OLD CRIB TURN OUT; NEW SITE IS READY Mr. Mayes Finished This Morning and Reports Site Ready for No. 1 and No. 2 Cribs--First Should be Sunk Within Next Two Days.

Contractor Mayes this morning finished the dredging at the old cribwork and the site for No. 1 and 2 cribs is now reported ready. Mr. Mayes can now go ahead and make the soundings and if everything is found all right should have the first crib sunk within the next two days. He has already stated that he expected to be able to sink the crib after one tide from the time the site is pronounced ready.

WEST SIDE CAR LINES Plans for New Loop Will Be Submitted to Board of Works Tonight.

The board of works will meet in regular monthly session this evening at eight o'clock, when a number of important matters will be dealt with. The St. John Railway Company will submit a plan of their proposed Carleton line, which, it is thought, will be satisfactory to the city. The board accepts the plan, and the construction work will be commenced tomorrow.

THE WIRELESS IN WAR TIME GHERENT, Sept. 25.—The Institute of International Law yesterday discussed questions relating to a wireless telegraph, which will be adopted at the next meeting. It was decided that the air is free in time of war and peace, and that only the control of war and peace rests entirely upon the necessity of the state. In the case of special arrangements the regulations governing ordinary telegraph shall apply to the wireless system. Every state has the right to oppose the passage of hertzian waves over its lands and waters as far as practicable, whether transmitted by the state, by private apparatus, or from ships or balloons. In the case of an government prohibiting this wireless exchange, it must at once advise other governments of the fact.

THEY TOOK CASH INSTEAD OF LAND TORONTO, Ont. Sept. 24.—(Special)—Up to date 84 persons entitled to land grants surrendered their claims to the Ontario government in consideration of a cash payment of $50 each, or $41,200 in all. Fifty thousand dollars was voted at the last session of the legislature to carry out the enactment providing for such surrenders. The requests for cash were met by the Ontario government, and the cash was appropriated by the legislature to meet them, pending a second grant by that body.

MONTREAL STOCKS MONTREAL, Sept. 25.—(Special)—The stock market was virtually stagnant today. An advance to 190 in Canadian Pacific did not attract very much trading here outside of professional scalpers. The opening dealings were at 17 1/2 and the upward movement was rapid. Some Dominion Coal sold at 7 1/2 to 7 3/4, and a block of Rio bonds at 77.

A HIGHWAYMAN AT WORK ON THE OLD MARSH ROAD The police have been working on a case during the past week which has proved a very interesting one to people in the vicinity of the Marsh Road. A couple of nights after the exhibition faces James Brickley, of the York Stables, Cliff street, had occasion to drive his brother, William, out to Moosepark at Coldbrook, and while on his return home was attacked by a highwayman. Mr. Brickley had just left the park, and was on the road when a tall, muscular man, wearing a black hat, jumped out of the ditch and grabbed the horse by the bridle. He was endeavoring to gain pos-

ATLANTA DISORDERS WERE RESTORED TODAY; POLICE SLAY NEGROES

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 25.—In a desperate fight at close range between bicycle officers, Smith and Maddox and Policeman Osen and two negroes barricaded in a house near the corner of MacGruder and Randolph streets this morning, the negroes were killed and the police officers had narrow escapes.

Officers Maddox and Smith had been notified that negroes were shooting in the vicinity of Houston and Randolph streets. When the officers reached the scene there was no shooting. The officers were told that the difficulty was in the vicinity of Randolph and MacGruder streets. Whether this was a trap laid to kill the officers is not known, but a negro pointed out a house in which he said a negro who had done the shooting had taken refuge. The officers went to the house, Smith going to the rear door and Maddox to the front. Smith attempted to enter and the negroes began shooting. Maddox ran around the house to his aid. As he did so he saw two negroes leaning out of the window firing at them. The officers returned the fire and the negroes dropped below the window. Officer Osen had come up in the meantime and the three charged the house. Maddox went to the window and pulled himself up, gun in hand. A pistol was fired to the left of his head. He fired point-blank and dropped to the ground, pulling the window down with him. He then ran to the door and broke it open, his brother officers running with him. As he opened the door a shot was fired, the bullet passing over his head. He and the other officers then fired, killing the two negroes.

CAN'T BUY FROM BOYS Hebrew Junk Dealer in Court Charged with Buying from Minors.

Naughty boys, disobedient school and an aging son of the house of Israel formed the "Harem" of the Hebrew junk dealer in court this morning. The police court, which lasted from ten o'clock till within a few minutes of midday, and, although some of the problems were a trifle "snotty," they caused a good deal of amusement in the process of solution.

THE SQUIRE'S MOOSE It Tread Him and Had No Regard for the Dignity of the Law.

