SAYS HIS DEFENCE IS CONTRARY TO HIS WISHES

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Tuesday.—At the trial of Edwin O. Brown today the question as to the prisoner's sanity or insanity was submitted to the jury. The prosecution put on four witnesses, John Hamill, jailer, Dr. Johnson read a long statement Warburton and McNeill. Their testimony went to show that Brown's behavior was rational witnesses being inclined to believe he was feigning insanity. At the opening of the trial this morning the prisoner in the dock stated that his counsel was conducting the defence contrary to his wishes. His plea would be straight 'not guilty' and not insanity.

Dr. Johnson read a long statement prepared by the prisoner setting forth the line of his defence, claiming that owing to financial difficulties he began to dabble in stocks with disastrous results. Contrary to expectations the crown did not produce Dr. Hattie, an expert superintendent at the Dartmouth, N. S. Insane Hospital. He may possibly be reserved for rebuttal testimony after the evidence for doctors for defence is heard. The crown closed their case today. Defence will be taken up tomorrow.

DEFENCE IS PLACED IN EVIDENCE BY CORROBORATING MRS. HARRY THAW'S STORY

NEW YORK, Tuesday.— District Attorney Jerome's long and severe cross-examination of Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw at the trial of her husband came to an end late today. The attorneys for the defence then succeeded in placing in evidence a letter written by the defendant in the fall of 1903 which completely corroborated the claim that the girl who was to become his wife did tell him the story of her relations with Stanford White much as she related it upon the stand at this and the former trial.

One of a Dozen.

This letter was one of a dozen which were read to the jury as tending to corroborate young Mrs. Thaw's testimony and as further tending to show the effect her story had upon the defendant's mind. Most of these letters were read to the jury in the former trial and were considered as one of the strongest bits of evidence in the hands of the defence.

Mr. Jerome objected to their introduction into the record today but was overruled by Justice Dowling after Thaw himself had made a waiver of the confidential relation of counsel and client when Frederick W. Longfellow, his former attorney, appeared on the stand to identify the letters.

Referred to Her Experiences.

Some of the writings were addressed to Mr. Longfellow and others had been sent to him to be delivered to Miss Nesbit. They all contained many references to the girl's history and to her experience, and in the letters intended for the young woman, Thaw constantly bespeaks of his love and respect for her. Many of the sentences rambled on incoherently and there were many scratches, erasures and interlineations. The first letter Mr. Littleton read today was largely a repetition in the defendant's own words of the story the Nesbit girl says she told him in Paris in 1903. In it, however, Thaw refers to the 'drugged champagne' incidents, one at the photographic studio in 22nd street and the other in the 24th Street house, where, as Mrs. Thaw twice testified, that while luncheon and wine were served during her posing at the photographic place, nothing out of the ordinary occurred.

Corroborates Her.

Thaw's letter corroborated Mrs. Thaw in that he declared it was in the 24th Street house that she and Stanford White were alone.

Mr. Jerome was much quieter in his handling of young Mrs. Thaw on the stand today, and his voice lacked the high pitch which filled the court room yesterday afternoon. The cross-examination resolved itself for a time into a verbal battle between prosecutor and witness and there were several Justice Dowling took a hand.

The defence is nearing its close. Tomorrow morning Thaw's will and the codicil made at the time of his marriage to Evelyn Nesbit, both of which were introduced last year as further evidence of irrationality on the part of the defendant, will be proved and introduced as evidence.

Thaw's Teacher Next.

Then will follow the testimony of Miss Belle Moorhouse of California, who was Thaw's teacher when he was six years old and could not talk intelligibly. It is said Miss Lawrence kept a diary in which there are many entries concerning young Thaw and an effort will be made to get this in evidence.

Mrs. Wm. Thaw is expected during the day to complete her testimony. The insanity experts should be reached not later than Thursday afternoon.

SECOND MEETING OF NEWCASTLE'S MOCK COUNCIL HELD

NEWCASTLE, Tuesday.—The second meeting of the Mock Union Mock Council was held in the Methodist vestry on Monday night, Rev. H. C. Rice in the chair. The following councillors were present: Principal B. P. Steeves, ex-alderman H. Williston, and Messrs. R. E. Richardson, F. H. Gough, S. McLeod, T. J. Jeffrey, H. H. Stuart, John Lingley, W. C. Day, W. J. Black, John A. Mullin, John Rowe, H. Leard and J. S. Johnson, the last five being new members.

S. McLeod, chairman of the finance committee continued the submission of the estimates for coming year. The amounts proposed for coal and electric light were considered to law, and were referred to Water and Light Committee. H. Williston advised the building of a coal shed and importation of coal by water in the summer so as to greatly reduce its cost. He claimed that these services were costing far too much, and could be run more economically.

The estimates were then dropped, and the petition of A. Brown, I. Jones, and R. Smith favorably reported by committee of the whole on Dec. 9th, was taken up for final disposal.

The petition read as follows:—Whereas it is difficult to obtain suitable dwelling houses in Newcastle, and whereas the cost of rent is much greater than in former years, therefore we, the undersigned, request your humble body to immediately take steps to acquire by agreement, or expropriation, vacant lots in the town, and build houses thereon, to be rented at reasonable rates; and in case the town has not the power to do so, to petition the Legislature to give it the necessary authority.

The adoption was moved by H. H. Stuart and seconded by R. E. Richardson.

Their motion was supported by Principal Steeves, W. J. Black, and others. H. Williston approved the principal of the motion, but thought it too far in advance of public sentiment at the present time. He advocated the idea put forward by Ald. Belyea and the Union Advocate, that vacant land should be taxed the same as improved lots, the improvements upon the land to be taxed much less than at present. The whole system of assessment was wrong. Assessors should be compelled to value land at its full value.

The motion was opposed by John Lingley and S. MacLeod. Mr. Lingley thought expropriation wrong in principle and impossible in practice.

Mr. McLeod wanted more light on the subject and thought the discussion should be postponed. He said the assessors had now the right to assess as Mr. Williston wished.

Principal Steeves, in reply to Mr. Lingley, declared that the right of expropriation depends solely upon whether such expropriation is considered in the public interests.

Mr. Stuart explained that Glasgow, Scotland, had made a success of municipal tenements, factories, street cars, etc., and so could Newcastle.

Mr. Richardson showed that Berlin, Ont., had made a success of what public utilities she owned, and so could Newcastle with tenement houses.

At a previous meeting, when F. H. Gough was in the chair, Rev. Mr. Rice had strongly supported the petition. When the question was called the vote stood as follows:—Williston, Black, Jeffrey, Leard, Mullin, Day Rowe, Johnson, Steeves and Stuart—10.

Nay—McLeod, Lingley and Gough—3.
Messrs. Steeves, Stuart and Lingley were appointed a committee to prepare the necessary legislation.

ANSLOW BROS., Publishers,
Thursday, January 23, 1908.

The winter is still lingering in the lap of summer.

The town seems to be short of water. Are the bar rooms running short of soda for chasers?

There are thirty-seven more names on the voters list this year than last year. Hope they are all good Liberal votes.

Premier Robinson called the opposition bluff. The opposition evidently thought it had a Carleton County hayseed to reckon with.

