Cured Fifteen Years Ago of Piles and Eczema

By Using Dr. Chase's Ointment—Certifies That the Cure Was Permanent.

Some people have tried so many doctors and so many treatments in their search for cure for piles and eczema that they find it difficult to believe there is an actual cure.

The strong point about Dr. Chase's Ointment is that it not only brings relief promptly, but brings about actual and lasting cures.

In 1897 Mr. Ketcheson, 48 Dours street, Peterborough, Ont., wrote as follows:—"I was troubled for thirty-three years with piles and eczema. I could not sleep at night, and when I got warm the itching was terrible. Eczema covered my legs down to the knees, perfectly raw. I have tried

A Prediction.

When the armies of earth are disbanded, and their campfires are cooled with dust; when the musket forever is silenced, and the cannon smokes with rust; when the sword and the helmet lie tarnished, and the rubric of pomp and display—We shall wake to the glorious dawn of the promised Millennial Day.

And that day shall bring joy to the Nations; And the glow of its generous light shall invade the morasses of darkness; And dispel the mists of night; And the Empire-of-Night shall be founded; And the sway of its scepter increased; Till mankind shall stand shoulder to shoulder, in the ranks, not of War, but of Peace; And the thrones of Oppression shall crumble; And the spirit of Truth shall reign o'er us; And finally's banner shall be hoisted; Till manna's message be willed; To the uttermost side of the seas.

The Candling of Eggs.

Eggs are one of the most difficult cult of food produce to grade. Their external appearance gives but little indication as to their relative fitness for food and the contents cannot be sampled without destroying the fragile shell.

Fortunately an egg is semi-transparent when held before a light in a darkened room and permits, if carefully rotated, of even minor defects being seen. It is not necessary to use an extremely powerful light. A kerosene lamp, a gas jet, a 10 or 16 candle power incandescence bulb are the sources of light most generally used in commercial work.

From time to time various appliances have been invented to facilitate the candling of eggs in quantities. These have proved serviceable for the simple detection of bad eggs, but have not been found satisfactory for the purpose of fine grading.

Each and every egg, therefore, in commercial work as well as in private practice, must be passed separately and with a quick turning movement before the light. In the large wholesale produce houses where large quantities of eggs are handled some candlers become very expert.

The size of the air cell, the consistency of the albumen, the color and mobility of the yolk and the general transparency of the whole egg are the factors most generally recognized as completely fill the shell, but as cooling takes place contraction occurs and an air space is formed in the large end. The yolk is only slightly perceptible and should swing readily in the albumen when the egg is turned around.

A new laid egg or one which at least would grade new laid when received in the cooling room of a wholesale house should be of good size, clean, full (air space not larger than a ten cent piece) sweet and strong bodied (that is the albumen should not appear watery).

A stale or shrunken egg may be detected by the size of the air cell. The shell is porous and evaporation takes place whenever the egg is surrounded by a temperature above freezing.

In a stale egg, while the yolk is rather highly colored, it still retains the proper position and, although considerable evaporation has taken place, the size of the air cell would indicate that, although becoming stale, the egg is still suitable for ordinary domestic purposes (in other words, a good cooking egg).

'Spot rot' in eggs is due to the growth of bacteria or mould in the albumen of the egg. An egg, as laid, is practically sterile. The shell, however, is extremely porous and if the egg has been laid in a dirty nest and held in damp surroundings, infection is bound to occur. The albumen forms an excellent cultural medium for the bacterial and mould growth readily develop. Development takes place rapidly when the egg is exposed to favorable conditions of warmth and moisture, but even in the low temperature of the cold storage house some growth occurs. It is for this reason that dealers generally urge producers to keep their poultry houses clean and under no condition to wash eggs. The presence of excessive moisture tends to break down the tough inner membrane which is to a certain extent bacteria proof.

A heated egg in the early stages of incubation is readily detected and if the light, as incubation advances the darkened section increases in size until the whole egg, excepting the air cell, becomes black.

In a thoroughly bad egg the contents are dark and opaque, the air cell is ruptured, the yolk and albumen have broken down, decomposition has set in and the contents shake or flow readily from one end of the egg to the other.

The candling of eggs is not a difficult process. It requires but little skill to tell at a glance the difference between good and bad eggs and anyone with practice can learn to differentiate between the various grades of good eggs.

