ARNOLD HUNTER DROWNS AT GOLDEN GROVE

BODY FOUND AT MIDNIGHT IN MARK'S LAKE

Young Man Had Gone Fishing and Failed to Return

FELL INTO LAKE

Coroner Porter Views Body and Decides Inquest is Not Necessary

FAILING to return to his home at the usual hour, Arnold Hunter, the son of George Hunter, of Upper Golden Grove, was found drowned last night in Mark's Lake.

He was commonly known as Hunter's Lake at that place. The young man, who was 25 years of age, had gone fishing in the lake about 5 o'clock, telling his sister, Mabel, that he was going to "the point," near his home. He was alone at the time and when he failed to return by midnight, search was commenced and his body was discovered by his father lying on the bottom of the lake about 11 feet from the shore.

Fred White was fishing from the lake earlier in the evening but had no knowledge of the accident.

When the young man failed to return home at his usual hour, fear that something out of the ordinary had occurred was aroused.

SEARCH STARTS

He was sought for at the home of Manuel Nogueira, a neighbor to whose house he was in the habit of going. When it was found he was not there, his father and brother, Frank, commenced to search the shores of the lake. His fishing pole was discovered lying on the shore at "the point" and further investigation led to the discovery of the body.

He was evidently fishing from a smooth, cone shaped rock where the water is 11 feet deep. It was thought that he slipped from the top of the water and owing to his heavy clothing was unable to save himself by swimming. The rock is said to be a dangerous spot to fish from. Young Hunter was able to swim a little but the rock is so smooth that it was impossible for an expert swimmer to have difficulty climbing up on it from the water.

FATHER SHOCKED.

When the body was discovered by the father with the aid of a lantern he received a severe shock, and he and his other son were not able to do much towards recovering it. Frank Hunter motored to the city and returned with Policeman Stewart Cooper, a brother-in-law of the youth, and Provincial Constable Shortliffe. The body was recovered by T. Albert McFate, assisted by his brother, William McFate, Manuel Nogueira, Policeman Cooper and Constable Shortliffe, at 6 o'clock this morning.

NO INQUEST.

Coroner Horace A. Porter was notified of the fatality and visited the scene this morning. After viewing the body and inquiring into the circumstances, he decided that no inquest was necessary, as indications pointed to the occurrence being purely an accident.

The young man was popular and well liked in the locality and his loss was a great blow to his family. He is survived by his father and mother, one brother, Frank, and three sisters, Mrs. Stewart Cooper, Ella and Mabel.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon, probably at 2:30 o'clock.

ENGLISH CLERGYMAN
BECOMES PUBLICAN

Archbishop of York and Rural Dean Sign Vicar's Taver Register

MIDDLESBROUGH, England, June 12.—Rev. J. L. Kyle, vicar of Carlton, 11 miles from here, keeps the Fox and Hounds in the village, and makes it his business to see that his customers do not drink sufficient beer to become drunk.

"I determined to buy the place," the vicar said, "when I had so much difficulty in obtaining refreshment at I went preaching up and down the country. The day I bought the inn a brother publican offered me £200 more than I had paid for it."

"I was not long before I gave up my Sunday license and sacrificed a further £200 on the value of the house. My plan was to cleanse my parish of the drinking hordes who came out from Middlesbrough on Sundays."

"I have been attacked from both sides," church people said that a vicar should not be the landlord of an inn, but I asked them who was better able to run a public-house than a parson. "I called a parish meeting, and the people decided that they preferred me as the landlord to any other person."

"The vicar is proud of the neat appearance of his inn and of the sign, which was painted by his wife. In the visitors' book at the inn are the following signatures: "Cosmo Ebor (Archbishop of York), and Henry C. Holmes, rural dean."

IS NOT YET ENDED

Sultan Atrah Expected to Resist French to Bitter End

BEIRUT, Syria, June 12.—The French military authorities here express surprise that the Druse tribesmen have not reacted since the French captured their southern capital, Saida, a week ago.

The French headquarters staff holds the impression that the back of the Druse rebellion has been broken, but no illusions, however, as to the intentions of the Sultan, which, they do not include surrender, but rather resistance to the bitter end.

The Sultan's followers do not share his uncompromising views and daily are making peace with the French in the Djebel Druse. The only attempt at reaction during the week, was an operation personally conducted by the Sultan against a French scouting detachment.

In the rest of the country there have been a few skirmishes, between bandits and French troops and around Damascus a few isolated cases of brigandage. All is said to be quiet in Greater Lebanon.

U. S. COMMENT
ON THE PACIFIC

Commenting on the announcement that the Canadian Pacific Steamships, Limited, are laying down two new combination liners and five freight boats, New York shipping men take this as an indication that the Pacific services of this company are to be expanded.

It is fortunate that the American Oriental Mail Line has passed into the hands of the Dollar group rather than into those of a group with limited resources, they state. The Dollar group, it was pointed out, will be able to meet whatever competition may be offered in the Pacific trade.

The Canadian Pacific are fully alive to the competition that they likely to meet on the Pacific and elsewhere. Whether they use the ships on the Atlantic or the Pacific there will be sufficient cargoes for their holds to justify their being in service.

HOSPITAL HAD 148 PATIENTS AT END OF MAY
Commissioners Hear Good Report on Recent Registration Examinations
STAFF CHANGES REPORTED UPON
Oswald McDonald Temporary Intern—Debit Balance Reduced in Month

All the nurses from the General Public Hospital who wrote the recent examination for registration in the province passed successfully. It was announced at the meeting of the Board of Commissioners yesterday afternoon, and two of these nurses came first and second in the pass list. This fact was referred to with gratification.
M. E. Agar, M. L. A., president, was in the chair. Others present were Commissioners Mrs. J. V. McLellan, Dr. W. W. White, Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts, W. E. Emerson, J. L. O'Brien, Dr. E. Ryan and J. King Kelley and Superintendent R. H. Gale.
The superintendent's report showed an average number of 127.5 patients daily and 148 remaining at the end of May; operations, 77 in the main operating room and 102 in the outpatient department, where 487 treatments were given.
The resignation of Miss E. V. Trenoway took effect on May 15 and Miss M. D. Hayes was appointed to the office of staff nurse in the outpatient department. Oswald McDonald was appointed temporary intern, replacing Dr. P. M. Knox, resigned. Reference was made to the deep loss sustained in the death of Dr. J. H. Allingham, concerning which the board had previously taken action.
The gift of $5,000 from the estate of the late William Crawford was very gratefully acknowledged and a letter of thanks was to be written.
The financial statement showed total receipts $13,812.26, including the following: City, $6,600; tax paid, $4,177.40 and X-ray, $1,034.86. There had been an appreciable reduction in the debit balance during the month.
Miss Margaret Murdoch, superintendent of nurses, reported 68 nurses enrolled of whom eight were graduates. Miss Jane Thorne graduated on May 28 and the resignations of Miss Hilda Harris and Miss Edna Bonnell from the graduate staff having been received. Miss Jessie Andrews and Mrs. Grace Lewis, graduates of the school, were appointed to the vacancies. Of a class of 12 probationers, 10 had been accepted. A junior nurse resigned on account of poor health.
The medical board routine report of Dr. C. L. Emerson stated the services of Dr. Ryan and J. King Kelley and Superintendent R. H. Gale.
Dr. O. B. Evans reported 158 patients attended the out-patient department during May, 1926, as compared with 238 in May, 1925.
Miss M. M. Wetmore, dietitian, reported 26,861 meals served at a slightly increased cost per meal. Miss E. J. Mitchell reported 127 new articles of linen purchased and Miss J. Sandall, linen supervisor, reported 8,787 articles of linen in use in the hospital and 1,146 in the nurses' home.
Dr. Roberts in giving his final report as commissioner of the month, stated conditions satisfactory. Dr. Roberts takes charge of the physiotherapy department next month. He presented

NEW INTERNES
The five internes appointed for the coming year at the General Public Hospital have all successfully passed their medical examination and are to begin their duties at the Hospital on July 1. They are all McGill graduates. Only one, Dr. P. F. Meahan, of Newcastle, is a New Brunswick man. Two of the five, Dr. E. B. Hall and Dr. A. A. Salter, hail from Nova Scotia; Dr. F. S. Skinner, the fourth man, is from Ontario, and Dr. G. A. Strappan is from Newfoundland.
Two members of last year's intern staff have already left the Hospital. Dr. Knox has been appointed to the staff of the County Hospital and Dr. Sutherland has taken up a practice in Annapolis. Dr. Oswald McDonald is filling in until the new intern staff arrives. Dr. Clements, Dr. Crulshank and Dr. Stewart complete their year of work on the intern staff at the end of the month.
At the end of June there will be a vacancy on the Board of Commissioners of the General Public Hospital, caused by the resignation of Dr. W. F. Roberts, who is to take charge of the physiotherapy department. It has been suggested that a woman be named to fill the vacancy, and the names of Mrs. L. P. D. Tilley has been mentioned.

