CUSTOMS REGULATIONS COVERING THE PERSONAL EFFECTS OF TRAVELERS

FOR THE INFORMATION OF TRAVELERS TO AND PROM CANADA

Travelers to and from Canada having ordinary personal baggage will find the customs regulations easily complied with. A special provision is made in the case of sealskin garments. A garment made in whole or in part of sealskin taken from the United States may be re-entered free of duty provided the garment is presented by the owner for inspection to the United States Customs Collector at the port of departure from the United States for Canada. The Collector will register the garment and issue a certificate of ownership therefor which certificate must be presented to the United States Customs Collector at the port of entry on returning to the United States. Sealskin garments not registeerd are subject to confiscation on being brought back to the United States.

Residents of the United States may take into Canada their wearing apparel and other personal effects and upon return to the United States are entitled to have the same admitted free of duty. They are also entitled to have admitted free of duty, if they have been in Canada for several days, articles to the value of $100.00 purchased or otherwise acquired in Canada, in the nature of wearing apparel, articles of personal adornment, toilet articles and similar personal effects, which are necessary and appropriate for the purpose of owner's journey and not intended for other persons or for sale.

Recent customs regulations provide that the importation of aigrettes (Egret Plumes) or so-called osprey plumes, and the feathers, quills, heads, wings, tails, skins, or parts of skins of wild birds, either raw or manufactured, and not for scientific or educational purposes, is hereby prohibited; but this provision shall not apply to the feathers or plumes of ostriches, or to feathers or plumes of domestic fowls of any kind.

Attention is directed to the fact that the prohibited articles can not be brought into the U. S. even though they may have been part of the passenger's wearing apparel when leaving the States.

Travelers from Canada temporarily visiting the United States and wishing to take with them into the United States for personal use, garments made in whole or in part of sealskin, are required to make an affidavit before a United States Consul or Notary Public that their stay in the United States will be temporary and that within a specified number of days they will return to Canada with the fur-seal garment in their possession. Such affidavit to be presented to the United States Customs Collector at the port of entry to the United States.

Baggage may be examined at Toronto, Montreal and at R. & O. Wharf, Quebec, by American customs officials and checked through to destination in the United States, thus avoiding the inconvenience of examination at the port of entry on the frontier. Baggage from the United States destined to cities just named, will be carried through Canada in bond to destination, avoiding examination at Canadian frontier.

Niagara to the Sea

OWHERE in the world is there an all-water trip so picturesque, or one which embraces as great a variety of attractions for the summer tourist as does the popular trip from Niagara to the Sea. The trip in its entirety begins at the Falls of Niagara, and embraces a sail on magnificent modern steamers starting from Lewiston, N. Y., or Queenston, Ontario and sailing down the historic and beautiful Niagara River, showing Queenston Heights, Brock's Monument and Fort Missassauga on the Canadian shore and Fort Niagara on the American shore, at the mouth of the Niagara River, through the blue waters of Lake Ontario to Toronto, thence down to and through the famed Thousand Islands, shooting the Rapids, visiting Montreal and quaint, picturesque old Quebec, and onward down the salt waters of the mountainous and beautiful Lower St. Lawrence to Murray Bay and Tadousac; thence up through the very heart of the Laurentain Mountains to Chicoutimi, located at the head of navigation on the Saguenay River, which flows from Chicoutimi to Tadousac through the grandest and most scenic navigable mountain gorge in the world.

From Montreal and Quebec, the Canada Steamship Lines, Limited, offer a grand salt water trip down the majestic St. Lawrence River and Gulf to Pictou, Nova Scotia, and also several cruises during the summer season from Quebec to

Orest Gorge Route Car passing through Niagara Gorge (To connect with Steamer at Lewiston)

New York. This service is performed by the Ouebec Steamship Division. which also performs service from New York to Bermuda and the West Indies.

The Majestic St. Lawrence River flowing north, connects the world's greatest chain of lakes with the Atlantic Ocean. In purity and clearness its waters surpass those of any river in the world, and its historic environment is a source of intense interest to all travelers, particularly to the soldier, statesman or student.

The climatic conditions of this favored region are, in summer, as near perfection as possible; the days of sunshine are clear and bright, and are crowned with most beautiful sunsets; the nights are cool and sleep-inducing; and the great body of water, combined with woodland and mountain breezes, cool and purify the air to such a degree that it has a subtle charm for those in search of health, rest and recreation.

The City Ticket Office and Information Bureau of the R. & O. division of The Canada Steamship Lines is located at No. 18 Swan St. E., Buffalo.

From Buffalo, the New York Central Lines operate a splendid train service to Lewiston, N. Y., via Niagara Falls, and the Michigan Central R. R., performs service from Buffalo to Niagara-on-the-Lake via Niagara Falls.

"Before me the great cataract of America is thundering, smoking, glittering with green and white rollers, hurling the waters of a whole continent in splendor and speed over the sharp ledges of the long brown rock by which Lake Erie 'the Steamer "Cayuga" at Lewiston, N. Y.

Broad' steps proudly down to Ontario'the Bcautiful,' "—Sir Edwin Arnold.

At Niagara Falls, N. Y., the city ticket office of the company is located at No. 19 Falls Street. Apply here for all information and tickets.

One of Nature's greatest creations, whose shrine commands the homage of wonderworshipers from every known land, the Falls of Niagara are a singularly fit starting-point for those who purpose making the most scenic and most interesting water trip in the world; and they are more accessible than any other point of attraction in America, because many great trunk railway lines have made Buffalo and the Falls objective points in their endeavor to secure a portion of the ever-increasing stream of summer tourist travel bound for the lordly St. Lawrence River and the beauty spots of Canada. Tickets and information may be obtained at principal Railway, Lake and Steamship Ticket Offices.

Among the points of interest at Niagara Falls may be mentioned the beautiful parks on both sides of the river. Goat Island, the Whirlpool, the Cave of the Winds, and the "Home of Shredded Wheat," visited annually by over 100,000 tourists from every clime.

Niagara Falls is well equipped with hotels, the latest addition to their number being the magnificent new Clifton Hotel on the Canadian side, facing the Gorge and Falls.

All visitors to Niagara Falls should take the famous trip to the falls on the excursion steame, "Maid of the Mist."

The International Hotel on the American side has just been rebuilt and newly furnished throughout. It is under new management and is modern and first class in every particular.

The region of the Falls, above and below, presents a series of delightful pictures. One of the most picturesque spots lics between the Whirlpool and Queenstown. The Niagara Gorgo Railway affords an excellent opportunity of seeing the principal points of interest at a very moderate outlay.

This trip is one of the principal features of a visit to Niagara Falls, and should not be missed. Observation cars are run for seven miles through the beautiful Niagara Gorge, in full view of the Rapids and Whirlpool.

Leaving Niagara, it is a short journey, either by rail or electric car to the historic village of Queenstown. The country here is particularly interesting. On an eminence is the Monument erected by Canada in honor of Sir Isaac Brock, who fell during an engagement with the American troops in 1812. On the opposite shore is the American village of Lewiston, reached by a suspension bridge.

The International Railway Company provides electric service along the Canadian side of Niagara Gorge from Queenston to Niagara Falls, passing Brock's Monument, whirlpool and lower rapids, Niagara Falls and Queen Victoria Park, Ontario, and to Buffalo, N. Y.

The trip from Buffalo and Niagara Falls to Toronto should be made via the Niagara-Toronto Division (Canada Steamship Lines, Limited), as it is the most direct route and includes the scenic attractions of Niagara Gorge and River and a cool bracing sail of thirty miles across Lake Ontario. Through tickets may be purchased at all Ticket Offices.

The Niagara-Toronto service of the Canada Steamship Lines, Limited, connecting Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Toronto, consists of three large, fast steamers, making at the height of the tourist season, six round trips daily (Sundays included) between Toronto, Ont., and Lewiston, N. Y., via Lake Ontario and the Niagara River, calling at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., and Queenston, Ont. The trip occupies about two hours and a half.

Toronto Harbor

Twelve miles below the Falls, opposite Fort Niagara, is Niagara-on-the-Lake, a popular summer resort, the surroundings of which are full of natural beauty and historic inter Here is located the Queen's Royal Hotel, under the same magement as the Queen's Hotel of Toronto. From Niagara-othe-Lake we may embark on one of the steamers of the company, which run from Queenston and Lewiston to Toronto, connecting with Richelieu & Ontario steamers for Thousand Islands, Montreal, Quebec and Saguenay River. Rail communication between Niagara Falls and Toronto is via Hamilton, Ontario, via the Grand Trunk Railway System or New York Central Lines.

Connection with the Richelieu & Ontario steamers (Canada Steamship Lines) for Montreal, Quebec, the Lower St. Lawrence and Saguenay Rivers can also be made via New York Central Railroad from Buffalo or Niagara Falls to Charlotte—lake port of Rochester, N. Y.—but this route does not allow the passengers to leave the steamer or stop over at the Thousand Islands (ports of Clayton, N. Y., or Alexandria Bay, N. Y.), unless passengers board steamer "Rochester" at Charlotte.

Charlotte is situated at the mouth of the Genesee River, and is the lake port of all the tourist business converging in the city of Rochester.

The "Rochester" is a new twin screw steamer, built expressly for passenger service on the Toronto-Rochester-Thousand Island Line, by the Detroit Shipbuilding Company, under instructions to spare no expense in the construction and equipment of the steamer, and to utilize every known appliance which has proven of value for the safety and comfort of passengers. The "Rochester" has accommodation for about 400 passengers. Every stateroom is an outside room and has running water and many of them are connected with private bathrooms. The large observation dining room is located on the main deck and the service is of a high order of excellence. The steamer is luxuriously furnished and is one of the finest of her type in commission on fresh water for tourist travel.

It is called the "Flower City," from the numerous nurseries situated there, which are gorgeous sights when in bloom. The Falls of the Genesee River are among the natural attractions and supply the city with a grand water power. Rochester is an important railroad center; the trains of the New York Central; Lehigh, Valley; Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh; New York, Lake Erie & Western; and Pennsylvania Railroads all connect with the Richelieu and Ontario steamers this point via Charlotte.

We now resume our description of the route from Toronto. Toronto, the Queen City, is beautifully situated on the north shore of Lake Ontario, and is one of the largest and most prosperous cities of the Dominion. Its name is derived from the Indian Dron-do, meaning "place of meeting." It has a population of four hundred and twenty-five thousand. Its beautiful scenery, its picturesque parks, its hand-the lake, in the heart of the temperate zone, admirably adapts Toronto for a summer resort. It has a mild and equable climate, which renders the summer days cool and pleasant.

On the present site of Toronto, in 1749, the French estabilshed a trading post called Fort Rouille. Not long after the country passed into the hands of the British, and little was heard of Fort Rouille until 1792 when Lieutenant-Governor Simcoe chose it for the permanent seat of the government, and gave it the name of York.

In 1834 the city was incorporated under the name of Toronto, and in 1867, by the federation of the provinces, Toronto became the capital of the Province of Ontario. It covers about 28 square miles, and has twelve thousand acres of public parks and gardens.

The city rises gradually from the water's edge to an elevation of over 100 feet above the level of the lake. The streets are broad, well paved and most of them have boulevards of well-kept lawn and shade trees, the drives through the long, forested avenues affording delightful glimpses of shrubbery and flowers.

