Grand Duke Supplanted by Imperial Order
--Momentous, Far-Reaching Change, Unexplained So Far--
Czar Nicholas Has Assumed Full Command

DUMBA'S STORY IS RECEIVED BY SECY. LANSING

Next Step is the Submission of Entire Evidence to Pres. Wilson For His Decision.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Ambassador Dumba's explanation of a letter he wrote to the Vienna foreign office on plans for the withdrawal of Austro-Hungary labor from American factories producing munitions for the allies, was in the hands of Secretary of State Lansing to-day. The next move, it was believed here in the incident that arose after the seizure of the letter from an American messenger by British authorities, would be the submission of the entire subject to President Wilson for a decision as to whether the Ambassador's statement was satisfactory.

It was understood that the question to be determined by the president and his advisers, hinged upon whether Dr. Dumba's activities constituted a breach of diplomatic propriety. There has been no suggestion that any American law has been violated. While neither Secretary Lansing nor Dr. Dumba would discuss their interview, it was understood the ambassador contended that his letter contemplated no violation of American laws nor offense against American institutions. No steps, it was said, had been taken to execute the Austrian plans, but Dr. Dumba had received instructions from the Roumanian Chamber of Deputies, said to be an employee of an Austrian company.

"I am persuaded that the Dardanelles will fall in two or three weeks; then we shall intervene to advise you to leave the country."

AMERICAN SEAMAN LOST.
Jonestown, Sept. 8.—It has been established that an American named Wolf was lost on the Hesperian.

DEFENCE WORK TAKEN UP BY UNITED STATES

Plan to Increase Number of Auxiliary Ships is Thought Out.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The administration's plans for national defence and for enlarging the merchant marine, it was indicated to-day, will be coordinated in the forthcoming session of congress. A striking argument for increasing the number of merchantmen under the Stars and Stripes, Secretary of Treasury McAdoo said to-day, was that such ships were needed as naval auxiliaries.

Mr. McAdoo said he thought it was possible that many merchant ships that have assumed American registry since the outbreak of war in Europe would return to their original flags at the conclusion of hostilities.

Great Satisfaction!

Amsterdam, via London, Sept. 8.—The Hamburg Nachrichten, which voices "satisfaction" at the sinking of the Hesperian, but refrains from expressing an opinion as to the cause of the steamer's sinking, suggests that the German submarine U-27, which has been given up as lost, may have been attacked and sunk by the Steamer Arabic before she went down.

French Steamship Was Torpedoed, But Crew Were Rescued Safely

By Special Wire to the Courier.

PARIS, Sept. 8.—The French Steamship Guatemala has been torpedoed and sunk about 50 miles off Belle Isle. Her crew escaped in two boats. The men were picked up by a British steamer and taken into St. Nazaire. The Guatemala was bound from St. Nazaire for Philadelphia.

The Guatemala, 5,913 tons gross and 387 feet long, was owned by the Compagnie Generale Trans-Atlantique, which also owned the Bordeaux, the sinking of which by a submarine was announced. The latest report of the Guatemala's movements was her arrival at St. Nazaire July 23, from Buenos Aires.

Steamship Sunk.

London, Sept. 8.—The British Steamship, Douro, has been sunk by gunfire, presumably from a submarine. Her crew was saved. The Douro, 1,603 tons gross, was owned by the Ellerman Lines of London. There are no records of her recent movements.

Aerial Raiders Seen.

Amsterdam, via London, Sept. 8.—Three airships coming from the east passed over Dordrecht in south Holland at 6.30 o'clock this morning. Another airship passed over a suburb of Amsterdam. It came from the southwest and disappeared in an easterly direction.

DARDANELLES TO FALL SHORTLY, SAYS PRESIDENT

President of the Roumanian Chamber Said to Have Warned Austrian.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

New York, Sept. 8.—An American cable from Zurich says: The Gazette de Voss publishes a despatch from Bucharest, saying President Theodorides of the Roumanian Chamber of Deputies, said to be an employee of an Austrian company: "I am persuaded that the Dardanelles will fall in two or three weeks; then we shall intervene to advise you to leave the country."

ARTILLERY ACTIONS RAGING ALL ALONG THE ALLIED FRONT

Allies Pour Shell Fire on Huns From Sea, Air and on Land.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Paris, Sept. 8.—2.30 p.m.—The artillery fighting along the battle line through France continues, according to the statement given out this afternoon by the French war office. There has been cannonading from Belgium on the north, as far south as the Woivre district. German aviators have bombarded towns in France and aviators of the allies have thrown down bombs at Ostend.

"At several points along the front in the Champagne district, between Rheims and the Argonne there has been fighting with bombs and rifle firing, together with intervention on the part of the artillery, but without the infantry taking part.

NOT ESTABLISHED.

It was reiterated by State Department officials to-day that it had not been established that the Hesperian was torpedoed. No steps will be taken by the United States until Ambassador Gerard is heard from.

TEN PEOPLE WERE KILLED IN AIR RAID

Zepplins Again Raid East Coast of England, Doing Some Damage.

[From Our Own Correspondent]

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Ten persons were killed and 46 others wounded in the German air raid on the east coast of England last night.

The official account of the raid, as given out here to-day follows: "Three Zepplins visited the eastern coast last night and dropped bombs. Anti-aircraft guns were in action. Aeroplanes went up but were unable to locate the airships. "Fifteen small dwelling houses were demolished or seriously damaged and a large number of doors, windows, etc., were broken. Several fires were caused, but were promptly extinguished."

HESPERIAN HAD GUN; DOUBTS ALL ARE ENDED

American Sailor Reported Lost by Consul at Queenstown.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, Sept. 8, 11.27.—Wesley Frost, American consul at Queenstown, informed the American embassy here to-day that he had received an unconfirmed report that one of the missing sailors of the Hesperian was an American citizen. Thus far Mr. Frost has been unable to verify the report.

Lieut. Thomas B. McBride, naval attaché of the American embassy, is expected to return to London to-day from Queenstown, whether he went to collect information concerning the sinking of the Hesperian. He has forwarded no report to Ambassador Page, who therefore has transmitted nothing to the State Department at Washington, concerning the Hesperian's armament except Mr. Frost's statement that the vessel mounted a 4.7 inch gun astern.

ASKED FOR INFORMATION.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Secretary Lansing to-day called Ambassador Gerard at Berlin to forward any information available on the sinking of the Steamer Hesperian.

A State Department despatch from London indicating that one American was lost is so inconclusive that officials do not accept it as final.

NO DOUBT OF THIS.
Queenstown, Sept. 8.—There is absolutely no doubt that a gun was mounted on the Hesperian. It is understood the gun was visible to all who cared to look at it, no secret being made of its presence.

GRAND DUKE SUPPLANTED

Most Momentous Act of Any of the Belligerents.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

LONDON, Sept. 8, 11.50 a.m.—An army order issued by Grand Duke Nicholas, who has been commander-in-chief of the Russian forces, conveys the inference that Emperor Nicholas, in assuming supreme command of his armed forces, has supplanted the Grand Duke.

The order is addressed to the valiant army and fleet. The announcement, as forwarded from Petrograd to Reuter's Telegram Company, says that the Emperor has placed himself at the head of the military and naval forces. The Grand Duke thanks them for their heroism in the past. He predicts that, with the Emperor leading them, they will perform fresh exploits.

