Laws and Decisions Relating to Newspaper Subscriptions

Any one who accepts or uses any article of value is liable for payment of the same, though he may not have ordered it.

It is prima facie evidence of attempt to defraud for any person to take a periodical from the post office for months without payment, and then notify the post office that it has been refused. Where subscriptions are paid in advance, special notice must be given at the end of the period, or subscribers will be liable for papers delivered after expiration of original subscription.

A subscriber is considered as wishing to continue unless express notice is given to the contrary.

A publisher is warranted in ignoring an order to discontinue while the subscriber is in arrears.

Where the subscriber does not notify the publisher of a change of address, he is responsible for papers sent to old address, though he did not receive them.

Failure to receive the paper through no fault of the publisher does not release the subscriber from liability.

It has been decided that a newspaper is a household necessity, and the separate property of either husband or wife can be held for its subscription price.

Arrange for Woodstock Teacher's Institute

A meeting of the executive committee of the Carleton-Victoria Counties Teacher's Institute was held in the Fisher Memorial School, Woodstock, on Saturday morning, Oct. 7. Those present were Inspector Meagher; H. G. Marr, principal of the Fisher school; Miss Bessie Fraser, vice-president of the institute; Walter Daley, secretary, and Miss Helena Mulherrin. The object of the meeting was to arrange a program for the meeting of the institute in Woodstock Dec. 21 and 22. The meeting promises to be an interesting one. The subjects to be discussed are: School fairs, domestic science, the geography of the war, civics, grammar, writing, arithmetic, parent teacher's associations. It is hoped to have present Dr. McIntosh, of St. John; Dr. Carter, chief superintendent, and Mrs. Murchie, of Calais.

Not Advisable on His Base

"We call our servants by their last names," said a mistress to a chauffeur she had just engaged. "What is your name?" "You had better call me James; ma'am," replied the man. "No I insist that you be willing to be called by your first name. Otherwise you won't do at all." The chauffeur said that he was willing that she should call him by his last name, but did not think the family would like it. "What is your last name?" asked his employer coldly. "Darling, ma'am. James Darling!"

Still on the Hunt

Titus J. Carter and J. L. White, M. P.'s for Victoria arrived in the city last evening on business with Premier Clarke. They are still urging the claims of Victoria county for representation in the provincial cabinet. Either one of them is willing to accept a fore-castle berth, but Mr. Carter is willing to concede that his colleague, having moved the famous resolution to whitewash ex-Premier Fleming, is entitled to the inside track.—Fredericton Mail.

O. L. SHAW, WOUNDED

The following letter has been received by Mrs. James Greer of Mount Pleasant:

Canadian Corps Headquarters, France, Sept. 22, 1916.

Mrs. James Greer, Mount Pleasant, N. B.

Dear Mrs. Greer: At the request of your son, Pte. O. L. Shaw, 445743, I am writing to let you know that he was wounded in the left leg on Sept. 17. The leg was not broken.

It was impossible to get him away from the front line immediately and on Sept. 19 I conducted a party of 90 men from the 2nd Can. Br., up to the line and we carried your son and nine of his wounded comrades out to the Ambulance, arriving there at 4.30 next morning.

The doctors gave him immediate and careful attention and described his condition as wonderfully good. He was sent on within an hour afterwards to the Casualty Clearing Station from where he will probably find his way to the base or to England.

I hope you will from time to time hear of his constant progress towards recovery.

I congratulate you on his splendid courage and patriotism. He is one of the men who have made Canada's name great.

Yours sincerely,
A. H. McGreer, Capt.

Barn and 17 Head of Cattle Burned

Fire last week completely destroyed the large barn owned by Robert McAulay, four miles from Sussex, one of the most progressive farmers in Kings county.

Flames were seen at three o'clock, too late to rescue any of the stock, and seventeen valuable cows were burned. In addition a large lot of hay and oats unthreshed were destroyed. During the summer the barn had been remodelled and a cement basement and floors installed, together with modern fixtures. The owner had only $600 insurance, and his loss will run into thousands.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

SEVEN YEARS TORTURE

Nothing Helped Him Until He Took "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

