

WAS SHOT IN MOUTH.

Emmett Roberts, the Author, Was Wanted for Murder.

Posse Came Upon Him in a Row-boat and Killed Him.

Had Murdered a Woman and Was Resisting Arrest.

St. Michaels, Md., June 25.—Emmett Roberts, the newspaper correspondent and magazine writer and author, who was wanted for the murder of Mrs. Edith May Thompson Woodill, the adopted daughter of Col. Charles A. Thompson, was shot to death by a sheriff's posse while resisting arrest of the wharf at McDaniel, Talbot county, at 4 o'clock this morning. Roberts fired one shot from a revolver, but without effect.

Shortly after midnight this morning a mysterious looking craft was seen moving up the waters of Black River, along the shores of which are the homes of Col. Thompson and Roberts. It is unusual to see a small boat out on the river at such an early hour, and John McQuay, a farmer, notified Sheriff Mortimer and Magistrate Willy, who were at St. Michaels.

Sheriff Mortimer, Magistrate Willy and a posse of six men hurried to the scene on the river shore at 1 a. m. All were armed. They crept down to the water's edge under the cover of darkness and made out the outlines of a man in his shirt sleeves languidly rowing about up the river. They made no demonstration, fearing they would frighten off the man wanted. They resolved to wait until the rower got into narrower waters and within range.

Sheriff Mortimer and Messrs. Cooper and Harper obtained a boat and followed Roberts leisurely to create the impression on Roberts' mind that he was not being chased. Roberts seemed annoyed by the boat following him, and hastened up the river at a faster pace, the sheriff's boat following. The cornering manoeuvre began shortly after 1 a. m.

Roberts was nearing the scene of his alleged crime. As the shores came together members of the posse made out the features of Roberts. He was near the wharf at McDaniel, from which point he is supposed to have fled.

When Roberts got abreast of the landing place and was but 100 feet from shore Magistrate Willy and his two deputies stepped out into the open.

"Hello, Roberts, throw up your hands!" shouted the magistrate. Roberts did not utter a word, but rose in his boat with a big revolver in his right hand. He quickly leveled it at the party on shore and fired.

Meyer Crone, a special deputy, fired a shot from a revolver at the white-shirted figure standing in the boat. The shot was drawn to the shore and the body examined. Roberts had a bottle of poison in his pocket and a number of letters. The body was taken to St. Michaels.

Will of Late Robert Campbell Entered For Probate.

The will of the late Robert Campbell, of this city, has been entered for probate by his widow, Mrs. Campbell, and S. F. Lazier. The estate is valued at $75,754.25, made up of: Real estate, $8,100; mortgages, $2,042.88; debts and notes, $17,474; life insurance, $6,308.88; bank stocks, $33,824.55; cash, $3,913.50. All members of the family, made up of Mrs. Campbell, Misses Ruby C. and Mabel M., Messrs. Robert B. and Harold A., get twenty shares each in the Imperial Bank and the Bank of Hamilton. Mrs. Campbell gets one-third of the balance and the remaining two-thirds are divided equally among the children.

PAINTER DEAD.

Philadelphia, June 25.—Wm. T. Trego, portrait painter, died at his home in North Wales, near here, yesterday. Overexertion and attack of vertigo, due to excessive heat, are assigned as the causes of his death.

Capt. John Ellison, a leading citizen of Fort Stanley, is dead.

ARE THREATENING TO MAKE TROUBLE.

Other Municipalities Are Already Objecting to Power Concessions Promised to Hamilton.

The power question will probably be fought out in the courts at once. If the special committee to-morrow afternoon decides to recommend the Council to take a thousand horse-power from the Hydro-Electric Commission it is believed that the Cataract will apply for an injunction restraining the city from taking any power from the Commission until it receives some guarantee that the city intends carrying into effect the power contract entered into with the local company last year. A number of the aldermen frankly admit that it is foolish to talk of taking power from both sources and attempting to use it at the Beach or other points. It would mean that year after year the city

A CONCESSION.

Riflemen Will Travel Cheaply Over the H. & D.

The Hamilton & Dundas Railway has agreed to accept rifle range tickets, going or returning, for the return trip to the city, from the Thirteenth and Ninety-First riflemen. Many of the men have been in the habit of going to the ranges on the T. H. & B. train, because they wanted to get out in a hurry. This meant that the half of the ticket on the electric road from Hamilton to the ranges was wasted, as the electric company refused to accept it for the return trip. The new arrangement will be a convenience, which the men are sure to appreciate.

ALL LIES, SAYS MRS. GOULD.

Flatly Contradicts Stories as to Her Drinking.

Denies Charges That She Reviled Servants at Castle Gould.

She Will be Cross-Examined as to Wine Checks.

New York, June 24.—Katherine Clemmons Gould was called back to the stand to-day for a final ordeal to explain away, if possible, the damaging testimony given by the witnesses for her husband in her suit for separation and alimony of $250,000 a year.

For two hours Mrs. Gould answered the questions of her counsel, repudiating with a monotonous denial all insinuations charging her with excessive drinking, profanity or other impropriety. She never drank to excess, never used profane language, never forgot her dignity as mistress of Castle Gould, and never overstepped the bounds of propriety, she declared in substance.

Getting down to the specific instances, she told her counsel that she had never tried to hitch up a pair of mules, had never ordered a table of dishes and food thrown from her Saint Regis apartments, had never referred to Dustin Farnum as "my new beau," never quarrelled with her husband before company, never had a coachman's arm about her waist to hold her on the carriage seat, never discharged an employee in anger, never became intoxicated aboard the yacht Niagara and never consumed two quarts of cocktails in two days.

Mrs. Gould's explanation of her friendship with Dustin Farnum naturally took up a considerable portion of her time to-day. Whatever intimacy there had been between her and the actor, she said, was advised for by her desire to have his account regarding her plans to return to the stage.

"My home had been broken up," she said, "all authority had been taken from me, my happiness was gone and I wanted some occupation to divert my mind."

"I thought of returning to the stage and wanted to talk the matter over with Mr. Farnum, who, I was convinced, would be able to help me."

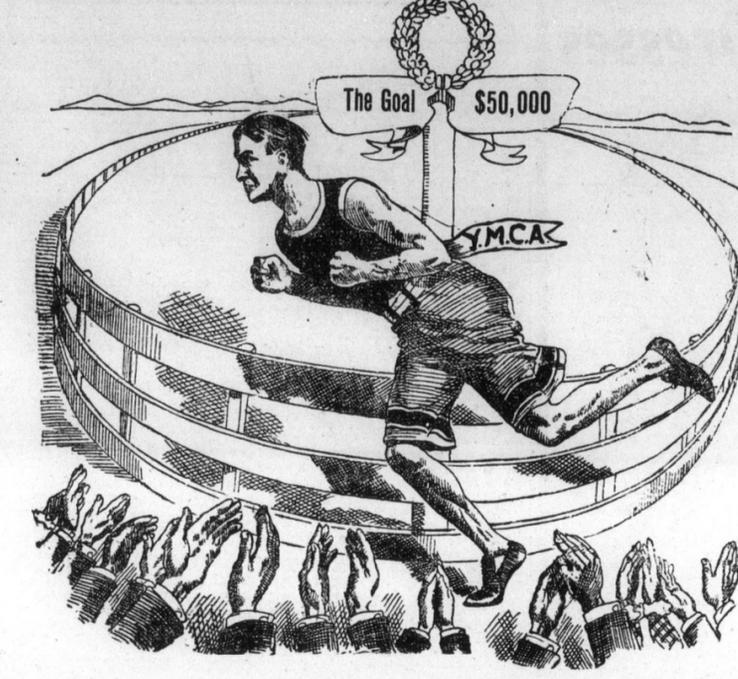

Mrs. Gould said that Mr. Farnum had never been in her parlor at the Saint Regis except on the August afternoon in 1904, when they had luncheon together with several other persons, and on the occasion of the automobile accident on Long Island, when they returned there to arrange for bail for the chauffeur. She had never addressed Mr. Farnum by an endearing name, she said, and had never permitted any improper familiarity on his part.

The large number of cheques for "refreshments" which were furnished Mrs. Gould at the St. Regis Hotel in the fall of 1906, when she lived there and as the defence contended, frequently had Mr. Farnum as her guest, are likely to be a subject of inquiry by Mr. Nicol, the defendant's counsel, on cross examination.

The trial is expected to be completed to-day.

HE HAS A GOOD START—HELP HIM WIN.

Y. M. C. A. started on a $50,000 race yesterday morning. It is a medium distance race. The fine athlete pictured above could have undertaken a $150,000 Marathon, but the distance was fixed for him and he's right into it. At noon to-day he had covered almost half the distance. Many hands cheer him on, but what about the pocketbooks? In this six day grind he will need some liniment. Rub him down with $1,000 or $500 or $100, you well-off citizen. You want to see Hamilton develop strong, moral, manly, courageous young men. How much are you giving to help the movement along? Don't wait until the last day to subscribe.

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING FUND IS NEAR THE HALF WAY MARK.

Noon, second day, $22,388. Almost half the money subscribed and four days and a half to raise the balance. The Y. M. C. A. campaign progresses finely. International Secretary Ward was delighted with the returns to-day. J. Orr Callaghan and Geo. Vallance joined the $500 list. B. O. Hooper, captain of No. 1 team, headed the list when returns were made at 1 o'clock to-day with a total of $820. For the two days, however, F. R. Smith still leads. His team's total was $1,010 the first day and $500 to-day, a total of $1,510. Capt. Hooper comes second with $1,461 and Capt. Russell T. Kelley third with $1,190. D. M. Barton made a great spurt to-day, and is just at the thousand mark. The great feature to-day was that the business men's teams had a higher total than the first day. Great enthusiasm prevailed at the noon gathering for luncheon to-day. President Powis and Mr. Ward spoke. Mayor McLaren and his opponent in the last campaign, ex-Ald. Bailey, sat side by side. The room was full and every team reported. Here are the figures to date: Official total, Thursday, $14,152; Special committee, 2,500; Business men's committee, 3,736. Grand total, $22,388. The following amounts indicate reports submitted by the teams of the Business Men's Committee, through their captains: No. 1, B. O. Hooper, $820; No. 2, N. E. Adams, 280; No. 2, N. E. Kelley, 565; No. 4, D. M. Barton, 664; No. 5, F. E. Shepard, 64; No. 6, F. Molloy, 50; No. 7, J. H. Horning, 490; No. 8, G. H. Lees, 490; No. 9, W. H. Seymour, 297; No. 10, F. R. Smith, 509. The following subscriptions for $500 and over have been received: Robert Mills, $5,000; Geo. Rutherford, 3,900; Thos. W. Watkins, 2,000; Alfred Powis, 1,000; J. J. Greene, 1,000; J. R. Moodie, 1,000; F. R. Dalley, 500; John E. Brown, 500; Friend, 500; J. Orr Callaghan, 500; Geo. Vallance, 500. (Continued on Page 12.)

TRAVELLED MANY MILES.

But Is Denied Admission to See Her Son in Hamilton.

Stricken by the withering hand of time, and because the government authorities fear that she may become a public charge, Granza Speranik, 64 years of age, is detained at Ellis Island, New York, and may be deported to her native land without seeing the son she travelled thousands of miles over land and water to meet. Mayor McLaren had his attention called to this sad case by the Department at Ottawa, this morning. The son, Amelio Mielo, resides at 260 John street north. He has been looking forward with expectancy to meeting his mother, whom he has not seen for years. When word came that she was detained at Ellis Island, he wrote to the Department at Ottawa that he was willing to furnish any bond necessary if they would only permit the old lady to cross the frontier and enter Canada. The Canadian Government Inspector at New York wrote that he could not recommend the admission of the aged woman on account of senility. The Mayor referred the matter to Relief Office McMenemy.

WRITS ISSUED.

Town of Oakville Restrained In Sewer Case.

Yesterday afternoon, Arthur O'Heir, acting on behalf of E. H. Gullidge, of Oakville, secured an interlocutory injunction to restrain that town from constructing a sewer on Front street. The sewer, which is now under construction, will if completed, empty into the lake close to Mr. Gullidge's house. An injunction is entered to prevent the completion of the work.

Acting on behalf of the Heintzman Piano Co., Arthur O'Heir has issued a writ of replevin for the recovery of a piano, sold to Mr. Charles Bloomers, who, it is alleged, has got so far behind with his payments that the company will carry him no longer.

TO GEO. ROSS.

Hamilton Post Office Employees Send Congratulations.

MR. GEO. ROSS.

The postoffice staff gathered together this morning, when the postmaster called attention to the important and gratifying news in this morning's papers that their old fellow worker, Mr. George Ross, now chief superintendent, had been honored by the King in being made Companion of the Imperial Service Order for his long and successful services. On motion of Mr. George H. Bull, the oldest employee in the office, seconded by Mr. Donald Campbell, the postmaster was requested to convey to Mr. Ross the hearty congratulations of the staff on the honors conferred on him.

THE MAN IN OVERALLS.

The yellow peril just now seems to be the Chinese Sunday School. There is one thing to be said for Mrs. Gould; she is not afraid to face the public in the fight for her rights, while Howard balked when it came to going on the witness stand. Don't tell the canvasser that HE MAY CALL AGAIN—Y. M. C. A. Now for a full and complete statement as to the Patriotic Fund. For what is it being held? Why not call a meeting of the subscribers? Then we must first ask ourselves the question, how would the Chief's motor

A TABLET

To Former Hamilton Boy Unveiled at Calgary.

A tablet to Rev. Fred Langford, formerly of this city, was unveiled in Central Methodist Church, Calgary, on Wednesday evening. He was pastor of the church from 1898 to 1903, and about the close of that period his health began to fail and he died shortly afterwards. About 25 years ago, when a boy, he lived in Hamilton, his father, Dr. A. Longford, then being pastor of First Methodist Church. The late Rev. Fred was a fine athlete and a splendid young man.

ADMITTED TO BAIL OF $2,000.

Charge of Conspiracy Against Louis Franks Stands Over.

Alfred Pitman Sent Up For Trial For Theft.

Foreigner Fined For Driving Horse With Sore Shoulder.