Starting from the foot of Yonge Street, northward from the bay, many fine buildings, fairly typical of the city's wealth and enterprise, are seen. The City Ticket Office of the Richelieu & Ontario division of the Canada Steamship Lines, Limited, is located on the corner of Yonge and Wellington Streets (apply here for all information regarding your trip). From this point radiate the wholesale business streets. At the intersection with King Street, the commercial hub of the city is reached. Yonge Street divides the city into two grand divisions, and is the great thoroughfare to the north, extending thirty miles to Holland River.

Landing a Pickerel at Thousand Islands

One of Toronto's notable buildings is the Temple, at the corner of Richmond and Bay Streets, erected by the Independent Order of Foresters. Nearby is the City Hall and Court House, one of the finest municipal buildings in Canada.

The Exhibition buildings are situated on the Garrison Reserve, at the west end of the city, overlooking Lake Ontario, and are easily reached. They attract large numbers of visitors, especially during the Canadian National Annual Exhibition August 29th to September 12th. High Park, with beautiful trees and shrubbery, almost borders on the Humber river, and is a delightful resort. Rosedale, on the northeast, is adorned with fine residences, while Queen's Park, the Allan Gardens and other charming breathing places are found in the heart of the city.

The picturesque and romantic Rosedale ravine is one of nature's beauty spots and it is a point of interest much visited by tourists.

At Woodbine Park is held the annual meet of the Ontario Jockey Club for the King's Plate. This event is the Derby of Canada, and is one of the oldest racing features in America, having been run continuously since 1860. It is the greatest racing event held in Canada, and is not surpassed by any in the United States.

St. James Cathedral, on King Street East, said to have the highest spire on the continent, is a magnificent specimen of English Gothic architecture, and it is only one of a large number of stately and imposing edifices; amongst others may be mentioned St. Michael's Cathedral, the Metropolitan Methodist Church, Jarvis Street Baptist Church, Congregational Church, on Bond and Wilton Aven :, St. Andrew's and Knox Presbyterian Churches.

The Provincial Parliament building, at the southern end of Queen's Park, is a stately structure. It has a frontage of four hundred and thirty-five feet, with a depth of two hundred and sixty. In the western part of the park, is Toronto University, the pride of the city. The style is Norman, the proportions being noble and the harmony of the whole exquisite. The University was founded in 1827. Its faculties include those of Arts, Science, Law, Theology and Medicine, and it is in federation with the University College and Victoria University. Hear the University is the Armories.

While in this vicinity Osgoode Hall, where the highest courts of the Province are held, claims attention. The exterior is interesting, but its beauty is eclipsed by the richness of the interior.

Another notable building is the University of Trinity College on Queen Street, founded in 1852. Victoria University, much smaller but architecturally a gem, and McMaster University are nearby.

Toronto possesses excellent hotels, the latest addition being the magnificent King Edward Hotel. In its construction and equipment every known improvement Hotels has been utilized, and it justly claims a leading position in the front rank of modern first-class hotels. It is absolutely fire-proof, is luxuriously furnished, and is as near perfect as the most advanced ideas can make it. The King Edward is centrally located on King Street, east of Yonge.

The Queen's—one of the most comfortable hotels on the continent, possessing every modern convenience—has always been famous for its homelike comforts, and is in every way desirable as a family hotel. It is pleasantly situated on Front Street, overlooking Toronto Bay and Lake Onta io. It is not far from either dock or station, yet it is quiet, and is a remarkably cool hotel in summer.

The Walker House, corner of Front and York Streets, is one of the best known and most popular of Toronto's hotels. It is well known as a first class tourist and family hotel, and is located within five minutes walk of the Union Station and lake steamer wharves. The Carls-Rite, under the same capable management, is also located on Front Street, only one block west of the Walker House.

The Prince George is one of the best known and most popular hotels in the city. It is centrally located on the corner of King and York Streets. It enjoys an enviable reputation, and has recently been completely refurnished and improved in all departments.

The Iroquois is located on the opposite corner. It is under able management, and is popular with the large clientele who favor it with their patronage.

The Arlington, a short distance west on King Street, is managed with a view of furnishing excellent service at moderate rates.

There are numerous other hotels and private boarding-houses. There is a good street-ear service, by which every part of the city can be reached.

This beautiful and refreshing body of water is one hundred and ninety miles in length and fifty miles in Lake Ontario width. Its waters are as clear and pure as a mountain spring. Its height above sea level is two hundred and forty-seven feet, and it is six hundred feet deep. It is remarkably free from storms, and is in high favor with all pleasure seekers who enjoy a delightful water trip.

The magnificent steamers "Toronto" and "Kingston" commence their regular trips on the Toronto-Thousand-Islands-Montreal route on June 1st. (For complete service see schedule on pages 99 to 105). These splen-

Steamers "Toronto" and "Kingston"

(For complete service see schedule on pages 99 to 105). These splendid boats have spacious and elegant passenger accommodation, including parlor-rooms with bathrooms connecting, and each has sleeping capacity for over four hundred passengers. The interior finish and decorations of the "Toronto" and the spacious halls and deck saloons are most elaborate, the main and gallery saloons being finished in Francis I. Renaissance.

The entrance hall, on the main deck, is decorated in Neo-Grec, with modern Renaissance uetails. The main staircases are in Honduras mahogany. The steamer's length over all is two hundred and seventy-eight feet; width, sixty-two feet; depth, fourteen feet. The engines are of the triple expansion class. The average time-table speed is seventeen miles an hour, with a capacity for twenty miles when required.

The steamer "Kingston" will leave Toronto on alternate days with the "Toronto." The "Kingston" is a sister-ship to the "Toronto." They are specially constructed for high-class tourist travel and in elaborate decoration and equipment for the safety and comfort of passengers, they are unsurpassed. The dining-room on both steamers is on the main deck, and in addition to the regular dining rooms, there is a modern buffet at which will be found seasonable edibles.

Commencing June 20th until August 29th, there will be a double service from Toronto, daily except Sundays. Steamer leaving at 2:00 P. M., will cross the lake to Charlotte, N. Y., thence onward as per schedule, and the steamer leaving Toronto at 6:00 P. M., will sail direct down the Canadian shore to Kingston, thence as per schedule.

Steamer will leave Toronto on Sundays from July 1st to September 7th, at 2:00 P. M.

The first port of call after leaving Toronto is Charlotte, N. Y., seven miles north of the city of Rochester, which is reached by the New York Central Railroad, and connection is made for New York and points east and Buffalo and points west.

Kingston is the Sandhurst or West Point of Canada, with Kingston, Ont. its Military College, its massive grey stone June 2d to Aug. 17th forts, its Martello towers and imposing public buildings. It is beautifully situated at the foot of Lake Ontario, at the head of the Sched. River St. Lawrence. A settlement was begun by the French, under Gouverneur de Courcelles in 1672, with the name of Cataraqui, for the purpose of protecting the fur traders from the murderous depredations of the Indians. His successor, Count de Frontenac, built a massive stone fort, giving it his own name, which still attaches to the county. The fort was alternately seized and occupied by the French and English until it was destroyed by the latter, under Colonel Bradstreet, in 1758. It was rebuilt under the name of Fort Henry, which it still retains.

It is also a great educational center—Queen's University, Royal Medical College, and the Royal Military College have a continental repute.

Passengers should arrange to be called on reaching Kingston as the scenery in the immediate vicinity should not be missed.

Breakfast is served shortly after leaving, and the Thousand Island scenery proper can then be enjoyed without interruption.

The steamer leaves Kingston at 6:00 A. M., until June 21st, and thereafter at 5:30 A. M., and passengers arriving in sleeping cars by the Grand Trunk from the west connect with the steamer.

We launch out in the early morn upon the silent bosom of the majestic St. Lawrence, named by Jacques Cartier in honor of Saint Lawrence whom he revered as his patron saint.

Thousand Islands

Behind us lies Kingston, with its domes and pinnacles. Across the river is Garden Island, and City View Park, on Wolf Island, with its undulating groves. Before us lies the entry to the sinuous channels of the famous archipelago of the Thousand Islands.

A spin among the Islands

This indescribably beautiful region, which lies at the foot of Lake Ontario and forms a crown for the majestic St. Lawrence, is justly famed as one of the most attractive of the world's summer play grounds.

"Where emerald waters take their way Through winding channel, cove and bay, With broad abandon wide and free From Lake Ontario to the sea. Beneath the blue, adorning sky A thousand isles in beauty lie."

These islands commence near Kingston, where the waters of Lake Ontario issue into the broad channel of the St. Lawrence, and extend down to Brockville, a distance of some fifty miles. They number about seventeen hundred, varying in size, shape and appearance, from a small rock to the large fertile area of land, crowned with richest foliage and lofty trees, and many of them are ornamented by summer residences, varying in style of architecture from the modest cottage of the camper to the magnificent castle of the millionaire; others remain in the simplicity of natural beauty. As we wind in and out amid these charming islands, the rapidly changing pictures almost bewilder us. The beauty and romantic scenery of these islands, the advantages for boating fishing and eamping, and the purity of atmosphere, contribute toward making this region the most unique of Canada's pleasure grounds.

The islands were the scene of thrilling and romantic adventures during the days of the rebellion. The burning of the "Sir Robert Peel" occurred here in 1838 by a band of outlaws headed by "Bill" Johnson, a kind of a political Robin Hood, who had coneeived the idea of conferring on Canada the boon of freedom. The story of his devoted and daring daughter

Rocky Point Light House

"Kate," who rowed him from hiding place to hiding place, and kept him supplied with food, gives a touch of the charm of legend and adventure to this region.

The passage through the islands occupies several hours. The steamer courses between Howe and Wolf Islands, past Grindstone Island, stopping first at Clayton (New York), on the American mainland, a favorite summer resort, renowned for the splendid fishing in the vicinity, where black bass, pickerel and maskinonge abound. All lines of steamers stop at Clayton, which is connected with Niagara Falls, Albany, New York and Utica by the New York Central Railroad. The trip from New York to Clayton can be made in about ten hours, without changing, and from Utica in three hours.

Commencing August 17th, steamers leave Clayton and points east, 30 minutes earlier than time shown in folders and time tables.

ber of boarding houses, also cottages which may be rented for the season at reasonable prices.

Boating, fishing, driving or horseback riding facilities are unsurpassed. Concerts and other entertainments fill up the evenings.

The beautiful avenue along its water-front gives far-reaching views of the flowing river upon one hand, and leafy vistas along the side avenues which lead into the heart of the park domain. Passengers for Thousand Island Park are transferred to local steamers at Clayton, or Alexandria Bay.

A mile below Thousand Island Park is Fine View, and a mile further on is Pecl Dock, at which the steamer "Sir Robert Peel"

A short distance below in a beautiful grove on the south shore is located St. Lawrence Park, an attractive and picturesque resort, where a number of handsome cottages and an attractive hotel have been crected.

The characteristic island scenery from Clayton to Alexandria Bay is amongst the most beautiful of the trip. Hundreds of islands lie across the course of the steamer, tortuous and zigzag, all differing in size, coast, coloring, and forming an which hundreds are seen dotting the surface of the water. These craft are of every description, from the skiff and cat-boat up to the most elaborate electric or steam yachts in the world.

From all of the resorts among the islands charming excursions may be made by day and by searchlight at night, on well-appointed local excursion boats, operated by the company in the interest of visitors to the islands.

