STUPIDITY.

The Man-Killer Built on Union Street

Has Already Been Responsible for Several Minor Accidents and Will be Heard from Later.

As fully expected, the man-killer placed on Union Street by the street department has already begun to get in its work. On Saturday night a grocery team went over it, the groceries were spilled and the wagon broken. Shortly afterwards a citizen fell over it and painfully injured his leg. Later one of the residents in the vicinity, who appointed himself watchman, was fortunately able to prevent three other teams from crashing over the obstacle. In at least one of these cases the results would have been serious, as the horse was going at quite a swift pace.

Those persons who live or have places of business near the junction of Brunswick and Union Streets are simply amazed at the utter stupidity displayed by the designer of this obstruction. To crown it all, and evidently in order that the last possibility of seeing the things might be done away with, the timbers have this morning been painted almost the color of the soil.

Nor does this piece of foolishness accomplish the end for which it was created. The wood carts back right over it and occupy their old positions against the sidewalk. A strip of asphalt would be just as effective as this obstruction if the wood vendors were warned that they must not pass it.

Time and again Magistrate Ritchie has imposed fines on private individuals for leaving small piles of refuse on the streets at night without a light, but this latest vagary of the street department is of much more danger to teams and pedestrians than any rubbish heaps for which fines were ever imposed.

The Star was informed today that a number of persons are now taking steps to have the thing removed.

TITUS SHUT OUT.

America's Champion Rejected by the Henley Committee.

NEW YORK, June 22.—The entry of F. S. Titus, the champion oarsman of America, has been rejected by the American Henley committee at Philadelphia according to the report. WEDDED RECENTLY.

The congregation of St. Philip's church has been greatly interested in two weddings in which their pastor officiated recently. On June 16th he united Frederick Boyd, of Halifax, and Miss Bertha Kennedy, of this city. The ceremony was performed at the residence of Mrs. Beers, Mecklenburg street, and was witnessed by the many friends of the contracting parties. After the reception they had been held at the residence of Mrs. Beers, the bride and groom left for their home at 2:30 o'clock on June 2nd. Rev. Mr. Coffin united in holy wedlock Wm. McLeod and Miss Margaret Woods. The bride belongs to New Carlisle, Queens county, and has many many friends during stay in this city. The ceremony was performed at the residence of John Gay, 183 Britannia street. The happy couple made a short visit to Quebec.

POLICE COURT.

Two old stagers wiped their eyes this morning and wished they had not been so long in the dock. One was charged with being drunk and the other with being a vagrant. Dan, Donovan, John Hedd, and John O'Donnell were also fined eight dollars and John Davidson got off for four dollars.

The examination of William Close, charged with stealing a quantity of lead pipe from William J. Fraser's house, was begun. Nathan Jacobson, junior and senior, were examined and testified that they had bought lead from Close. The lead pipe was identified as was also the prisoner. Lawrence Lambert, plumber, also identified the lead which was bought by Jacobson from Close. The case was postponed.

THE WEATHER.

MANY VISITORS.

Delegates to the Convention of Car Accountants

Arrived in the City this Forenoon and Are Being Entertained by the I. C. R.

It was just six minutes after ten o'clock this morning when the party of railway accountants and their families, who have been making a tour of the provinces as guests of the I. C. R. and incidentally eating up Mr. Blair's so-called surplus—although they are in receipt of $2,500 to $5,000 a year—arrived in this city. The special train on which they travelled consisted of nine cars and made the run from Moncton to this city in two hours. Twenty minutes was lost in side-tracking to allow regular trains to pass, so that the actual running time was but one hour and forty minutes, or only two minutes slower than the record for the run which was made by the Sousa Band special some years ago.

It was expected that the party, about 125 all told, would arrive earlier than they did, and Messrs. Ross and Smiley had arranged a programme which later had to be changed. Upon arrival the visitors were to be entertained on a car ride about the city, after which there was to be a sail down the harbor, through the falls and up the river to Watter's Landing, where they were to be initiated into the mysteries of a clam bake.

The late hour at which the train arrived, however, prevented the first part of the programme being carried out and the four cars engaged for the occasion were sent back to the sheds.

Upon arrival the party were met by Messrs. Tiffin, Jarvis, Ross and Smiley of the I. C. R. and escorted to the I. C. R. pier, where the tug Lord Kitchener, under the command of Mr. Tiffin, was waiting. From the flagstaff in front of the depot three flags were flying. No time was lost in boarding the steamer and a hurry-up trip was made around the harbor, after which the Kitchener and party went through the falls and thence to Watter's Landing where the clam bake prepared by James Jackson is being partaken of.

The party will return to the city this afternoon and after having dinner at the Royal Hotel and a look about town will leave by a special train for Montreal, where they will disembark.

Since coming to the provinces, the car accountants have visited Halifax and Sydney, and it was from the latter place they came here. At Halifax many of them, as a goodly number come from inland towns, caught their first glimpse of the Atlantic and for the first time saw one of Britain's war dogs which compose the nation's first line of defence. It was H. M. S. Ariadne, and the officers of that cruiser excelled themselves in the attention and reception shown to the party.