At Police Court this morning Louis Franks was charged with conspiring to defraud the Hamilton Steel & Iron Company. He is accused of getting false weigh bills, enabling him to collect larger sums from the company than he was entitled to. The case was remanded until next Friday. Crown Attorney Washington said that, as the conspiracy was alleged to have been going on for some time, the bail would need to be ample. Bail was fixed at $2,000.

Another charge of ill-treating a horse was up this morning. P. C. Brown had Nitan Lis summoned to answer to the charge. The constable said there was a large raw sore on the left shoulder of the animal and it was in no condition to be worked. When he noticed the blood was running from the sore, and when he spoke to the defendant he told him he was unaware of the sore, and said he would take it home. Two other witnesses gave evidence and corroborated what the constable had said.

Lis said the sore was not a large one and he did not know it was there as it was under the collar. "Who hitched the horse up that morning," asked the court. "Me did," responded the defendant. "Yes! and you didn't know the sore was there," asked the court.

He was fined $4 and costs, which amounted to $1. T. Nicholson appeared to answer to a charge of carting without a carter's license, preferred against him by P. C. Brown. Nicholson said he had a contract to do carting for the arms of P. C. Steamship Company, but had carted a few trunks for others, and the constable had summoned him for that reason. The chief said he did not want him fined if he would take out a license. Mr. Nicholson promised to take one out to-day. He was let off on that condition.

Alfred Pitman, the young man who is alleged to have decamped with some property belonging to his landlord, and who has twice been remanded, was up again this morning. William Hender, with whom the prisoner boarded, identified the articles which were found on the prisoner as his property. Pitman was sent up for trial.

Daniel Martin was another of the happy souls who cannot tolerate the warm weather without the assistance of a few highballs, but he took too many, and wandered into the arms of P. C. Lord, and had to part with the necessary $2 for his liberty. The case of Mrs. Murray, charged by Arthur Whittaker with holding back wages amounting to $10.96, was left over.

COURT MARTIAL AT OLD CAMP NIAGARA.

Lieut. Col. Rennie Assaulted by Regular He Caught at His Automobile.

(From the Times' Staff Reporter.) Niagara-on-the-Lake, June 25.—A court-martial is on at the old camp grounds this afternoon. Pte. Anderson, of the Royal Canadian Regiment, is in serious trouble.

After the blazing heat and hard work of the sham battle Lieut.-Col. Dr. Geo. S. Rennie, of the Hamilton Army Medical Corps, was enjoying the cool of the night in company with fellow officers, who were sitting in his tent about midnight. Col. Rennie heard a peculiar noise, and, on going out to investigate, he found two men at his automobile. He laid his hand upon one and spoke to him, whereupon the man suddenly straightened up and dealt him a blow that knocked him down. Then the two ran. The C. O. of the A. M. C. called for help and immediately gave chase. The two men had a long start, but one of them fell and was captured. He turned out to be Pte. Anderson. The other got away.

Anderson was given a summary trial this morning, and was remanded for court-martial this afternoon. Lieut. Dr. Greenway, Lieut. Dr. D. Kappel, Capt. Munro and Lieut. Farmer, all of this city, were witnesses this morning. What the men were doing about the auto is a mystery. The Fourth (Hamilton) Field Battery has marching orders for 8 o'clock to-night, and should be home before midnight. Col. Rennie's command, the A. M. C., will leave for home to-morrow morning. Capt. Lawson and the Army Service Corps, the first to go into camp, will be the last to leave, pulling out at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

TWO BOWS TO HER STRING.

How Miss Sigel Signed Her Own Death Warrant.

She Played the One Lover Against the Other.

Murderer Sent Lying Telegram From Washington.

New York, June 25.—Elsie Sigel's coquetting with her two Chinese lovers brought on her death. Her letters to Leung Lim, the flashy young sport, whose pockets were always empty, and to Chu Gain, who always had money for his friends, are direct indications to the police that the granddaughter of General Franz Sigel would be alive to-day if she had not tried to play two Chinese strings to her bow. The police have kept tight hold on the girl's loving notes to her yellow admirers, refusing to make them public for three reasons. The Sigel family went to London to give them out. Leung treated him for no reason, the police heads argue that Leung might have a better chance to run loose if the contents of Elsie's letters were common property.

They have not been entirely successful in Mulberry street, though, in preventing the contents of a few of the letters to the Leung Lim, hunted all over the world as the girl's murderer, and to Chu Gain, her other lover, from becoming known; and these letters tell in themselves the cause of her murder. She smoothed Leung's jealousy with one hand while she smoothed the ruffled feelings of the other Chinese with the other. She wrote one day to Leung Lim, the William L. Leon of the missions, her "Willie," assuring him she would not give him up for anybody. A few days later she wrote to Chu Gain that she loved Chu, and Chu only, and that "Willie" was nothing to her.

DANGEROUS FROM JEALOUSY. All of this time, for weeks before she was strangled in Leung's room, Leung was snarling with jealousy, threatening the girl, threatening Chu Gain, appealing to his own private Tong to help him get square and sending out Chung Sin as a spy. Chu, no Chinese for trouble, was dodging back and forth between the Sigel house and the Park Arthur restaurant, pleading with Elsie to keep Leung away from him, treating Leung to the best he had in his restaurant and asking the suspicious rival not to believe that his good friend Chu Gain had tried to take Elsie.

Elsie's letters indicated that she was willing enough to flatter the moneyed Chinese with loving phrases, but she was not quite ready to break off with her old lover Leung. There is no doubt in the world, though, that Leung believed Elsie was getting ready to quit him for Chu.

DROPPED DEAD.

Carried Heavy Trunk Belonging to Dockstader's Minstrels.

(Special Despatch to the Times.) St. Catharines, Ont., June 25.—Charles Lockhart, aged about 55 years, dropped dead while assisting the Transfer Company to carry into the Grand Opera House at 11 o'clock to-day the property of Low Dockstader's Minstrels. Deceased had been in his usual health up to the last, and had just carried in a heavy trunk, when one of the minstrels saw him fall over. Examination proved that he had expired. Coroner Jory was notified, and ordered the body removed to Grobb Bros.' undertaking establishment.

R. MCKAY & CO.

HUMAN INTEREST. Landscapes of the Dutch Painters of the Seventeenth Century. The Dutch painters of the seventeenth century were as little concerned with poetic feeling as with idealism. They used their eyes and painted what they saw, but neither their imaginations nor their feelings were touched. While most modern painters interpret how the scene has affected themselves, the Dutch looked at it as something entirely outside themselves. Otherwise the Dutch landscapes present us pictures of a pleasant workaday world, or of the quiet evenings that follow after the labors of the day; never a hint of disturbance, though wars and rumors of wars were constant; instead, the perpetual suggestion of prosperous peace and thrifty comfort. For they abound with the evidences of busy humanity. Not only is nature brought into touch with human life by the little figures, so charmingly lifelike, which animate the scene, but everywhere are the results of man's handiwork, seen in little things as well as big—in the trimly kept fruit trees of a laborer's garden plot no less than in the handsome facade of a rich burgher's town house. There is no country in the world where the influence of man is so minutely imprinted upon every foot of ground, and as these artists were eager to represent the things they saw, no landscapes are so full of human interest as theirs.—From Charles H. Caffin's "The Story of Dutch Painting" in July St. Nicholas.

Love Finds the Way

"To-night, the last night in this cursed island," he mused. "How cruel a place it has proved to me! Strange how the past comes up to-night. I cannot lay it as I am wont to do, and see her face as it smiled upon my breast, I can feel the touch of her hand—I felt it to-night when the lad's slim fingers crossed mine—as it toyed about my hair. Ah, ah, it was my fate that I should love and be betrayed; it was hers and all her cursed clan that they should suffer for it. She was beautiful enough to ruin a better man than I was; she is beautiful enough now to win his forgiveness. But, no, I cannot relent. One soft emotion is crushed out by the host of darker ones her treachery created in me, and I can have no pity!"

Here he rose and paced the floor. "To-night I thought the last would see me—and—and, let me own it, I felt a sharp stab here, and it struck his heart. 'Yet why—why! Bah! Where's the wine? I have put on the weakness of the physician's nature with his curser garments.'"

With a gesture of impatience he tore off the black coat and flinging it across the table walked to the cabinet. He took thence a flagon of wine, he re-seated himself and, pouring out a glass, drained it off.

"Good wine would make a brave fish of a periwinkle," he laughed, harshly. "The old Rudersheim sets the blood in my veins dancing. To-night the last night, to-morrow the wind-up. Can I trust that old fox, Mo, or that sneaking, pitiful cur, Charlie? The thought troubles me to-night. Supposing after I have gone, they turn king's evidence, and blurt out all the history of the coiner, forger, Melchior, and the strange lad with him. Suppose suppose—Bah! If I thought seriously that harm would come of them should I shrink from stopping the chance? No, a thousand times no! What are such vermin weighed in the balance of expediency but soot to my life? But no. There is no occasion for such desperate measures. Let them but use the ordinary caution of such natures and they are safe. It is strange enough. Mo should have been here to-night to tell me how things are going on. 'Sh! he is here!'"

With a steady tread he rose and opened the door. The Jew, who was creeping up the stairs like an old cat, wagged his head and shook his body, fingers with a nervous exaltation, but was too careful to utter a word until he had reached the room, and locked with his own hand the thick door.

"Well, my dear Mister Melchior, here I am, you see. Ah, ah, comfortable over you, my dear friend, and, as you know, enough, don't let it run over the glass, my dear, never be extravagant."

"Well," said Melchior, setting down the bottle, "what of the notes?" "All right," chuckled the Jew. "All right, my dear, my good friend, the jewels will bring in the diamonds to-morrow at 8 o'clock. I shall be here at 10—punctual."

"Melchior nodded. "And Charlie?" he asked. "Oh," he asked the Jew, pretending to be deaf and scooping his wrinkled claw round his unwashed, monkey-like ear. Melchior, who knew the old man as well as he knew himself, stooped down and stirred the fire, but kept his eyes fixed on the trembling one before him.

"Oh, very well—a little louder," said the Jew, shaking his head. "I don't know anything about him, my dear. Don't ask me. Ash he got the notes?"

Melchior, who did not seem to be in a conversational mood, nodded his head and screwed up his face. Then, uneasy under the calm, piercing gaze, rose and began putting on his hat, which owing to its dilapidated condition, was a work requiring time and judgment.

"I don't know, don't ask me," said the Jew, shaking his head. "I don't know anything about him, my dear. Don't ask me. Ash he got the notes?"

Shtate, I reply you with a leetle cheque, what shall I say? 'A thousand pounds.' 'Oh, my lord, you are too good!' replied the chevalier. 'No, no,' said the baron, waving his glistening hands in a fervor of generosity, fully believing that the ambassador was hanging back for a bribe, 'once and he drew out his cheque book.'

'Now was the chevalier's time, and he knew it. 'How can I thank you enough, my lord? With this proof of your friendship in my mind how can I do aught else than press your prior claim upon the consideration of my chiefs?' 'Just so,' chuckled the baron to himself. 'I thought you only wanted a bribe, my dear fellow.'

'But,' said the chevalier, 'if your lordship will give me such a token of your esteem I will venture to request another favor.'

'What is it?' asked the baron, who feared some exorbitant demand, and looked alarmed and sullen. 'A small matter only,' said the chevalier, pleasantly. 'The fact is I intended paying in an amount to a new account, and have a considerable sum in notes in my pocketbook; now, if your lordship will give me a cheque for them—graciously including the princely present you offer me—it will be a convenience. You see, my dear baron, I am desirous of the honor of paying in a large cheque drawn by the eminent Baron de Monipotte.'

'Ha! ha!' laughed the baron, not a little flattered by this compliment. 'Give 'em confidence, eh? Ha, ha! Vell, right. Where are the notes?' (To be Continued.)

himself out of a ticklish situation, but Elsie would not let him go. She explained quickly that Chu had come there on business and that everything was all right and Leung need not worry. She managed to get Leung away. That evening she wrote this letter to Leung Lam:

"My Dear William—I am writing this while mother is away from home. She would not let me if she knew it. Don't think, Willie, that I give you up for anybody. I will always remember the dear times we have had together. I will see you soon. "Elsie."

"With love," the letter pointed out to-day that this letter was considerably less fervent than some she had sent to Leung previously. It did not close, as others did with, "your own little Elsie sends you many kisses." They gather that Chu had had become decided No. 1 in the girl's eyes.

On the afternoon of June 8th, the day before Elsie disappeared, the situation was exactly reversed. Chu Gain travelled up to No. 209 Wadsworth avenue to call on his "little friend" and bumped into Leung Lim. They met outside the house and went in together, Leung giving Chu some very black looks. Chu nervous and scared. After Elsie had received them both, Chu made excuses to get away and left inside of fifteen minutes. The next morning, the morning of the day Chung Sin saw Leung over the girl's body, Chu got this letter:

"DON'T MIND WILLIE."

"My Dear—I don't want you to feel bad because Willie was here to-night. You know that I love you and you only and always. Don't mind Willie. Although he is nothing to me, I had to love him to-night. I do not send for him. "Your ever loving, Elsie."

The officials who are conducting the investigation have concluded that if Leung heard about this letter to Chu, Elsie signed her own death warrant. The light of the missions was already half extinguished, and the letter to Chu would certainly have finished him.

CHINESE STIRRED UP. Chinatown is more deeply stirred by the Sigel murder than by any event of recent years. The Chinese feel, in a measure, that their sufferance in the land that harbors them is in the balance. Little groups can be seen standing on the street corners studying the speaking cartoons in English papers that they cannot read.

As a result, there were issued two statements to-day from the rival societies in which Chu Gain and Leung Lim held membership. The Chinese Masons held a meeting at the Chinese Reform Association, and that they have no interest in him whatever, other than to aid in his capture.

On the other hand, the Chinese Empire Reform Association, which numbers on its rolls most of the wealth and brains of Chinatown, has sent a circular letter to its 170 branches throughout the United States, instructing all members to keep an eye open for Leung, who, it is said, had deserted the society for the Masons.