Belle Isle

The grand illumination of the islands takes place on Wednesday and Saturday evenings, when the entire region is transformed into a veritable fairland which must be seen to be appreciated.

about four hours. All tourist tickets reading via the Canada Steamship Lines, Limited, through Charlotte, N. Y., or Toronto, Ont., allow stopover at the Thousand Islands and passengers should take advantage of this opportunity to fully enjoy the beauty and charm of this seenic wenderland.

On account of the great scenic attractions of this region the majority of transportation companies have decided to include in tickets reading from Buffalo or Niagara Falls to Montreal, either via Charlotte (Port of Rochester, N. Y.) or Toronto, Ontario, a coupon which entitles passengers to a complimentary side trip among the Islands. All who plan their trip to stop over at the Thousand Islands will remember with pleasure and satisfaction the time so spent.

We now emerge from the labyrinth into Alexandria Bay, the "Saratoga of the St. Lawrence." It is one of the most popular as well as one of the most fashionable watering places in America. Thousands of people from all parts of esque surroundings, some showing from among the trees perched on rocky bluffs, others snugly perched on low-lying islands or nestling in beautiful coves along the mainland.

At Alexandria Bay is located the Thousand Island House, owned and occupied by Colonel O. G. Staples, of Washington. This house is one of the best and most favorably known in Northern New York. It was designed for the comfort of its guests, the rooms being exceptionally large and airy. On three sides of the house are broad verandas, while from the tower one may count over a hundred islands, and see for miles up and down the St. Lawrence. The illumination of this building is one of the most attractive features of the islands.

The Crossmon House is another well-known hotel at Alexandria Bay, being under the management of the owner, Mr. C. W. Crossmon.

It occupies an excellent location, a short distance from the wharf, in view of many beautiful summer homes, and has been under the management of one family for nearly half a century.

The New Marsden House has been recently rebuilt and newly furnished at great cost, and is homelike and comfortable; its modest rates combined with liberal management, have made this house a favorite with tourists. An annex containing twenty-five new rooms with bathrooms connecting has been added this season.

Opposite Alexandria Bay, on Wellesley Island, is Westminster Park. The portion of the island included in the park grounds eonsists of two hundred acres, rising about forty feet above the water. From the summit the whole group of the Thousand Islands, extending along the river for a distance of twenty miles, are brought into full view. The Westminster Hotel ferry connects with all steamers arriving at and departing from Alexandria Bay.

The Hotel Westminster is situated in the most beautiful and romantie part of Westminster Park, near the best fishing grounds on the river.

It is under the management of H. Fred Inglehart, whose name is a guarantee of good management in all departments.

The Edgewood Park Hotel, charmingly situated near Alexandria Bay, is reached by connecting ferry.

Leaving Alexandria Bay, the steamer runs past Summerland, Idlewild and Grenadier Islands, and passes within a stone's throw of Dark Island, which, rising boldly out of the waters and crowned with a magnificent summer home, is well fitted for its position as sentinel of Manatoana—the garden of the Great Spirit—as the Indians named the Thousand Islands.

Directly opposite Dark Island is Chippewa Bay, where during the war of 1812 the British paymaster's ship "Ensign" was scuttled and sunk with ninety souls.

The large observation dining room on each steamer is located on the main deek aft, and in addition to the dining room there is a buffet where light luncheon is served. Above the main deek is the promenade deek, with a number of well furnished staterooms and a beautifully furnished saloon, arranged in such a manner as to allow ample forward deek space.

The grand observation deek is above the promenade deek. This deek is completely shaded and has seating capacity for several hundred passengers in the open air, and also a large glass inclosed saloon for those who prefer its protection in case of wind or rain. The "Rapids Prince" is the latest addition to the rapids division fleet.

The trip westbound from Montreal to Prescott is partly by river and partly by canal. The trip via the canals gives a magnificent bird's-eye view of the river and rapids on the left, and on the right is a beautiful landscape dotted with villages and well-tilled farms, and the canals, with their massive stone locks—operated and lighted by electricity—are a source of great interest. While in the Soulanges Canal, the steamer is raised eighty-five feet, and in one lock the lift is thirty-three feet.

The trip up the St. Lawrence consumes but little more time than it does going down with the current, and, while not so exciting, it is fully as interesting and enjoyable.

Steamer "Rochester" at Dock, Ogdensburg, N. Y.

Resuming our description of the eastbound trip. The steamer now bears to the right disclosing the imposing group of buildings of the Point Airy New York State Insane Asylum, and about three miles cast is Chimney Island, at one time fortified by the French. As Prescott fades in the distance, we pass through the first of the troubled waters of the St. Lawrence, the Galoups, and pass the picturesque villages of Cardinal and Iroquois. One and a half miles below Iroquois is the narrowest point in the river-width e'even hundred and forty feet—and on the right is Cedar Point. To the successful fortification of the point by the Americans in 1812-1813 the Rideau canal, between Kingston and Ottawa, owes its existence. Morrisburg, Ont., is soon in view, and five miles below on the Canadian mainland, is a gray stone monument which commemorates the battle of Cryslers Farm, fought Nov. 18th, 1813, resulting in the defeat of the Americans under General Wilkinson by the Canadian militia under Colonel Morrison. Between Iroquois and Morrisburg the Rapids du Plat swirl their waters among a group of wooded islands. Opposite Morrisburg is Dry Island, and a mile below is Gooseneck Island. After shooting the du Plat the steamer glides with increasing motion past a picturesque point named Woodland, and in among bolder shores, on the north side of Croyles Island, into sight of the Long Sault, with its snow-crested bil-lows of raging rapids. This, the greatest of the remarkable rapids of the St. Lawrence extends about nine miles down

Long Sault Rapids stream to Cornwall, and is divided into main channels by beautifully wooded

islands. The "shooting of rapids," as the descent by boat is called, is a most exciting experience. Before us is a seething mass of churning waters, rushing with headlong speed down a declivity which stretches ahead, apparently without termination. With her steam almost shut off, the steamer dashes among the waves that seem to advance up the hill to meet her, and is carried along by sheer force of the current, at a speed of twenty miles an hour. As we approach the foot of these rapids the steamer rapidly passes on the left the head of Sheiks Island in Canadian waters, and a few yards further on is Barnharts Island in American waters, and for the next seven miles both sides of the river belong to the United States, owing to an error made by the King of Holland, who was arbitrator of the treaty of 1812, and from maps and charts furnished him, decided that the main channel of the river passed around the north side of Barnharts Island. As there is only about three feet of water in the channel between Barnharts and Sheiks Islands, the royal arbitrator erred in his decision.

The first passage of the Long Sault by steamer was made about 1840, under the pilotage of the celebrated Indian, Terrohiahere. The Long Sault has a fall of forty-eight feet.

The Cornwall Canal, twelve miles long, with six locks, and a fall of 48 feet, offers a safe pasasge to freight steamers and small craft eastbound, and is the only course possible for all craft bound westward. The St. Lawrence expands below Cornwall, forming the beautiful Lake St. Francis, 28 miles in length. The shores on either side present a pleasant prospect, diversified with woods and farms. "But," says a well known writer, "the chief glory of a Lake St. Francis sail down Lake St. Francis is the distant mountain range, blue against the horizon.

It is the old Chateauguay range—a spur of the Adirondacks. At the entrance of the lake we pass several islands, among which is Stanley Island, a pleasant summer resort, and in the fall a place noted for duck shooting and fishing. Located on the north shore, about the middle of the lake, is Lancaster, and a few miles below is the boundary line between the provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

At the lower end of the lake is Coteau-du-Lae, whose straggling row of little French houses, looking still smaller in contrast with the great stone church and gleaming spire, give evidence that we are now in French Canada. Across from Coteau, on the southern side, is the town of Valleyfield, with its large cotton mills.

After passing Coteau Landing, the steamer glides under the Coteau Rapids magnificent iron bridge of the Grand Trunk Railway. Shortly below this bridge the Coteau Rapids are entered.

About seven miles further down, we pass a small island whose trees almost dip into the hurrying stream, and rounding a sharp curve we enter the Cedar Rapids, below which are the Split Rock Rapids.

On the right after navigating the Cedar Rapids, is a canal about 1000 feet wide and 12,000 feet long, constructed by the Cedar Rapids Manufacturing and Power Company.

Extending across its lower end and forming a dam is the power house, built of concrete. The total fall of water is 32 feet, and 160,000 electrical horsepower has been developed by the construction of the canal and dam.

A short distance below the Split Rock Rapids are the Cascades, the last of this series of rapids, conspicuous by white-crested waves which mount tumultuously from the dark green waters. This chain of four rapids, following in close succession, extend in all about twelve miles and have a fall of eighty-four feet.

Cascade Rapids

The Soulanges Canal, which covers the distance from Coteau Landing to the foot of the Cascade Rapide, is one of the finest of the canals, and it is well worth taking a trip westbound in order to see the massive stone locks, with fertile fields on both sides. The canal is lighted and operated by electricity.

Below the Cascades, the river expands into Lake St. Louis. Almost at its head, the Ottawa River, which is seven hundred and fifty miles in length, discharges one of its branches into the St. Lawrence. The scenery is very fine along this lake.

Along its margin are the cottages of Montrealers who come here to spend the summer months, and several yacht and boating club houses; among others, a little

At the foot of the lake, we pass the town of Lachine Lachine, nine miles from Montreal. The place was founded by La Salle in the year 1670. Here the famous Lachine Canal commences. Across from Lachine, on the south bank, is the Indian village, Caughnawaga. The name means "Praying Indian." Just below Caughnawaga is the magnificent iron bridge of the Canadian Pacific Railway, built on the eantilever principle.

Passing under the bridge, the steamer glides into midstream that moves with increasing speed, indicative of the coming rapids, which now appear in full view. And soon we enter the last of the St. Lawrence rapids—the Lachine. A moment more and we have completed the descent, and ride in tranquility on the placid bosom of the Lachine Rapids river below, with a sense of relief born of 5:30 p. m. the contemplated danger past. The fall of water in these rapids is 45 feet.

The pleasure of passing through the Long Sault Rapids and those following has been so greatly enjoyed that all sense of actual danger has passed when the Lachine Rapids are sighted and all passengers aboard are eager to see every whitecrested wave and angry whirlpool. As we approach these Rapids in the soft light of early evening the brave hearted are drawn to the side of the steamer as if impelled by a longing to battle with and subdue the angry waves, and all, even the most timid, are on tip-toe in an effort to fully view the majestic grandeur of the awe inspiring scene.

The steamer moves steadily on as if to conquer this great battle-field of plunging, tumbing waves. Her pilots look neither to the left or right as she dashes into the rolling billows and is guided past a rocky island which a few minutes before Passing the beautifully wooded shores of Nun's Island we see the famous Victoria Jubilee Bridge, built to replace the old Victoria Tubular Bridge. It ranks from an engineering standpoint with the foremost structures of the present age.

Sailing beneath the great bridge, we come in full view of the city of Montreal, with its teeming harbor, with its beautiful public buildings of massive stone; its churches, its cathedrals,

On account of the close connection of the steamers from the west with those leaving for Quebec, tourists generally prefer to go on down the St. Lawrence to Quebec and the Saguenay, visiting Montreal on their return. We will, therefore, reserve for the return trip a description of Montreal.