Many simple appliances have been devised for the candling of eggs and with a view to encouraging the practice of candling among all those concerned in the Canadian egg trade, the Poultry Division of the Live Stock

Canada's Wars.

The present conflict is the most important in which Canadians have ever been engaged, it is by no means the first time that Canadians have shouldered arms in defence of the Empire. On two other occasions Canadians went abroad to fight the battles of the Empire, although in the strictest sense of the term the South African War was the only other occasion on which the Canadian Government authorized the sending of troops.

Canadian troops took part in the relief of Khartoum when General Gordon was killed. On that occasion the Canadian Government did not organize, equip or recruit the men, but simply gave permission to the British Government to secure recruits in this country. In the South African War, however, the Government of the day, at the expense of Canada, raised the men and sent them to fight in South Africa. In the present war the Canadian Government is not only raising and equipping the soldiers, but is paying for their maintenance at the front.

In domestic wars Canada has had her share. This country defended its borders in the revolutionary war of 1776 against American invaders, fought against the United States in 1812-15 and defended itself again in the Fenian Raids of 1867 and 1870. Canadian soldiers also took part and put down the Riel Rebellion of 1869-70, and also the Northwest Rebellion of 1885. These struggles, in all of which the Canadians played a creditable part, sink into insignificance when compared with the titanic struggle which they are now waging on behalf of the Empire.—Montreal Journal of Commerce.

A Lumberman's Opinion.

'I was troubled with palpitation of the heart and sleeplessness,' writes Mr. William Fritchard, Lumber Inspector, William Mills, Ont., and used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with very good results. My whole system was strengthened and built up. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food forms new, rich, blood and restores the feeble, wasted nerve cells.

Flight of a Bullet.

The same projectile propelled by the same power will travel farther if projected vertically than if projected on a horizontal line four feet from the ground. Thus a bullet fired vertically with a velocity of 817, 100 feet per second, will ascend to a height of 153 feet, while if fired with same speed horizontally four feet from the ground will strike the earth at a distance of fifty feet.

The total number of prisoners taken by Russian armies and interned in Russia up to the 1st of April, according to figures made public lately in an official statement, was 10,734 officers and 65,558 men. In addition, this statement says, great numbers of Galicia prisoners have been given their liberty and sent home.

A Difference to be Considered

The difference in cost between a pure, wholesome cream of tartar baking powder and one made of alum is a mere trifle, perhaps one cent for a whole cake or pan of biscuits.

But there is a vast difference in healthfulness in favor of food made with Royal Baking Powder.

Read the label on your can of baking powder and see what it is made of. There is

No Alum in ROYAL BAKING POWDER

England Now Conducting 8 Campaigns.

The British government is at present carrying out eight distinct campaigns:

- 1—France.
- 2—Dardanelles.
- 3—Egypt, in which the Suez Canal is being held against Turks.
- 4—Persian Gulf, where the Admiralty's oil field is being defended against the same enemy.
- 5—Greece East Africa, where a reverse was sustained in November, since when complete darkness has fallen upon the operations.
- 6—German southwest Africa where the Union troops seem to be making good progress, concerning which nothing has been heard for months.
- 7—The Afghanistan frontier, where the invasion of Mohammedan tribes is being repelled.
- 8—Give me a smoke! is the continual request of Tommy Atkins; but Give me some chewing gum! is the cry of the Indian soldier at the front. The dusky fighter prizes his chewing gum as much as the British fighting man prizes his pipe or cigarette. The Indians claim that chewing gum not only allays nervousness, but by providing a supply of saliva it keeps the throat moist in the absence of water. Hundreds of years ago the Indians used the gum of sapidillo to relieve exhaustion and quench thirst, and it is for similar reasons that they chew gum on the battlefield to day.

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., JUNE 11, 1915.

Editorial Brevities.

May the brides of June be as happy as if no war clouds hovered over the world.

Those who are prompt in the keeping of appointments have a great deal of waiting to do.

Sergt. Michael O'Leary is not dead. Well, he deserved all the praise given him, which perhaps is not always true of obituary notices.

The Nova Scotia Legislature has passed a compulsory Town Planning Act under which all municipalities in the province have to prepare either town planning by laws or a town planning scheme within three years.

"Come and Let Us Save the Kiddies."

The above words, credited to Mr. Alfred G. Vanderbilt in his last hour upon the doomed Lusitania, will, as the Bishop of London has said, ring round the world. Many men and women have used the same terms, though probably not under such tragic circumstances. To-day, in Canada, we have groups of self-sacrificing men and women, who are devoting both their time and energies to the saving of the children.