MYSTERY OF YEARS AGO LIKELY SOLVED
Headless Skeleton of Woman Who Disappeared in 1855, Found in Maine
NORWICH, Me., June 11.—Discovery of a human skeleton, the head missing, buried beneath the eel of the old Daniel Merrill house at East Stoneham, apparently solved the mystery surrounding the disappearance 31 years ago of Annie Patch.
That the pretty young woman probably was murdered is the general belief of the residents of the little community where the gruesome find was made by Carlton Baker while excavating to place a new sill beneath the eel, and investigation has been ordered by Sheriff Edward C. Torrey of Oxford County. No doubt is expressed that the bones found are those of Mrs. Patch, for it was in the Merrill house that she was last seen before dropping out of sight so quickly and so mysteriously.
At one o'clock on the morning of her disappearance—morning on which a wild storm was raging without—she was in bed at this home with Mrs. Daniel Merrill, so Mrs. Merrill asserted during the search made for the missing woman.
Somebody in the neighborhood told the story of hearing the sound of a team in the Merrill dooryard during the night, but no tracks were visible the next morning, owing to the heavy rain.

WEAK AND NERVOUS
A Condition Always Due to Thin, Watery Blood.
Thin blood and weak nerves generally are found together. Red blooded people seldom complain of nervousness. The reason is that the blood renews the nerves and keeps them toned up to do the work nature intended. When the blood is thin and weak it fails in this important function and nervous troubles follow. The following case will interest those who need a tonic for the blood and nerves. Mrs. D. Veno, Union Square, N.S., says:—"With a feeling of gratitude I write to tell you what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me. I had become badly run down, and reached the stage when I could not do my household work. I was only weak, but my nerves seemed completely shattered. The least noise would startle me and I was subject to nervous headaches. Worse still, I could not sleep at night. Perhaps I would get an hour or two sleep, and then lie awake for the rest of the night. I had reached a stage when I actually feared I would lose my mind. Up to the time I decided to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, nothing I had taken seemed to do me any good. I got a few boxes of these and soon there was no doubt they were the medicine to help me. As I continued the use of the pills I gradually grew stronger, better and could sleep at night, and now I am as well and strong as a woman could wish to be. I hope some other weak, nervous person will be benefited by my experience."
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

You Wonder Why You Cannot Sleep
If you could only sleep at night there would be some chance of getting back the nervous energy which is expended during the day. But you cannot sleep. In the mornings you arise feeling tired and played out. By evening you are all in. Your nervous system is entirely exhausted.
"Is there no way to get out of this condition?" you ask. There is. By using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food regularly you can feed the nerves back to health and vigor.
Perhaps you have never realized the cause of your sleeplessness. But this is the outstanding symptom of exhausted nerves. You may also have nervous headaches, indigestion and spells of dizziness. You may be unduly sensitive to light and sound. You may be irritable and inclined to worry when there is no real cause. But inability to rest and sleep is one of the surest signs that you need the help of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to get back to health.
Nervous disorders do not get better of their own accord. You must supply the elements of Nature which are required to build up the depleted cells and these elements are most happily combined in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. 60 cts. a box, all dealers or The Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto 2, Can.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., JUNE 12, 1926.

FAREWELL

Now that the all too short visit of the National Chapter I. O. D. E. is drawing to a close, it is fitting that Saint John tender to these accomplished ladies a reluctant farewell, coupled with an assurance that the residents of this Loyalist City are one and all deeply appreciative of the honor done them in that their cherished home was selected for the deliberations of a body of women truly representative of all the best in Canada and Canadianism, the Empire and Imperialism.

It may be selfish on our part, but we wish that the National Chapter could meet here every year. Other cities would, without doubt, and intelligently, protest vigorously any such decision to enshrine the deliberative headquarters of a loyal order in the Loyalist City, but if we cannot entertain these ladies, the leaders of Canadian womanhood, annually, let us do our best to persuade them to return to the Pundy port just as often as they can without causing too much jealousy amongst the less favored cities of the Dominion.

THE MATTER OF UNDESIRABLES

Because Mr. Charles E. Russell, once city editor of the New York Herald-Tribune, has been refused admission to England, probably on account of his many bitter attacks on the British Government in his articles on India, Mr. Brisbane, editor of the Hearst publications, undertakes to show Great Britain the error of its ways.

We have no recollection of any great outcry in Great Britain when the United States Government refused to admit the "British" parliamentary communist, Mr. Saklatvala, of Bombay and Battersea, or even when it prevented a celebrated Countess from viewing the skyscrapers of New York on the ground of her "moral turpitude"—in fear, no doubt, that she might corrupt the Earl Carroll of that great city.

But Mr. Brisbane believes it would have been wiser of the British Government to have admitted Mr. Russell if merely so that he might have learned some of the truth about India. As if the British Government cared two straws whether Mr. Russell knows the truth about India or not.

And now when the Home Secretary refused so far as to offer to allow Mr. Russell to land at a British port if he, Mr. Russell, undertook not to go to the Irish Free State, the ex-city editor rejoins: "I would be a doddering idiot if I risked myself within the limits of what by a figure of speech is called the Irish Free State. Naturally and at all times I prefer regions where there still lingers respect for the usages of civilized life. But to exact from me any such conditions as you suggest seems to me degrading, and an affront to the nation of which I am a citizen."

So that Mr. Russell seems to have a healthy respect for his own skin, though why he should be afraid of the Irish who are almost as numerous in New York as in Erin is not evident—coupled with a somewhat inverted idea of national honor when applied to restrictions placed on individuals visiting a foreign country. Nobody thinks Mr. Russell is a typical citizen of the United States.

BRITISH MOTOR CARS

Mr. F. W. Field, British Trade Commissioner in Montreal, draws attention to the extraordinary attitude adopted by British manufacturers of motor vehicles—a take-it-or-leave-it state of mind. This is nothing new, having characterized that section of British industry ever since its inception. Nevertheless it is one which has caused great annoyance to agents and dealers throughout the Dominion and, even before the war, resulted in the penetration of the American car into fields which should have been, and wished to be, entirely British.

The stand of the British motor manufacturer is similar to that taken by Mr. Fortier the other day at Toronto. Certain large sections of the motoring public would willingly sacrifice some quality for cheapness. That the British motor manufacturer denies them. In this particular case the wishes of the public are not entirely short-sighted. Changes of design and improvements in cars are so rapid that within a few years a car is out of date—and looks it. The British manufacturer's just claim that his car will be giving the best service ten years hence, therefore, carries little weight.

Added to this, the British motor manufacturer has maintained a progressive perfection of design unbroken under European road conditions. But that does not say that modifications—usually in the matter of road clearance—might not be desirable for the rougher Dominion and colonial purposes. That is where the British manufacturer retains a healthy rejoinder that his design has been proved the best and if you don't like it you can go elsewhere. That is very short-sighted.

British firms have had this pointed out to them a thousand times during the past twenty-five years, but apparently it has made no difference. It is a great pity, because the British car in all its classes leads the world for material craftsmanship and finish. There are markets clamoring for it—only it would produce an overseas model modified to suit local conditions. India, Australia, South Africa, and New Canada, have all in turn voiced the same complaint. They are buying American cars instead of British cars because the former suit them. From all accounts the motor industry in Great Britain slumped badly after the war. Why they still persist in their stubborn attitude if it be pride of craftsmanship, this can be carried too far. It is imaginative blindness, it is high time the British motor trade sought an oculist.

THE UNCHAINING OF THE GAMBEBERT

An interesting news item comes from the New York Sun. It appears that the Gambembert cheese was invented when we always labored under the impression that it was dug up or had burst unheralded like war or prohibition or vers libre upon the appalled world. Furthermore, the inventor is known and—we hesitate to mention the fact while the I. O. D. E. are still in Saint John—she was a woman!

Now, as a further example of the modern tendency to condone wrongdoing and exalt malefactors, a band of misguided people, headed by Dr. John Kilmir of New York, formed a procession to the farmhouse where once lived this lady with a distorted imagination and, after a eulogy and the laying of a laurel wreath, affixed to the walls a bronze plaque inscribed with a hymn in praise of the cheese. Why this was done is not explained, but perhaps it is intended to recognize that after a couple of centuries of obloquy borne without complaint, the cheese could not help itself. Perhaps it was a sort of peace offering to a malignant force. One cannot tell.

Yet the fact remains there is no authentic record of the original crime. How did Louise Harel—that was her name—first induce anybody to eat it? It is easy to understand Eve tempting Adam with a juicy Macintosh Red, but an object that looks like a disease and smells like drains is another story. Did she threaten her poor devoted Jiggs with a rolling-pin or did she adopt the usual feminine finesse of telling him that "I'm sure it's bad for you, dear"—very fine learns to do that with the fried potatoes when she is short of dessert. But how did she get him to take a second helping? It must have been the rolling-pin or worse. Alas, history omits the most interesting part of the tale.

"Target gow! Oo aye you may be bonny for the bairns an' such as cammas hand their gabs, but for a mon—! Aince there was a chatterbox killed at Saint Andra's. He curbed his affection intill the seventeenth when he bledhered 'Dorrmay.' Justifiable homicide was the verdict. Aweel g'da ye no believe the truth o', ye maun tak' it as an accurate prophecy—tarrget gow!"

Odds and Ends

Gardening (Farm Life)

Think of your garden as—

A doctor—it can keep you in good health and sends no annoying bills.

Picnic grounds—you can have a lot of fun in it if you approach it in the right spirit.

A beauty spot—to cover bare earth with green growing things is truly a work of art.

A thrift proposition—it gives you the opportunity to save the money you would otherwise have to spend for food.

A sanctuary—Someone has said, "One is nearer to God in the garden than anywhere else on the earth."

An opportunity—Not only to add to your garden but to broaden your intellect and sympathies as well.

Battleground—Never doubt for a moment that weeds and pests will rise up without number to engage your ceaseless efforts.

