Remarkable Offer of Free Service

To the Sick and Afflicted—Cures Them in Their Own Home as Easily as Though They Called in Person—Physicians Invited to Send Him Cases Pronounced Incurable.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 8.—The almost miraculous cures of hopeless invalids made by Prof. Thomas F. Adkin, of this city, have been of such a startling character that they have aroused widespread wonder, admiration and curiosity. Time and again he has taken cases pronounced hopelessly incurable by the medical profession and restored the patients to life and health in a most phenomenal manner.

There is considerable mystery to the method of accomplishing these marvels as it is known that he does not use the drastic drugs and medicines that doctors depend upon. He claims to have discovered a certain law of nature which has peculiar properties heretofore unsuspected, and that by the application of this law there is no disease he may not cure. And it is a matter of proof that with the mysterious power this discovery gives him he has made the blind see and the lame walk. He has never thickened the space of life in bodies, but he has given new vigor and restored to health men and women given up to die by doctors and specialists. He seems to be able to control the force of human life, and to restore to health the most incurable cases. Notwithstanding that he has effected almost a vast number of cures, he does not extort a penny from those whom he treats.

"Gentle cures to give gladness; I prefer to give life and health. I am not a millionaire, but I am well able to afford to give my services free to the sick and afflicted. My discovery is my own, to do with as I please, and I could charge every patient a thousand dollars if I wanted to. But I don't. And I know of no law to compel me to take money for restoring a man to health. I do not care what the disease is. I am just as ready to cure consumption, cancer, paralysis, Bright's disease, or any other of the so-called incurable diseases as I am to cure rheumatism, stomach trouble, catarrh, blood disorders or any other ill that flesh is heir to. I can just as readily and willingly give my services free to a poor man as I am to a rich man. When it comes to a question of life or death, sickness or health, the amount of money a man makes no difference to me.

"A prince or a pauper, I treat them just the same. To me, as to the law, all persons are patients as far as I am concerned. If I choose to help all who are ill without pay there is nothing to prevent my doing so. And I may as well tell you right here that I mean to keep on curing every one who asks me if I am willing and able. What other men do, what they fail to do or what they charge makes no difference to me. I feel that it is my duty to carry out my own plans in my own way, however much it costs me. I cannot bear to think of men and women and little children continuing to suffer and die when I have the power so easily and quickly. And there is no disease I may not cure.

"You think that a broad statement? Well, maybe it is, but no broader than the truth. I know the wonderful power I have because I have tested it in thousands of cases. You know consumption is supposed to be incurable. Well, not long ago I had a young lady as a patient, Miss H. L. Kelly, of Seal Cove, Maine. The doctors told her that she had consumption and could not live, that her case was incurable. And to them it was. The poor girl was in despair, thinking her days were numbered. But I cured her in spite of all the doctors said; made her lungs heal and grow strong and put her flesh back.

STORE BROKEN INTO AT SUSSEX SUNDAY NIGHT Burglars, After Entering, Were Evidently Scared Off by a Dog—Other News.

Sussex, Aug. 8.—The store of W. B. McKay & Co. was broken into last night. The party or parties cut the panel out of the door in front of the building. A hole was bored first and a saw used to finish the work.

It is thought the party is still in town, and the constable thinks he is on the right track. As far as can be learned, nothing was disturbed in the store. There was a large dog in the store at the time, and it is thought when they found out Mr. dog was present they disappeared.

A contemptible trick was played on Thursday night on Maurice Sailer, a Jew peddler, who had collected a large quantity of old junk, which he intended to sell to Messrs. J. Goldberg & Co. HOW LEGISLATORS SPEND SUNDAY

The Telegraph's Ottawa Correspondent Writes on the Subject.

What Diligent Enquiry and Visits to Charming Places on the Gatineau Revealed—Quite the Opposite of What Was Looked For.

Ottawa, Aug. 3.—With the week-day doings and sayings of their representatives in parliament, as portrayed by press-gang gery, the Canadian newspaper reading public is pretty well acquainted.