The journey down the St .Lawrence, from Montreal to Quebec, in one of the new palatial steamers that ply on this route, is as pleasant a trip as could be taken anywhere in America. Leaving Victoria Pier in the evening we first pass Longueuil, a village on the south bank, memorable in history for the repulse of the Americans by General Carelton in 1775. A little lower down on the north shore is Longue Pointe. Nine miles from Montreal we see Pointe-aux-Trembles, founded in 1674. Here is one of the old French churches, built in 1709. Just below it are the islands of Boucherville.

Forty-five miles from Montreal, at the junction of the Sorel Richelieu River, is Sorel. It stands on the site Steamer leaves of the fort built by de Tracy in 1665, and was for many years the summer residence of successive governors of Canada.

Sorel was founded by the French in 1634 as a trading post under the name of Fort Richelieu.

At Sorel is located the large workshops of the Canada Steamship Lines and the winter headquarters for a number of its large fleet of magnificent steamers.

The most perfect view of Quebec is enjoyed by passengers arriving at or departing from the city by R. & O. Steamers. Of this inspiring scenc, Mrs. Moody (Susanna Strickland) wrote as follows:

"What a scene! Can the world produce another? Edinburgh had been the "beau ideal" to me of all that was beautiful in nature; but all these past recollections faded before the presence of Quebec. Nature has ransacked all her grandest elements to form this astonishing panorama."

Quaint, curious old Quebec, undoubtedly the most picturesque and interesting city in America, whose winding streets and frowning battlements are pervaded with the atmosphere of departed centuries; here is the cradle of Canada. Quebec seems to have been specially formed by Nature for the important part assigned to her in the drama of this continent, for, from her commanding eminence, she holds the position of guardian and sentry of Canada. In 1535, that intrepid explorer, Jacques Cartier, sailed from France, under a commission from Francis I., in the hope of discovering a new highway to the Indies, and of adding new possessions to his native land. Sailing up the magnificent river, he gave to it the name of St. Lawrence, and on the 14th of September he cast anchor at the mouth of a little tributary, which he called St. Croix. The natives of Stadacona. headed by their chief, Donnacona, paddled out in their birch bark canoes to meet the strangers in their wondrous vessels. The meeting of Jacques Cartier and the chief appears to have been friendly, for he willingly conducted the explorers to the summit of the rock and to the little village that nestled beneath. The following spring Cartier sailed for France, and nothing came of his voyage. In 1608, Samuel de Champlain planted the white flag of France upon the heights of Cape Diamond and became the founder of Quebec.

"Unexampled for picturesqueness and magnificence of position on the American continent, and for the romance of her historic associations, Quebec sits on her impregnable heights a queen among the cities of the New World. At her feet flows the noble St. Lawrence, the fit highway into a great empire, here narrowed to a couple of miles breadth, though lower down the waters widen to a score of miles, and at the gulf to a hundred. From the compression of the river at this point the city derives its name, the word signifying, in the native Indian tongue, the Strait. On the east part of the city, along a richly fertile valley, flows the beautiful St. Charles, to join its waters with those of the great river. The mingled waters divide to enclasp the fair and fertile Isle of Orleans."

"The city as seen from a distance rises stately and solemn, like a grand pile of monumental buildings, clustering houses, tall, irregular, high-pitched roofs, crowd the long line of shore and climb the rocky heights. Great piles of stone churches, colleges and public buildings, crowned with gleaming minarets, rise above the mass of dwellings. The clear air permits the use of tin for the roofs and spires, and the dark stone-work is relieved with gleaming light, Above all rise the long dark lines of one of the world's famous citadels, the 'Gibraltar of America.'"

Thus Charles Marshall wrote of Ouebec:

But Quebce's chief claim to the attention of the traveller is its historic battlefield, which saw one of the fiercest and most momentous battles of North America, and on which the generals of both France and England perished in the final struggle for the possession of Canada. It is impossible to reflect on the momentous consequences of Wolfe's victory without feeling the influence of the spirit of the scene.

Viewed from the Citadel, above Dufferin Terrace, the picture spread out beneath our feet can nowhere be duplicated. Here the Fleur-de-lis banner of the Bourbons and the time worn flag of England have been unfurled in token of supremacy. Yonder is the spot where the noblest sons of France and England fought for the empire of this land, in the memorable battle of the Plains of Abraham in 1759. Behind Dufferin Terrace, in the Governor's Garden, the granite column, crected in 1775, tells its story by its simple inscription: "In memory of Wolfe and Montcalm." Vanquisher and vanquished lie silent in the tomb, but their names are linked together in an indissoluble wreath of glory. Nestled together below us are the antique gables, the peculiar roofs, the quaint spires and the historie walls that take us back into the historie past. Looking away beyond the churches and monuments, the ramparts and gates, we behold a picture that no pencil can delineate and no poet eould describe. Over the heights of Levis and above its frowning fortifications, rises the summer sun; his beams gild the spires of a hundred historic buildings. From the forts in the town of Levis, Wolfe's batteries under the command of Monckton shelled Quebec in 1759. Looking eastward the Islc of Orleans divides the waters of the St. Lawrence. Then across the stream—

"Where yonder Mountains cracked And sundered by volcanic fire, Sings Montmorency's cataract— Fit chord for such a granite lyre."

Then the village of Beauport stretches along the shore. Beyond rises the blue Laurentains, mound over mound, till they blend with the fleecy clouds upon the distant horizon. From out the forest and fields glances the steeple of the Charlesbourg ehurch. Behind this appears the chapel of the Indian village of Lorette. Still turning westward, we notice the St. Charles flowing through green meadows to join the St. Lawrence.

Dufferin Terrace was first laid out by the earl of Durham, Governor-General of Canada in 1838. During the administration of the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava it was enlarged into the present far-famed promenade.

Champlain Monument, erected in honor of Samuel de Champlain, the founder of Quebec, faces the Chateau Frontenac, one of the world's magnificent hotels, commanding delightful views of the St. Lawrence. In exterior it blends with its surroundings; while the interior yields the maximum of comfort and beauty without sacrificing the outlook.

The site of the hotel is that of the ancient Chateau St. Louis, for over two centuries the seat of the government of the province.

The St. Louis Hotel has recently been modernized and improved. It is located within three minute's walk of Dufferin Terrace and in proximity to all points of interest. Its cuisine and service is excellent. Under its present able management it justly claims its share of patronage. A short distance from the St. Louis Hotel is the English Cathedral and City Hall.

The Victoria Hotel is situated within a few minutes walk of the Grand Battery, near many points of interest. It is under new management and is a favorite with all its patrons.

There are other hotels and good private boarding houses whose rates are in keeping with a modest purse.

A stroll around the ramparts, and an inspection of the picturesque and substantial archways, gives the visitor a good idea of the military strength of the city. Eastward from Dufferin Terrace following the outline of the cliffs is the Grand Battery. Crowning the cliffs at the head of Palace Hill stands

Laval University. Called after the famous bishop, Monseigneur de Laval de Montmorenci. It looks down upon one of the most magnificent scens in America. Among the celebrated masters represented in the art gallery of Laval may be mentioned Salvator Rosa, Teniers, Romenelli, Joseph Vernet, Paget and Perocci Poussin.

Near its entrance, on the Cliff, is the spot where General Montgomery fell at the head of the storming party, December 13, 1775.

Another fine edifice that claims our attention is the Basilica, built on the site of the ancient church of Notre-Damede-la-Rcouvrance, erected in 1633 by Samuel de Champlain to commemorate the restoration of the colony by Britain. Within this ancient church was interred the remains of Laval, Frontenac and many others.

Kent Gate, Quebec

The Basilica contains, amongst other valuable paintings, the Christ of the Cathedral, by Van Dyke, and the Ecstacy of St. Paul, by Carlo Maratti. Some of the pictures were brought to Canada from France during the revolution. The square opposite, where the City Hall has been erected, is the site of the old Jesuit College founded in 1635. Within its walls, the martyrs Lalemont, Brcbeuf, and Vimont taught, and Pere Marquette drew his plans that led to the establishment of Christianity on the Mississippi. Adjoining the Bascilica is the Archbishop's Palace.

The Ursuline Convent is situated on Garden Street. The date of its earliest foundation was 1641, and of the present 1686. Montcalm is buried in the chapel in a tomb said to have been formed by the bursting of a shell during the siege of the city.

The Hotel-Dieu, or Hospital of the Precious Blood. was founded in 1739 by a niece of Cardinal Richelieu.

A place especially attractive to visitors from the United States is No. 42 St. Louis Street. In it were deposited the remains of Brigadier-General Montgomery on the 31st of December, 1775. The quaint old church of Notre-Dame-des-Victories. erected in 1788, should also be visited, as it is associated with several warlike events. During the siege of Quebec, Facing Place d'Armes, coming off the Dufferin Terrace, is the Union Building, erected in 1805, upon the site of a building occupied in 1649, by Governor d'Ailleboust. It was under this roof that war was declared with the United States in 1812.

The English Cathedral, adjoining Place d'Armes, was consecrated in 1804. Its chancel window is considered one of the most artistic pieces of stained glass on the continent.

from Levis.

Among the curious streets that every visitor is sure to see may be mentioned Sous-le-Cap and Little Champlain Street. Even the Post Office has its history, for it is built on the site of the old legendary haunted house, known as "Le Chien d'Or." There in the wall we can see the curious old stone, with its inscription and its golden dog gnawing its bone as of old.

Passing along St. Louis Street, on the right is the Place d'Armes, a military parade ground in the days of the French regime. On the left is Kent House, the residence of the Duke of Kent while in Canada. In striking contrast is the Court House, on the opposite side of the street. But contrasts are common in Quebec, for here the old and the new meet together as they meet nowhere else on the continent. Close by is the little old-fashioned house once occupied as the headquarters of General Montcalm. Here he held his councils of war, and prepared his plans for the defence of the city in 1759. Further on, we pass the Esplanade, beside the city walls, used by British troops as a parade ground. Immediately outside the St. Louis Gate, we view the handsome buildings of the Provincial Legislature, which overlook the historical plains of Abraham.

These extensive fields reach from St. Louis Road to the cliffs over Wolfe's Cove, and from the Citadel to Spencer Wood, the residence of the Lieutenant-Governor. There beneath the monument that tells a glorious story—"Here Wolfe fell victorious"—are the ashes of countless heroes.

The Basilica and City Hall Square, Quebec

Beyond are the Martello towers, built in 1811 for the better defence of the city's fortifications. Below, on the St. Foye road stands the "Monument to the Brave," erected to commemorate the battle of St. Foye.

While Quebec is pre-eminently a summer resort, it also claims the right to be crowned Queen of American Winter Resorts. Then, when the frost-king is supreme, the population devotes a generous portion of its time to the various forms of out-door sport which have made St. Petersburg the most famous of European winter resorts. The time is spent in sleighing, skating, tobogganing, ski-ing and snowshoeing, and such games as curling and hockey.

On Dufferin Terrace is built a toboggan slide, starting from King's Bastion and stretching the whole length of the terrace to the Chateau Frontenac. Much entertaining is done at the picturesque old citadel, which is the residence of the Governor-General and suite when visiting the city.

Visitors are warmly welcomed by the winter clubs, and are quickly initiated into the various forms of winter sports.

The finest possible view of the old city is to be had from the Levis Heights, on the opposite shore, reached by ferry.