Among local railway men it is today being remarked that the committee in charge of the entertainment of the visitors have not invited any of the St. John staff to join the party.

THE SMITH FIRE.

Examination of Talmage Carr Held at Oromocto.

The preliminary examination of Talmage Carr, charged with setting fire to James E. Smith's house on the Geary Settlement road, was held at Oromocto on Saturday before Magistrate White. J. B. M. Baxter appeared for the prosecution and Albert J. Gregory, K. C., for the defence. It appeared that the prisoner had been in the habit of paying attention to a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carr, and it was from the latter that he had been engaged to be married but the engagement was broken off because of the prisoner having been arrested in Fredericton on suspicion of theft. He protested his innocence but was unable to do so when the girl called "clear his name." The Smiths forbade him coming to their house, but he persisted in doing so to some extent and the girl claimed that she was annoyed by his attentions. It appeared from the whole evidence that these attentions were not entirely disagreeable to her and it was clear that there was no personal ill-feeling between Mr. Smith and the prisoner.

On Tuesday, the 19th inst., about 10:30 o'clock, on the Monday evening previous, in the absence of the Smiths the prisoner was at their house when a friend was staying with Miss Kennedy. The next morning, the 20th inst., he saw Carr lurking in some trees and as he came up Carr got on his bicycle and made off. The tracks of the wheel were afterwards traced showing that the rider had carried it to one place off the road, through a field and come out on the road again to commence his return journey. The prisoner gave evidence in his own behalf. He positively denied being more than ten or fifteen rods to Smith's house that evening. He came out about eight or nine p. m. to meet some friends but did not see them nor call at any house where they were or might have been. Both he and his father swore that he (Carr) was at home about two miles away, at 9:20 p. m., and remained there until 10:30 p. m., when having fixed the seat of his bicycle he went further away from his home to try how it worked. Returning he was carried past his own gate and down a hill and said that he turned to come back home. He was met on that hill, which was between his home and the house, while coming towards home, by a witness for the prosecution. The magistrate felt that these facts required consideration and postponed his decision until tomorrow at ten o'clock. In the meantime Carr was admitted to bail, himself in $1,000 and two sureties in $500 each.

Another opportunity will be given to those who did not have the pleasure of hearing Mrs. J. K. Barney at the Victoria rink on Sunday. She will lecture in the York Theatre on Thursday evening, June 25th, at eight o'clock. Mrs. Barney's great work as superintendent of the International W. C. T. U. states prisons is well known the world over, and her wondrous power to hold an audience as was demonstrated yesterday has never been surpassed in this city.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The Baxter-Sullivan Case Before Judge McLeod.

City Physicians Testify that the Charges Made for Attendance Are Higher Than Usual.

In the circuit court this morning before Judge McLeod, the suit brought by Dr. Geo. O. Baxter against John Power and James E. Fraser, executors of the estate of John Sullivan, was continued. The defendant's side of the case opened this morning with the evidence of city physicians. Dr. John F. Macaulay and Dr. L. A. McAlpine.

Dr. Morrison's evidence went to show that $6.00 per visit as asked by the plaintiff for medical services rendered to the deceased was excessive and that the ordinary charge made by other physicians for similar services seldom went beyond $2. His charge for such work would not exceed $3, for both night and day.

Dr. Macaulay said that the fee for such services ranged from $1 to $2, but at night a fee somewhat larger was usually asked. He thought that under special circumstances a fee larger than the usual might be charged.

Dr. McAlpine testified that the fee for such work varied from $1 to $2, according to circumstances. He thought that the circumstances of the present case as set forth in the evidence of the plaintiff would not justify a charge greater than $2 per visit.

After the examination of the executors, John Power and James E. Fraser, the defence closed. The court then adjourned.

THE BARR COLONISTS.

C. W. Speers Reports Everything Now Running Smoothly.

WINNIPEG, June 18.—C. W. Speers, Dominion colonization agent, who has been with the Barr colonists since their arrival in Winnipeg and accompanied them in their trek from Saskatoon to their reserve, assisting them in getting settled, has returned from the district, where he reports everything going very satisfactorily.

"Of the original 1,500 or 1,600 people who went direct to Saskatoon," said Mr. Speers, "only about five hundred have settled in the intended colony and in adjacent territory. They represent about 135 families, now in a new and flourishing British colony between Jack Fish and Red Berry Lakes, north of the Saskatchewan. Then forty families are settled in the vicinity of Saskatoon and the Palliseres. In the Saskatchewan Elbow, east of Battleford, ten families have taken up homesteads, ten families are at Bresaylor, ten in Eagle Hills and twenty in the vicinity of Battleford.