WIFE SHOWED HER DEVOTION

Husband Enlisted While She Was in Japan.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

New York, Sept. 8.—A London cable to The Tribune says: The story of how a young Canadian bride raced 15,000 miles, from Tokyo to London, across the Pacific, the American continent and to the Atlantic to see her soldier bridegroom for a few days and of the curious string of mishaps that delayed her arrival so that she saw him for an hour only is interesting and thrilling London to-day. The husband was employed by a large timber company in Canada. The honeymoon was hardly over when he was called away on a long job in England, where it was impossible to take his bride. After he had left she decided to accompany friends on a

Rather Amazing is This Yankee Story of British Sailors

By Special Wire to the Courier.

New York Sept. 8.—A story to The Tribune from Boston says: An amazing story of the destruction of a German submarine which is believed to have been the destroyer of the Arabic is contained in what purports to be a letter received by Lowell, Mass., relative of Dr. Charles B. Banks, now in London. "Dr. Banks" was a veterinary officer aboard the Steamer Nicosian. He says in his letter that that vessel was attacked by a submarine which was sunk while trying to torpedo the Nicosian by a British patrol boat. The British patrol boat, the reputed Dr. Banks says, flew the Stars and stripes until she was within point-blank range of the submarine. She then sent up a white flag. "Dr. Banks" also makes the incredible statement, that Germans struggling in the water were shot and that seven who were rescued were put to death by the English crew of the patrol boat. It has been impossible to establish the authenticity of the letter. The Nicosian, crippled by the submarine was towed into port for repairs, he says. He believes the submarine was the same that sank the Arabic because it was cruising in the same locality and on the same day. The Arabic was sunk on August 19. The submarine was sunk, according to the doctor's letter on the same day and in the same general locality.

NATIONAL GUARDS PARADING FOR A MARTIAL SHOW

Ten Thousand Men of New York Militia Will Hold a Field Day Soon.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

New York, Sept. 8.—National Guardsmen to-day expressed satisfaction over the order summoning some 10,000 militiamen from New York City to an encampment and military display in Van Courtlandt Park September 25. The encampment will be the greatest military display of the kind ever attempted in this city. Each command will bring every item of equipment it owns, and so far as possible actual campaign conditions will prevail. Interested citizens have given $8,000 to cover the expenses of the show.

Wilson as Pitcher.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Thousands of residents of the capital went to American League park here to-day to see Pres. Wilson pitch out the first ball in two games between teams of amateurs. Proceeds of the games are for the entertainment fund of the G. A. R. Encampment to take place here this month.

IMPORTANT IDEA ENTERS HEADS AT WASHINGTON

It May be Possible to Avoid Incidents of Hesperian Type in Future.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Washington, Sept. 7.—There is a strong possibility that the United States may change its attitude toward what constitutes arming a merchant vessel, and in the light of the development of submarine warfare, may hold that the mounting of small defence guns only, heretofore considered as not arming a ship, may be considered arming which will remove the vessel from the non-combatant class. State department officials gave strong indications of this to-day and stated that when the United States at the beginning of the war declared that passenger ships carrying defence guns of small calibre would be permitted to enter and leave American ports and would not be classed as war vessels, submarine warfare had not developed to its present stage.

Officials pointed out that a 4.7 inch gun, such as is reported to have been mounted on the Hesperian, is of sufficient size to sink a submarine. Proof of this fact, officials think, might be construed as a purpose to challenge the German blockaders.

It was pointed out in the same connection that the British ship, Waimana, mounting a small gun, has been held up for some time at Newport News, while the state department has been deciding her status. Officials admitted that a decision on this point involving a change in the American procedure toward such ships would be of far reaching importance to the international situation arising over the submarine question.

BRITAIN QUITE READY AGAIN TO NEGOTIATE

On Subject of Contraband of German and Austrian Origin Yankee Owned.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Definite information was cabled by Ambassador Page from London yesterday that Great Britain is now prepared to accept informal representations by the foreign trade advisors of the state department as a means of releasing American owned goods of German and Austrian origin now held up at neutral ports by the British order-in-council.

Receipts of the ambassador's message was followed by a conference attended by Trade Adviser Fleming, Sir Richard Crawford, commercial attaché of the British embassy here and Counsel for the American Importers Association, after which it was announced that the details of the plan would be worked out in the next three or four days.

Goods amounting to $107,000,000 have been tied up at Rotterdam and it is expected that the new arrangement will release not only these shipments but all goods of German and Austrian manufacture for American importers.

Jews Pray for Them.

New York, Sept. 8.—The war will give special significance to the celebration of the Jewish New Year which will begin at six o'clock this evening. Orthodox Jews have been requested to pray for their brethren in the war-stricken countries of Europe and special collections will be taken in the synagogues for the relief of European Jews. The sermons announced for tomorrow in the larger synagogues will deal chiefly with hopes and prospects of peace. During the period of the celebration plans will be discussed for the relief of Jews in the European war zone for whose aid $1,000,000 has been raised by the American Jewish relief committee.

TIRPITZ WILL TAKE HOLIDAY; IS CHAGRINED

Gossip From Amsterdam Relative to Submarine Warfare.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Amsterdam via London, Sept. 8.—Reports that Admiral Von Tirpitz, German minister of marine intends to resign are inventions, although it is true that he plans to take a brief vacation, according to the Berlin correspondent of the Nieuwe Rotterdamse Courant, who claims to have obtained his information from excellent authority.

A despatch from Amsterdam September 3 said it was reported in Berlin that Admiral Von Tirpitz would resign and be succeeded by Admiral Von Pohl, now chief of the admiralty staff and commander of the Baltic fleet.

It has been persistently asserted that Von Tirpitz had come into serious conflict with Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg over the submarine campaign, which the admiral instituted in retaliation for the British blockade. Their differences of opinion came to a climax with the sinking of the Steamer Arabic with its resulting menace to the friendly relations between Germany and the United States.

The chancellor and the minister of marine visited Emperor William at the front and the monarch was said to have sustained Dr. Von Bethmann Hollweg in his demands that the submarine policy be modified for political reasons. It was for this conference that it became known that Von Tirpitz proposed taking a vacation and the inference was drawn by the foreign press that this was a substitute adopted either to cover his retirement by order of the Emperor or to hide his own chagrin at being overruled in a policy which was popular with the German people.

Red Rose Tea "is good tea"

LONDON IS AMAZED OVER THE CHANGE

Speculates as to What Part Czar Will Occupy as Headquarters.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, Sept. 8.—Emperor Nicholas is now in supreme command of the Russian military and naval forces in the fighting zones and Grand Duke Nicholas, who was commander-in-chief of the Russian army and one of the most conspicuous figures of the war, has been transferred to the Caucasus. London is speculating as to what section of the long eastern front will be selected by the emperor for his headquarters.

At the present moment, Courland appears to be the critical sector of the line. General Ruzsky is in command there and Field Marshal Von Hindenburg is not making any great progress against him.

The central sector has been held by Grand Duke Nicholas and efforts of the Germans to drive a wedge through the swamps are proceeding very slowly. The Galician wing, in command of General Ivanoff, is making a stubborn stand against the Austrians and Germans who are engaged in a tremendous effort to drive the last Russian from Austrian soil.