It was therefore not surprising to this scribe, whose humble observations have been concerned chiefly with matter pertaining to the political arena, that the walks and ways of our legislators on the first day of the week must be of public interest. Hence, during the past three months I have been acting as a self-appointed committee of one (having walked in vain for an opportunity to serve my country on a committee of any of the organizations for the better observance of the Lord's day) for the purpose of keeping a watchful eye upon our lawmakers, lest perchance their Sunday should not be spent in strict accordance with the opinions and habits of the people they represent. True, the magnitude of the task was a bit appalling, but I was impelled to continue in the noble cause by the thought of the race—perhaps even every Sunday story I should be able to tell ere the session closed. To be in a position to report with pious horror and tales of the sinful pleasures of people whose ideas of "right" do not in all respects agree with ours—is not this one of the rewards of a truly good man or woman sent here for? Thus I should perhaps be able to tell how on a beautiful Sunday morning in early May, when nature with a million entrancing voices called from forest, field and stream, a cabinet minister was missing from his accustomed place in church; how, later, he was discovered lurking (or perhaps trying to lure) innocently trout from the waters of a beautiful lake not far from Ottawa; that he not only rode in a railway train, smoked cigars and went fishing on Sunday, but laughingly said "Oh, how nice it is to get a little fresh air and to see the country on a Sunday morning."

It might be Senator A— who, with the coming of the glorious summer time, was in the habit of spending his Sundays in the country, no quite sure where nor with whom. Surely this was a case for the committee to deal with. Was he the popular M. P. for one of the ridings in the province of Ontario in Nova Scotia. If I could on a Sunday evening discover him in a boat on the lake at Aylmer, accompanied by at least five pretty girls, and when in the well known to the public as the "Mocking Bird" and other secular airs, while two of the pretty maidens plied the oars, what an interesting picture of sinful pleasure "twould make!"

And how spied the tale of the general senator from the west who early one Sunday morning was seen painting his boat with a red and white checkered pattern on the river side, while a canoe in which was a well known M. P. from Ontario. The latter gentleman was not alone, unfortunately, appeared to be happy. From the boat he was seen to look out over the river with a field glass make out who the lady was, but as the M. P.'s wife had recently returned home, this was clearly a case of infidelity. On Sunday and week day behavior. Oh, there need be no end to the Sunday stories I should officially be able to produce. If the members of the Legislative body devoted to week day meetings should prove dull, that on "How Lawmakers Spend Sunday" would create a sensation, for well I knew that the good people who do go to church enjoy reading any interesting news concerning those who do not go.

So it was that I made little journeys to several of the attractive resorts on the Gatineau river, and the beautiful Ottawa lake. I was not alone on one occasion recent two members of the Lord's Day Alliance, who, owing to an unavoidable delay, reached Ottawa late Saturday night and were obliged to leave the city early Monday morning, sought an interview with this minister on Sunday. They were courteously informed that the minister would see them after midnight rather than discuss business matters on the Lord's day.

At Wakefield I found that the good senator (he of the mysterious habits) frequently spent the week end here with his wife and daughters, invariably went to church on Sunday morning, and never painted his boat. I met the M. P. person who was away, walking to church alone at 10 o'clock, perhaps, but good. The other legislators, too, who from time to time spent Sunday in Wakefield, were pursuing the quiet tenor of their ways in a most agreeably, non-news producing manner. On the Sunday evening I spent in Aylmer I found the musical M. P. on the hotel veranda singing hymns with a group of staid ladies who had just returned from church. His serene smile suggested the pious content of a man whose constituents had just presented him with a Bible for regular attendance at Sunday school.

At Chelsea, Kirk's Ferry, the Cascades, or any of the fair, quiet resting places on the picturesque and fascinating Gatineau, I found the men who are responsible for the making and the un-making of our laws enjoying the day of rest in harmony with nature's scenes of beauty around them. And because in harmony with nature, therefore in a state of goodness.

This, I suppose, is the reason why, for a wicked moment or two I felt aggrieved because the legislators had failed to fulfil my expectations as unconsciously provided of attractive "copy." The committee of one had nothing to report save that which was good and beautiful and true; good concerning the people, beautiful concerning the places, and true concerning both. In stamps. Dept. 6, Stott & J. S. Bowmansville, Ont.

Indeed, had it been otherwise, I would have been obliged to report that the legislators were spending their Sunday in a most agreeable, non-news producing manner. AFTER THIRTY YEARS.