The playgrounds movement, which has been taken up by so many cities in Canada, is only one of the many ways in which this result is being secured. In Canadian cities and towns, there are still innumerable children who will not be able to have a day in the country this summer—who are confined, for their pleasure and play, to the street or lane. It is on behalf of these children that the appeal of Alfred Vanderbilt rings out as truly as it did to the children on the Lusitania. Let Canadian men and women, who are interested in child welfare, organize, and see to it that every child, whether Canadian or foreign parent, has the opportunity of the open air, and liberty to develop the young life, that he may grow up to manhood, a credit to Canada and Canadians.

It is in opportunities such as this that the true spirit of conservation is found. Canada is looking to the future, and there is no field in which greater results may be secured than in the conservation of the individual unit—the child.

The Preservation of Milk.

(Issued by the Department of the Public Health, Nova Scotia.)

Much attention has of late been directed to the importance of securing clean and safe milk. It has been found that wherever a thorough system of milk inspection and control has been introduced there has been a very notable reduction of sickness and death among young children. Much stress is now being laid upon the necessity for producing milk under conditions of the strictest cleanliness, for paying particular attention to the health of cows, and for requiring refrigeration of the milk during its distribution. The pasteurization of milk has come into very general practice, and has been found to be most efficient in preventing the spread of infection through milk, although it does not lessen in any way the need for the most stringent cleanliness in every stage of its production and distribution. All this has done much towards securing clean and safe milk for the consumer in which these precautions are observed. It must be remembered, though, that all this effort may be to a great extent nullified if the milk does not receive sufficient care after it has been delivered to the consumer.

Many bacteria multiply in milk with extraordinary rapidity unless the milk is kept cold. Some of these bacteria may bring about such changes in the milk as to render it unfit for food, especially for young children. In order to prevent their development, the milk should be stored in perfectly clean containers and kept at a low temperature. It is much better that bottled milk only should be used; as milk delivered from cans is exposed to dust and flies. No milk into which a fly or dirt of any kind has fallen should be used. Milk pitchers should, therefore, be always kept well covered.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Supplying Coal for the Dominion Buildings," will be received at this office until 4:00 P.M., on Thursday, June 17, 1915, for the supply of coal for the Public Buildings throughout the Dominion.

Conditional specification and form of tender can be obtained on application at this office and from the caretakers of the different Dominion Buildings. Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. Help a Good Cause.

The Nova Scotia Temperance Alliance is supported by the voluntary gifts of the good people of Nova Scotia. In the name of the Alliance I would like to sincerely thank all those who have made this work possible.

We are convinced that this organization has already justified its existence by the fruits it has to show for its efforts. Let me briefly enumerate a few of the things which the Alliance has accomplished.

1. It has succeeded in unifying all the temperance forces of the province so that united action is now possible.

2. The Alliance has succeeded in crystallizing the temperance sentiment of the province so that it is now one of the greatest moral factors to be considered.

3. Together with all temperance organizations, it has carried on a campaign of education that is bound to have a far reaching effect.

4. The Alliance has been one of the chief agencies in securing the passing of the Nova Scotia Temperance Act which is regarded by competent judges as one of the best pieces of temperance legislation in the Dominion of Canada.

5. The Alliance has rendered invaluable service in strengthening the hands of officials in law enforcement, and in making more effective existing laws.

6. It has succeeded in enrolling a large number of the children in the Province as total abstainers.

For these and other reasons that might be advanced, we believe that we can appeal to the people of the Province for support.

At a meeting of the finance committee of the Nova Scotia Temperance Alliance, held in Truro, March 26th, it was decided to have the secretary issue an appeal for funds for the carrying on of this good work. The mind of the committee was that all these funds should be in the hands of Mr. P. McG. Archibald, Treasurer, Truro, by July 1st, 1915.

We therefore confidently appeal to the liberal-hearted men and women of this Province to stand by the work that has for its aim the protection of the boys and manhood of our Province from the ravages of strong drink and the deliverance of our women and children from the bondage which it entails. We appeal to all churches and temperance organizations to assist us in carrying on this work. We need at least three thousand one hundred dollars ($3,100.00) annually for the carrying on of this work.