A storehouse—if rightly planned it will supply a surplus of food to be stored against bleak winter.

Recreational proposition—it is just as enjoyable and far more profitable to play the game of gardening than golf or tennis.

An old friend—Enter lovingly into its moods and confidences, and when you are deprived of its presence for a few bleak months look eagerly forward to its return.

Melting Years.

(Emporia Gazette)

Mrs. Emmeline Parkhurst seems to be melting down. She announced her candidacy for Parliament not long ago. It was a mild and lovely proclamation. She seems to have abandoned militant methods entirely. She declares that women now being citizens must work through law. A lot of us cool off and in cooling see a different world. Emmeline Parkhurst, militant suffragist of 12 years ago, is another woman today. So we all change with the changing times, which is one of God's semi-precious blessings to man. An unchanging world would be dull and hopeless.

Just Fun

WE resemble flying machines in that most of us have to speed up before we begin to rise.

WOMAN in night clothes captures a robber, says a headline. But how can you tell nowadays whether a woman is in her night clothes or not?

WHERE can I find a bootlegger? asked the stranger.

"You'll find one most anywhere round here except in jail," grinned the native.

THE man who is always being generally needs a good roofing.

Said an innocent maiden named Jean.

"Now what does the wage of sin mean?"

Brother Bob said, "By heck that now she knows.

For confessing to some magazine."

AMONG the things that are getting shorter are the coal supply, daughter's frocks and dad's patience.

AND the little rabbits all exclaimed: "We're game."

OUR village belle went to New York expecting to have the whole city at her feet, and she succeeded in having only the chiropractor.

SAY you, why does a stork stand on one foot?

"Well, if he pulls the other one up he will fall."

A MACHINE has been invented that digs, cleans, grades and delivers potatoes in a single operation. The only thing it doesn't do, apparently, is to lower the price.

TUFF!

He's worried and he's barred.

His case should make you weep.

For his poor day is marred.

And he talks in his sleep.

MONEY sometimes indulges in some very loose talk.

MOTHER: Johnnie, see what the baby has in his mouth.

JOHNNIE: It's all right, mother, it's only a safety-pin.

EARLY to bed and early to rise—is his done. It puts one in a position to become acquainted with the social leaders—who are just getting home.

WHEN a woman feels like resting she sits down to some fancy work.

THE cook in lots of homes asks no better pay than daddies and the kids to eat heartily of her cooking.

SHE: Is there any art in kissing? He: The only art is, art thou willing.

THERE are three kinds of Minute men: They are the Minute men; the Wait-a-minute men and the Last-minute men.

IF there must be wars the nations should agree to send their worst men to be killed off, instead of their best.

DINNER STORIES

THE respectable-looking pan-handler picked out an elderly gentleman of most benevolent aspect and made a plea for a small financial contribution. When he had finished his narrative of misery and woe the elderly gentleman replied benignly:

"My good friend, I have no money, but I can give you some good advice."

The tramp spat contemptuously, and uttered an oath of disgust.

"If you haven't got no money," he jeered, "I reckon your advice ain't worth hearin'!"

A CAMERA man working for the educational department of a film company met an old farmer coming out of a house in the town where he was working.

"I have just been taking some moving pictures of life on your farm," said the camera man.

"Did you catch any of my laborers in motion?" asked the old man, curiously.

"Sure I did."

The farmer shook his head reflectively, then said: "Science is a wonderful thing."

A RUSTIC visitor to the city made a desperate run for the ferry boat as it was leaving the slip. He made a mighty leap and covered the intervening space, then fell sprawling to the deck, where he lay stunned for two minutes. At last he sat up feebly and stared dazedly over the wide expanse of water between boat and shore.

"Holy hoptoads!" he exclaimed in a tone of profound awe. "What a jump!"

POEMS I LOVE

"Go, Lovely Rose," by Edmund Waller.

Tell her that's young, And shuns to have her graces spied, That ladet thou sprung, In deserts, where no men abide, Thou must have uncommended died.

Small is the worth Of beauty from the light retired: Suffer herself to be desired, And not blush so to be admired.

Go, lovely Rose— Tell her that wastes her time and me, That now she knows, When I resemble her to thee, How sweet and fair she seems to be.

Queer Quirks of Nature

By ARTHUR N. PACK, President, The American Nature Association.

ALL have seen the tangled web of the house spider, an irregular network of silken strands in apparently aimless confusion in the dark corner of a deserted or at least neglected room. Perhaps they were made by the same species which, according to a popular tradition, helped Robert Bruce when he was striving for the crown of Scotland.

Discouraged and sick, he lay on a couch thinking over the dark situation, when he saw a spider trying to fasten its web in a particular place on the rafters. Several times the attempt failed, but always the spider persisted. When after repeated trials the brave spinner won success, Bruce arose, heartened by the example, returned to the fight, and this time won his cause.

Whether or not the story be founded on fact, the bravery and persistence of the spider is beyond question, for no rebuffs can discourage her. In due time she spins for her prospective eggs an urn-shaped nest and leaves the rest to Providence.

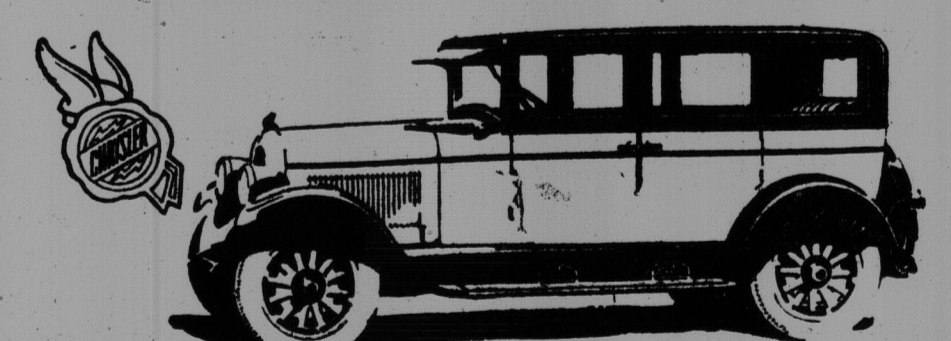

In the young spiders hatch, the stronger subside on the smaller and weaker ones. As the survivors grow larger and stronger, and are able to capture other prey, they gradually abandon cannibalism as a means of livelihood, and race suicide is averted.

In the great class to which the spiders belong, the young are miniature versions of their parents. As they increase in size, the more or less unyielding skin is shed, and the growing body is allowed room for expansion.

In most spiders the female is the larger, and frequently devours her husband. Truly in spider land the female is more deadly than the male.

BRITISH CHARACTER (New York Times)

Such a week of acute national crisis and strain as the English people have been passing through cannot fail to leave its mark on the national character. The essential qualities come out under the pressure of the general strike. Indomitable good nature has also been displayed. Many of the volunteers for public service regard their efforts as a good deal of a lark. This is shown in the stately reports which some of them make, as well as in the amused tolerance of the general strike.

The Very Idea!

CANDY SHOPPING

JIMMY gets a nickel, and he hikes down to the store. Doesn't even wonder what he's gonna spend it for. Knows it's gonna buy him a lot of trash and stuff. Things he'll get a lot of will be plenty good enough.

Hangs around the counter, lookin' over candy trays. You can see a twinkle in the little fellow's eye. Think of it! A nickel—and the whole thing can be spent. Asks a heap of questions, like, "How many for a cent?"

Now he's sorta stoopin' with his nose against the glass, payin' no attention to the other folks who pass. Just inside the counter are the best things he can find. Jimmy's tryin' mighty hard at it, up his little nose.

Well—the buyin' over and the store man sighs relief. Waitin' on the little folk is just a lot of grief. Still, the patient store man, as he takes things from the shelf, seems to smile right through it. He was once a kid himself.

If mud is really a beautifier, the average little kid can quit worryin' about his future good looks.

His little lady fair.

A man wants his wife to think his garden is the best in the neighborhood, and his chickens to think his neighbor's is.

"I think the engine's missing," said He lifted up the hood and said, "You're wrong. It's right in there."

The average shortcake is short berries.

FABLES IN FACT

erance with which the skilled men on strike contemplate the work of amateurs. Perhaps the place in which this English good temper and nonchalance have been most strikingly manifested is the House of Commons. There sit the two parties representing the two sides of the bitter controversy. Yet they indulge in no acrimony of speech. Facing each other across the floor, Conservatives and the Labor members seem to feel keenly the need of refraining from inflammatory speech. They almost appear to show an unusual deference to each other, although it is, of course, really deference to public opinion, and to the need of preventing anything like "the fool fury of the Senate" from disturbing the placid flow of the Thames. Yet behind all this humorous spirit of toleration there is no mistaking the firm determination to see the thing through, and the will never to submit or yield when a great principle is at stake.

Dorothy Dix

Is Your Wife Extravagant?—Try Telling Her the Truth About Your Income—Is Your Stenographer Incompetent?—Give Her a Chance by Telling Her Exactly What's Wrong—Truth and Woman Won't Explode When Brought Together.

THE one thing in the world that women yearn for most, and get least, from men, is the truth. Man flatters woman, and he scolds and blames her. He cajoles her and he jolles her, and occasionally he browbeats her, but he seldom favors her with absolute veracity in his dealings with her.