ALBERT VARNER

Buckingham, Que., May 3rd, 1915. For seven years, I suffered terribly from Severe Headaches and Indigestion. I had belching gas from the stomach, bitter stuff would come up into my mouth after eating, while at times I had nausea and vomiting, and had chronic Constipation. I went to several doctors and wrote to a specialist in Boston but without benefit. I tried many remedies but nothing did me good. Finally, a friend advised "Fruit-a-tives". I took this grand fruit medicine and it made me well. I am grateful to "Fruit-a-tives", and to everyone who has miserable health with Constipation and Indigestion and Bad Stomach, I say take "Fruit-a-tives", and you will get well".

repeated. While going to his home he was accosted by a stranger who inquired the way to the B. & A. station. The Houlton man went a little out of his way to show the stranger the right road to the B. & A. and turned to go home. He soon discovered that he was being followed and was later jumped upon and dealt a heavy blow on the head which momentarily stunned him. The stranger relieved him of a watch and six dollars in money, making a good get away. —Arroostook Times.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fash, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

Sir Wilfrid on Woman Suffrage

It is often said that politicians as they become older, become more set and conservative in their ideas, but Canada has a statesman and a politician in Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who seems to broaden out in his political views as his years advance rather than to become conservative. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's declaration at London, Ontario, last week, to the Canadian Women's Club there in favor of the abolition of the sex disqualification for the Dominion franchise was greeted with intense enthusiasm. He retains the Liberal stand of the province controlling the franchise, but holds that when a province declares for woman suffrage, the Dominion franchise shall not exclude her. The federal parliament shall not exclude her from casting a vote in federal election when she is qualified to vote in the provincial election. It is scarcely rash to state that Sir Wilfrid Laurier has settled the woman's suffrage upon the basis of the provincial franchise is certain to come at no distant day for Dominion elections, but it would not be surprising if Sir Robert Borden would feel compelled to give Sir Wilfrid Laurier's views immediate effect when parliament meets. He cannot afford to slumber in the political methods of the unreformed ages.—Moncton Transcript.

Johnson—Turner

On Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 11, a quiet but none the less interesting wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Grant, Stickney, when Miss Mary Squires, sister of Mrs. Grant and daughter of Deacon G. C. Turner, Connell, was united in marriage to George Wesley Johnson of the Lake Lumber Co., Vancouver, B. C.

The bridal party wended their way to the parlor where beneath an arch of autumn leaves and flowers, the ceremony was performed by the officiating clergyman Rev. George A. Ross, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the families and a few near friends, one of whom was Mrs. F. W. Burns, Fort Fairfield. The bride wore a becoming dress of white silk crepe de chine with satin and lace trimmings, a veil caught with bride's roses and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. She was attended by her little niece, Miss Helen Turner, who was prettily dressed in white silk and carried a basket of flowers. Immediately after the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served after which the bride donned her travelling suit of brown chiffon broadcloth with hat to match, and the happy couple left by auto for Woodstock en route for a brief honeymoon trip during which they will visit the principal cities of New Brunswick including Bathurst and other places of interest along the North Shore. On their return they will prepare for their western trip to their home in Vancouver, where Mr. Johnson has been very successful in business. Both Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are well and favorably known, the bride having taught in our public schools for a number of years, while the groom was formerly a resident of Hartland.

They received a number of valuable gifts and a host of friends wish them a long and happy wedded life.

Torturing, Itching Eczema

Mrs. J. B. Horth, Paspebiac, Bonaventure Co., Que., writes:—"Thanks to Dr. Chase's Ointment I have been completely cured of that horrible disease eczema. I was held as if in prison from going among other people, for I was ashamed of the raw, flaming sores. Doctors could do nothing for me and I was almost desperate with suffering when I began to use Dr. Chase's Ointment. In one month I was completely cured and think that this was little short of a miracle."

Made in Canada

THE BUBONIC PLAGUE.

Disease is identical with the "Black Death" of the Middle Ages.

It is a remarkable fact that many physicians who have devoted considerable labor to the study of a particular disease have themselves died of that disease.

One of the most interesting examples is that of John Daniel Major, born August 16, 1834, in Breslau, a physician and naturalist of no mean ability. Bitten by wolverine, he studied at Wittenburg, took courses at many of the schools in Germany and finally went to Italy, where he received the degree of doctor of medicine at Padua in 1860. Returning to his own country, he resided for a short time in Silesia, Margaret Dorothy, a daughter of the celebrated Sennert. The following year his young wife was stricken with plague and died after an illness of eight days.