The best commodity on the market at present is a good hockey player. He is like an English sovereign, can get his value anywhere.—Ottawa Free Press.

Canada does not want reciprocity in articles she does not produce. She does desire reduced duties upon the articles which she does produce. And that is what the French treaty gives her.

A Cornwall juror has been heavily fined for being a few minutes late. Courts may be merciful to prisoners, but the man guilty of serving on a jury is seldom regarded as entitled to consideration.—Toronto Globe.

What's the use of dilly-dallying with Messrs. Hazen and Fleming? Premier Robinson's proposition was straight and to the point and the disinclination of the opposition leaders to accept it simply indicates quite clearly that they have all along been bluffing.

If Messrs. Hazen and Fleming will not consent to Premier Robinson's proposal to settle the dispute about the provincial accounts, perhaps the Tory critics will definitely agree as to what they shall in future say in the amount of the provincial debt. Messrs. Hazen and Fleming, it will be remembered, were some $4,000,000 apart in their recent calculations.—Moncton Transcript.

With one exception all the daily papers in this province who are endeavoring to boost the opposition cause were up to a year or two ago as strenuously working for the government. They were sincere in their advocacy of the government's platform. The reason they switched was either that they thought they were getting all that was coming to them or that they have since passed into the control of opposition forces.

THE LUMBER TRADE

When the financial stringency first began to make itself felt some months ago people everywhere stopped short in the middle of undertakings which would have otherwise been pushed to the completion. The farmer who was just ready to build a new barn, the man who had ordered lumber for a house, the citizen who was in the middle of improvements to his residence, and the merchant who had planned an extension of his premises all brought these operations to a standstill until they should see how things were going to turn out. So also, in greater fields railway companies and other concerns slackened the pace and countermanded orders already in process of execution. The panic came and the panic went, leaving Canada very much where it found it, as the few business failures show, consequently on the return of the money market to its normal basis most people will be in a position to begin where they left off and to take up again forthwith the projects they had temporarily abandoned. Were there nothing but the ordinary demand to anticipate this year we might count on a busy season in the lumber trade, once the rush of orders from people anxious to make up for the time they have lost began to come in, observes the Vancouver World. Among others there is the farmer on the prairies still to be heard from. Only now is he beginning to sell his wheat and the effect of the circulation of the money he receives has yet to be felt by way of the lumber yards in the mills. The home market, too, is developing rapidly. British Columbia will use up more of her own timber this year than ever in her history. The railways heading west, moreover, find it necessary to construct bridges at shorter intervals and of larger size as they approach the mountains, and since four great roads, the Canadian Pacific, the Grand Trunk Pacific, the Canadian Northern and the Great Northern, have raised more than fifty millions among them for western development, of which they will spend as much as they can this year, the demand for lumber for construction purposes bids fair to be enormous. Nor is there only the direct demand. Every point on a new road means a group of houses, some of them small towns and others embryo cities, all of which will be built up out of the product of our mills. Here and there, too, wherever a stopping place shows signs of developing into a good sized village, the lumber yard will appear and the stocking of lumber yards at the outset makes no small demand on the industry. Turning from the mountains to the sea the prospect is equally encouraging. The ocean trade is growing. Every Blue Funnel boat carries lumber to the Orient and the Mexican line is working up a very respectable business with the republic at the south of the continent. All that the country is waiting for now, indeed, is the word from the banks and that this bound to come soon is the general impression. The purchasers have kept the strings drawn tight throughout the American crisis for fear the banks would extend to Canada. That danger, however, grows less and less every day and should not continue to furnish the most conservative financial institutions with an excuse for restricting credit to the narrow limits with which we have been too familiar recently. The very cause which operated to make the banks cautious beyond the verge of timidity has proved both the soundness of Canadian business as a whole and the justice of the demand for those reasonable facilities to which our commercial and industrial concerns were accustomed before the panic. Unless, therefore, the American money market should continue to exhibit the conditions which are now showing signs of passing away, the special reserve with which the banks have been fortifying themselves for an emergency ought soon to be moving in the regular channels of business and enabling our industries to meet the demand which is certain to arise.

A TAX ON HEIRESSES

Congressman Sabbath's bill to tax marriage settlements in the cases of Americans marrying foreigners will finally solidify the sentiment—especially prevalent in Newport—in favor of the abolition of Congress. Mr. Sabbath, by the way, is a native of Bohemia; and this is his way of extending a welcome to Count Steschyl, a soon-to-be distinguished patriot. Mr. Sabbath argues that since the people of the United States object to immigration coming and settling in the United States, why should they take abroad to live on the rest of their days, why would it not be desirable to place a heavy tax on the fortunes of heiresses who wed foreign gentlemen? If we had such a tax as taken from the United States the $900,000,000 that has gone abroad in the shape of marriage settlements during the last twenty-five years, Mr. Sabbath might consistently propose taxing the thousands of Europeans who come over to the United States every spring, fatten up during the summer and fall and go home to spend the winter, telling the old folks what a great and glorious country America is and what a soft thing it is to work for six months every year in a land where free lunches and charitable dinners are every day matters. If the congressman from the fifth Illinois district is desirous chiefly to increase the government revenue, he might also propose taxing Americans who live abroad and Americans who go abroad every summer and receive an enthusiastic welcome from hotel keepers, concert hall proprietors, picture dealers, and lords and ladies willing for a consideration to introduce them to the topiquest society. But if the budding Bohemian-American statesman is trying to discourage these alliances between American wealth and foreign titles, he is in for a smart defeat from the mothers of eligible daughters, who, as every one knows, will make any sacrifice to have a titled foreigner in the family. Mr. Sabbath's bill would keep more money home but not more heiresses.

THE COST OF THE CANAL.

Secretary Taft's recommendation that the width of the Panama Canal be increased from 100 to 115 feet in order to accommodate the latest type of battleship will involve, if approved and adopted, an estimate addition of $5,000,000 to the originally fixed cost of the canal, says the Boston Journal. And only last week the Senate Inter-oceanic canal committee let it be known that the original estimate of $135,000,000 for a lock canal would in all probability represent less than half the actual cost of the completed work. Two years ago, when Congress was discussing the canal proposition, President Roosevelt said that he would veto the sundry-civil appropriation bill if it carried a rider providing for a sea level canal. It was this action that induced the Senate to vote for the lock canal. The president, in his message to Congress accompanying the report of the board of consulting engineers, said: "The sea-level canal would be slightly less exposed to damage in the event of war; the running expenses, apart from the heavy cost of interest on the amount employed to build it, would be less; and for small ships the time for transit would be less. On the other hand, the lock canal, at a level of eighty feet or thereabouts, would not cost much more than half as much to build, and could be built in about half the time, while there would be very much less risk connected with building it, and for large ships the transit would be quicker, while, taking into account the interest on the amount saved in building, the actual cost of maintenance would be less." The engineers estimated that the lock canal would cost a little less than $140,000,000 and would require eight years to complete, while the sea-level canal would cost not less than $275,000,000 and would require at least twelve years' work. According to liberal estimates, fully $235,000,000 will be needed to build the lock canal and the work will occupy perhaps ten years. Col. Gotthels, chairman of the Isthmian Canal Commission and chief engineer of construction, testified in Washington the other day that the work could not be completed for less than $250,000,000. Up to the end of next June the expenditures will aggregate $87,600,000. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909, an appropriation of $25,000,000 is wanted. By the middle of next year the expenditures will therefore total $120,000,000, leaving a balance of less than $15,000,000 to complete the work according to the original schedule. But it is said that the masonry in the locks work on which will not begin until some time next year, will cost in the vicinity of $150,000,000.

