Immense Crowds and a Guard of Honor Met Their Excellencies at Grand Trunk Depot.

GOLDEN KEY WAS GIVEN THE EARL

Opening of Institution to Fight Tuberculosis an Impressive One—Brilliant Scene at the Armories This Afternoon.

All nature and circumstances conspired today to make the visit of His Excellency Earl Grey, Lady Grey, Lady Sybil Grey and Lady Aileen Roberts, a most memorable one. Fine weather greeted them on their arrival, and the warm welcome of the citizens generally must have been pleasing to them.

The sanatorium was officially opened by his excellency at noon, and later the "Made-in-London" exhibition was started on its way.

The party arrived in the city at 11:58 over the Grand Trunk.

Accompanying their excellencies were Lady Sybil Grey, Lady Aileen Roberts, Lord Lansdale, aide-de-camp to his excellency, and his secretary.

As the train drew up, the private car Cornwall was stopped nearly opposite the centre of the depot, and Lord Lansdale alighted.

THE PARTY ALIGHT
Hon. Adam Beck met him, and with his Worship Mayor Beattie were introduced to his excellency. After congratulating Mr. Beck on his good fortune in having such fine weather, his excellency and lady alighted.

As they did so, the Seventh Regiment Band struck up "God Save the King."

All heads were bared until the anthem was completed.

His excellency was then introduced to the aldermen, members of the board of education, hospital trust, library board, separate school board, and many other leading citizens.

The guard of honor from the Seventh Regiment, under command of Capt. Campbell Becher, was then inspected by his excellency and his aides.

Col. Hodgins and his staff, consisting of Col. A. J. Smith, Col. Campbell, Major Shannon, Major Kaye, Major McCrimmon and Major L. Leonard, assisted in this work.

THE GUARD OF HONOR
The guard presented a fine appearance. They were smart, soldierly-looking fellows, and acquitted themselves with distinction. Lieut. Ware was second in command, and Lieut. Brown was in charge of the colors.

His Excellency congratulated Capt. Becher on the fine appearance of the men. During the inspection the band played "O Canada," the Canadian National Anthem.

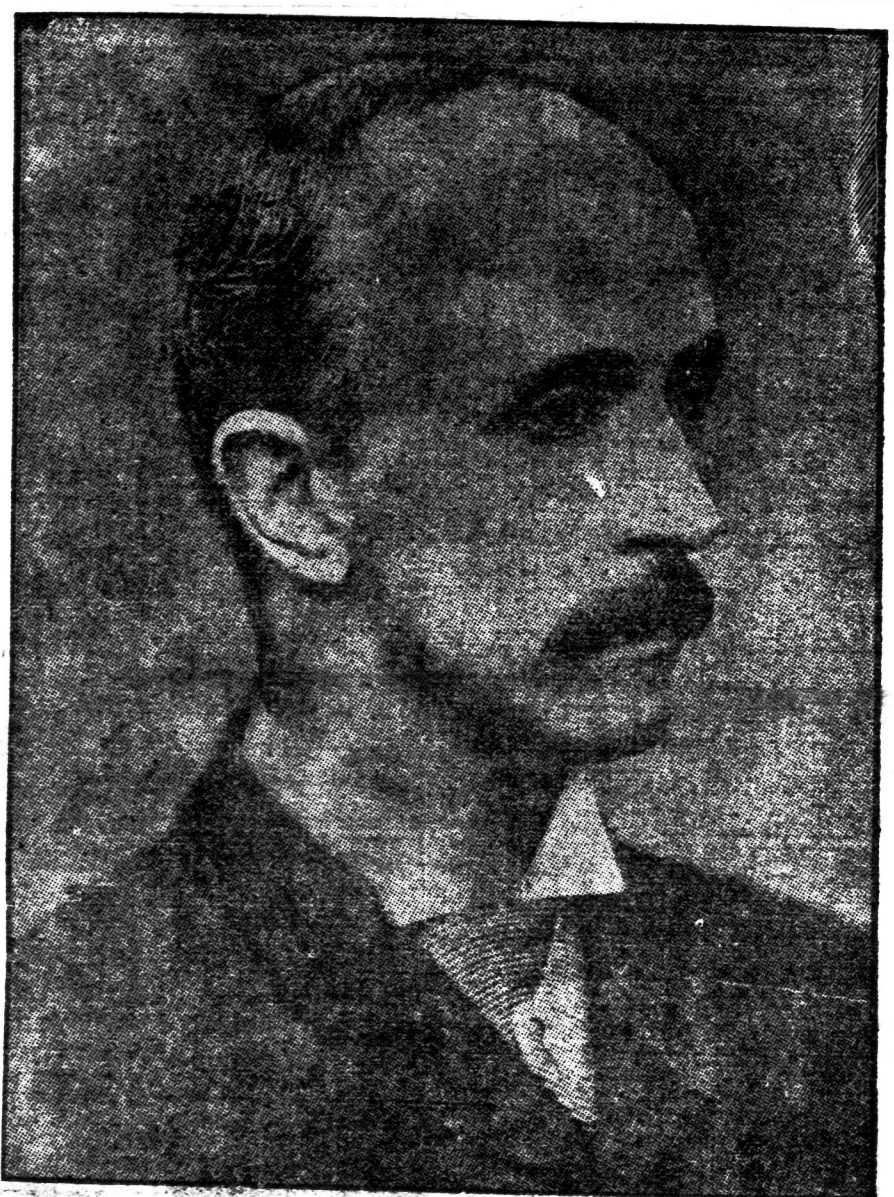

Earl Grey and his party were then escorted to the automobiles in waiting for them.

His Excellency, Hon. Adam Beck, Mrs. P. D. Cresser and Lady Grey were placed in Mr. J. C. Duffield's car, and the distinguished visitors were taken to Byron, where the opening ceremonies took place.

A PLEASANT DRIVE
The drive was extremely pleasant. There was little dust, and the country round about presented a beautiful appearance.

The only incidents of any moment was the fact that some of the autos had difficulty in making the big hill, and as a result some of the city

Halley's Comet Itinerary

In a letter, John S. Plaskett, who is chief observer at the Dominion Observatory, Ottawa, and a graduate of the University of Toronto, says, regarding the comet:

"Halley's Comet is now west of the sun, and may be seen probably with a field glass before sunrise. I have no doubt that in a week or two it should be visible to the naked eye in the east before sunrise, but will probably not be very conspicuous until about May 20, when it will be in the evening sky after sunset."

A WOODSTOCK BOY BITTEN BY A HOUND

Dog Sinks Teeth Into Face of Child Who Tried to Pet It.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Woodstock, April 5.—Little Earl Harrington had his cheek severely bitten by a hound yesterday. The dog belonged to Mr. Chipperfield, and was chained up on his property, and Harrington was playing with his children. The boy went to pet the dog, which jumped and bit his face, leaving nasty wounds. The boy was taken to a doctor who cauterized the wound. No evidence of rabies is shown, but the dog is to be kept for a while before being destroyed. The dog which bit Harry Kipp at Princeton, has been reported from Toronto as the worst case yet examined. Kipp is taking the treatment in Toronto, and has a very badly swollen arm.

ADDRESS TO EARL GREY

When His Excellency Earl Grey was introduced to the gathering in the Armories, Mrs. Lillian Beck, on behalf of the ladies of London, read the address to him. It was beautifully engrossed, and was as follows:

To the Right Honorable Sir Albert Henry George, Earl Grey, Viscount Howick, Baron Grey of Howick, in the County of Northumberland in the United Kingdom, and a Baronet, Knight Grand Cross of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Knight Grand Cross of the Royal Victorian Order, etc., Governor-General and Commander-in-Chief of the Dominion of Canada.

May It Please Your Excellency—
The women of London desire to take advantage of the present opportunity to express to Your Excellency their high appreciation of the self-denying effort that has induced your attendance at the "Made-in-London" Exhibition, and their recognition of the honor conferred in undertaking its opening.

They recognize in this an added evidence to the many already afforded during your occupancy of your exalted position as the representative in Canada of our beloved Sovereign, of your interest in all that pertains to the advancement of our country and the well-being of its people. In the varied interests for the benefit of our community which Your Excellency has striven to foster, none has more generally appealed to the people of this Dominion than those which endeavor to ally or mitigate the ravages of tuberculosis, and to reduce the economic loss that results. We feel that the women of London in aid of the tuberculosis sanatorium, which Your Excellency this day opened under such encouraging auspices, that you are but continuing the same high-minded devotion to the duties of your office which has marked your career in Canada, and we trust that in the many and varied interests, which in your gracious countenance you have striven to stimulate while in Canada, that now inaugurated by the women of London will not be the least pleasing to you from the reflection that those who have assumed the self-imposed duty of ministering to their fellow-citizens in the grasp of this dread disease have fulfilled the high purpose which they started out to discharge.

We desire to acknowledge in this connection the valued aid extended to the exhibition by the manufacturers of London. They have by their general sympathy with our efforts in the cause which we are organized to further, and the magnificent display of the products of their industry, shown a public spirit which entitles them to the warmest thanks. At the same time it will inform Your Excellency of the growing importance of our city as an industrial centre. Fortunately for our project, it also demonstrates the wide and intelligent sympathy which stimulates them in the effort to ameliorate and improve social conditions in our midst.

Our joint participation with Your Excellency in this day's events will lead us long to remember your contribution by your presence, to the success of our efforts, and cause us to watch with interest, if not with personal regard, your future career in the service of the Empire. In the conviction that wherever duty may call you to service, such will be performed with the one aim of advancing the interest of our country and the welfare of its people.