Carmel—contend for the honor of being the residence of St. Anne. Her husband was Jo-Achim or Eli-Achim. The only offspring to that marriage was Mary, the mother of the Redeemer. When St. Anne died, her remains were interred in Jerusalem, in the valley of Jehoshaphat. From that vale, in the days of the Roman Emperor Trajan, when Christianity was but a century old, tradition tells us that a rudderless ship swept over the Mediterranean, bearing the body of St. Anne to France to be placed in the keeping of St. Auspicious, first bishop of Apt, a town in Provence. There the great Monarch Charlemange found it. In after years St. Anne became the patroness of Brittany, and in Auray a shrine was built in her honor, and the faith of the pious Breton taught that she there performed miraculous cures for those who trusted her.

A few years after the founding of Quebec, a crew of Breton sailors who were buffeted by a storm, vowed to build a shrine in honor of St. Anne, should she guide them safely through the storm. They landed at the spot where now stands the beautiful Basilica. They built a little chapel in fulfillment of their promise. In 1660 the primitive edifice was rebuilt. In 1670 the chapter of Carcassonne, in France, sent out a relic of St. Anne, to be kept in the new shrine. Rich presents came from the court of Louis XIV., and the Queen-mother—Anne of Austria—embroidered a chasuble for the service of St. Anne's new altar. The Marquis de Tracy, viceroy of New France, presented a painting by the famous artist Lebrun, representing St. Anne and two pilgrims. Bishop Laval de Montmorenci gave two pictures from the brush of Luc Lefrancois, a France ciscan friar, and a silver reliquary set in precious stones. In 1706, Lemoine d'Iberville, the heroic pioneer soldier, presented the massive crucifix now on the altar. In 1866 the present magnificent church was erected, and an auxiliary chapel was built with the materials, and having the decorations, steeple and bell of the primitive church. It was solemnly blessed and opened for public worship on the 17th of October, 1876, and in 1878 it was placed under the charge of the Redemptorist Fathers. It was consecrated on the 16th of May, 1889, by His Eminence, Cardinal Taschereau.

With St. Anne's closes the description of Quebec, and embarking on board the Saguenay River steamer the journey is continued. Breakfast is served on steamer arriving from Montreal; also on steamer leaving Quebec for Saguenay River. The passenger and freight offices of the Richelieu and Ontario division of the Canada Steamship Lines, Limited, are located at the Company's wharves. Here tickets are sold.. staterooms reserved, and all information cheerfully given.

rence and Saguenay River depart from this wharf on the arrival of the steamer from Montreal. This service is filled by the steamers "Murray Bay," "Tadousac," "St. Irenee," and "Saguenay" (new).

The magnificent and commodious steamer "Saguenay" which is now in commission on this route was built at the Fairfield Shipyard, on the Clyde for the Quebec-Saguenay Line, and after coming across the ocean under her own steam was placed in commission on the route between Montreal and Saguenay River. Her dimensions are: length 285 feet; width 58 feet; and her draft is 12 feet.

The Lower St. Lawrence stateroom decks. The staterooms are all outside rooms, and Saguenay River Fleet rooms. All staterooms are supplied with running water, steam heat and electric light.

The steamer is luxuriously furnished and equipped with all modern appliances for the safety and comfort of the best class of tourist travel. At the fore and after ends of the main saloon are large outside decks and also glass inclosed parlors affording unobstructed views of the river scenery. Her speed is nineteen miles an hour, and she is without doubt the finest passenger steamer ever placed in commission on the Lower St. Lawrence route.

The trip from Quebec to the Lower St. Lawrence is by day-light and is one of the most charming river trips in the world. From Tadousac the steamer proceeds up the Saguenay River during the night, and on her return the following day the entire Saguenay River is seen by daylight, and the St. Lawrence is traversed at night back to Quebec. For particulars see time schedules on pages 107 to 109.

From Quebec eastward the river expands until it assumes the proportions of an inland sea, and its waters becomes as salt as those of the ocean into which it flows and whose tides wash its shores.

All along this route, scenes of wild and beautiful grandeur are presented to view, which are missed by the tourist unless the round trip is made from Quebec by steamer.

Leaving Quebec the steamer passes the Isle of Orleans on our left, and near its eastern end Mount St. Anne raises its head twenty-seven hundred feet above the river, and a short distance below the end of the island Mount Tourmente, nearly 2,000 feet in height, with its lonely lighthouse, looms against the sky; then we pass Capes Burnt and Rouge, and a short distance further on is Cape Gribaune which towers 2,171 feet above the steamer, and the next prominent point is Cape Maitland and the village of St. Francois-Xavier, located where the River Bouchard flows into the St. Lawrence. From this point it is about five miles to Baie St. Paul, guarded on the west by Cape Labaie and on the east by Cape Corbeau. The Rivers Moulin and Gouffre flow unto St. Paul's Bay.

After leaving Baie St. Paul our steamer proceeds along the mountain-bordered shore past Isle-aux-Coudres. Isle-aux-

Coudres has its legend gathering around the memory of Pere Labrosse, the faithful priest of the Hudson Bay post at Tadousae. The legend runs that the priest one evening, while conversing with his little flock, told them that at midnight he would be a eorpse, and the bell of the chapel would toll for the passing soul. He told them not to touch his body, but to hasten on the following day to Isle-aux-Coudres to fetch Monsieur Compain, who would be waiting for them, to wrap his body in its shroud. At midnight, the little band was startled by the tolling of the bell, and on rushing to the church they found the priest dead before the altar. At dawn they set out for Isle-aux Coudres, where, as foretold. Father Compain was waiting, breviary in hand, having been warned in a vision and by the tolling of the bell of his own ehapel. For years after, the Indians going up and down the Saguenay never passed Tadousac without praying in the church where his body reposed. The relies of Pere Labrosse were removed many years ago to the church at Chicoutimi.

The cool summer air at Murray Bay, which has the advantage of being both mountain and sea air, seems to bring youth, strength and bounding spirits with the first few inhalations, and in the summer a few weeks spent in this invigorating salt air is like a tonic. The dryness of the atmosphere makes it exempt from malaria and hayfever.

the west coast of Scotland for beauty. The landscape from the Manoir Richelieu and Point-a-Pie to the village itself on the banks of the Murray River is dotted with hundreds of summer cottages, owned by prominent and wealthy Americans and Canadians. There are churches of various denominations at Murray Bay-Episcopal, Presbyterian and Catholie.

There are several delightful drives to places of picturesque charm and historie interest, and driving ean be indulged in at moderate rates. First among them for wild beauty is the drive to Upper Fraser Falls on the Fraser River. The waters drop in two wild leaps two hundred and ninety feet, and form a beautiful sight. Lower down, the river has another fall of one hundred and fifty feet, forming the Lower Fraser Falls. Another pretty little falls is the Nairn Falls on the Murray River. In the month of August it is a fascinating sight to see the salmon leaping this fall. The drive to Cap-a-l'Aigle follows the shore and affords a splendid view of the river and mountains beyond.

The Manoir Richelieu, owned and operated by the Canada Steamship Lines, Limited, is the largest hotel on the Lower St. Lawrence. It stands on a commanding bluff on the river

The Manoir front, facing the south, and has accommodation for four hundred guests. The views from its broad piazzas, with a grand sweep of river, Richelieu field and village, as well as mountain views of rare beauty, are always exhilarating. The water supply is of the purest, coming direct from a mountain spring, and the drainage and sanitary arrangements are perfect. The hotel is handsomely furnished throughout, the effect being one of rare comfort. A magnificent swimming pool has been built, into which is pumped the water of the St. Lawrence, as salt as the ocean itself. The salt water is pumped through heaters which raises its temperature to between sixty and seventy degrees. In addition to this, forty new salt and fresh water baths have been added to the hotel. The cuisine and service is maintained up to a high standard of excellence. There is an orchestra in attendance during the season. Visitors who make the Manoir Richelieu their stopping place will certainly enjoy a delightful outing by the sea. There is a golf club at Murray Bay, whose well-kept links are equal to any in Canada, tennis grounds, etc., also boating, sailing, yachting, etc., for those nautically inclined, and at the Manoir Richelieu is a fine bowling alley.

One of the remarkable features of the Lower St. Lawrence is its wonderfully beautiful sunsets, which tint the evening sky with an afterglow of burnished gold and liquid fire for some time after the sun, like a great red ball, has passed below the watery horizon. No one who appreciates scenes of beauty will ever forget this sight.

Ex-President Taft owns a summer home at Murray Bay, which he occupies during the summer with his family, and he is a familiar figure on the golf links.

Tadousac Steamer leaves

Located at the mouth of the Saguenay For Saguenay, 7:00 p.m. River is the town of Tadousae, the first settlement made by the French on the St. Lawrence and was their principal fur-trading post.

There is a very pleasant and comfortable hotel here, which is patronized by some of the best American and Canadian families, whose never-failing return is the hotel's best advertisement. It is owned and operated by Hotel Tadousac the Canada Steamship Lines. It has been extensively improved and many rooms with private bath have recently been added. The hotel is lighted by electricity.

There are excellent golf links in connection with the hotel. The atmosphere of this locality is especially braeing; and sailing, rowing, and fresh and salt water fishing are pastimes greatly enjoyed; the salt air from the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the breezes from the Saguenay hills meet here, and probably at no place in North America can people from the heated localities find greater relief or lay in a larger amount of health than at Tadousae. The fishing at Tadousae ean hardly be excelled, and extends from the "Tommy Cod" for the children to the River, Lake and Brook Trout and Salmon for the most exacting angler. Only five miles distant among the mountains are the fishing preserves of the Company, whose exclusive rights extend over Lakes Gobeil, Guillaume, Boulanger, Sapin, Trout and Long, on which are guides and boats, and new camps for the exclusive use of guests of the Tadousac Hotel. The main camp on Lake Boulanger has been enlarged to accommodate 25 persons. This lake is one and a half miles long and a half mile in width. While the steamer is in port, time is given to walk and visit the village, including the little church, the first ever built in Canada. Passengers may also visit the Government Salmon Hatchery and Fish Pool, where these gamy fish may be seen in their native element, and in the evening the steamer starts up the world-famed Saguenay, and enters a scene which pen has never yet adequately described. No one can realize the picture all at once; everything is deceptive, and it takes time to grasp the magnitude of the surroundings. But by degrees the immensity and appalling grandeur of the environment assert themselves, and the beholder feels and knows that he is in communion with the awful majesty of nature. Here, above all other places, the grandest works of man sink into insignificance, and the very silence seems to do homage as to a God. Calm and unbroken is the solitude of nature in this, her temple. Mirth and laughter may ripple over the waters, but she heeds them not. Storms and tempests may rage around, and the sun's fierce rays descend upon her brow, seeking to disturb her serenity; but in vain. Victorious in some elemental conflict she ceases from her labors. Peace inviolate is the guerdon of her warfare, and the loneliness of her grandeur the highest monument of her triumph. At every turn some new and unexpected beauty meets the eye, distinct, bearing the stamp of individuality, and yet inseparable from the whole Projecting rock and sheltered cove, fir-crowned cliff and open bay, each to the other lends a charm, and even the silent bosom of the waters contributes its meed of praise, for in their unfathomable depths are mirrored the heights which soar into the infinite.