John Lawlor, Mourned as Dead, Visits His Old Home.

Thirty years have passed since John Lawlor, of the Brookville family, after whom Lawlor's Lake was named, last visited St. John. His relatives never expected to see him again, and had no idea of his whereabouts. Indeed, it was believed that he was dead, for at the time of a death in the family, between two and three years ago, he was widely advertised for, and no response came.

It was therefore a great as well as a glad surprise when Mr. Lawlor arrived in the city on Thursday. He has one brother, Peter Lawlor, living in the city, as well as two sisters, Mrs. Henry Dolan and Mrs. John Eliza. Another sister, Miss Lawlor, lives at Brookville.

Mr. Lawlor has been living in Baltimore for 25 years, and is in business in that city. It is between 35 and 40 years since he last visited here. He is at present the guest of John Eliza, Mill street.

Personal Intelligence. Rev. Z. L. Fash has sent in his resignation as pastor of the Albert Street Baptist church, and has accepted of a call to the first Baptist church at Hillsboro (N. B.).

Miss Nellie A. Clark, daughter of Geo. W. Clark, of this city, left on Thursday for Montreal. She will sail from there on Saturday on the S. S. Southward for Liverpool on her way to Germany where she will pursue her musical studies at the Leipzig Conservatory.

A. W. Vradenburg, of Buffalo (N. Y.), is the guest of his father-in-law, Isaac Stevens, 106 Metcalfe street, where his wife, Mrs. Vradenburg, is staying.

Miss Kathleen McMurtry, of Brooklyn, is visiting Mrs. Hogan, Princess street. Miss Margaret McEliff, who has been visiting West End recently, left for Montreal yesterday.

Miss Mary Dalton, 237 Main street, is visiting her sister, Miss Martine Dalton, Westport (Mass.). Mr. and Mrs. D. Cronin, of Dorchester (Mass.), is stopping at the Misses Fitzgerald, Middle street, Carleton.

J. McDonald and son of Portland (Me.), who have been visiting at Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fitzgerald's summer residence at Latimer's Lake, have returned home.

Mrs. John E. Bruce and Miss Bruce and Mrs. E. C. Elkin at Black Bonnie, Riverside, Mrs. Bruce is a sister of Mrs. Elkin.

Rev. Dr. Stearns, wife and family, of Philadelphia, are visiting his daughter, Mrs. G. N. Heavener, corner Wright and Goderich streets.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Merritt Welmore left on Saturday to spend Sunday in Albert county. Miss Jessie McCalligan left on Friday for Tracadie, where she will remain for some time.

It is announced that about the first of September, President Hannah, of King's College, will visit the United States, where he will be married. Dr. Hannah's sister, the dean of Chester, will probably perform the ceremony. The lady is a graduate of Oberlin College and a resident of Ohio.

The wedding is announced to take place in the near future of Dr. W. J. Weaver, of Fredericton, and Miss Ranche Dibble, of Woodstock. The prospective bride is a sister of Mrs. Louis Bliss, of Fredericton, and of Rev. H. E. Dibble, rector of Orancton.—Herald.

DEER AND HORSE AND MR. F. L. POTTS

The Tale of a Saturday Auction on the Market Square.

The Horse Was Young, Gentle and Speedy, But the Deer Excelled All These, and Provided the Greater Attraction—This is a Great Game Country.

Frank L. Potts, when conducting an auction, is a persuasive orator, but even an auctioneer sometimes labors under difficulties.

On Market Square, just before noon on Saturday, he was selling a horse. There was a large crowd—so large that one cynical person observed that there must be a lot of people in this town with nothing to do.

Mr. Potts was eloquent. The horse was cheap at $125—was a bargain at $120—was a young, gentle, and speedy, and sold for no reason except that the owner was going away and could not take the animal with him.

Bidding began at $50 and went up to $75, $80 and $81 and Mr. Potts was growing more eloquent and more persuasive all the time.

But at this critical juncture a rival to the horse appeared upon the scene. It was a deer, swimming up market slip toward the square, pursued by two boys in a boat. Where it came from, how it got into the harbor, and whether it really meant to disturb Mr. Potts will never be known, but it drew the crowd.