Weather conditions, which in past wars have proved an efficient ally of the Russians are again intervening on their side. A despatch published in a Copenhagen newspaper says that the rivers have been swollen by autumn floods to such an extent that they promise to form an impassable barrier to a further advance of the invaders.

This despatch represents the immediate objective of the Austro-German campaign to be the seizure of the entire railroad system from Riga to Lemberg, thus ensuring control of lines of communication for a further penetration of White Russia.

On the other fronts events point to a concerted movement by the allies. The French commander-in-chief, General Joffre, has returned from a visit to his Italian colleague, General Cadorna. British warships and the guns along the Belgian coast have joined the chorus of artillery fire along the western front. All this gives support to the growing belief in London that an offensive movement of some nature will soon mark the operations of the allies in the west.

Bankers' Association Meets. By Special Wire to the Courier. Seattle, Wash., Sept. 8.—After two days of preliminary work by committees and sectional meetings, the sessions of the forty-first annual convention of the American Bankers' Association began to-day.

Following welcoming addresses by Governor Ernest Lister and Sir Richard McBride, premier of British Columbia, and the president of the American Bankers' Association, the business session of the forenoon was devoted to officers' reports, amendments to the constitution and an address by Frederick A. Delano, vice-governor of the federal reserve board of Washington, D.C.

CZAR NICHOLAS TAKES COMMAND OF RUSS ARMIES

Makes Announcement in a Communication to the French President.

Paris, Sept. 8.—In a message to President Poincare, Emperor Nicholas announces that he has placed himself in command of all the Russian armies.

The message was sent from Tsarkoye-Seio, the emperor's residence near Petrograd under date of September 6. It follows: "In placing myself to-day at the head of my valiant armies I have in my heart, monsieur president, the most sincere wishes for the greatness of France and the victory of her glorious army.—Nicholas."

POINCARÉ REPLIES

President Poincaré sent the following response to-day: "I know that your majesty, in taking command of your heroic armies, intends to continue energetically until final victory, the war which has been imposed on the allied nations. I address to your majesty in the name of France my most cordial wish.—Raymond Poincaré."

Since the outbreak of the war, Grand Duke Nicholas, cousin of Emperor Nicholas, has been in command of the armies of Russia. In this capacity he has achieved fame, and military critics, not only of Russia, but of other nations, have rated him as one of the ablest generals of the warring nations.

Although the Grand Duke's armies have suffered reverses since the beginning of the great Austro-German offensive movement in May, their leader has been credited with conspicuous strategic successes during this period as well as in the earlier part of the war when he was leading his armies forward victoriously.

A FINE FEAT

His main accomplishments were the extrication of the bulk of his forces from the Austro-German encirclement in Galicia and later in Russian Poland, when he again drew out his armies, this time from the dangerous Warsaw salient.

The message of Emperor Nicholas to President Poincaré does not make it clear whether Grand Duke Nicholas has been superseded by the emperor. During the last few weeks there has been severe criticism of the conduct of the war by the Russian authorities. The minister of war, General Soukhomlinoff, resigned, and the formation of a coalition government has been under discussion. The source of dissatisfaction, however, has been principally the inadequate supply of munitions of war, and so far as the cable despatches from Russia have shown there has been no criticism of the grand duke in this connection.

REMAND GIVEN MANITOBA MEN THIS MORNING

Four Cabinet Members Appeared Before Magistrate Macdonald.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 8.—Remand until Monday next was granted the defense when the case of the four former cabinet ministers came before Magistrate P. A. MacDonald again this morning.

Sir Rodmond Roblin, J. H. Howden and G. R. Coldwell appeared before the magistrate at the court house. Hon. Dr. Montague was unable to appear through illness, and is still at his summer home at Kenora. F. L. Burridge, appearing for the defense, asked for a remand for the reason that E. F. B. Johnston of Toronto, who is to be counsel for the defense, could not arrive in Winnipeg before Monday.

R. A. Bonnar, for the Crown, urged that if the remand was granted it should be made peremptory. He said the condition of V. W. Horwood, formerly provincial architect, and one of the Crown's important witnesses, made it absolutely necessary that he undergo another operation, and if the operation were performed before he was called as a witness, it might be weeks before he could give his evidence.

The magistrate declined to make the remand peremptory, so that the way is left open for a still further remand if it becomes necessary.

Ships flying the American flag are gradually disappearing among the trades of the Pacific.

TOWNSHIP CONSIDERING THE BRIDGE TENDERS

The Township Council held their regular monthly meeting this morning. It was the hottest session the councilors have had for some time, because there was only a little routine business to be cleaned up.

The council will make a tour of the township this afternoon and make an inspection of the work that has been done.

At five o'clock this afternoon, the council will again meet at the court house to consider tenders for the construction of Winter bridge.

The receipts for the month of August were $48,052.52, and the expenditures of the township were $60,168.

COMMUNICATIONS

Communication from Ald. Pitcher, chairman of the buildings and grounds committee of the city council was received, stating he had been instructed by Mayor Spence to request the township to give permission to lay a water pipe along West street, or such other streets as may be deemed advisable, from the city limits to Mount Hope cemetery and the new smallpox hospital.

The Workmen's Compensation Board notified the council that an account of $11.87 for compensation for month of August, had to be paid to Mrs. A. Jacques, 30 Emily St., Jackson and Company, Township Engineer, submitted a report on the properties of Mrs. Herman and Mr. Feather on James street, concerning the drain between the two houses. He also submitted an estimate for work to be done on Winter bridge and Hill grade. It would cost in all $2,541.

A report on the township walks was also submitted by Mr. Jackson. The Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission sent in a lengthy report in connection with power for lighting purposes in Grandview, Echo Place and Parkdale districts.

The chief engineer, F. A. Gay, stated also that acting on the request of Mr. J. A. Scace, of the township council, he was sending, the contract in connection with power for the suburban districts of Grand View, Parkdale and Echo Place.

The council then adjourned.

Important Step.

Brownsville, Texas, Sept. 8.—What is regarded as the most important step yet taken by the United States army in the border complications of the lower Rio Grande Valley came to-day with the issue here of an order giving to army officers command over the actions of the civilians on the River bank in case of shooting across the international boundary is resumed.

Looks Rather Well.

Winnipeg, Sept. 8.—In order to comply with the legal requirements, the executor of Lord Strathcona have filed statements showing that the total value of the estate in Canada is $3,488,924.

Declared Dividend.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Directors of the Western Union Telegraph Company to-day declared a quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 percent on the stock, placing it on a five percent basis as against the more recent rate of 4 percent. The action of the directors was foreshadowed in the recent activity and strength of the shares on the Stock Exchange. It advanced 2 points to 77 to-day. Earnings of the Western Union Company have increased materially in the past year largely as a result of the war, which has added to the business of its cable and domestic services.

Taking Them All Now.

Germany Will Accept Men Previously Rejected as Unfit.

London, Sept. 8.—A despatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Berlin, coming by way of Amsterdam, says:

"It is officially announced that the military law will be modified to enable the re-examination of those persons previously exempt from military service on account of physical unfitness with a view to their possible fitness for duty at the present time."