It was a thrilling story that came in with the carcass of a bull moose from Misepoc late Saturday night. The moose was shot by Mr. Devine, but not until after it had made history in that region. It appears that Mr. Devine's uncle, "Squire" Mathews, who is conducting a logging operation for Powers in the Misepoc woods, encountered this bull moose one day when he was cutting about, and the moose was a dislike to him. The Squire had no gun, and the moose had no regard for the law. The upshot of the affair was that the Squire climbed a tree, and the moose, after paying the earth for a while, and daring him to come down, took himself off. The Squire has been gunning for that moose since that day until Mr. Devine cut in and bagged the game.

MORE TROUBLE IN HARRIGAN'S ALLEY Harrigan's alley, off Brussels street, has once more become notorious and residents of the vicinity are so greatly incensed at the noise that day until Mr. Devine cut in and bagged the game.

IS COMING TO ST. JOHN HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 25.—(Special)—The Norwegian steamer Fane, 20 days from Fleetwood for St. John, put in here early this morning with a cargo of coal. She was supplied with fifty tons and proceeded.

THE TIMES NEW REPORTER HIRAM IS INTERESTED. "What's all this talk about dredging?" an inquisitive citizen in Carleton" queried Mr. Hiram Hornbeam this morning. "Seems like they ain't much else to talk about round here," said the Times new reporter. "I'd expect that," observed Hiram. "I'd expect anything they aldermen take hold of it begin to be spun out. When did it begin?" "Historically speaking," replied the new reporter, "the trouble began in 1094. You remember that Samuel de Champlain came here in that year. As soon as his vessel rounded Partridge Island he turned to his companions and uttered these memorable words: 'I have discovered the winter port of Canada.' He rowed off to the Sand Point, and prepared plans for a series of wharves and a dry dock. It was his intention to organize a syndicate in Paris to construct these works, but after he had spent some time in Nova Scotia he appears to have become prejudiced against the Winter Port and devoted himself to the discovery of a summer port, on the St. Lawrence. As a result of his defection, harbor improvement at St. John languished until Claud LaTour came along about the year 1633, and built one of the ferryboats, which you may still see beside Rodney wharf, on the west side. His son Charles built several wharves, and also brought from Boston the dredge which is still preserved by the city. It is nearly 250 years old, and is carefully guarded by six men and a boy, who devote their whole time to it. Occasionally they dig up a yard or two of mud, but merely as a pastime."

STEINSLAND WANTS TO GO TO CHICAGO Bank Wrecker Says He is Not as Black as Has Been Painted, and Wants to Get Case Cleared Up--He Took Some but Not All.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The discomfort of a night in a narrow and bedless cell which was experienced by Paul O. Steinland, the former president of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank of Chicago, who was returned from Morocco last night a prisoner on the charge of wrecking the institution, was followed today by additional unpleasant details of examination at police headquarters.

At the district attorney's office the detective and their prisoner were shown into the office of Assistant District Attorney Lockwood. The extradition documents which had been signed by the governor of New York and Illinois were placed before Assistant District Attorney Lockwood and that official proceeded to waive the rights of the state of New York to hold Steinland and formally to turn him over to Detective Sergeant Kinard of Chicago. Steinland made a voluntary statement to Police Inspector McLaughlin today. Trembling with emotion, and with tears falling down his cheeks, the ex-bank president said: "I made some bad investments and they did not act as quickly as I thought they would. They were not paying. The man under me, the cashier I mean, took advantage of the situation, and he got more than I. All I got was $200,000, but I don't know what the other man got. This money I went away with was a thousand dollars that I made on a real estate speculation last summer. I had been always in hope of paying the money back but I suppose all is lost. I want to get back to Chicago as quickly as possible."

METHODIST CONFERENCE BETH McLEOD TOOK PLEDGE Promises Not to Drink for a Year and His Fine of $50 Stands.

HAMPTON, N. B., Sept. 25.—(Special)—In the magistrate's court today, before J. W. Smith, J. P., Beth McLeod was brought from jail, where he has been held on information made by John Collins, E. C. H. policeman, who testified that he refused to pay his fare while traveling as a passenger on an express train between Hampton and Sussex. Conductors on the train testified that he was with a crew of men in charge of a passenger named McLeod, who admitted that he had been drinking and was in a state of intoxication, leaving the prisoner and two others, who he said did not belong to his crew. McLeod refused removal, and was put off the train just above the semaphores less than half a mile from the station.

SEEKS AN INJUNCTION ON TELEPHONE MERGER At this morning's session of the equity court, C. N. Skinner in behalf of the Central Telephone Company, Ltd., applied for an ex parte injunction to restrain the Central Telephone Co., Ltd., from selling and the New Brunswick Telephone Co., Ltd., from purchasing all the rights, property and franchises of the Central Telephone Co., Ltd.