ASPREY AND CONWAY WERE COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

(From Wednesday's Graphic.)

The preliminary examination of George Asprey and Cornelius Conway charged with burglarizing C. F. Clare's jewelry store here was commenced in Magistrate Matheson's court at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The prisoners pleaded "not guilty," after which court adjourned until 2:30 p. m.

When court opened in the afternoon, W. A. Mott was on hand for the crown and Mr. LeBlanc for Asprey. The first witness called was Sarah Thompson, chambermaid in Grey's restaurant. She deposed to discovering the coppers under the pillows of the two men who had slept there the night before. She did not recognize Conway as one of the men.

John Grey deposed, said that the two men who slept at his place were Conway and Demo. The latter slept with his clothes on. The last time he saw Asprey was when he came in to buy cigarettes in the evening. He saw Conway and Demo in bed at 3:45 and served them with a stew.

Policeman Jones told of arresting Conway. Mr. Clare, the next witness, identified the package of money found and afterwards identified the goods secured. Mr. Clare placed the estimate on the goods recovered at $155. He could swear to $133 worth. Three knives found on Conway were identified by Mr. Clare as his.

Inspector Noble sworn told of Asprey confessing to stealing the goods and telling him where they were to be found. Asprey told him that Demo watched the front of the store, that Conway went in and that he (Asprey) watched the back entrance. The loot was given to Demo after which it was divided. Asprey concealed his in Duncan & McLennan's. At the conclusion of the evidence Magistrate Matheson committed the prisoners for trial. They will be taken to Dalhousie this morning.

MILLER—FAWCETT.

A quiet but pretty event took place at the residence of George A. Fawcett, King street, last evening at 9 o'clock when his daughter, Augusta Wilhelmina, was united in marriage to William H. Miller, lumberman of Campbellton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. P. Carr, D. D., in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. There were no bridesmaids. The bride, who was very prettily attired in white silk was given away by her father. The presents received were numerous and costly among them being a purse of gold from the groom's father and brothers. The wedding march was played by the bride's sister Mrs. Anna Stewart. The newly married couple leave this morning by the Maritime for a honeymoon trip to Montreal and Toronto. The bride's going away gown is green plaid. The Citizens' Band serenaded the happy couple at Mr. Fawcett's residence last evening. Both the bride and groom are immensely popular here. Mr. Miller is a prominent member of the Town Council.

A WONDERFUL ACTOR.

Winks—Talk about stage realism! You should see Strident in "Love and Woe".

Jinks—He can't hold a candle to my friend Moulder. He played the heavy villain in "Woman's Wrong" so realistically that his wife sued for a separation the next week.

For a moribund project the All-Red project is showing very substantial signs of life. When it gets the approval of Lloyd-George, as indicated by the approval of Mr. Grigg's report, there is every indication that the decision of the British Government will be favorable.—Ottawa Free Press.

HUSKY ALLSTON SAYS HIS WIFE ABUSED HIM OFTEN

In Suit for Divorcé, Frank Liouet Accuses Hannah With Assault

BOSTON, Wednesday.—With a string of thirteen witnesses awaiting their turn to testify in his behalf, Frank Liouet, of the Suffolk County Court, today began his divorce suit against his wife, Hannah, who weighs 180 pounds and is 6 feet in height, took the stand yesterday afternoon at the January session of the Suffolk County Court for the purpose of seeking a divorce from his wife, Hannah, whom he claims has abused him most shamefully at various times during the three years of their married life.

During the trying ordeal, in which the young man blushed an innocent red every time he was asked to describe his wife's language at various times, the young wife herself, who weighs but 120 pounds, occupied a seat in the courtroom, for she had contested the case.

According to the testimony of the young man, who was on the stand the entire last half of the afternoon session, he was married on April 6, 1904, after a courtship of thirteen months, and from the first few days of the honeymoon in New York the troubles began.

The first real serious offense, according to the strapping witness, was that his wife, in a little family quarrel, at the home of his mother in Allston, slapped him one in the mouth with her hand and broke one of his teeth. A series of assaults occurred during the next two years, so said the abused Romeo, a badly scratched face following the extraction of a 50 cent piece from his own jaw, a slap in the eye with a pair of gloves because he had been talking to a young woman about some bells that were ringing on a nearby church, and a threat of his life with a plate if he did not come home more regularly from day's work.

Ever since he had been employed at the tower house at the South station yard, where, as he testified, he had great responsibilities, he had always given every cent of his weekly earnings to his wife, and in one instance when he attended a meeting of a labor organization at the Quincy house and failed to appear at his home at the appointed time his wife took a trip to the tower house, and after knocking him out of his mouth, demanded his pay envelope—which, as usual, she got.

From time to time the two separated, but a reconciliation would occur and they lived a great deal of the time on Lake street, Brighton, the home of the young woman's parents. One beautiful day in 1906, according to the witness, he was accosted in the South Station by his wife, who had been watching him closely without his knowledge, talking with a Miss Jackson, who tends a candy pavilion at the station.

Tumors Conquered Without Operations

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Cases of Mrs. Fox and Miss Adams.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

So-called "wandering pains" may come from the early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by excessive monthly periods accompanied by unusual pain extending from the abdomen through the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation; secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once and begin its use and write Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Read these strong letters from grateful women who have been cured:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—(First Letter.) "In looking over your book I see that you mention cures of tumors. I have been a doctor and he tells me I have a tumor. Will be more than grateful if you can help me, as I do so dread an operation."

Fannie D. Fox, Bradford, Pa.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—(Second Letter.) "I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine."

Eighteen months ago my periods stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician, and was told that I had a tumor and would have to undergo an operation.

I soon after read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After taking five bottles as directed, the tumor is entirely gone. I have again been examined by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; a Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills.

LOSS BY FIRE WILL BE OVER $400,000

Maple Leaf Flour Company Loses Immense Mill at Kenora, Ont.

KENORA, Ont., Thursday.—The immense five thousand barrel mill of the Maple Leaf Flour Mills Company was destroyed by fire last night together with the large packing house. The fire started in the cleaning department in the fifth story from some unknown cause, but likely either from friction of pulleys or from defective wiring. The total loss will exceed four hundred thousand dollars. The large elevator and bins almost filled with flour were saved. The elevator to the east of the mill and separated by the ten concrete bins was saved by the firemen. The mill building cost $700,000; machinery $181,000; packing house $42,000. There was also a large amount of flour stored which was also destroyed. The destroyed mill had a capacity of five thousand barrels daily. The town of Kenora will suffer to the extent of $100,000, the amount charged yearly for power from the corporation.

NO REDUCTION TO BE MADE AS YET IN THE PHONE RATE

(Boston Journal.)