A meeting was held to-night at the Morning Star Mission, in the heart of Chinatown, to raise funds for running down Leung.

SENT THE TELEGRAM. New York, June 25.—The fact that the telegram sent to the parents of Elsie Sigel from Washington on the night of her disappearance, assuring them of her safety, and announcing her early return, had been sent by Leon Ling, the young Chinese whom the police charge with her murder, was established to-day by Detective VanWagner, who returned from Washington, armed with the original of the telegram.

Detective VanWagner was able to compare admitted handwriting of the missing Chinese with that on the telegram form, and the similarity is marked. The detective also found a number of persons who had seen Leon in the National Hotel, Washington, and all doubt of his having been in the capital on the day the telegram was sent has been removed.

The police and district attorney's office have been diligently running down the man who first seemed to indicate that Leung might have been in hiding in some dark and impenetrable corner of Chinatown, but nothing has come from them.

The now established presence of Leon in Washington subsequent to the murder makes less likely of belief in the stories of his having remained in hiding here, however, the authorities doubt that having once left this city Leung would return.

IS THIS THE MURDERER? Norfolk, Va., June 25.—The Hawaiian Steamship Company's steamer Arizona, which sailed from Norfolk yesterday, bound for San Francisco has aboard Leon Ling or Lang, who was signed as a member of the vessel's Chinese crew in New York, June 11. He left on the steamer, June 12, for Lambert's Point, where the vessel was found taking on a full cargo of government coal for the Pacific coast.

Applied by Chinese Gardener it Caused Panic in Victoria, B.C. Victoria, B. C., June 24.—Insufficient washing of lettuce purchased from a Chinese gardener has been responsible for much Paris green poisoning that has greatly puzzled local doctors and the police. It was feared at one time that a mesenteric poisoner was operating in the residential districts. Happily the small quantity of poison adhering to the leaves was insufficient to cause death, although perhaps a score of victims have sought medical aid. Discovery of the source of danger came through a physician whose daughter was one of our keenest. The Chinaman used the poison to kill insects.

Hawk That Wouldn't be Trapped. An interesting hawk story comes from Concord township. Recently N. V. Chickens, a farmer, set a steel trap in his kitchen lot to catch some sly animal that had been robbing him of chickens. The day after it was set an investigation showed that the trap had been carried away. Nearly a week passed before he heard a great commotion among his chickens, and going out he saw a hawk snaring upward with a chicken in his beak, and another on one of his claws, and from the other claw was dangling the steel trap that had been carried away a few days before.—Ashboro Courier.

Ballentine Wins Suit Against Jackson-Tilden Company. At Toronto yesterday the action of W. J. Ballentine against the Tilden-Jackson Typewriter Company, was heard by Mr. Justice Teetzel.

Mr. Ballentine worked for twenty months doing all the clerical work during his spare time of several hours a day. He claimed $30 a month.

Some of the stockholders favored the payment of others opposed it. So Mr. Ballentine brought suit.

"This is only the thin edge of the wedge," said W. S. McBryne, of Hamilton, counsel for the defendants, when the court allowed Mr. Ballentine's full claim of $600. "There may be $20,000 in claims to follow for all we know."

Mr. McBryne stated to Mr. Justice Teetzel that, although he had no evidence to prove it, Jackson, the inventor and general manager of the company, was in collusion with Mr. Ballentine.

"Nothing of the kind," defended Mr. S. F. Washington, E. G. Mearns, crown attorney of Wentworth county, who appeared for Mr. Ballentine.

In Webb vs. St. Mary's and Western No. 1, W. R. Wadsworth, for plaintiff, moved for an order for inspection of property, and to take photographs, etc.

Saturday at McKay's. R. McKay & Co. announce in this issue two very important sale events for to-morrow: Women's wash suits and lingerie dresses and lovely shift waists. A leading New York manufacturer wired the first of the week and offered our buyer 450 suits and dresses. Our buyer took the first train for New York, and after some little time, secured the whole lot at her own prices—purchased beautiful and stunning suits and dresses of the very latest styles, the kind now worn on sale to-morrow at half and less than half regular in many cases. And by all means don't miss the buying chance of the season of dainty mill waists, made with Swiss embroidery fronts; others made with yokes and trimmed with insertion, the buying chance of the season. Would advise early shopping for these two great special summer sale events.—R. McKay & Co.

Street Orators Arrested. Winnipeg, June 24.—Recently the police forbade preaching and speaking where crowds were sufficient to in any way interfere with traffic or where the assemblies exceeded limited numbers. A number of orators who have enjoyed the liberty of speaking on the street for a long time and have earned a livelihood thereby refused to obey the mandate and compared Winnipeg with Russia. To-night they planned a general defiance of the law and announced that they would speak when and where they liked. They started but were promptly arrested.

Must Study Conditions. London, June 24.—Referring to "Our Declining Trade With Canada," the London Mail says experts agree that the British trader is not making the most of his opportunities. How many British manufacturers have paid a visit to the great Dominion, examined in detail the demands, not only in the East, but also in the fast growing provinces in the West and centre?

THE HAMILTON TIMES

FRIDAY, JUNE 25, 1909.

MONEY TO BURN.

Ignorance or some equally discreditable motive leads some of the Hydro Electric partisans to indulge in coarse guffaws of ridicule at Mayor McLaren's statement that entering into a contract with the Hydro-Electric Commission, for even the small block of power now under consideration, may cost the city in excess price, as compared with the figure guaranteed under the contract with the Cataract Company, a very large sum of money, probably $200,000, which is to be regarded as a bonus to the Hydro Electric.

The Hydro smart alecks may chortle, but to the taxpayers of the city it is no laughing matter. While the uncertainty as to exact cost of Hydro power which befalls the negotiations cannot be entirely removed, each party entering the scheme being in ignorance of each year's price of power till at the end of the year a reckoning of all the costs, charges, losses, etc., is made and allotted or apportioned among those liable, we have now before us something approaching definiteness given by Mr. Lobb in reply to very close questioning by the aldermen. It is probably safe to assume that in the effort to induce the council to bite he has not overstated the probable price. The information which he has given enables the committee to arrive at $20.70 a horse-power. There are, however, various unprovided for items, besides the contingency of the city being under the contract held to pay for much power that it will not be able to utilize; and the yet unknown jokers of measurement, the peak-load and the conditions as to load factor computation. Mayor McLaren would not be astonished if the price worked out at $25 instead of $20.70 Mr. Lobb's figure.

Let us see what the city will be throwing away in such a contract; and, bear in mind, the ratepayer bears it all. The power is sold to the city, and he is made to pay whatever it will cost, $20.70, $25 or as much more as we may be billed for, in order to divert the money from the Hamilton industry which has already contracted to furnish power at $16. The difference realized is as much as loss as if the torch had been applied to so much value of city property.

If the city contract for 750 horse-power the loss per h.p. at the $20.70 figure (taking no account of other unknown items) will be $4.70; on 750 h.p. that would be $3,525 a year. At the $25 rate the loss will be $9 per h.p. or $6,050 a year.

If 1,000 h.p. be taken the loss will be $4,700 a year, or $9,000 at the higher figure.

Now Hamilton's money is worth 4 per cent. The ratepayers do not often realize that for their 4 per cent. debentures. Let us ascertain what these yearly largesses to the Hydro scheme will cost them in cold cash in the course of the 30 years of the contract reckoning money at 4 per cent, compounded semi-annually.

If we take 750 h.p., losing $3,525 a year, we lose a total of $205,489.54.

If we take 750 h.p., losing $6,050 a year, we lose a total of $325,884.40.

If we take 1,000 h.p., losing $4,700 a year, we lose a total of $274,141.00.

If we take 1,000 h.p., losing $9,000 a year, we lose a total of $524,952.

Taking even the lowest of Mr. Lobb's estimates, and omitting the probability that they will be exceeded, what does Hamilton owe the municipalities in this Hydro scheme that it should give it such a bonus out of the taxes of the ratepayers of the city?

THE EMPIRE'S TRADE.

Mr. Robert Meighen, of Montreal, who has just returned from a visit to England, is strong in his opinion that free trade within the British Empire is sure to come. He points out that the British tariff reformers are in favor of it. The Canadian West generally approves of such an arrangement. While that is true, it is not to be denied that the necessities of revenue and the situation created by Canada's tariff policies of the last 30 years will take considerable time to adjust to such an arrangement. Moreover, there are powerful interests to be dealt with in attaining such an end, interests whose profits derived from the tariff taxation of the rest of the people furnish strong incentives to oppose any such arrangement. The wonderful and varied interests of the aggregation of countries included in the British Empire will, perhaps, for many years to come, prevent the adoption of any tariff legislation of a uniform character. This, however, should be no obstacle to the removal of most of the difficulties which protection now places in the way of a real Empire organization. The subject is a very large one and one regarding which there need be no haste. But in such a consummation true Imperialism—real union of interests—must tend. Every tariff cordon placed around a British State is an influence for repulsion, not for cohesion. Community of interest, community of sentiment, and likeness of aim, are necessary to any real organic union of what we are pleased to term the British Empire. It is at present a world-wide company of separate States, bound together only by a strong British sentiment. They may—we believe they will—gradually take the form of a world federation of British nations, united, not only by sentiment, but by commercial and constitutional ties. As means to bringing about such a union, Empire trade will be a powerful influence. But we must not be in too great haste.

WELL PLACED HONORS.

The new list of honors bestowed upon Canadians by His Majesty King Edward has at its head one of Canada's oldest and most respected statesmen, Hon. R. W. Scott, ex-Secretary of State, now in his 85th year, who has been made a Knight Bachelor. He was Mayor of Ottawa in 1852, and sat in the Canadian Legislature in 1857. With very brief intermissions, he has served his country in a representative capacity ever since that time. The most widely known of Canadian temperance measures, the Canada Temperance Act, familiarly known as the "Scott Act," passed in 1875, was his work. He has been a member of the Senate since 1874. The honor bestowed upon him is well deserved. It would be well for Canada if she had many statesmen of his character and ability.

The others honored are all members of the civil service. They are: Mr. E. L. Newcomb, Deputy Minister of Justice, and Mr. W. J. Butler, Deputy-Minister of Railways and Canals, who are made Companions of St. Michael and St. George; and Mr. George Ross, superintendent of the Post Office Department, and Mr. A. J. Gerald, Deputy-Minister of Inland Revenue, on whom are conferred the Imperial Service Order. The thousands of friends of Mr. Ross in this city, where he earned promotion and distinction by his native ability and devotion to work, will join with the Times in heartily congratulating him upon this recognition of merit, and will wish him continued and increasing success. One of these days they may have the pleasure of addressing him as "Sir George." Hamilton feels honored by the compliment to one of her popular sons.

BEATS "OWNERSHIP."

Wisconsin has apparently discovered a way to reconcile private operation of public utilities with the best interests of the people served and to head off the wild-eyed Socialism which conducts its warfare under the soft-sounding name of "public ownership and operation of public utilities." The craze reached its height in 1906, and under the delusion many bills aimed at gas, electric light, telephone and street railway companies were introduced into the State Legislature. Fortunately for Wisconsin, the members had not quite lost their heads, and they set about the effort to prepare a bill that would cure evils without inviting chaos. The officers of the utility companies tendered their assistance, frankly conceding that companies serving the public owed it to that public to respect its rights. The Legislature accepted their co-operation and by free discussion vicious bills were laid aside and the reasonable and controlling clauses proposed by both sides inserted in a temporary bill, which was then thoroughly discussed. The main contentions of the companies were for perpetual rights, so that capital could be enlisted, and for exclusive rights, so that the public could get the best service and the lowest rates, since competition would ultimately add to the cost to the public. The committee concluded these contentions, and the bill adopted gives the companies reasonable returns and protects them in the just use of their properties, while it gives the State Railroad Commission, in whose charge the administration of the bill was placed, control of operation and the power to regulate bookkeeping, receipts and expenses.

Among the more important provisions of the bill, besides those mentioned here, are: The measure applies to heating, lighting, water and power properties and plants which serve the public, these being termed "public utilities" in the act. Every public utility must furnish reasonably adequate service and facilities at just and reasonable rates. The commission shall value all the property of the public utilities, used and useful for the convenience of the public. Every public utility shall keep accounts on the forms prescribed by the commission, shall render accounts of all business to the commission, and shall carry a proper depreciation fund according to rates of depreciation determined by the commission. Depreciation shall be provided for by the commission in fixing rates. No rate can be changed without the consent of the commission, or any preference or favor given to any one. Complaint may be made to the commission against a rate or service by 25 persons or by any municipal council or public society, and the utility company may make complaint against unjust treatment by a City Council and ask for an advance in rates. The commission then hears and decides, unless, as is often the case, settlement is made without formally calling in the commission.

Wisconsin's bill prevents a municipality from constructing rival plants, unless the commission decides that public convenience requires such. This is regarded as effectually preventing the gross waste of capital and injustice to the furthering of which "municipal ownership" is so often prostituted. Investment capital is safe; it is justly controlled; the ratepayers are protected against unprincipled exploiters who have graft or revenge to serve in using them; application of capital, and consequent waste, is avoided, and the public gets its service on business principles.

It takes money to run a Greater Hamilton Association, or any other scheme to advance the city's interests. Money is scarce enough for these purposes, but some people are very eager to plunge the city into a wasteful Hydro-Electric deal which will be a big hole in the city's pocket and may cost it from $200,000 to $500,000 less in the term of the proposed contract.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A New York man has been sent to penitentiary for a year for selling cocaine. The punishment fits the crime.

Reports from Calgary indicate that the fall wheat crop has suffered severely by winter killing. In some localities not more than one-third of a crop will be harvested.

The visiting Anglican Young People's Association seemed to thoroughly enjoy its outing in this city yesterday. There are few pleasanter places in which to spend a summer holiday.

When $16,000 is raised in a morning for the Y. M. C. A., and when people vote to give away hundreds of thousands a year as a bonus to the Hydro scheme, can it be said that money is tight?

By this time probably Mayor McLaren has concluded that the Toronto World should be voted an expert in the art of insinuating mean things without getting its fingers into the criminal libel trap.