DOROTHY DIX

Whether men consider that the naked truth is too shocking a spectacle for feminine eyes to behold or not, no one can say. But certain it is that before a man presents a fact to a woman he has generally so adorned it and embroidered it and splattered it that its own mother wouldn't know it, and it would take an excavating shovel to get off the disguises and down to the reality.

STRANGELY enough, too, lying is a tribute that man pays especially to the fair sex. A decent man does not lie to other men. Even to be accused of such a thing has ever been considered an insult that one was justified in washing out in blood; but men have no shame in lying to women.

On the contrary, popular sentiment counts it unto a man for cleverness and wit to be able to make his wife or fiancée believe that he is sitting up with a sick friend when he is sitting in a poker game, or that he is tolling over his ledgers when he is opening bottles for chorus girls.

Three-fourths of the comedies on the stage have this ingenious theme for their motive, for the one thing on which any playwright may count to provoke mirth is a man's ability to lie to women.

Yet in reality this false idea of man's that woman must never be told the truth is at the bottom of half of the troubles in the world and explains, as nothing else can explain, what we call the vagaries of women. We see a woman acting unreasonably, idiotically, and we set it down to her being a fool, whereas, in all probability, it is all because she has been misled as to the facts in the case and is figuring out the situation from a false standpoint.

THIS is bad enough in society, but for the business woman it is tragical. No one but the working woman, who has had to deal with men, knows how hard it is to get a man to tell her the truth. He will make her a thousand promises he never meant to keep; he will delude her with rosy hopes he knows to be false; he will make a million excuses that have no foundation—rather than come bluntly and plainly out and tell her just how things really stand.

This is particularly hard on the girl who is just beginning to work. If a man employs a boy as clerk or stenographer, and the youth makes mistakes, his employer will say, "Now, look here, if you don't learn how to spell, or if you don't come earlier, or quit looking at yourself so much in the mirror, you will get fired." And the boy thus adjured has, at least, a chance to correct his faults and learn his business; but not so the girl.

Her employer doesn't tell her the truth and give her an opportunity to learn her trade. He makes some feeble plaint about business being bad and having to reduce his force, and dismisses the girl, who might, had she been told the truth about why she failed, have learned to be a useful worker.

What we call women's unreasonableness is nearly always to be attributed to their not knowing the facts in the case.

ONCE upon a time I saw a half-dozen clever men—lawyers and trustees of an estate—absolutely balked by the uncompromising attitude of a woman who refused to be persuaded or cajoled or driven into doing the sensible and obvious thing they desired her to do.

Finally they appealed to me for advice. "Go and tell her the exact truth about the situation," I said. And the bravest of the lot took his courage in both hands and remedies for hysterics in his pocket, and dit so. The woman listened to him without a sob, and the minute she understood the real situation she did exactly what they desired.

In the domestic relationship the lack of truth between men and women is even more to be deplored. Who can doubt that there would be fewer disappointments in marriage if, instead of telling a girl she is an angel and that if she married him she would never have to do anything with her litly white hands but soothe his weary brow, a man would say: "See here, Mary, I know you have a temper and a tongue, and so have I, and if you marry me life is not going to be any picnic by a long shot. I'm poor and I expect my wife to help me, and you'll have to wear made-over gowns and do the work of willing hands, and, please God, we will win out together."

OF COURSE, no lover says that—he draws a fancy picture of an impossible Eden, and then when the girl goes up against the sordid reality she feels, and feeling, resent being roped into a confidence game. Women may also justify their extravagance on the ground that they are rarely told the truth about their husbands and fathers' business. Not one woman in a thousand knows what she really can afford to spend, and men have only themselves to blame for the consequence of a woman thinking she can afford champagne on a beer income.

The pathetic part of all of this is that men put themselves to so much trouble for nothing and perjure their souls without reason. The truth and woman are not two inharmonious elements that explode and blow up when brought together. Rather do they make a soothing combination that makes for peace and harmony.

IT IS because women know they are being lied to that makes them unreasonable, suspicious and jealous, for we all fear ghosts that we cannot see more than the perils we do see.

A man can never know what a sensible, practical good fellow his wife is until he begins to tell her the truth about things.

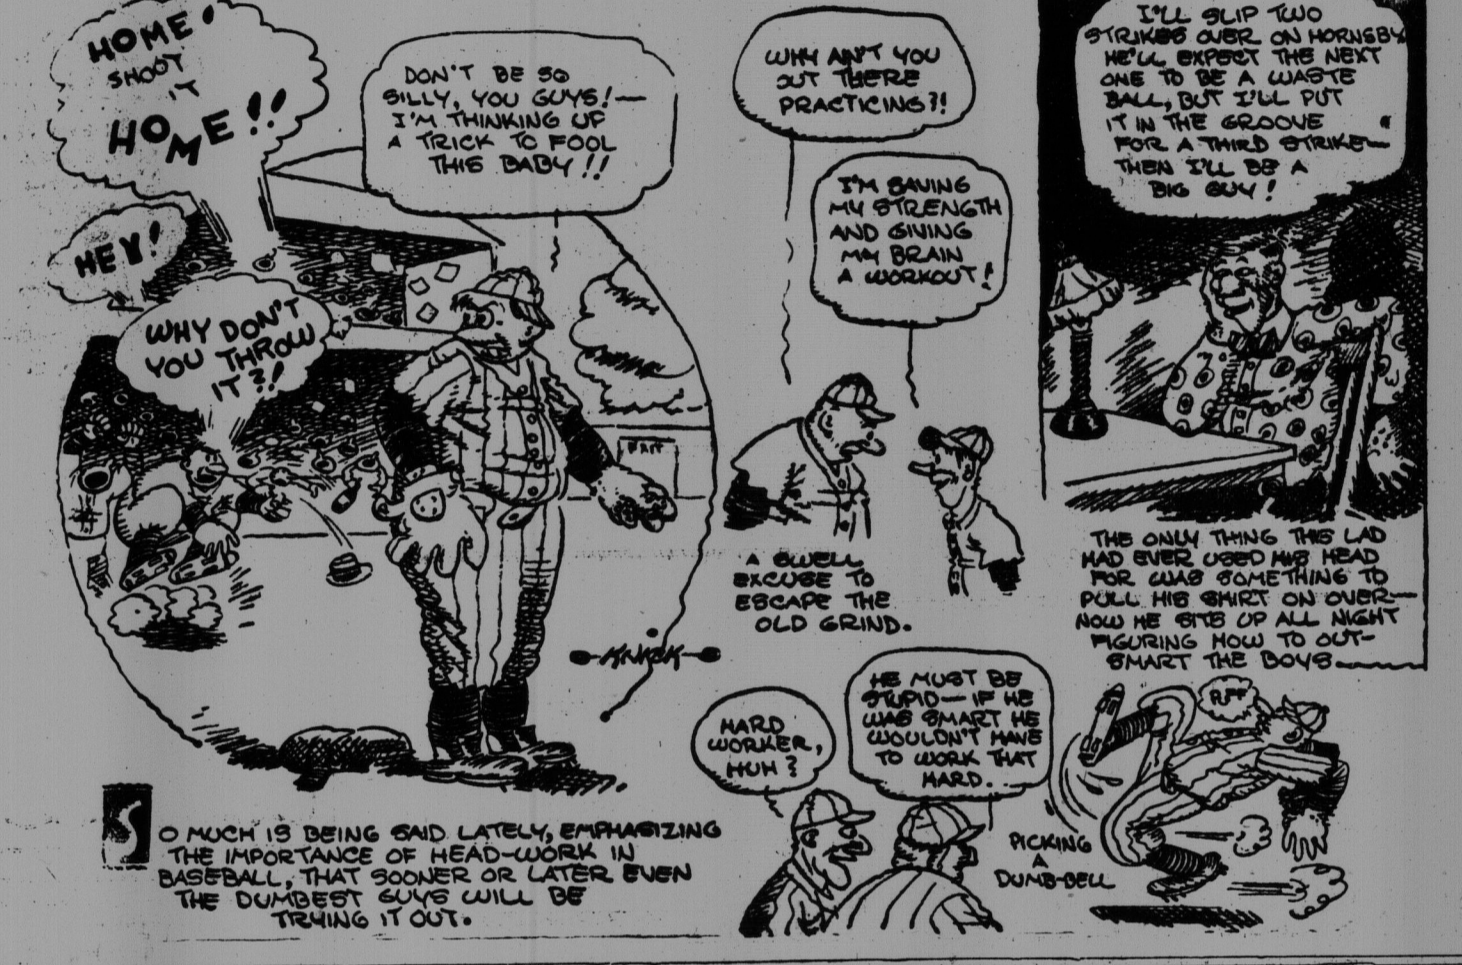

THIS is a dead-straight tip to husbands. DOROTHY DIX. Copyright by Public Ledger Company.

You Need Most the "film of protection" While Your Motor is New

To use any but the highest quality oil, suited to the mechanical requirements of your new motor, is simply to invite motor troubles.

Any oil will lubricate your motor, after a fashion but Tide Water engineers spent years in study and research to obtain, in Veedol, an oil which offers maximum resistance to heat, and friction; an oil which forms a "film of protection" over all the vital parts of your motor; a film thin as tissue, smooth as silk, tough as steel.

This "film of protection" has reduced to a minimum the ever-present danger of burned-out bearings, scored cylinders and lost power. Put the "film of protection" on the job safeguarding your motor and conserving its power.