Commander Eva Booth of the Salvation Army of the United States concluded her nine-day campaign of Boston last evening in the People's Temple. She was welcomed by the large audience which ever crowded the building. When she arose to speak every foot of space was occupied; there were many who were turned away.

There was never a dull moment during the rally, which rang out with the hearty enthusiasm that only a band of Salvation soldiers can arouse. The spirit of joy, happiness and good fellowship predominated everywhere and young and old responded alike to its inviolable power. A large number of fresh army recruits were sworn into the service by the visiting commander, who also presented badges for faithful service to those who had been in the service for ten years and upward several being there who have for more than twenty years been actively identified with the local corps of officers.

Enthusiasm reached its highest pitch when Miss Booth ascended the platform to speak. Simple and to the point was her message, but powerful and encouraging was its results for the ten years and upward several being there who have for more than twenty years been actively identified with the local corps of officers.

The speaker took Paul's farewell words to Timothy for the text of her final message to her host of Boston followers. "Keep that which I have committed to thy trust," "Keep that! she cried to her loyal army, your confidence, which is the compass of your lives, your faith, the power of the gospel and finally the beloved flag, the emblem of our great army of God." To let go of these blessings, said Miss Booth, "brings shame and victory from the enemies of God."

In the exposition of her message, the visiting commander brought into action all the powers of convincing oratory, argument and persuasion. Her personal magnetism took firm hold of the large and receptive audience, and at the close she held the attention of each individual.

This religious campaign in Boston, under the leadership of Miss Booth, and her corps of officers from the local divisions and from New York, has been crowned with great success. For nine days the greatest efforts have been made to spread the word of God and to sow the seed of kindness in every quarter. All of the rallies have been well attended and splendid results have been accomplished. The work will be just as earnestly carried on although Commander Booth will leave this city for New York today.

FRENCH AIRSHIP WINS THE TEN THOUSAND DOLLAR PRIZE

Farman's Machine Makes Circular Kilometer in Less Than 2 Minutes.

PARIS, Wednesday.—Henry Farman, the French aeronaut, today won the Deutsche-Archdeacon prize of $5,000 by making a circular kilometer in an airship heavier than air. The successful flight was made in the presence of an official committee of the Aero Club. The time was one minute and twenty-eight seconds.

Farman's great feat took place today over a field at Issy, five miles from Paris, in the presence of A. Archdeacon, M. Santos Dumont, and a score of other aeronauts, and about 500 spectators.

With the preliminary run of a hundred yards over the ground, the aeroplane had risen twelve or fifteen feet before it reached the starting post. Then, with outstretched wings, it sailed out across the field at a height of from twenty-five to thirty feet, at a rate of twenty-four miles an hour. The outer mark was made in a graceful curve, the wings righted the machine, and the aeroplane came sailing home on an even keel. As it passed, the finish mark, Farman cut off the power, and the machine descended lightly to earth, winner of the Deutsche-Archdeacon prize, amid the cheers of the spectators.

The motor used had eight cylinders and developed fifty horse power. It weighs 176 pounds. The manufacturer of the motor also won a medal.

The Aero Club Jan. gave a banquet next Thursday evening, when Farman will be presented with the prize he won today and the gold medal of the club.

EVA BOOTH ENDS HER NINE DAYS CAMPAIGN

(Boston Journal.)

Commander Eva Booth of the Salvation Army of the United States concluded her nine-day campaign of Boston last evening in the People's Temple. She was welcomed by the large audience which ever crowded the building. When she arose to speak every foot of space was occupied; there were many who were turned away.

There was never a dull moment during the rally, which rang out with the hearty enthusiasm that only a band of Salvation soldiers can arouse. The spirit of joy, happiness and good fellowship predominated everywhere and young and old responded alike to its inviolable power. A large number of fresh army recruits were sworn into the service by the visiting commander, who also presented badges for faithful service to those who had been in the service for ten years and upward several being there who have for more than twenty years been actively identified with the local corps of officers.

Enthusiasm reached its highest pitch when Miss Booth ascended the platform to speak. Simple and to the point was her message, but powerful and encouraging was its results for the ten years and upward several being there who have for more than twenty years been actively identified with the local corps of officers.

The speaker took Paul's farewell words to Timothy for the text of her final message to her host of Boston followers. "Keep that which I have committed to thy trust," "Keep that! she cried to her loyal army, your confidence, which is the compass of your lives, your faith, the power of the gospel and finally the beloved flag, the emblem of our great army of God." To let go of these blessings, said Miss Booth, "brings shame and victory from the enemies of God."

In the exposition of her message, the visiting commander brought into action all the powers of convincing oratory, argument and persuasion. Her personal magnetism took firm hold of the large and receptive audience, and at the close she held the attention of each individual.

This religious campaign in Boston, under the leadership of Miss Booth, and her corps of officers from the local divisions and from New York, has been crowned with great success. For nine days the greatest efforts have been made to spread the word of God and to sow the seed of kindness in every quarter. All of the rallies have been well attended and splendid results have been accomplished. The work will be just as earnestly carried on although Commander Booth will leave this city for New York today.

MAKE THIS UP AT YOUR HOME

What will appear very interesting to many people here is the article today in the New York daily paper, giving a noted prescription, as formulated by a noted authority, who claims that he has found a positive remedy for cure almost any case of backache or kidney or bladder derangement. In the following simple prescription, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

A well-known druggist here at home, when asked regarding this prescription, stated that the ingredients are all harmless, and can be obtained at a small cost from any good prescription pharmacy, or the mixture would be put up if asked to do so. He further stated that while this prescription is often prescribed in rheumatism affections with splendid results, he could see no reason why it would not be equally beneficial to the kidneys and urinary troubles and backache, as it has a peculiar action upon the kidney structure, cleansing these most important organs and helping them to sift and filter from the blood the foul acids and waste matter which cause sickness and suffering. Those of our readers who suffer can make no mistake in giving it a trial.

Mrs. Youngwood—"Why is it that you are always growing about my biscuits?"

Youngwood—"Oh, there are sometimes when a man would rather fight than eat."

POLICEMAN GIVES BOND FOR HIS PRISONER

BOSTON, Wednesday.—Compelled because of his sworn duties to enforce the law to arrest a man for spitting on the sidewalk, Patrolman James J. Smith, of the Back Bay police station, felt so sorry for his prisoner that he went his bail.

Saturday afternoon at the corner of Tremont and Berkeley streets he saw Robert Dunnigan of Cambridge carelessly spit upon the sidewalk. He arrested him.

At the station house Dunnigan told his story. He cannot read or write English and has no family connections or friends with whom he could keep in touch with the new laws. Ordinarily reprimanded for petty offences which are forbidden for new laws that he knows nothing about, the first that Dunnigan knew of the anti-spitting law was when he was arrested.

"I am poor, I have little money, and as fast as I earn it I send it to my folks across the water," he told the patrolman.

Having good faith in mankind, Patrolman Smith went bail for his own prisoner, and true to his promise, Dunnigan appeared bright and early in the City Police Court yesterday morning.

The patrolman explained the case to Judge Sullivan and said that if the court wished to investigate the conditions of the defendant he would be willing to again go bail for him.

Judge Sullivan was much impressed with the story and placed the case on file.

Seventeen other cases of sidewalk spitting were all done in the two sessions of the City Police Court.