Disappointed by his loss, Major wandered up and down Europe, studying plague wherever he found it, in the hope that he might discover a cure for the disease which had bereaved him. Spain, Germany, France and Russia were visited by him. He settled in 1865 in Kiel, where he was made professor of botany and the director of the botanical gardens. He made frequent voyages, however, always in quest of the remedy for plague. Finally, in 1893, he was called to Stockholm to treat the queen of Charles XI, then ill with plague. But before he could render her any service, he contracted the disease and died on the third of August.

The bubonic plague of to-day is identical with the "black death" of the Middle Ages. Primarily a disease of rodents, caused by a short, dumbbell-shaped microscopic vegetable, the pest bacillus, it occurs in man in three forms: The pneumonic, which has a death rate of almost 100 per cent.; the septemic, which is nearly as fatal, and the bubonic, in which even the most modern methods of treatment the mortality is about 50 per cent. It is a disease of commerce, spreading around the globe in the body of the ship-borne rat. It is estimated that every case of human plague costs the municipality in which it occurs at least $7,500. This does not take into account the enormous loss due to disastrous quarantines and the committal paralysis which the fear of the disease so frequently produces.

The disease is now treated by a serum discovered through the genius of Yersin. This is used in much the same way as is diphtheria antitoxin.

Plague is transferred from the sick rodent to the healthy man by fleas. This sick rat has enormous numbers of plague bacilli in its blood. The blood is taken by the flea, which, leaving the sick rat, seeks refuge and sustenance on the body of a human being, to whom it transfers the infection. Since plague is a disease of rodents and since it is carried from sick rodents to well men by rodent fleas, safety from the disease lies in the exclusion of rodents, not only exclusion from the habitation of man, but also from the ports and cities of the world. Those who dwell in rat-proof surroundings take no plague.

BLAME ON AUSTRIA.

Looked Upon as the Cause of All Germany's Misfortunes.

A Russian officer arriving in Paris from the eastern front states that the difficulties experienced by the Austrians in transporting troops from the Italian front to Galicia in order to meet the Russian offensive are very great. The Germans had to do the bulk of the work during the first three weeks of the Russian offensive.

Before Kovel and on the road to Lemberg the resistance is made by the Germans. Indeed, had the Austrians been left to themselves during this period they would have been unremediably lost, since they were unable to bring up to the battlefield more than eighty or a hundred thousand men.

The anger of the Germans against the Austrian command can therefore be easily imagined. Austria's attack on the Trentino, which ended in a formidable check, is made the subject of derision by the Boches, who also see in it the cause of all their misfortunes.

THE ROAD TO HEALTH

Lies Through Rich Blood and Strong Nerves.

Debility is a word that fairly expresses many ailments under one name. Poor blood, weak nerves, impaired digestion, loss of flesh, no energy, no ambition, listless and indifferent. This condition is perhaps the penalty of overwork or the result of neglected health. You must regain your health or succumb entirely. There is just one absolutely sure way to new health — take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills will bring you new life, fill every vein with new, rich blood, restore elasticity to your step, the strength of your health to your cheeks. They will supply you with new energy and supply the vital forces of mind and body.

There is not a corner in Canada where Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have not brought health and hope and happiness to some weak debilitated person. If you have not used this medicine, you will tell your neighbors and your friends that you are suffering from some ailment which has been restored to health and strength through using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. One who has always a good word to say for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mrs. Luther Smith, of West Hill, Ont., who writes: "I feel it a duty as well as a pleasure to tell you what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. I had an operation for tumors. The operation in itself was quite successful, but I was so badly run down and anemic that I did not gain strength, and the incision did not heal, until I weighed only eighty-six pounds and could scarcely walk across the floor. I had got so sick of doctors' medicine that I would vomit when I tried to take it. A good friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so I bought a box. Before they were gone I thought I could feel a difference, and I got a further supply. By the time I had taken five boxes the wound ceased discharging and commenced to heal. I took in all and commenced an am-to-day enjoyment of the best health of my life and weigh 140 pounds. I sincerely hope anyone suffering as I did will give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial, and I feel sure they will not be disappointed."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HUN SAVAGERY OUTDORE.

Terrible Story of Austro-Hungarian Outrages in Serbia.

Many people are inclined to dissociate the Austro-Hungarians from the charges of lustful savagery which have been proved against the Hungarians. They will be unpleasantly made aware of the truth by a glance at the official report upon the atrocities committed during the Austro-Hungarian army during the first invasion of Serbia. Dr. R. A. Reiss, professor at the University of Lausanne, has collected evidence of what actually happened. His report is a thorough examination of facts, verified on the spot.