Wherever the orange and black Veedol sign is displayed, you will find The Veedol Motor Protection Guide. This is a chart that tells which Veedol oil your car requires. Have your crankcase drained and refilled with Veedol to-day. Be sure and ask for Veedol by name.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

INCO, THE ELEPHANT, RUNS AWAY

THE door into the bedroom where the Twins slept in little white beds, was held open by a wonderful stop. This door-stop was an elephant, a beautiful elephant made of china as white and smooth as satin. There is nothing unusual about an elephant, or even about a china elephant, but when I tell you that this elephant had bunches of roses all over him, even down his trunk, painted on tight, you may say what other people before you have said—that you never heard of such a thing before in your life.

But there he was, keeping guard at his post of duty day in and day out, night in and night out, as rosy as a June morning. It never occurred to him to be ashamed of his decorations. To add to his address his name was Inco.

"Inco" was short for "Inconsistent" for the Twins' father had said he was inconsistent all over. First, because a door-stop should be made of iron instead of china and second because it would have looked more natural to have peanuts painted on him instead of roses. There were several other reasons for the name, but that is not in the story.

Inco stood patiently beside his door, guarding it with all his twelve inches of night and morn.

He stood there, and stood there, and stood there, eyes gazing at the floor, his trunk half raised to show it off to advantage, his tail—but, oh my dears! I almost forgot—he had no tail at all, simply, absolutely, positively none.

He never mixed with the other animals in the Twins' bedroom. The rabbits and hens and squirrels and ducks on the wallpaper stood in the greatest awe of him. The butterflies and dicky-birds on the furniture did their best to attract his attention by fluttering their wings in a dozen different ways, but in vain.

He kept his eyes steadfastly down, Inco did. It is quite a responsibility, being a watchman.

Well, sir, time went on and went on and after a while the Twins got so that they never noticed poor Inco at all. Try it yourself if you don't believe me. You know a picture is on a wall at a certain place, but you don't look at it every time you go into that room, do you?

GIVES TOWN FIRE ENGINE

BENNINGTON, N. J., June 12.—The problem of how to raise funds for a new fire engine for this village has been solved. It was disclosed by a gift of $15,000 from John A. Roebing, son of the founder of the Roebing Iron and Wire Works. Ways and means of acquiring the fire engine have been discussed for some time, and it appeared as if the purchase of the apparatus might necessitate a general tax.

Social Notes of Interest

The delegates attending the National I. O. D. E. convention were entertained yesterday afternoon at the tea hour at the Westfield Country Club by the I. O. D. E. members summering in Westfield and the vicinity. The motor drive to and from the city was especially enjoyed, affording as it did an opportunity for the visitors to see a small section of New Brunswick's noble river, which has frequently been termed the Rhine of America. The club house was decorated with cherry blossoms, pine and a profusion of early spring flowers. The tea table had in the centre a basket of violets, and vases of marigolds added much to its artistic arrangement. Presiding over the tea were Mrs. A. P. Peterson, Mrs. R. H. L. Skinner, Mrs. David W. Ledingham and Mrs. Kenneth I. Campbell. The guests were received by Mrs. David Puddington, wife of the president, and Mrs. Frank N. Robertson, wife of the vice-president. Assisting with the refreshments were Mrs. H. Fielding Rankine, Mrs. Frank Likely, Mrs. Allan Rankine,

Mrs. Reginald Schofield and members of the I. O. D. E. and the Country Club. About 150 guests were present. Miss Leslie Skinner gave a small but none the less enjoyable tea at the family residence, 19 Coburg street, yesterday afternoon, in honor of Miss Eleanor Loughran, of Brighton, Mass., who is her guest. The prettily arranged table was centered with spring flowers, and was presided over by Mrs. Sherwood Skinner. Assisting with the refreshments were Miss Josephine Morrison, Miss Peggy Gordon and Miss Gretchen Skinner. Miss Thelma Alward, 125 Mount Pleasant avenue, was the hostess at a very enjoyable drawing room tea and kitchen shower yesterday, for Miss Ermie Climo, in honor of her marriage today. The tea table, over which Mrs. F. D. Alward presided, was centered with a bowl of auriculas. Miss Climo was made the recipient of many useful gifts coupled with good wishes from her friends present. Mrs. Harvey Colwell, assisted by Mrs. Kenneth H. Colwell, gave a delightful surprise party on Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Harold Manning at her residence, 83 Queen street, in honor of his first wedding anniversary. Pink and white carnations and violets were effectively used in the coronation of the drawing room. About 30 friends were present. During the evening Mr. F. C. Colwell presented to the honored guest a decorated hamper which contained many dainty gifts from those present. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of an enjoyable musical program, which included solos by Mrs. Edwin C. Colwell and Mrs. Clive Johnston. Mrs. Harold Manning acted as the accompanist. Miss Frances Barnes, Cranston avenue, entertained informally at bridge on Thursday evening in honor of Miss Mabel Holder, who is leaving Saint John in the near future to reside in Boston. During the evening Miss Erna Conrad, on behalf of the guests, presented to Miss Holder a beautiful traveling bag and expressed the good wishes of those present for success in her new home. Miss Holder fittingly responded and thanked the donors for their thoughtfulness and gift. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Napier announce the engagement of Mrs. Napier's eldest daughter, Miss Marion E. Macaulay, to Mr. H. G. Youngblood, of the last of the month. Mr. and Mrs. James W. Morrill, 83 Albert street, will leave on steamship for New York, where he will be Governor Dingley this evening for Clementford, Mass., to visit their son V. L. Morrill. They will also attend the graduation exercises in the Anna Jacques Hospital at Newburyport, Mass., where their daughter, Hilda, will be one of the graduates. Miss Margaret Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Henderson, of West Saint John, left last evening for New York. She will spend her vacation with her sister, Mrs. A. F. Adams, Long Island City, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Creghan, of Newcastle, who have been visiting in the city, returned home last evening. Mrs. William B. Howard and three sons left last evening for Toronto. During their absence their residence at Rothsey will be occupied for the summer months by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Werner. Mrs. J. A. MacKegan and three children arrived in the city last evening from Medicine Hat and are the guests of Mrs. MacKegan's father, Mr. John A. McAvity, Orange street. Mrs. W. S. Allison and Miss Dorothy Purdy, of Rothsey, were recent visitors in St. Stephen in the interest of Girl Guide work. They attended the open meeting of the Guides held in the council chambers.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillips, who have spent several months in Los Angeles, Cal., are occupying their cottage at Onnetta for the summer months. Mrs. C. T. Nevins left last week for Montreal, where she is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Roy Lewis. Mrs. Nevins expects to motor to New York before returning to Saint John. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lea and children, of Moncton, are the guests of Mrs. Lea's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Climo, Dorchester street. Miss Marjorie Lee, Wellington Row, is leaving today for Gagetown, where she will visit Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel de Velder. Mrs. H. B. MacDonald, Chatham, convener of child welfare, New Brunswick I. O. D. E., is the guest of Mrs. Frank N. Robertson at Onnetta. Mrs. C. W. Bell, of Moncton, formerly of Saint John, is a visitor in the city. Miss Edith Burchill, of Nelson, N. B., is visiting in the city, the guest of Mrs. Roy Sippell. Mrs. Albert Smith and two children, Hilda and Percy, of Milltown, N. B., are spending two months here visiting Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. Percy Young, 178 Wentworth street. Miss Fern Sprague, 90 Victoria street, entertained friends at her home on Thursday evening in honor of Miss Margaret Johnston. The drawing room was prettily decorated in pink and white. Streamers from a pink and white canopy, which formed a seat for the guest of honor, were run to various parts of the room. Hidden at the ends of these streamers were many lovely gifts for the bride-elect. Bridge was enjoyed at five tables. Miss Florence Lingley assisted the hostess in serving dainty refreshments. "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" followed by three cheers for our guest of honor, brought the evening to a close. Mrs. Hollis G. Case and little daughter, of Somerville, Mass., are spending two months in the city visiting Mrs. Case's father, George Burger, Rothsey avenue. Miss Alice Ketchum has returned to the city after spending two weeks in Boston. Hope (Woodstock Sentinel-Review). Figures are quoted to show the prosperity of Canada. It is to be hoped that the time is not far off when the ordinary person will not need the aid of figures to satisfy him that the country is prosperous.

That the Canadian Mother May Have Quick and Ready Information On Feeding Her Child

BORDEN'S EAGLE BRAND MILK

In the following charts and data we provide the Canadian mother with the necessary information she may require for the use of Borden's Eagle Brand Milk for her child. You will note that the directions provide for a child from three days of age through until the child is 24 months old.

In addition to the directions for feeding Borden's Eagle Brand Milk, the mother should read carefully the suggestions which should be adopted in connection with the use of Borden's Eagle Brand Milk. The Borden Company Limited is proud of the fact that it has been helpful in the raising of many, many Canadian infants into sturdy boys and girls and men and women who are a credit to their country. For further information, do not hesitate to write direct to The Borden Company Limited—Montreal.

IMPORTANT—In preparing feeding mixtures it is imperative that all utensils, bottles, nipples, etc., should be sterilized in boiling water before using. Use a dry spoon in removing contents from the can, and in measuring be careful to pour from can to spoon, allowing the milk in the spoon to level itself. Repeat this procedure with every spoonful measured, using the same spoon every time. This will insure accurate measurement and produce the best results.