The present visit of Your Excellency brings added pleasure to our citizens because of the presence of the first time in London of Her Excellency the Countess Grey, and the women of London recognize in her visit an evidence of her abiding concern in all that contributes to the welfare of our people, and which our present undertaking is designed to further, and we desire from this motive especially to extend to her a cordial welcome to our city. We sincerely hope and pray that to her as well as to yourself, may be extended length of days to the accomplishment of the many arduous duties which you both so unselfishly assume in the interest of our growing Dominion and of the glorious Empire of which we, as Canadians, are proud to think we form no inconspicuous part.

On behalf of the women of London, (Signed) LILLIAN BECK.

Pretty little golden-haired Ruth Singer, supposed to have been stolen from her father in Toronto, and brought to this city, is causing the authorities at the Children's Aid shelter no small amount of trouble through her determination to escape from the building and go on the stage. The little one is only 10 years old and from what can be gathered has had a very hard life. She is, it is believed, brought to this city by a woman, who is stated was most intemperate habits, and was living on $9 a week the child made singing and dancing in nickel shows. She came to this city from Hamilton, where she was also engaged in singing and dancing until the authorities got in touch with the matter, and then, it is said, the woman brought her to London.

EARL GREY AT THE ARMORIES OPENING A BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Immense Gathering Saw Address Presented to His Excellency—All the Exhibits in Place—Booths Presented Artistic Appearance—Ladies Congratulated.

The Armories presented a scene of unparalleled beauty when the exhibition was opened by His Excellency Earl Grey.

The brilliant uniforms of the soldiers, the variegated hues of the myriad flowers, and the bright costumes of the women, made a scene never to be forgotten.

When the vice-regal party arrived, there was a great cheer of greeting, which lasted for some time.

They were conducted to a raised dais at the western end of the Armories, where an address was read to him.

His Excellency responded briefly in which he congratulated the ladies of London on the great success of the exhibition.

On the conclusion of the formal exercises the party were taken to the booths and stalls, where the Earl sampled many of the good things offered for sale, and spoke words of congratulation to all concerned.

FEARFUL JAM AT THE DEPOT WHEN THE EARL ARRIVED

Crowds Could Scarcely Be Kept in Order by the Police—People Gave the Vice-Regal Party a Truly Hearty Welcome Today.

The Grand Trunk platform was jammed to suffocation, and the squad of police, under command of Sergeant Birch, had a busy time keeping the throng in order. The guard of honor took their turn in keeping the crowd in reasonable bounds.

Flugs were waved enthusiastically everywhere, and it was evident that it was a very loyal and very happy crowd.

There was a fearful jam about the automobiles when their excellencies were being seated, and it was with no little difficulty that the people were kept from crowding the autos.

A Big Crowd.
Along the line of progress the same was true, and it seemed as if the whole city was out to do honor to the Governor-General.

At the Armories there was just as great a jam, and inside it was with difficulty that any progress was made.

It was out so noisy a welcome as many notables have received in London, but it was very sincere and very loyal.

HUGHEY JENNINGS SPEAKS OF LONDON

Says Local Fans Are So Kind to Detroit He Wants to Treat Them Right.

Ex-Mayor Samuel Stevely, who returned from a trip to the Southern States yesterday, met Hughey Jennings, manager of the Detroit team, when the Tigers were in training at San Antonio, Texas, and spoke with the leader of the American League champions regarding the proposed big league game in London this summer.

Jennings told Mr. Stevely that as the London baseball fans are so friendly to the Tigers, he does not wish to bring the team along before the opening of the season, as the men will not be in the best shape.

However, if Detroit has Sunday ball this year, Hughey is willing to bring the team in for a match Monday afternoon.

While in San Antonio, Mr. Stevely also met Mr. George Primrose, the well-known minstrel man, a former Londoner, who is touring the Southern States with his show.

The ex-mayor spent part of Easter with former City Clerk Kingston, at the latter's home in Santa Ana, California.

While at Riverside, Cal., Mr. and Mrs. Stevely were the guests of Mr. George W. Tackaberry, Mrs. Stevely's brother, who is one of the largest individual fruit growers in California.

IMMODERATE DRIVING CHARGE WAS DISMISSED

Robert Quick Appeared in Court But Was Given Benefit of Doubt.

Magistrate Love had a brief session at the police court this morning.

Robert Quick, a young man from the East End, was charged by P. C. Holden with immoderate driving. The officer stated that on Monday evening Quick drove at a furious pace on Dundas street east, and that when he saw the officer he whipped up his horse and drove past before Holden could catch him.

About an hour later he saw Quick, and took his name. Quick denied the charge, and said he was not at the place where the officer saw him.

The description given by him of his horse and buggy corresponded exactly with that given by P. C. Holden, but Quick had a young boy in court with him, whom he said was with him at the time. The court decided to give Quick the benefit of the doubt, and dismissed the charge.

A citizen who allowed his dog to run without a muzzle paid $2.

LONDON, TUESDAY, APRIL 5.

MR. FOSTER'S DEFIANCE.

Mr. Foster has unfalteringly upset the calculations of those who have undertaken to reorganize the Federal Opposition. He says he will not retire from public life "unless the Lord takes him."

He complains that "someone has been getting in his dirty work," and that he was "never even asked for a verification of the story by the author of the fake rumor."

In this case, Mr. Foster cannot accuse his political opponents. They have given him some hard knocks, but the present dagger thrust comes from the hand of his own party. He may read his political obituary notices in most of the Conservative papers of the country. The Ottawa dispatches announcing his retirement evidently came from an inspired source. The Toronto News and Toronto Telegram even proclaimed Mr. Doherty as Mr. Foster's successor in the first-lieutenancy. The News, which is credited with having official relations with the inner council of the party, dwells on the lack of cohesion in the Opposition, and the need of drastic reorganization. The whips, it says, are hopelessly inefficient, adding:

"In the next place, it is a fact that Mr. Borden is surrounded by men who are for the most part merely the remnants of the old and unscrupulous Conservative party. By an unfortunate rule of Parliament, men move forward by seniority, and the ablest man in Canada coming into the House would find himself in the back benches, where his voice would sound but a faint murmur from the woods, and his work in the House would be of little value to his leader. This rule, therefore, has brought to the immediate vicinity of Mr. Borden men who should never have been there."

"This is the real cause of the inefficiency of the Conservative party. Incompetent critics and sort-of heads have attributed it to the incapacity of Mr. Borden, who, his opponents frankly admit, is an ornament to the public life of Canada. What is really wanted is reorganization, a house-leaving of radical proportions, new party whips, and a new fighting-line beside the leader. These details will be announced during the recess."

This is frankly aimed at Mr. Foster and Mr. Monk. Another Conservative journal some time ago commented on the impolicy of the Opposition in keeping its "wounded soldiers" in the firing line. But what if the "wounded soldiers" refuse to go to the rear? Mr. Foster says he will stay where he is unless the Lord takes him. Is this a challenge to Mr. Borden? At any rate, it is a defiance of the influences in his own party which are attempting to oust him. Mr. Borden has probably decided upon reconstruction, but he has not yet publicly shown his hand. Affairs have reached such a crisis that determined action on the part of the leader cannot be longer postponed.

CANADA AND THE GERMAN MARKET.

A valuable brochure dealing with German-Canadian trade and the possibilities of its expansion, now that extreme artificial barriers have been removed, has been compiled by Mr. G. A. H. Mueller, of Montreal, lately an officer in the British army.

The writer points out that the population of Germany is increasing at the rate of a million a year; that her agricultural resources are limited, and that every year she finds it necessary to import more and more from abroad where-with to support her teeming industrial population. With the increase in population, Germany's imports are growing enormously. In 1901 they amounted in value to $1,420,000,000; in 1908—the last year for which figures are available—the total was $1,916,000,000. This means an increase of 34 per cent in eight years. Such a situation cannot fail to appeal to Canadians, especially our great and growing agricultural, fishing and other interests.

A list is given of 42 articles which Germany imports heavily and which Canada can supply. Among these imports in 1905 were:

Horses		$20,000,000
Cattle		19,000,000
Pork		10,000,000
Cattle hides, salted		21,000,000
Cattle hides, dried		14,000,000
Calfskins, salted, dried		17,000,000
Wool		12,000,000
Furs		34,000,000
Eggs		18,500,000
Butter		30,200,000
Lard		21,000,000
Oil cakes		87,000,000
Wheat		12,000,000
Rye		20,000,000
Maize		64,000,000
Barley		25,000,000
Linseed		33,200,000
Bran		33,200,000

Tobacco		$1,000,000
Copper, raw		45,000,000
Coslini		22,000,000
Machines		22,500,000

And here is what Canada supplied Germany in the same year:

Apples, dried		$8,595
Apples, fresh		534
Asbestos		10,055
Cotton		11,439
Boards and leads		3,254
Grain, flour, beans, etc.		213,462
Buckwheat		4,158
Peas		580
Oats		675
Bran		152,821
Flour of all descriptions, bread-stuffs		39,854
Wheat		5,393
Drugs and chemicals		15,916
Pot and by-product		39,738
Fruits, in cans, etc.		6,696
Lobsters in cans		28,477
Silver		3,135
Hayseed		19,859
Salmon, fresh		453,820
Agricultural implements		139,815
Salmon, in barrels		7,727
Oil		12,698
Silver ore		31,330
Tobacco		1,430

Or a total of $1,575,493, as compared with $2,009,557 in 1897-8. If from the former are taken silver ore and tobacco, neither of which was exported in 1897-8, our exports to Germany in the later year were but $1,250,685, having gone behind by the sum of $509,255 in the past twelve years.