About two hundred and fifty young men, who went with the colony and had not sufficient means to make a proper start on their homesteads, were sent out to work with farmers. The idea of an all-British isolated colony has been very largely dissipated. When they got out in the country and saw the actual conditions and met the Canadian settlers and the Americans pouring in, they changed their minds and were quite willing, in fact, anxious, to take advantage of the experience of the older settlers to learn from the many object lessons going on round them.

The trip to the colony of two hundred miles was too long, and as the colonists passed over tracts of good lands on their road, frequent complaints were heard. When they reached the colony and saw their reserve they complained that the land had been misrepresented, since only about one-fourth of it was first-class farming land, much of it being better suited to ranching. However, they all got settled on good homesteads, the system adopted by Mr. Barr of previously deciding upon their grants being discarded.

"Quite a few who showed a disposition to return when on the trek east of Battleford were met at Battleford and sent to examine the country across the river, near the town, and next day the entire party moved across the river and proceeded to settle on their divisions. There was nothing to compel colonists to adhere to the original plan, and though the officers of the department did not specially advise them to inspect other districts all anxious to do so were assisted to look over the ground but a great many had set their hearts on an all-British colony and would not consider anything else.

Every assistance was given them on the way to the best advantage and the party, which is now entirely settled on the new homesteads, is quite satisfied with the land and conditions.

"Competent farm instructors have been placed in charge to exemplify the best methods of working the land and building the houses of logs and sod. The settlers are showing a good adaptability for the work and are taking hold of tilling the farms with a pluck and energy that should bring them success.

"Mr. Barr disposed of all his interests in the movement to the people themselves and the affairs of the colony are now in the hands of a committee of twelve. The settlement was mutual, and Mr. Barr is refunding to those claiming such a good deal of money received by him from them. Mr. Barr is still at Battleford straightening up his affairs, and a better feeling is springing up between himself and the colonists as difficulties are being adjusted.

"In future," said Mr. Speers, "all movements of this kind must be through Mr. Preston and the officials here, so that the government will have entire control of the parties and be able to settle them without trouble. The journey was in the first place too far. A great deal of hardship could have of the available districts passed over. I think the future of these colonists is assured, and that they are now being avoided had they settled in some pretty well over the worst of their hardships."

CONFERENCE.

Today's Session Handled a Lot of Business.

Many Reports Read and Approved—Touching Tributes to the Dead.

Deinstadt, of Exmouth street church, was recommended for a year's leave of absence by the stationing committee of the Methodist church at a meeting of that committee Saturday evening, but that he still stand connected with Exmouth street church. The parent society asks that a day be set apart, Sunday, March 7th, 1904, for special sermons on the work of the society and that a special offering be made on that occasion. The memorial committee recommended that in view of the noble work being done, the day mentioned be observed upon every circuit in the conference and that the ministers preach and an offering be taken as prayed for.

This session was opened with the announcement that the words "in agreement with the special request," be inserted. The parsonage aid committee recommended that $20 be granted the Courtenay Bay circuit after other claims have been met.

This report was adopted. The following proposals were recommended to college:—Harry H. Marr, Rogers W. Pepper, John J. Pinkerton, George Morris, and John A. Sellar.

The question was asked what ministers or probationers have died during the year, and in answer to this the obituaries of Rev. William Tweedie and Rev. J. C. P. Palmer were read. These were approved and ordered to be incorporated in the minutes of the conference. Quite a number of the clergymen present took occasion to pay eloquent and touching tributes to the memory of the dead. One had completed a long life, while the other was cut off when it might be thought he still had many years of work before him.

This afternoon Dr. Borden will be heard with reference to the proposed extensions at Mount Allison.

FROM A LONG JOURNEY.

THE LOST BALL.

Standing one day on the golf links, I was weary and ill at ease; And I baffled and fozzled idly Over the wins and tees. I know not what I was dreaming, Or where I was rubbing them; But I swiped that ball, of a sudden, With the force of two-score men.

It sped through the crimson twilight Like a shot from a ten-inch gun; And it passed from my fevered vision To the realm of the vanished sun; It chattered over the bunker, It caromed hazard and hill; It went like a thing infernal—I suppose it is going still.

It shied each perplexing styne With infinite nerve and ease; And bored right on through the land-scape. As if it were loath to cease. I have sought—but I seek it vainly—That ball of the strenuous pace, That went from the sole of my niblick And entered into space.

It may be some blooming caddy Can sooner or later explain; It may be that only in heaven I shall find that ball again. —Smart Set.

LYNCHING PREVENTED.

WILMINGTON, Del., June 21.—What is believed to have been a deliberate attempt to wreak vengeance on George White, the negro, who is charged with assaulting and killing Helen Bishop, the seventeen-year-old daughter of Rev. A. A. Bishop, was foisted before daylight this morning through the watchfulness of the authorities and through lack of numbers in the attacking party. Ever since the girl died as a result of her injuries there has been talk of lynching.

GALLANT GORDONS SEND A TRIPHY

To Commemorate Their Friendship With the Canadians in South Africa.