PORT ARTHUR, Sept. 25.—(Special)—Work was done on the road which was opened to traffic by today at noon. The first wheat train will probably reach Port Arthur early in the evening much to the relief of all hands. More than 1,000 tons of grain are now held up in sailings between the scene of the earthquake and Winnipeg. Elevator men have made arrangements to handle the rush that will overtake them next week.

TODAY'S NEWS OF FREDERICTON FREDERICTON, Sept. 25.—(Special)—Mary Violet, the half-century-old daughter of Chas. A. Hall accidentally set fire to her clothing while playing with some other children near her home yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Harry Crowley and a neighbor extinguished the flames, but not before the little one had been badly burned about the arms, legs and hips. She was placed under the care of a physician and everything possible was done to save her life, but without avail and at five o'clock this morning she passed away.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 25.—(Special)—Dr. Darley Harrison and Arthur G. Harrison, who were called from Edmonton by the death of their father, ex-Chancellor Harrison, leave for home this afternoon.

DRANK FIFTEEN BEERS THEN FELL OVERBOARD John Douglas, a deckhand on the May Queen, fell overboard about midnight last night and had it not been for the prompt action of Captain H. Weston, of the steamer, and his crew, Douglas would have been drowned. As it is the unfortunate man was reported to be very dangerously ill this morning. Douglas made his way to the May Queen, and his fellow workers state that yesterday he consumed a large quantity of liquor. One of the workmen stated to the Times this morning that he told him that he had partaken of fifteen glasses of ale and subsequently he got away with a square-face grin. From the effects of the alcohol Douglas lost control of himself and fell into the water between the steamer and the wharf. A chain was fastened to the wharf, and he immediately caught hold of it. His groaning attracted the attention of the deckhands, and by means of a rope he was raised from his dangerous position to the wharf, and then placed upon the boiler of the steamer to be warmed, as he was somewhat chilled from the fall into the water. As soon as possible he was moved to his boarding house on Pokok Road. Douglas has a cut over one of his eyes, but that, so his fellow employes state, was not gotten by the fall. He received it by a plank striking him on the trip up river. When he was taken out of the water some persons suggested that the police be notified whereupon Douglas, despite his dangerous condition, created a laugh, by remarking that he did not wish to have to pay four dollars.

THE SCARLET PIMPERNEL

BY BARONES ORCZY.

Her voice became choked with tears. She passed for a moment or two, trying to regain some sort of composure. She looked appealingly at him, almost as if she were her judge. He had allowed her to speak on in her own vehemence, impassioned way, offering no comment, no word of sympathy; and now, while she paused, trying to swallow down the hot tears that gathered to her eyes, he waited, impassive and still. The dim, grey light of early dawn seemed to make his tall form look taller and more rigid. The hair, good-natured face looked strangely altered. Marguerite, excited, as she was, could see that the eyes were no longer languid, the mouth no longer good-humored and naive. A curious look of intense passion seemed to glow from beneath his drooping lids, the mouth was tightly closed, the lips compressed, as if the will alone held that surging passion in check. Marguerite Edlewey, above all, a woman, with all a woman's fascinating foibles, all a woman's most lovable sins. She knew in a moment that for the past few months she had been in love with this man who stood here before her, cold as a statue when her muffled voice struck upon his ear, loved her, as he had loved her a year ago; that his passion might have been dormant, but that it was there, as strong, as intense, as overwhelming, as when first her lips met his in one long, maddening kiss. Pride had kept him from her, and, we must think, she meant to win back that conquest which had been hers before. Suddenly it seemed to her, that the only happiness he could ever have, her happiness would be in her arms, as once more upon her lips. "Listen to the tale, Sir Percy," she said, and her voice now was low, sweet, infinitely tender, as when first she had all to me! We had no parents, and he brought one another up. He was my father, and I, his tiny mother, was to you mind me, Sir Percy? The Marquis de St. Ogr had my brother Armand thrashed, whom I loved better than all the world! And his offense? That he, a plebeian, had dared to love the daughter of the aristocracy; for that he was waylaid and thrashed, a thrashed like a dog within an inch of his life! Oh, how I suffered! His punishment had been just, very just. When the opportunity occurred, and I was able to take my revenge, I took it. But I only thought to strike that man, to strike to trouble and humiliate him. He plotted with Austria against his own country. Chance gave me knowledge of this; I spoke of it, but I did not know how could I guess? They trapped and duped me. When I realized what I had done, it was too late. "It is perhaps a little difficult, Madam," said Sir Percy, after a moment of silence between them, "to go back to the past. I have confessed to you that my memory is short, but the thought certainly lingered in my mind that, at the time of the Marquis' death, I entertained for an explanation of those same noxious rumors, if that same memory does not, even now, play me a trick. I fancy that you refused me all explanation then, and demanded of my love a humiliating allegiance it was not prepared to give. "I wished to test your love for me, and it did not bear the test. You used to tell me that you drew the very breath of life but for me, and for love of me. "And to probe that love, you demanded that I should forfeit mine honor," he said, "while gradually this impression seemed to leave him, his rigidity to relax; that I should accept without murmur or question, as a dumb and submissive slave, every action of my mistress. My heart overflowing with love and passion. I asked for no explanation—I waited for one, not doubting—only hoping. Had you spoken but one word, from you I would have accepted any explanation and believed it. But you left me without a word, beyond a bald confession of the actual horrible facts; proudly you returned to your brother's house, and left me alone . . . for weeks . . . not knowing, now, in whom to believe, since the shrine, which contained my one illusion, lay shattered to earth at my feet." She need not complain now that he was cold and impassive; his very voice shook with an intensity of passion, which he was making superhuman efforts to keep in check. "Aye! the madness of my pride!" she said sadly. "Hardly had I gone, already I had repented. But when I returned, I found you, oh, so altered! Wearing already that mask of insolent indifference which you have never laid aside until . . . until now." She was so close to him that her soft, loose hair was wafted against his cheek; her eyes, glowing with tears, maddened him, the music in her voice sent fire