Somewhat awed and run down the deer, others saw it and ran. Others ran the general principles, because they saw their neighbors running. And in five minutes the edges of North and South wharves and the head of the slip were crowded with people, watching the bewildered visitor from the wild, standing knee deep in the water, hesitating whether to wade ashore, swim back toward the harbor, or board one of the schooners lying along the wharves. It finally compromised by trying to hide between a scow and a wharf.

In a short time it was lying broad in the bottom of a light express wagon, riding across Market Square, with its head up, complacently surveying the onlookers. Potts, the horse and the crowd. It was taken to the outskirts of the city, and set at liberty.

Mr. Potts was once more at liberty to cast the spell of his eloquence over an augmented congregation, and recall their wandering thoughts. This is a great game country.

Rev. Dr. A. B. Simpson is again at Old Orchard, and his followers are gathering to meet him. Sunday he will preach his first great sermon, having Friday and Saturday only delivered brief addresses.

The sick of body if not of soul, are also at Old Orchard, and for them every sermon, address, prayer and hymn, will have special reference to the unmet need for recovery, if such is the will of God.

Whatever may be thought of Dr. Simpson, or of his methods, there can be no doubt of the simple childlike faith of many of his followers. They believe that God does hear and that he does answer prayer, and they are here. "In faith believing," as one said Friday.

"Will he get a record breaking collection?" is a question of great interest. Some say that he has taken up a great many offerings and some pretty large ones, and there would have to be a great offering indeed if the previous records were to be beaten.

An attempt will be made to secure the largest possible offering for missions. Of late years the old time sensational features have dropped out, or been quietly given up. People no longer throw in their watches and jewelry, but they do give largely, quietly, generously and in many cases beyond a doubt they give more than they can afford.—Portland Press, Saturday.

BISHOP MEDLEY'S BOOKS.

Have Been Given by Mrs. Medley to Enrich Cathedral and Deacons Libraries.

The library of the late Bishop Medley, Metropolitan of Canada, which has been almost untouched since his death, when some of his most valuable books were sent to England to his surviving sons, has now been distributed by Mrs. Medley. It was a happy thought to give the books where they would do most good rather than to leave them to be sold for one-third of their value, or to be neglected and spoil.

Mrs. Medley has accordingly made a division of the books. About 1,500 have been sent in augmentation of the Cathedral library, which already consists of between 3,000 and 4,000 volumes, and covers the theological field fairly well, containing very many of the standard works of Catholic and English theology, besides general literature. So there has now been added by Mrs. Medley's kindness some more modern books, including a whole set of T. & T. Clark's Foreign theological library, being translations into English of the great German writers. There are also among these books several valuable treatises on church architecture; many of the more recent works of English scholars; and in addition the whole musical library of the late bishop to the number of nearly 300 volumes. Copies of the great oratories, many of the best masses, and other sacred compositions, with works on the theory and history of music, the whole comprising a most acceptable and noteworthy contribution to the cathedral which Bishop Medley built and which will always be his best monument. The books have been set up in the south transept of the Cathedral as Mrs. Medley's expense.

The remaining books have been divided between the six deaconies of the diocese, as a supplement to the libraries already belonging to them. The nucleus of each of these deacony libraries was originally the books provided for the Colonial clergy by a bequest left some 200 years ago by Rev. Dr. Bray, from which fund these deacony libraries are from time to time replenished. From 150 to 200 volumes have been presented to each deacony library by Mrs. Medley. Catalogues have been made, labels recording the source and date of the gift have been inserted, and the books sent carriage paid. Letters have come acknowledging very gratefully the receipt of the books and the thanks of all the clergy are due to the generous giver for the thoughtful kindness which has prompted her action. The labels were all inserted in her own house, and a large number of them by her own hand. Books are among the most important working tools of a clergyman, which oftentimes his slender stipend does not admit of his purchasing. The books, so highly valued and so dignifiedly studied by the metropolitan, could not have been put to a better purpose.—Fredericton Gleaser.