Will the Toronto Telegram please stop Mr. Lobb a few. The man actually says the power municipalities will instead of barring Hamilton out give us exceptional terms!

Von Buelow's inheritance tax bill has been rejected in the Reichstag in a House of record strength, even with the Socialists voting in its favor. It is probable that the measure will now be dropped.

The militia suffered much from the heat in the sham fight yesterday at Niagara camp. Their performance, however, was regarded by Major-General Lake, the umpire-in-chief, as exceedingly creditable.

An argument against the use of chemical preservatives in foodstuffs not easily got over is that in good food products they are not necessary to their preservation, while the use of them at all makes it possible to palm off inferior articles on the public. All foods which contain preservatives are open to suspicion.

The Kaiser, in his speech at Cuxhaven, yesterday, declared that his meeting with the Czar is to be regarded as in the cause of peace. "All peoples," he said, "need peace in order under its protection to fulfill undisturbed the duties of civilization for their economic and commercial development. We will both therefore continually endeavor, as far as lies in our power, to work with God's help for the furtherance and maintenance of peace." His words were warmly applauded. Probably there is less of the war spirit abroad than some people would have us believe.

The local power monopoly organ protests against Whitney's closing of the courts and passing special acts to make legal illegal Hydro-Electric by-laws, pleading that the legislation complained of is intended to "protect the municipalities from harassing litigation." Great isn't it? If the burglar and the footpad could only get Whitney's ear they might induce him to interpose an act to "protect them from harassing legislation," and very inconvenient courts and prisons! And little more, could on principle, be said for such "protective" legislation. The cause that cannot face the tribunals of justice can hardly be an admirable one.

BABY TORTURED FOR 6 MONTHS

By Terrible Itching Eczema—Face and Head a Solid Sore—Spread to His Hand and Legs—Would Scratch Until He Bleed—Tiny Sufferer Immediately Relieved and

ENTIRELY CURED IN 2 MONTHS BY CUTICURA

"When my son Walter was two weeks old, eczema appeared on his face. We did not know what it was so went to a doctor who treated him for three months. Then he was so bad that his face and head were nothing but one sore and his ears looked as if they were going to fall off, so we tried another doctor. He said he could cure him and we doctored there four months, the baby never getting any better. His hand and legs then had big sores on them and as for his sleeping, we could not think of it. His poor little fellow suffered so terribly. First I tied his hands to the crib to keep him from scratching, but when it got so bad I tied him in a shawl or he would scratch himself all bloody. When he was seven months old we tried a lot of Cuticura Remedies. The first application of Cuticura let him sleep and rest well, in one week the sores were gone but it stayed red and sometimes it would itch so we used Cuticura for two months, then he had a clear and white face. Now he is two years and seven months old and has never had eczema again. I hope this letter will help some who are suffering from skin disease. Every mother who has a baby suffering with skin disease should just try Cuticura; there is nothing better." Mrs. Louis Beck, R. F. D. 3, San Antonio, Tex., Apr. 15, '07.

A single set of Cuticura Remedies is often sufficient to cure torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, and scaly rashes, eczema, rashes, and irritations, from infancy to age, when all other remedies fail. LET THEM OUT.—(Stratford Beacon.) Here comes another man with an idea that school life as it is now is too heavy a burden upon children. Rev. Dr. Lyle, of Hamilton, believes that our children would be better off mentally and physically if they were allowed to live in the open without school room restrictions until they reach the age of ten.

He and Rev. G. F. Salmon, of this city, are not the only people who have an opinion of this kind, but it is difficult to lay down a hard and fast rule. The probability is that the majority of children are sent to school too young.

A FAVORITE CASTLE.—(Toronto News.) Mrs. Forbes, of Rothiemay Castle, Banffshire, who is staying with Mrs. Kemp at Castle Frank, has met with several interesting experiences since her arrival in Canada, which she chatted about brightly yesterday. Producing a card bearing the name of Mr. Robert Thomson, Rothiemay, King's County, N. B., she said: "At Mrs. Sanford's garden party on Saturday in Hamilton a lady sitting beside me who saw the name on my badge, said, 'Excuse me, but would you mind if you are Mr. Forbes, of Rothiemay Castle, in Scotland?' Upon my saying I was, she told me that twenty years ago she was visiting in the neighborhood of my home, and fell so much in love with it, that she called her place Rothiemay.

Scrap Book Poetry

A CONSTANT FRIEND. The man without a dollar May lead a blameless life, Be pleasant to his children And tender with his wife, Be willing with another His pittance small to share, But that is not sufficient To get him anywhere.

It will not buy a ticket On any railroad train, 'Tis not permission written To come in out the rain. Though it may on occasions Procure a smile or so, That is, as you have noticed, As far as it will go.

A dollar in the pocket And several in the bank Make more of an impression Than glitter, gilt and rank. The gentleman who only Can view it from afar May have some friends; but, gracious, He don't know where they are.

The great almighty dollar, A full one hundred cents, That pays for bread and taffy, For taxes, tolls and rents, Is for the happy owner, A true and constant friend, And one in storm and sunshine On which he can depend. —Duncan M. Smith.

Good Short Stories

IT BROKE HIM. Senator Aldrich was criticizing at a dinner in Washington, certain phases of tariff revision.

"They won their point," he said, smiling. "In winning it they exercised considerable ingenuity, too. They reminded me of a young Foster bride.

"She married, this resourceful creature, a young man of rather gay habits. Yet from the start all went well. The husband soon became the village model of domesticity.

"Jim," said a girl friend to the bride, no longer spends his evenings at the club, does he?"

"Oh, no," said the other, laughing. "I soon broke Jim of that."

"How did you do it?" asked the girl.

"The young bride gave a low, contented laugh.

"Every night he went out," she explained, "I'd put two armchairs side by side before the parlor radiator, and then I'd hold a match to a cigar till the room got a faint odor of smoke." — Washington Star.

PAY-AS-YOU-ENTER.

"Really," said the lady with the beehive hat, "I insist."

"No, dear," protested her companion, whose hat was nearly as great in diameter as a turn-table at a round-house, "you mustn't. Please let me. I have the change right here. Let me see, I wonder—"

"But you paid for me last time. I have the money all ready. Conductor, can you change a $10 bill?"

"Now, I shall not permit you to have that broken. I have some change all ready. If I can only find it. Dear me, I wonder what I—"

"It's all right; I want to get this bill changed anyway. I wonder where I put—"

"No, no, really you mustn't. I thought I had the change all ready. I must have lost a nickel of it, somehow. But I have a $5 bill that—"

"Did you say you had a nickel?"

"Yes."

"Well, I have one, too, so I'll pay for you next time."

"No, you shan't do so. I shall insist."

"Then each handed out her nickel, saying to herself:

"The idea of her pretending to have a bill. She never had more than twenty cents at one time in her life!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

THE LAST THREE DAYS.

Senator Tillman was condemning the divorce laws of the North.

"Your Southerner has just one girl," he said, "and when he gets rich he sticks to her. He lets her share in her old days in the fortune that she helped to pile up. That, it seems to me, is more equitable than the Northern idea of discarding the faded wife, when success is attained, for a beautiful chorus girl of 18 or 19 summers."

Senator Tillman frowned.

"The way Northern marriages so often end," he said, "you'd think matrimony was a dreadful thing. You'd be inclined to look at it as a little boy in Boston did."

"Pa," he said one June day, "if I hear Uncle Joe is going to be married on the 5th."

"Yes," said the father, "Uncle Joe has only three days more."

"The little boy sighed."

"The last three days," he said, "they give them everything to eat they ask for, don't they, pa?"—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

WIDE OPEN So Elk City's Mayor Tells in New York City.

New York, June 24.—Mayor Jack Munroe, of Elk City, Ont., at one time well known in the prize ring, called on Mayor McClellan at the City Hall this morning. Mr. Munroe said afterwards that he had extended the freedom of his city to the Mayor of New York for his vacation, and had promised him plenty of hunting and fishing, but Mr. McClellan had already arranged to go to the Adirondacks. Mr. McClellan failed to learn the former prize fighter's identity until he had started to leave the hall, and immediately called him back again. The Mayor of Elk City, Mr. McClellan, said seemed anxious to get all information possible about the new charter. "How about closed Sundays up in Elk City?" Mayor Munroe was asked. "Do you have any trouble in that line?" "Not a bit," he replied emphatically. "Everything is wide open."

Reflections of a Bachelor. (New York Press.) The more bargains the less buy. A man likes to be generous about something so he can feel what a fine fellow he is to do it. The happier a man could make his wife by taking her on a trip with him, the more she oughtn't to expect it. The first time a girl is engaged she is afraid other men will try to flirt with her; the next time that they won't. When a woman says she has nothing to wear it's a sign she would be madder than a hornet if somebody else said it.

VON BUELOW BEATEN

Vote Went Against Him in the German Reichstag.

Berlin, June 24.—The Reichstag to-day further added to the Government's difficulties, in its proposed financial reforms, by rejecting a vote of 194 to 186, the Imperial ministry's bill to extend inheritance taxes to direct heirs, including women and children.

The President of the Reichstag acknowledged this evening that the bill in its present form would be dropped. Chancellor Von Buelow and his colleagues followed the ebb and flow of the debate with the tenacious interest. The Chancellor, however, did not speak. He left the chamber when he learned that the voting was likely to be unfavorable to his bill.

PRINCE VON BUELOW

House gathered in record strength, 381 members being present out of a total of 397. The National Liberal, Herr Quarek, although seriously ill, insisted upon being carried to the House in order to participate in the vote.

The speeches were exceedingly bitter, and especially those of the Conservatives and National Liberals. The Conservatives, Centreists, Poles, Alsations and Independents united to form the majority against the Government. The Imperial Conservatives, National Liberals, Radicals and Socialists voted in favor of the measure.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Nelson Auger, of Corinth, Probably Fatally Injured.

St. Thomas, June 24.—In a severe storm which passed over Corinth on Wednesday evening, Nelson Auger, farmer, who, with a neighbor, D. Firly, sought shelter under a tree, was struck by lightning and so severely injured that small hopes are entertained for his recovery. Mr. Firly was also stunned, and his horse was killed by the same bolt. Mrs. Isaac Connor, wife of a section foreman, was struck by a bolt while she stood in the door of her house, and was rendered unconscious. Her back was injured.

Discouraged.

The last dodo was about to hand in its checks. "What's the use of living any longer?" said the dodo. "All the hatching nowadays is done with incubators. Thus, with no family tree that could be relied upon, and with no incentive to regard posterity with pride, the forlorn old bird willingly breathed its last."

THE PATH OF PROGRESS.

Herr Hendrik Hudson had just returned, and was going up the river to which he had lent his name. He was leaning over the rail with his eye on the flitting landscape when the reporter cornered him.

"What do you think of the scenery?" asked the man with the pencil, motioning to the hills and valleys. "I don't wish to criticize," returned the voyager, "but I believe that in many places the landscape could have been arranged to better set off the advertisements."

Then the reporter marvelled that the early explorer had so well kept up with the times.—Fuck.

THE LESSON.

In a certain Sunday school a teacher told her pupils the tragic story of Samson and Delilah. Then she turned to a little boy. "What do you learn, Joe," she said, "from the Samson story?" "It don't never pay," piped Joe, "to have a woman cut a feller's hair."—Harper's Weekly.

The appearance of President Taft in the pulpit of Rodef Shalom Congregation at Pittsburg recently, was a notable event in itself, but it acquires additional significance from the nature of the brief address which he delivered on that occasion. The president has given frequent evidence of his liberality of thought, but never in a more decisive way than he did on this occasion. This is the first time, we believe, that has marked the active participation of the executive head of a great nation as a speaker in connection with the ceremonies attendant on worship in the synagogue.

The number of societies is given as 497, the number of members as 141,005, and the amount spent in the current year as $1,628,127.

According to an article on "Jewish Charity in Berlin," by Dr. Wilhelm Feilchenfeld, it appears that the total expenditure of seventy-nine benevolent institutions comprising the subventions of the Council of the Jewish Community to the extent of 231,000 marks, amounted in 1908 to the total sum of nearly two million marks ($300,000). In addition to this there are nine very important organizations, like the Hilfsverein der Deutschen Juden, the German branch of the Alliance Israelite, etc., which draw their resources largely from Berlin, but expend them elsewhere.

The exclusively Berlin charities amount per annum to 940 marks per head of the Jewish population of 147,000 souls. The total properties, funded and otherwise, belonging to 83 Jewish charities, amount to nearly $5,000,000.

SPEECH DAY AT HIGHFIELD SCHOOL.

Most Successful Year In the School's History Brought to a Close This Morning.

Concise Review of the Work by Principal Collinson—List of Prizes and Successes.

Speech day at Highfield School has become the important day of the year. It is looked forward to by the faculty, the boys and the parents alike, and annually attracts to the beautiful lawn of this splendid school a large assemblage of those interested.

Highfield aimed at turning out into the world boys of independence of character, high principles, fine physique and a sound education, which would enable them to take hold of any position in life they might be called on to fill.

Brief congratulatory addresses were also made by His Lordship, Bishop DuMoulin, Rev. Dr. Lytle, Moderator of the General Assembly, and Mr. Adam Brown, Postmaster.

Mr. Brown spoke particularly to the boys of Highfield. He was delighted to see and to hear of the spirit of manliness that prevailed in the school. It spoke well for the future of those who were now mere lads, but who in a few years would be the leaders in business, in the professions and in public life.

Salary $12,000. This Woman Began Life at $15 a Week.

States and Canada was under her direct supervision.

Her chief was charged with the direction of those agents, but so thoroughly did Miss Amendt grasp the innumerable details of the insurance business that Mr. Tarbell turned over the entire work to her.

When Mr. Tarbell was made second vice-president of the Equitable and transferred his office to New York he took Miss Amendt with him. Her salary was made $12,000 a year. She first acted as Tarbell's private secretary and later was his assistant.

Miss Amendt is feminine above all things, for all her years of business activity. She likes pretty gowns and hats, the same as every other woman. Her hobby is her horse and horseback riding for recreation. One of her saddles, Dark Secret, was a prize winner at the horse show in New York a few seasons ago. She is to be seen often centering along the driveway in Central Park.