ORONHYATEKHA BLAMES MR. FOSTER FOR BAD INVESTMENT

Chief of the Foresters Says Union Trust Co. Did Things That He Did Not Approve of—Mr. Foster Bought Non-Dividend Paying Stocks.

Toronto, Sept. 24.—There were some things done by the Union Trust Company that I would not have allowed if I had been in control," said Dr. Oronhyatekha at the insurance investigation this morning. Mr. Shepley—"Will you specify some of them?" "Well, on one occasion some non-dividend paying stocks were bought by Hon. Mr. Foster, manager of the company. I think they were railway stocks. At any rate, his action was in disobedience of instructions from the board of directors that no stocks should be purchased not paying dividends. I had persuaded them to take this action." E. G. Stevenson, supreme councillor of the I. O. F., testified regarding several land deals. On one occasion he said an arrangement was being made by which the Union Trust funds to the extent of $200,000 was to be used for exploiting of timber lands in Quebec. McCormick, Irwin and Fowler were to borrow 40 per cent of the money, giving their covenant for the same and the other 60 per cent was to be provided by a syndicate including Messrs. Foster, McGillivray and Wilson, who would borrow money from the Union Trust and become liable for its payment. Witness was asked to join the scheme but objected to officials of their company entering it personally. He consented, however, to the proposal for the Union Trust itself to take the other 60 per cent. McCormick and Irwin had gone off to see limits and were disappointed in the prospect and as a result the whole proposition was dropped. Mr. Stevenson also told of the determination of the I. O. F. to unload its large holdings of land in the city. He had attended a meeting of the I. O. F. authorities in Montreal where there was much criticism of the subsidiary companies of the I. O. F. They said there was necessary danger of the officers being suspected of having pecuniary interests. Consequently of his return to Toronto he urged the disposal of the lands which was largely effected. Dr. Oronhyatekha put in an account of the orphans' home and stated that he had been the whole of Foresters' Island to the order. The site originally donated as a site for the home was free of encumbrance but there was a mortgage on the castle and grounds which, however, were separate. Oronhyatekha told of a loss of $800,000 by the Union Trust Company to the Great West Land Company. "There was a syndicate, including Foster, McGillivray, and perhaps some others." Dr. Oronhyatekha—"There was a syndicate, including Foster, McGillivray, and perhaps some others." During the transaction the witness was given as a bonus 100 shares of the company but had been transferred to members of the syndicate. Regarding the whole transaction the supreme chief ranger said if he had controlled the trust company he would not have let what were practically trust funds, have been given to persons who were directors of the company, and others for purposes of private speculation. "I did myself at first," he said, "but when it was pointed out that there was some impropriety, I withdrew entirely." "If McGillivray would not have entered into those transactions if he had thought it would compromise him in the eyes of members of the I. O. F." Regarding the lands secured for colonization purposes by the order, but lately disposed of to a large extent, witness said: "I am sure lands would have realized millions for the order and I am sorry the executive decided to give up the plan." Hon. George E. Foster, secretary of the Great West Land Company, was the last witness. He said that Col. McGillivray, supreme secretary of the I. O. F., Hon. Mr. Foster, managing director of the Union Trust Co., and Matthew Wilson, director, were acknowledged by agreement to be owners of one-half interest in the Pope-Fowler option and were instrumental in forming New Ontario farm and town sites. The syndicate company which purchased from the Union Trust Company an option, paying for it in stock of the company. The agreement contemplated the company to sell to farm and town sites the company lands at a figure which would after paying the cost to Foster, McGillivray and Wilson $25,000. This, with $5,000 additional stock Pope and Fowler demanded when they found land had been turned over at a profit of 50 cents per acre, made $100,000 advance on the deal. Mr. Foster offered to the company to all provided that ten shares each were to go to him and his associates, Wilson and McGillivray, as Mr. Shepley suggested. It appeared that three gentlemen apparently allotted to themselves over and above the stock placed in Foster some 271 shares, of which Mr. Foster is credited with receiving 171, the other two dividing the balance. Mr. Foster produced a number of documents asked for but refused to produce the stock book of the Great West Land Company and Mr. Shepley refused from pressing for it at this stage of the proceedings.