Under the new agreement between the two countries there is every reason to look for a better state of things. Canada has the goods that Germany most needs. The greatest increase in German imports during the past decade has been in products and manufactures which Canadians are producing in increased amount, such as wheat, barley, feed, linseed, cattle, agricultural implements, etc. Canada has now the advantage of Germany's minimum tariff, and ought to capture an increasing share of Germany's import trade.

AN OVERGROWN UNIVERSITY.

Dr. B. E. Walker, chairman of the board of governors of Toronto University, follows up a statistical statement of the increase of attendance of students at that institution from 373 in 1882 to 3,978 in 1910, with the observation that building operations, if the increase of students continues, cannot stop for several years to come, and "the serene quiet which characterizes the college grounds of our imagination cannot be attained in perfection during the period of such expansion."

It would be better policy if some of the surplus of students were drained off to the Western University. Toronto University is in danger of becoming overgrown and unwieldy. The student body is already too large to permit of helpful personal contact between the teacher and the pupil, or a proper development of the social side of university life. Centralization has been carried too far, and it is proposed to carry it further. The best interests of Toronto University itself would be served by a division of labor. It has reached a stage where its efficiency may be impaired by expansion.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell is enjoying it hugely.

The Old Man of the Sea refuses to get off Mr. Borden's back.

Mr. Foster hints that he is in the midst of a "nest of traitors." Isn't this poetic justice with a vengeance?

The ladies of London may not always agree in their opinions, but they are always united in the desire and willingness to do something for the city. London owes them another debt of gratitude today.

The Asquith Government has been sustained by 196 majority on the first division of the veto question. Here is one issue upon which all the progressive parties are united. It is ominous for the forces of privilege.

Sir James Whitney will lay the cornerstone for the new chemistry building at Queen's University, for which his Government has granted $100,000. But London's university gets not even a civil word.

It will be the fault of the banks if the new Canadian gold pieces displace a considerable amount of paper currency. A banknote is more convenient to carry than a coin, but many persons will prefer bright coins to dirty bank bills. It is to be hoped the competition will induce banks to retire soiled notes more rapidly than at present.

IRRITATING INTERFERENCE.

The earth was passing through the fall of Halley's comet. "Confound that cur! mother earth, anyway!" growled the comet, hotly: "If she don't stop interfering with my progress, one of these fine centuries I'll give her a good jolt in the equator, even if I have to go out of my way to do it."

TO SUPPLY THE TAXES.

Mrs. Van Roston—I do hope those English Radicals will succeed in taxing the nobility.

Mrs. De Snobberton (coldly)—Indeed? And why, pray?

Mrs. Van Roston (ingeniously)—Why, our daughters will then stand a better show of landing titles, don't you see?

A PLACE FOR EVERYTHING.

Country Storekeeper (with paper)—Here's an article by that there Horace Fletcher which says the Americans are losin' their teeth.

Jason Justough—Serves 'em right! If they keep their mouths shut during the day an' at night place their teeth in a glass of water, like I do, there's be less complainin' us losin' them.

THE KING AS A DIPLOMAT.

There is not a cabinet minister who knows the movements of foreign nations half so intimately as Edward VII. There is not a cabinet minister who knows the desires of the British people half so intelligently as does his majesty. King Edward is beyond all question the wisest foreign minister and the most intelligent home secretary in the world. The King's training as a diplomat was very carefully looked after by Queen Victoria, who saw that his memory was well trained and that he was thoroughly conversant with many foreign languages from the days of his youth. In his boyhood on his instructions, the King was made to repeat to his tutor every night before going to bed the names of the people who had died during the day, and the circumstances under which he had met them.

THE COROLLARY.

Lawyer dosing his temper after trying for an hour to explain a point to a thick-headed witness—Confound it, any fool can understand this. Witness—Yes, but unfortunately he can't make himself clear, can he?

MAKES EVEN THE NEWS TIRED.

There are shouts of "Treason! Treason!" with respect to the Government's tariff arrangement with the United States. The suggestion that the republic has fled from our cloak, with the connivance of our Ottawa masters, and has left us naked in an east wind, is somewhat wearisome. What concessions Canada has made are of no great importance. No industry in Canada will be crippled by reason of the change, and we are free to deal with Great Britain as we choose without unneighborly interference from Washington. The principle that the British preference is a family arrangement has been accepted by the republic. A precedent is established. If in the future an inter-imperial tariff should come, retaliatory action by the United States is out of the question. Best of all, by meeting the president in a businesslike way, and abating in some degree the wooden-headed stiffness of the bonds of amity and good-fellowship between Canada and the republic are strengthened, and mutual respect takes the place of glowings across the frontier.

RATHER SEVERE.

The London Free Press is a paper which does not seem to care what kind of a reputation it makes for itself.

PLAYING WILLIAM TELL.

Harry Locken, of Montreal, let a Cincinnati man try to shoot a cigarette out of his mouth on a bet, and won the bet. Too that the bullet went into his mouth and nearly killed him is merely incidental to his success in the wager. We like to hear of our Canadian boys abroad doing well, but there are better avenues of fame than hitting somebody else play William Tell.

ROBBIE'S INFORMATION.

Gentleman Caller—Robbie, is your sister in? Young Brother—Yes; but she's busy at present. Gentleman Caller—Oh, she's busy, eh? Young Brother—Yes, sir. She's in her room making up.

TOMMY'S LOGIC.

Mother—Just an accident, Tommy, and nobody's business. Tommy—Don't want to. Mother—Oh, well, if you are going to be unkind to your own little sister, she'll put on her wings and fly back again to heaven. Tommy—Then let her put on her wings and fetch her right home.

WAS HE ONE?

Customer—Sambo, that slaying-bench is still. Sambo—Oh, sorry, sir. You know I always prefer money on clearing a bench that is "specially suited to do man's dirty work."

GENEROUS.

Conductor (addressing fares)—This is a bad one, sir. Passenger (coldly)—That is not. Never mind the change, then.

GOOD PRACTICE.

Someone asks: "Are we losing the use of our hands?" Not while our wives continue to wear gowns that look down the back.

A NEEDED PROTECTION.

"What is a mud-gard, pa?" "I believe it is intended for use on an automobile, but it would seem to fit a long-felt want of a candidate for office."

HIS SORROW.

Kind-hearted Matron giving Lin a plate of beans—You were the youngest in a family of ten? No wonder you didn't turn out well. Your mother had not time to look after you. Goodman (fuming)—No, ma'am. I wuz what they call the submerged tenth.

PARTING.

She went her unremembered way, She went and left in me The pangs of all the partings gone And partings yet to be.

She left me marvelling why my soul Was sad that she was glad; At all the sadness in the sweet, The sweetness in the sad.

Still, still I seemed to see her, still Look up with soft replies, And take the berries with her hand, And the love with her lovely eyes.

Nothing begins and nothing ends, That is not paid with moan; For we are born in each other's pain, And perish in our own.

CONFESSION.

"Some dogs has more intelligence than their masters." "To be sure they has. 'I've got one like that myself.'"

THE KING'S HEALTH.

Has Not Been Robust Since Recovery From Operation.

London, April 5.—The London newspapers ordinarily print only the briefest news bulletins about the condition of the King's health. The King is at Biarritz, and has not been well for a fortnight. The newspapers say he is suffering from a bad cold, but the fact is that he has been more than a little out of his wits since his recovery from the operation that nearly proved fatal to him at the date fixed for his coronation. His throat is weak, and any cold causes an inflammation of the throat that frequently produces almost suffocation. The King's physicians have a taste of oxygen handy to relieve the choking attacks that afflict the King often nowadays.

His general health is fairly good for a man of his age, but his physicians never take chances, and when he develops the slightest cold rigidly keep him indoors, as they did for a week at Biarritz. His temper when he is confined to the house is not good, and his entourage suffers accordingly.

CHICAGO IN THROES OF COUNCIL POLLING

Reform Organizations Making Great Effort to Defeat the "Gray Wolves."

[Associated Press.] Chicago, April 5.—The polls opened at 7 a.m. for what was looked upon as one of the most important aldermanic elections in Chicago's history. Keen interest was centred in many of the wards, each of which was to elect a member to the new city council.

Reform organizations put forth efforts to defeat alleged "gray wolves," because the next council probably will have to decide upon several great municipal undertakings. Among these are the regulation of the prices of gas and telephone service, and construction of a passenger subway.

The saloon question was not put before the voters in Chicago the project to have it placed on the ballot, having been knocked out on the ground that the petition did not have enough signatures. More than 200 cities and towns in Illinois, however, were called upon to vote on local option.

WOMAN MEETS DEATH IN A TORONTO FIRE

Rag Picker Overcome by Smoke Before She Had a Chance to Escape.

Toronto, April 5.—Fire broke out in E. Pulan's rag dealing warehouse yesterday afternoon. Many women were at work in the rag-picking room at the time, and Mrs. E. Barker, of 212 Richmond street, was overcome by the smoke, which filled the upper rooms where the women worked. The others escaped down the stairs, and Mrs. Barker was not raised until it was too late to save her. The body was recovered by the firemen and removed to the morgue. The damage may reach $3,000.

VOTE ON VETO DEBATE SHOWS ASQUITH STRONG

Finlay's Amendment That Commons Reform Upper Chamber Lost on the Division.

London, April 4.—At tonight's session of the House of Commons, the amendment to the veto resolution, which was introduced on March 31 by the Right Honorable Sir Robert Finlay, was rejected by a vote of 357 to 254.