A test is being made in the North Sea of the Doonagh life saving globe, the invention of Dr. Henry, from which fund these deacony libraries are from time to time replenished. From 150 to 200 volumes have been presented to each deacony library by Mrs. Medley. Catalogues have been made, labels recording the source and date of the gift have been inserted, and the books sent carriage paid. Letters have come acknowledging very gratefully the receipt of the books and the thanks of all the clergy are due to the generous giver for the thoughtful kindness which has prompted her action. The labels were all inserted in her own house, and a large number of them by her own hand. THE REASON WHY OILS, PLASTERS, PASTES, ETC., DO NOT CURE CANCER.

Cancer is a constitutional disease and is not cured by any local treatment. It can only be cured by the destruction of the cause of the trouble, which is the cancer germ. The trouble begins in 9 cases out of 10 in the blood. If you have a friend troubled with Cancer, tell them to send for our little book, "Cancer, Its Causes and Cure." Sent to any address, free of charge. Dept. 6, Stott & J. S. Bowmansville, Ont.

It was late in the evening before my father returned, and then he greeted me as though we had been separated for years, instead of a few days. "How fares it with you, Roland, my son? You look pale, and there is a bruise on your forehead?" "My hat covers the bruise, father," I replied faintly. "As to my pale face, it will be quickly ruddy again."

"I will not stay at Dover," he said to General Monk. "The people have seen me, and that is enough. From what I can gather they love a King more than a Commoner; nevertheless, it is well that I go straight to Canterbury Cathedral where, in the interests of religion, I will publicly give thanks to God for my safe return to my people."

"A wise step, your Majesty," said a young man who had stood near the King the whole day. "I am Sir John Leslie, the Master of the Mint. I expect you to write a great ode to our landing this day."

"I would that my poor wit were equal to the subject, your Majesty." "Well, we shall see. Thou hast been faithful in mine adversity, and now we return to gladder times."

"There have been many faithful during your Majesty's adversity. Through all the dark years there have been many who have not bowed the knee to Baal."

"It was my father who spoke. Through influences that I know not of he had obtained a place for me in the household of the King, and now through the same means we had followed the King to the banquet."

DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY. HAS BEEN IN USE FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS. CURES DIARRHOEA, DYSENTERY, CHOLERA MORBUS, SUMMER COMPLAINT, SEA SICKNESS, ETC. FOR CHILDREN AND ADULTS. A LITTLE GIRL ALMOST DEAD. Dear Sirs—My little girl was almost dead with summer complaint. I tried numerous remedies for her, but they did no good. A friend recommended Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so I procured a bottle, and by the time she had taken three doses it began to effect a complete cure. I owe her life to your excellent remedy.

Dear Sirs—My little boy was very bad with diarrhoea. He passed nothing but blood. I tried everything, but could get nothing to do him any good until I got a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. A few doses made a complete cure, and I have more faith in your remedy for diarrhoea than in any other preparation on earth and always keep it in the house.

A FAMOUS SEA FIGHT RECALLED BY THE ONLY SURVIVING OFFICER

Rear-Admiral Smith, Now Here, Tells How Kearsarge Destroyed the Alabama Off the Coast of France, Forty Years Ago—Interesting Remarks on International Law as Affecting Recent Seizures.

A man who participated in one of the most dramatic naval actions of the last century was in the city yesterday.

He was Rear Admiral J. A. Smith of Washington, and is the only officer alive today who saw, from the spot where the United States corvette Kearsarge, the destruction of the confederate cruiser Alabama, off Cherbourg, France, just forty years ago.

The admiral (who is on the retired list) has been abroad, accompanied by his daughter, Miss J. B. Smith, of Warren (Pa.).

Through the famous sea duel in which Admiral Smith bore a part occurred four decades ago, every detail of the fight remains to him distinct and exact.

Those Russian Seizures. It is no less a privilege to hear Admiral Smith's views concerning present day naval affairs, the war in the east, and particularly the Russian seizures of British shipping in the Red Sea.

International law is rather finely shaded. Regarding the interception of a ship, circumstances should practically govern the action. There are no hard and fast rules.

Some time the question of humanity arose. Then everything rested with the commanding officer. Admiral Togo's decision in sending to the bottom a Chinese troop ship, immediately prior to the commencement of the China-Japan war, was a case in point.