RUSSIAN MACHINE GUN TROOPS GUARDING A RIVER

Russian machine gun troops, in the vicinity of Lemberg, are seen in this illustration, watching for the approach of the enemy. These men are guarding a river crossing in Galicia. They are screened from observation by a wooden fence. Crawling up the river's edge they have succeeded in getting into a position for sweeping the opposite bank with a hail of lead if the enemy should try to cross here.

The Situation.

The most important announcement which has yet taken place in connection with what may be termed the war management, is the official statement that the Czar himself will take charge of the troops in place of Grand Duke Nicholas. The latter has done most remarkable work under very trying circumstances, and it is difficult to believe that he has been sidetracked. The action of the Czar is more probably intended as a still further inspiration to his troops. Despite outbursts against the throne, the vast majority of the one hundred and sixty-four millions of Russians regard the Tsar as their divine head in a deeply religious sense. The course now taken by him will constitute still further evidence to them that he is determined heart and soul to see this thing through to a finish.

The Allies still continue to pour projectiles upon the enemy from every conceivable point, and they are manifestly now in a position to use these munitions on a scale not previously possible.

In the Eastern theatre the Russians still continue to hold the enemy without any further withdrawals of moment. It begins to look as if the check for the time being is based on more substantial grounds than has latterly been the case.

There has been another air raid on England, with the usual toll of non-combatants.

It is asserted that Italy has sent a large force to help participate in the Dardanelles operations. If so, that should help a good deal towards the final completion of operations there.

From Reporter to Brigadier-General.

Announcement comes from the front that Colonel E. W. B. Morrison, D.S.O., of Ottawa, at present commander of the First Artillery Brigade, will be promoted to Brigadier-General and succeed General Brustall in the command of artillery for the First Canadian Division.

It is a long call from reporter to Brigadier-General, yet Morrison has made the grade, and entirely upon his own merits, into the bargain.

In early life he was on the reportorial staff of the Hamilton Spectator, and in that capacity was here upon the occasion of the unveiling of the Brant Memorial in Victoria Park. That was in 1886—twenty-nine years ago—when C. B. Heyd was mayor, and the directors were I. Cockshutt, A. Cleghorn, R. Henry, Alex. Robertson, Lieut.-Col. Gilkison, W. Paterson, M.P., H. McK. Wilson, W. Buck, Dr. Digby, A. J. Wilkes, W. Watt, J. H. Stratford, Dr. Henwood—G. H. Muirhead, Secretary. All have passed away with the exception of Mr. Henry, now a resident of Windsor, Mr. Muirhead, now of Toronto, and Messrs. Heyd and Wilkes, still residing here. Percy Wood, the sculptor, also long since passed to the Great Beyond.

At the period named Morrison was a bright young member of the fourth estate, and his progress in the journalistic field was deservedly rapid, finally becoming editor of the Ottawa Citizen. He always had a liking for military matters in the artillery branch, and went to South Africa and got the D. S. O. for a notable defence of his guns there. He also incidentally wrote the best series of letters regarding that struggle, afterwards published in book form. He was director of artillery in the branch of the master-general of the ordnance at Ottawa up to the outbreak of war. He was made a lieutenant of the C.F.A. in 1897, a captain in 1904, major in 1905, a lieutenant-colonel and appointed to the militia staff in 1913. He commanded the composite team of the Canadian Field Artillery competing with the British artillery team at Petawawa in 1907. He is president of the Ottawa South African Veterans' Association, and an organizer of the Boy Scout movement. Recently Colonel Morrison was admitted to the hospital at Le Poutnet, suffering from injuries sustained when his horse fell on him. He is made of the right stuff through and through, and his brother journalists are proud of him.

Waste in the West.

Mr. W. E. Scott, Deputy Minister of Agriculture for British Columbia, comes forward with the statement that there has been "shocking economic waste" throughout the West.

The Provinces beyond Winnipeg are all right, but the reckless extravagance of the people has always been proverbial. They talk and spend dollars when it should be quarters, and the very idea of a cent piece is an abhorrence to them. With a lot of inflated notions far beyond any common-sense or basic warrant, they started in to build skyscrapers in Edmonton, Calgary and other places, to buy and resell lots at ridiculous prices, to indulge in all forms of extravagance, private as well as municipal, and in general to do the spendthrift act, without the slightest regard to current needs, or the future. There are communities there, with not one-tenth of the solid foundation possessed by Brantford, which got it into their heads that they were bound to become a second London or New York.

It is to be hoped that existing circumstances will exercise a sobering effect. The West needs to break away from its palace-building in the air and to get right down to the solid, rock-bottom truth, that it is time to stop playing ducks and drakes with a fine heritage. Also to think in something less than one-hundred-dollar bills.

Notes and Comments.

The Kaiser these days is not the cocky personage he was six months ago—not by a long shot.

The Mayor of London has refused to pay $1,500 back salary to H. J. Glaubitz (German), former general manager of the Forest City Utilities Commission, who got fired. As a result the Sheriff has seized fifteen horses belonging to the city and will sell them. It is to be hoped that the steeds are of a better brand than those worked off in Nova Scotia.

Dumba, Austrian Ambassador to the States admits that he tried to cause labor troubles in the States but says he was acting under instructions from headquarters. Uncle Sam has thus another nasty little trouble on his hands, and will have to get ready to write some more notes.

Britain's foreign trade has commenced to show a notable recovery. Germany's on the other hand is getting to be more and more non est in swamp.

Grand Duke

MILITARY AND NAVAL.

London, Sept. 8.—Emperor Nicholas has assumed command, not only of the military, but the naval forces of Russia. An army order issued and signed by the Emperor is quoted as follows by Reuter's correspondent at Petrograd:

"To-day I have taken supreme command of all my forces of the sea and of the land armies operating in the theatre of war."

"With firm faith in the clemency of God, and with unshaken assurance of final victory, we shall fulfil our sacred duty to defend our country to the last. We shall not dishonor the Russian land."

MOMENTOUS CHANGE.

The Emperor took this action on assuming command of the military and naval forces of Russia. In transferring the Grand Duke he appointed him viceroy of the Caucasus and commander-in-chief of the army on the southern front.

The transference was made in connection with a general reorganization of such importance that it has stirred the nation deeply.

The Grand Duke replaces the famous Viceroy of the Caucasus, Count Von Vorontzoff-Dashkoff. Emperor Nicholas addressed to the Count a communication acknowledging the value of his labors and stating that he yields to his request to be permitted to devote his energies for work for which his state of health is more equal. The Emperor therefore relieves him of the post of viceroy and attaches him to his personal staff.

The action of Emperor Nicholas in transferring his cousin, the Grand Duke, to the Caucasian front, is perhaps the most important change of this nature which has been made by any of the belligerent nations. The only comparable incident was the retirement by Emperor William in October of last year of Lieutenant-General Count Helmuth Von Moltke as chief of the German General Staff.

The post to which the Grand Duke has been transferred is of relative unimportance, as compared with the prestige and vast powers of his former office as commander-in-chief of all Russia's great fighting forces. The minor aspect of the war, the Russian and Turkish forces involved in the struggle in the Black Sea region are not large. Although there was heavy fighting in the Caucasus earlier in the war, hostilities have been conducted in only a perfunctory manner for several months as both of the nations involved had need of all available forces in other quarters.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL OVERHAULED AND MUCH IMPROVED

The regular meeting of the hospital governors took place yesterday afternoon. Present, Messrs C. H. Waterous (President), Mayor Spence, Dr. Bell, Warden Cook, T. H. Preston, F. D. Keville.