This is the story of the country school teacher who with $300 came to Chicago to study stenography, and who in ten years rose to be one of the executive heads of a great insurance company at a salary that a vast majority of men never achieve.

LIVE STOCK. The railways reported 104 car loads of live stock at the city market, for Wednesday and Thursday, consisting of 1,341 cattle, 2,014 hogs, 995 sheep and lambs, and 350 calves. There was a fair supply of stall fed cattle, but grassers are becoming more numerous. Trade was good for the best cattle, especially, and the grassers sold for all they were worth. Cattle sold as usual at any time this season, when quality is considered. Stockers and Feeders—Feeders, 800 to 900 lbs. each, at $4 to $4.50; stockers, 400 to 700 lbs. each, at $3 to $3.60 per cwt. The prospects are for lower prices should a heavy delivery occur. Milk and Springers—There was a moderately good demand, but nothing exciting, and prices ruled about steady, ranging from $2.15 to $2.55 for common, light cows, and $4.00 to $5.00 for medium to good, and choice at $5.50 to $6.00. Veal Calves—A moderate supply of veal calves sold at $3 to $6 per cwt. The Temiskaming and Hudson Bay Company has declared a dividend of three dollars a share on the old capitalization, or 300 per cent. on the capital issued. Up to date the company has distributed 13,000 per cent.

SCRAPS OF SPORT. In the Central Soft Ball League last night the Night Owls defeated the Wellingtons by a score of 9 to 5. Batteries: Adams and Robins, Sheridan and Zimmerman. Umpires, White and Spera. The Central League desire to thank Mr. Fred Robins, the well known insurance man, who is president of the league, for his kind donation of a trophy, to be presented to the league winners. The next game will be played next Monday between the Beavers and Night Owls. Sandown Park, Eng. June 25.—The Newstand Handicap of 400 sovereigns, for three-year-olds and upward, distance five furlongs, was run here to-day, and won by Lydbrook. The Tower was second and Little Flutter third. Among the ten starters were H. P. Whitley's Sixty-Two and J. R. Keene's Helmet II. New York, June 25.—Sam Langford, the negro heavyweight, who recently went to England and captured the British heavyweight championship by knocking out Ian Hague, returned home to-day on board the steamer Lusitania. "I am ready to fight Johnson for the championship at any time," said Langford. "In fact, I would have met him in England, but he would not cross the ocean, fearing he would meet defeat. Hague was an easy proposition, though he is a big, strong fellow." He isn't a progressive musician who is always up to his old tricks.

Workmanship Counts

Comparatively few men can tell by working at or even examining a garment whether it is well tailored or not, and of course you know the life of a suit depends a great deal on the tailoring outside and inside.

Part of the excellence of every Sanford made garment is underneath the surface. The canvas, haircloth, padding and other interlinings are of such quality as only good tailors use, and the Sanford Co's. experienced tailors put these interlinings together in such a thorough manner that months are added to the life of the Garments. The ordinary ready-to-wear garments, especially coats, usually lose their shape after a few weeks' wear, while the Sovereign Brand coats retain their shape and original outlines until practically worn out.

MEN'S SUITS $20.00—New lines just fresh from our own tailor shops. Imported material, smooth faced fabrics in dark brown, cinnamon brown and light brown. Grey in the various shades from light to dark, also the popular fawn and drab shades. The exclusiveness of the styles and patterns is a wonderful inducement in itself, but it is the tailoring that counts in the long run, and that is where these suits will make good at the price, $20.00.

MEN'S SUITS $15.00—We know there are thousands of men who like to pay about $15 for a suit, and we make it our business to know what other reputable makers offer at this price. We do not intend to give you $15 materials tailored like $5 suits; but we do pretend to give you the best tailoring and material combined that can possibly be produced at this modest figure, and if you'll drop in and see the number of suits going out from here you'll believe there's something in what we say. Nearly 200 suits to choose from to-morrow at $15.00.

SALARIES OF STAR BASEBALL PLAYERS.

George Wright, who drew top salary in that team of 1889, was the greatest all-around ball player of his time. Harry Wright was the greatest outfielder. The team then carried out one pitcher. To-day it would be impossible to organize such a team without at least three pitchers, and that is less than half as many as almost any big league club is carrying. The team of 1869 made money. It was the first organization to wear knickerbockers, all other clubs using long trousers. Salaries have not reached their limit. They have been increasing steadily. Rivalry between two leagues serves a purpose, and the players benefit. The average length of a big league career of a ball player is four years. He can follow his profession for a smaller number of years than a man following any other profession. Therefore the ball players argue they should receive so much more. There are arguments that the magnates are growing rich. Some are. The Chicago Cubs have earned a fortune for Charlie Murphy, who arose to the position of manager from a clerk who earned $4 a week in Cincinnati. Other cases might be cited. Charles Comiskey, John T. Brush, Ben Shibe, Barney Dreyfus and still others. But the player does not take into consideration the risk the magnate runs. He does not think of men who have quit the game broke. But it is a safe wager that with the great strides baseball is making in the estimation of the public the increased patronage and gate receipts, the salaries of the players will continue to climb.

ARMSTRONG, LLOYD, RALSTON, HUNTER, WEIR, RICHARDS, WRIGHT, ADAMSON, NEWLANDS, ENRIG, LAURENCE, VASEY. Kick-off at 4.30. The Hamilton Tennis Club has arranged a match with the Brantford Tennis Club, to take place on the local club's courts on the cricket grounds to-morrow afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock. Brantford will send a strong team, and a keen contest is bound to ensue. Tennis enthusiasts should not miss this match. Ogden, Utah, June 25.—Edward Payson Weston arrived at Wells at 5.45 last night, having walked from Cochrane, Neb., 37 miles, since 6 o'clock in the morning. Wells is about 175 miles from Ogden, on the Southern Pacific. The greatest tattle-tale in the world is a woman's age when it begins to tell on her.

Carey won from the local champion, McMichael, beating him over the mark by over two feet, in one of the hardest races ever witnessed at the rink. McMichael showed good form, and his supporters were pleased. The Senior League got off to a good start last Saturday before a very large crowd of fans, and the style of ball dished up certainly was well worth going to see. The Royal Oaks, one of the classy teams in the league, have decided they were not strong enough for the league, so the Eastern Stars, another strong, fast team, have taken their place. To-morrow (Saturday) will see the league in full swing and the play will be very fast and will draw a large crowd. The 91st football team will play the Hamilton City team at Cotter's Field, Mountain Top, to-morrow. The following players are requested to turn out for the 91st: Burt, Lockhart, Lockhart,

Gossip and Comment

The following editorial appeared in the Chicago Post:

The Hon. James J. Jeffries was in Pittsburg yesterday. "Well, he had to be there on business," as O. Henry says. And he was greeted on the streets by a crowd which the little brothers of the press estimate at 20,000.

This was remarkable enough in itself, but Mr. Jeffries' interview was even more so. It fairly reeked with blood. "I have always been afraid of my own strength in the ring, for fear that I would kill a man, but I will have no fear when I get into the ring with this fellow Johnson. I hope Ketchell will kill Johnson. I repeat, I hope he will kill him."

"Is this really his own strength?" In any other business a man who breathed forth blood-and-thunder like this would be quickly arrested. In any other walk of life a man who talks as Jeffries talks would be described as a braggart, not a bluffer. What is there in the profession of prize fighting that sets it apart in a little world of its own, free from the considerations of decency which obtain with ordinary men?

Grantland Rice, the well-known southern sporting writer, is responsible for the following in the Nashville, Tenn., Appeal:

"If I should die, and at my death some friend should come and stand above me—should whisper with his sobbing breath how very much he'd come to love me—if he should weep and wring his hands and wail that I had acted fairly—should say that over from the stands he's boosted me for doing squarely; if he should say that I was right in giving out some close decision against the home team in a fight where he had never entered my vision; if he should whisper in his grief, 'Old boy, I know that you were straight—I never called you a lop-earred thief nor swore you were a pirate's mate; I never clamored for a rope when your decisions worked quiet; I never have I yet expressed the hope you'd go where knowalls vanish quickly; I cheered each time you acted well, as though you were a human being, not daily gave you merry hell for accidents beyond my seeing; I always thought you did splendid, and so no side advice I proffered; I think you fairly met the test whenever the occasion offered.' If these were but the words he said, I'd rise up in my white cravat—it were enough to wake the dead to get a sudden shock like that—I'd rise up in my coat of white and look around a bit, and then, if I found that I'd heard aright, I'd drop back dead again."

"Bugs" Raymond, the New York giant, now claims that the reason for his loose actions on the train to Pittsburg was that somebody doped him with gasoline just before he stepped into the Pullman. The gasoline, he says, percolated through his brain coil and made him think he was a six-o'clock touring car going down hill at full speed.

RACING INFORMATION

Selections for to-day's races at the H. J. C. and the entries for to-morrow appear on the last page of this paper.

RUN OUT, OR WAS HE STUMPED?

From Toronto World: Under the head of "Run Out, or Was He Stumped?" our old friend William Paris tells of a unique point brought up in a cricket game on Saturday.

Kindly allow me to call your attention to a most remarkable play which occurred in the City League cricket game—Grace Church vs. St. Albans—on Saturday at Varsity athletic field, and at the same time appeal to you for an opinion upon the play. Briefly the facts are these: St. Albans batted first and scored 43 runs. Grace Church were 6 runs short of that number when the last man went in. Three runs later, the man was injured by a blow on the knee-cap and was obliged to have a substitute run for him. Later this same man made the winning hit and in the excitement of the moment forgot his injury and hobbled to the other end of his substitute. The run being completed, the ball was returned to the wicket keeper, who broke the wicket and on appeal the umpire gave the injured man out for leaving his ground. In this the umpire was entirely right under rule 39 of the laws of cricket, which distinctly states that the injured player must not leave his crease. But was he right in disallowing the completed run, which I contend was perfectly valid and should be counted, thereby giving Grace Church the victory? In a nutshell, the point is this: Was the injured player "run out" or was he "stumped." The former seems hardly possible, the run being completed before the wicket was broken. If, then, he was given out for leaving his ground, he was most certainly stumped out and the run is therefore a good one. The point is therefore unique in the annals of Canadian cricket.

Rule 39 reads: In case any substitute shall be allowed to run between wickets, the striker may be run out if either he or his substitute be out of his ground. If the striker be out of his ground while the ball is in play, that wicket which he has left may be put down and the striker given out, although the other batsman may have made good the ground at that end, and the striker and his substitute at the other end.

THE FAVORITE FIRST.

Star Wave, Long Shot, Won the Stake.

King of the Mist Was Disqualified.

Fine Card at the H.J.C. Yesterday.

Large fields marked the third day of the Hamilton Jockey Club's spring meet. The smallest field was seven—in the feature event, the Grant Spring Brewery Stakes. The card was a varied one. Besides the stake there was the Gibson sprint handicap, a race over the sticks, two maiden races and a long race on the turf. The crowd was larger than on the second day, notwithstanding the threatening weather. It was a bad day for the talent, however, only one first choice finishing first. One long shot, Essex at 15 to 1, and second choice took the rest of the events.

The stake event for two-year-olds at five furlongs had six starters on the card, and the Star Shoot colt, Star Wave, who was touted as the fastest youngster in training at the Woodbine this spring, made good by defeating some of the best youngsters racing on the circuit. He was ridden by the apprentice, Jimmy Reid, who kept speed and made his field look cheap. Star Wave led by half a dozen lengths at one stage and won with plenty in reserve in fast time, considering that the track was slow. His race impressed J. Dryden, who had purchased him soon after the race of J. H. Doane for $5,000. Dryden has been anxious to secure a couple of good horses all spring. He was willing to go as high as $15,000 for the three-year-old Joe Madden, but Hildreth placed the price on the latter at $50,000. There were two added starters in the race, Gallant Pirate and Short Order. The latter showed a splendid performance, and is evidently a much better colt than his people rate him. He met with a lot of interference and Mentry was forced to pull back to last place before they had gone a dozen strides. When he made his move he came to the outside and at the end was coming strong. Turf Star, heavily played at a short price, was the disappointment of the race. She was out from the start, and finished last of her field. Fauntleroy was second, Short Order third and Ferenno fourth. First money in the race was $840.

There were seven starters also in the William Gibson handicap for three-year-olds and up at seven furlongs. Centre Shot was a hot favorite in this race, but the best the Walker horse could do was third. Rose Queen, the second choice, led from end to end, and was hotly chased by St. Jeanne, who chucked it up in the stretch, and finished outside the money. Superstition showed a fine turn of speed in the run home, and got second money.

Nine horses faced the issue in the race through the field, and there were four mishaps, but no rider was hurt. Wild Refrain broke a tendon, and was pulled up. Canvas unseated his rider, and Awagang and Gault refused. Essex and Commodore Fontaine held the field safe at all stages, the former winning by four lengths. He was given a fine ride by Patterson. Creolin got the small end of the purse.

There was some rough riding in the race on the turf, the closing heat. At the start, Woolstone was pulled into Sir Gallahad, who was thrown out of the race. In the stretch Dreyer on King of the Mist saw Wilton Lackaye coming fast on the rail, and he pulled in, strutting off the actor named horse. King of the Mist was disqualified and Dreyer was set down for a week.

PRIZE FOR SECRETARY LONDON.

The following is from the Buffalo Times: The plant has been thoroughly overhauled since last season at an expense of $10,000 for improvements. The course now compares favorably with any track in Canada. The grand stand has received a thorough overhauling and, in its new coat of paint, presents a fine appearance. A temporary stand adjoining the site of the old betting enclosure has been erected for use of the layers. Special attention has been given to the grass course, two races being run over it yesterday. Secretary A. R. Loudon is the man responsible for the improvements, and his progressiveness deserves praise.

SHUT OUT GAME. "Doc" Newton Did Good Work For Torontos.