OTTAWA, June 21.—Sir Frederick Borden received through Lord Minto from the First Battalion Gordon Highlanders, a trophy as a memento of their service with the Royal Canadian Rifles in South Africa, for presentation to the Dominion Rifle Association. The trophy represents a Gordon Highlander giving a drink of water to a Canadian Rifleman over the bivouac fire. It is silver with ebony pedestal, and the inscription reads as follows:

U. S. BATTLESHIP.

BOSTON, June 21.—The battleship Massachusetts, which left here yesterday afternoon for New York, was in collision last night 21 miles southeast by east of Boston lightship with sch. Martha T. Thomas of Thomaston, Me., from Apalachicola with lumber. Capt. Watts of the Thomas says the battleship struck his schooner a glancing blow on the starboard side abreast the mainmast, tearing off the main chain plates, carrying away royal and damaging some planking about the hull, causing her to leak about two inches an hour. The captain says the weather was clear and he could see four miles away. His vessel, having a fair wind, kept a clear course, thinking the battleship, which was headed out the bay, would give them a clear way. Immediately after the collision the Massachusetts put about and followed the schooner into the bay, but on reaching the lightship Captain Watts decided that assistance was unnecessary. The Massachusetts then put to sea.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

SCRANTON, Pa., June 21.—A pair of young lovers, Ernest Sohmic and Miss Jennie Brennan, both of Greenwood, were the participants in a double tragedy early this morning. Another woman from Sohmic's old home intervened a week ago and sought to hold him to an alleged engagement with her. This led the pair to seek relief in death and they apparently planned tonight's affair with much deliberation. Miss Brennan purchased a bottle of carbolic acid this morning and shortly afterwards both started out for a walk. When friends came in sight of the pair, Miss Brennan put the bottle of acid to her lips and drained it. As she did so Sohmic drew a revolver and shot himself twice. He fell dead instantly. The girl suffered great agony and her physicians hold out scant hope for recovery.

BASE BALL.

ROSES, G. ALBERTS, 2.

North Enders Trim Their Old Rivals in the Best Game of the Season. There was a large crowd at the Victoria grounds Saturday afternoon when the Roses trimmed their old rivals, the Alerts, to the tune of 6 to 2. It was a splendid game, the best of the season, and thoroughly delighted all. Some remarkably fast plays were made, although the fielding was clean and fast. There was some catching base running, and just enough hitting, aided by a few slips, to make the contest exciting. The Alerts had four hits for a total of seven bases while the Roses had six for a total of eight bases. The Alerts had two errors and the Roses three.

Donovan was in the box for the Roses, and was very effective, keeping the four hits off him well scattered. He had nothing to complain of in the support he received. It was certainly ill-angled, and would have been faultless except for a poor throw to first by Flannore in the seventh inning. Donovan made two errors himself, one that cost two runs. Hatching base running at critical times did not allow the Alerts a hit till the fifth inning, when with two out, Sixty Donovan slipped out a pretty single to the left garden. Donovan has never struck out in his credit and gave but three passes to first. At the first he made the first hit and scored the first run for his team.

Flannore pitched for the Alerts, and while he did good work, was a little erratic in his timing. Only in the fourth inning were the Roses able to bunch on him, and then they got two doubles, which, coupled with a base on ball, an error and a passed ball, allowed three runs.

The Alerts played a remarkably fast game in the field, making but two mistakes, a poor throw by Goode and a muff of a long line fly in left centre by McDermott. These two errors, however, were damaging, McDermott's failure to hold the long drive allowing two men to cross the pan. Behind the plate Hayes did not show up in his usual good form and was very slow getting the ball to third, in support of Walsh, who was as fast as lightning lighting and did not allow any liberties, the Alerts being unable to steal a single sack.

Notes.

Pickney has been released. Ross has won six games. Alerts four. The old reliable "Stat" showed up O. K. in right field. Combs and Valli this week look up for red-hot stuff. It was the kind of ball the people liked and the kind they are willing to pay for. McGuiggan has got a lot of good catching. He has been doing well since skinned to death as a feeder. A little coaching and he will come all right with the stick. Pickney was not so successful as an outfielder. He played in seven games. When the batting average of only .184 and a fielding average of .750.

LEADERS DEFEATED.

Portland Put It All Over Them in a Hot Game Saturday Night. For five innings the Portland put it all over the Clippers in Saturday night's game on the Shamrock grounds. The score at the end of the fifth was 6 to 1 in favor of the north boys.

An enthusiastic and overflow crowd attended the game, must have been over a thousand; the grandstands were swamped in the overflow spectators lining around first and third bases; some were out against centre field benches.

The teams appeared in full uniform, putting more snap and life in the game than usual. Following is the league standing:

Team	Won	Lost	P. C.
Clippers	7	3	.700
Portland	6	3	.666
Y. M. C. A.	5	3	.625
Franklins	3	5	.444
The Portlanders and Y. M. C. A. are booked for tonight on the Victoria grounds. The captain of the Portlanders states that the game has been postponed on account of the Bateman-Kelly race.