The monthly report for the month of August showed admissions 96, discharges 111, deaths 3.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL IMPROVED.

The isolation hospital, having become free of patients for the first time in a very long period, the buildings and grounds committee reported that they had taken advantage of the circumstance to have all the walls kalsomined. They had also secured prices for the outside painting of the place and the installation of new baths, while all the bedding had been destroyed. The board heartily commended their action, and the painting was awarded to R. C. Chave, and the installation of baths to Taylor, on the lowest price basis. After the meeting, the governors visited the isolated building and found that already the place presents a most marked and needed improvement.

It was decided to authorize the purchase of twenty-eight additional beds for the public wards, and accounts were passed and other routine business discharged.

THREE ROOMS NEEDED

The chairman of the Board of Education and the chairman of the standing committees met last evening in the city hall to discuss the formal opening ceremonies at King George School. Owing to the fact that everything is so unsettled there as yet, it was decided to wait until next week before anything is done.

It was stated by Principal A. W. Burt that three more rooms were needed at the College to accommodate the Commercial classes. Messrs. Andrews and Lahey were busy this morning trying to locate three temporary rooms for this purpose.

Death List 33

served at all through the periscope of the submarine.

U. S. MAY CHANGE POSITION

The State Department made it known that the opinions it expressed regarding guns on merchantmen at the beginning of the war, when submarine war methods and possibilities had not been developed as to-day, might not hold now, and that it has taken the subject under advisement with a view to modifying its position. It was admitted by diplomatic officials that if the United States should hold that so-called defensive armament should be excluded from commercial vessels, it would relieve itself absolutely of cause for future controversy. It is likely that the position of the government on the matter will be announced when it decides the case of the British ship Waimana, which has been held up by the customs officials at Norfolk because it entered port with guns mounted.

(1) Hunter's cabin and Harry Allen, famous New Brunswick guide. (2) Standard dining car kitchen. (3) Verandah cafe of Great Lake steamers. (4) Chef at work.

In arranging its exhibit at the Toronto Fair, the C. P. R. has entirely foreworn the old-fashioned style of wheat and grain decoration, which on its first appearance indeed had all the charm of novelty, although it usually meant the cruel sacrifice of a carload of good grain. Three entirely new features have this year been introduced—one being the representation in fac-simile of a standard C. P. R. dining car kitchen, the mysteries of which are explained to the interested house-wife by two of the company's chefs. Occupying a space of only 27 ft. x 8 ft., the dining car kitchen has to turn out seventy-five a la carte meals within an hour, and as a result space is economized to a marvelous degree, and the pantry is a masterpiece of convenience and ingenuity. The sanitary conditions under which the food is cooked are here visualized as they can never be in the most highly-colored folder, and on the opening day the attendants had a busy time explaining to the lady visitors how this great railway had made it possible to cook two eggs where only one had been cooked before. The skill of the chefs is illustrated also by a display of pastry and confectionery, one cake representing Warwick Castle in Northumberland protected by two guns, all made of sugar icing, while another bride's cake consists of six tiers representing the six allied nations. The Dietetic Blended Menu, of course, is not forgotten, and the visitors carry away with them an amusing little pamphlet entitled, "Taking the Break out of Breakfast." Facing the Dining Car Kitchen is a realistic representation of the bow of a C. P. R. Great Lakes steamer, approached by a gangway, with the invitation, "All aboard for the Soo, Port Arthur and Fort William." Once on deck, the visitor is able to inspect an ordinary cabin, a cabin de luxe with four-poster bed, a private bathroom, and the Verandah Cafe, which this year has been introduced with great effect into the Great Lakes service. The nautical character of this exhibit is kept up by the sailors in charge, who take observations and strike the bell at each hour—three bells or six bells, whatever the time may be. Nothing of the kind so realistic has ever been shown in Toronto, or, indeed, in Canada, before. The third section of the company's exhibit interests the sportsman and the small boy, for it is an actual hunter's cabin from New Brunswick, built of logs by Harry Allen, of Fredericton, in the interests of the New Brunswick Guides' Association and the St. John Tourist Association. The cabin is placed in a setting of rocks, spruce and pines, with a very fine display of moose, caribou and deer horns lent by various sportsmen, while a touch of life is added by two raccoons, a pair of owls which apparently take as much interest in the small boys as the small boys take in them. It was also the intention to exhibit some war relics which G. McL. Brown, European Manager of the C. P. R., had sent over from London, but these are displayed instead in the Government Building with the other war relics collected by the Exhibition authorities. The exhibits thus loaned include an iron cross, incendiary bombs dropped from a Zeppelin, German soldier's helmet, specimens of German communications, Austrian bread tickets, the models of the cruiser H. M. S. Glasgow, the torpedo boat destroyer H. M. S. Mosquito and the auxiliary cruiser, Empress of Russia.

CANNOT BE TRIED

The case of Soldo vs. James was set for trial in the County Judges Court this morning, but on account of the defendant's recent death, no court will be held.

WILL ALSO GO

Messrs W. Burrill and C. E. Emerson have left with the other insurance agents to attend the Manufacturer's Life convention in Toronto. The other gentlemen's names were announced in yesterday's issue.

THEIR FIRST DRILL

The Church Lads Brigade of Grace Church held the first drill of the season last evening at their club rooms. About twenty boys were present, and the prospects for a good season are very bright. Rev. Patterson-Smythe and Mr. J. Hill addressed the boys on their work. The drill instructors were Lieut. Pocock and Sergt. R. Bennen.

SCHOLARS TRANSFERRED.

The Courier understands that all pupils who formerly attended Grandview school and were sent to Central school at the beginning of the term, were to-day transferred to Victoria school. This will no doubt be appreciated by ratepayers on Terrace Hill, for the reasons that the distance is shorter, and the fact that the children will not have to pass over level crossings.

FELL INTO FILTER BED.

Thomas Slattery of 112 West Mill street, while holding water hose in washing out a filter bed yesterday morning fell into the bed and alighting on his feet, fractured the heel bones of both his feet. He was sent to the Hospital where Dr. Stinson took charge of him. He is 58 years of age and in compliance with the Workmen's Compensation act, he will receive compensation through the Water Commissioners.

HERB ORR SAFE

Some fears were entertained by people in the city that Pte. Herbert (Jake) Orr, moving Mr. Joseph Orr, Colborne street, was one of the passengers on the ill-fated Hesperian. The list of soldier passengers published to-day did not contain Orr's name, so it is supposed he will travel on a later boat. Pte. Orr was wounded at Langemarck, and being now incapacitated for service, is obtaining his discharge and returning home. He should arrive in Brantford before the end of the month.

PATRIOTISM OF A REAL HARD GRITTY KIND

Mr. W. J. Haddow Quits City Service to Serve His Country.

The following letter is an inspiring one; quiet, modest but filled with purpose. Here is one man at least who is giving something up to serve as a citizen, and to those who read it will come the thought—"He's the real stuff."—78 Victoria Street.

Dear Sir,—In pursuance of a resolution to take some part in defence of our Empire in the present war, I have offered my services as a machinist in shell work to the Ker and Goodwin Co., and the same have been accepted. I to commence working for them on Monday next. I have already so notified Mr. Webster, Jr.