At Toronto—Southpaw Newton introduced himself to the Toronto fans in a very becoming manner yesterday, in fact his introduction was a bad day for the pesonators, who were mowed down like ripened grain by the victor. The visitors only connecting for one safety and that fell to the other Doc, or Manager Casey, who opened the ninth with a short drive over third, much to the disgust of the fans, who were sitting with their fingers crossed, pulling for Newton and a no-hit game. The score: Montreal 0 Toronto 0 At Newark—Newark 2, 4, 3, Providence, 1, 5, 1. At Buffalo—Buffalo, 2, 4, 2, Rochester, 3, 10, 2. At Baltimore—Baltimore, 6, 12, 2, Jersey City, 3, 5, 3.

AMATEUR SCHEDULE. The following are the schedules in the amateur leagues to-morrow: City League at Maple Leaf Park—Bayside vs. Broadviews; Keystones vs. Maple Leafs. Church League at French's Field—First Methodist vs. Ascension; St. Thomas vs. St. Andrews. Jucelle League at Armstrong's field—Blue Labels II. vs. League; Aleris vs. Hurvoo.

FOUL TIPS. George Decker, known as "Gentleman George," who formerly played with Captain Anson's Chicago team, died at Compton, Cal., recently. Hyatt, the Pittsburg recruit from the Northwestern League, has been a conspicuous figure in the recent batting records of the Pirates. Manager Fred Clarke considers him one of the best natural hitters he ever saw. He also is coming in handy at first base during the absence of Abston.

"Rube" Ellis, the young Californian who is making a big hit with the Cardinals, started out in baseball as a member of the same team in Riveria, Cal., with Walter Johnson, the famed twirler of the Washington Club. Ellis is a left hander and Johnson was the star twirler. Sporting Editor Grillo, of the Washington Post, makes this interesting statement: "Not only has Manager Cantillon been approached by the local club owners regarding a continuation of his contract to manage the Nationals again next year, but there is good reason for believing that he will be found at the head of the team in 1910, details notwithstanding." Waiters were asked on shortstop Knight by the New York Club in order to make a trade with a National League club, but the star twirler.

From the Scrap Heap. Boston, Mass., June 24.—Walter Wiloughby, the Buffalo wrestler, made his debut with the gloves last night against Andrew Morris, the East Boston heavyweight, and was beaten in the fourth round, the knockout coming when Wiloughby had a clear lead and was in a fair way to win decisively. Wiloughby got overconfident and after scoring with the left he dropped his guard for just a moment. It was enough for Morris, however. The latter shot home a terrific right to the jaw and Wiloughby went down hard. It was fully ten minutes before he recovered. If Jack Johnson were popular with fight fans he is fast losing his pull. The negro does not take the game seriously, which is probably due to the fact that he has a bit of money stowed away now, and like all people who never had a bunch of coin, the sudden elevation to wealth has turned his head. His match with Al Kaufman is still hanging fire, and it does not look as if Johnson wants to fight the Californian. He still insists on a 20-round battle in California, but is not adverse to fighting 40 or 45 rounds anywhere else. James Coffroth, who is the only man that can pull off successfully a bout of this kind, will not take a chance on a short bout. He is trying to show Johnson that a 20-round battle will not attract a big enough gate to make it worth while fighting for. If Johnson insists on fighting at one of the western mining camps he is taking a chance. There is a chance of the fight taking place in London. William A. Brady, who is interested in a week's carnival to be held at the London Olympia next month, will try to get the bout. It is said that he is ready to offer a $15,000 purse for a 20-round bout. Surely Johnson cannot be picked to win over Jeff if the latter gets in the shape he was the last time he entered ring. No man in the history of pugilism has a better or clearer record than Jeffries. He has fought and defeated all of the great heavyweights of his time, and not one has been in distress or gone to the floor. And there were some fighters when Jeffries first loomed up as a championship possibility. It was not easy picking them. There was Fitzsimmons, Sharkey and Corbett, not to speak of several others, but this trip went down before him. Johnson has never fought that calibre of men. Lesser lights have been able to stay twenty rounds with him, and he has even been beaten. Of course, if Jeffries should go into the ring with him unfit there would be a good chance for Johnson to win, but if Jeffries gets back in form, and it is not likely that he would fight unless he did, Johnson will leave the squared circle minus his title.

FITZHERBERT WON GREAT SUBURBAN. New York, June 25.—FitzHerbert, the sturdy three-year-old son of Ethelbert, Morganatic, easily won the Suburban Handicap yesterday from a field of six starters—one of the smallest that has ever contested for the honors of the classic event of the American turf. Bearing the colors of Sam Hildreth, the sleek brown horse, with Eddie Dugan up, ran the mile and a quarter in 2:03 2-5, which is only 2-5 of a second slower than the record for the event, hung up last year by that sterling handicapper horse, Ballast. The four-year-old Alfred Noble was second, six lengths behind, and Fayette, a smart three-year-old, was third. This is the second time in Suburban history that a three-year-old has carried off the honors, and Sam Hildreth was showered with congratulations upon his victory. FitzHerbert and the four-year-old Restigouche were coupled in the betting and favorites at 4 to 5. Hildreth declared to win with Restigouche, but the son of Commando did not stand the strain and stopped at the mile. FitzHerbert then came on and won all alone. The play in the betting ring on the Hildreth Stable was heavy and the public had no difficulty in getting wagers down. The small field made the work of getting the horses off an easy task. FitzHerbert went in front, closely followed by Alfred Noble, Fashion Plate, Restigouche, King's Daughter and Fayette in the order of their naming. It was a pretty start and one which enabled each jockey to carry out his plan of riding. Jockey McCarthy urged Alfred Noble quickly in the lead and Burns, on Restigouche, accepting the challenge, carried his mount alongside the flying Alfred Noble. This way they ran to the quarter, with FitzHerbert in third position and Jockey Dugan holding him in restraint. "It's Restigouche," cried the crowd, as Hildreth's horse took a slight lead at the half-mile. Alfred Noble then was three lengths in front of FitzHerbert, but Dugan still held the three-year-old in reserve and watched the two leaders struggling hard. King's Daughter and Fashion Plate hung gamely on in the race for a time, but the pace was fast and they gradually fell further and further behind. Into the mile they came, Restigouche still in the lead, but faltering. His jockey went to the whip, but the son of Commando had not as much momentum as Restigouche, and he was gradually overtaken by the tiring Restigouche, and King's Daughter in the stretch and took third place. FitzHerbert ran to the finish line six lengths ahead of Alfred Noble, while five lengths away was the three-year-old Fayette. Far in the rear King's Daughter, the eastern crack, Restigouche and Fashion Plate plunged along in the smothering pall of dust raised by the leaders and finished in the order named.

OTTAWA BEAT HAVERFORD XI. Ottawa, June 24.—Ottawa Cricket Club defeated Haverford College by eight wickets in their cricket match, which ended yesterday. Haverford scored 109 in the first inning and 97 in the second. Ottawa's first inning produced 139 and in the second inning they scored 25—necessary win at the loss of two wickets. Bristow, for Ottawa, took 15 of the 20 wickets for 114 runs. Heygate was not out for 33 in Ottawa's second inning.

LADY GREY AT CONGRESS.

Important Addresses Delivered at the Opening Session. The Congress Split Up Into Sections For Business.

Montzambert Would Stop Indiscriminate Kissing.

Toronto, June 25.—That in every walk of human life there is a place for woman to exercise an influence for good would seem to be the lesson promulgated by the International Congress of Women, which opened yesterday. It may be explained that the Congress has come to be recognized as an important corollary of the International Council of Women. As a matter of fact, it is a splitting up of the delegates attending each of the various sections dealing with the various matters in which women are interested. The gathering is held under the auspices of the Canadian National Council of Women, and its organization deserves at least credit for the comprehensive nature of the programme which it has arranged. In each section the best available authorities on the questions dealt with have been secured to read papers and deliver addresses, and at the conclusion of the Congress a mass of matter as to women's work in the world will have been gathered which when reduced to a convenient form will form a valuable compendium of information.

OPENING CEREMONY.

That Canada has arrived at the point when the foundation of her future national life will be laid, and the part to be played by women in the building of that important structure, were thoughts emphasized by Countess Grey in her address at Convocation Hall yesterday morning in opening the Congress. The chair was occupied by Lady Edgar, President of the Canadian Council, and she was supported by Miss M. Maclean, President of the International Council, Mrs. J. M. Gibson, Lady Sybil Grey, and the various officers of the international organization.

AN OPPORTUNE VISIT.

Countess Grey, in declaring the Congress open, said that as Hon. President of the Canadian Council she felt it a privilege to be associated with Lady Edgar in offering a cordial welcome to the delegates from overseas, and especially to Lady Aberdeen, the inviolable President of the International Council. Their visit to Canada was paid at a period when the greatness of Canada's destiny was assured, and yet when the lines of national development were not so stereotyped as to prevent the adoption of the best methods of social organization which might be suggested by the experience of other countries.

REALIZE RESPONSIBILITY.

"We recognize," she said, "that responsibility which will rest on us as the guardians and directors of the childhood of the citizens of the future, and we are grateful to you, coming to us from so many distant countries, and giving us the benefit of your experience and convictions. We realize that it is in our power, if we have sufficient knowledge and sufficient heart to apply that knowledge, to eliminate from the life of the Dominion much of that preventable disease and death which constitutes such an appalling annual loss, exceeding the loss in actual warfare."

A PLEA FOR THE COW.

A plea for the character of the great Canadian cow was made by the Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture for the Dominion, in his address before the section on public health and physical training yesterday afternoon. Mr. Fisher, on behalf of the Government, welcomed the delegates, and added as the nations acted and reacted on one another, therefore, the Government were intimately concerned in the public health of the nations. Mr. Fisher explained the manner in which the care of public health was divided between the Federal and Provincial authorities. In regard to education in these matters Mr. Fisher expressed the opinion that there was no greater agency for stimulating public opinion and arousing the people's attention than the various councils of women. Restrictive measures might be necessary for the prevention of diseases, but unless they were backed by public opinion they would never accomplish what they were intended to do. Therefore in carrying out the educational campaign the various councils of women could do a great work.

IMPORTANT QUESTION.

Passing on, he pointed out that in spite of the greatness of the rivers the pollution of the water supply has become an important problem, of which Toronto provided an example in Canada. That was one question in regard to which public opinion was required to be aroused, and another was that of tuberculosis. In this connection he pointed out that the statement, somewhat carelessly made without due thought, that a majority of the cases of tuberculosis were due to the disease being conveyed through the medium of milk. That, he ventured to say, was an entirely safe in saying that no more than 5 per cent. of the cases were traceable to infection through milk. It was only right that this should be stated, in view of the agitation which had arisen. At the same time he did not wish to be understood to say that the milk of any cow which had reacted to the tuberculosis list should be indiscriminately used for human food.

FIGHT AGAINST FLIES.

Lady Aberdeen delivered an interesting address on the campaign against tuberculosis, particularly in Ireland. She pointed out that the pasteurization of milk in Dublin had, as elsewhere, been followed by a very considerable decrease in the death rate. A great work of an educational character which women could take up was that of persuading people not to allow refuse in Liverpool as this had been done in Ireland. This had been done in Liverpool as this had been done in Ireland. This had been done in Liverpool as this had been done in Ireland.

WORK IN THE HOME.

Dr. F. Montzambert, Director-General of Public Health, considered that the important sphere of woman's work in connection with public health was in the home. They could train their children to breathe properly, teach their daughters not to squeeze their waists, and to protect the upper part of the chest, and use their authority against late hours. The many cases of nervous breakdown were due to turning night into day.

AGAINST KISSING.

Dr. Montzambert wants a campaign against indiscriminate kissing. Against the kiss of love no sanitarian could say a word, but as a greeting between women it was an absurdity, which would be better replaced by the masculine handshake. The indiscriminate kissing of babies by every visitor could be done away with without any overwhelming amount of self-denial on the part of the infant and a lessening of the danger of conveying tuberculosis.

MINISTER OF PUBLIC HEALTH.

Dr. Chas. A. Hodgetts, Chief Health Officer of Ontario, agreed with his fellow professional man with regard to the importance of women's work in the home. He also alluded to the pollution of water supplies, and urged the necessity of all governments to include in their Cabinet a Minister of Public Health.

Dr. Hodgetts did not mince matters in alluding to medical practitioners. "The practitioner," said he, "who does not teach and practice public health to the full is simply a charlatan." The day was not far distant when preventive medicine must rank as the most important subject in the medical curriculum.

IN FACTORY AND MILL.

Something of the life of the thousands of girls who work with their hands in factory and in mill was told at last night's meeting at Convocation Hall, when His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor presided over a crowded audience. Prof. Harriet M. Maclean first told of the depressing conditions under which the girl workers toil, and afterwards Miss Jane Adams, of Chicago, gave an account of settlement work which she is doing in the slum districts of New York.

ENGLISH SPINSTERHOOD.

In the section on professions and careers for women, that discussion on "The Moral, Educational, and Social Effects of Women's Entrance into Professional Careers" became so absorbing that Mrs. Shortt, who was in the chair, proposed resuming it in the afternoon. Miss Barnett deplored the spinsterhood of England, admitting that "since the alternative of professional life has been placed before women in England, they have been less inclined to marry, and being married, they have been less inclined to motherhood."

"It is their disinclination to marry the average man on the average income and sufficiently early in life that I deplore. I am sure that spinners are much happier now than they ever were before; but whether this or that woman, or this or that group of women, is happy does not signify in the least. What does it signify every woman should desire to serve the race." In regard to women with careers, "there must be no spiritual life left at all, for anything that the women tell us in their books, plays, dress, or fashionable forms of religion."

WHAT LA PRESSE THINKS.

In an editorial tonight on the St. Jean Baptiste celebration, La Presse has the following significant sentence: "It is our joy to belong to two supreme entities, that of the Church, which is the Kingdom of ideas, and that of Great Britain, which is the kingdom of good sense and of liberty."

BUYING CANADIAN ISLANDS.

Wealthy Americans Own Many in Rainy Lake. Toronto, June 25.—The extent to which Americans are becoming interested in Canada may be judged from an account of conditions in the Rainy Lake district. A Toronto railway man who has been going over that part of New Ontario reports that 70 islands have been purchased by wealthy Americans in the last eighteen months. For seventy miles east of Fort Francis all the islands have been bought, and some of which sold for $70 last summer brought $490 several days ago. Most of these American purchasers come from Minnesota.