Dr. Reiss's pictures are photographs of horrors. They alone prove "that the charming Austrian people" and the "proud and gallant Magyar race" have had the doubtful honor of surpassing, if possible, their German friends in beastliness.

The Austrians are convicted out of their own mouths. Explosive and dum-dum bullets were freely used; this, with the bombardment of open towns and the mere shooting down of civilians, must be considered the minor cruelties of which they were guilty.

At the instigation of Austrian officers men and women were killed and mutilated with knives in ways which it is impossible to describe.

Dr. Reiss comments on the fact that "the Serb peasants are very reserved indeed, and I am convinced that they are more inclined to say too little than too much. I think there are many more victims than appear in the lists. In many of the villages almost all the women from the very youngest to the very oldest, have been violated."

There are two sides to every story and some have four sides and a ceiling.

We always admire a man who says just what he thinks—about other people.

The need for an imperial policy regarding trade after the war was advocated at a meeting in Glasgow under the auspices of the British Empire Producers' Organization.

The Ayer Town Council agreed on the motion of Provost Mitchell to confer the freedom of the burgh on Sir Edward Morris, Premier of Newfoundland, when he visits Ayer.

THE CAT'S WHISKERS.

The Reason That They Are Still in Style.

Although hirsute adornments of all kinds, whiskers included, were once the real and indispensable thing, modern sanitary practice has made such inroads on unshaved beards and long hair that only a few scattered humans such as musicians and soap-borers still retain their hairy luxuriance. Notwithstanding this, however, the house cat has grown and nurtured its crop of whiskers or feelers for the last million years or so without bothering about hygiene.

The fact is that the cat's whiskers are absolutely necessary to it. The whiskers are as long as the cat's head is wide, and the head is as wide as the body, so wherever the whiskers go there may be cat also.

The tiny, delicate hairs grow from a gland and are served to the utmost sensibility. No matter how light the touch of the hair against an obstacle it is instantly felt by the cat.—Popular Science Monthly.

This is to certify that I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT in my family for years, and consider it the best liniment on the market. I have found it excellent for horse flesh. (Signed) W. S. PINEO. "Woodlands," Middleton, N.S.

Sir William Robertson.
Sir William Robertson and General Haig are exercising a rigid discipline in dealing with the higher commands. In dealing with the lower commands, there is no efficiency in dispensing with generals who are not up to their work. Home they go. Sir William Robertson is a man of few words and strong views. Officers' words and strong views regarding messes are full of good stories regarding him. The following may be taken as typical. An important military proposal was being discussed at a conference. Many lengthy speeches had been delivered. Then Sir William's opinion was invited. He responded with, "Gentlemen, it won't do. We can't have it."

Dyeing Materials in Brazil.
Brazil is said to be capable of furnishing a profusion of materials for dyeing purposes seldom found in one country. The list ranges from black to faint yellows and rose. Of the old-time vegetable dyes Brazil possesses an almost endless variety.

Many a bluffer has a wife that he is unable to bluff.

INVASION OF WOMEN.

Many New Occupations Are Being Opened Up to Them.

Before the war there were five million, five hundred women wage earners in Great Britain; to-day there are said to be over ten million. Five million men have enlisted for active service, and a woman has taken the place of every able-bodied man who might have been engaged in peaceful occupations. England has never been so busy a manufacturing and industrial country as she is in 1916, but this would never have been possible if women had not stepped into the breach.

In Canada there is not the same supply of surplus available women, so that in this respect Canada has not experienced so great a revolution in industrial life, but many new occupations are being opened to Canadian women, and the demand for women workers in factories and in the great industrial life of the railways is steadily on the increase.

If Sir Robert Borden is to secure his 500,000 Canadian soldiers, 100,000 women must temporarily step into the shoes of men so that the latter may be released for service, as the limit of available men seems almost to be reached. Women are already working alongside of men in sacking and hauling of grain at the Canadian Pacific yards, in the Canadian Pacific yards and shops where they are cleaning cars, in the telegraph services and in many clerical positions hitherto held by men. They are acting in some places as Station Agents with satisfaction to their employers. But Canadians who visit England are surprised to find women ticket inspectors and guards, women as chauffeur attendants, women as chauffeurs, and train conductors, women as red caps, porters and ticket clerks, women as locomotive cleaners and track greasers.