Women Suffer Agonies from Kidney Trouble

GIN PILLS CURE THEM

There is Mrs. Ripley, for instance. She suffered terribly with her back. It ached, ached, ached—all the time. Even in bed, it seemed as if she could not get easy. It finally became so bad that housework was impossible.

She certainly was discouraged when she began to take GIN PILLS. And there isn't a happier, healthier woman in the Dominion than this same Mrs. Ripley today.

Williamdale East, May 6th. I cannot refrain from writing you to tell you how I have recovered from my kidney trouble. I have received from GIN PILLS, before I had taken GIN PILLS, really saved my life. I have tried almost everything but got no relief until I got "GIN PILLS."

I have been a sufferer for years and now I have not the sign of a pain or an ache in my back. I am strong and feel as well as the best. There is nothing on the face with GIN PILLS for pain in the back to which women are subject. Yours truly,

Mrs. Ripley had serious Kidney Trouble. And the sick kidneys were making her back ache—were giving her those splitting headaches—were sapping her strength—and dragging her down. GIN PILLS really saved her life. GIN PILLS cured her kidneys. She has been well ever since. GIN PILLS are a grand medicine for women.

Try them at our expense. Mention this paper when writing and we will send you a free sample so you can see for yourself just what GIN PILLS will do for you. The Bole Drug Co., Winnipeg, Man.

PEGGY INTOLERANT OF AFFECTATION

BOSTON, Tuesday.—I do not know whether each and all of you have had the experience with the managing female whom I discussed in this column yesterday, but I would be willing to wager that you have all met her. I do not wonder, because I happened to know the couple quite well. Probably, though, there were several in their vicinity who felt sorry for the gay little woman with the surly brute of a husband.

She is a pretty doll of a woman, with a manner that is irresistible—that is, her company manner is—she dresses so daintily and in such exquisite taste. She has everything to enhance her charms. Her hats and coats and costumes, her shoes and gloves and all the things that go to make woman's attire complete cost heaps of money, but she must have them, regardless of where the money comes from to pay the fiddler. If she could not have everything she sets her heart upon, her charming smile would turn sour upon her lips and the gentle soft tones of her voice become harsh or peevish, depending upon her mood.

She treats her husband in company as though she adored him. Time was when those who knew him envied him his jolly, happy, honey-tongued wife, but that was before they knew her. I do not know how the secret leaked out, for certainly he is not one to talk and she not one likely to forget her role of even-tempered, sweetest, when while there is anyone near by. I suspect that she is anyone near by.

OHIO MAN WOULD FOR $30,000 TAKE HIS PLACE.

If that Amount is Paid His Family Would Be Executed for Murder of Sanford White.

NEW YORK, Thursday.—The Thaw trial did not go on this afternoon owing to the non arrival of important witnesses. Mrs. William Thaw, mother of the accused, arrived from Pittsburgh today and if strong enough may take the stand tomorrow. She has been ill for more than a month. Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw will not be a witness until some time next week. All of the indications so far have been that District Attorney Jerome will make a desperate fight to have her testimony ruled out this year. Counsel for the defence are confident, however, that it will be allowed now that they have entered a formal specification of insanity in connection with the plea of not guilty.

One of the 2000 strange letters which have been received by Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw since Harry K. Thaw's trial began, contained an offer from an Ohio man to substitute himself for Thaw and if necessary be executed. The writer imposed the consideration that his family be paid $30,000 as soon as the proposed substitution is complete. His letter covered six hundred pages.

The finest Coffee Substitute ever made has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes. "Made in a minute," says the doctor. "Health Coffee" is really the closest Coffee Imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real Coffee in it, either. Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted cereals or grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for coffee. For sale by A. McG. McDonald.

pect that the real woman, or rather what she lacked in real womanliness, made itself felt in time in spite of her tact, her sunny smiles and her gay raillery and light-heartedness when there were people about to whom she must be nice or before whom she must make a pretense of being nice.

Anyway, those of us who know this man and wife do not consider the husband surly because he refuses now to help his wife play a part. That is what it amounts to. When she gets herself into her prettiest clothes and her high French heels, with all her puffs and braids in order, she is quite ready to appear good-natured and kind and womanly. She isn't a bit. She is fretful, abusive and altogether disagreeable at home. She drops her pretty manner the moment she enters her door and it is rarely domed except when necessity demands. She does not think it incumbent upon her to treat old friends any differently than she does her husband, unless she has a particular reason for desiring their friendship. She can be all flattery and smiles and compliments when she has an ax to grind with one whom she cunningly realizes would be angered and disgusted by her whinnings and arguments, though the latter are employed in obtaining her will with her husband.

Poor, foolish, misguided woman, who only smiles to gain a point that cannot be won otherwise and who is only on good terms with her husband when she is out in company with him, where she wishes to create an impression. Little wonder that he turns away from her when she tries her coquettish arts upon him just to show others how charming and sweet she is. The greatest wonder to me is that she tolerates her affected, false attitude towards him for two hours or more once or twice a week.

LANDED WITHOUT A DOLLAR, IS NOW MILLIONAIRE.
Remarkable Career of Geo. L. Richards, a Prominent Publisher of Boston.

BOSTON, Thursday.—Through the failure of George L. Richards to return from Europe where he departed for last July on permission of the courts and the dissatisfaction of many investors in a number of Richards' Companies, F. W. Hunnewell was today appointed receiver for several of the concerns. Richards from the time he came here ten years ago without a dollar and not having tasted food for three days, has had a marvelous career and is now believed to be a millionaire. The Brown Book was the first publication which brought Richards' name prominently before the public. In time appeared the Bernards Richards Co., the Richards Publishing Co., The Geo. Livingstone Richards Co., The Agnew Auto Mailing Co., and The Automatic Addressing Co. The magazine Modern World succeeded the Brown Book. Richards was arrested at the instance of a dissatisfied investor a year ago and when he went to Europe he had to give bonds. The crash was brought about by an old soldier who had invested $300 in one of the schemes, entering a petition.

GUILD SQUELCHES HIS BOOM FOR PRESIDENCY.

I'm Not a Candidate For Any Further Public Office, He Declares in N. Y. Address.

NEW YORK, Thursday.—Gen. Kild's boom for Governor Curtis Guild, Jr., of Massachusetts for president, started recently in a small town not far from Detroit, was effectively squelched by Governor Guild himself tonight at a banquet of the National Shoe and Leather Association when he said:

"That I may not be misunderstood, let me say that I am not a candidate for any further public office. I am simply a business man who for lack of a better, happens at this time to be governor of a New England commonwealth."

Concerning the tariff upon which he was introduced to speak Governor Guild said:

"The tariff should not be treated as a political question, but as a business question. It should not be treated as a local question, but as a national one. 'The test to which every proposed duty should be subjected is not, is such a duty demanded? but is such a duty needed?'"

 The beautiful girl brightened up.
 "I should accept you on the spot. I always had an irresistible fascination for remnants."

MR. JEROME TEARS EVELYN'S STORY TO SHREDS.