DIET FOR CHILD DURING THE SECOND YEAR

Usually after the twelfth month, the mother should select a diet schedule. Every new article of food should be carefully prepared, and given at first in very small quantities. All meals are to be given regularly, with nothing between meals. With many children this expansion of the diet list is attended with considerable difficulty. They are thoroughly satisfied with milk, and refuse all other form of nourishment. In such cases, withhold the milk until the new articles of food have been eaten. If both are given at the same time, the child will prefer the milk and when he has finished drinking he will refuse the solid food. The following diet schedule will permit the mother to select a suitable meal from the foods listed. It is never advisable to make a change in diet during very hot weather.

NOTE: One teaspoonful of EAGLE BRAND CONDENSED MILK added to one ounce of boiled water results in a mixture equivalent in nutritive value to whole milk. When the word milk appears in the following diet, EAGLE BRAND should be diluted accordingly.

12th to 15th MONTH—FIVE MEALS DAILY 15th to 18th MONTH—FOUR MEALS DAILY 18th to 24th MONTH—FOUR MEALS DAILY

- 7 A.M.—Oatmeal, barley, or wheat jelly, one to two tablespoonfuls in 6 or 8 ounces of milk. Stale bread and butter, or rusk and butter.
- 9 A.M.—The juice of one orange.
- 11 A.M.—Scraped raw beef, one to three tablespoonfuls, mixed with equal quantity of bread and moistened with milk, or a soft-boiled egg mixed with stale bread-crumbs; or a piece of rusk and 6 or 8 ounces of milk.
- 2 P.M.—Boef, chicken, or mutton broth, with rice or stale bread broken into the broth. Six ounces of milk, if wanted. Stale bread and butter or rusk and butter. Many children at the above age will take and digest apple sauce and prune pulp; when these are given, milk should be omitted.
- 5 P.M.—Two tablespoonfuls of cereal jelly in 8 ounces of milk; a piece of rusk. Stale bread and butter.
- 10 P.M.—A tablespoonful of cereal jelly in 8 ounces of milk.

The following suggestions have proved to be helpful when properly used with bottle feedings, and they may be used in conjunction with Eagle Brand Condensed Milk.

Always pour the milk from the can into the spoon—allowing it to level itself but not run over. You can readily understand that by dipping the spoon into the can you get more than a level spoonful, because of the milk that would adhere to the bottom of the spoon. When you have added the milk to the water stir thoroughly. After opening, it is safe to leave the milk in the original can. We recommend that you cover the can tightly with an inverted cup, and keep it in a cool, clean place.

- ORANGE JUICE
When baby is four months old, give one teaspoonful of strained orange juice, diluted with equal quantity of boiled water, once daily before feeding time. Gradually increase the amount until you are giving the strained juice of a half of an orange undiluted, once daily before feeding time. Orange juice may be continued until child is old enough to eat other fruits as well as oranges.
- OATMEAL JELLY
When baby is five months old, add one teaspoonful of oatmeal jelly to each feeding. Gradually increase the amount until you are adding three tablespoonfuls of oatmeal jelly to each feeding. To make oatmeal jelly add four ounces of oatmeal to one pint of water; boil for three hours in a double boiler, and add enough water so when cooking is completed a thin paste will be formed. This white hot strained through a strainer to remove coarser particles. When cold a semi-mass will be formed. Oatmeal jelly may be continued until child is old enough to eat well cooked whole cereals.
- CONSTIPATION
Oatmeal water very often relieves this condition. To make oatmeal water add one heaping tablespoonful of oatmeal to one pint of water, and boil for three hours in a double boiler. This will make a little more than half a pint of thick gruel to which add one pint of water that has been boiled. After straining mixture through fine strainer, you should have a little more than a pint of whitish liquid. This should be used with each feeding instead of the plain boiled water. If you find that this makes bowels too loose, dilute oatmeal water with plain boiled water. Barley or rice water may be used instead of oatmeal water. If necessary two to three drops of plain cod liver oil may be given twice daily added to the morning and night feedings.
- DIARRHEA
Give nothing but plain boiled water for twenty-four hours. Then start feeding with barley water, or rice water, to which has been added a little salt to improve the taste. If these feedings are retained, and bowel movements lessened, small amounts of very weak regular feedings may be started and gradually increased according to baby's condition. If your baby does not improve after trying the above suggestions, consult your doctor at once.
- BARLEY WATER
Obtain the very best barley flour. Add one rounded tablespoonful to one pint of water. Boil for thirty minutes, strain; then add enough water to make one pint.
- RICE WATER
Add one tablespoonful of rice to a pint of water. Boil three hours, adding water from time to time so that you will have one pint of rice water at the end of the three hours.
- LIME WATER
It is seldom necessary to use lime water with Eagle Brand Milk but should there be undigested particles of food in the bowel movements (which seem to be otherwise normal) or should there be vomiting of large curds shortly after feeding—or colic—it would be then advisable to try lime water. Obtain freshly prepared lime water at the Drugstore, which add 1 to 2 teaspoonfuls to each feeding.
- COLIC OR VOMITING
These conditions may be due to over feeding, or constipation. Reduce quantity of food and use constipation formula, or lime water formula, as given above.

82% started to buy higher priced cars - then decided on the Overland Six because of what they found

Read this one advertisement and you'll convince yourself that The New-Day JEWETT SIX does give you more for your money. THIS advertisement is written for those solid citizens who are going to spend around a thousand dollars for a motor car—and who are going to insist that they get the greatest possible value for their money. Vision No motor car ever built, at any price, provides wider or freer vision than the New-Day Jewett. Slender pillars of sturdy steel, replacing wider yet weaker wood, and a wide sweep of glass—completely eliminate the deadly "blind spot."

This tells the story of why the Overland Six made the record-breaking sale of over $100,000,000 in its first sixteen months. A check-up among Overland Six owners show that 82% actually started out to purchase higher priced cars... then changed their minds and bought an Overland Six when they compared the values offered. It revealed the fact that 62.5% chose this Six because of its amazing power. 18% bought this car on its beauty alone... without even a demonstration. 15% said that comfort was its greatest feature. What You Get in this World-Famous Six The Overland Six will give you 55 to 60 miles an hour whenever you want it. It will pick up in high gear from 5 to 40 miles an hour in 21 seconds. It will sweep with ease over steep grades, which few cars have ever climbed in high gear. It is a new-type car... designed for average road speeds of from 45 to 50 miles an hour. It has the most modern full pressure-feed oiling system. A positive water pump circulation. Its low center of gravity gives a feeling of security at high speed never enjoyed in any car of this type before. The rear springs are 52 inches long... and understating. They are made of Chrome Vanadium Steel... a costly metal, but the best for absorbing the jolts and jars of the road.

TEN THOUSAND ARE EXPECTED AT ROTARY MEETING

International Convention to Open on Next Monday in Denver

MANY COUNTRIES OF WORLD REPRESENTED

A. L. Foster Attends, Representing Saint John Club

Business and professional men representing 35 countries, journeying from Australia, Japan, the Philippines, South Africa, Spain, Holland, Norway and Sweden, Denmark and the Balkan States, as well as from all other important countries of the globe, will meet at Denver, June 14-18, to gain knowledge of the activities of Rotary and develop new energy for the participation of their clubs in the local affairs of their many communities.

social and civic, among its many benefits. There will be probably 10,000 Rotarians there. A. L. Foster, president of the Saint John Rotary Club, represents it at the convention. Upon solid foundations of practical service well defined and correctly understood, the advance of Rotary, first from Chicago in 1909 to the West and then to the East, clubs being formed in San Francisco, Seattle, Oakland, New York, Boston, Minneapolis, was followed by a general development in the United States, which began in 1911.

FIRST PRINCIPLE. That the idea of an organization strong enough in personnel to take interest in any activity in the community could proceed without conflict with other civic organizations was among the wisest ideas which did not understand that the first principle of the institution was to be the inner circle of all circles, the inspirer of action in all societies. This was to be accomplished by the unusual policy of a single representation of each business, trade, or profession, which would ensure one emissary going forth from the Rotary meetings to inject into the society of club composed of men of his own profession, representing only his own position in the community.

SPREADS TO EUROPE. With a successful position won in the United States and Canada, Rotary was soon recognized as a social element needed in mid-world centres. Although Dublin accepted the principles of Rotary as early as 1911, soon followed by London in August of the same year, the great expansion in Great Britain and on the continent did not take place until several years later. The British Isles now have nearly 200 clubs, all established upon the same bases of ethical principles and practical

These Two Stunning STUDEBAKER BIG SIXES

As a result of Studebaker's One-Profit facilities the growing two-car need can now be met at a one-car price

BECAUSE of the enormous savings made possible by One-Profit manufacture you can now buy two Studebaker Big Sixes for the price of any other car of equal rated horsepower—and with no sacrifice of the qualities that have always been associated with high price.

For only seven American cars equal the Big Six in rated horsepower, and they sell at two to four times its price.

Thus—at a price that would be impossible but for Studebaker's hundred million dollar facilities you can now enjoy two fine cars, each with these superiorities:

- the luxury of Big Six riding and driving ease
- the revelation of Big Six power
- the inherent fine quality that no car surpasses
- the stamina that makes 100,000-mile records possible

The Big Six Sport-Roadster $2175 To equal it in rated horsepower, you must pay $3000 to Walterville $2100 more Enthusiastic power—that laughs at loads and loves the road—meet in the Big Six Roadster apart from all other cars in its price class. Swing low to the road and dose in two tones of green-gray. Room for three in the rear seat—two in the rumble seat beneath the rear deck.