In making this change I desire to express my appreciation of the general conditions under which I have worked while in the Commission's employ, and to assure you that I make the change only because I believe circumstances demand it.

Some weeks ago there simmered in my mind thoughts that have crystallized in reading the statements of such men as Col. Currie and still later, C. W. Gordon. These men indicate an imperative need for every patriot to lend his individual efficiency in a great and specific cause and I do not care to be a laggard in the face of such a call.

I offered to go to England in a similar capacity, but because I was employed, my offer was not accepted. I then went to Mr. Goodwin, and set forth my desires, and last evening he called at the house and gave me the opportunity I had desired.

In hoping that with this explanation you will not misunderstand my motives, as also that my work may have proven satisfactory to the commissioners, I remain, Yours respectfully, (Signed) W. J. Haddow. F. W. Frank, Esq. Secretary Water Commissioners, City Hall.

Brantford Men Will Not be Asked an Increased Price for Their Clothes.

Notwithstanding the increased price of English, Irish and Scotch wools which has compelled tailors all over Canada to raise their prices the men of Brantford may still get a high grade suit overcoat made to their measure for $14.

In an interview with the General Manager of the Tip Top Tailors, it was admitted that the increased cost of producing the clothing material from which they get their cloth had compelled these British mills to raise their prices. Their foreign buyer, however, had seen the advance cost of wool over a year and took the precaution to place several of the large mills under contract to supply Tip Top Tailors with cloth at the market price that then prevailed. Consequently the foresight and enterprising national tailoring organization is still able to stand by its patrons and make them their clothes at the same old price of $14.

For a number of years it has been conceded that the Tip Top Tailors with their magnificent central tailoring plant in Toronto and their branches and agents all over the Dominion, have been giving the greatest tailor value in Canada. Now that they are able to maintain their price in war time, and give the same honest value notwithstanding the fact that others are compelled to ask more, the Tip Top Tailors supremacy is proven more conclusively than ever. As the Manager stated—"We could easily have taken advantage of our buying power to ask a higher price and thus make a greater profit for ourselves during war time. We preferred, however to pursue the patriotic policy and give our customers the benefit of the old price as long as we possibly can. We believe that they will appreciate what we have done." All the new wools for fall and winter are now on display at the Brantford Branch as well as the other Tip Top branches all over Canada. Now that they are right up to the usual standard if not even better than ever before.

Washing, Sept. 8.—A grave issue has arisen between the United States and Austria-Hungary as a result of a statement made yesterday to Secretary Lansing by Dr. Dumba, the Austrian Ambassador at this capital. At a conference between the Ambassador and the Secretary of State, Dr. Dumba is said to have informed Mr. Lansing that, in writing the letter to Foreign Minister Burian suggesting measures whereby the Bethlehem Steel and other munitions plants might be embarrassed by the withdrawal of Austro-Hungarian workmen he was acting in accordance with instructions issued by his government. The letter was found on the person of J. F. J. Archibold by British authorities in London last week. It now develops that the document in question was not a suggestion originating with Ambassador Dumba, but a report submitted on orders from Vienna.

In the opinion of officials, the Dumba letter, in the light of the statement made yesterday by the Ambassador, becomes a question for discussion between the two governments. It no longer forms the basis of a possible complaint against the activities of an ambassador to the United States. It is the understanding that the question will now be submitted to President Wilson for determination, and that whatever action is taken will be dictated by the President himself. Whether the incident will lead to the recall of Ambassador Dumba will become known in the comparatively near future.

The conference at the State Department yesterday was held as a result of an engagement made at the instance of Dr. Dumba following the publication of the letter taken from his correspondence. The Ambassador told his story at length to the Secretary of State, Mr. Lansing, who refused, however, to make any comment on the call or its possible consequences.

QUESTION MORE SERIOUS. This statement by the Ambassador offered in justification and explanation of his letter, was interpreted here as placing a much more serious aspect on the whole matter. It is no longer considered a question of this Government's manifesting its disapproval of the act of the representative of the Austro-Hungarian Government but rather one of holding that Government itself to account for what is generally held by officials to be, at the very least, a most disagreeable scheme of interference with American industry. It is pointed out that a request for the recall of the Ambassador will hardly satisfy the situation unless the Ambassador has merely obeyed the instructions of his government. Secretary Lansing did not, in his interview with the Ambassador this afternoon, in any way commit the United States to a particular course of action in the matter, nor did he set forth any view of the incident on behalf of this Government. He merely listened to the Ambassador's statements, and declared that he would be glad to lay them before President Wilson. He assured the Ambassador that no action would be taken by this Government until the facts and views presented by the Ambassador had been most carefully considered.

Inspiring Story. By Special Wire to the Courier. New York, Sept. 8.—Two daughters of the Rev. Gaelano Conte, an Italian Methodist clergyman, who arrived here yesterday from Naples, said that nearly every soldier in the Italian army had received a copy of Edward Everett Hale's short story masterpiece "The Man Without a Country." Their father, they said, had translated the story in Italian and more than a million copies were printed in the first edition for distribution among the troops. The book was valued in Italy as a means of instilling patriotism into the hearts of soldiers.

BEAT RED SOX AGAIN BY SUCCESSION OF BUNTS

Boston, Sept. 8.—New York bunted their way to a third victory over the league leaders yesterday by 8 to 3. They scored five runs, their margin of victory, in the third inning, on five bunted balls, on which there were two errors of commission and several of omission, and two passes. Bannan made the circuit of bases on one bunt. Shore then gave way to Collins who was hit hard at times. Score: R. H. E. New York . . . . . 8 12 2 Boston . . . . . 3 8 4

CATCH TIGERS NAPPING AND CHICAGO SOX WIN

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Chicago defeated Detroit 10 to 8 in one of the most exciting games of the season. In the fifth inning, the locals punched hits, and this, coupled with the erratic fielding of Vitt, Stange and Bush, clinched the game. The Tigers, in field was taken off its guard in this inning, Jackson and Schalk each beating out bunts which should have been easy outs. Score: R. H. E. Chicago . . . . . 10 13 3 Detroit . . . . . 8 12 4

RECRUIT DRIVES IN RUNS.

Cleveland, Sept. 7.—St. Louis defeated Cleveland 4 to 1 in eleven innings yesterday. Parks, a recruit from Lexington, Ky., out-pitched Mitchell and clinching his game with a double that drove in two runs in the 11th. Score: R. H. E. Cleveland . . . . . 1 7 1 St. Louis . . . . . 4 9 3

MACKMEN WIN AND LOSE.

Philadelphia, Sept. 8.—Philadelphia and Washington split even here yesterday the former winning the first game 6 to 5 and the visitors the second by 7 to 4. Scores: R. H. E. Washington . . . . . 5 10 4 Philadelphia . . . . . 6 6 3

BEAT PHILLIES THRICE; CUT LEAD TO ONE GAME

Brooklyn, Sept. 8.—Brooklyn cut Philadelphia's lead in the pennant race to one game yesterday by winning their third straight victory from the Quaker City team, the score being 7 to 1. Douglas did not allow a hit until the seventh inning. Score: R. H. E. Philadelphia . . . . . 1 3 3 Brooklyn . . . . . 7 8 0

Down to Sixteen Players.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—With the field narrowed down to 16 players, the second match round in the women's national golf championship tournament was decided today at Onwentsia Country Club, Lake Forest. The performance of Miss Alexa Sterling of Atlanta, Ga., the southern champion, attracted a large gallery today, as the 17-year-old Georgia star played at the top of her game yesterday. She was paired with Miss Laura Kaiser, holder of the women's championship of Chicago. The East had eight players among the survivors of yesterday's round.