Could Not Lie On Her Left Side.

WAS TROUBLED WITH PAIN IN HER HEART FOR SIX YEARS.

Expected Her Friends Would Find Her Dead.

MILBURN'S Heart and Nerve Pills.

She tells of her experience in the following letter: "I was troubled with a pain in my heart and weakness for six years. Most of the time I could not lie on my left side. I consulted a doctor and got no relief and was completely discouraged. I did not think I would live long and expected my friends to find me dead. A friend brought me a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I took them to please her, not thinking they would do me any good. I had not used half the box when I commenced to feel myself getting better and by the time I had taken two boxes I was completely cured and can recommend them to all sufferers from heart trouble."

TALKS FROM FATHER O'NEILL.

An eloquent and practical sermon was preached in the cathedral at the 11 o'clock mass yesterday morning by Rev. A. B. O'Neill, C. S. C., of St. Joseph's Memramcook, who is on his way to his old home at St. George.

The sermon was a moral instruction on the text "Thou shalt not calumniate thy neighbor, thou shalt not be a detractor, nor a whisperer among the people."

The speaker said that there was probably no social vice so universally denounced and yet so prevalent in all classes of society as detraction or detestation of one's neighbors.

The various heads which he proposed considering were the nature and grievousness of detraction, its different species, the motives that prompt us to commit the sin, the injuries which it occasions and the difficulty of adequately repairing those injuries.

A rapid glance at these different points might possibly modify his hearers' opinions on the subject, and it was to be hoped that the change in their opinions would be speedily followed by a corresponding change in their conduct, that being thoroughly convinced of the gravity of the evil they would henceforth make more strenuous efforts to bridle their unruly tongues, and endeavor more faithfully to observe the precepts he had chosen for his text.

The remainder of the discourse was a practical exposition of calumny and slander, or detraction in its most limited sense. The preacher exploded a good many of the sophisms and fallacies with which the calumniator or slanderer would palliate or excuse his wrongdoings of charity. From the true to the false in speaking against one's neighbors there is but a single step, and a step so slippery that one is very liable to take it. When one tells of one's neighbor as being the truth, the whole truth, or nothing but the truth, and yet the telling of it may be a very grievous sin.

So long as a man's sins, faults or defects are not public one has no right to reveal them without good reason, and a mere blameworthy itching to talk does not assuredly constitute such a reason. A single grain of fact harmful to our neighbor's character will yield a greater and more abundant crop than any other seed ever planted.

To go to the root of the vice of detraction we must acquire that charity which thinketh no evil, which throweth a mantle over the defects of our neighbors, which loves the sinner while hating the sin, which courteously denounces the peccator, and can perceive bright spots of virtue even in the most abandoned criminal. Not until we are animated with such charity shall we be able to carry on our conversations without shooting the personal darts of calumny and slander at the reputation of others.

I. C. R. AGAIN SHORT OF CARS.

(Halifax Herald, 20th.)

Because the I. C. R. did not have sufficient cars aboard 100 immigrants who arrived by the Assyrian have been forced to wait over in Halifax until this morning. A special emigrant train left at one o'clock yesterday and another at eight, and two emigrant cars were attached to the Saturday west bound passenger train, but these were not sufficient to accommodate all who came by the Assyrian. The Assyrian is not by any means the first emigrant steamer that has arrived here, but the I. C. R. seems still unable or unwilling to have sufficient cars on hand to handle the traffic.

CARDINAL VAUGHAN.

LONDON, June 21.—The body of Cardinal Vaughan, who died Saturday, was taken to the Roman Catholic Cathedral in Westminster late tonight. The remains will lie in state until they are removed from the cathedral for burial. In accordance with the wishes of the deceased, the cathedral will be draped and the coffin is made of the plainest material. At all the Roman Catholic and many other churches, including St. Paul's Cathedral, special mention was made in the sermons today of the late cardinal's useful life. (For particulars of the cardinal's death see page seven.)

C. P. R. EMPLOYEES PENSION.

(Saturday's Fredericton Gleaner.)

William Hagerman and A. McKinnon, two faithful employees of the C. P. R., the former being a conductor and the latter a car foreman, have received their pension papers and will go on the pension list on the first of July next. Mr. Hagerman retires with a monthly allowance of $16.40, and the amount of Mr. McKinnon's pension is $9.75 per month.

Mr. Hagerman has asked for permission to remain on duty until fall, but he has received no notification as to whether this request will be granted.

Mr. Hagerman has been running between here and Fredericton Junction since the year 1899, starting in as a baggage master when the road was first opened. Captain Woods being conductor. At the end of about two years Captain Woods retired, his place as conductor being taken by Mr. Hagerman, who has served in this capacity ever since. There is not a conductor in the service better known and more favorably known, and his genial countenance and jolly conversation will be much missed. He served the company well and did all in his power to accommodate the public, making himself very popular. Everybody knows between here and the Junction knows William Hagerman, and they have nothing but good to say of him. He is equally esteemed by the travelling public.