The Finlay amendment declared that a strong and efficient second chamber was necessary, and that the Commons is willing to consider proposals for the reform of the present second chamber, but declines to proceed with proposals that would destroy the usefulness of any second chamber, and thus remove the only safeguard against any great changes being made in the Government of the day without the consent and against the wishes of a majority of the electors.

After the Finlay amendment had been rejected, a motion by Premier Asquith to commit the veto resolution was adopted without division.

The vote tonight demonstrated two things, the strength of the Government, and that the Government intends to carry out its programme as laid down.

It was said tonight in regard to the latter that Mr. Asquith's cabinet will agree to retain the final stage of the finance bill in the Commons until the Lords have pronounced on its veto resolution, in spite of Mr. Redmond's ultimatum at Tipperary.

As a prominent Liberal remarked: "The spring recess will give a breathing spell, so it will be June before the Lords give the judgment on the resolutions. It is doubtful if another election would produce a materially different House. The Tories are not expecting to win more than 25 seats, which will not give them a majority, and the Liberals are not anticipating such success in increasing numbers as to make them independent of the Irish vote."

NO GUILLOTINE

Swiss Have Nothing With Which To Carry Out Death Sentence.

Paris, April 5.—The Swiss judicial authorities are in a quandary. Two criminals have been sentenced to death by the cantons of Fribourg and Neuchâtel, but they have no guillotine with which to carry out the verdict.

The federal constitution of 1874 abolished the death penalty, but a few years later it was reintroduced at the instance of the cantons of Fribourg and Neuchâtel. Since then the application of the capital sentence has been left to the discretion of the various cantonal prefects, and a reprieve has always been granted at the last moment.

Now there are two cases of deliberate murder in which there is not the slightest excuse for a reprieve. The difficulty is that there is in Switzerland only one guillotine, and that is in the possession of the Canton of Schaffhausen, which has all along taken a firm stand against the death penalty, and the cantonal authorities are unwilling to lend the instrument for destroying life.

There is much popular excitement over the dilemma. Some advocate borrowing the guillotine from France or Germany; others again hold that it is against the dignity of the republic to ask its neighbors for the means to carry out sentences on its own criminals.

NOT ENOUGH GAS.

Hamilton, April 5.—Owing to the shortage of natural gas in this city last winter the Ontario Pipe Line Company has not yet decided whether any new services will be laid this summer. If the company refused to take any more customers, a great hardship would be inflicted on people building new houses. The question will be decided in a few days. The company thinks that if it built a large reservoir plant in the city for storing gas for extreme cold weather it would be in a position to accept more customers.

MATTER OF ETIQUETTE SAYS THE CARDINAL

Tells Why He Thinks Roosevelt Should Have Observed the Pope's Conditions.

Rome, April 5.—Cardinal Merry del Val, secretary of state, received a representative of the press yesterday for the purpose of granting a special interview on the circumstances surrounding the failure of Col. Roosevelt to meet the Pope.

His eminence began by saying: "This is the present situation. The Holy See here in Rome strive by every means to conduct a campaign of venomous hostility against the Holy Father by lies and slanders. Here at his very door, in this harbor alien priests, moreover they openly sympathize with and aid his enemies. They also advocate and strive to put into effect the principle enunciated by Bove in the foot of the statue of Giordano Bruno, the apostate priest, when he said: 'We have stripped the Pope of his temporal power and we will never rest till we strip him of his spiritual power as well.'"

"When Roosevelt expressed a wish to see the Pope," the cardinal continued, "it was feared that he did not know that the situation was as I have described it. As a consequence he was advised in a friendly way and the hope was expressed that the audience would not be prevented by any incident similar to that which made impossible a meeting between his holiness and Mr. Fairbanks. No condition was imposed but the same procedure was adopted, when audiences with the Pope are arranged."

Cites Audiences of Kings. His eminence presented as example the audiences granted the Emperor of Germany, King Edward of England, and other sovereigns. The cardinal then proceeded: "When audiences are arranged the Vatican authorities naturally suggest beforehand, in a friendly way, the things that are to be done. All this interchange of messages was preliminary and was naturally considered in the Vatican as confidential, not for the Vatican's sake, but for that of Mr. Roosevelt himself, in order that he might be left free and unembarrassed on his arrival in Rome. Actually no application for an audience was made, but Mr. Roosevelt's wish to see the Pope was conveyed to the Vatican. This and other communications it was thought in the Vatican were not intended for publication."

"I saw Mr. O'Loughlin, who presented a letter from Mr. Falconio at Washington, who cabled the same day that it was his desire that I see Mr. O'Loughlin merely in the capacity of one of Mr. Roosevelt's travelling companions. Mr. O'Loughlin told me that he did not represent Mr. Roosevelt, and then I asked what he was here for."

"Mr. O'Loughlin answered: 'To see if we cannot arrange the matter.' He assured me that if the telegrams that I passed were withdrawn Mr. Roosevelt would see the Pope and all the difficulties would be at an end. 'This, it seemed to me, showed that Mr. O'Loughlin was really in a position to arrange matters. Accordingly I replied that it was impossible.'"

"Mr. O'Loughlin's contention was that Mr. Roosevelt was at liberty to go where he liked and to do what he pleased. After the audience, Mr. Roosevelt was at liberty to go where he liked and to do what he pleased. After the audience, Mr. Roosevelt was at liberty to go where he liked and to do what he pleased."

A LIFE'S DEVOTION

BY FRANK H. SHAW.

Author of "A Daughter of the Storm," "First of the Pole," etc. (Copyright in U. S. America. All Rights Reserved.)

She whipped her horse sharply, more sharply than she had intended, and drove forward. Beddington was in an uproar; the streets, usually deserted, were packed to overflowing with a man, running hastily, shouting over his shoulder to an acquaintance that Scroggs was about to address the electors, and with a tingling to the finger tips Marion followed the general tide. Then she reigned in her horse suddenly. There was a roar of mingled applause and derision from a crowd in the market-place. From her position in the high dog-cart the girl could see over the heads of the crowd, and what she saw made her blood pulse hotly. A big laborer had evidently been beating a little child; the girl stood near by crying pitifully, and the laborer was squaring up in a most defiant manner, shouting out to someone to come on. Someone came on, and Marion recognized Ebenezer Scroggs. His frock coat was tightly buttoned up over his chest, but he betrayed no reluctance to accept the invitation. It was all over before Marion could turn her horse round and withdraw from the spot. The laborer had no chance; he was muscle bound, whilst his opponent was in the pink of condition. When two sympathizers led the laborer away, Marion hardly knew whether disgust or pride held paramount place in her mind.

"He seems to love this sort of thing," she said impulsively. "Oh, he must be of the earth, earthy. I'm afraid—"

"You've made a fool of yourself, Scroggs," she heard a clever-faced man exclaim, as he seized Scroggs by the arm, and attempted to pilot him through a by no means friendly crowd. "That man was one of your supporters, and he carries influence, by that, and even votes will tell for you."

Scroggs faced round on his accuser, and seemed about to reply, but second thoughts came to him. He swung about—one of the tallest men there.

"Men," he said and his voice rang clearly, stilling the uproar. "I'm told that I've just licked one of my voters. Well, I'm not going to apologize. I don't want any man who will dog his child with a two-inch belt to vote for me, thanks; and if there's anyone here, of the same opinion as my late antagonist, I don't know that I want his vote either." A loud cheer greeted his words, and through the press broke the discomfited laborer.

"Put it there, mister," he said stoutly, extending a grubby hand. "You've spoke like a man, you have. Blow me, if I'd a dozen votes you should have 'em all. Licked me fair, you did, and I deserve everything I've got."

And then Scroggs looked up and saw Marion. He raised his hat slightly, and turned away, biting his lip. What could she think of him save that he was making a blatant bid for the cheapest kind of popularity?

The sure Lord Greatheart heard of the fracas, and made the most of it. "Your ham and beef friend has been getting back to his beginnings," Marion, he said that evening. "He's doing common to the core." And for once in a while Marion had nothing to say.

But another day came, and another. There was an air of great activity at Greatheart's. Priory. Men and women came and went, snatching hurried meals, and talking vociferously all the time in cracked, unnatural voices. And the one morning Marion Seymour awoke with a feeling of impending events troubling her. It was election day; that night the result of the poll would be declared.

"A man's safe," said her father at breakfast. "We've worked well, although I wish you'd taken part. But it's a foregone conclusion, and it's all over now but the shouting."

That day Marion knew no rest. She went from room to room in a perfect frenzy of excitement; she took up a book and flung it down without reading a word. Her father had gone to Greatheart's, and she had to wait for a word from him. He had driven off immediately after breakfast in a trap gorgeously decorated with the colors of her party; even Lady Scroggs had been spotted a huge rose in the center of her forehead.

"It must be that I want him to win," said the girl to herself. "It isn't at all reasonable; morally, I ought to be praying that he is defeated by an overwhelming majority; but I don't want him to win, I want him to win."

Dinner that night was a simple affair. No one appeared to partake of the meal, and Marion was unable to snatch even a bite. At last, realizing that the prolonged uncertainty would shatter her nervous system, she donned a wrap, and finding by inquiry that not a single horse remained in the stables, set off on foot to the park gates. A motor fumed up and stopped at sight of her. The flaring headlights threw her white-covered head into high relief.

"Lady Marion! You here?" exclaimed Scroggs' voice. "Can I be of any assistance?" He spoke as unconcerned as if no vital issues were at stake. She lifted her face to his, and the last man she expected to see, she said, almost sheepishly. "You ought to be in Beddington, counting the minutes to the declaration."