Our Commander in Chief is capable and energetic, specially endowed and ordained for this work of leading the forces to victory. Shall we not all stand together and render all the assistance possible? It is our battle—IT IS OUR WORK. Nay, rather the battle is the province's, and we are the soldiers. The enemy has begun to waver. He is already half beaten. Let us then all unite together for the overthrow of this awful traffic. Shall Nova Scotia lag behind Russia? Can China prohibit opium while the Christian people of Nova Scotia hesitate to banish RUM?

Rally, men to the call! Remember the date July 1st, and the treasurer is Mr. P. McG. Archibald, Truro.

D. C. ROSS, Secretary,
Nova Scotia Temperance Alliance.

Worry and Weakness.

OPEN INDICATE OVERWORK, AND A RUN DOWN NERVOUS SYSTEM. Overwork and worry have an evil effect on the system and often give rise to nervousness and sleeplessness. Other signs include a weak back, headaches and indigestion. In time if matters are neglected a complete breakdown of the nervous system follows. On every hand one can observe victims of this state of nervous exhaustion who are at a loss to know what to do with themselves, their nervous debilitated state having baffled all ordinary treatment.

If you are a victim of exhausted nerves, if your symptoms are as described above, you need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills because they are a powerful nerve tonic. Their strengthening action on weak nerves is due to the fact that they enrich and build up the blood through which the nerves are fed. Under the tonic influence of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills all traces of nervous weakness disappear together with the headaches, the insomnia, the feeling of intense weakness and depression of spirits that mark the victim of nervous ailments. Here is the proof Mr. Henry Merr, Port Felix, N. S., says: "It gives me great pleasure to testify as to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When I began their use I was a physical wreck. My nerves were all unstrung. I suffered from frequent headaches and backaches, and was almost wholly unfitted for work. I had tried several remedies without success, when I finally decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. I took six boxes and they made me a well man."

What these Pills did for Mr. Merr they will do for every other weak and nervous man, if given a fair trial. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Economic Value of Birds.

The insects that destroy our fruit crops attack every portion of the tree and its fruit. The woolly aphid attacks the roots; the trunk and limbs are preyed upon by millions of plant lice, scale-insects and borers; the leaves are devastated by the all-devouring leaf worms, canker worms and tent caterpillars, while the fruit itself is attacked by the curculio, codling moth and apple maggot. By the annual expenditure of about $8,000,000 in cash in the spraying of apple trees, the destructiveness of the codling moth and curculio have been greatly reduced; but of course that great sum must be set down as a total loss to the farmers and consumers, in addition to a shrinkage of $12,000,000 in the annual crop from insect ravages that could not be prevented.

Now, in view of the foregoing, is it or is it not, worth while for patriotic-minded men to do their very utmost continuously, to protect from foolish and brutal slaughter man's only allies in the insect war, the insect eating birds?—William T. Hornaday in "Wild Life Conservation."

physically, how can man be led to perfect in hood by his inferior? The female teacher can train boys—through their twelfth year, but afterwards boys need the strong arm of a man. Why is it we have scores of young men loafing around, some leading irregular, or at least useless lives? There is a remedy for this evil. I vouch for it, there are scores of young men willing and able to render services as teachers right nobly, if they got a shadow of the advantages superior to women, mentally and

The bride, who was unattended, entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her away. She was prettily dressed in a travelling suit of blue with hat to match and carried a bridal bouquet of carnations and maiden hair fern. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Edrie Titus, and the duties of ushers were performed by Arthur Turnbull and Ross Smallic, the chancel being especially decorated for the occasion. After the ceremony was performed Mr. and Mrs. Rickards proceeded by

We note that, though Halifax is provided with tram cars and numerous cabs and public carriages of many sorts, a jitney bus service is about being established in that city. Wherever the jitney bus has been used the profits to the owners have been large, and the enjoyment and comfort to those availing themselves of its services incalculable. Many can afford a five cent ride frequently when they could not pay the usual charge for a carriage or automobile. Will not some enterprising individual or company give us a jitney bus service in Wolfville? It would surely be well patronized by the people of the town and also by tourists during the summer. Yours, JITNEY.

WHOLE FAMILY USES THEM

"Fruit-a-lives" Keeps Young And Old In Splendid Health

J. W. HAMMOND Esq. SCOTLAND, ONT., Aug. 25th, 1913 "Fruit-a-lives" are the only pills manufactured, to my way of thinking. They work completely, no gripping whatever, and one is plenty for any ordinary person at a dose. My wife was martyred to Constipation. We tried everything on the calendar without satisfaction, and spent large sums of money until we happened on "Fruit-a-lives". I cannot say too much in their favor.