NEW YORK, Friday.—A series of surprises brought the Thaw trial near a crisis today. Both Evelyn Thaw, the wife, and Mrs. William Thaw, the mother of the defendant, were on the witness stand and just as the former was about to relate anew the story of her life as she told it to Thaw in Paris in 1903, District Attorney Jerome arose and suggested that in the interests of the public morals all persons save those immediately interested in the case be excluded from the court room during the recital of what he termed 'A horrible tale.' The motion included the representatives of newspapers as well as the public generally.

Contrary to Expectations.
 When Mr. Jerome arose it was generally believed that he was about to combat the admissibility of young Mrs. Thaw's testimony on the ground that it could not have had a very serious effect upon the mind of the man who subsequently became her husband, inasmuch as the homicide did not occur until three years thereafter. Mr. Jerome had previously objected to Mrs. Thaw's detailing conversations she had with Thaw three years prior to the tragedy, and Justice Drayton ruled that the declarations of the defendant were admissible on general principles and without any reference to the Wood case, under which the evidence in this case was admitted last year, and Mr. Jerome had been expected to ask a construction of this year. I will not except to your honor's ruling," said the District Attorney as he took the stand after his objection. "For the state has no power of appeal."

Makes Mince Meat of Her Story.
 When Mr. Jerome stood immediately in front of her and objecting to her testimony every question which Mr. Littleton asked in his preliminary examination as to her early history he cut her recital from the effective narrative form it assumed last year into fragments.
 Many of the objections based on irrelevancy and immorality were sustained by the court. When these failed the testimony was ready with others until the testimony was fairly torn to shreds and had entirely lost the many little touches of interest which were a part of the recital last year. The day, however, was one of good progress for the defense. The elder Mrs. Thaw, pale and weak from her recent illness, was assisted to the witness chair and repeated a large part of the testimony she gave a year ago. Her appearance and the sincerity of her evidence as she told of her son's strange conduct after meeting Evelyn Nesbit and hearing her story, had a marked effect upon all who listened. On account of her weak condition her examination was interrupted by faintness and she resumed some time later when she will tell of Thaw's infamy.

OGDEN DRIVES OUT JAPS

OGDEN, Utah, Wednesday.—With cries of "Hang the Japs," 150 white men, charged on that part of the city where between 500 and 600 Japanese laborers room, and attempted to drive out the Orientals.
 But for the arrival of Chief of Police Brown and all of the available members of the police force, much blood shed would have resulted. As it was, missiles were thrown and a number of men were slightly injured. Several arrests were made.
 Most of the attacked party fled, many of them leaving Ogden on the trains. The whites who led the riots are insistent that all Japanese leave the city and it is believed they are waiting for the present excitement to blow over when they will renew the attack.
 The trouble followed the discharge a week ago of thirty Americans employed in the Southern Pacific ice house and the substitution of Japanese at less pay. The trouble here between the whites and Japanese laborers has been adjusted. The Japanese employed at the ice houses of the Southern Pacific have been sent west and the white men have been employed.

Jackson is the kind of man who is always seeking gratuitous advice. Not long ago he met with a well-known physician at a dinner party.

"Do you know, doctor," he said, as soon as there was a chance, "I know a man who suffers so desperately from neuralgia that at times he can do nothing but howl with pain? What would you do in that case?"

"Well, I should deliberate the medical man, I would howl with pain, too,"—Argonaut.

PREARRANGED.

He pulled out the map and showed her the route of their prospective development.

And where is the place you have marked with a white star? she asked innocently.

"That is Cleveland. There we write home for forgiveness."

"And the red star, George?"

"Niagara Falls. There we write home for money to get back with."

Which shows that he was a far-seeing young man.

The liver is the largest gland in the body; it is to take from the blood the properties which form bile. When the liver is torpid and inflamed it cannot furnish bile to the bowels, causing them to become bound and constive. SERIOUS BLAZE ON WATER STREET SATURDAY

(From Monday's Graphic.)
The two-story frame building on Water street owned and occupied by McKenzie & Co., merchant tailors, was partially destroyed by fire, along with stock about 11.30 Saturday morning.

J. R. McKenzie, head of the firm, and F. M. Murray were sitting chatting in the office when they discovered smoke issuing from the ceiling. On investigation they found that a fire was raging between the ceiling and the floor. An alarm of fire was sent in and the department responded promptly, but not before the fire had made considerable headway.

Three streams of water were soon playing on the building from one of the large hydrants but the fire was a difficult one to get at and at one time it looked very threatening for adjoining buildings but the firemen worked hard and soon had the fire under control.

There was a very heavy pressure on each hose, the water coming from the new reservoir. The engine was on hand but was not needed owing to the heavy pressure.

A large staff of girls were with all work upstairs but got out with all their belongings before there was any danger.

A stream of water was kept playing on the building all Saturday night.

The fire is supposed to have caught from an overheated stove, but there is no certainty for this.

The building and stock was insured for $2,000. Mr. McKenzie saved nearly all his stock, the only loss being the work in hand.

The building was purchased only a short time ago by McKenzie & Co., and over $1,000 had been spent in improvements.

The firm is making arrangements to continue business in other quarters without interruption.

STRING OF FLIGHTS ACROSS RIVER AT CHATHAM

CHATHAM, Monday.
Thos. Harmin of Quebec is in town today.

A. Landry, proprietor of the Riverside Hotel, Moncton, left for that city yesterday after a short visit here.

H. Ferguson, the popular comedian, who has been with the Happy Half Hour for the last week, left for Moncton this morning.

The snail fishermen are doing a pretty good business at present, several large catches having been made during the last two or three days.

Brown's beautiful establishment was very much hampered in its operations to-day owing to the water works being frozen.

James Johnston, the proprietor of the Happy Half Hour this morning received a telegram from L. P. Boulton (the comedian who he had engaged for this week) stating that he was unable to fulfill his contract because he had been summoned by wire to go to Boston immediately. Mr. Johnston is endeavoring to have another artist here tomorrow.

Sunday was one of the coldest days experienced here this winter. The thermometer did not fall as low as it has done, but there was a sharp, strong wind which made one feel the cold more than usual. There were very few people on the streets and those who were out were muffled up to the eyes with wraps. The attendance at the various churches was not up to its usual size.

Chatham is certainly nothing, if not a street of electric lights. There has been a run across the ice-bridge from the residence of Mr. E. Hutchison and connecting with the power station here so that now travellers have a good road across the river after dark.

CHATHAM, Monday.
The St. Michael's C. T. A. S. today placed an order with the Lounsbury Co. for 800 opera chairs, also an order with a New York firm for a complete set of stage furniture, including drop curtain and scenery. Your correspondent learns that this opera house is to open on or about the 17th of March.

Mr. Barr, of St. John, inspector of heating and plumbing of the Touraine Hotel, is in town today.

Play was continued last night in the Snowball-Tweedle curling match.

The two survivors of the losers in the first series, namely, J. McNaughton and R. A. Snowball, played a very close and exciting game, being equal at the close of the 12th end, but McNaughton eventually won out, the score being, McNaughton, 10; Snowball, 5.

The last game of the winners in the first series was played between R. A. Lawlor and Wm. Johnston. Skip Johnston won this in great style, in fact, Johnston has not been beaten once this season.

Score, Johnston, 17; R. A. Lawlor, 7.