EXHIBITION SURPLUS ABOUT $2,500

At a meeting of the Exhibition Association . . . the secretary submitted an estimated statement of the surplus of the receipts-exhibition. From this it appears that there is a surplus after paying all bills, of $2,500.

Table with columns: Receipts, Disbursements, Total. Includes items like Gates and tickets, exhibitors, and sundries.

$30,570.51 and the expense $30,025.45, which left a balance of some $545. In 1902 the receipts were $27,046.25 and the balance $2,694.80. Comparing the figures of 1904 and 1905 it will be seen that the receipts were greater in 1904 but a large saving in expenditure was effected by the management of the 1905 exhibition.

Rev. C. Flemington, grand worthy patriot of the Sons of Temperance, who was in the city yesterday, met the proposition committee last evening. Important business was discussed. It was decided to put a man in the field as grand lecturer, and the G. W. P. was authorized to engage Rev. C. W. Hamilton, former pastor of Emmons street Methodist church here, to commence work in October. It is likely his first month will be spent in Kent and Northumberland counties. During the evening the G. W. P. visited Gordon Division and delivered an address. He was accompanied by Col. A. J. Armstrong, who also took part in the meeting.

The application by the city for a injunction against Mrs. Sterling H. Barker to restrain her from permitting sewage to enter Loch Leonard at the intake of the city's water supply is set down for hearing today. Notice was served on Mrs. Barker early last week. It is understood that Hon. H. A. McKenna, who will appear for Mrs. Barker, will likely ask for a postponement of the hearing for a few days as owing to illness he has been unable to give the necessary consideration to the case.

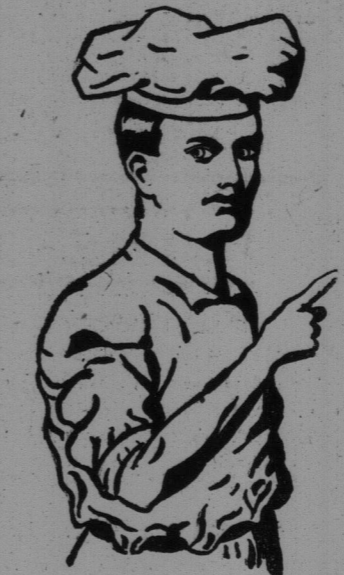

ALL OVER TOWN! Times Want Ads.

A Steady Trade

is most important to every baker. A business in which the receipts and profits vary every week, while the expenses remain the same, is a source of great anxiety to any business man. No baker can hope for a steady and increasing business unless the quality of his bread is uniformly superior to that of his competitors. He can have no more valuable asset than the reputation that his bread is "the best in town." Any baker can win this reputation for his bread by using only "FIVE ROSES" and "HARVEST QUEEN" FLOUR.

SHEFFIELD STREET Every argument used in favor of closing certain houses on Sheffield street, where beer is sold and persons of ill repute are said to resort, may be used with very much greater force in regard to exactly similar houses in various parts of the city, where they are much more of a menace to morals than they would be on Sheffield street.

MIXED THE REPORTERS It would appear that the Toronto World, which blazed the trail for reformed spellers in Canada long before President Roosevelt approached the task in the United States, has this year decided to brighten up its reports of Methodist General Conference debates by handing the job over to the reporter who ordinarily attends prize fights and other such encounters.

LESS LIQUOR CONSUMED The following paragraphs, relative to the growing sentiment in favor of total abstinence, are quoted from the Scottish-American: "Opening a Good Templar bazaar at Peterhead, Aberdeenshire, the other day, J. E. Sutherland, M. P., spoke of the progress of the temperance movement. There were now, Mr. Sutherland said, 100 total abstainers in the House of Commons. Of that number 25 were Irish and 21 Scottish. There were 282 members pledged to support local rets. Of these 61 were Scottish; he did not know how many were Irish—he did not think the figures included the Irish members. In the last parliament there were no fewer than 129 members financially interested in the drink traffic. Of that number 75 had not been returned; they had either been defeated or did not seek re-election.