Going up the river at night the scene is viewed by moon light. Yonder in the distance a silvery beam of light seems to have lost its way among those frowning sentinels, and to tremble in their keeping. On we glide through its fairy-light shadows into darkness again, and the rocks appear to bar our progress, and wonder succeeds wonder.

L'Anse St. Jean is a small village situated on a beautiful bay, from which it derives its name.

St. Alphonse is our next stopping place, but as these places are passed during the night they will be described on return trip by daylight. Our next port of call is Chicoutimi, at the head of navigation on the Saguenay River, and at the mouth of the Chicoutimi River, which in its descent from Lake Kenogami to the Saguenay River falls four hunderd and eighty-six feet in seventeen miles.

The Chicoutimi River and Pulp Mill

Beautifully situated on a hill, Chicoutimi seems to form a little world of its own. Its name seems to be singularly appropriate, meaning in Montagnais dialect "Up to here it is deep." One eminent authority states that "Chicoutimi" is derived from the Algonquin tongue, and using the French equivalents for the Indian letters Steamer leaves according to tide translates it as follows: "Ickwatimi," meaning "Ickwa" "that is the end," and timi" "deep," pronounced "Ish-kwah-tee-mee." Chicoutimi was one of the earliest Jesuit missions, and a great fur trading centre.

Chicoutimi

Tourists who wish to reach Lake St. John, sixty miles distant, may go via the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway from Chicoutimi.

Good fishing is to be had on the rivers and lakes of the Lake St. John region, and the rapids of the Grande Discharge may be navigated by engaging native guides to shoot the rapids.

Lake St. John

Large game-deer, bear, moose and the wapiti-are to be found in season. Many American and Canadian fishing clubs have leases, or own lakes among the hills. There are hotels and boarding houses in the villages, and guides and canoes are available for sportsmen.

It is time, however, to return to our steamer.

On our return trip the scene is changed to daylight, and in the golden glory of a summer's day the vessel moves onward; the multiform rocks, the bays and projections, the perpendicular walls, slanting sides and overhanging cliffs all change with the rapidity of a kaleidoscopic view. But there is no monotony; only increasing grandeur. Over the river, nearly opposite Chicoutimi, is the parish of St. Anne de Chicoutimi and Cape St. Francis. Three miles below Chicoutimi, on the south shore, where the River Islet flows into the Saguenay, is Point of the Islet, and opposite this point, on the north shore, the Rivers l'Original, Valin and Caribou empty into the Saguenay, and two miles below is the mouth of the River Outardes. The parish below St. Anne's is called l'Anse-au-Foin (or Hay Bay), a little to the east is Pointe-Roches and Pointe-au-Pin (Rocky Point and Point of Pines), and after passing Cape Jasseaux, High Point appears in view. The distance from the River Outardes to High Point is about ten miles, and three miles below are the Isles Petites (or Little Islands), where in ordinary springs the tide rises eighteen feet.

About three miles further on we pass the mouth of the River Peltier on our left, and turning to the south our steamer rounds Cape West and proceeds to the head of Ha! Ha! Bay, a charming sheet of water about two miles wide and seven miles long. It is supposed to take its name from the laughing exclamations of the early French explorers, who sailed up the bay under the impression that they were following the main channel of the river and soon found themselves apparently land-locked on every side. The Indian name of the bay is Heskuewaska.

Located at the head of Ha! Ha! Bay, beyond Anse-a-Poulette and Anse-a-Benjamin, is the picturesque village of St. Alphonse, and about two and five miles respectively east of the village the Rivers Mars and Ha! Ha! noted as trout streams, empty into the bay. At the mouth of the latter is situated the quaint little hamlet of St. Alexis. After ealling at St. Alphonse our steamer sails back to the river, and soon Cape East is in view, rising almost perpendicularly out of the water to a great height, with a number of large boulders at its base, and from this point the scenery increases in bold grandeur and beauty. We are now headed east again, and six miles below on the north shore, after passing l'Anse-au-Sable, l'Anse-Xavier and l'Anse-a-Theophite, we pass a point ealled La-Descente-des-Femmes (the getting-down-place for the women), so named because at this point a number of Indian women, whose husbands were dying of hunger in the interior of the mountains, reached the river in search of food and assistance.

Hai Hai Bay, Saguency River

Three miles further on is Cape-Rouge (Red Cape), and about the same distance east of it, but on the south side of the chasm, is a remarkable vertical rock of great height, and several hundred feet up it presents a perfectly smooth polished surface, as if it were planed to receive a mammoth picture from the brush of an artist. It is aptly named La-Tableau (The Picture). or La-Grande Ardoise (The Big Slate). A few miles below on the north side is the Bay of Trinity, sentineled on the east by Cape-Diamant (Cape Diamond); two miles below is Pointeaux-Ecrits (Point of Writing). We are now midway between the head and the mouth of the river that flows through this great chasm which divides the Laurentian mountains, and we are surrounded by scenery of the grandest nature. For some time past our attention has been attracted by two massive bold capes, whose mountainous proportions make them conspicuous even here, where all of their surroundings are of such impressive magnitude and bold grandeur.

Capes Trinity and Eternity one great mountain cape with three crowns, hence its name, Cape Trinity. As our steamer proceeds we bear to the south and soon enter the little Bay of Eternity, and for a moment

our senses—except that of sight—are stunned by the majestic grandeur of our wonderfully impressive environment. In the dark shadows of these sky-piercing eliffs, the first of which towers above and over our steamer as if about to fall and crush it, and in the intense solitude which here prevails, we are made to feel a sense of our own insignificance, and feel how small are the greatest works of man when eompared with those of nature. A feeling which is not lessened by the fact that the mountains which rise two thousand feet above the water also descend two thousand feet below its level and it is a relief when the steamer's whistle is sounded to waken the marvellous echoes which sound sweet and clear when returned from the mountains over the waters of the river. We are now sailing out of the bay and past Cape Eternity, which is one hundred feet higher than Trinity, and when the shadow of Cape Eternity falls upon the surrounding slopes as if the sun had withdrawn its light, while high above is seen its glittering erown, a pieture is formed which defies description.

Inspired by this seene Louis Frechette wrote the following verses:

The forest has spells that enchant me,
The mountain has power to enthrall.
Yet the grace of a wayside blossom
Can stir my heart deeper than all.

O towering steeps that are mirrored On Saguenay's darkening hreast,

O grim, rocky heights, sternly frowning.
The thunders have smitten your crest!

O sentinels, piercing the cloud land.
Stand forth in stupendous array!
My hrow hy your shadows enshrouded.
Is humbled hefore you to-day.

But peaks that are gilded by Heaven.
Defiant you stand in your pride!
From glories too distant above me,
I turn to the friend at my side.

Translated by Hon J D Edwar

In the seventics of the past century, the only way of reaching points north of Quebec in winter was on snow-shoes through the mountains or by horse and sleigh, or cariole, along the St. Lawrence to Tadousac and up the Saguenay to Chicoutimi. and many tales are told of hardship endured by adventurous spirits who travelled in this region in the days of the past.

At that period, one of the best known of these pioneer travellers was Mr. Chas. N. Robitaille, who represented a Quebec business house. On one of his winter voyages he started with a team of horses and cariole to drive from Tadousac to Chieoutimi over the frozen Saguenay and when nearing L'Anse St. Jean, far from human habitation, his team and eariole broke through the ice and he found himself struggling in the icy waters of the River.

Mr. Robitaille was a devout member of the Church, and being in extreme peril and alone, without hope of human assistance, he prayed for divine help and as he prayed he vowed that if his life was spared, he would erect on the mountains on which he gazed in his hour of danger, a monument in honor of the blessed Virgin Mary. After great effort, he extricated himself with his horses and cariole and proceeded on his journey.

After returning to Quebec, as a result of the hardship and exposure endured, he fell ill and eminent physicians had no hope of saving his life. Mr. Robitaille had an intense desire to live and fulfill the vow he had made while in extreme peril on the Saguenay River, and he renewed his vow during his illness, from which he recovered.

Statue of the Virgin on Cape Trinity

After his recovery, he started to work to redeem his promise and in 1880 the Statue was erected on Cape Trinity; it was dedicated by the Bishop of Chicoutimi in 1881, and there it stands to-day high above the waters of the River and probably the most conspicuously located statue of the Virgin in the world.

The Statue was sculpted by Louis Johin of Quebec. Last year, after withstanding the elements for thirty-three years, it was found necessary to make extensive repairs to the monument and Major J. E. Robitaille, C. F. A., of Chicoutimi, son of Chas. N. Robitaille, undertook the work of restoration.

Monument of the Virgin Mary on Cape Trinity

The old wooden quay on which the statue stood was replaced by a concrete base and damaged parts of the statue were fully repaired, after which the entire statue received a covering of lead one-eighth of an inch in thickness, and there it appears overlooking the waters, one of the outstanding features of the Saguenay River trip. Six miles east of the capes, on the right, is St. John's Bay, with the island of St. John guarding its entrance, and the river St. John flowing into it, and three miles further on the Little Saguenay empties into its great namesake, and a short distance below we pass two islands, each about two miles in length, Roy Island and Isle Barthelemy, or Isle Coquart, called by the latter name in honor of a Jesuit missionary to the Saguenay Indians, who died at Chicoutimi in 1764. At this point the Riviere-au-Canard (Duck River) enters the Saguenay from the north, and near its mouth is the hamlet of Barthelemy. Isle

Saint-Louis is nearly opposite, and a short distance below is the

St. Marguerite River, a famous salmon stream and the Saguenay's longest tributary.

Opposite the mouth of the St. Marguerite River, on the south shore, the St. Anatole River flows into the Saguenay, and five miles below is Pointe-Crepe and St. Etienne Bay. Opposite Pointe-Crepe, on the north shore, is Grosse-Roche (Great Rock). Anse-a-Jack is over a mile east of St. Etienne Bay, and soon the Passe-Pierre Islets are passed. Just east of these islands, on the north shore, a towering capc of granite appears as if to bar our way. This is Pointe-la-Boule (Boulder Point), six hundred feet in height, and for the next three miles these mountainous shores increase in height until they attain an altitude of eleven hundred feet above the water. At Anse-la-Barque their height falls to three hundred and ninety feet, and soon we are at the mouth of the Saguenay, guarded on the west by Pointe-aux-Bouleaux and on the east hy Pointe-aux-Vaches, and our trip through the greatest and grandest navigable mountain gorge in the world is ended, and the "River of Death," as Bayard Taylor called the Saguenay, is left behind.

The steamer stops at Tadousae (l'Anse-a-l'Eau wharf), and passengers have time to again visit the Government Salmon Hatchery and Fish-Pool, where these gamey fish are seen in their native element, and also walk or drive to the Tadousac Hotel and the primitive old church and pull the bell-cord which rings the same bell that called the Indians to worship two hundred and sixty-seven years ago.

In the Montaignais Indian dialect the name "Tadousae" means "Mamelons," the great cone-shaped mounds which surround the village, some of them being a thousand feet in height.

The steamer proceeds to Murray Bay, and in the morning we find ourselves in Quebec, with a whole day before us to visit the city. Among the points of interest within pleasant driving distance is the site of the old hunting-lodge of the Intendant Bigot, where he held his carousals with boon companions of the hunt after the fashion pictured in "Le Chien d'Or." building has its legend of a beautiful Huron girl, who loved Bigot and died a violent death. The charming drive through the village of Beauport, past the remnants of Montcalm's forts to Montmoreney Falls, or the Bellevidere drive, are attractive.