"I'm going now," he said. "I couldn't stand it any longer. I intended to stay at home until the result was announced, but I'm young to the great game yet, and—let me give you a lift." She had not intended to accept his offer, but something within herself impelled her against her will; she spoke no word, and he was a crisp, clear, and the roads were dry. The car fled along smoothly for a couple of miles until the lights of Beddington showed ahead. A hoarse, roaring sound beat on the air, an ever-growing tumult of excited humanity. Dark figures showed in the darkness, men running headlong.

CHAPTER XI.

The car was compelled to stop; a sea of humanity raged about its forewheels. "Scroggs! Scroggs!" they yelled, and the ugly, grotesque name seemed in their mouths to take on a new meaning. It stood for strength and victory, and Marion, her lips slightly parted and her eyes aglow, felt within her some reflection of the man's greatness. For Ebenezer Scroggs was great indeed; he had won a victory against the practically incalculable odds. He, the parvenu, the tradesman, had triumphed where the custom of centuries had previously held undisputed rule.

"Speech! speech!" yelled the elector, Scroggs stood up in the driving seat and opened his mouth to speak, but in the tumult nothing could be heard. He looked about him helplessly; but he had shown up in a most overwhelming way, and the whole of a battalions could not have made itself heard above the din. Scroggs was thinking hard. He gave a look at his heart he desired, but his honor where he was, but some instinct of nobility within him forbade. To couple her name with his success would embarrass the woman he loved; and love, in Scroggs' mind, the unsifted, of everything unpleasant that loved one. Another rolling burst of sound which ebbed and flowed like the waves on a rocky shore; and then a calm.

"Men, you say we've won, I don't know how. I don't know the majority of the county. The result was too much at stake; but I'll believe your word. What's the majority?"

"One vote," cried a laughing voice; it was Bill Stubbins. He voted straight for Scroggs; Stubbins was the laborer who had been so soundly thrashed.

"Then—three cheers for Stubbins," cried Scroggs hoarsely. "He's won the election for me. He's the man he is. And three cheers for my friends. My friends; this is the proudest moment of my life. That's a backey phrase, but it's true. We've given right and justice a chance to assert itself, and it has done. We've won, it means a lot to me; I'll see that it means a lot to you." He had to stop; they rushed to his side, and he was carried in his shoulder-high to the market cross, and there they put him down.

"We've won," yelled someone vociferously, throwing up his cap. His voice as cool as ever, Scroggs said: "Who's won?" They did not recognize him for the moment.

"Our man," the people's man—Scroggs," they yelled, and without a single word in reply Scroggs pulled the throttle open, and the car shot forward again. He heard a little gasp at his elbow and heard round sharply. "Then you do care," he asked abruptly. "I'd hoped you did."

Marion was speaking unconsciously; it was as if she listened to another person speaking from an infinite distance.

"Yes, I do care," she said defiantly. And when something firm and comfortable passed around her waist she found no cause for complaint.

LIGNITE, NOT COAL

Nature of Recent Mineral Find in Northern Ontario Wilds.

Toronto, April 5.—North Ontario's "coal" is still geological. The samples of the recent finds, forwarded to Sir James Whitney at the Provincial Parliament have been found wanting. It is unquestionably lignite.

Mr. T. W. Gibson, deputy minister of mines, said he had been informed by the department, however, that the lignite fields are much more extensive than was generally supposed. Lignite is a soft but substantial fuel and may be utilized by steam.

The thorough investigation of the fields and the geological possibilities by the Government, as announced by Sir James Whitney and Hon. Mr. Cochrane has not, of course, been completed, and until the reports are in the hands of the minister, the department is not prepared to make any formal announcement.

PINKERTONS AS USHERS

Gleason Says He Intends to Keep Order at the Big Fight.

[Association Press.]

New York, April 4.—There's going to be absolute order at the Jeffries-Johnson championship mill on July 4, and Jack Gleason, who is here perfecting the arrangements, is going to employ Pinkerton detectives as ushers. Gleason says they will wear uniforms and besides seating the spectators will take care of any noisy or unruly element. Gleason has formulated some interesting rules for spectators. No one will be allowed to enter with a weapon of any sort, though Gleason did not say today whether each spectator would be "frisked" to see if he carried a gun.

A plan is being considered to float a captive balloon over the ring, and have the number of each round shown by a big placard that drops down.

STORM IN THE WEST

Winnipeg, April 4.—Heavy thunder and rain all through the west last night. Old-timers say that not for 50 years has there been such a storm so early in the spring. Reports from Saskatchewan say that in Central Saskatchewan there will be almost double the acreage under crop over last year.

WATERWAYS COMMISSION BACKS CONNIE'S BILL

Engineer Coste Says That Canal From Winnipeg to Lake Superior Is Feasible.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, April 4.—That the proposed canal from Lake Superior to Lake Winnipeg, as contemplated in Mr. James Connée's bill, now under consideration by the sub-committee of the Commons railways and canals committee, is feasible from an engineering standpoint, that it would provide for the development of about one million horsepower in the district served, and that it must sooner or later be necessary in Canada is to preserve the grain as to the cost of this country was in carrying trade of this country in carrying substance the evidence given before the sub-committee by Mr. Louis Coste, of the Canadian section of the International Waterways Commission. Mr. Coste, speaking as an engineer, said that it would be possible to construct the canal along the proposed route from Lake Superior to Lake Winnipeg, with a depth of 7 to 9 feet, and a width of 40 feet. He did not think there would be any difficulty in creating adequate storage basins to carry the canal over the Height of Land 50 miles from Lake Superior. Estimates as to the total cost were, he said, of course, only vaguely approximate as yet, but he did not think the whole canal would cost over twenty millions. He believed that ultimately the grain-carrying trade of the west would demand the construction of the canal right through to Edmonton. He thought the waterways commission should be safely trusted to protect the interests of the public in regard to navigation and power rights.

Shore's Stalls Matter Goes to No. 3
Committee—Big Batch of Communications.

The board of works may resurface
Dundas and Richmond street pave-

At the meeting of the council last

ter up, and suggested that No. 2 committee look into this.

In the report of the committee it was recommended that tenders be called for the asphaltum and lay the surface ourselves," said Ald. Stevenson. "It is high time we took some action along this line. Other cities do and find it profitable. We might as well purchase the Harber asphaltum, and make this a success. I am satisfied that we can save from 80 cents to $1 a yard. I move that the clause be sent back for No. 2 to investigate.

Ald. Rose seconded the motion.
We will be glad to have Ald. Stevenson's advice any time at the committee meeting," said Ald. Tancock.

"You have never looked into this,"

Butchers' Stalls.
The clause of the report of No. 3 committee increasing the rental of the butchers' stalls in the Covent Garden market house, was sent back to No. 3 committee for further consideration.

A number of applications for engineer were sent to the board of works.

Those present were Mayor Beattie, Ald. Richter, Eckert, Underwood, Ash-
plant, Fitzgerald, Rose, Saunders, Morgan, Pocock, Tancock, Jeffries and Stevenson, City Clerk Baker.

BUTCHERS' STALLS RENT WERE REFERRED BACK

Council Last Night Made No Change in Schedule—Repairs to Building.

The rents for the stalls in the Covent Garden market-house were not raised at the meeting of the city council last night.

When the recommendation of the committee was read, several aldermen moved that the clause be sent back to the committee.

There was no debate, and the clause went back on practically a unanimous vote.

A large representation of the butchers in the market-house attended the meeting.

City Engineer Graydon reported that it would cost $320 to roof the market with certain material and $700 with a cheaper kind.

He also reported that it would cost $425 to place two walks on the market running east and west, or both north and south.

The committee will consider the whole proposition at the next meeting.

SUFFRAGETTE HIDES IN HOT AIR SHAFT

Caught Before Could Create Scene in British Commons.

London, April 4.—The militant suffragettes have grown weary of the truce proclaimed by their organization
some time ago.

As a result they decided several days ago to make another attempt to stir up the Commons, and on Saturday one of their number, who entered the House with other spectators, slipped away unnoticed, and hid in a hot air shaft.

Here she was discovered
today after a weary vigil, but for the fact that she became tortured with thirst to such an extent that she was compelled to leave her hiding place last night in search of a drink of water.

She found a tap, drank hastily, and hurried back to her place of concealment. Unfortunately she did not shut off the water entirely, and a passing policeman noticed the steam trickling out. He hunted about and found the suffragette, who was conducted from the House.

This happened but a short time before the heat was turned on, otherwise the woman might have been suffocated.

GROVELLED TO ANDY

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., April 5.—The New York Methodist Episcopal conference closed its session here with an address by Chancellor James R.
Day, of Syracuse University, and the announcement of the appointments of the 300 members.

In his address, Chancellor Day denounced the colleges and institutions founded by religious people that grovelled in the dust before the Carnegie Foundation and those back of it in order to obtain pensions. He declared the foundation of Syracuse University was as broad as possible, and did not require the members of its faculty to be members of the Methodist Church, but it would give up its religious connection or its loyalty to the church that founded it,
for any system of pensions whatever.

"There are not enough millionaires
in Wall street," said the chancellor, to make us do it."

The speaker made no reference to the Roosevelt-Vatican incident.

LAW ON THE QUESTION

Ald. Richter's Point Is Upheld by the City Solicitor—Two Test Cases
Last Night.

The city hall will not be granted for any purpose henceforth unless the usual rental of $10 is paid.

At the meeting of the council last night the opinion of City Solicitor Meredith was received on the subject, and he declared that the council had no right to grant any gratuity except as outlined by the municipal act;
that the aldermen were trustees, and were personally liable for any corporation funds misapplied, and that the aldermen may be sued for the amount of money due. The attorney-general could restrain the council from making any rebate if appealed to by the public.