Equipment on the Roadster includes windshield wiper, hood for collapsible top, front bumper and rear bumper, steering, motor, spare tire, tube and cover. Upholstery is genuine leather—the seat back adjustable.

All Big Sixes are equipped with snubbers, gasoline gauge on the dash, air cleaner, gas and oil filter, automatic windshield cleaner, rear-view mirror, cow, ventilator, stop light and coincidental lock to ignition and steering gear, controlled by the same key that locks door (closed models) and spare-tire carrier. Spark is automatically controlled by the speed of the engine. The spark lever is thus made obsolete and is replaced on the steering wheel by the safety lighting switch operating the two-beam headlights.

Power—at a One-Profit price

Studebaker Big Six has become the world's fastest-selling high-powered car because volume production on a One-Profit basis has enabled Studebaker to build quality into the Big Six—to a degree hitherto unapproached by any car selling at less than double its price. But for Studebaker's famous One-Profit the dresses plus the duty, and 50 per cent fine, and had been allowed to take her property away with her.

Woman Pays Fine And Duty On Gowns

Mrs. Wakefield had declared dutiable goods amounting to $384. Other dresses valued at $871, she said had been worn by mannequins in Paris. She explained that having been away a year from the United States one thought it was not necessary to declare them.

These Two Stunning STUDEBAKER BIG SIXES

The Big Six Sedan $2500 To equal it in rated horsepower, you must pay $3000 to Walterville $2100 more

It is a car built to hold five passengers in armchair comfort. Body is unusually roomy. Seats are luxuriously deep. Upholstery is richly upholstered in genuine mohair, indicative of the fine quality body construction you cannot see.

Ride in it—feel the surge of power from the smooth, silent engine and you will know why the Big Six outshines all other cars of equal or greater rated horsepower.

These facilities enable Studebaker to manufacture quality cars on a One-Profit basis—eliminating outside profits. The savings thus effected are passed on to Studebaker owners in the form of higher quality and lower price.

Always kept up-to-date

Direct manufacturing control enables Studebaker to keep cars constantly up-to-date. We add improvements regardless of the calendar—we do not save them for spectacular annual announcements which make cars artificially obsolete.

N. B. PROTESTANT ORPHANAGE DRIVE STARTS ON MONDAY

$25,000 to $30,000 For Meeting Shortages and Extra Money Gifts Needed

The New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage will launch a province-wide campaign for funds Monday.

The institution which fills an important role in the province requires $25,000 to $30,000 for the meeting of existing shortages and seeks further contributions to maintain it as a going concern.

A gentleman connected with this orphanage said yesterday that no other orphanage in Canada was economically conducted as this.

The special baby orphanage adjunct to the original Britain street building within city limits is an addition of late years found absolutely necessary to fully encompass the provincial situation as regards dependent orphans, he said.

"It is of lasting credit to the Protestant people of New Brunswick that this institution, more than three score years in existence, should be so modernized and brought up to date. The cost of the big building was willingly subscribed and promptly paid but many who gave for this object considered they had done their share for all time as regards these motherless and fatherless little ones.

"The cost of the big home itself was a special effort, handsomely realized, but the feeding, clothing and mothering of the orphans is a continuous expense so that the old ratio of giving will not meet each month. The shortage already is between $25,000 and $30,000 and must be paid very shortly to place the institution on a smooth running financial footing again."

It is figured that a very small subscription from every Protestant household in New Brunswick will amply finance the New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage Home.

SEES FINISH FIGHT BETWEEN NATIONS FOR DOMINATION

Trotsky Predicts Leninism's Victory—Admits America Won in Clashes

PARIS, June 12—Leon Trotsky in his newest book, "Europe and America," which is being published in serial form by the Communist newspaper of Paris, L'Humanite, sees Russia and the United States fighting in Europe and Asia for world domination, one to conquer in the end and the other to collapse.

"Leninism and American Imperialism are the principal antagonists in a death struggle in Europe, and on the result depends the future of mankind," Trotsky wrote in a preface to his volume.

SEES U. S. TORN TO PIECES

So far, in his opinion, America appears to have won every important engagement, but her victories have only resulted in producing a solidarity of masses which will eventually result in America being torn to pieces, and Moscow directing the destinies of the once United States.

Trotsky writes: "Since the Treaty of Versailles, Europe has been broken into pieces and many of us imagine that we cannot live without America. But the Communist party replies, 'You are wrong we can live without America; what obliges us to remain a broken Europe? Why cannot we unite the pieces into a United States of Europe?'"

AMERICA POWERFUL

"America is powerful now against Great Britain, which lives on her colonies, America is all powerful. But against a united Europe, a proletarian Europe, welded into one great soviet union along with Russia, America would be helpless."

"America capitalists know this, that is why there is no greater enemy of Bolshevism than they. The policies of the world-wide struggle for supremacy."

"Imperialistic America fondles hopes of colonizing Siberia, but they have built a stone wall. In China, too, we have been active and three America will find itself not far from being financed by American religion but by a Bolshevist program of politics, furnished to them by the Journalists."

"The names of Wilson, Harding, Coolidge, Morgan or Rockefeller are not on their lips, but the name of Lenin is pronounced with enthusiasm. In China, as throughout the East, beside the American consul, her merchants, her professors and her Journalists find the revolutionaries who translate into the native tongues the message of the great assassin, Bolshevism."

"In 1919, at the moment of the arrival of Wilson in Europe, I said 'Leninism is Leninism, and Leninism, the two apocalyptic principals of contemporary history.' But even then I did not see how far the job would be justified by history."

"But today, Leninism and American Imperialism are at grips, and Leninism will be struggling in Asia. Humanity looks on with interest, for her own future is involved."

ITALY ATTEMPTING TO REOPEN TANGIER STATUS QUESTION

Feelers in Paris and Madrid going on; France to End Tunisian Sore

ROME, June 11—Conversations are going on between Rome, Paris and Madrid concerning Italy's position in a possible reopening of the question of the status of Tangier, the special international zone some 140 miles square in northwestern Morocco. This information was given today by a member of the Italian cabinet.

(Under a convention signed in 1893 by representatives of Great Britain, France and Spain, the permanent neutrality of the Tangier zone was assured, with the Government in North Africa, namely the effort of the Tunisian authorities to check the flow of Italian immigration, especially from Sicily, and to bring pressure on immigrants purporting to make them abandon Italian citizenship and become French, or at least to bring them under French cultural and political influence.)

It is asserted that in return for permitting Italians—who vastly outnumber the French in Tunisia—freely to enter the colony and retain their integrity as Italians, the French will give Italy support against Spain in any eventual settlement of the Tangier matter, while Italy will consent to a hands-off policy regarding Morocco in which a pen is being arranged to send more Italian immigrants.

THE FIRE DAMAGE Marine surveyors who have inspected the Garland Line freighter Edgar Bowling and her cargo since she arrived at San Francisco recently decided that a minimum damage resulted from fire which was first discovered on board the vessel on May 11, while the ship was en route from the East coast to Panama. Although extinguished small recurrences of the blaze were noted and put out without other assistance.

A general average of 5 per cent. has been declared, but it is understood that when the matter is adjusted the figure probably will run considerably lower.

SOVIET AD DENIES REDS SENT BRITISH STRIKERS MONEY

Charge in London Replies to Note of Baldwin Cabinet to Russia
LONDON, June 11.—The Soviet Charge, replying to a protest from the British Foreign Office, against the sending of Russian funds to English strikers during the recent general strike here, has made a categorical denial that the Soviet Government was responsible for these contributions. This dispute, like previous ones in which the Soviet is involved, centers in the relation between the Third International and Russian trade unions with the Soviet government. Great Britain contends that the funds sent to England from Russia came with the knowledge of the Soviet government and claims that Russian workers, whose wages are low, could not have contributed the huge sums of money that are mentioned in the present case. 6-14

PROTEST IS STRONG

LONDON, June 11.—A strong protest against the sending of money by the Russian Soviet Government to assist the workers during the recent general strike in Great Britain was despatched to Moscow by the British representative at Moscow, for presentation to the Soviet government. No official text of the document is yet available and only its general tenor is known. The communication, according to unofficial versions, sets forth that the British authorities have definite proof that part of the money offered from Moscow to the Trades Union Congress was donated by the Soviet government itself. This money, the note adds, was sent in violation of the Anglo-Russian Trade Agreement, and the bearer held that it was intended to foster a movement to bring about a change of government in Great Britain. 6-14

FACULTY CHANGES AT FREDERICTON

Boston and St. George Girls Join P. N. S. and Model School Staffs

FREDERICTON, June 11—The resignation of Miss Margaret R. Lynds as instructor in expression and English in the Provincial Normal School was accepted by the board. Miss Blanche Lawrence, of Boston, was appointed in her place. Miss Lawrence is a Canadian by birth, a native of Amherst, N. S., and is a graduate of Emerson School.

Miss Alice McGee, of St. George, now teaching at Sunny Brae, was appointed to the staff of the Model School, Fredericton, in place of Mrs. Otto Miller, formerly Miss Mary Palmer, resigned.

FREDERICTON ASKS HIGHWAYS GRANT

At yesterday's session of the provincial cabinet a delegation from the City of Fredericton appeared and asking that the province contribute towards the construction and maintenance of such portions of the trunk highways as pass through the City of Fredericton. The matter was laid over for the next meeting of the government, which will likely be held the last of the month.