SANG UNTIL KILLED.
German Soldier's Baritone Enjoyed by Friend and foe.

Now and then a "close up" shows in the big war drama in France. An English officer returning wounded to London told the story of Paul.

At a point where the opposing lines were so close the enemies caught occasional glimpses of one another. Paul's rich baritone entertained the British German comrades and the British Tommies alike.

During a lull in the fighting, to a mournful accompaniment, Paul sang favorite tunes from light operas. He always drew a generous hand from the British soldiers.

One day the British "went over" for a charge. When the lines were reformed they called for a song. "Tell Paul to sing," yelled a Tommy.

There was silence for a moment. Then a German called back, "You had shot Paul; he sings no more."

Had To Be Cold There.
The following is told by a young bride-elect who was ordering her trousseau in England before going out to New Zealand to be married. The dressmaker suggested only very warm clothes, and when the young lady declared at this, asserting that the climate of New Zealand is a beautiful mild one, she was immediately informed—"I assure you, madam, you are mistaken, for that, of course, is where the frozen meat comes from."

A Peaser For The Teacher.
"Now, remember, children, the tares represent the bad people and the wheat the good ones," observed the teacher of the Sunday School class. "Why, Miss Mason?" exclaimed a rosy cheeked boy, who had been listening through the lesson with deep interest. "Did you say the tares are the bad folks and the wheat the good ones?" "Yes, James," replied the teacher, pleased at the lad's interest. "Well, that's funny, I think," remarked the matter-of-fact child. "It's the wheat that gets thrashed; the tares don't."

Between the men who used to do things and the men who are some day going to do things are the men who are actually doing the work of the world.

To be healthy at seventy, prepare at forty, is sound advice, because in the strength of middle life we too often forget that neglected colds, or careless treatment of slight aches and pains, simply undermine strength and bring chronic weakness for later years.

SIR WILFRID DECLINES

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has declined to join the formation of a parliamentary ring of the National Service Commission, from which Sir Thomas Tait resigned because of government interference. In other words, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, like Sir Thomas Tait, does not approve of the government's methods. He believes he can best serve his country by keeping himself free from a scheme that has been devised without consulting him, and which has a decidedly partisan flavor.

The government has failed since the very beginning of the war to give any leadership in the work of recruiting, which has been left to civilian committees and the officers of battalions, with more or less bungling interference from headquarters. Sir Robert Borden pledged half a million men. Sir Sam Hughes jauntily asserted that there would be no trouble at all in getting them. Those who had to do with recruiting knew better, and implored the government to head a campaign throughout Canada in the interests of recruiting. Apart from an occasional public address by a member of the government no action was taken by Sir Robert and his colleagues. Sir Wilfrid Laurier did all that was in his power to encourage men to enlist, and his activity has been in striking contrast with the inaction of the Nationalist colleagues of Sir Robert Borden. Sir Sam Hughes has proved a failure as war-minister, and has been gradually shorn of most of his power, but is still retained in office.

Meanwhile the cost of getting recruits has become so enormous as to stagger the country, and we are still 130,000 short of that half million. Now Sir Robert Borden appeals to Sir Wilfrid Laurier to get him out of his difficulties, and because the Liberal leader does not at once agree to play the tory game, he is assailed at with intense bitterness by the tory press. The Ottawa correspondent of the St. John Standard writes:

"It is feared that Sir Wilfrid's action will be seized upon by the Empire's enemies in neutral and hostile countries to indicate that Canada is not united in support of the war and that at least the leaders of one of the great political parties do not desire further participation."

The same correspondent charges Sir Wilfrid with being influenced by Quebec political considerations. Thus flagwaving and appeals to race prejudice are resorted to by the government press because Sir Wilfrid Laurier declines to save Sir Robert Borden from the consequences of his own do-nothing policy. The people of Canada are not deceived.

They have waited with growing impatience for some evidence of real leadership from Ottawa, and they are still disappointed. To say that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's attitude will give comfort to Canada's enemies, in view of his known and often-declared attitude is to tax the credulity of the people quite too much. The loyalty of the Liberal party has been written in blood on the fields of France and Flanders.—St. John Times.