Johnston has choice of medals; and skips McNaughton and Lawlor are to play for the second choice of medals.

NEW YORK, Monday. — An exhaustive investigation into the widespread belief that persons connected with financial institutions and public service corporations of this city have been guilty of illegal acts will be made by a committee appointed by the Grand Jury.

The Grand Jury came before Justice Dowling in the Supreme Court today and made a long presentation on the subject and announced that a committee will be appointed to investigate as to any specific crimes that are believed to have been committed and that the committee will make an exhaustive inquiry into the subject.

DECLINES STEAMSHIP SUBSIDY FOR A CAN. SERVICE

OTTAWA, Monday. — The New Zealand Union Steamship Company has declined to sign a contract providing for a continuance of the subsidized steamship service between Canada and Australia carried on by the company for some years past. Since August 1st last the company has been continuing the service without receiving any government subsidy. Whether or not a new arrangement will be made by the government with the company is undecided.

CY YOUNG IS THE OLDEST MAN IN THE BASEBALL GAME

Cy Young, the oldest man in years and point of service who is playing in the fast set, has signed a contract for 1908 with the Boston Americans, which will mark his nineteenth consecutive year as a conspicuous figure in the sport, seventeen of which were spent in the major leagues.

Young has set a record which has never before been matched in baseball. Long after the time a player, particularly a pitcher, ordinarily serves, Young today is one of the most consistent winners in the leagues. He has never met with a really bad season in the nineteen years he has been before the public. In many seasons he has led the league in games won; every year he has been a spot-notcher.

Young is truly the grand old man of baseball. His greatest achievement took place on May 5, 1904, when he shut out the Athletics in one of the very few perfect games played in the history of the game. In the nine innings he did not allow a hit, run or base on balls, and so no errors were made behind him, only 27 times did a Mack batsman step to the plate.

Young is now past the 40 year mark. He comes from Ohio and first attracted attention by his phenomenal work with crossroads teams. Cleveland, then in the National league, engaged him near the close of the season of 1890 and he proved one of the greatest finds on record, for he has stayed in fast company ever since.

When the Robisons obtained control of the St. Louis club, Young, with the other Cleveland stars, was transferred to the Mount City. During the war between the National and its rival, the American league, Young, the Boston American, and has been with the team ever since.

That Tommy Longboat, Tom Coley, Jack Tait, and company will have to do some tall tramping in the English Olympic is certain. An accurate line upon the situation is given in a letter from Fred Appleby of London, England, to Tim O'Rourke received in Toronto.

Appleby is the man who beat the famous Alf. Shrubbs twice in fifteen-mile races, and now holds the world's record for the same distance.

Appleby said that the English runners are already in hard training for the event. He himself ran twenty miles at Xmas time in an even two hours.

"The Marathon will be run in 2 hours and 22 minutes," predicts Mr. Appleby.

If the English amateurs travel the 25 miles in 2.22, even, the long lean Onondaga will have to step some. He did 2.24.2 at Boston, a full 25 miles, but there were two or three pretty long hills and grades. At that 'Mr. Big Canoe' wasn't bothered much by the eighteen-mile mark, where as his Charlie Patch 'good bye'.

Tom O'Rourke, the American promoter of sporting events, is in England with Joe Rogers, the American wrestler, whom he is starring as the champion of this country. It is a pretty raw piece of work, but O'Rourke is getting away with it and seems to be making money showing the 'American champion'.

Rogers is a Dub. Rogers is about as big a dub as could be found, but has the size and looks and O'Rourke is wise enough to keep him away from anyone who might show him up. He has convinced the sportsmen across the water that Rogers is the real thing, and they are making a lion of him, figuring that the champion wrestler of America must be quite a fellow.

The greatest feat in wrestling performed in this country by Rogers consisted of throwing a few amateurs and semi-professionals. He never even wrestled a real class man, and he is as far removed from the wrestling championship of America as the stars are from the moon.

O'Rourke will be remembered as the man who made a fortune out of Geo. Dixon, the colored boxer, and then cast him aside as soon as his earning powers waned. He took Dixon across and while there with a real champion made the acquaintance of men who are now helping him along under the opinion that Rogers is what he represents him as being.

Britons in the Dark. Over in England the sportsman seldom get hold of American papers, and for that reason O'Rourke is able to get away with his four-flush, just as Bill Squires got away with his Aus-

ACTRESS IN SCRAP. Leading Lady of 'Man of the Hour' Company is Arrested.

SEATTLE, Monday. — Miss Ruby Bridges, leading woman of the 'Man of the Hour' company, now playing at the Moore, who in private life is Mrs. John S. Hale, wife of the manager, was arrested on a charge of assault and battery, Monday morning, having been sworn to by Miss Cecil Kern, ingenue in the same organization. Miss Bridges was taken from her hotel to Justice George's court and admitted to bail in the sum of $25. Her case was postponed until the understanding that Miss Bridges would appear before Justice George, plead guilty and pay her fine.

The arrest is the result of an encounter between Miss Bridges and Miss Kern just as the curtain fell after the third act Tuesday night. According to Miss Kern, the assault was entirely unprovoked and was the result of longstanding jealousy on the part of the leading woman. According to Miss Bridges' husband, Manager Hale, Miss Kern has been in the habit of standing in the wings and 'guying' Miss Bridges, with the result that when Miss Bridges had been provoked beyond human endurance she did what you or I or any other man of spirit would have done to another man—just went out and punched her! said one of the company.

Australian championship bluff because nobody of sporting prominence from this country ever happened to see him in action in Australia, so as to know what a dub he was.

Rogers has been matched with Geo. Hackenschmidt, for a contest in London the latter part of this month and London papers are speaking of it as a contest for the championship of England and America. Frank Gotch, the real American champion, is good enough to beat twenty a night as good as Rogers and there are dozens and dozens of men in this country who have it on him in every way.

After Hackenschmidt and Rogers meet the sportsmen of England will have about as high an opinion of American heavy-weight wrestlers as the sportsmen of this country have had of the heavy-weight boxers of England since Jack Palmer fought Jack Sullivan and Gunner Moir fought Tommy Burns.

OMER ROCHETTE IS COMMITTED FOR WIFE MURDER

QUEBEC, Saturday. — Omer Rochette was this afternoon committed for trial at the spring term of the Criminal Court, opening about April 10th, on a charge of poisoning his wife.

The enquete into the charge was continued in the Police Court this morning, when several witnesses were heard, among whom was an uncle of the prisoner, named Poulin, and Madame Fournier of Montreal, who keeps a boarding house in that city and at which place Omer Rochette stopped on several occasions when in Montreal.

Bulk of Crop is Now Being Shipped to Canada.

OTTAWA, Monday. — According to a report sent to the department of Trade and Commerce by S. L. Horsford its new agent in St. Kitts, Jamaica, the bulk of the sugar crop has been sent to Canada. For the first time in history 1,433 tons were sent to Montreal, instead of to Halifax. Canada also bought more than half of the colony's molasses output.

BURGGLARS GET AWAY WITH $200 SWAG BUT ARE QUICKLY ROUNDED UP.