Straight to the Point.
"This means that we cannot give the hall for any purpose, except on the payment of the usual rental," said Ald.
Richter. "It says nothing of charity.
It further states that the mayor shall rule out of order any applications for the free use of the city hall."

The rule was tested in a short time, when the request of St. John's Ambulance Association for the free use of the east end hall, came up.

Ald. Richter asked the ruling of the chair, and his worship ruled it out.

Then followed the request of St.
George's Society for the free use of the city hall on April 25, to hold a concert in aid of the sanatorium.

Ald. Richter again asked the chair to rule this request out of order.

Mayor Finds a Way.
Mayor Beattie read the municipal act himself, then, and ruled that in cases of charitable institutions the council might, by passing a bylaw, grant the free use of the hall.

"The only way I can see is that the society shall pay the usual fee, and then if they want a rebate apply to the inspector of relief and the mayor
in the usual way, and obtain it," said
Ald. Richter.

"I rule that a resolution of the council is not sufficient to grant the hall to St. George's Society," ruled his worship. "A bylaw will accomplish the purpose."

Bylaw Not Introduced.
Ald. Richter declared it would conflict with the present bylaw governing this question, but his worship declared that such would not be the case.

Ald. Eckert then moved that a by-law be introduced, allowing the society the free use of the city hall.

This was defeated, however, on the following vote:

YEAS—Ald. Eckert, Underwood, Rose, Saunders and Morgan.

NAYS—Ald. Richter, Ashplant, Jeffries, Fitzgerald, Pocock and Tan-cock.

$1,500 SET ASIDE FOR RECEPTIONS

Not Likely That Publicity Agent
Will Be Employed by the City This Year.

AMEND BUILDING BYLAW

Ald. Pocock Brings Up the Matter—City's Liability in Regard to Grade of Walks.

The manufacturers and reception committee will have $1,500 to expend this year. In the report of the committee, the sum of $2,000 was asked for.

Ald. Richter pointed out that, according to the municipal act, the committee could expend but $1,000 for reception purposes, and $500 for industrial purposes. Hence it was out of the question to give $2,000.

A delegation from the board of trade and Real Estate Owners' Association entered the council chamber, and made a request for a liberal grant.

Publicity Agent.
Mr. A. T. McMahon spoke in favor of a publicity agent, and urged that some means be found to make the grant $2,000 or more.

Ald. Richter asked him if the board of trade would supplement that amount, but Mr. McMahon did not think that could be done other than by private subscription.

Col. Cartwright declared that the Real Estate Owners were in hearty accord with the proposition. Their secretary was willing to give six months of his time for nothing, provided a reasonable amount was given for expenses.

Col. Cartwright declared that in municipal business, as in ordinary business, it was necessary to go after it.
The municipality that was succeeding was the municipality that was going after business. The city should provide some person in authority to seek industries.

City Must Wake Up.
"If the city does not soon wake up,
it will be left behind in the race," he declared.

Mr. Arthur W. White spoke briefly on the possibilities of the city, and declared that this was Canada's growing time, and unless London got into the race, it would be distanced.

Ex-Ald. W. Scarlett also spoke briefly.

It was then decided to place $1,500
in the estimates for the manufacturers' committee.

This makes it practically certain that no publicity agent will be employed, as it will be impossible to meet the expenses of the office on that sum of money.

Building Bylaws.
Ald. Pocock brought up the question of amending the building bylaws. His intention was not to tear the bylaw to pieces, but to make more certain of enforcement. There were many changes that could be made, and he moved that No. 2 committee and the board of works take up the matter.

"This has nothing to do with the size of cement blocks?" asked Ald.
Richter.

Ald. Pocock answered in the negative, and the motion carried.

On motion of Ald. Stevenson, City Engineer Graydon will be asked to report on the condition of all cement sidewalks, on which the guarantee expires this year.

Joint Municipal Buildings.
Mayor Beattie was given power to appoint a committee to confer with the council regarding a new joint building.

In the report of No. 2 committee it was stated that there was a stores account already, as recommended by the inquiry committee.

"We went through the engineer's department, and we could find no such account," said Ald. Richter. "I think a proper account of all goods received and sent out should be kept. We have not that now."

"City Engineer Graydon will keep such an account," said Ald. Tancock.

Sidewalk Grades.
City Solicitor Meredith will be asked to give his opinion on the liability of the city for grades over sidewalks into business houses.

Ald. Stevenson opposed the motion, and moved that it be sent back. His motion was defeated on the following division:

YEAS—Ald. Richter, Underwood, Ash-plant, Fitzgerald, Morgan, Pocock and Tancock.

NAYS—Ald. Stevenson, Eckert, Jeffries, Rose and Saunders.

Y. M. C. A. Grant.
The Y. M. C. A. asked for an increased grant this year. Messrs. W.
Turnbull, Charles T. Glass, C. M. Manning, Secretary Wilson and others appeared before the council, and made a plea for the increase. Mr. W. Turnbull declared that they paid $450 in taxes to the city, and in addition $80 license fee. As the institution was non-de-nominal, and doing such good work, a grant of $500 was not too much to expect.

Mr. Wilson dealt with the work the Y. M. C. A. was doing, and pointed out that in many other cities the as-

GREY STREET CROSSING IS DECLARED DANGEROUS

Railway Commission So Notices
the City in Regard to the Pere Marquette.

The Grey street crossing of the London and Port Stanley Railway, operated by the Pere Marquette Railway, has been declared dangerous, and the Dominion railway commission will consider it when sitting in London shortly.

At the city council last night a communication was read from Mr. A. J.
Nixon, chief of the operating department of the commission, inclosing a report of Mr. J. Clarke, one of their inspectors, on the crossing, and conveying the information that the commission would deal with that matter
when they came to London.

Mr. Clarke in his report states that he was notified of the accident to Mr.
Thomas Parker on Jan. 27, when he was struck by a Michigan Central train. He investigated the circumstances, and found the view is badly obstructed by reason of the buildings, and the numerous cars usually found on the siding. He mentioned the fact that 125 trains, including switching operations, pass this crossing in 24 hours, making it a dangerous one.

He recommends that gates be installed to be operated from 7 a.m. until 8:30 p.m.

The London and Port Stanley board will deal with this communication prior to the visit of the commissioners.

HUSTON ON TRIAL.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 4.—Joseph M.
Huston, of Philadelphia, architect of the state capital, was placed on trial
today on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the state through his cer-tification of an alleged false bill for desks for the capital.

Huston was architect for the capital building commission, and for the board of public grounds and buildings, and it is charged that while serving as the latter that he certified to bills for furniture and equipment which were padded and fraudulent; that by reason of his alleged certification of such bills, large sums of money were illegally secured by John H. Sanderson, of Philadelphia, furniture contractor, now dead, with the connivance of former state officials.

SENTENCED TO DIE.

Washington, April 4.—The supreme court of the United States today affirmed the decree of the federal court of Hawaii, sentencing John Wynne to be hanged on a charge of having murdered Archibald McKinnon.

Mason Had Salt Rheum

ON HANDS FOR YEARS—COM-PLETELY CURED FIVE YEARS AGO BY

Dr. Chase's Ointment

There is nothing worse for eczema and salt rheum than cold water. For this reason many people are afflicted in cold weather only.

No class of men suffer more from such ailments than bricklayers and stone masons, and this fact makes the accompanying letter particularly interesting.

Mr. John W. Naas, stone mason, of Lunenburg, N. S., writes: "I was a great sufferer from eczema and salt rheum for years and could get nothing which seemed to be of any real benefit. Five years ago I got a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and three boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills and this treatment cured me so that the old trouble never returned. My skin became as soft and smooth as a child's after using Dr. Chase's Ointment, and I shall always say a good word for it."

Very many people suffer from skin affections in the cold weather, and try one thing after another without obtaining the marked and lasting benefit which comes with the use of Dr.
Chase's Ointment.

Chilblains and frost bites are quickly relieved and cured by the wonderfully soothing, healing influence of this Ointment. Chapped and irritated skin becomes soft and smooth. Each and every form of itching skin disease is thoroughly cured.

TOMMY BURNS.

San Francisco, Cal., April 4.—The foregoing telegram received by the writer from Tommy Burns explains the offer made to Burns by the local promoter, Sam Hester, in connection with a fight with Sam Langford in this neighborhood on Sept. 5.

Burns evidently thinks well of the scheme and is eager to close the deal without delay. The promoter, it is to be presumed, is just as anxious to clinch the match. Otherwise he would not have placed himself in communication with Burns who is at the other end of the world, and would not have made such a handsome offer.

About Matches. It is said that a match well made is a match half won, and on the same plan a match half made is no match at all. Manager Woodman who wrote the letter to Burns from Los Angeles, is a man of business, and it is not surprising that he is so anxious to clinch the match.

Headache, Throbbing
Fullness Over Eyes

IF YOU HAVE DIZZINESS, RINGING
IN THE EARS, AND RUSH OF BLOOD TO THE HEAD,
READ THIS.