SHANNON AND TAPLEY CASES THROWN OUT

An interesting game of pitch and toss with various Crown prosecutors and Judges as the players and Jonathan and Robert Shannon and James Tapley as interested spectators advanced into another stage at Woodstock last week, when Justice Crocket, holding the Circuit Court, refused to try the criminal cases against these men. For years the Shannon's and Tapley have been fighting over the ownership of a piece of land in the Parish of Wicklow and a Court which passes without some civil or criminal proceedings in which these parties are interested is barren indeed. This summer both parties tried to harvest the hay crop on the same day which activities resulted in all the parties getting beaten up to some extent. Charges and countercharges were laid and four cases were sent up for trial by the police magistrate, two against the Shannon's for assault, one against Tapley for assault and one against Tapley and his wife for perjury. The cases came before the grand jury at the last county court and true bills were found in the assault cases, no bill being found in the perjury case. The accused were arranged in each case and pleaded not guilty, and the assault case against the Shannon's jointly was proceeded with, a jury selected and some evidence heard. After hearing some of the evidence Judge Carleton announced that in his opinion the case could not be properly decided without a decision as to the ownership of the land in question, and ordered that the cases be transferred to the Supreme Court. At the sitting of the Circuit Court Justice Crocket refused to hear the cases or to make any disposition of them on the ground that were not properly before him. J. C. Hartley, K. C., on behalf of the Crown asked that new indictment be presented to the grand jury but his application was refused. W. P. Jones, K. C., appeared for the Shannon's. No one seems to know in just what status the matters are now and further developments will be awaited with interest.

Worlds Record Wheat Crop

In view of various claims of world's record wheat crops for large areas, the Crowfoot Farming Company of Crowfoot, Alberta, submit a sworn statement of their results for the year 1915 which probably surpass all properly authenticated claims from other sources. From 1356 acres the Crowfoot Farming Company received an average yield of 51 bushels, 56½ pounds per acre of number one spring wheat, by actual selling weight; 400 acres wheat averaged 59½ bushels per acre. These records were established in the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation Block in Southern Alberta.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

Annual Convention Woman's Missionary Society

The Annual District Convention of the Woman's Missionary Society met in the Methodist church at Woodstock on Wednesday, Oct. 11.

There were sessions at 10 a. m. and at 2.30 p. m. Mrs. W. S. Corbett, District Organizer occupied the chair and a public meeting at 7.30 p. m., at which addresses were given by Mrs. (Rev.) S. Howard and others on the great missionary topics. The morning session was largely taken up with reports from Auxiliaries of the District. Upper Kent, Centreville, Williamston, Lakeville, Jacksonville, Woodstock, Lindsay, Northampton and Richmond sending delegates who reported advancement along most every phase of the work. Devotional exercises were led by Mrs. (Rev.) J. B. Gough in the afternoon session and all present felt an inspiration for better work in the future. Papers were read—one by Mrs. Billings on "The use and abuse of Mite Boxes," was full of helpful suggestions.

Tea was served in the church to the visiting delegates and a very enjoyable hour was spent. Mrs. S. E. Gartley of Jacksonville acted as Secretary for the Convention in the absence of Miss May Herron of Debec.

More work and better methods is the aim for the coming year.

That a testament in his pocket was the cause of saving the life of Private Cecil Hartin, of a New Brunswick battalion, when struck by a piece of shrapnel from a German shell, was the news received by his sister in a letter from him recently. He says: "That the testament that you gave me before I left St. John was riddled with shrapnel. I carried it in my left pocket. The doctor said that he thought that it saved my life."

Rids Poisons From the Blood, Clears Up the Complexion

Sallow Skin, Pimples, Pains and Aches Are Soon Gone When Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Are Used.

The doctor feels your pulse and looks at your tongue, but at the same time he is reading your condition in your face. The sallow complexion tells him that your liver is not doing its work, the pimples tell him that the kidneys are not properly purifying the blood, he realizes that the bowels are constipated and the system overloaded with poisons. You can apply this test in your own case and may be able to add other symptoms, such as headaches, pains and aches through back and limbs, spells of biliousness and indigestion. If you have not used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you will be surprised to find how quickly they will purify your system of poisons and thereby remove the cause of pains, aches and skin troubles.

Mrs. F. N. Hall, 102 Queen street, St. John, N. B., writes: "I am glad to say I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with splendid results. I was greatly troubled with pimples on my face. I tried other remedies and used liquid arsenic three times a day for a year, but it did me no benefit. I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and it was not very long before I was completely cured. The pills acted on the bowels, kidneys and liver and cleansed them of all impure matter. I think they cannot be beaten as a means of ridding a person of that tired aching due to weak kidneys, and I would not be without them in the house for any money." Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Edimanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

FLIGHT OF THE ALBATROSS

Wing Movements That a Chance Snap With a Camera Revealed.