From Montreal and Quebec, the Quebec Steamship Division steamers perform service to Picton Nova Scotia, and New York via the Lower St. Lawrence Piver and Culf. This is one of the most attractive and healthful of all salt vacer trips, affording tourists an opportunity of viewing river and coast scenery of unequalled grandeur white moving the benefit derived from an ocean trip.

The present season will mark the manguration of a new steamer service four times menthly from Quebec along the North shore of the lower St. Lawrence river and Gulf as far as Natashquan and once a month to Harrington. This service will open up virgin territory on the Labrador Coast, never before visited by tourists, as heretofore the wild natural beauty of this inaccessible region has been known only to the Indians and a few hardy hunters and trappers who seek the wild places in the great unknown wilderness of the Canadian northland in search of fur bearing animals. Along the north shore of the river are a few small villages, which practically mark the limit of civilization. Back of these villages begin the forest, lakes and rivers of that paradise of hunters and anglers known at Labrador.

This region will undoubtedly prove a mecca for those who desire a trip to an unknown land, or tenting parties seeking a cool, healthful region of great natural beauty far from the strife and turmoil of the hot dusty centers of population, and where the salt sea and mountain air is tinctured with the odor of the northern woods; where lost nerve force and vitality may be renewed and life made worth while and where ones senses may feel the joy of living in the open, close to Nature.

At 6:00 in the evening the steamer leaves Quebec for Montreal, and a pleasant night's sail up the St. Lawrence lands the traveller in Montreal in the early morning.

Dinner is served after leaving Quebec, and breakfast may be taken before leaving the steamer at Montreal.

Montreal is situated on an island thirty-two miles long and from six to ten miles wide. It is five hundred and forty miles from the Gulf of St. Lawrence and including suburbs it has a population of over 600,000

It has over seven miles of wharfage accomodation, which is being constantly increased. Before 1852, the largest ship coming to Montreal did not exceed six hundred tons, with a draught of eleven feet. Since then, the ship channel has been gradually developed and the present channel is thirty feet deep at low water from Montreal to Quebec, accommodating the large ocean steamers of the present day.

The guard-pier is an embankment proteeting the upper part of the harbour from ice-shoves. The revetinent wall is a great piece of granite masonry running along the river-front and protecting the eity from inundation. $12,000.00 dollars have been expended on harbor improvements and the proposed expenditure during the next three years will total $15,000,000.

Montreal is happily typical of Canada, for, besides being the commercial metropolis of the Dominion, from its position at the head of ocean navigation, it still retains in its streets and its inhabitants many traces of French and English occupation. It is not only to the Canadian tourist that Montreal appeals with special interest; visitors from the sister country will find among its memorials much which speaks to them of their own country, and many a link that binds them in a friendly bond of union.

The Custom House is located on La Place Royale; here is the cradle of Montreal. Affixed to this building are two tablets which read as follows: "This site was selected and named in 1611, 'La Place Royale,' by Samuel de Champlain, the founder of Canada"; and "Near this spot, on the 18th day of May, 1642, landed the founders of Montreal, commanded by Paul de Chomedey, sieur de Maisonneuve; their first proceeding being a religious service."

There is, however, an earlier period which takes us back into the ages of discovery, gathering around the names of Jacques Cartier. In 1535, Jacques Cartier, after his discovery of Quebec, sailed up the St. Lawrence in search of the kingdom of Hoehclaga, of which he had received accounts from the Indians of Stadacona. On the 2nd of October, the exploring party approached the shores of the mysterious kingdom. An Indian path led through the forest to the fortified town of Hochelaga, situated at the base of the mountain. All trace of this village, however, had disappeared at the time of Cham-

East of the Custom House, near the Richelicu and Ontario pier, is located Bonsecours Church and Bonsecours Market. The Church of Notre-Dame-de Bonsecours, from which the adjoining market derives its name is, to the antiquarian, of the deepest interest. Its foundation dates from 1657, only fifteen years after the foundation of the city. The first building measured thirty by forty feet, and in 1675 a larger church was commenced, which was destroyed by fire in 1754. The present church was completed in 1771. There are many valuable old paintings in this church. Bonsecours Market is worthy of a visit on market days, Tuesdays and Fridays. Here an illustration of the provincial life of the "habitant" may be obtained.

To enable the tourist to take in at a glance the magnificence of the city's situation, it is necessary to visit the Mountain Park. The mountain is easily reached by an incline elevator, but the beautiful carriage drive up the winding shady mountain drive is more desirable. A glimpse is obtained here and there through the foliage of the panorama spread out below; but it is not till the summit is reached that the vastness of the scene is realized.

From this point Jacques Cartier viewed the fertile country when he gave to it the name of Mount Royal.

"Therefrom one sees very far," he wrote, and his words are re-echoed to-day. Below stretches out the city, with its spires and domes glittering in the sun, the palatial homes of the wealthy, the dwellings of the poor; broad avenues and parks and tokens of industry; and beyond, Nature's watery highway lined with docks and shipping; the prosperous towns and villages which rise from its southern shore, and turning, through the trees may be seen the beautiful and silent city of the dead.

Dominion Square, Montreal

Descending the mountain road, we pass under the elevator on the eastern slope, and gaining the main road cross what is known as Fletcher's Field. The large stone building facing us, with its prominent dome, is the Hotel-Dieu, St. Joseph-de-Ville-Marie. It was founded as a hospital over two hundred and fifty years ago. Turning into Pine Avenue, there is a good view of the buildings of the Royal Victoria Hospital, the joint gift of Lords Strathcona and Mount Royal and Lord Mount Stephen. It is equipped with all modern appliances and recognized as one of the leading hospitals on the continent. Driving down McTavish Street, a good view is obtained of the Reservoir which supplies the city with water, and soon the interesting buildings of McGill are seen. The grounds and buildings of McGill College occupy a part of the McGill University ancient town of Hochelaga. A tablet on Metcalfe Street, in front of the western portion reads thus: "Site of large Indian village, elaimed to be the town of Hochelaga, visited by Jacques Cartier in 1535." The University owes its origin to Hon. James Mc-Gill, who, by his will, dated 8th January, 1811, devised the estate of Burnside, and also bequeathed the sum of ten thousand pounds sterling to establish MeGill University. The William Molson Hall was donated by William Molson in 1861. Redpath Museum and Library were donated by Peter Redpath. The MacDonald Engineering Building, the Mining and Chemistry Building, and the Physics Building were donated by Sir W. C. MacDonald. The Royal Victoria College is the gift of the late Lord Stratheona, as a college for the higher education of women.

Within a few minutes drive from McGill, on Sherbrooke Street, are the substantial buildings and ample grounds of Montreal College, under the direction of the Sulpicians. This is one of the best classical colleges in America. In connection

Montreal College with it is the Grand Seminary and a school of philosophy located near the botanical gardens. Two Martello towers are relies of the past, when incessant strife raged between the early settlers and the Indians. Close to the entrance of the new building may be seen the ruins of Capitulation House, which is asserted to have been the headquarters of General Amherst during the siege of Montreal. A tablet marks it thus: "Tradition asserts that the capitulation of Montreal and Canada was signed here, 1760."

Among other places of interest located on Sherbrooke Street are Erskine Presbyterian Church, Sherbrooke Street Methodist Church, First Baptist Church, and the Church of the Messiah; many large apartment houses and handsome private residences, and the new Ritz-Carlton Hotel.

A short distance west of the Ritz-Carlton is the magnificent new Art Gallery. It is an ideal specimen of Ionic architecture and its granite columns in front, thirty-two feet in height, are the greatest specimens ever quarried in America. On Drumniond Street, near the Ritz-Carlton in the Emmanuel Congregational Church and the fine new building of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The Laval University, located on St. Denis Street, is to the French what McGill is to the English—their principal seat of learning. The chief seat of Laval.

The Laval University however, is in Quebec.

Park La Fontaine is situated in the northeast end of the eity. It is one of the finest and largest public pleasure grounds in the eity. Among Montreal's most interesting buildings is the Chateau de Ramezay, one of the oldest historical landmarks, associated with events of the Montreal's greatest importance in Canadian history. It was built in 1705 by Claude de Ramezay, Governor of Montreal. Within its walls, after the fall of Quebec in 1760, arrangements were completed for the withdrawal of the last

French garrison from Montreal, by which act the finest colony of France became the possession of England.

In 1775, the Chateau was the headquarters of the American Brigadier-General Wooster, and in the following year, under General Benedict Arnold, the Commissioners of Congress, Benjamin Franklin, Samuel Chase and Charles Carroll, of Carrolton, here held council. For years after the British conquest the Chateau was the official residence of English governors. It is now converted into a museum, in which repose many interesting souvenirs associated with the history of Canada.

Victoria Square Montreal

Opposite the Chateau, on Notre Dame Street is the City Hall, a handsome structure of gray cut stone, facing which,

on Craig Street, is the Drill Hall.

West of the City Hall is situated the Court House. Affixed to this building is a tablet bearing this inscription: "Here stood the church, chapel and residence of the Jesuit Fathers. Built 1692; occupied as military headquarters, 1800; burnt 1803. On the square in front, four Iroquois suffered death by fire, in reprisal, by order of Frontenac, 1696." This square was also, during the seventeenth century, the site of the town pillory, so that the administration of justice, in various forms, seems to have been meted out on this spot from the earliest to the present time. The north side of the Court House overlooks a large open space known as the Champ-dc-Mars, still used as a military parade ground. The soldiers of Great Britain and France have both trod this historic ground. A short distance eastward is the Viger Garden, which is one of the most attractive public squares in the city.

Facing this square is a Canadian Pacific Railway station and the Place Viger Hotel, owned and operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and one of the latest additions to its system of magnificent hotels. The "Place Viger" is thoroughly modern and first class in every particular. Its capacity has been doubled during the past year.

A short distance west of the Champ-de-Mars is Place d'Armes Square. In this square, past and Place d'Armes present interests are united. On the north side is the Bank of Montreal. The style of its architecture is of the Corinthian order. Immediately west of the bank, on St. James Street, is the Post Office, which is built in French Renaissance style.

Opposite the Post Office is the St. Lawrence Hall, one of the best known hotels in the city. It has entrances on St. james and Craig Streets. Facing the Post Office is the magnificent new Transportation Building.

Facing the square, on the south side, is the parish church of Notre-Dame, with its two impressive towers, two hundred and twenty-seven feet in height. The length of the church is two hundred and fifty-five feet, with a breadth of one hundred and thirty-five feet, and a seating capacity of ten thousand.

A chapel at the southern end of the church is a beautiful specimen of ecclesiastical architecture, and should be visited by all tourists. The view obtained from the west tower is a remarkable one; on a clear day, in the far distance, may be seen the hills of Vermont. The great bell, named "Gros Bourdon," weighing 24,780 pounds, one of the five largest bells in the world, is located in this tower. Many fine specimens of art are to be found in the church, which is open at all times. Adjoining the church is the Seminary of St. Suplice, built in 1710. It is interesting as preserving the ancient style of architecture of the city. It is reputed to be the wealthiest religious institution on the continent.

On the eastern eorner of the square is a tablet reading thus: "In 1675 here lived Daniel de Gresolon, Sieur Duluth, one of the explorers of the Upper Missouri, after whom the city of Duluth was named."