"I think I ought to relate particulars of my ill-health. I am sure there are many women like myself, who have sensations and feelings that they actually undergo to extreme ill-health. These morbid feelings, I am sure, are simply the outcome of nerve debility, and lassitude. I realized how dreadful it is never to feel the joy of vigor and endurance. I actually counted the steps I would have to take to go to the bathroom. That is how I was for nearly two long years. The sense of dizziness and fullness, of ringing, roaring or buzzing in the ears, made me weary and nervous. Sometimes it would be constriction across the forehead—a dull, heavy weight, numb or tingling feelings pressing into my head. I was on the way to worse troubles. It was Ferrozine that gave me proof that all these sensations were the outcome of functional disturbances, and not organic disease. Ferrozine built up my nerves and lent my heart vigor, and gave my circulation natural strength. I was no longer bothered with flushes or cold, effeminate feelings. Ferrozine had renewed my blood. Ferrozine ought to be called nerve tonic. It fattens the nerves, makes them strong, and replenishes, so certain and quick in its strengthening, blood-building influence as Ferrozine, I urge everyone in poor health to use it. Just one or two tablets at meal time.

Don't put it off. The sooner you use Ferrozine the quicker your health will return. Fifty cents per box, six for $2.50. All dealers, or The Ferrozine Company, Kingston, Canada.

WILL BE NO CANADIAN LEAGUE THIS YEAR

Doo Sheppard Announces That Suitable Grounds Cannot Be Secured
in Toronto.

[G. N. W. Service.] Hamilton, April 4.—The local promoters of the Inter-City Baseball League, which was to have comprised teams from Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford and Niagara Falls, received a letter today from "Doc" Sheppard, stating that it would be impossible to secure Diamond Park for the Toronto grounds, as there was a clause in the purchase agreement against any baseball game there without the consent of the Toronto baseball club. In view of this, and the impossibility of securing other grounds in the Queen City, the proposed league will likely pass into the realm of dreams for this year, at least.

Could Not Sleep.

DOCTOR SAID HEART AND NERVES WERE RESPONSIBLE.

There is many a man and woman tossing night after night upon a sleepless bed.

Their eyes do not close in the sweet and refreshing repose that comes to those whose heart and nerves are right. Some constitutional disturbance, worry or disease has so debilitated and irritated the nervous system, that it cannot be quieted and causes nightmare, bad dreams, starting in the sleep, twitching of the muscles, restlessness, etc.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are a specific for all people troubled in this way. They have a soothing and calming effect on the nervous system.

Mrs. Calvin Stark, Rossmore, Ont., writes:—"About two years ago I began to be troubled with a smothering sensation at night when I would lie down. I got so bad I could not sleep in the dark, and would have to sit up and rub my limbs, they would become so numb. My doctor said my heart and nerves were responsible. I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised and got a box to try them. I took three boxes and can now lie down and sleep without the light burning and can rest well. I can recommend them highly to all nervous and run down women."

Price, 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

DRYS CARRY 18 COUNTIES OF THE 34 VOTING IN MICHIGAN

But Wets Have Best of Argument as Only 272 Saloons of 1,161 in the Balance Were Voted Out of Existence.

Detroit, April 5.—Thirty-four counties in Michigan voted Monday on the local option proposition. In eighteen of these the drys won. In thirteen the wets won. From the other three no returns had been received at midnight, but all three are very small counties.

These figures would indicate that the drys had the better of the argument, but figuring on the number of saloons which will be put out of business as a result of the day's balloting, and the drys were very badly beaten.

BREAKERS AHEAD FOR MR. BORDEN

Foster and Monk Not Taking That Retirement as Calmly as Was Expected.

Ottawa, April 4.—Mr. Borden is evidently going to run up against a few snags in his spring ploughing and harrowing of his party. This, however, was probably not unexpected when he set his hand to the plough. Saturday's announcement of his intention to more firmly assert his leadership and effect a party reorganization in which some of the present sub-leaders would have to give way to new and more promising men, has been the chief subject of discussion in the parliamentary corridors today. For the most part comment has been in the nature of a commendation of the Opposition leader's attitude.

"This is what he should have decided on long ago," most of the members say. There are, however, a considerable number of recalcitrants. In the first place, Mr. Foster, with returning health, does not seem disposed to quietly retire into comparative oblivion. In a statement issued today, Mr. Foster declared that he intended to resume his place in the House next week, and did not intend to give up political life "less the Lord takes me." In reference to the report of his intended retirement, Mr. Foster is quoted as saying: "Someone has been getting in his dirty work." He makes the point that as long as he represents a constituency in Parliament, only his own electors can demand his retirement. At the same time, however, he says he has no objection to his resignation being made public. But, although he will come back to the House and resume his parliamentary duties in a few days, it is certain that he will no longer be regarded as deputy leader after Mr. Borden. Mr. Foster himself says: "I am getting better, but I have been advised to keep quiet. I propose to do so for some months. I have not the least intention, however, of giving up public life." Between the lines of this much may be inferred.

As to the forecasted retirement of Mr. Monk, there is also some objection raised by his fellow-Conservatives in Quebec, who followed his lead on the naval policy in opposition to Mr. Borden. The latter's decision to replace Mr. Monk by Mr. Doherty or possibly by Mr. T. Chace, is being M.P., of Montreal, will not be carried out without a family squabble.

The whole situation presents some decidedly interesting features, and from the Liberal standpoint it is edifying and entertaining.

QUEBEC LIBEL CASE

Court Dismisses Action in Boudreau v. Van Felson Suit.

Quebec, April 4.—Mr. Justice Lemieux, who presided over the libel suit of Boudreau v. Van Felson, which was heard in a verdict for the defendant, this morning rendered judgment respecting the costs involved in the case, amounting to fully $4,000. His Lordship said that considering the verdict of the jury had been rendered in favor of the defendant (Van Felson), the court had no other alternative than to confirm it, dismissing the action, but each party paying its own costs.

The special cause for which the court orders the division of the costs in the present case, stated Judge Lemieux, is that the action is the result of an irregular and fraudulent transaction, to which the defendant, manager of a bank, admits having been a party, almost willingly, in order to repudiate it, and having dismissed Boudreau, a public employee, who proposed it to him. In other words, the process is the result of the common turpitude of the defendant, with those who accused him, and it is the duty of these tribunals to punish those who practice or encourage blackmail, and bargains such as those in which Van Felson had been named, the names of the plaintiff and Mr. Holliday.

BOTTLE HOLDS STORY OF LAKE TRAGEDY

St. Catharines, Ont., April 5.—A bottle containing a message picked up by Andrew Gregory, a farmer, living on the lake shore, may be a voice from the dead. The bottle, an ordinary pop bottle, is now in the hands of the city police, and the message glued fast inside of it can be read through the glass, all except the bottom corner, which is turned up. "Stewart and Rumball, gasoline gave out, no gasoline, about 23 miles from Jordan Harbor; have no way of getting in. Been on the water three days."

NO FISH PIRATES

At Least This Is What a Toronto Paper Says.

The provincial department has received no report or complaint of the alleged operations of "fish pirates" on the Thames River near Bothwell and Cashmere. Mr. Edwin Tinsley, the provincial superintendent told the Toronto Globe he was not prepared to credit the tales published to the effect. "The farmers all along the banks have the right under licenses to fish for domestic purposes," he said. "Licenses issue for dip nets to supply local demands for coarse fish. No seines are allowed, nor, I am satisfied from our reports, are they being used." Mr. Tinsley pointed out that the strong position taken by anglers against fishing in the river was frequently the result of reports without foundation in fact to the effect that "fish pirates" were abroad.

WHILE PRICES SOAR WHY NOT THE RATES

Railway Officials Expect Early Advance in Both Freight and Passenger Tariffs.

Local railroad officials state that they are looking for Canadian railroads to follow the example of the American roads and raise both freight and passenger rates. The reason for this, they say, is the repeated demands from the men for higher wages. "We have got to get the money from some place," one official stated to The Advertiser today. "Men everywhere are demanding higher wages, and if the great majority of cases are getting them. The railroads have to be maintained, and if everybody else raises prices we must, too. The president of the New York Central recently suggested that they raise their passenger rates to 5 cents per mile, and freight rates correspondingly. This is an enormous jump as the present rate in the States is 2 cents per mile." "It certainly looks reasonable," said a C. P. R. official when questioned regarding the matter. "Increases are being granted everywhere. If the merchants raise the prices of things so that people cannot buy them, and the railroads would be justified in raising the prices, too. They have to pay the men. The question is, though, where is all the money to go? It must come from some source. Someone is getting all the money."

CARNEGIE TELLS HOW TO CHOOSE A WIFE

Pick Out the Girl Who Is Good to Her Mother Says Steel King.

[Associated Press.] Pittsburgh, April 5.—Neither Mr. or Mrs. Andrew Carnegie have much sympathy with the cause of women's suffrage.

"Pick for your wife the girl who takes care of her mother—the girl who is useful in the household and does not make the most show in the ballroom," Carnegie said in a letter to the young men at his technical school. "The highest work for woman is to help and encourage man. The Marjorie Morrison schools to more good than all the fight for woman suffrage," said the great industrialist. "The girls' department of the technical schools. The steel master also gave the boys this programmatic counsel: 'Women raises man to the highest standard. My mother and wife made me all I am.' All depends upon the proper mating of an man and woman. The ambition to become a millionaire is low. 'To be of service to your fellowman is the greatest ideal. The greatest advantage is the most valued heritage. 'Don't let money be your god. I don't expect to fly until natural wings sprout from my shoulders. Let me develop the body as well as the mind.'"

SAFE AT DOCK

Wisashikon Brought From Lake Huron to Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., April 4.—The wrecked Anchor Line freighter Wisashikon was brought down from Lake Huron on Saturday, and now lies tied up at the dock here, where she will remain until divers make an examination to ascertain the extent of her injuries. Pumps are required to keep the Wisashikon afloat.

The steamer H. C. Hall brought in the first cargo of the season here today. She carried 315,000 feet of lumber down from Alpena.

