that the Canadian forces were really on a "war footing."

Three members of the first Knights of Pythias lodge founded fifty one years ago attended the celebration last evening. The principles of that order must be conducive to longevity.

The Kaiser seems to be getting about as popular with the rest of the world as an incompetent baseball umpire.

Now is the happy day of marbles and the skipping rope upon us.

We've Given Up Hope of the Cars
With Jitney busses becoming popular in American cities perhaps we may hope in the course of the next decade to see a few running between the city and Rockwood Park, or the city and Millidgeville.

Marshall Wilder, comedian, left a fortune of $200,000. This will probably make some alleged funny fellows wilder than he ever to be humorous.

What Did He Ever Write
Sir Max Aitken is appointed "official eye-witness" and J. J. Carlick, M. P., of "Port Arthur," "assistant eye-witness." Other words if Sir Max looks at something for the purpose of seeing it, J. J. will give a statement and help him look. Perhaps an extra pair of "specs" might help.

Somebody inquires "what is the chief requirement of an official eye-witness?" Pull mostly.

In the words of Kitchener May I will be especially observed as moving day in France.

A week from today is "Flag Day"—be ready.

Just A Quarter Each
The committee in charge of "The Widow's Mite" drawing should have no difficulty in selling tickets to anybody—particularly to those who belong to "The Boosters' Squad" when the boys are marching off to fight. Let the sale be general and generous. Widows might help, but anyone else might also.

Commenting on the parade of the 26th before the moving picture operator this week, a friend of the Man In The Street declared it like the March of the Camera (n) men.

The Standard has not said a word about "shoddy blankets manufactured in Toronto for Canadian soldiers."

Regule notes, promissory notes and checks are the life of the modern day. Notes of protest and protested notes are included.

Who Wants a Change
"What do you think of the movement to return to the old aldermanic system?" we asked the man in the street.

"I did not know there was one," he replied.

"Haven't you noticed the Globe's agitation?"

"Well, I noticed that the Globe was agitated, but I thought that was all there was to it."

"But there are those letters from correspondents—what do you think about them?"

"Say, what I think about them is that the chap who writes them will get a cramp in his imagination if he has to stick up many more non-de-plumes for himself."

"They do sound a bit alike, but remember what the Kaiser quotes 'One with God is a majority.'"

"Oh, come off, you're not trying to convince the Globe or the ready-letter-writer with either of those parties are you?"

"Not at all, not at all; you don't get me; what I meant was the principle of the thing."

"The principle of it? There isn't enough principle to it to sign the letter writer from being ashamed to keep his own name to his credit?"

"But a man has a right to his own convictions."

"Sure he has; but the fact that a man is absolutely convinced that he cannot be elected as a commissioner is a poor argument for a change in the system, from the view point of the other taxpayers."

"Some good men were elected under the old system though."

"Yes, but do you remember the others? Personally, I'd hate to trust the city to a bunch of men who were afraid of a commission double election, and who figure that their only hope of getting elected is by a free-for-all fight for the election of seventeen aldermen."

"But they say that some of the present commissioners are not up to the highest standard of efficiency."

"Well, suppose they are not; are you going to help the civic machinery say by leading it up with a dozen others who probably would be considered worse?"

"You don't seem to be in favor of a change then."

"Right, my boys; there are other things that are changing and that are changing more than our form of city government."

SOLDIERS TO THREE CHURCHES ON SUNDAY

Another Presentation This Morning to Captain George Keefe—The Recruiting

The church parades of the militia in training here will tomorrow morning include the Cathedral, St. Paul's and Trinity. The 26th, headed by the 62nd band, will parade to Trinity church, where Rev. I. B. Sherman will preach, and be assisted in the services by Rev. Captain E. B. Hooper, army chaplain, while the Cathedral of the unit will go to the Cathedral headed by the City Cornet Band. The Army Service Corps, headed by the Cornet Band, will parade to St. Paul's church. Its Catholic members will go to the Cathedral.

Recruiting.

It has been noticeable in connection with local recruiting that the number signing the roll on Saturdays was usually much smaller than on any other day of the week, and today was no exception. Only a few men were added to the strength of the 6th C. M. B. this morning, and the roll was true to the 40th Battalion. The recruiting in connection with the former is now for squadrons "A" and "B" of this unit.

The members of No. 5 Co. C. A. S. C. left their quarters in West St. John early this morning on a route march to Spruce Lake. On arrival there they were put to work in establishing a field depot in accordance with the requirements of their duty in action. The transport and supply sections were kept busy arranging for the issue of rations and supplies to a large (imaginary) force of troops operating some miles distant from the lake. The maneuvers were particularly interesting and proved instructive to the men. Noon-day rations were carried, with full marching equipment. The operations proved most successful.

The 26th.

The 26th Battalion remained in the city this morning, dining in the vicinity of the army. They were expected to have a route march this afternoon. The operations of this unit yesterday were most satisfactory. The battalion left early in the morning and marched to Manchester's Field, where field manoeuvres, platoon, and battalion drill were successfully executed.

Presentations.
Captain George Keefe of the 26th, was further honored this morning when the factory and warehouse employees and the teamsters of the staff of The James Robertson Co., Ltd., assembled and presented to him a handsome gold-mounted fountain pen as a token of esteem and remembrance. Captain Keefe replied in tones of appreciation. The members of the office staff some time ago presented to him a military watch.

A surprise presentation was made to Sergt. Roy T. Armstrong by the staff of the American Steam Laundry this