Sir Robert had, after a lecture on "Sun Spots and Solar Chemistry," met a young lady who expressed her regret at having missed the lecture.

It was at a class in arithmetic that the following household problem was exactly solved.

"Suppose that in a family of five there are only four potatoes for dinner, and the mother wants to give each of the children an equal share—how is she going to do it?"

For a few minutes there was silence in the room while everybody calculated hard.

"Mash the potatoes, sir."

NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY

Annual Meeting of Ladies Association—Mrs. Geo. F. Matthew Again President.

At the adjourned annual meeting of the Ladies' Association of the Natural History Society, which was held in the new lecture rooms, Union street, yesterday afternoon, Mrs. George F. Matthew was re-elected president.

The course of reminiscence lectures to be given this autumn, Mrs. Matthew went on, are planned for the purpose of raising funds to secure a library in order that the library may be open to the public every day from 2 o'clock to 6.

After the secretary had read a brief report, arrangements for serving afternoon tea after the lectures, and for the course tickets, were made. The ladies are also arranging for the usual free course of lectures during the winter months.

EASTERN STATES ALARMED BY EMIGRATION TO CANADA

Boston is Raising a Fund of $100,000 to Help Keep the People at Home and Stop the Westward Flow—Virginia, Iowa, Minnesota and New York State Losing Population.

R. C. Rohrbacher, secretary of the public committee of the chamber of commerce at Spokane, Ore., has returned from the convention of the Oregon Development League, at Salem, Oregon. Mr. Rohrbacher addressed the league on the subject of "Real Results from Immigration Advertising." He said in part: "Evidence of real results from immigration advertising are manifest in the great westward movement of population. Hundreds of thousands of people in every field of industry and endeavor have broken away from home associations in the congested east to find new homes in the less populous and less developed west within the past few years, and it is a conspicuous fact that these parts of the country that have been most active in advertising their resources are the localities that have received the largest number of settlers. The gateways of the middle west have been dividing points for this great tide of emigration. One stream has flooded the Canadian northwest, another channeling to the Pacific northwest, while yet another and smaller has made its way to the Pacific northwest, where it has been absorbed. The greatest of these has responded to the greatest call.

MEETING OF SAFETY BOARD.

Ald. Bullock Wants Police to Close up Sheffield Street Dens--Decline to Investigate Charges Against Marshall.

At a meeting of the safety board last evening Ald. Bullock declared disapproval of a condition existing in Sheffield street as well as at night by visitors to the recent exhibition and the chairman was authorized to bring the matter to the attention of the chief of police that offenders might be cautioned and steps taken to expel them from the city should be found necessary. The board decided to take no action in the line of investigating charges made by John Secord against Policeman Marshall. They considered the case was one to be left in the hands of the chief of police. A recommendation to divide the Lancaster lands between Fairville and Gipsy Settlement into building lots and to call tenders was adopted. The directors occupied the chair and Ald. Christie, Rowan, Pickett, Lantlam, Tilley, Spry and Hanna were present with the director, Chief Kerr and the common clerk. A letter from Daniel Mullin, K. C., on behalf of John Secord, requesting that the board take an investigation into charges made by his client against Policeman Marshall, was read. The reply to the chairman, acting under the advice of the recorder, was also placed before the board. It was to the effect that while the board had power to hold an investigation, it was not desirable that it should be exercised only in very serious cases in which the chief of police himself might be involved, and that as the pointment and consent of members of the force was vested in the chief of police the matter in question could well be left for him to deal with if he thought it necessary. The chairman said he failed to see why Mr. Secord could not deal with any grievance he might have against Policeman Marshall without any intervention by the board. Ald. Spry—"An investigation would be the only way to get at the facts." On motion of Ald. Rowan it was decided that no action should be taken as far as the board was concerned. The chief of police was given authority to instruct the chief of police to warn these people and to give them notice to leave the city at once under penalty of fine and imprisonment. Ald. Spry—"He is clearing them out every day." Ald. Bullock—"Is he? I mean business." The motion was carried and the board adjourned.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