GAVE FIREMEN A RUN.

Young Nova Scotia Mistook Ottawa Fire Alarm for Letter Box. Ottawa, June 24.—A guileless and unsophisticated young man from rural Nova Scotia innocently called out a large section of the city fire brigade today. He tried to post a letter "in a box on the corner," and mistaking the fire alarm for the letter-box, he sent in a fire alarm. When the firemen from four different stations arrived the Nova Scotian was duly enlightened.

AN ENORMOUS AIRSHIP.

To Have Powerful Engines and Will Carry 54 People. Berlin, June 24.—The Siemens-Shubert non-rigid airship, which is now being built, will have engines of 500 horsepower, and will carry 54 persons. The same company has patented a searchlight of 180,000 candle-power, which it is claimed, is capable of revealing a torpedo boat on a clear night at a distance of more than seven miles.

BAPTISTE DAY.

Seventy-Fifth Anniversary of the Society Celebrated.

Great Parade in Honor of Event at Montreal.

Montreal, June 24.—Over 250,000 people witnessed the St. Jean Baptiste parade today. The day is a holiday among the French-Canadians and over half of the population lined the streets or took part in the parade.

Unusual interest was attached to the celebration owing to it being the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the society. To-day's celebration was a striking manifestation of the patriotic and religious devotion of French-Canadians to their patron saint.

More than twenty historical and allegorical cars—some of them, of the heroic defence of Fort Chamblay by Miss De Vercheres and that of the siege of Quebec, really magnificent. There were 2000 men and boys in the procession, including some of the highest dignitaries of the political and municipal world, constituting the most remarkable parade ever held by the French-Canadians in this city.

All through the parade the procession the decorations were pretty and tasteful, and at times splendid. Many triumphal arches of maple leaves and evergreens decorated with patriotic inscriptions, quoted from the best poems of French-Canadian authors, Cremazie, Prud'homme and Chaplin, were erected on the line. Streamers bearing the official inscription of the society, "Notre Religion, Notre Langue et Nos Droits," were everywhere displayed.

A notable feature was the great number of priests who took part in the procession. Every society was accompanied by its chaplain, and representatives of every religious order in Montreal were walking in the ranks.

Sir Lomer Gouin, Prime Minister of Quebec, was among the officials of the St. Jean Baptiste Society, and walked with them from Place Veiger to Lafontaine Park. Hon. Mr. Landry, Minister of Agriculture, New Brunswick; Mayor Payette, and many members of the City Council took part in the parade.

The sermon of to-day was delivered by Rev. Abbe Elie Auclair, of the Archbishop's Palace, one of the most eloquent of the younger clergy of Montreal. It was a strong appeal to his hearers to be true to the traditions of the past as the best way to be true to the motto of the society, "To make people better."

Warner

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lymburner and son, Ross, visited his mother and sister for a few days at Thorold. Edward Merritt was the guest of his uncle, Wilbert Swayze, at Dunnville, on Sunday last.

Caistorville

The cheese factory in this place has been up to making of twenty-one cheeses in one day—the most made here in one day for years. Over 4,000 lbs. of milk was taken in on one wagon in a day. This is a record breaker.

Attercliffe

Mr. Abe Sensabaugh has completed mowing a fine field of Lucerne clover. Commercial travellers are making frequent calls at this village, and always get orders.

Fisherville

Mr. Henry Reichheld returned from the Dominion on Monday, much improved in health. Mr. William Smeiser, of Hamilton, paid us a brief visit on Monday.

Mr. O. Reed has returned to his home in Windsor, after a three weeks' visit at Mr. A. C. Bond's. Mr. and Mrs. B. Cox, of Harley, visited with relatives here over Sunday.

Many triumphal arches of maple leaves and evergreens decorated with patriotic inscriptions, quoted from the best poems of French-Canadian authors, Cremazie, Prud'homme and Chaplin, were erected on the line. Streamers bearing the official inscription of the society, "Notre Religion, Notre Langue et Nos Droits," were everywhere displayed.

A notable feature was the great number of priests who took part in the procession. Every society was accompanied by its chaplain, and representatives of every religious order in Montreal were walking in the ranks.

Sir Lomer Gouin, Prime Minister of Quebec, was among the officials of the St. Jean Baptiste Society, and walked with them from Place Veiger to Lafontaine Park. Hon. Mr. Landry, Minister of Agriculture, New Brunswick; Mayor Payette, and many members of the City Council took part in the parade.

The sermon of to-day was delivered by Rev. Abbe Elie Auclair, of the Archbishop's Palace, one of the most eloquent of the younger clergy of Montreal. It was a strong appeal to his hearers to be true to the traditions of the past as the best way to be true to the motto of the society, "To make people better."

BAPTISTE DAY.

Seventy-Fifth Anniversary of the Society Celebrated.

Great Parade in Honor of Event at Montreal.

Montreal, June 24.—Over 250,000 people witnessed the St. Jean Baptiste parade today. The day is a holiday among the French-Canadians and over half of the population lined the streets or took part in the parade.

Unusual interest was attached to the celebration owing to it being the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the society. To-day's celebration was a striking manifestation of the patriotic and religious devotion of French-Canadians to their patron saint.

More than twenty historical and allegorical cars—some of them, of the heroic defence of Fort Chamblay by Miss De Vercheres and that of the siege of Quebec, really magnificent. There were 2000 men and boys in the procession, including some of the highest dignitaries of the political and municipal world, constituting the most remarkable parade ever held by the French-Canadians in this city.

All through the parade the procession the decorations were pretty and tasteful, and at times splendid. Many triumphal arches of maple leaves and evergreens decorated with patriotic inscriptions, quoted from the best poems of French-Canadian authors, Cremazie, Prud'homme and Chaplin, were erected on the line. Streamers bearing the official inscription of the society, "Notre Religion, Notre Langue et Nos Droits," were everywhere displayed.

THE FARM

A Pennsylvania farmer gives this experience with woodchucks (ground-hogs). He had set several hundred early cages, and in going through his patch early one morning he found several plants missing. He found the woodchuck's hole under the wall—in fact, several holes—near his cabbage field.

He armed himself with several steel traps and used all his cunning in setting them in the burrows of the woodchucks, but after several mornings of patient waiting, capture by trap proved unsuccessful. But, having heard that they were very fond of salt, he mixed a liberal quantity of Paris green in about a quart of salt and placed a handful near each burrow. He was not troubled again that season, and this has been his remedy ever since.

If it was used for better color, not a pound of oleomargarine or poor lard could ever have been sold as the genuine, clean product of the cow. There is one thing the farmer cannot afford to overlook in sheep raising, and that is thrift. Thrift means health, gain in quality, quantity and productiveness, the elements of which the profits are derived. It must be the first object of the owner to keep his sheep in thriving condition. The quality of the wool, as well as the quantity, and the general productiveness of the flock make this requirement imperative.

An editor would be observed in the milk if silage is fed to cows a short time before milking, but if given shortly after milking the silage smell cannot be detected. There are several points in feeding sheep that must not be overlooked. The feed lot must be dry, with plenty of clean, dry bedding, the animals must have plenty of clean, pure water, and the feed troughs should be kept clean. These should be arranged so that the sheep cannot foul them with their feet. Another point is to keep them from becoming excited or frightened. To this end it is better that one person feed them all the time.

It is said that Greater New York consumes 7,764,930 gallons of milk, 361,600 gallons of cream, and 83,160 gallons of condensed milk in one month. The daily average is 242,400 gallons of milk, 9,340 gallons of cream, and 1,480 gallons of condensed milk.

It will mean a loss to the farmer to have the cow afraid of him. It is a loss every time she is frightened. To run a cow to pasture is like throwing money away. A cow in any way worried will not do her best. The cow that is made a pet of will make money for its owner. The milk of a frightened or abused cow is poisonous.

If orchard grass is not sown thickly it will not be a success. Three bushes to the acre should be used. Orchard grass is more vigorous than timothy, with a sterner root system; but if a permanent meadow is expected it must be top-dressed freely.

PROMOTER'S ARREST

Accused of Obtaining Money by False Pretences in Canada. New York, June 24.—William S. Mitchell, who says he is a promoter, was arrested to-day near his home, 373 West Ninety-seventh street, by United States Marshall Pinkley and a private detective, at the request of the British Government, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences. Mitchell's alleged offence is said to have taken place in Canada, and he will be extradited as soon as the necessary papers arrive.

Provincial detective Joseph E. Rogers, of Ontario, who made the complaint upon which Mitchell was arrested, alleges that in January, 1907, Mitchell, with Alexander C. Ross, a former member of the Canadian Parliament and others said to be prominent in Canadian politics, formed a syndicate to obtain an option on a mine known as the "Sinclair Claim 3434" at Coleman, in the Nipissing district.

Mitchell is alleged to have reported to Ross and the other members of the syndicate that he had secured an option the mine from Wolferstan Thomas, a director of the Bank of Quebec, for $100,000, to be paid in installments, and that in part payment the owner had agreed to accept $30,000 in fully paid up stock of the company that was to be incorporated to work the mining property. Believing these representations to be true, so inspector Rogers says in his affidavit, Ross on September 19, 1907, paid Mitchell $5,000, but it was subsequently discovered that Mitchell had obtained had obtained the option for $85,000 instead of $130,000.

Besides Mr. Ross the other members of the mining syndicate are said to include Colonel Sir Augustus Fitzgibbon, a cousin of King Edward VII., W. C. Strahan, of Montreal, and Senator William Mitchell, an uncle of the prisoner.

BURIED IN WHEAT.

The Grain Trimmers on Steamer Lake Manitoba Entombed.

Montreal, June 24.—Sixteen trimmers at work on the steamer Lake Manitoba were buried under 16,000 bushels of wheat last night, and narrowly escaped death. In fact, their escape from death is little less than miraculous, as they lay for four hours on top of heaps of wheat under the decks. They escaped suffocation by taking turns at breathing under the narrow ventilator pipes.

The Lake Manitoba was lying at the King Edward pier, near the Canadian Pacific Railway elevator, loading for Liverpool, whither she will sail at the end of the week. The grain was being loaded by the floating crane elevator belonging to the Montreal Grain Elevator Company. The sixteen men were spreading grain in the hold, but as time went by, and the bunker filled up, there was no room left for the men, and grain, which poured in bushel after bushel.

The gang of trimmers worked heroically, but when they were compelled to stoop under the deck the task got on their backs. The hold was filled to the brim, and the sixteen men were away under the deck, unable to fight their way to the stoppered exit, which was the only hope of escape. For some reason the grain kept coming in until the men were prisoners.

It was only after hours of imprisonment that their fellow-workers missed them and dug them out. All the men returned to work to-day. A cable message has been received in Toronto from the Bishop of Corea, directed to Canon Welch, announcing the death in that country of Rev. Stephen Hayer Cartwright, a missionary under the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel. Mr. Cartwright was the elder son of Mr. John R. Cartwright, Deputy Attorney-General. He was in his thirty-fifth year.

BUFFALO BILL—PAWNEE BILL

Great Wild West and Far East Show Next Week.

For the first time in over ten years, Col. Cody comes to Hamilton on Tuesday, June 29th, reinforced in numbers and interest as regards his Wild West, and by the addition of Pawnee's Far East. Realistic in every feature, his Wild West has been perfect in organization, truthful in delineation, simple and effective in holding up the mirror to nature.

The Wild West and Far East are now combined and consolidated. A more complete and instructive exhibition was never before presented, and it has the merit of not being in any sense a "show," for everything is real and genuine, every member of the aggregation being just what he is represented to be.

The fact that for so many years Col. Cody and Major Little have delighted and instructed the people of America and Europe with their extraordinary exhibitions is proof that nothing better succeeds than plain truth and sincerity. It would be easy to manufacture such scenes as are given, but such imitation could not long hold the public.

The cowboys, cowgirls, vaqueros, Asiatic and Indian, Burmese, Australian boomerang throwers, the cavalry and artillery, musically trained elephants, the American Indians, none of these would have any value except that they are the genuine article, without any doubt or dispute. As now organized, this combined organization stands without a peer or competitor, affords education to the untravelled as well as pleasure and entertainment to each and every spectator.

CATHEDRAL CONSECRATED.

Impressive Ceremony at Christ's Church Last Night.

Bishop DuMoulin Officiated Before Large Gathering.

Dr. Courtney, of New York, Preached the Sermon.

Christ's Church Cathedral, lately freed from debt, was consecrated by His Lordship Bishop DuMoulin last night in the presence of a large audience.

The Bishop was met at the door by the rector, Rev. Canon Almon Abbott, and the Churchwardens, Messrs. Geo. Moore and H. H. Champ. Mr. Champ presented the Bishop with a petition from the congregation asking that the church be now consecrated.

Bishop DuMoulin was accompanied by Very Rev. Dean Houston, Sub-dean Sutherland, Archdeacons Clark and Forneret, and Chancellor Martin, who presented the church to the Bishop for consecration.

The regular order of consecration was then taken up.

The Rev. Dr. Courtney, rector of St. James' Church, New York, and late Bishop of Nova Scotia, delivered the sermon. He chose for his text I Kings ix, 3: "And the Lord said unto him, I have heard thy prayer and thy supplication, that thou hast made before me: I have hallowed this house which thou hast built, to put my name there forever; and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually."

The speaker dwelt at some length on the house of God built by Solomon as its consecration to the service of worship by the Almighty, and this great principle had lived through the ages and the same principle was being carried out in this very cathedral. Solomon by his act had risen above his predecessors and preceded his contemporaries by making an alliance with the Almighty. Solomon had cherished a patriotic feeling and prayed God's blessing on the building which he had constructed to His honor and glory. Not even in that supreme hour of consecration and devotion did he exclude the stranger.

His prayer was for all, and rising from his knees, he blessed the people and them that they went away glorifying God for all the blessings they had received. He had preached Christ's doctrine, "Let your light so shine that others, seeing your good works, may glorify your Father which is in Heaven."