Mr. McKinnon has the distinction of having built the first car that ran over the Fredericton branch.

BADLY SCALDED.

Cotton Mill Employee Has Narrow Escape from Horrible Death.

W. D. Earle, an employe in the York cotton mill, had a narrow escape from death on Saturday morning. He was turning steam on from a valve beneath a box of size. The steam backed up, causing the size to overflow.

A boiling stream of paste-like consistency fell upon his head and shoulders. Flowing down his neck, chest and arms, it left cruel burns in its wake. Ducking his head, Mr. Earle saved his eyes. He walked to Cochran's drug store on Brussels street, where the stuff was washed from his head and body. While not seriously injured, Mr. Earle's accident will confine him to the house for at least a fortnight.

A SCRAP IN THE PARK.

The beauties of nature that grow in the park were the cause of an exciting incident late yesterday afternoon.

It was about five o'clock when one of the park police noticed some young ladies with their escorts gathering flowers in the vicinity of the Salvation Army quarters. On being ordered to cease marking the ground, they refused to place their escorts' hands on their own grounds. It is said that an arrest was made, but by the pugilistic assistance of a detachment of the 208th regiment obtained his freedom. The prisoner will probably be laid against the parties at fault.

MAJOR GEN. EGERTON.

(U. S. Associated Press.)

SIMLA, India, June 21.—Major General Chas. Comyn Egerton, who has been in command of the Punjab frontier force since 1899, has been appointed to the command of the Somaliland expeditionary force which is operating against the Mad Mullah, superseding Brigadier Gen. W. H. Manning.

(General Manning, who took command of the expedition in Somalia last November after a reverse suffered by Colonel Swayne, has not proved successful in his campaign. Columns detached from the force have been badly beaten by the Mullah's followers, the most serious defeat being the ambushing of Colonel Mankott's flying detachment of 208 men with two Maxims, on April 11.)

STYLE IN SCARECROWS.

(Daily News.)

A small amount of horse sense would seem to suggest to the men who have ravages and cornfields exposed to the ravages of crows that these birds must get sick and utterly disgusted at seeing the same old style of scarecrows placed out in the fields for year after year. Our own observation leads us to believe that the crow is a bird of more than ordinary intelligence, a creature which guides its future action by past experience. Hence, when a crow sees the same image in the field this year that he made a mockery of last season, he is prone to scorn him and his handiwork and take his revenge by pulling up more corn than the crew family can consume. And the man who takes an old coat which his wily cannot sell to the rag peddler and stuffs it with rags and straw, and places an aged hat at the top, tries to make it pass muster as a member of his own household—what shall we say about the family pride of such a man? Has he no respect for himself or his kindred? Does he ever stop and contemplate what the wiles and solemn crests will place out in the field for year after year? He is a man who is so all-fired stingy as to send one of his household into the field bedecked and caparisoned in a style that no tramp would countenance, a man with no more pride than this can expect to lose corn.

What the farmers need and what the crows demand are artistic scarecrows which are the counterfeit presentation of human beings, tailor-made marionettes and articles with artistic merit. Then, and not until then, will our Maine scarecrows scare. The aged and decrepit images that have disgraced our cornfields and brought good families into disrepute in crow-dom for the past century may have had their uses far back in our history when all forms of humanity known to crows was a painted Indian with feathers in his hair and serenity of the heart. Clothes are now worn for ornament as well as for protection. Who tailor-made scarecrow is keeping with the spirit of our age. Such an article is demanded

As a result of the fracas in Rockwood Park yesterday, Officer Harley Knox this morning appeared in police court to make a charge against a number of persons who were mixed up in the affair. Officer Knox was assaulted during the row and makes a complaint against those whom he recognized.

At long last the residents of Rodney street, Carleton, as well as those who have occasion to pass along that street are able to rejoice. City workmen this morning started repairs to the pavement and in the near future it may be in a fairly decent condition. For a long time the pavement on Rodney street has been full of big holes and depressions in which many pedestrians hounded.

ABOUT A DOG

Which Wagged Its Tail When Charged With Being Ferocious.

Officer Marshall reported William Barton for allowing a ferocious and unmuzzled dog to roam at large on Queen street, and Mr. Barton accompanied by the fierce and terrible beast, appeared in court today to answer the charge. Marshall said that a few evenings ago he chased three boys along Queen street. The dog was sleeping on the sidewalk and awoke as the crowd rushed past. It caught one fellow by the trousers and then made a snap at the officer. He considered the animal ferocious.

Mr. Barton explained that the dog could get a good character from the neighbors, he was a pet with the boys, and regularly played ball with them. This was why he snapped when several people ran by him. Any dog would snap upon being so rudely disturbed. Just here the spaniel, which had been having a great time in the court room, ran up on the bench and wagged his tail for the magistrate's special benefit. The case was dismissed.

A MILD ROAST.