We have used them in the family for about two years and we would not use anything else as long as we can get "Fruit-a-lives". Their action is mild, and no distress at all. I have recommended them to many other people, and our whole family uses them."

Those who have been cured by "Fruit-a-lives" are proud and happy to tell a sick or ailing friend about these wonderful tablets made from fruit juices. A box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

THE DAY'S WORK. It isn't what you mean to do a week ahead; It isn't what you know you'll gain when all annoyances have fled; It isn't what you dreamed and planned; Such hopes are but a phantom band— The day's work counts. The day's work counts— The foot you've gained Since yonder sun dispelled the dark. Next week, next month, next year, are vain— Unto the present summons hark; How have you fared ahead since morn In garnering in life's oil and corn? The day's work counts. It isn't much. The gain of those few painful hours. But be content, if there is shown Some product of those few painful hours. But be content, if there is shown Some product of those few painful hours. Strive with the best at your command The day's work counts.

TWO NERVOUS WOMEN

Made Well By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I had a severe case of nervous prostration, with palpitation of the heart, constipation, headaches, dizziness, and in my arms, limbs, nervous, restless feelings and sleeplessness. I read in the paper where a young woman had been cured of the same troubles by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound so I threw away the medicine the doctor left me and began taking the Compound. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to sit up and in a short time I was able to do all my work. Your medicine has proved itself able to do all you say it will and I have recommended it in every household I have visited."—Mrs. Mary Johnson, 210 Second Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Another Bad Case. Ephrata, Pa.—"About a year ago I was down with nervous prostration. I was pale and weak and would have hysterical spells, sick headaches and a bed pain under my shoulder-blade. I was under the care of different doctors but they didn't improve. I was so weak I could hardly stand long enough to do my duties. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had made me well and happy and I have begun to gain in weight and my face looks healthy now."—Mrs. J. W. Hutchinson, 11 No. 5, Ephrata, Pa.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 250 Central Ave., Lowell, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence. Do not expect a return for any money.

What Am I?

I am the foundation of all business. I am the fount of all prosperity. I am the parent, most times, of genius. I am the salt that gives life its savor. I am the sole support of the poor. The rich who try to do without me deteriorate, languish and usually fill premature graves.

I am the prim. cause, yet a b'ens sing that no healthy man or woman can be happy without. Nations that woo me ardently rise; nations that neglect me die. I am the friend and guide of every worthy youth. If he sticks close to me, no prize or place is beyond his reach. If he slights me, he can have no enviable end. I am the sole ladder that leads to the Land of Success. Sometimes men curse me, seeing in me an arch enemy, but when they try to do without me life turns bitter and meaningless and goalless.

I must be loved before I can bestow my greatest blessings and achieve my greatest ends. Loved, I make life sweet and purposeful and fruitful. Fools hate me; wise men love me. Savages, so rich men and many rich women shun me—their undoing. I can do more to advance a youth than his own parents, be they ever so rich. I am the support of millions, indirectly, the support of all. I am the creator of all capital. Wealth is me stored up. My followers among the masses are becoming more and more powerful every year. They are beginning to dominate governments, to overthrow monarchic dynasties. I am the mother of democracy. All progress springs from me.

The man who is bad friends with me can never get very far—and stay there. The man who is good friends with me, who is not afraid of me, can go—who can tell how far? Who am I? What am I? I am work.

Signs of Kidney Trouble. In the early stages kidney troubles are known by backache and urinary disorders. Later come dizziness, rheumatic pains, and perhaps diabetes. But don't wait for these. Dr. Cass's Kidney-Liver Pills will help you in a few hours. Their thorough action on the liver, kidneys and bowels will clear away the pains and aches and make you well again. A travelling sales agent visiting a large factory made a bet with the manager that he would pick out all the married men among the employes. Accordingly he stationed himself at the door as they came back from dinner and mentioned with those whom he believed to be married, and in almost every case he was right. How do you do it? said the manager in amazement. O, it's quite simple, said the traveler, quite simple. The married men all wipe their feet on the mat. The single men don't.

Dorothy was visiting her grandparents in the country for the first time. Seeing a quantity of feathers scattered about the henyard, she shook her head in disapproval. "Grandpa," she told him gravely, "you really ought to do something to keep your chickens from wearing out so."