(From Tuesday's Graphic.) George Asprey, belonging to town, and Cornelius Conway, said to have been from Boston, are under arrest here charged with burglarizing the jewelry store of C. F. Clare, Water street, early Sunday morning. Joseph Demolais, belonging to Lancaster, Ont., will likely be apprehended in a few hours charged with the same offense. Asprey has made a full confession implicating the other two.

Found Places Ransacked.

When H. C. Montgomery, an employee of Mr. Clare's visited the store Sunday afternoon he found that the place had been ransacked. On investigation he learned that an entrance had been effected through the window over the door in the rear. The iron bars on the outside of the window had been twisted and broken and the glass smashed. He also learned that about two hundred dollars' worth of stock, a portion of which was repair work, consisting of watches, had been taken. Other articles he discovered stolen were pen knives, revolvers, cartridges, fountain pens and several packages of eyeglasses.

Fortunately all the most valuable articles in the store are placed in the safe each night, and the safe was not tampered with.

Inspector Noble notified. Mr. Montgomery at once notified Mr. Clare who placed the case in the hands of Inspector Noble. Along with Policemen Jones, Mr. Noble started at once to investigate the robbery.

At Gray's restaurant they learned that a chambermaid at that place had found a package of sixteen copper under the pillows of one of two men who had stayed there Saturday night. These men were Conway and Demo. Suspicion at once rested on them.

On inquiry the detectives learned that Demo had purchased a ticket for Montreal early Sunday morning and had left by the Maritime. They also learned that Conway had left for the Tobique. Securing a team early yesterday morning the officers started for Tobique, but not before they had wired Chief Carpenter of Montreal to have Demo arrested.

Find Conway. The officers found Conway at Wm. Ratties', eight miles from here and placed him under arrest. At first he denied all knowledge of the crime. A few knives were found in his possession and a chain, was found in the pocket of another inmate of the house which, it is believed, was placed there by Conway. The officers continued their search with the result that they found a box of knives and watches and chains concealed between two floors in the house and a bag of watches and chains in a barrel, half filled with flour. Conway then admitted that he had got the goods from Demo who had told him, Conway said, that he had broken into Clare's in company with a pal. When pressed to tell who Demo's pal was, Conway admitted that it was Asprey.

The officers then drove back to town where they arrested Asprey. When they visited Duncan & McLennan's foundry where they found Asprey at work shortly before six o'clock last evening and placed him under arrest.

Makes Confession. At the police station he denied all knowledge of the theft, saying that he had left Demo and Conway at 11 o'clock Saturday night and had gone home. The officers had proof, however, that Asprey was seen on the streets at two in the morning. When further pressed by Inspector Noble, Asprey broke down and made a full confession implicating the others. He declared that he was the one who stood on guard.

Inspector Noble took Asprey to Duncan & McLennan's foundry where the prisoner showed him where some of the loot had been hidden. Fountain pens were found among the rafters and revolvers and jewelry under a plank in the floor. None of the other employees of the firm had any knowledge of the hidden loot.

The officers got in all about two-thirds of the stolen stuff. The balance is believed to be in the possession of Demo.

Inspector Noble received word from Chief Carpenter that Demo had left for Lancaster. He will probably be apprehended early this morning.

Asprey is about nineteen years of age, Demo, twenty-three, and Conway about thirty-five or forty. The two last named were employed on the intercolonial railway last summer.

Inspector Noble and Policemen Jones are to be congratulated on the speed with which they rounded up the trio.

BRITISH COLUMBIA LUMBERMEN UP AGAINST IT

VANCOUVER, B. C., Monday. — There are now in stock on the coast two hundred and sixty million feet of logs and lumber, an excess of 14,000,000 feet over the entire output of last year. Lumbermen declare that it will be impossible for them to reduce prices in order to dispose of their stock.

ATTEMPT MADE TO BLOW UP THE WARSHIP KEIL

(Special to the Morning Graphic.) PARIS, Monday. — Reports cable-d from Rio Janeiro, that the Brazilian authorities were warned from Paris of a possible attempt to blow up the American battleship Keil while in the harbor there are true. A small steamer sailed from a North German port and the men who headed up the boxes she carried said they contained explosives. A young man of good family learned in some way of the reported plot and notified the authorities.

JAPANESE WILL DEFEND THEIR GOOD NAME

(Special to the Morning Graphic.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Monday. — So deeply has Japan's pride been touched by continued reference to the undesirability of her subjects in Canada and the United States that the Japanese government will begin a campaign calculated to vindicate them. Systematic efforts will be made to show that Japanese have not been to blame in any of the recent disturbances, that Japanese laborers do not impair the chances of whites in the communities where they live and that racial feeling alone is responsible for the allusions to their undesirability.

This work will begin as soon as Viscount Aoki reaches home. Japan expects to show that the Japanese in Canada and the United States have, for the most part, excellent records; that they do not cut prices and exclude competition, as charged, and that the principal reason for the anti-Japanese sentiment is the excellence of the work done by the Japanese and their efficiency as workers.

THAW TRIED TO GET EVELYN TO COMMIT SUICIDE WITH HIM.

NEW YORK, Monday. — Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw told her story today for the second time. The repetition lacked the vitality of the first recital, but the great crowd in the court room listened intently to every word.

Justice Dowling had ruled that he found no warrant in the law for excluding the public and there was a great clamor for admission.

On the Stand All Day. Mrs. Thaw was on the stand all day and Mr. Jerome announced that his cross-examination would last all day to-morrow. Mrs. Thaw's story was broken into bits by constant objections by the prosecutor, who sought to exclude all details on the grounds of immorality. Mr. Littleton cut down his questions, but Jerome read in last year's record nearly every word the witness then uttered.

Mr. Jerome made no attempt to disguise an air of utter contempt in reading the testimony. Contempt also characterized most of the questions he put to the witness. He attacked her in the loudest tones he has yet used.

Evelyn's Wits Against Jerome's. Mrs. Thaw matched her wits against those of Mr. Jerome and his assistant, Mr. Garven, who was ever at his chief's elbow with new suggestions.

Jerome's pitiless questions often struck her and once when he demanded if the young woman told Thaw certain things she replied bluntly: 'Yes, I told him, but I didn't use the language you are using.'

The only new feature in the evidence was about Thaw's swallowing the contents of a bottle of laudanum at Monte Carlo in 1904 in an attempt to end his life. Previous to this at the Grand Hotel in New York Thaw talked of suicide, his wife declared, and suggested that she also should take poison because both their lives had been ruined. Mrs. Thaw said she humored Thaw at the time and diverted his mind. She was out of the room when he finally took poison in Europe.

Why didn't you tell us about this at the first trial? demanded Mr. Jerome. 'Because Mr. Delmas said it might make Harry out too crazy,' the witness retorted before Jerome could stop her.

TORONTO, Monday. — It was authoritatively stated today that the immediate cause of the liquidation of the Sovereign Bank was the refusal of J. P. Morgan & Co., bankers of New York, who had been financing the institution, to furnish a loan of half a million dollars needed by the bank to tide them over the present difficulties. The amount of the bank's indebtedness to Morgan & Co., is said to be $2,500,000.

For a breach of the companies' act in issuing a circular of the Highland Mary mine without giving full particulars, Frank Leav, the well-known mining broker who is also being tried on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the public, was today fined $200.00 or twenty days in jail.