"I think it is time to give the Intercolonial a roast about this," said a suburban passenger on the nine o'clock train coming in this morning. He was standing on the platform, as were many others, and all the seats were filled. In fact, the accommodation was fully taken up before the train left. At Riverside some twelve or fifteen passengers got on. The Chief contribution was considerably over a score. Torryburn added a dozen and more than thirty were taken on at Brookville. The Coldbrook contingent was smaller. The gentleman who ordered the roast to be served went out on the Saturday noon train, when many of the hardy stagers room in the aisle and on the platform. A great many people got out along the line on Saturdays, returning Monday morning. It would be an easy thing to put an extra car or two on for the accommodation. While offering this roast the Star takes pleasure in saying that the Intercolonial is giving a very good suburban service and the management has responded to most requests for reforms and improvements.

DON'T WALK UNDER A LADDER.

An accident entailing the loss of a new suit of clothes without any attendant bodily injury betel a young lady on Main street this morning. While walking on the sidewalk past the home of Robert McConnell, the Miss Emsgrover, the contents of a large can of paint, falling from a staging in front of the house, completely covered her. John A. Beggs was doing the painting at the time.

Most people know that the best wheat is grown in Manitoba. Not best merely because it looks best, but best merely because it is the GOLDEN EAGLE. The reputation of wheat counts for nothing with him; he tests it. The wheat for GOLDEN EAGLE is tested every month each year. It is healthy and nutritious enough for GOLDEN EAGLE to be worth the price.

A GREAT SHOW

Which Will Be Seen in St. John on Sunday Afternoon.

A week from yesterday the citizens of St. John who went to the circus as well as all those who did not will have an opportunity of inspecting a variegated assortment of dry goods assembled according to taste and interpretation of dress regulations by the officers of his majesty's militia forces, who march to the drum beats of the local band instrumental equipment and it is these dress regulations are the despair of the seniors and the puzzle of the juniors of both the artillery and the find regiments. The bearer company, it is understood has decided to swathe themselves in bandages and thus escape all detailed criticism of their apparel.

The D. O. C. has issued an order, which says that the uniforms as usual for church parades will be worn. This has a sound of finality, but the officers say it is not nearly so clear as it appears to be. The D. O. C. who is a pretty good authority on orders of dress was discovered a few days ago by a civilian walking down to his office wearing only one spur. So far it has not been officially announced whether this is to be the ordinary dress for mounted officers or whether two spurs will be worn by them on church parade. One thing has been decidedly settled that is that none of the officers will wear horses. There are said to be traditions connected with an equitation course in this city over which charity draws the veil. Suffice it is to say that horses will not be worn.

In head dresses there is by no means the same degree of certainty. A prominent officer will probably decline to wear any head dress at an entertainment given by Anna Eva Fay at the Opera House in head dress consisting of a tin hat. Since that time such an ornament has not formed part of the regimental equipment and it is safe to say that if any cavalry officers attend the service they will not wear such headgear.

For the other branches of the service the department has not yet approved of any head dress, so in all probability the officers will either go bald headed or gray haired or else wear silk, straw or other hats according to their individual preference.

Mayor and Colonel White will no doubt find the three-cornered hat of office more comfortable than a bushy but as the robe is not of the cut prescribed for either the old or new style of great coat he will probably decline to wear that article of civic apparel. It is said that a few officers will wear stiffs as they are not forbidden by any article of the regulations. Officers who have full dress gold belts will wear them, but the artillery officers must wear an old pattern collapsible pouch with their belts, and as they have not got these they will probably tie the ends of the belts together with pieces of twine or shoe laces or any old thing that comes handy.

Both corps must wear the Sam Browne belt, whatever that is. They have not got them so likely they will wear their swords in the old style, hung about their necks.

So far as can be made out from the new orders trousers are abolished. In view of this the officers are requisitioning a lot of kilts, while some will depend on the covering power of the puttees which are authorized—whether the puttees are red, blue or the new color, which is a mixture and has just been adopted is another of the government's caprices.

Some of the officers will have to strip off a lot of their gold lace as they are only allowed to wear tunics trimmed as far as the second lieutenant. Those having gold sword knots will wear them but the brown leather ones are abolished as well as the brown leather shoulder belts. On top of all this is the requirement that all officers appearing on parade must be dressed alike.

One officer on being asked what his corps would wear in view of this requirement laconically answered "Shirts" out then for the grand "shirt parade" under Borden's regulations to Trinity church on Sunday, 28th inst. at four p. m.

The chief of police successfully grappled with the circus. His attitude towards the "shirt parade" will be eagerly watched.

The I. C. R. Freight Handlers Have Received no Notice of Increase.

On Friday the freight clerks of the I. C. R. employed in this city, received notice of the increase in pay allowed them by the management of the road. The communication recently received by Peter Sharkey was general in nature, but upon any increase being granted the employees are notified individually, and while the word sent to Mr. Sharkey covered quite a number of employees the men, with the exception of the clerks who have just been notified, have no definite knowledge of how the increases are to be arranged.