There were no specific laws applying to the policy taken by the Great Republic in the Red Sea. During hostilities it was the duty of cruisers to prevent as far as possible any assistance in men, provisions, arms or ammunition reaching the enemy.

Just how far a cruiser can go is not strictly specified. Rear Admiral Smith served in the United States navy through the war of the Rebellion, and a part of his earliest service was in pursuing Capt. Semmes, who in the confederate ship Sumter was hovering along the European coast, while the Alabama was being constructed in England.

The English sympathies were largely with the south," said the admiral, "for between the cotton growers and the mill owners there existed a mutual interest. Kearsarge and Alabama. Three years passed. The Alabama was the bogey of the American merchant marine and the great objective point of the Federal navy.

EDWARD S. FARREN THE CANADIANS HAS WON THE CUP WERE FAVORITES

For Which St. John Riflemen Have Competed for 32 Years. A VALUABLE PRIZE. COL. SHARP AT HOME.

Mr. Farren Only Joined the Association Last Year, and Now Owns the Coveted Trophy—Others Who Have Won It for One Year—High Scores Made This Year.

To Edward S. Farren, of No. 73 Harrison street, belongs the distinction of winning the corporation cup—a trophy that riflemen have been endeavoring to win for thirty-three years.

The cup was presented to the St. John Rifle Association in 1872 and at yearly competitions ever since the little solid silver goblet, bearing a stamp on an increasing number of marksmen's names, has aroused in each competitor his best efforts.

Mr. Farren's score was 98—with Dr. Manning perilously near at 96—out of a possible 105. In order to win the trophy it is necessary to make the highest score at two of the annual events, and this Mr. Farren has accomplished. Last year his was the champion shoot—an accurate fore shadowing of what would happen this season.

During the 33 years in which the cup was striven for only twice was it nearly won. In 1887 Sergt. Henderson, of the 62nd Regt., came very near being the owner and other close competitors were Dr. Manning and Major Hart, and Lieut. Frost.

The cup is about eight inches high, globet shaped and with three crossed rifles. It is covered with the names of the yearly winners and may be regarded as unusually valuable in view of the associations connected with it.

The match of Saturday afternoon was distinguished by reason of the winning scores being the highest ever made in a shoot for the trophy. In the last stages of the shoot Mr. Farren had the lead of two points over Dr. Manning. Both men made a possible at the final range, each placing seven shots in the seven inch bulls eye.

The scores of the prize winners are as follows: Points. E. S. Farren, corporation cup and P. R. A. medal, 98 Dr. J. Manning, 96 J. T. McDougall, 91 Major J. T. Hart, 91 E. S. Wetmore, 91 J. D. Owey, 91 J. F. McKeown, 89 E. F. Galloway, 85 J. M. Robinson, 85 A. L. McIntosh, 84 H. Sutherland, 83 Capt. H. Peley, 82 Neil Morrison, 81 L. Belyea, 80 J. E. Frost, 80 E. E. McKeown, 79 W. A. Maxwell, 79 P. Campbell, 76 S. Jones, 76 A. O. Burnham, 76

In the long period of years since the cup was presented for competition there have been yearly winners. Following is the list: 1872—Capt. J. S. Hartt. 1873—Sergt. J. Hunter. 1874—Thompson Andrews. 1875—Sergt. Carmichael. 1876—Lieut. W. Z. Earle. 1877—Lieut. J. Hunter. 1878—Lieut. G. P. Thompson. 1879—Lieut. J. T. Hartt. 1880—Sergt. J. Hunter. 1881—Lieut. J. T. H. Frost. 1900—Lieut. J. S. Frost. 1901—E. S. Farren. 1902—E. S. Farren.

It is of interest to know that of all these competitors since the cup was shot for only one is dead, and of the remainder but two are residents of the city. Pte. Marr is dead. Burns is living in Halifax and Sergt. Henderson is living in the Klondike region.

Mr. Farren, who is a tinsmith, about 27 years of age, only joined the association a year ago. He has the satisfaction of knowing that since he has become a member he has come off with "flying colors" at each annual event. Saturday afternoon all of his shots, with the exception of five, were lodged in the bull's eye. The rifle used was the Lee-Enfield and the range two, five and six hundred yards.