A similar proposition was placed before the government some time ago by the town of Shediac but no action was taken in the matter.

The proposition that the province pay a share of the cost of laying and maintaining stretches of the provincial main trunk roads where they pass through incorporated towns and cities has been mooted before, the stand of the corporations being that the province is collecting taxes from vehicle

RECORD CATCH OF SALMON AT BANGOR

Fish Avoid Down River Weirs and Make For Pools Upstream

BANGOR, Me., June 11—The Penobscot river salmon continue to give the down-river weirs and nets the go-by and swim up the 25 miles or so of the river to the rapids below the waterworks dam, known as the Bangor pool, where they are making the greatest sport for the fly-fishermen know in the history of the river. The catch today up around 15 fish a day at the pool, beating all known records, and about as many are taken in all the weirs which are having a very poor run. No one can seem to account for it. The most of the fish are taken by veteran anglers from their boats a few rods off shore, the fish usually being landed on the beach, but a number have been taken by casting from the shore.

COUNCIL OF WOMEN TO HONOR BRITONS

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 11—British women who have rendered particular service to the Empire are to be invited to accept honorary membership in the National Council of Women, their names having been voted upon unanimously at the opening of the general session of the 36th annual conference of the Council of Women here this morning.

These include the Duchess of Atholl, Countess Haig and Viscountess Allenby, Dame Rachael Cowdry, Dame Catherine Purdy and Mrs. Launcelot Dent, Miss Carrie Garnichard, of New Glasgow, N. S., presided.

LETTER FROM PALACE

A letter was read from Buckingham Palace expressing His Majesty's thanks for message of condolence received at the time of the death of his mother, Queen Alexandra.

The executive will bring forward a resolution to the effect that "the National Council of Women deplors the scurrilous articles which have appeared from time to time with the apparent intent to belittle the royal family and outstanding British statesmen and while hesitating to further the obvious desire of the publishers for undue publicity, we reaffirm our stand as definitely opposed to the entry into Canada of such degrading reading matter."

WHITE STAR LINE CANADIAN SERVICE

The Granary of the Empire

Each year, Canada grows in importance as the greatest grain producing country of the British Empire.

Without country and grain elevator systems, which collect and ship grain from the Western Prairies, the farmer would be unable to profitably market his crops and the countries which depend upon Canada's wheat for their supply of flour would be seriously handicapped.

One of the most complete and most successful grain elevator systems in Western Canada is that which is controlled by Alberta Pacific Grain Company. It includes 319 country elevators, strategically located on railways serving the rich farming areas of Saskatchewan and Alberta, and having a combined storage capacity of about 11,255,000 bushels, and a terminal elevator at Calgary with a capacity of 250,000 bushels. In addition, the Company holds substantial interests in large terminal elevators at Port Arthur and Fort William and is acquiring a 2,000,000 bushel terminal elevator at Vancouver, enabling the Company to handle grain for shipment by both the Atlantic and Pacific routes.

We are offering the 6% First Mortgage Bonds of The Alberta Pacific Grain Company, Limited, at 98 and accrued interest, to yield over 6.15%. As regards assets and demonstrated earning power, these bonds are well secured and are recommended by us as a sound investment.

Descriptive circular, with map and photographs, will be forwarded to investors upon request.

To Provide Proper Training For Amsterdam Games

Along The Sport Trail

By JOHN J. DUNLOP. SAINT JOHN AND THE NEW BODY.

SIGNS are not wanting that Nova Scotia and New Brunswick along with Prince Edward Island will be handling their own sport affairs without interference one with another soon after the annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union here in September and the meeting here on June 21 will go a long way toward settling the matter.

ONE of the objections already raised in New Brunswick is the fear expressed by a Moncton sport writer that Saint John clubs would wield a big stick and ruthlessly dominate any such organization. He says:

"Any move to break with the present Maritime Province branch will be considered very carefully, particularly by those interests outside the city of Saint John, which probably unfairly, has already been accused of having too much influence in many ways in the amateur union."

AS NEAR as we can gather, the objection is against majority rule—the of the intangible foundations of the British Empire. If a new body is formed, some one must run it and as there is bound to be disagreement, majority rule must be used.

AS FOR Saint John trying to hog anything, that is the last thing in the minds of amateur officials here. Every official we have talked to on the matter believes New Brunswick amateur sport would be bettered if we were allowed control of our own affairs under the specially-provided constitution by the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union for all branches and under which the M. P. B. now functions.

SOUTH END. The North End has the Water Department, Maritime champions, and the Saint Johns hooked for what promises to be a hectic clash.

SOUTH END GROUND. The St. John Baptists and the Nationals went four innings to a good exhibition of ball on the South End grounds, with the Baptists out-hitting and out-fielding their opponents.

UPPER CANADA PLANS INTERCITY OLYMPIC MEETS

Montreal, Ottawa, Hamilton and Toronto in the Circuit

WITH an eye to the 1928 Olympics, the track and field club of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Club has decided to undertake the responsibility of staging that city's part in a proposed intercity series with Hamilton, Ottawa and Toronto.

THE proposal is to hold the meet on two successive days, one for example, in Ottawa, and the next in Montreal, and one in Hamilton, and the next in Toronto.

Webster's three bagger was responsible for the Nationals' score. The Baptists scored in the second when Gillis got a free pass, started to steal second and romped to third on Willie Smith's hit.

IN the first half of the fifth inning Lowe fled out to right. Dalton took at second, Rogers hit safe to left, sending Gillis to third. The game was then called on account of rain.

Lacoste Displaces Lenglen And Carpentier As National Sport Idol of Frenchmen

By HENRY L. FARRELL. (United Press Sports Editor).

PARIS, June 11.—France used to have two great idols of sport—Georges Carpentier, was hero and the heavyweight fighting champion of Europe and Mile Suzanne Lenglen, the world's woman tennis champion.

Now there is only one name the mention of which draws a salute on the boulevards, in the public drinking places or within the home and that is—Rene Lacoste, the tennis tennis player. Jean Borotra, who swept over the American indoor tennis courts last winter with Lacoste is very popular but the French tennis critics feel that young Lacoste has the future before him and the hopes of restoring so much of the prestige that France lost through Carpentier and Mile Lenglen.

THE French people feel, if the opinion of very many responsible sports covers can be taken as an indication of public sentiment, that Carpentier and Mile Lenglen have put selfish and commercial purposes above national allegiance.

NEW CHAMPION. France has a new heavyweight champion now, Francis Charles, and he is terrible compared to any number of second-class American heavyweights, but he is the toast of Paris instead of Carpentier. Carpentier probably could beat him with a couple of punches, but Carpentier will not fight in Paris or in London because the promoters in both cities, who are fortunate to get top prices of five or six dollars cannot pay the purses that Rex Rickard would give him for fighting in New York.

CARP, IS WRONG. Taxi drivers, waiters in the restaurants, passengers in the wild driven buses and the gendarmes will tell you that Carpentier sold national honor for cash when he fought Jack Dempsey in Jersey City. They were very different mind before that memorable fight. It will be recalled, but they will tell you that Carpentier knew he never felt he had a chance and that he dropped into the resin of the ring, with the color of France around his belt, only to throw the France that might set all their troubles now.

As Hiram Sees It

"I had a funny dream the other night," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to The Times-Star reporter. "I dreamt I was talkin' to Sir Henry Thornton an' he said he was goin' to make that there electric train on the Valley line run so's folks could go up the Reach every night an' come back to town in the mornin' all summer."

"That was a funny dream all right," said the reporter. "Do you expect it to come true?"

"It orto," said Hiram. "The's a chance to build up business there in a few years if folks was sure of a train service. I callate it 'ud be as good a prospect in a small way as the Hudson Bay line is in a big way—or the Welland Canal—as fer as revenoo goes—"

"My advice to you," said the reporter, "is to look to your diet and stop entertainin' dreams."

"Mebbe you're right," said Hiram—"but if I see Sir Henry I'd put up an argument for the Long Reach—I would so. That Valley railroad orto help build up the Valley. It's got to do it some day—why not start now?"

"Search me," said the reporter—"I don't know."

TWENTY-SEVEN MORE SEEKING PLACE AT CAMP

Children Examined Show Need of Care—Further Support Is Required

Twenty-seven applicants for the Lady Byng summer camp for delicate children arrived at the Health Centre yesterday to be examined medically to discover their need of camp help. Practically all were found urgently to need its benefits. They varied in age from six to 14 years and they were from three to seven pounds in weight. Minor physical defects were discovered in some cases and these must be remedied before the children can go to camp. Dr. H. A. Farris, with Dr. Grant and Dr. Knox of the County Hospital staff conducted the examinations, assisted by the nurses of the Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, Miss Gladys Hegon and Miss Sarah Brophy.

Of children had been examined earlier and there will be no lack of little ones to keep the camp in full running order. More generous support must be forth-coming, however, before it is assured that there will be sufficient funds.

It has been voted by the Hebrew ladies through Mrs. L. Isaacs, and a local candy firm has presented a box of candy for the children and a box of chocolates for the nurses.

NEEDS HOSPITAL CARE

One applicant for camp was found to be a case of tuberculosis in need of hospital care. In the follow-up work mothers have been got in touch with and they will bring their babies to the Health Centre clinic and pre-school age children needing clinic supervision were also located. In the examination stage of the summer camp season there has already been accomplished a fine work of child welfare.