Dr. Courtney said there were two things for the people to build up the national and religious life of the whole people and to make the people one. The Christian experience of the people is the gathering together of the individuals to worship God, to testify to His presence and feast at His tables. Love to God and neighbor is the right and fitness as well as in prosperity man still worship God; he is proving Himself loyal. The holy city of Jerusalem testified that God was present in adversity as well as in prosperity, and the temple dedicated there gained the favor of God's love and protection. It was right and fitness that we should consecrate a cathedral on a parallel with that temple dedicated by Solomon, and which God committed to His people.

If there is development in human character and this development is dependent on the personality of God, then revelation is the prime object of study. Christ revealed the truth to the apostles, which took place only after He rose from the dead. All scientists are striving to learn more and more of the forces of nature, and why should Christians cease to seek for a greater revelation of divine truth. It was a mistake to take for granted that finality has been reached. Up until less than fifty years ago the central truth on which men's lives were fixed was the atonement; to-day it is fixed on the person of Jesus Christ. Not long ago people thought they understood the constitution of the church; to-day the great aim is union, an endeavor to reach the truth and learn more of its contents. The cathedral was the centre of unity, holding all together, and from which centre God's love is manifested to all branches of the church.

After the sermon the offering was taken, and it was announced that the great aim is union, an endeavor to reach the truth and learn more of its contents. The cathedral was the centre of unity, holding all together, and from which centre God's love is manifested to all branches of the church.

The event closed with the exercises of consecration.

FAREWELL TO OLD PASTOR

And Reception to His Successor at First Church.

Magnificent Silver Service Presented to Mr. Treleven.

Large Gathering of Congregation at the Event.

Old First Methodist Church had a congregational reunion, a leave taking and a welcoming last evening, into which the people of the church entered as heartily and in such large numbers that when the close came a little later than 10.30 the large school room was filled to its full capacity.

It was a farewell to Rev. R. J. and Mrs. Treleven, and a reception to the new pastor, Rev. E. B. Laneley. Mr. Treleven goes to Carlton Street Church, Toronto, next week, and Mr. Laneley comes from Dundas Street Church, London, to take his place.

Dr. Day Smith, the church treasurer, presided, and Mr. W. A. Edwards opened the meeting with prayer.

In his opening address Dr. Smith gave a short history of the church's progress. When he joined about 27 years ago it was struggling under a great load of debt, which has been gradually reduced, until it is now only $8,500. While wiping off more than half the debt the church had built a large new school and made many improvements. He looked forward to the time in the not distant future when a fine large new church would stand on the present site.

Short speeches followed. Mr. Thomas S. Morris, on behalf of the leaders, spoke of the class and its work. Dr. Thomas Wickett, one of the society representatives, told of the good work First had done for Kensington Avenue and Ryerson Churches and other outside undertakings, and expressed a preference for longer periods for the pastors. Mr. Frank Shepard represented the Young People's Societies and pictured a large church gymnasium for the near future.

Mr. James Hamilton, superintendent, spoke for the Sunday school. Each of these told of the good work Mr. Treleven had done.

Rev. R. Whiting, of Centenary Church, and Rev. Dr. Tovell, of Central Methodist, both personal friends of Mr. Treleven's of many years' standing, had a kind word to say. Mr. Whiting particularly regretting that he and Mr. Treleven were to be separated, and Dr. Tovell extending the greetings and best wishes of the new Central, with its 1,300 members—the largest church in Methodism in the district.

Songs were sung by Miss Alma Tallman and Miss Shanks, both of whom delighted the audience. Miss Ethel Tallman and Mr. Wilfrid Oaten played the accompaniments.

Towards the close of the proceedings the recording steward, Mr. Cal. Davis, on behalf of the congregation, presented a magnificent silver tea service to Rev. and Mrs. Treleven, as a token of the love and esteem in which they are held.

Brain Hemorrhage Carries Off the Well-Known Author.

South Berwick, Me., June 24.—An illness lasting many months ended early to-night in the death of Miss Sarah Orne Jewett, Litt. D., author of many books, and regarded as one of the foremost women writers of America. She was a sufferer from apoplexy and paralysis.

Miss Jewett was born Sept. 3, 1849, the daughter of Dr. Theodore H. and Caroline F. (Perry) Jewett. Among her literary works are: "Country Days," "A Country Doctor," "A Marsh Island" and "The Story of the Normans." Her last book was "The Tory Lover."

GAMBLERS' TRUST

Said to be All-Powerful at Mt. Clemens, Mich.

Detroit, June 24.—Mount Clemens, the famous "Bath City," patronized by rich and poor alike on account of the wonderful curative properties of its mineral waters, has fallen into disrepute because of the open manner in which gambling game of all kinds and conditions are permitted to be run.

A committee composed of a number of prominent business men of the town and who are designated the "Reform Committee," has been organized to "clean up" and an agitation is already under way among the citizens generally to put a stop to the operations of the "gamblers' trust," which has rooms in practically every hotel in the place.

Big games have been running night and day, and one case has already been reported to the committee where a wealthy visitor dropped $8,000 in one night's play. Stories of men losing from $500 to $1,000 are not uncommon, and the fact that no arrests are ever made, despite the frequent complaints of the victims, leads the committee to believe that the police are in league with the gamblers.

Body of a Woman Found in a Creek in Maryland.

St. Michaels, Md., June 24.—Practically the entire eastern shore of Maryland is aroused and searching for one Emmett, or John T. Roberts, who is wanted for alleged connection with the brutal murder of Mrs. Edith May Woodill, wife of Gilbert Woodill, an automobile dealer of Los Angeles, Cal., whose nude body, the skull crushed in from a blow apparently dealt from behind, weighted with an iron pot, was found yesterday by boys in Back Creek. Roberts, it is said, was with Mrs. Woodill when she was seen for the last time, and he is now accused of having committed the murder. The motive of the crime at present is a mystery.

Kingston Woman Asks Permission to Visit Her Husband.

Kingston, June 24.—Col. Hunter, J. P., recently issued an order of separation between a farmer and his wife, making the husband and son pay $5 per week for the woman's support. The husband was ordered, on pain of arrest, to keep away from the woman's premises. The funny part of the affair is that the wife yesterday called on Col. Hunter and asked permission to visit her husband. He granted it, and believes the separation will soon be a thing of the past.

MISSIONARY MOVEMENT.

At yesterday morning's session Rev. Dr. Tucker, secretary of the Missionary Society of the Church of England and representative of the laymen's missionary movement, gave an address on the work which this movement has met with in the same as all mission endeavors meet, namely, "I don't believe in missions." The man who raises that objection is not a Christian. If we cannot follow in the footsteps of Christ we are unworthy to be called His followers.

Look at the missions on their own merits, giving up their lives in the interest of this work; is it reasonable to suppose they will do no good? Missionaries have been the advance guards of civilization; the finest feeling of our nature comes out in mission work. Many churches are needed in the west, and the foreign heathen nations were in great need of the gospel. We should give our money to this work and take on our share of the burden, and we would then have enough for all. The greatest problem ever set to this world is the regeneration of China, with her great multitudes of heathen people; this nation is not only the largest but also the most ancient and interesting, both in laws and civilization. She was far in advance of the Jews in the days of Abraham, and now by a marvellous combination of circumstances has opened up to the world remarkable opportunities in trade, commerce and mission work. Do we believe in the saving spirit of God to-day? We should all throw ourselves vigorously into the evangelization of the world. He hoped Canada would take her part in the evangelization of all nations.

Bishop DuMoulin, in reply to Dr. Tucker, said he was only sorry that all Hamilton had not been within the reach of his burning words. His address had sunk deeply into the hearts of all, and he urged that this Synod pledge itself to put forth a new effort in the work he had discussed. He hoped Dr. Tucker would not go away with the supposition that he had not been appreciated, as he had moved the whole Synod by his powerful address.

END OF FAMOUS WINNIPEG LITIGATION

With Czar as Plaintiff.

Winnipeg, June 24.—The famous legal action, in which the Czar of Russia was the plaintiff, and in which he sought to recover a portion of a large sum of money which Ivan Proskovkoff, Governor of a Trans-Caucasian Province, had stolen, and afterwards absconded and settled in Winnipeg, has been settled by a compromise after nearly two years of litigation. All the real estate and certain merchandise which had belonged to the unfaithful Governor have been sold and the proceeds divided between the Czar and representatives of the defaulter.

The case was a most interesting one. Proskovkoff, after stealing the funds, made his way to Canada, via Japan, and began business as an Oriental merchant. He was afterwards joined by a woman known to the Russian police as Anna Zeman, a dangerous nihilist, who claimed to be his wife. Their home became the headquarters and rendezvous of Russian refugees and outlaws, among whom were several of the mutineers who had massacred their officers and the cruiser Potomkin in Odessa harbor, and who threatened to bombard the city if they were molested.

Russian detectives finally located him here, but Proskovkoff was warned, and escaped before his arrest could be made, intelligence reaching him before it did the lawyers and representatives of the Czar. He has never since been located, but the man left in charge of the store has fought the case through courts to a compromise.

SELECTIONS AND ENTRIES

Selections: Following are the Times man's selections for this afternoon's races at the H. J. C.:

Red River 127, Woodlawn 93, Woodlawn 105, Royal Onyx 108, Third race, Burlington Handicap, Steeplechase, about 2 1/2 miles, 4-year-olds and up:

Following is the London Free Press expert's comment on to-day's races: Three-year-olds—In to-day's opener I am taking Joe Gaitens. This one should win. Plaudmore is the contender and should be close up to-day. Alice George is ready. Colored Lady has an outside chance.

Canadian-Breds—Glimmer can carry this load and looks as if he will win here. Shore Lark is here with a nice lead, and if able to get the route will make them all step some. Capser Saucer showed last time out. Bilberry has an outside chance to win here.

Two-year-olds—Chief Kee is the one I like here. Should win off by himself at a fair price. Detroit has shown improvement his last two starts. My advice is to tab the betting on this one. Beau Nash and Hickorystick will fight for the small end of the purse.

Walker Cup Steeplechase—Wilson's entry looks like a one-to-ten shot in the steeplechase. But Al Powell for the piece. Grimby Handicap—Dark Night for this one. Very little improvement on her last out should do here. Stromeland will make her best effort for this event. Siskin for the show money. I figure Cave Adsum one-t-three shot with this field.

Three-year-olds and up—Light Wool and Juggler are hard to separate here. Conditions are equal for these two. Elliotts for the small end. Woolwinder is worth something on that last effort.

HAS FAITH IN HIS OPINION.

Mayor Satisfied Hydro-Power Will Cost $24 Per H. P. The written assurance from the Hydro-Electric Commission that Hamilton will not be bound to take any more power than it orders, which Solicitor Lobb promised the Power Committee would be forwarded at once, had not reached the City Hall at press time to-day. It was due yesterday. Mayor McLaren said the assurance is carrying on under the cramped conditions which they are now in. I am sure if they could understand and know the work which is being carried on as I do they would agree with me at once when I say that something ought to be done for the men of the future, and that in helping the boys of to-day.

WHAT ABERDEEN SAID. The work of the Young Men's Christian Association has received the commendation of leaders in every walk of life. It has the approval and encouragement of many prominent men in executive positions in Canada, and tributes have been paid to its work from the Governor-General down. Before the Earl of Aberdeen gave up his duties as Governor-General he said of the Y. M. C. A.: "The Young Men's Christian Association is one of the most comprehensive organizations and agencies in existence. It affords a place of resort, rest and recreation for young men, especially in great cities. Such an institution is of great usefulness from the standpoint of the welfare of the community, and leading men in business life might well look upon the ministrations and opportunities afforded by the Young Men's Christian Association as something they might well support and encourage, if only from a business point of view."

ONE WHO KNOWS. To the Editor of the Times: Sir,—A great percentage of the people of our city, perhaps, do not realize the work which the Y. M. C. A. Junior department is carrying on under the cramped conditions which they are now in. I am sure if they could understand and know the work which is being carried on as I do they would agree with me at once when I say that something ought to be done for the men of the future, and that in helping the boys of to-day.

Child Blown Away. Norton, Kan., June 25.—Northwestern Norton County and Southern Nebraska were swept late yesterday by a half dozen tornadoes. All rural telephone lines are down and reports are meagre. A child of Mrs. Frank Gentry, of Brunswick ranch, was blown from its mother's arms and had not been found up to last night. Residences and outhouses were swept away.

(Continued from Page 1.) be consulted before any such pledges as these were given. Hamilton, however, will not be satisfied with this concession. It will insist on another one, if it makes a contract. It is that the city have the power to fix its own rates. There is a clause in the contract which says that the rates must be fixed by the commission. Of course, the Hydro power is in competition, the aldermen ask, if the city cannot fix its own rates.

Chairman Jatten, of the Sewers Committee, and City Engineer MacCallum were in Toronto yesterday attending the meeting of representatives of municipalities which are threatened with litigation if they do not pay the Caerleon Company, of Chicago, royalties for septic tanks, installed by different cities and towns without consulting the company. It was decided to appeal to the Ontario Government. A conference will be held with Premier Whitney and some of the Cabinet Ministers. In view of the number of municipalities already interested and the number that will want to instal septic tanks in the future it is believed the Government will give its support.

Secretary Foster, of the Board of Education, says no word has been received here of a plan for the Ontario Government to superannuate teachers, as told in the following Brantford despatch: "The amounging officials of the Ontario Government have under consideration a scheme for the superannuation of Ontario public school teachers after they have served for a certain period. The scheme has not been worked out yet, and details are not available. Actuaries are now engaged in drawing up tables. The superannuation would carry a pension, which would be provided by the municipalities, government and the teachers of the Province, who would be required to contribute to it. In addition the Government contemplates the placing of inspectors under direct control and the making of them Government officials. In order to do this the Government will pay a portion of the salary of inspectors.

City Solicitor Waddell had hopes that Hamilton might benefit in the construction of the Galt street bridge over the T. H. & B. tracks by the $200,000 set aside for the abolishment of level crossings. He applied to the Dominion Railway Commission for a grant towards this expenditure. To-day he received word from Secretary Cartwright that the order for the Galt street bridge was made before this money was set aside, and therefore none of it could be spent on the bridge.