The largest cargo ever unloaded in Detroit is now being taken out of the steamer Wisashikon. She carries 175,000 bushels of wheat, which the Wallace carried in her hold all winter owing to lack of elevator facilities, is being turned over to milling companies today.

BIG INDUSTRY BURNED

Large Shoe Factory in Nova Scotia Town Wiped Out.

Yarmouth, N. S., April 4.—Only the shell of the Higgins shoe factory, one of the leading industries of Yarmouth, is left standing tonight, the contents having been destroyed by fire, which started at 8 o'clock in the afternoon and was not got under control until four hours later. The large number of employees were panic-stricken, but all managed to find the way to the lower story and escaped through the windows to the street except two men, who were surrounded by flames in the fourth story, but finally escaped with a few burns by means of ladders. The insurance is about $25,000. The fire started by the upsetting of a can of gasoline, which came in contact with a burning oil stove on the same table.

EAST LONDON EAST END FIRE ENGINE MATTER REFERRED BACK

Council Decides to Still Further Investigate the Advisability of the Move.

The request for a fire engine in the east end will be reconsidered by No. 3 committee, and a recommendation brought in. At the council meeting last night the question was brought up in No. 3, and Ald. Richter immediately asked what was the opinion of the committee, after looking into the facts. Ald. Ashplant declared that they were not yet satisfied of the necessity of an engine there. What was wanted was larger mains and more water. He counselled delay until the new water system had been thoroughly tried out. Refer It Back. "I thought so," said Ald. Richter. "I move that we send the recommendation of the committee back, and if the committee, on full investigation, consider the engine a necessity let them so report, and place the money in the estimates in the usual way."

Ald. Rose and Ald. Morgan came out fire-footed for an engine, and Ald. Saunders declared that an engine and larger mains were a necessity, no matter how much water they had. Ald. Jeffries delayed until such a time as the mains were put down, and then they could go after an engine. Ald. Pocock was against the engine until larger mains were laid.

THE RUBBER CRAZE

Biggest Crop of Suckers That Old London Has Ever Known.

London, April 3.—England's craze to buy stock in rubber companies continues unabated. The shares of any and every company are over-subscribed for. Such a crop of suckers has never been garnered since the halcyon days of the flotation of the Kaffir mines. On Friday one bank was compelled to station two policemen at its doors to prevent the mob of subscribers to a new rubber company from overtaxing the premises. One man jestingly observed that any Englishman with a dozen old rubber bands seems able to start a new rubber company. Since the first of the year promoters have been revelling in the flotation of new companies. During the past three months the public have been offered shares in rubber and guinevere to the aggregate amount of hundreds of millions of pounds sterling. Thirty million dollars have been subscribed for shares in new rubber companies in the past three months. Of £71,000,000 subscribed for shares in new companies since the first of the year £42,000,000 have gone to foreign countries and £29,000,000 to British possessions. John Bull seems to be eager to open wide his purse strings, kept tight since the Boer war.

TAXI-DRIVERS' STRIKE.

Chicago, April 5.—Two hundred drivers of taxicabs struck last night just before theatre time. Horse cabs were hurried from stables where it was supposed they had been forever abandoned, and soon the downtown quarter was filled with old vehicles.

It was announced last night that 300 day chauffeurs would quit work today.

The strike was called because of the refusal of the employers to recognize the union. The men merely asked for a continuance of last year's scale.

CANNING THE GOAT COMMONS CONSIDERS

Traffic Legalized in Order to Prevent Importing of Goat Flesh.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, Ont., April 5.—The House of Commons this morning took up consideration of Hon. Mr. Fisher's bill, making some slight changes in the meat and canned foods act. Mr. Henderson raised the question of packing and canning of goats, and asked whether Parliament should legalize such a traffic. Hon. Mr. Fisher replied that there was not much goat meat consumed in Canada, but it was necessary to include it in the act owing to the possibility of goat flesh being imported. Dr. Reid thought the minister of agriculture should take steps to protect the health of the Canadian consumer and prevent the sale in this country of unsound meats. Mr. Fisher reminded Dr. Reid that the regulation of sale of meats for domestic use belonged to municipalities and provinces. His department had control solely of the export trade. Dr. Reid insisted that the minister of agriculture should be more careful of the public health, and suggested the appointment of more officials to prevent the sale of meats unfit for consumption.

GETS BERESFORD ESTATE

Negro Woman Made Rich Through Compromise of Mexican Claim.

Galveston, Texas, April 5.—Following the sale of part of the estate of the late Lord Delaval Beresford comes the report that the negro woman who sold said estate has received $500,000 and about 100,000 acres of land in Durango in a settlement of her claim. About 20,000 acres are under cultivation. She owns 1,000 head of cattle.

Lord Delaval Beresford was killed in a railroad accident four years ago in Canada. Following a trip to England and a year ago, when the woman attempted to make a settlement of the estate with the brother of the man she said was her husband, Lord Charles Beresford, of the British navy, the latter came to Mexico several months ago and entered suit to oust the woman from the estate. She moved to the court that Lord Delaval Beresford had introduced her as Mrs. Beresford.

The part of the estate sold to Mexico was the office near Casa Grande, and the price authorized by the court was $200,000 in American gold.

ADVERTISING TEDDY.

Paris, April 5.—Under the headline, "Roosevelt Again, Always Roosevelt," the Gil Blas, after upholding Mr. Roosevelt's policy in the United States, continues in a satirical vein to hail the former president as one of the greatest self-advertisers in the world. It says: "No one can deny that he knows how to compel the attention of the masses, and by noisy manifestations to punctuate his travels with sensational incidents."

"The Vatican certainly lacked tact, but the affair entered upon the ridiculous when Mr. Roosevelt, wishing personally to profit, convoked the journalists, and dictated a long, colloquial, destined for his fellow-citizens in America."

"Now the press of the whole world New York, London included, everywhere will discuss violently the controversy between Pope Pius X. and Col. Roosevelt. Verily, these Americans understand the art of publicity to a wonderful degree."

Elcaya (El-ki-ya), a tree of India,

noted for its perfume. The fresh buds and leaves of the tree have a most fragrant and agreeable odor, at once refreshing and invigorating. A taste made from the fresh leaves possesses the characteristic odor of the tree, and is used for beautifying

the skin and developing retarded tissues.

Creme Elcaya possesses these qualities in a much more marked degree,

far surpassing in its beneficial and beautifying effects all other preparations. Its creamy consistence and fragrant odor have led its admirers to declare it a veritable "CREAM OF FLOWERS."

BACK FROM TOUR

Ex-Mayor Stevely Talks of Trip

Through Southwest.

Ex-Mayor Stevely and Mrs. Stevely

returned last evening from a six weeks'

trip to Cincinnati, New Orleans, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Denver, Salt

Lake City and Chicago. Both are much benefited in health by the trip.

"We had a most enjoyable time," said Mr. Stevely. "Everywhere we found evidences of prosperity, and trade booming.

"We saw great advancement in Los Angeles and San Francisco. It is really wonderful the progress the latter city has made during the past three years.

It is almost unbelievable. Thousands of buildings have been erected, and soon every trace of the great earthquake will be removed.

In every city we found Canadians,

and for the most part all doing well. Major Schofield, who visited

London during the Old Boys' Reunion, entertained us at Ocean Park, where he is building a new mansion. Nothing was too good for us.

"I visited my orange farms there,

and brought home many samples.

The fruit farms are yielding well,

and much money is being made annually there."

The samples shown by Mr. Stevely easily bear out that statement.

The quality is very fine, and they are of large size.

FEELING FOR WAR

Peruvians Anxious To Take a Crack

at the Ecuadorians.

[Associated Press.]

Lima, April 5.—An imposing demonstration by 5,000 persons, excited by the events at Guayaquil, took place

last night. After removing the arms of the Ecuadorian consulate the crowd

proceeded to the principal square in front of the palace and called for the president to speak. President Leguia came out on the balcony and addressed

the assemblage. He recommended that the people retire in an orderly manner, and hoped that the spontaneous demonstration of patriotism would be converted into a reality in case of necessity.

The cabinet council has decided to demand immediate and full satisfaction from Ecuador for the insults

against the Peruvian legation at Quito

and the consulate at Guayaquil, and the attacks made upon Peruvians in Ecuador and their property.

In case of a negative reply from the Ecuadorian Government it is proposed to send troops against that country and a squadron to blockade

the River Guayas, on which Guayaquil is situated.

The Government has called up the reserves, and within a month can muster 40,000 men.

TEXTILE FIRM ISLOOKING OVER LONDON

Concern Intends Establishing a Large Canadian Branch.

Representatives of a large American textile firm, located in Philadelphia, were in the city yesterday looking over the situation here with a view of locating a branch factory in London.

The president stated to The Advertiser that the concern is going to establish a large Canadian branch as quickly as possible, and that he thought from what he had seen already that it would be located either in Hamilton or London.

The firm manufactures all sorts of textile fabrics, and does a large Canadian trade. The matter is being taken up with the manufacturers' committee, and it is understood that the concern is willing to put up $20,000 if $20,000 can be raised here.

BLIND MAN MADETROUBLE AT HOSPITAL

Thos. Carroll Alleged to Have Been Unruly at Victoria.

Thomas Carroll, the blind man, who for many months has been in Victoria Hospital suffering from burns about the head and face, caused by his celluloid collar burning when he was trying to light his pipe, was discharged yesterday, and will be taken to the home of his mother near Dutton.

It is said that Carroll acted in such an unruly manner of late that the hospital authorities turned him out. It is said that he used most unbecoming language to the attendants, broke the dishes deliberately by throwing them around, and acted in an ugly manner generally.