Won Wrigley Trophy.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—As the result of its victory in the first race of the series, Disturber IV, of Chicago, was made the favorite to-day to win the Wrigley trophy, emblematic of the national speedboat championship. The big hydroplane, driven by an 1,800 horsepower motor, shot through the water at the rate of 55 miles an hour yesterday, and easily defeated six other contenders. The race today was to be over a thirty-mile course. Final heats of the series will be run off to-morrow.

JOHNSTON IS NEW TENNIS CHAMPION

Forest Hills, L. I., Sept. 8.—Wm. A. Johnston, of California, is the new national tennis champion. In one of the most sensational matches in the history of the sport he defeated Maurice E. McLoughlin, also of California, at the West Side Tennis Club here yesterday afternoon. A remarkable gallery of about 10,000 people saw the match.

THISTLE TEAM HELD BANQUET; MANY PRESENT

The Thistle Football team brought its most successful season to a fitting close last evening by holding a banquet for their ladies, at the Tea Pot Inn. This team has the remarkable record of losing only one game throughout the whole season. To add to this, it was not until the semi-finals had almost been completed that a goal was scored against them. The three handsome silver cups which the team has won, the J. Hill Charity Cup, Expositor Trophy and the Courier Cup were displayed on the guest table to great advantage. The largest cup contained a bunch of the real old Scotch thistle and down. After the good things had been disposed of the evening program was proceeded with, "TO THE KING."

Killifer Injured.

Philadelphia, Sept. 8.—William Killifer, star catcher of the Philadelphia Nationals, may be out of the game the rest of the season, according to Manager Moran, who returned here last night from Brooklyn. Killifer did not accompany the other members of the team to this city, but remained in New York under the care of a specialist. He felt a twinge in his shoulder in the afternoon game Monday, but after a careful massage he hoped that it was all right again. He had to retire early in yesterday's game, however, because of the injury. Next to Alexander, Killifer is regarded as the most important member of the Phillies' team. He caught Alexander, Mayer and Rixey regularly.

WELCOMED LADIES.

The speaker congratulated Mr. Vi-point for his faithfulness during the season. This player had travelled in five miles from the country for every game. The chairman also congratulated the President of league, J. Leishman, on the hard work and on the time he had devoted to the League during the year.

PLAYED WELL.

Chairman J. Hill stated that before proceeding further with the program, he wished to say something about the team and its players. The season which had just been brought to a conclusion had been the hardest the team has experienced for many years. Many of the players had volunteered for active service and so the team had been weakened.

MABON AND NEILL WON "EX." TROPHY

E. J. Mabon and Nathaniel Neill won the Expositor Trophy for the Brantford Club. Last night at five o'clock they lined up against Sid Armitage and McTavish of Paris and carried off the honors. Six shots in the second end put Paris at a handicap, and although they fought gamely and laid down some fine shots, they could not sustain the pace long enough to overcome the lead. Quite the best game of the tournament took place in the semi-finals when Mabon and Neill disposed of Burnet and Gurley of St. George. It was nip and tuck all the way with the Brantford rink two up on the last end. The last shot for St. George carried the kity to the back of the green and knocked out two Brantford bowls, but fortunately for the local pair, one of their bowls was well back and St. George got only one shot and lost the game.

Duffs Score Victory Over the Rifle Club

Using a military term, and to say it modestly, the Dufferin Rifles picked team gained a slight ascendancy over the Home Guards in the return match Saturday afternoon. A close match was anticipated, but the H. G.'s, hardly expected to get the drubbing that was in store for them. The former match was won by the Home Guards by a margin of 22, and this was reversed giving the Duffs a margin of 11, making a gain of 38 points, above their previous aggregate. The following are the scores made:

EXPOSITOR TROPHY—FOURTH ROUND. Armitage and McTavish beat Read and Howie. Smiley and Crooks, beat Ogilvie and Broadbent. Burnett and Gurley beat James Biggar and Harris. Mabon and Neill beat Hare and partner. EXPOSITOR TROPHY—SEMI-FINALS. Armitage and McTavish beat Smiley and Crooks. Mabon and Neill beat Burnett and Gurley. EL FAIR TROPHY—THIRD ROUND. Gardner and Broatch beat Sager and Hartley. Cohoe and Bixel beat McNiely and partner. Inksater and Inksater beat McPhail and McPhail. Dowling and Wade beat Cowbrough and McAdams. Daniels and Shepperson beat Wilson and partner. Parker and Adams beat Leinster and Taylor. Sheppard and Sheppard beat Wilson and Widdup. Miller and Grantham beat Dr. Watson and partner. ## HESTER, AND A LEGACY

"Do you mean that you kept them for me?"

"I tried to; every one was asking for them, but I said I was engaged, and kept my program hidden."

He was silent, looking over her head with a sudden gravity on his face. It was flattery, of course, but he did not like it. He knew the style of girl he had to deal with quite well, and he despised it in his heart as cold-hearted, passionate, and calculating. He had too often been favored with flattery of this kind to misunderstand it, and had become somewhat cynical on the subject of feminine affection in consequence. It had been offered him again and again at first sight by women whose sole object was to become Lady Lynnmouth, and the more she had been given him of that description the more he had longed for a genuine and deep affection—one that was based on knowledge of himself and had no thought of his own back to it. That Miss Langworthy had designs on him he could not doubt, and in any other mood than his present one he would have made short work of her as it was, she would not fill his time and engage his attention, and he succumbed to the temptation of allowing her to monopolize both. Still, he did not encourage her.

But Violet, driving home and doing her best to keep up the fiction of the painful ankle through all her friend's kind inquiries, was conscious that things had not turned out as she fondly hoped they would when she had first put on that lovely new dress three hours before and felt her heart beating high with expectation. She had succeeded in securing Lord Lynnmouth for more dances than anybody else had done, it was true, and she thought that he must in common civility call to inquire how she was with in the next few days but something told her that his manner with her was not that of a man in love or even of one who intended making a proposal of marriage. The new dress, the sprained ankle, the alluring friend had all been in vain. She had not won him yet; it still remained a thing to be done in the future.

CHAPTER XVII.

Lady Augusta, Dovercourt, who possessed a genuine wit and a keen eye in the direction of all love-affairs, and towards that of her niece's in particular, had taken great interest in arranging "flirtation nooks," as Mrs. Lynnmouth called them, when making her preparations for the ball. Although planning for the benefit of all dancers who might desire a few moments to themselves, she had one particular coup in her mind's eye when she ordered screens placed beside the divans in the hall or directed the gardeners to group a grove of palms and plants around two low chairs placed in interesting attitudes near together. All and everything was arranged by that kind-hearted matron with a view to Lord Lynnmouth and Lady Muriel whose love-story she fondly hoped by means of these artificial aids might be brought to a happy climax during the evening.