In the realistic melodrama, "Human Hearts," the scenes of which are chiefly laid among the hills of Arkansas, is found a power to charm that is marvelous. Everything has its purpose and further the main intention of an all absorbing story of love, hate, injustice and retribution. The play engages the sympathies for the sufferings visited on a family of plain, honest people, through the unfortunate marriage of the hero with an adventuress whom he thought to reform, but fell to the temptation of the old life proving too strong for her. Not only these two, but all associated with them suffer by their mistake. The dark side of this powerful story is well-balanced by humor, adroitly introduced and made a necessary element of the action. That its production here at the Opera House will be welcomed by an overflowing house is almost a foregone conclusion. Mrs. Gadski cables from Europe that she will sail early in October so as to arrive in ample time for her first engagement at Muncie, Ind., October 16. The prima donna will have an active, if a brief, season, as her time is well filled up to Christmas, when she returns to Germany. Mrs. Sembrich, who is to make a concert tour in the spring under London from Theatre's masterpiece. The New-comes in a way to preserve all the salient features of one of the finest and most human characterizations in modern literature. Colonel Newcome is the type of character to call into expression those qualities of heart and mind that most delightfully distinguish the work of this actor, who so greatly excels in the interpretation of gracious and sympathetic roles.

It was the social duty of Tom Wise, an old Harkins favorite, now of The Little Cherub, not long ago to escort a young French actress of great personal charm, on her first visit to New York, to a roof garden. The orchestra was playing a very melodious air as they entered, and after being seated, the actress asked Mr. Wise the name of the selection. "I Love You, I Love You," replied Mr. Wise. "Yes, yes, I know," returned the French girl with an appreciative glance of coquetry, "but you are not really, Mistriss Wise, but see de name of est?"

The Power of Money, the play in which President Roosevelt and William Randolph Hearst are introduced as characters, has been withdrawn. It contains too much clap-trap about the labor problem.

The first appearance of H. B. Irving in America will be at the Amsterdam theatre in New York October 1. Stephen Phillips's Paola and Francesca will be the play.

THE INGLE NOOK PHILOSOPHER OF KENNEBECASIS BAY

"I observe," remarked Pollard, as he settled himself into a seat on the porch, "that Marshall Field, of Chicago, at his death left an estate of more than two hundred millions of dollars, and not one dollar, as the papers say, to any charity. Whereupon George T. Angell, of the American Humane Society, rises to remark: 'If we had the power no monument should stand over his grave, and his name should be made as infamous as that of any malefactor of ancient or modern times.' 'I have no doubt,' continued Pollard, reflectively, 'that that Field was a very good man. He grew up with Chicago, and availed himself of his opportunities for accumulating money legitimately. He never was accused of swindling a bank, of plundering the policy-holders in an insurance company, of selling a mine, watering a stock or appropriating a trust fund to his own use. So far as the world knows Mr. Field got his money legitimately, and I guess it was his purpose to provide against his illegitimate distribution after his death. Mr. Angell is undoubtedly a good man; he professes to be a charitable man, but his bitterness towards Mr. Field's memory demonstrates to my satisfaction that he does not comprehend that charity is."

"As the world goes," said I, "Mr. Field was an exceptionally good man; but, speaking confidentially, aside from you and I and Miss Primrose, we are all grateful and indebted to him. How peaceful and contented was everything on the farm. How anxious and busy was everything in the town! The shopkeeper smoked his pipe and read last week's newspaper behind the counter. Mr. Angell, the lawyer played ball in the streets, and every Sunday the preacher preached out before a man of glass and chivalry on his everlasting torment. There was no grafter, no defaulter, no political shyster in those days, but now, it were not for such as you and I, Pollard, and Miss Primrose, life would be unendurable."

"And Tom?" said Miss Primrose. "Who's Tom?" said I. "That's what I'd like to know," said Pollard. "I thought there were only three of us," said I. "I think I must have been dreaming when I spoke," said Miss Primrose, and flushed very charmingly. "Ah, Youth! Youth! Its world is a world of pleasant activities and pleasant dreams from which you and I, Pollard, were long ago expelled. It is a world of sunshine, shadowed by no cloud of doubt, of unfaith and chilled by no blast of fear. Where's my overcoat?" Pollard loaded his pipe and went away. Miss Primrose shivered slightly and retired, and I, without lighting a lamp, seated myself by my window and looked out across the bay. White Head, K. C., Sept. 22.

THE PLACE TO WIN A WIFE. We meet with business problems As we journey on through life, But the hardest problem ever solved Is how to win a wife. Some say beauty's all you need, And some say wealth and power Will break the fire, or steady drawn, Instead of hell an hour. Some make dress the factor prime, And some say money counts; But a girl who has a winning smile Has gained the heart of lofty maid For one in forty station.

Some claim gallant deeds have won, Where wealth and beauty failed; Like one who saved a drowning child, Or tried from being derailed.