WHAT CATARRH IS. It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form. Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good. To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building-tonic, free from any harmful drugs. Try it. Scott & Bowne, Toronto, Ont.

'Made in Germany' is a familiar saying that has had its day. Made in Canada is the popular phrase now. One way in which we can help the prosperity of our Dominion is to patronize home industries. If we ask for home goods, factories will be opened or built. By demanding articles 'Made in Canada' we can direct one hundred million dollars to Canadian manufacturers and help provide work for the unemployed.

In London, England, there was a little while ago, a heated discussion as to the influence of parental alcoholism upon the offspring. The Times, in comment upon the subject, makes the following curious remark: 'One of the recognized effects of total abstinence, it is said, appears to be the tendency to the use of unrefined and unsuitable language. It is probable that this circumstance alone has on more than one occasion been actually injurious in the cause of temperance.' We wonder if the printer blundered! On this side of the Atlantic the men and women who appear before the courts because of their 'unrefined and unsuitable language' are usually those who do not know that water is good to drink. For every case of 'unrefined and unsuitable language' produced by total abstinence we can produce probably a thousand which are the product of John Barleycorn.

More Boys After Battles. In England there are, according to the last census, 1,068 females to every 1,000 males. In other words, women in the British Islands outnumbered men by nearly 1,000,000. A similar situation exists in other civilized countries. Among the few exceptions are the Albanians and Montenegrins. Both these are warlike races, which, even in times of peace, constantly carry arms. In both cases men are slightly more numerous than women.

Among the Afghans and the hill tribes of Northern India, where tribal vendettas are always raging, the case is the same. There, where men are constantly meeting with violent ends, it might well be supposed that women would be in considerable majority. This is not the fact, for mother Nature balances matters, and the proportion of boy babies exceeds girl babies born by nearly five to four.

After the Franco-German war of 1870, it was noticed that in both countries for some years afterwards, more boys were born than girls. It was as if Nature had set herself deliberately to repair the upset in her usual arrangements which had been caused by the death of so many men. By far the most startling instance of this sort of thing is afforded by the South American Republic of Paraguay. From 1864 to 1870 Uruguay joined with Brazil and Argentina in trying to destroy Paraguay. Never in modern history was any country so terribly used. Before that war Paraguay's population was 1,117,470. After it she could number but 221,079. Of these only 28,746 were males of over fifteen years of age, while there were 105,254 women of over fifteen.

For years afterwards boy babies outnumbered girls by nearly three to one! Within less than thirty years the sexes were again equal in numbers. We may be sure that the next census will bring to light some startling figures as regards the birth-rate in this country, and however many of our brave fellows fall before us with Germany, the loss will eventually be made good.

Strawberries, helpful in restoring complexion that have been ruined by cosmetics. Tomatoes, excellent for torpid livers but should be avoided by gouty persons. Turnips supply a healthful food for sufferers from skin diseases. Watercress is one of the best known blood purifiers.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA. For some time Pat had been out of work, and he couldn't get a job anywhere. Lately Pat gladly accepted a situation as a railway porter, but he was in a bit of a fix as to how he could remember the destination of the train that came into the station. The station master had given Pat a whole list of names, most of which he forgot. When the first train came in Pat lost his head completely, and called out the following:— 'Here ye are for where ye're goin'; and you in there for here, come out!'

Johnny—Say, paw, I can't get these 'rithmic 'zomplex Teacher said somethin' 'bout we'd have to find the greatest common divisor. Pa—(In disgust)—Great Scott! Haven't they found that thing yet? Why they were hunting for it when I was a boy.

The peevish one at the table summoned his waiter and to him addressed this novel inquiry: 'Waiter, have you ever been to the Zoo?' 'Why sir, do you ask?' returned the astonished servant. 'I repeat,' demanded the peevish one, 'Have you ever visited the Zoo?' 'Well, sir,' 'You ought to go,' growled the peevish one. 'You'd enjoy seeing the tortoise who's past.'

'Keep a good fruit' is Kitchener's motto at home and abroad. Sweet Young Thing—So that's a sign of war, you say, but what about those little boys in front? Salt—Oh, them's just jugs, Miss. Sweet Young Thing—Yes, of course, jugs of war. I've heard of them. The little girl rushed into the drug store, handed the druggist a note and said: 'How was this trick?' And this is what the druggist read: 'Please send me a dozen's worth of almond and soda for a man in a cap.'