As is often the case, every one filled the flirtation-nooks except those for whom they were expressly prepared. Lord Lynnmouth had availed himself of them, it is true, but always with some other lady; Lady Muriel had paid them visits, but always with some other man.

The soft conversation, the tender looks never came off; they did not dance together during the evening.

Not so Harry Vereker. He had appreciated Lady Augusta's secluded nooks in the full, and what is more, had taken Lady Muriel to them, six different times, and had yet a seventh visit with her in prospect before the end of the evening. Was she not a little coquettish and could there be any possible objection to his monopolizing her now when the ball was almost over, when half the people were gone, and those who were left were giving their heads and hearts to dancing again and again with the partners they liked best without respect for the prejudices of chaperons? Besides, when a girl looks as Muriel did—slim, white, with a smile that showed beautiful shy eyes and a mouth made expressly to be kissed—when a girl looks like that, there is surely some excuse for a man losing his head a little.

They were engaged to each other for the next dances, but when they came she pleaded that her ankle still ached and would be mind very much if they rested a little longer. He could not refuse, and so they sat on, hidden by the dark, thick leaves of the camellias and talking together in low voices. Violet was in her element on an occasion like this, and treated him to such a battery of soft glances and such a running fire of sweet words that had he been a young and less experienced man his head would have been completely turned. As it was, he let her do as she would and only told himself now and again that he was behaving like a fool, and that there was nothing else open to him.

Harry seldom went to Dovercourt, though he was always made welcome there. He refrained because he could not be sure of behaving himself; because he knew she did not care for him and he intended that she never should. He was a "bad lot," he was aware, and Muriel was not an angel, and if by any chance she learned to love him it would have meant misery and disaster for her. There was bad blood in his veins—he was incorrigible, and he knew it—and the one redeeming character was his chivalrous instinct of self-sacrifice towards the girl he loved. She should never know that he loved her, he told himself, and up to that point he meant the vow, difficult as it had sometimes been and had avoided Dovercourt as a shrine that was too holy for him to go near.

But to-night he was allowing himself to be taken in by a party because he thought he was entitled to it and partly because there was a little unhappy droop about her mouth and a listlessness in the tone of her voice that made his love and longing towards her greater than ever.

"You are not happy this evening," he said to her suddenly after they had been sitting side by side for some minutes behind the arched and orange trees. "What is the matter?"

She had been gazing before her with unseeing eyes, slowly moving the white feathered fan backwards and forwards mechanically, and had forgotten him and her surroundings for the moment, but at his words she turned quickly.

"Nothing is the matter. Of course I am enjoying myself! What an idea. Why I have danced every dance!"

"Does that make happiness?"

"That is what one comes to a ball for, naturally."

"I should say it depended upon whom one danced with—it does with me. I should like to waltz with you the whole evening, for instance, but I should think it a frightful fog if I had to confine myself to whom shall I say?—well, anybody else in fact."

"Do you like dancing with me?" she asked listlessly. "I don't waltz very well, I am afraid—nothing like Mrs. Langworthy."

"I love dancing with you! Don't you know that, Muriel?"

There was a dangerous tenderness in his voice as he leaned nearer her, and in his handsome careworn eyes there was an intensity never seen there except when they rested on her.

"Come," he went on, as she did not answer, "I think you know that in

"There is nothing to tell. I am enjoying myself very much."

"You might say that all day and all night and I wouldn't believe you. Come, little one, what is it?" Then in a lower voice, "Is it a man?"

"Harry" according to him with eyes of startled indignation. "Of course not!"

"Yes, it is, I'll be bound—some brute of a fellow who makes love to you and then goes and breaks your poor little heart by flirting with another girl! Cur! If I knew who he was I'd duck him in the lake!"

"You are quite wrong"—fluttering her fan nervously.

"Don't worry about him, dear," he went on, regardless of her protestations. "He isn't worth it—none of us are! He's a selfish dog, like the rest of us, no doubt, and is after your money into the bargain, I'll wager!"

"No, he isn't!" she exclaimed with quick championship of her hero, falling instantly into the trap as he had intended she should. "He's the very best man that ever lived—generous and honorable and chivalrous and kind!"

He did not smile, as he might have done, he never laughed at her romantic fancies and girlish dreams, though he was apt to sneer at anything approaching sentiment from the mouths of other people.

"Tell me who he is, and I'll try to find out if he's worthy of you," he urged. "You can confide in Cousin Harry, can't you, for you've gone it ever since I helped you make castles in the sand and carried you home on my back? Do you remember those old days at Bognor?"

"I don't know," she answered absently. She was looking away from him, and had evidently not been listening to his last words. Lord Lynnmouth, with Violet on his arm, was coming through the hall at that instant. Her eyes were on them, and as her companion watched her he saw that she was looking at him with a sudden little catch in her breath. The feathers of her fan, too, shared her emotion and were fluttering in a state of distressing agitation. Then she knew what he had been trying to find out.

He said nothing but waited till the disturbing couple passed out of sight, then he put his hand suddenly over hers as it lay on the arm of the chair and gave it a little squeeze.

"Poor little girl!" he muttered. "You mustn't fret, Muriel; it will all come right somehow—for you suppose we go back to the ball room and have a spin? It's better than being tragic, for tragedy won't bring us one whit nearer what we want." He rose and tucked her hand under his arm.

"They entered the ballroom, and putting his arm around her waist, they joined the throng that was whirling to the delightfully throbbing music of the last waltz. The air had a sadness in it to which Vereker's heart responded; he felt as if he were dancing to his own death-knell and it was a farewell to all that he loved best. He clasped her hand a little more closely, and for some time he was silent.

"Remember," he said presently, "that whatever happens you have always one friend ready to do anything for you, however great or however small it may be. I would go to the other end of the earth for you—if it were just to take a message from you to that other fellow, lucky beggar! Don't be afraid to ask me. It would give me pleasure to serve you—the only real good sort of pleasure there is left in life."

"Thank you," she said in a low voice. Then looking up at him. "You speak as though you were unhappy. I thought you had a splendid sort of life—such lots of excitement and gaiety and going about!"

"Oh, I have—everything a man can want! Don't you worry about me, little girl!" he returned, meeting her eyes with a reassuring smile.

But the smile changed into one that was grim as she looked away again, and the handsome worn face was inexpressibly sad as they finished the dance in silence.

Rats' Store of Grain Broke Down Ceiling

Three Hundred Bushels Were Assembled Between Floors.

Woodstock, Ont., Sept. 8.—The evening rats caused the collapse of five hundred square feet of ceiling in McKendrick and Palmer livery stables here. For eighteen years the rats have been stealing oats from the bin on the second floor of the building and storing them between the second floor and the ceiling below. More than three hundred bushels were accumulated before the ceiling gave way.

By Special Wire to the Courier.
Bristol, Eng., Sept. 8. - The British Trade Union Congress now meeting here, adopted at to-day's session a resolution expressing belief in the complete justification of the position of Great Britain and her allies in the war. The resolution read: "This trade union congress, whilst expressing opposition to all systems of militarism as a danger to human progress, considers the present action of Great Britain and her allies as completely justified, and expresses its horror at the atrocities, which have been committed by the German and Austrian military authorities, and the callous, brutal and unnecessary sacrifice of lives of non-combatants, including women and children, and hereby pledges itself to assist the government as far as possible in the prosecution of the war."