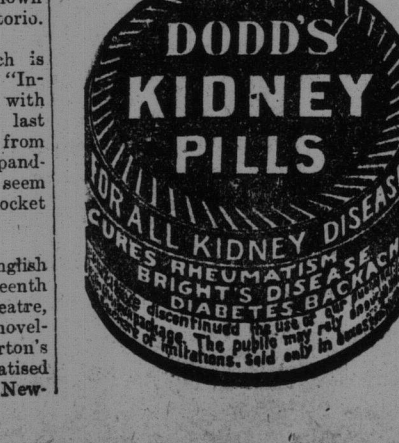

Some claim in heaven the match is made The day we are created, And only need a hope of time Until the two are mated.

But here's a tip I give the boys, That perhaps they don't count on,— The quickest place to find a girl Is near a soda fountain.

WILCOX & BROS., Dock Street and Market Square.

20th Century Brand $18.00 Suits. An examination of our splendid line of 20th Century Brand Suits at $18 would prove very interesting to you, and convince the most skeptical of the enormous improvement in the best class of Ready-to-Wear Clothing.

The cut of Coat, Vest and Trousers is of the most approved (fashionable) model, conservative, yet stylish and becoming. The tailoring is of a quality approached by few custom tailors—the coat, with ordinary usage, never losing shape; the collar and fronts do not break away in unsightly folds. The materials are imported tweeds, worsteds and serges; the linings high class.

In a word you would pay $5 to $7 more to any fine tailor for a suit of the same class, and we claim that 60 or 65 per cent. of men can obtain entire satisfaction. Call, try on and thoroughly inspect these excellent productions of tailoring art.

PREACHERS FOR THE PRAIRIES Arrival from England and Wales of About Thirty Ministers. (Winnipeg Free Press, Sept. 21.) The Brunswick hotel had the honor of accommodating twenty-nine young Methodist preachers. The party arrived by the delayed Pacific express, and were met by H. Woodworth, acting for his father, Rev. Dr. Woodworth, corresponding secretary of Zion church. They reported having had a pleasant voyage over the Atlantic by the steamer Empress of Britain, with the exception of a little rough weather at the beginning. On arriving at Montreal they spent from Friday until Monday in that city, where they had opportunities of seeing the Methodist general conference in session, and met with a cordial reception from the leaders of the church. Yesterday with the aid of Messrs. Woodworth and Milken, they have been making arrangements to proceed to their various destinations throughout the Manitoba, Assiniboia and Alberta conferences, for which many of the young men are English, a couple come from Wales, and there is a trace of Scotch accent heard in the conversation of one or more. Dr. Woodworth seems to have met with success in Britain at least equal to that of last year, in securing missionaries for vacant fields. Others who are coming by later steamers will increase the total number to between 45 and 50, and the young men's appearance and conversation promise well for their future in western Canada.

KELLEY SAYS CUBS WILL EASILY WIN WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—"To me it looks as though the world's championship will be won by the Chicago White Sox," said Capt. Joe Kelley of the Red Sox after reading some dope on the prospective outcome of the American League race.

"But after one or the other of these teams wins the American League pennant what has it to show against the Chicago Nationals in either the White Sox or the Highlanders, the Cubs ought not to lose a game. There are real stars on that Cub team, and plenty of them—and they play real baseball. Those other chaps, however they are, will not stand a ghost of a show against Chance's men. See if they do."

MOOSE SEEN NEAR CITY

A Large One Sighted on Marsh Road This Morning Near One Mile House.

From the stories told of moose being seen in the vicinity of St. John it seems a waste of time and money for sportsmen to go long distances to hunt the monarch of the forest.

On Saturday last one of good size was killed at Garnett Settlement and was brought to the market this morning.

Within the past few days two or three have been seen near Barker's at Loch Lomond. Last night one was chased by some sportsmen from this city, in the vicinity of Dolan's Lake on the Golden Grove road, but he eluded his pursuers and escaped.

This morning a "lordly bull" was met by a man driving into the city on the Marsh road. The gentleman in question was passing the greenhouse of Mr. McIntosh near the one-mile house about six o'clock when "his highness" appeared and trotted along the road after the team.

The driver of the team to his regret did not have a shooting iron, so was powerless to do anything but watch the antlered beauty with envious eyes.

The moose moved along apparently fearless, until a dog made his appearance and started barking when the big fellow made dash for the fence at the side of the road, cleared it nicely and disappeared across the fields and into the woods back of Rockwood Park.

The great number of animals that have already been killed has brought the price down very low and one carcass of good size sold for $11 in the market this morning.

Harry Roberts, son of David S. Roberts, of the north end, bagged a fine moose on Thursday last at Long Reach. The animal weighed about 1400 pounds and had an antler spread of about 50 inches.

Six shots were necessary to make his lordship bite the dust. Mr. Roberts naturally feels quite proud of his achievement. The moose was brought to the city and has here this been converted into steaks for the delectation of the lovers of moose meat.