During the voyage of a vessel from British Columbia to San Francisco the photographic test was applied to a long disputed point in natural history. A large albatross had been following the steamer and keeping pace with it for several hours, and the wonder grew among the watchers on board the ship when the bird was able to fly so swiftly while apparently keeping its wings extended without flapping them. As this is a common method of flight with the albatross, the explanation used to be offered that the bird took advantage of slight winds and air currents, and was so able to glide upon what might be called atmospheric slopes.

As the albatross sailed alongside the ship, about fifteen feet away, the naturalist snapped his camera at it and obtained a photograph that astonished him and his fellow passengers. The photograph revealed, what no eye had caught, the wings of the albatross, each some five feet long, in the act of making a downward stroke. The explanation naturally suggested was that more or less frequently the bird must have made a stroke of this kind with its wings, although the eye could not detect the motion, and that the camera chanced to be snapped at precisely the right moment.

Changed the Koreans.

Koreans were quick to quarrel in ancient days and won a bad reputation on this account. At one time, a historian explains, fatal quarrels became so frequent in the country that drastic measures were necessary. A law was promulgated ordering adult males to promulgate ordering adult males to dress on all occasions a china headwear shaped like an inverted flower-pot. It was impossible to fight when crowned with this fragile gear, and the penalties for removing it were severe. The first offense entailed fifty blows on the soles of the feet, and the second meant decapitation. This decree had the most soothing effects, the nature of the inhabitants changed as if by magic, and Korea was called the Land of the Morning Calm.

Dumas and a Dog.

Dumas' pet, designing to be in the fashion during the sporting season, purchased a fine dog at an equally fine price. The next day he set out shooting in the environs of Marly. A partridge rose, and Dumas fired, wounding it. It fell about 100 feet away. Away went the dog, but simply gave the bird the coup de grace. Dumas, enraged, took the ramrod of his gun to whip the dog. The dog took the ramrod between his teeth, rose on his hind legs and began to dance a polka. The famous author then perceived that the dog had not been trained to retrieve. His fame had been made in a circus. Disappointed, Dumas gave Fido to the first peasant he met.

A Sty on the Eye.

A sty is not dangerous, but it can be most unbecoming and troublesome if not attended to at its very start. Sties are due to the irritation of the hair follicle out of which an eyelash springs. They should be opened as soon as pus is formed, for they will not get well as long as pus remains. For inflammation and scalliness add to vaseline fifteen grains of precipitated sulphur. In applying this ointment it is well to warm it a little, as it will not then be so sticky. Apply several times a day until the sty is gone.

Insulted.

Duels have been fought over the least remotely fancied insults. M. Romieu, who seems to have been an editor in Paris, got a letter from a young lawyer which ran: "Sir, I send you with this note a ballad, which I beg you will read with great attention. If you think you can add a few words to it and they suit me I consent to accept you as a collaborateur."

The manuscript was returned with a note thus: "Sir, I have read your ballad with the greatest attention. I leave to you the choice of the weapons."

Know Not "Impossible."

Know that "impossible," where truth and mercy and the everlasting voice of nature order, has no place in the brave man's dictionary; that when all men have said "impossible" and tumbled noisily elsewhere and thou alone art left, then first thy time and possibility come. It is for thee now; do thou that, and ask no man's counsel but thy own only and God's. Brother, thou hast the possibility in thee for much; the possibility of writing on the eternal skies the record of a heroic life.—Carlyle.

Who is to Blame?

It is a very conservative thing to say that there are four women to every man in the church membership of America. Many people are wont to lay the blame for this upon the churches. Quite a number of folks would like to lay it upon the men. Is it not possible that the responsibility rests upon our social structure?—Bernard I. Bell in Atlantic.

Matter of Sentiment.

"What makes you go in through the kitchen?" "I don't know your servants very well," replied Mr. Cumrox. "Some way, the front hall seems kind of formal and distant. Around at the kitchen steps they've got an old doorman with 'Welcome' on it."

Sometimes.

Wills—What is it called when two people are thinking of the same thing at the same time—mental telepathy? Gills—Sometimes; other times just plain embarrassment.

"Foot Your Bill" Carefully--Women