A little farther east, on the corner of Notre Dame and St. Lawrence Main Streets, is the site of the house of the founder of another American city, distinguished by a tablet reading: "In 1694 here stood the house of La Mothe Cadillae, the founder of Detroit."

The whole of the ground in this vicinity possesses a charm for the antiquarian and historian. The centre of the square, now adorned by a monument of the founder of the city, was once the scene of a battle. The event is recalled by an inscription on a building to the east of the Bank of Mon-"Near this treal. square afterwards named La Place d Armes, the founders of Ville Marie first encountered the Iroquois, whom they defeated Chomedev de- Maisonneuve killing the chief with his own hands, 30th March, 1644.

Bonsecoure Church, Montreal, from the River of St. Peter and St. Paul Streets, a tablet is affixed to a building, the inscription of which reads as follows: "Here lived Robert Cavalier, Sieur de la Salle, 1668." The name of La Salle stands out boldly in history. America owes him an enduring memory, for in his masculine figure she sees the pioneer who first selected Chicago as a trading post and explored the Mississippi from its junction with the Illinois to the mouth of the Gulf of Mexico, and named that region Louisiana in honor of King Louis XV. La Salle met with a tragic fate, being assassinated by two of his followers in Louisiana, in 1687.

In Vandreuil Lane stands the plain ancient-looking warehouse where John Jacob Astor laid the foundations of the Astor millions.

Another historic old site that will interest visitors from the sister country is situated on the southeast corner of St. Peter and Notre Dame Streets. It was here that the gallant American, General Montgomery, took up his headquarters in 1775, and it was afterwards occupied by the American generals, Wooster and Arnold.

Another site that appeals to tourists is located on St. Paul Street, between Place Royale and St. Sulpice Street, as being the birthplace of Pierre Lemoine, 1691. It was he who conquered the Hudson Bay for France in 1697, and who was sent by King Louis XV. to colonize the Lower Mississippi. He was first governor of Louisiana, in 1700. His brother, Bienville, who founded Mobile, Alabama, in 1711 and New Orleans in 1717, and was afterwards governor of Louisiana for forty years, was born in this house.

De Catalogne House, in St. Vincent Street, is memorable as the home of one of the earliest engineers of Montreal. An inscription on the building reads: "1693, House of Gedeon de Catalogne, engineer, officer and chronicler. Projector of the earliest Laehine Canal."

In an old French street off St. James Street, between St. Peter and McGill Streets, known as Dollard Lane, is a tablet reading: "To Adam Dollard des Ormeaux, who, with sixteen

Adam Dollard eolonists, four Algonquir and one Huron, saerifieed their lives at the Long Sault of the Ottawa, 21st May, 1760, and saved

A little east on St. James Street is the new Freeman's Hotel. This popular hotel is under the same management as the St. Regis Restaurant on St. Catherine Street.

On Dominion Square, picturesquely situated, are many of the important buildings of Montreal. The Windsor, one of the best hotels in Canada, occupies a commanding site facing the square.

Facing the southeast corner of the hotel is the Mac-Donald memorial, erected to the memory of the late Sir John A. Mac-Donald, for many years Prime Minister Canada and one of the "Fathers of Confederation.

dral, on the south, is the palace of the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Montreal. Across the square from St. Peter's on Windsor Street, is St. George's Church.

A large addition to the Windsor Hotel has recently been completed, which will furnish accomodation for five hundred more guests.

Only a few rods north of Dominion Square is St. Catherine Street where the large retail establishments and theatres are situated.

Located southwest of the square is the massive gray stone building of the Canadian Pacific Railway, which contains the commodious waiting rooms and general offices of the company.

A short distance west on Dorehester Street, is a building always attractive to visitors—the Grey Nuns Hospital. It was founded in 1747, by Madame d'Youville, the widow of an officer. The daughter of the founder of the State of Vermont, Ethan Allen was a member of the Order of the Grey Nuns.

The Natural History Society's Museum is situated on Drummond Street. The library is rich in scientific lore, while many priceless collections are to be found in the museum. The Ferrier collection of Egyptian antiquities is probably the most perfect in America.

The principal public library in Montreal is the Fraser Institute, on Dorchester Street, east of Dominion Square.

Montreal is known far and wide as a city of churches, and there are many others besides those we have already mentioned that are worthy of inspection.

beautiful. St. James Methodist Church, also on St. Catherine Street is one of the largest Churches in the City. On Bleury Street is the Church of the Gesu, built after the Gesu at Rome. The paintings of the Gesu are a great attraction for all visitors. St. Patrick's Church is one of the finest structures in the city. It is par excellence the shrine where the Irish Catholics worship. On St. Catherine Street, immediately east of St. Dennis, is the beautiful church of Notre-Dame-de-Lourdes.

A pleasant and economical way to see Montreal is by taking a carriage and making the drive of the city and mountain. This drive consumes about three hours.

From Montreal the tourist can make many charming excursions.

Among the attractive and pieturesque short outing trips from Montreal may be mentioned trips to Vercheres, Laprairie, Boucherville, Sorel, Berthier, Grand Nord, and the trip to Prescott, Ont., and return down the rapids by the Richelieu and Ontario Division Steamers.

To any one desirous of spending a pleasant week on the water, and at the same time visit a few of the largest cities and towns in Canada, the trip from Montreal to Toronto or Hamilton and return via the Bay of Quinte and the Thousand Islands has no equal.

If passengers making this trip prefer staying at Toronto, the steamer may be boarded there on her eastbound trip, Passengers who desire to visit the Thousand Islands may stop over at Gananoque. Here is the Gananoque Inn, a well-managed summer hotel with steamer connection with Clayton, N. Y.

Ottawa, the capital of the Dominion, is a city much visited by tourists, and its cool, salubrious climate and pleasant surroundings make it an attractive summer resort city. The Parliamentary Buildings and beautiful grounds are the pride of Canada and the delight of visitors from every clime. The buildings form a stately group of rare grace and architectural beauty. Facing the Parliamentary buildings is the magnificent new Chateau Laurier Hotel, owned and operated by the Grand Trunk Railway Tystem, whose station is opposite the Hotel.

The trip from Albany to New York may be made by day or night steamers down the beautiful Hudson River. For those who prefer making the trip by rail, the New York Central Railway provides an excellent train service.

Double Daily
Service

This season the Company will have a double service daily, except Sundays, between Toronto and Prescott, from June 20th See schedules on pages 100 to 105.

Cuisine

The management of the Canada Steamship Lines fully realizes that the best advertisement for a passenger-carrying water line is the quality of its meal service, and consequently special attention will be given to its commissary department, with a view of creating a service of uniform excellence which will favorably compare with any similar service offered to the traveling public.

Special round trip excursion tickets including meals and berth are on sale at the Company's Offices, located at Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Rochester and Alexandria Bay, N. Y., and at Toronto, Montreal and Quebec, Canada. Write or apply to Agents Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Co. at points mentioned for information. The steamers vary from the swift, light draft, twin-screw "Waubic", built for the narrow channels of the 30,000 Islands, up to the "Hamonic", and "Noronic" of the Lake Superior fleet, which have the strength, power and proportion of Ocean Liners.

Steamer 'Noronic." Northern Navigation Co.

The "Noronic", the latest addition to the fleet, was launched at Port Arthur, Ontario, on June 2nd, 1913, and will go into commission this season. She is the largest and finest ship of her class on the Great Lakes, every improvement known in shipbuilding being embodied in her design. Her principal dimensions are as follows: Length over all 385 ft.; Beam 52 ft.; Depth moulded 28 ft. 9 in.; Speed 19 miles per hour. She has six decks, named as follows: Main, Spar, Promenade, Observation, Boat and Hurricane. She has sleeping accommodation for six hundred first-class passengers, and her diningroom will seat 286. Every stateroom has single upper and double lower berths, fitted with electric reading lamps, and supplied with running hot and cold water. Also ten parlor-rooms, finished in mahogany. These rooms are luxuriously furnished with brass beds, and each has private bathroom adjoining, finished in white tiling.

The Observation room, situated forward on the Observation Deck is 148 feet long by 38 feet wide. The floor is waxed oak for dancing. This room is divided from the dining-room by folding glass partitions, and an orchestra stand is built at this point so that the music can be used for dancing, or the glass doors can be folded back to furnish music for the dining-room.

The addition of this magnificent steamship with the well-known favorites "Harmonic" and "Huronic" place the Company in a class by itself in the possession of a fleet of steamers never before approached in the history of the lake marine.

Orehestras are carried during the entire tourist season, furnishing music during luncheon and dinner as well as for dancing and entertainment in the evenings.

The well and favorably known steamships "Germanie" and "City of Midland" will continue in service on the Georgian Bay and Mackinac Route", and the staunch little "Waubie" will serve the "30,000 Island Route."

No outing is enjoyable without good meals. The cuisine of our steamers receives constant thought and study. Nothing is spared, in money, skill or forethought to make our service the best on fresh water.

Barber shops, with up-to-date equipment and experienced and efficient attendants are provided. Free baths will be provided on application.

To become an Officer on a steamer of this Fleet it is essential that experience, ability and gentlemanly bearing be among the qualities possessed by applicant.

"Safety First", of which so much is heard now-a-days, has long been an outstanding feature of the Northern Navigation Company service. The steamers all earry life-boats and life-rafts sufficient to accommodate all the passengers and crew, and in addition have life-preservers for everyone. They are also equipped with the Marconi System of Wireless telegraphy. Fire and boat drills are held regularly, and the crew are trained to a high state of efficiency. A system of electric fire alarms has been installed in each steamer, by means of which Officers and crew are immediately called to their emergency posts. Striet discipline is maintained, and life on board the steamers is earried on in a manner both interesting and re-assuring to the traveller. For further information see Page 111.

"The Hub of the Thousand Islands"

HE place to stay at if you wish to see Nature's grandest, and at the same time most beautiful work. Here are the largest and finest hotels, many smaller hostleries, boarding houses and private homes, all wholesome and inviting, and with prices to suit every purse.

All excursion boats start from ALEXANDRIA BAY, and this is the home of the Motor Boat and small craft, the home of the Guide who takes anglers to the haunts of the gamey Bass, Pickerel and Maskinonge, and to island retreats for a world famed "Shore Dinner."

The most beautiful summer homes are centered around Alexandria Bay. All lines of steamers stop at Alexandria Bay, and it is connected with the New York Central lines by steamer via Clayton, or by trolley via Redwood, N. Y.

At Alexandria Bay is the course of the Thousand Island Yacht Club, over which all the racing meets take place, including the races of the American Power Boat Association for the Gold Challenge Cup.

Motor boats and skiffs may be chartered by the hour, day or week at reasonable rates.

The Grand Illumination of the Islands occurs on Wednesday and Saturday evenings, and is best seem from Alexandria Bay.

In this village are churches of all denominations, and the stores in Alexandria Bay afford ample facilities for shopping. Carefully selected goods are carried, with the view of pleasing the most exacting purchaser.

When exchanging your tickets at the Purser's Office on steamer, demand a STOP-OVER CHECK AT ALEXAN-DRIA BAY. You are entitled to this privilege, and to fully see and enjoy the Thousand Islands, all tourists should take advantage of it. Write for booklet to BOARD OF TRADE, Alexandria Bay, N. Y.