The freight clerks are granted increases as follows: To all who are now earning up to thirty dollars per month an increase of twenty per cent is given, to those between thirty and forty dollars per month an increase of fifteen per cent, and to those who receive over forty dollars an increase of ten per cent.

The freight clerks some time ago arranged a schedule of pay which was adopted by them and upon which their demands for increase were based. This schedule is lower than that in operation on other roads, but is still considerably higher than what is granted by the I. C. R. even with the recent increases.

For instance there are a number of employees who are doing the work of checkers and are being paid only as truckers. They desire to be paid as checkers and as yet do not know whether the proposed increase will be made to them as checkers or truckers.

The men are by no means thoroughly satisfied with the answer to their demands and consider that the management of the road has only done what it was absolutely unable to avoid.

ROBIN HOOD DISMASTED.

T. T. Lantulum's Yacht Meets With an Accident Near Westfield on Sunday.

T. T. Lantulum had a rather exciting experience on the river on Sunday. With some friends Mr. Lantulum was enjoying a rest on his yacht, the Robin Hood, and all were enjoying themselves the more because of the spanking wind that was carrying them gaily along. Suddenly their fun was cut short by a gust of wind which blew a cannon the lanyards gave away and the mast of the sturdy little craft snapped like a toy and went overboard into the river. For a time there was a mild sort of a panic, and the crew of all kinds hustled to the scene of the disaster of Westfield, all anxious to be of assistance. Mr. Lantulum was as cool and collected throughout as was Sir Thomas Lipton when the cup challenge race was being sailed, and he gathered in the remnants and sorrowfully looked about for a tow home. Again in luck—the Scionda hove in sight and Commodore Thomson towed the disabled yacht to Millside wharf. The Robin Hood experienced a severe strain in a race in the harbor last fall and subsequent examination since the accident shows that the mast was weakened by the strain. It was a blow, however, for many a blow if the lanyards had held.

Mr. Lantulum says he is pleased that the accident occurred when it did, that is if it was to occur, and not during the annual regatta, which he looks forward for much pleasure.

WEST SIDE BURGLARY.

Another West Side burglary took place at an early hour yesterday morning. The place raided being the restaurant of Peter Wilson, on the corner of Union street and South Rodney Wharf. Entrance was made from the window of a shed in the rear, and the burglar cut his way through the door leading from the shed into the restaurant, the aid of some tools left in the shed.

Once inside he proceeded to satisfy the inner man at Carleton, a number have been made in the last few months.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

A small wooden building on St. John street, owned by the city and under lease to Michael Birmingham, was destroyed by fire about three o'clock yesterday morning. The building was occupied by an old man named Charles, who was employed by Mr. Birmingham. No one knew that he was there, and the old man would have likely been burned to death if the stream of water from the hose had not washed him, thus having no dull moment. A horse owned by Mr. Birmingham was burned.

Carleton parties who favor a bridge in preference to a new ferry steamer, missed the last trip on Sunday night of the ark which runs between St. John east and west. They knew more than did the people whom Noah left on shore to swim when the waters covered the dry land and only waited till the tide brought the schooners at Walker's wharf up to the level of the wharf. Then they quietly boarded the sch. Wm. J. Elkin and safely crossed the harbor in a boat belonging to that vessel, which they had commandeered. This morning the crew missed the boat and a search was made with the result that it was found floating safely on the Carleton side and carefully moored. The west end citizens are bound to have a bridge or there will be trouble.

A man named Akerley, who is employed in the Lawton Co. Ltd., works had one eye badly injured the other day by a piece of a saw breaking and lodging in the optic. He was taken to the hospital and is rapidly recovering.

AGAINST STRIKES. NEW YORK, June 22.—Findings a subject for a sermon in the strike of the building trades, the Rev. Robert MacArthur, preaching in Calvary Baptist church said: "Strikes ought to be obsolete. They belong to the mediaeval and barbarous ages. Time has come for concessions and conciliation and arbitration. Time has come when the pulpit and the press must lift their united voices in the best interests of the working man. We must insist on the preservation of law and order. Let men have the right to strike, if in doing so they violate no contract. We all admit they have this right, provided other men are not prevented taking the work which they refuse to do. "As a friend of labor I lift up my voice in favor of arbitration. The labor union that refuses to arbitrate the case implies its guilt. It is possible for the labor unions to kill the goose that laid the golden eggs. Let them not interfere with American industrial supremacy in the world."

ANOTHER TRAIN WRECK. SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—In a wreck last night on the North Shore railway two persons were killed and a score more or less severely injured. The dead are Antonio Roman, founder of the Overland Monthly, and M. M. Kirk, Santa Fe. Those fatally injured: Thomas Donneau, ex-county clerk of Marine county and James Tunstead, sheriff of Marine County. All the victims were returning from the funeral of Warren Dutton, president of the State Dairymen's Association and president of the Marine Bank at Tomates. An extra special consisting of an engine and a passenger coach, which was filled with people, rolled down an embankment on 7th and was badly shattered.
